27. That the cars should, at night, be provided with colored signal lights in front and rear, and the conductor should be required to announce to passengers the names of the streets and the public squares as the cars reach them.

28. That the Company should also construct and keep in repair at the intersections of streets crossings of a similar character to those adopted by the Town Council, the materials therefor and the repairs to the streets between the rails, except for paving, &c., to the distance of 10 inches from the rails, to be supplied near the tracks by the town free of charge to the Company.

29. That, during the operation of laying the ties and rails a free passage for vehicles over the street should be kept open, and, immediately after the laying of the ties and rails, the material removed should be replaced in a good and substantial manner as before removal, and the surface of the streets made flush with the rails, and all surplus material removed by the Company and deposited where directed by the officer having charge of the repairs of the street.

30. That the town should not be liable to the company for any damage the company may incur or sustain from the breakage of any sewer or water pipe or for any damage or delay that may be caused by the construction of sewers, laying of water pipes or repairing of the same, or from any delay or damage caused by freshets or fires; and the town should reserve to itself the right to lay down or permit to be laid down in the streets water pipes, gas pipes, or sewers, and to alter and repair or permit to be altered and repaired the same respectively, and also to grade, alter, improve and repair the streets

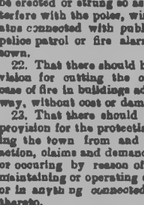
The Safest

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.



"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is liveliier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla prescribed, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hoss, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contents by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig. June 27th, 1891.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

ALL ABOUT MOSQUITOS.

THE SWEET SINGER OF THE GLOAMING MINUTELY EXAMINED.

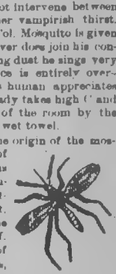
Arising From the Marsh Like Venus From the Sea—It is the Feminine Mosquito that Does Most of the Biting—A Fearfully and Wonderfully Made Proboscis.

"I stood on the bridge at midnight," the anything but genial "mosquito," "musk-to," "musquito," "musquetos," "moschito," "moschetto," "mosquetto," "muschetto," "mushet-to," or "musquetto," sings on these cool, damp evenings St. Louis has been enjoying during the past week. For such a very little pest the "mosquito" has more names and in more languages than any other living thing. Scientists variously call her the culex pipiens, silex Americanus, the cousin, the moucheron, and the "humming gnat." The Century Dictionary describes the insect of many aliases as "one of many different kinds of gnats or midges, the female of which bites animals and draws blood." Persons given to attribute to the female sex all the gentleness and amiability there is in the world will bear this in mind.

Mr. Mosquito is an easy-going, gorgeously arrayed creature, with neither the disposition nor the ability to bite animals and draw blood. He is a sort of Turveydron in the insect world, who seems to have no higher object during his brief life than "to show himself about town." His life to be sure, is a short one, but then it is full of indolence and luxury. He is expected to pay certain delicate attentions to his infinitesimal spouse, which she rewards when tired of him by giving him a short, sharp and fatal prod of the remarkable lance which she carries concealed in her proboscis. He is not provided with such a weapon and is as much at her mercy as a boxer at that of a skilled swordsman. He is of gentle and perhaps amiable character. He lives on a strictly vegetable diet, which may account for the absence of the bloodthirsty and ferocious spirit of his spouse. She can, at a pinch, lead the life of a vegetarian; but what she wants is gore, piping hot gore, human, if she can get it, but never overlooking any chance. The toughest hide that ever covered a horse or a steer does not intervene between the lady mosquito and her vampirish thirst. If it even doubted that Col. Mosquito is given to vocal efforts. If he ever does join his consort in a nerve-destroying duet he sings very low and his performance is entirely overlooked, when the restless human appreciates the ease with which my lady takes high C and holds it until driven out of the room by the exasperated wielder of a wet towel.

MALE MOSQUITO.

Less is known about the origin of the mosquito's name than of his habits, and Americans have no monopoly of information upon this latter phase of the subject. All climates claim the mosquito as pest in chief. On the upper waters of the Missouri mosquitoes, after a rainy season, are the greatest impediment to navigation met with. The swarm by millions. Cattle are driven in the river, and they stand with their muzzles alone held above the water, which are black with the pests. Pilots on the boats are forced to burn smudge fires. They are of every conceivable degree of impudence, and no veil has fine enough texture to exclude them. Arctic explorers all write of sufferings at the hands or rather stings of mosquitoes.



FEMALE MOSQUITO.

In the human family the female is the more ornamental as well as the more amiable animal. In the insect world, particularly among mosquitoes, the reverse is the case. There are mosquitoes which confine their activities to the daylight hours and lavish their caresses principally on the tender foliage of trees and aromatic plants. These principally inhabit woods and marshes. The other varieties make themselves heard and felt during the night chiefly. The greater portion of their active existence is passed in or near human habitations. These are the varieties with which man is most intimately acquainted.

But in all the species of the mosquito family the male apparently is the superior being. In grace and elegance of architectural construction, as well as in variety and gorgeousness of raiment, the male mosquito far surpasses the female. The male also enjoys privileges and prerogatives to which the female can never aspire—certainly can never gain. The function which she performs in propagation of the species compels her to consume more food than he does and all this food she is obliged to get herself. In every essential particular she has to make her own and the family's living without the slightest aid from him. Such food as he requires for himself, which is neither large in quantity nor varied in quality, he picks up. Beyond that he does little except to display his charms and enjoy life. It is the female of the mosquito family with which the human species comes in most intimate contact. The female does by far the greater portion of the biting done by the family, and the warblings of the mosquito are those of the female mosquito alone.

THE LARVA.

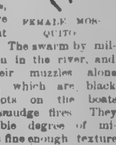
The mosquito first appears in the form of an egg. The eggs are deposited in the water by the mother mosquito. Before doing this she crosses her hind legs in the shape of a letter X. As the eggs are dropped they are caught by the crossed legs, the glutinous substance attaching to the eggs holding them together. The number of eggs laid by one female before rising is very great. These eggs are arranged in the form of a raft and left to ride on the water. A shallow, stagnant fresh water usually being selected. By the additions made to the number of eggs the raft is converted into a sort of a boat, and when the laying process is all completed the boat consists of from 300 to 350 eggs. This is the first stage in the existence of the embryo mosquito. After the last egg is laid and the boat completed, the mother's function, so far, at least, as regards this particular brood, ends, and the eggs are left to shift for themselves.

A few days after the egg boat is launched the larvæ appear. These are of an elongated, worm-like form, and come out of the lower end of the eggs, leaving the empty shells floating the boat lying on the surface of the water. The shell is soon destroyed by the action of wind and water. When the larvæ appear the eggs are hatched. Most country readers of this article have seen these larvæ in immense numbers on the surface stagnant water during the warm months. They are vulgarly called "wigglers." Suspended from the surface of the water and with head downward, they are enabled to breathe by means of a sort of tube communicating with the trachea. The appearance of the larvæ may be said to complete the second stage in the existence of the mosquito.

From ten to fifteen days after the appearance of the larvæ the pupæ state is entered upon. They take on a thin skin and roll around in the water, their motions being directed by a fin-like contrivance at the end of the tail. The quick, seemingly irregular movements of the pupæ give them the name of "tumblers." They, too, are familiar to persons residing in the rural districts in the spring and summer. The change of the larvæ into the pupæ completes the third stage.

Between five and ten days after the pupæ appear the last and most critical stage in the entire metamorphosis of the egg into the perfect insect arrives. About this period the pupæ skin bursts open, and the mosquito takes its first look at daylight. This pupæ shell is in the form of a boat, the opening appearing on the surface of the shell which is furthest from the water. The insect rises slowly and deliberately until it at length balances itself on its tail. A small gust of wind now or a slight eddy and the shell boat would tip over, when the mosquitoes active exist ence would end before it began.

If the gust of wind or eddy fail to appear—and it is certain that they often do fail to appear—the insect slowly extricates its front pair of legs and places them on the surface of the water, still clinging to its shell boat. Then it slowly and deliberately spreads its wings. They at first strike the water, but are raised above it again, and the sun—for these affairs invariably take place on sunny days—and air dry them. The hind legs are then slowly drawn from the shell until their ends rest on the edge of the boat, the body is stretched out, and the wings expanded. A moment afterward the wings flap, the shell is tipped over, the head is turned shoreward, and the mosquito is ready for business.



MOSQUITO EMERGING FROM PUPA SHELL.

Entomologists are by no means agreed as to the number of pieces in the proboscis, or "sting," of the common mosquito. This is the instrument which punctures the flesh and serves as a sort of introduction of the mosquito to the human family. Some authorities declare that it has four pieces, others aver that it has six, while still others assert that it has but five. The average layman would be unwilling to place the number below twenty. The proboscis is tubular in form. The lances attached to it, whatever their number may be, are sharper than any instrument known to the surgeon. It is not the size or depth of the wound inflicted which makes the mosquito's "sting" so painful, but rather the secretion which is injected under the skin by the proboscis. This always produces itching.

There is no unanimity among scientists regarding the question of poison in the mosquito's "sting." No poison gland has yet been found in the head of any of these insects which have been examined. The wounds have been known to swell and become inflamed in many cases. In some delicate skins, indeed, ulcers do form and to have been produced, but on this latter point many etomologists throw doubts. It is certain, as millions of victims will very feelingly testify, that the wounds are often painful and always decidedly unpleasant. The saliva injected is believed to be slightly acrid. This quality, aggravated with the action of the barbed joint on one blade of the "sucker," as shown in the illustration, causes irritation, which is sought to be allayed by scratching, but which in reality makes the wound the more inflamed and painful.

MOSQUITO STING.
A—In its sheath.
B—Half torn to show sheath.
C—Sucker developed to show parts.
D.—Barbed point of one blade of the sucker.

Unhappily, the mosquito's "sting" is not so irritating to the victim's flesh as its "song" is to his nerves. Concerning the manner in which this sound is produced the naturalist is almost as much in the dark as the most ignorant and thoughtless non-scientist. The ordinary person, it is true, if questioned on the subject, would unhesitatingly answer offhand that it is made by the respiratory organs, as the vocal music of man and many of the lower animals is made. The naturalist, however, would not make this mistake. For whatever produces this sound, it appears tolerably certain that it has no necessary connection with the breathing apparatus. Kirby, a well-known British entomologist, attributed it to the friction made by the base of the wings against the chest in flying. Other naturalists, equally skilled and observant, ascribe it to the rapid motions of the wingl ets, the motions of the poisers, or the vibrations of the thorax caused by the contractions of the muscles of the wings. The wings, indeed, move rapidly enough to produce a buzz of a fairly robust and pronounced character. One authority estimates that they vibrate fifty times every second while flying. Let 100 or 200 of these songsters be flying at one time within a dozen feet of a person's head—and twice or thrice as many as that are often flying within a space smaller than that in a wood, beside a brook, or in a garden—and it would be unlawful if the air were not vocal with sound.

John Quickly Extemporised Five Tow Bags.

This is a meaningless sentence, but it contains all the letters of our alphabet. Five of these letters spell "woman," and large numbers of women believe in the virtues of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a strictly vegetable compound, for her use only, and an unfailing cure for the many ills that beset her. It recuperates wasted strength, restores the functions to a normal condition and fits her to bear and rear healthy offspring; promotes digestion, purifies the blood and gives activity to the bowels and kidneys. In a word it is woman's cure and safeguard. Guaranteed to give satisfaction, or its price ($1) refunded. b

It is a Very Sad Thing

To see young and beautiful people die when they might just as well live and enjoy health and strength. Many who suffer with coughs, colds and lung troubles, leading to consumption, imagine there is no hope for them, when in reality there is every hope if Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is taken regularly. Spread the news everywhere that this great emulsion will make flesh and blood, cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, sore throats and lung troubles tending to consumption. In big bottles, 50c. and $1 at Peterborough drug stores. dw

Self Application of Electricity
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE
DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.
HEAD OFFICE—168 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASES, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.
Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.
Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.
Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

I AM A MAN

"I have been treated by doctors, who had long lists of so-called cured patients, but they could not reach my case, and hope had been murdered in me by fair promises, but on first application of your magical appliance, hope and confidence came flocking in stronger than the combined powers of the four winds. I knew then that you would cure me, and now that I am a man and well again, I cannot thank you sufficiently for the cure. So again I say, use my name as reference whenever you wish. You nor any one else cannot use words too strong to express my sentiments in favor of so wonderful a treatment as that given by you."

Narrow Escape From Drowning.

Yesterday afternoon David Desautel, a messenger in the C. P. R. Telegraph office, accompanied by Thos. Mahony, took a canoe to carry a message to the cemetery and came near getting to the cemetery in the capacity of chief factor in a funeral. When the boys were opposite the Bridge Works the canoe upset. Mahony could swim and got ashore but Desautel had to content himself with clinging to the canoe till Walter English put out in one of the English Company's canoes and rescued him from his decidedly damp environments, and set him ashore, a wetter and a wiser lad and considerably late with the message.

A Point Scored by Advertising.

Two weeks ago there was inserted in this paper an advertisement from Mr. J. J Sheehy announcing the fact that he had about 200 dozen of straw hats which were to be sold at the rate of two for five cents. It seemed the ad. was read, learned and inwardly digested, for to-day scarcely twenty dozen hats are left. The balance will be cleared out this week at even lower prices, so look out for bargains in the "millinery line." Mr. Sheehy will also offer this week the following great inducements to the purchasing public:—Silk lace mits in all colours at 10c., pure silk gloves at 20c., 100 pieces of beautiful prints, worth 12½c., at 10c. The Cash Dry Goods Store is bound to keep faith with the public, and now it will devolve upon the public to call and see if this is or is not a bona fide offer. dwtf

Matrimonial.

This morning Mr. Thomas Hickey, a capable and highly respected machinist, for many years in the service of the Hamilton Company, led to the altar Miss Honora Larone. The marriage ceremony was celebrated at St. Peter's Cathedral by Rev. Father McCall at the 6:30 o'clock mass. The bridesmaid was Miss Josephine Larone, and Mr. John Brownlee assisted the groom. The popularity of the bride was shown by the large number of elegant presents of which she was the recipient. Mr. Hickey is a young gentleman well known in the town, and wherever known held in high respect. The happy couple, who enter the married estate under the most promising circumstances, will receive the hearty congratulations of a wide circle of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Hickey took the 8.30 train for the east on a honeymoon trip.

A Voluminous Report Referred Back to Committee.

A Grist of Communications and Petition—A Public Meeting to Discuss the Patterson-Corbin Bylaw—A Grant to Pigeon Creek Bridge.

At the meeting of the town council Monday night there were present Mayor Stevenson, Councillors Langford, Moore, Dawson, Hall, Bradburn, Winch, Davidson and Cahill.

Mr. P. J. McNamara called attention to a troublesome gully in front of his residence which he would like to have filled up. Mr. McNamara was given a hearing, and the matter was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

A communication was read from the town solicitor notifying the council that the suit of Leonard vs. the town of Peterborough had been decided against the town, but as he had not seen the judgment he could not state the amount for which the town would be liable.—Referred to to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Geo. W. Wyatt and Mr. Joseph McClelland applied for the position of caretaker of the town clock.—Referred to the Committee on Appointments.

Mr. W. J. Graham applied for remission of his income tax.—Granted.

An application was read from Mr. J. C. Leary and 50 other farmers, stating that they wished to trade with the town of Peterborough but were prevented from doing so by the bad condition of Pigeon Creek bridge; and they asked the council to make a grant for that purpose.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. McCuaig, of Emily, was heard in support of petition, which was dealt with in the report of the Finance Committee later.

The Peterborough Light and Power Co., replying to the demand of the town for the erection of 30 new electric lamps, stated that in view of the extra expense incurred in doing this they would require the town to make a contract for 5 years with the Company.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

The secretary of the Separate School Board made a demand upon the town for $4 000 for Separate School purposes.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

A communication was read from Mr. H. M. Francis, General Auditor, enclosing notification of the amount expended by the Edison Company on the grounds occupied by them, with the object that the conveyance of the land may be made in accordance with the understanding between the council and the Company—Referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. W. G. Morrow, Sec.-Treas of the Board of Education, made a demand upon the town for $18,387, for public and high school purposes—Referred to the Finance Committee.

Chief Roszel applied for a holiday period—Granted.

DANIEL HILLIER and five other carter's requested the council to supply number plates for the licensed carters, and to have the bylaw enforced—Referred to the License Committee.

Messrs. MULHOLLAND & ROPER and a number of other merchants requested that the carters be not allowed to make the corner of George and Hunter street a carter's stand—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

Mr. R. H. Fortye and 16 others, owners of property to be benefitted by the work to be done, petitioned the council to have the water course or drain now running through certain park lots in the western limit of the town, deepened and straightened and continued from the southern boundary as far as the present drain put in for the Edison Company—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

FINANCE REPORT.

Mr. Davidson presented the report of the Finance Committee, recommending payment of the following accounts:—

J. E. Noble & Co.	$ 1 25
The Dickson Co.	162 30
Adam Hall	2 70
Victoria Industrial School	25 45
T. E. Boddy (charity)	6 00

The report also recommended that fifty dollars be granted towards repairing the Pigeon Creek bridge, to be expended on the authority of the Street Inspector.

The report was adopted.

THE SEWERAGE QUESTION.

Councillor Langford read this report:—

Your special committee on Sewerage beg leave to report,

That they have received from the Town Engineer a plan of the topographical survey of the town for sewerage purposes as ordered by the council.

We recommend that your Committee be authorized to employ a Sanitary Engineer to lay out a system of sewerage and furnish an estimate of the cost of such system.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. LANGFORD,
Chairman.

On this report there was some discussion.

Mr. MOORE said the proposed estimates would cost heavily and the council ought to consider well before taking the step.

Mr. CAHILL did not think the ratepayers as a whole wanted the sewerage system. The desire for it was confined to the central part of the town, and even there they did not make good use of the sewers they had. He advocated holding a public meeting to see if the ratepayers would sanction it.

Mr. HALL and Mr. LANGFORD thought the wisest course would be to get reliable estimates first and then they would be able to present the matter intelligently for the people to discuss and vote upon.

The report was adopted.

STREET REPAIRS.

Mr. Langford presented the report of the Street and Bridge Committee, recommending a long list of repairs to the streets, which had been presented at the last regular meeting and laid over. He again moved its adoption, and stated that on looking over the report he observed that a considerable portion of the work had already been done, and the cost would not be as great as the amounts of repairs of last year.

Mr. HALL objected to the cutting down of Smith street, and moved an amendment to this effect, seconded by Mr. Dawson. The amendment was lost and the report adopted.

THE STREET RAILWAY.

Mr. MOORE then read the report of the Special Committee appointed to deal with the street railway matter, a draft of which is published elsewhere. He moved that the report be received, as no doubt the representatives of both companies would wish to discuss the matter with the council.

Mr. John Kreusi and Mr. John Langton, of the Edison Company Syndicate, and Mr. Richard Hall, of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Street Railway Company, were present, but were not prepared to speak.

Coun. HALL stated that both companies wished more time to consider the report, and he moved that the report be referred back to the committee to confer with the two companies, and report at a special meeting of the council.

THE TRANSFER MADE.

It was moved by E. H. D. Hall, seconded by R. S. Davidson, whereas it appears from the declaration of Henry M. Francis, Canadian General Auditor of the Edison General Electric Company, deposited with the Town Clerk, that the said company have expended a sum exceeding thirty thousand dollars in buildings on the land conveyed by the town of Peterborough to Donald McMaster, Esq., by deed bearing date the fifth day of November, 1890, to be held by him in trust for the town of Peterborough, until such sum be so expended, and after the said sum of thirty thousand dollars was so expended in trust for the said Edison General Electric Company; Therefore be it resolved that the council of the municipality of the town of Peterborough hereby authorizes the said Donald McMaster to hold the said land for the said Edison General Electric Company or their appointees free from any trust in favor of the said town, and that a copy of this resolution with the corporation seal attached, attested by the hand of the Mayor and Clerk be sent to the said Donald McMaster.—Carried.

AN AGRICULTURAL DEPUTATION.

A delegation from West Peterborough Agricultural Society attended the council meeting for the purpose of soliciting a grant in behalf of that society. The delegation comprised Messrs. Geo. E. Elliott, Wm. Collins and Jas. Davidson. They briefly pointed out the claims this society had upon the town, as well as the county, and referred to the conditional grant of $300 made by the council, to be divided equally between the East and West Riding Societies, which would only be forthcoming when the town council granted $300 to the West Riding Society.

The councillors appeared to be in favour of assisting the society, but all condemned the action of the county council in making conditional grants and attempting to coerce the town into doing likewise.

On motion the matter was referred to the Finance Committee on the understanding that if a grant was made it would be passed regardless of any action taken by the county council.

EXCHANGING DEEDS.

It was moved by Mr. Hall, second by Mr. Dawson, that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized to sign the deed from the town of Peterborough to W. G. Ferguson and affix the corporate seal hereto on condition that the said W. G. Ferguson also signs a deed to the town for the land occupied by the sidings from the Canadian Pacific Railway and Grand Trunk Railways in order to simplify the descriptions in the present deeds; when approved of by the Town Solicitor.—Carried.

A PUBLIC MEETING.

Mr. DAWSON urged the calling of a public meeting of ratepayers to discuss the Patterson & Corbin bylaw, as he found there was considerable misapprehension with regard to it.

The idea was received with favor, and it was decided to call a mass meeting for Monday night next.

On motion of Mr. Davidson the Town Collector was given a month's holidays on condition that the balance of the taxes be collected at once.

Mr. DAVIDSON drew the attention of the council to the fact that the auditors had not yet presented their report, and it was decided to notify them that the books must be returned at once.

The council then adjourned.

Sacrifice Sale of Jewelry.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. R. W. Muncaster announcing a sacrifice sale of jewelry, the stock of his recent business, which must be closed out regardless of price. A splendid chance to get good jewelry cheap.

Willow and Wicket.

A team of the Campbellford cricket club is expected up on Monday next to play a return match with Peterborough. It is probable also there will be a game, Married vs. Single, amongst the local cricketers on Saturday afternoon.

Large Shipment.

W. J. Morrow received one car of The Dominion Co's Celebrated Bottled Ale, White Label pints and quarts and Indian Pale pints and quarts. All Ale shipped to me is carefully stored by the firm and held until it is in A1 condition for use. I am the only dealer in town buying Ale in this way, so therefore carry the finest class of goods. Parties requiring Aged Wines of any kind Brandies or Gins, in Bottle or Woods will do well to call as my stock is the largest and most complete of any house in town. d25tf

Another Rascal Abroad.

Last night a lady on Sherbrooke street was insulted by one of the backguards who seem now to be infesting the town. He accosted her in such a manner as to frighten her, and when she ran from him he pursued her. Her screams attracted the attention of a gentleman, who came to her assistance, when the rascal took to his heels, successfully evading pursuit. So it appears that one man is not guilty of all the insults to ladies. This wretch was of medium size and had a dark moustache.

A Long Felt Want Supplied.

We are in the midst of the dog days. True, they have been very cool ones, but the hot spell is coming, and August, if any reliance can be placed on the weather clerk, is to be a scorcher. By the time Civic Holiday arrives you will be panting for a cool spot where you can spend the day and recuperate your exhausted energies. Chemong Park exactly fills the long felt want, and the Firemen will take you on their excursion in more comfortable shape and for less money than you can spend the day elsewhere. Remember these things when you think of Civic Holiday. d29 1d

Less Than Quarter-Cent a Mile.

Have you ever reckoned up what it costs to travel? In Canada 3c. per mile. In the States 2c. per mile, by rail, more by boat. In the face of such charges the workingman must stay at home, let alone the chance of taking his wife along. Sometime a big opportunity comes up such as the Court Little John Foresters excursion to Toronto, Niagara and Buffalo on the Civic Holiday. Think of it, over 140 miles to Buffalo and return for $2.25, less than one quarter cent a mile; or to Niagara and return for $2, or Toronto and return for $1 75. These are surprisingly low rates and should be taken advantage of. Look at the posters, and buy your tickets at any of the stores where they are on sale. Three days in which to do either trip. Come along and see a bit of the world outside your own township. 2229-1w32

Condolence and Tribute.

At the regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. yesterday afternoon the following resolution was adopted:—"Resolved, that we as a Union place on record our deep consciousness of the loss we have sustained in the death of our dear sister, Mrs. Robert Stenson, and our sympathy with the bereaved friends; that we are thankful to God for having lent her to our work for a season and taught us a precious lesson by her devoted life and peaceful death; that we each strive to emulate her example of quiet, persistent work in our beloved cause, and follow her as she followed Christ; that we honor her memory by sending a memorial notice to our official organ, the "Woman's Journal," and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the afflicted husband and parents." The deceased lady was prime mover in the Early Closing Movement. When it seemed to others too large an undertaking she urged it "for the sake of the girls," and her last public work was to solicit signatures to the petition for that object.

Personal.

Mr. Wm. Butler, of Rochester, is in town on a visit, at present the guest of Mr. John Doherty, Market Clerk.

Mrs. (Dr.) E. C. Crevier has returned to town after a six weeks visit with friends on the St. Lawrence.

Mr. W. M. Wood, of Chilliwhack, B.C., formerly of Peterborough, is in town and gave us a call to-day. Mr. Wood likes his new home very much and after three years experience in the far west thinks that he will remain a while longer.

Judge Lazier, the Belleville Ontario of Monday stated, leaves for Peterborough and the Muskoka Lakes to-morrow with his father-in-law, Rev. Dr. Hemekel and daughter, of Charlottesville Virginia. The Rev. Doctor is the rector of the parish and is the guest of Judge Lazier. They will spend a week among the lakes.

DRAFT OF THE REPORT.

whenever public convenience may so require, without cost or claim for damage to or against the town for interruption or interference with the traffic of the company or its railway.

31. That no part of the railway should be opened to the public without sanction of the council, to be given on the certificate of the town engineer or other town officer that the railway is in good condition and constructed as herein recommended.

32. That the company should, in removing the snow or ice from the railway tracks, evenly spread the same on or remove it from the streets, as the council or their street officer shall determine, and, in no case, use salts for the purpose of so removing snow or ice.

33. That, in removing snow or ice from the streets, the company should leave on the roadbed of the streets for sleighing such depth of snow as the town's street officer should determine.

34. That, whenever there shall occur a fall of snow which materially obstructs the company's cars, the company should be permitted to use sleighs, to be drawn by horses, until the cars can be used on the tracks, and during such times to charge the same rates and fares as if the company's cars had been used.

35. That the tariff of charges and fares of the Company should be kept posted up in all cars on the Railway.

36. That the persons employed by the Company in operating the cars should wear distinctive clothing.

37. That in case of failure of the Company's usual power for moving its cars occurring without fault or neglect on the part of the Company, the Company may use animal power for moving its cars during a reasonable period for repairs to said power.

38. That, if the Company should fail to commence the construction of or to construct complete and operate the portion of the Railway required to be constructed and operated during the present year as herein recommended, such failure should work a complete and absolute forfeiture of any privilege or franchise on or over the streets granted by the town to the Company.

39. That, in case the Company should, on request of the Council to be made after the year 1894 refuse, decline or fail, on reasonable notice to it, to construct a line or lines of Railway on streets of the town in addition to the lines or mileage of Railways herein mentioned or referred to (as per par's. 13, 14 and 15) the franchise of such last streets should revert to the town, and the town should, in that case, have the right to grant a franchise of such last streets to any other Street Railway Company, and any such other Company should have the right to cross the tracks of the Company so failing, with its lines or lines of Railway, without the payment of any sum for the privilege of so crossing except an equal share of the cost of making the crossings and maintaining same.

40. That it should be provided that in case the Company should refuse, or on reasonable notice neglect to do and perform any matter or thing required by the franchise or contract thereunder to be done and performed by the Company, the same matter or thing might be done by the town and the cost thereof recovered from the Company.

41. That it should be a provision in the by-law to be passed for the purposes hereof that the bylaw should not take effect until the Company had deposited with the town $1,000 to be forfeited to the town as liquidated damages in case the Company should not commence the construction of said Railway and complete the same and also commence to operate the said portion of Railway to be constructed and operated during the present year and within the times recommended by par. 13 hereof, which said $1,000 with bank interest thereon should be returned to the Company as soon as it is certified to the Council by the Town Engineer that there has been compliance by the Company with the provisions of the said paragraph, No. 13.

42. That in any matter not provided for herein the Street Railway Act should apply.

43. That there should be reserved to this Council the right, at any time, to pass further Bylaws governing the Company holding the franchise and not inconsistent therewith, which in the Council's judgment are necessary for the protection of person and property.

Ashburnham Council.

Accounts Presented—Street Improvements—A Short Sitting of the Fathers.

There was a large attendance of the ratepayers of the village at the council chamber Monday night, evidently expecting to see a busy session, but in this they were disappointed for the council sat for about half an hour, and there was not much business to attend to.

There were present Reeve Burnham in the chair, and Councillors Craig and Wand.

The meetings of the last meeting were read and signed, and the following accounts presented and ordered to be paid:

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

A deputation was present, asking for a sidewalk on Maria street, from Mr. Brown's residence to Mr. Case's, and Mr. Bridgewater asked the council to extend the sidewalk on Stewart street to his residence. The council decided to deal with these petitions at its next meeting.

It was moved by Mr. Wand, seconded by Mr. Craig, that the corporation furnish Mr. Faint with lumber necessary to make an entrance to his premises on Elizabeth street, he to do the work free of charge—Carried.

Mr. Haskins appeared before the council in reference to some improvements on Dickson street, but the council was of the opinion that the improvements needed could not be made this season.

Council then adjourned to meet again on Monday night.

"Oh, if I had only taken this medicine earlier in life, what years of suffering it would have saved me!" was the touching exclamation of one who had become cured of rheumatism by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Scores of such cases are on record.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can work as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

HAVE NOT LOST A SINGLE DAY

The Judicial Matinee

Bill of the Play at This Morning's Session of the Police Court.

The private box at the police court room was occupied by four prisoners this morning, whose performance furnished an hours' interest for the audience. Mr. Justice of the Peace A. V.R. Young presided.

PRO AND CON.

T. McCabe charged Jas. Feeny with assault and abusive language. The plaintiff stated that Feeney last night, while under the influence of liquor, came to his place, raised a quarrel, struck at the plaintiff, who repulsed him with a slap of his hand, and used insulting language towards him, (the plaintiff), threatening to kill him and actually catching him by the shirt collar and tearing it open. Feeney was arrested by P. C. McGinty on complaint of McCabe. Feeney became very excited in court when the plaintiff was giving his evidence, swore "O, was sober as yer Worship, Oi never laid hands on him, but he shtruck at me, but, yer Worship, he never sint me shprawlin' as he sis he did; the loikes o' him couldn't do it, and Oi never opened me mouth till him, and—" to an ad infinitum. Tears being no further evidence to corroborate either of these contradictory stories, the charge was dismissed.

A DRAWN BATTLE.

Francis Young and Jas. Gagnon, two ambitious emulators of the great and only John L., undertook to settle the question of the lightweight championship of Englishtown by holding a mill in the City Hotel yard last night, Marquis of Gooseberry rules to govern. Both pugilists were more or less under the influence of liquor. Before any further damage was done than the bleaching of Young's eye, P. C. McGinty took a hand in as referee and lugged them both off to the police station. This morning they pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk and disorderly and were each fined $2.

CHARGED WITH THEFT.

A larceny case was disposed of. John Quigley, a greasy looking individual of uncertain occupation hailing from Cobourg, with a rubicund nose, a harvest apple complexion and head of hair like a crow's nest, was charged with the theft of something over five dollars from Patrick O'Connor. Quigley is a lazy, shiftless fellow who has been about town for some weeks. He acknowledged having the money, but said he picked it up on his own bed after O'Connor had left it. The circumstances of the case are these. O'Connor and a chum named Arthur Brown, both river-drivers, went to the Cardwell House late last night and got a room. O'Connor was admittedly quite drunk, but Brown professed to have been perfectly straight. They went to a double room, in which one bed was occupied by Quigley. O'Connor rolled into Quigley's bed and went to sleep with his clothes on. In the morning when the three occupants of the room awakened O'Connor was in the other bed and his money missing from his pocket. Quigley was downstairs at breakfast and the two rivermen notified the proprietor of their loss. They taxed Quigley with the theft. At first he denied all knowledge of the affair, then reluctantly gave up $5.30, which he claimed to have found on his bed. He was arrested by P. C. Stewart and tried this morning. Considerable evidence was taken and judgment was reserved until Saturday morning, the prisoner going to gaol in the meantime.

Mr. G. W. Hatson acted as County Crown Attorney.

Out of the Pan Into the Fire.

On Saturday Misses Lena Chamberlain and Jennie Moyse were out driving with a young friend in Lakefield, when their horse became unmanageable. The girls jumped and both sustained painful injuries. Miss Chamberlain received a cut over the left eye which required six stitches to draw together. Miss Moyse was severely bruised and shaken up.

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his tortures and agonies were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $5 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were eased, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in three weeks was entirely cured, and has never an eruption or skin trouble. I can say I never saw clear a skin and as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	238,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.95
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,824 07
" " " " 1886, "	89,452 97
" " " " 1890, (four years)	232,175 60

A FAIR "EXTRA" CLERK,

IN THE POSTMASTER GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT AT OTTAWA.

In the Occasion of Some Sensational Evidence Before the Public Accounts Committee—Miss Craig Was Mr. Haggart's Appointee and Drew Salary While Absent.

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—The Public Accounts Committee room was crowded to excess yesterday with Senators, members of Parliament, not of the committee, officials of all branches of the service and the general public. There seemed an intense curiosity only accounted for by the fact that the case of Jane Craig, who was employed under Mr. Haggart, P. M. G., was to be investigated. The case has created a great deal of discussion not only about the Parliament buildings in tones of levity, but in hotel corridors

AND OTHER RESORTS OF MEN.

Mr. White, Deputy P. M. G., was the first witness. He became deputy in July, 1888, and insisted from that date on the reasons for absences of employes being written in the attendance book. Miss Jane Craig entered the department in August, 1888, as an extra clerk. Mr. Haggart became P. M. G., about the same time. Miss Craig was appointed by Mr. Haggart. She was absent from the department, according to the attendance book, 33 days during the first seven months, and during the year following and without any explanation to a period of five months. During these five months cheques were made out regularly in Jane Craig's name, many of them was marked as follows: "Handed to Deputy P. M. G. for P. M. G." Two of the others were marked. "Handed to private secretary," meaning J. H. Balderson, the Postmaster-General's private secretary.

Witness did not think he ever handed the first cheque to the Postmaster-General. He thought he handed it who was a relative of Miss Craig's. Mrs. Graham was in the room of the P. M. G.'s room, the one occupied by the private secretary.

Col. White said it was quite a common thing for persons to receive cheques for absent employes.

Mr. Barron—"Do you know of any other case where the P. M. G. got a cheque for an absent employe?

—No.

Mr. Wood, of Brockville, who had charge of the defence for Mr. Haggart said he did not say the Postmaster General got the cheques.

Mr. Barron—Well, read the entry on the cheque itself. "Handed to the Deputy P. M. G. for the P. M. G."

Colonel White said he thought that was improper entry. He could not recollect how it was well, but it was pretty sure that he did not give it to the Postmaster-General, but to some one in Mr. Haggart's private secretary's room.

The deputy could not explain why Miss Craig was allowed to remain away so many months, and to be furnished with a cheque each month without the attendance book, kept by his direction very strict, showing it.

It was, he said, an unusual case. Miss Craig's name was found in the attendance book up to June 23rd, 1889, but not after that.

which were after a period had elapsed from the date of their issue, endorsed by her, up to October of that year. Two cheques were issued to her for November and December, but were cancelled without being paid, by order of the Postmaster-General.

Col. White said he did not recollect calling Mr. Haggart's attention to her absence before then. The secretary of the department was responsible for the keeping of the ladies attendance book.

J. H. Balderson, private secretary to the Postmaster General, testified that he received two of Miss Craig's cheques and gave them to Mrs Graham, who was Miss Craig's sister. He informed the committee that a few days ago the P. M. G. examined the receipt book, and on seeing his signature there for these cheques told him that if he had known of his signing for these cheques he would not have allowed it.

Mr. Barron—Then there was something wrong?

I did not say so.

Mr. Barron—But the Minister thought so?

No answer.

John Graham, brother in law to Miss Graham who took Miss Craig's place in the department in June, 1889, and a civil servant testified that he did not know when Miss Craig left the department, or when she left the city, although she lived at his house. He thought she left the department about a year ago.

Mr. Barron—Did the Minister visit at your house?

Mr. Wood objected to the question and the chairman ruled it improper.

Mr. Barron—Was she sleeping at your house?

Witness—She was living there.

If she was ill you would have known it?

Witness—She was not a girl.

Here Mr. Wood rose to object again, but thought better of it and sat down.

Mr. Barron—Was it because she was ill she left the department?

Witness—At times she was ill.

Was that the reason she left you house?

Witness—I think it was, partly.

Mr. Daly—Are you trying to blacken the girl's character?

Mr. Barron—No, but I am trying to explain the payment of public money to a clerk who was not discharging any departmental duties.

Mr. Barron—Have you had any conversation with the Minister on this subject?

Mr. Wood objected to the question, but turning to the reporters said she wished it to be reported that he did not object but simply asked for the chairman's ruling.

The Chairman—We will proceed according to the rules of evidence.

Mr. Brunel, of the P. O. Dept. kept a record of the resignations and found no resignation from Miss Craig. He had marked in his books, opposite her name, "Left, when?"

This ended the evidence for the day.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

WHY LORD SALISBURY DECLINES THE BLACK EAGLE DECORABLION.

The World of London—Mr. Gladstone's Movements—Another Indian Royalty to be Welcomed—A Friend of Musicians Dead—The Action of Tuberculin.

LONDON, Aug. 5. The Prince of Wales is to leave London for the Continent, according to the present arrangements, on the evening of Friday, Aug. 14, and will travel by way of Calais, Brussels, Cologne and Frankfort direct to Homburg, where he is to arrive at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the following day. The Prince will stay at Homburg until Sept. 5 and then will proceed to Denmark to visit the King and Queen at Vredensborg, where the Princess will already have arrived.

The Emperor William offered to make Lord Salisbury a Knight of the Black Eagle; but there never was any idea of the Prime Minister accepting the order, in doing so would have created embarrassing and undesirable misapprehension in every court in Europe. Moreover, the Queen must have returned the compliment by giving the K. C. B. to Caprivi, which would have strengthened impressions abroad which it was the object of Her Majesty and Lord Salisbury to remove. The only British statesman who was a Knight of the Black Eagle was the Duke of Wellington, who received the great Prussian order from Frederick William III. after the Battle of Waterloo. The Duke made it a point to wear the Black Eagle at every function which took place when Frederick William IV. visited England in 1842, including the christening of the Prince of Wales, after which ceremony the general exhibited was observed that the silver wine cooler of George IV. was filled with mulled claret, which was served out in buckets to the guests at Windsor Castle.

Mr. Gladstone is going to Florence toward the end of October and will remain in Italy until the meeting of Parliament. Sir James Lacaita has placed his villa at Mr. Gladstone's disposal.

Before the year is out England will welcome another royalty in the wealthy Maharajah of Mysore. His departure, however, is attended by some difficulty. Certain priests in Southern India have been deputed to study the abstruse questions involved in the project before the Maharajah imperils his caste by crossing the black water.

The battle waged over the abandoned Irish Roman Colleges bill is not very creditable to Irish Unionists. Mr. Balfour's bill simply proposed to do for the Protestant and Catholic Churches in Ireland what was done for Episcopalians, Wesleyans and Presbyterians in England and Scotland, namely, to assist them in providing training colleges for teachers. This proposal raised a great deal of Orange intolerance, and at this feeling Mr. T. W. Russell made himself the trusted exponent. He did not see that he was acting on the true principle of Unionism, which is to treat all creeds with perfect equality, and was happily be able to carry out his policy without the necessity of a bill.

"The Freeman's Journal" will soon be compelled to adopt the policy of the Anti-Parnellite party. Mr. Davitt, Mr. Gray and his relatives hold the majority of the shares in the paper, and therefore are in a position to insist on a change of policy. The adherence of Mr. Dillon and Mr. O'Brien to the McCarthy party has not affected Mr. Parnell's personal adherents at Westminster. They stand by him with more firmness than ever, and the only effect of Mr. Dillon's and Mr. O'Brien's utterance has been to deepen and widen the schism in the party.

More than the probe-scene could may be interested to learn that Mr. Wilson Cleave was able to make a very satisfactory, albeit preliminary, report on the action of tuberculin. Deprived of all impurities it was wrongly believed by its discoverer, Dr. Koch, to be unnecessary and is now demonstrated to be the cause of the distressing and dangerous reaction which he considered a sine qua non of the diagnosis to prove it success.

One of the most familiar faces in Parisian musical circles has vanished forever. The Contesse de Chambrun was a personal friend of every famous singer who has won success during the last forty years, and she devoted large sums for she was wealthy as well as a Wagnerian to the organization of a private performance in her magnificent music room, with her own maitre de chapelle, M. E. Colonne, as conductor, Nilsson, Melba, Van Zandt and Conneau have been among her latest favorites, and she patronized Bach and Handel as well as Wagner. Her trunks were already packed for that yearly pilgrimage to Bayreuth which she never missed, when she caught a violent cold which carried her off.

The small agricultural estate of Higher Week, North Devon, which cost £5,360 just thirteen years ago, sold the other day for £3,400. There is, however, nothing exceptional in this ruinous decline of value. I heard recently of property in Lincolnshire which cost £4,300 about twenty years ago, mortgaged for £3,000, and the mortgagees, in utter despair, offered the property by auction for £1,1000, but there was no bid.

Wm. O'Brien's Solvency.

DUBLIN, Aug. 5.—The registrar in bankruptcy yesterday issued an order granting Wm. O'Brien a further extension of three days in which to show cause why a decree in bankruptcy against him should not be issued.

The basis of the action was the failure of O'Brien to pay the costs of the action for libel brought by him against Lord Salisbury at the Manchester assizes in July, 1888, in which action a verdict was returned for the defendant, thus throwing the costs upon the plaintiff. Mr. O'Brien will fight the matter to the bitter end, so should a decree be issued declaring him a bankrupt he would be debarred from sitting as a member of the House of Commons.

OUR '91 WHEAT SURPLUS

WILL REACH THE ENORMOUS QUANTITY OF 22,188,000 BUSHELS.

The Annual Meeting of the Dominion Millers' Association—A Lot of Important Business—Best Varieties of Wheat to Grind.

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—The Dominion Millers' Association met inannual conclave in the rotunda of the Board of Trade yesterday and ground out between the upper and nether mill stones of pros and cons many important questions of interest to the trade. In the absence of President Hall, Vice-President W. H. Meldrum of Peterboro, occupied the chair. The meeting was a large and representative one. It convened at 2.30 p. m.

22,188,000 BUSHELS WHEAT FOR EXPORT.

Secretary Plewes presented his annual report, from which the following highly interesting extracts are taken:

"The following is an estimate of Dominion wheat crops and requirements for harvest in 1891. In making this estimate some ten days ago, I calculated the Ontario wheat crop (taking into consideration increased acreage) would be ten per cent. more than last year. But during the past ten days there has been considerable threshing of winter wheat, and the yield is so large, running 30 to 36 bushels to the acre, where only 22 to 28 bushels was expected, that I have increased the estimated outturn 20 per cent. over last year, and as there will most likely be a still larger acreage planted to wheat this year, I have also largely increased seed requirements. I also for comparison give you the outline I made of the estimates for the years 1889 and 1890.

"The harvest of 1889, I estimated, was nearly one million bushels short of the requirements for seed and bread, and this shortage was supplied by large importations of United States flour and some U. S. wheat coming in and paying duty for Dominion consumption.

"At our annual meeting last September I estimated the Dominion wheat crop would be 40,300,000 bushels, which I calculated would give us about 10,000,000 surplus for export. While I have no accurate return how much has been exported during past crop year, nevertheless, during the first four months after harvest, large quantities of Ontario flour was exported, and a few lots of Ontario wheat, and since January 1st, 1891, large quantities of Manitoba wheat has been exported, and some flour from Manitoba wheat. Hence when the returns are all made up, I think it will be found out ten million bushels surplus last year was nearly right.

ESTIMATED CROP AND REQUIREMENT HARVEST, 1891.

	BUSHELS.
Ontario, 20 per cent. added to last crop of 24,300,000 bush. would be	29,160,000
Manitoba	20,000,000
Other N. W. Provs.	5,000,000
Estimate all other provinces same as last year	1,000,000
Total	55,160,000
Requirements, bread 5½ million inhabitants, at 5½ bush. each	28,825,000
Seed, Manitoba and N. W. Provs.	1,662,000
Seed, Ontario	2,300,000
Seed, other provinces	125,000
	32,972,000
Estimated surplus for export	22,188,000

"In view of the large wheat crop in our Dominion this year it would be a wise policy if some united action could be adopted so that the export flour trade could be done at the least possible cost. It is the opinion of your secretary if the securing of export freight was entrusted to some central committee of times a reduction could be obtained on 10,000 sack contracts when no reduction can be obtained on small lots. The success of the home trade this year will largely depend on the amount of flour exported out of the Dominion."

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

These officers were elected:

President Thomas Goldie, mayor of Guelph.

Vice-President Mr. Peplow of Peterboro.

Secretary David Plewes of Brantford.

Treasurer William Galbraith of Toronto.

Auditors—J. L. Spink, J. Brown, Flavelle and Winger.

Executive Committee—Sowsby of London, Kelly of Blyth, Edmunson of Oshawa, A. Bond of Paris, Hamilton of Glenhuron, John Brown of Toronto, Beach of Iroquois.

OTHER BUSINESS.

The newly elected president immediately took charge of the proceedings.

Mr. Charles B. Watts, the central wheat buyer, made his report. During the five months which the office has been instituted he had filled orders for 333 cars of Ontario wheat and for 85 of Manitoba. These had been shipped to 92 different millers. Of the orders filled 104 cars were purchased below the market price. Expenses were $1685.76 and earnings $1454.89.

BEST KINDS OF WHEAT TO GRIND.

The committee on seed wheat reported. The red varieties recommended for their milling excellence were hybrid Mediterranean and longberry red, American bronze, red velvet chaff and Egyptian. The Manchester variety was not favored, being considered a weak wheat. Of the white variety, the Surprise was considered the best in Ontario, as combining color and strength. Canadian velvet chaff, Goodfield, Ramsey, were also recommended.

After discussing credits, through bills of lading to the sea board, grinding in transit, short weight car wheat, Mr. Plewes moved that millers finding shortages in cars of wheat purchased from local warehouses report the same to the central wheat buyer who shall bring the case of any grain dealer for systematically having shortage; before the Advisory Committee who on investigation shall have the power to direct the central wheat buyer to purchase no more wheat from the offender till he has made all shortages good, the resolution was unanimously carried. The meeting adjourned at 11 p.m. to convene again this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The American Florists' Convention.

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—The city will have another influx of American visitors on Aug. 18, 19, 20 and 21, when the International Convention of Florists will be held. It is represented by the leading growers and commercial men connected with the profession throughout the United States, and it is expected that with their families fully 2000 people will be present. The meetings and trade exhibits will be held in the Pavilion. The program covers a drive through the city, an "at home" tendered to the representatives and an outing and banquet at Exhibition Park.

A SENATE SENSATION.

A $100,000 Bomb Exploded Amid Much Excitement.

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—There was a big row in the Senate Committee on Railways today when the Baie des Chaleurs Railway Company's bill came up. Walter Barwick of Toronto, who represented the Ontario Bank and the estate of McFarlane one of the contractors, charged that out of the $280,000 subsidy received from the Quebec Government $100,000 was given to the Mercier Government for the election purposes. The charge created a sensation and the committee broke up in confusion. Mr. Barwick declares that he can produce witnesses to sustain his statement, and consideration of the bill was prosponed until Thursday next

COMMERCIAL UNION VOTED DOWN.

Mr. Desjardins' Amendment Carried by a Majority of Twenty-two.

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—In the house yesterday, when Mr. Foster moved to go into Committee of supply, Mr. Desjardins (L. Islet) moved an amendment similar to the one he moved a few weeks ago with an additional clause declaring express disapproval of any scheme of Commercial Union between Canada and the United States which would involve a common tariff against the rest of the world and a pro-rata distribution of the joint revenues of the two countries. The debate was continued all evening, but was largely a repetition of the debate on the budget. The division was taken at 2.45 o'clock. The amendment was carried by 99 yeas to 77 nays, giving the Government a majority of 22.

V. HAT THE OLD MAN GOT.

Staggered by the Existence of a Receipt—The Tarte McGreevy Enquiry.

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—The report of the expert engineers on the Quebec harbour improvements and Larkin, Connolly & Co., was presented to the Privileges and Elections Committee yesterday. The first witness was E. J. Milne, one of the Quebec Harbor Commission inspectors from 1880 to 1888. His duties were to see that the proper quantities and qualities of cement and sand were put into masonry of Larkin, Connolly & Co's contract the board called for. A couple of weeks ago when the bribery of the dredging inspectors was being investigated, Milne, who is an old man, with a leathern visage, sent a letter to the committee denying that he had received any money from Larkin, Connolly & Co. which had done injustice to the work. He thus called attention to himself, and he was subpœnaed to explain a receipt found among Mr. Murphy's papers, on which his name appeared. He told the committee he had worked for the contractors as overseer of work during the night time after his work as inspector was finished. Afterwards he acknowledged that he had worked for the contractors as a common laborer with a spade in his hand during the daytime. There was no arrangement as to his payment. It was made at irregular intervals and was for just such sums as Mr. Murphy saw fit to give. All his dealings were with Mr. Murphy. When he was asked how much money he received he said $1,800, and that would be an average of $200 a year for the years from 1880 to 1888.

By dint of pressing questions it was found that no money was paid after 1883, and that was the earnings in 1880-1-2 and 4.

This receipt dumbfounded the old man; November 22nd, 1883.—Received from O. E. Murphy, the sum of $1,300 in cash, previous cash and sundries $300, total $1,600. E. J. Milne. On the back of the receipt was the memorandum, "field glass, compass and gold watch and chain." These articles the witness said were included in the $300. He would not acknowledge that the cash and sundries had had any effect on the closeness of his attention to the inspection of the contractor's materials.

Martin Foley, merchant tailor of Quebec and one of Thomas McGreevy's election pushers, was called with regard to a statement made by Mr. Murphy that Foley had during Thomas McGreevy's election of 1887 been with Mr. Carberry when the latter electioneer received $500 cash from Murphy.

To Mr. Geoffrion he said he had not handled any money in Thomas McGreevy's election in 1887. The witness said the only time he had handled any money was in the election of Robert McGreevy in the local election. In Thomas McGreevy's the witness had no money to spend.

To Mr. Mills, he said in Thomas McGreevy's election of 1887 he told Robert McGreevy, whenever and wherever money was wanted. Sometimes it would be parties and sometimes clubs.

To Mr. Davies he said he could not tell who were the clubs; they were scattered all over the division. He was a general canvasser over the whole division. The clubs were sometimes only organized to receive money. They were not organized for canvassing but to make money. Sometimes they applied for money for clubs and would bring a memorandum as a guarantee of the authority of the claim. One claim was made with a memorandum wanting $800 or $900. He sent that memorandum to Robert McGreevy. He could not give the name of a single person who had told him that money was required by clubs. He may have met Mr. Murphy on the street at least twice before the election, and he was with Mr. Robert McGreevy. What the conversation was on those occasions the witness could not remember. He had seen Mr. Murphy in his store, too, before the election of 1887.

Herbert John Carberry who was arrested for bribery and corruption in connection with Thos. McGreevy's election of 1887 was called, and although some further inside information was gathered with regard to that boodled contest he stuck to the denial of the evidence of Murphy with regard to the $500.

A Dominion Surrender.

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—The Dominion Government has decided to surrender the seven American fishing schooners recently seized by the Canadian cruiser Dream for fishing within the three mile limit, in violation of the treaty of 1818. Commander Gordon reports that the offence was undoubtedly committed, but as a fog prevailed at the time it rendered it possible that the law was infringed unwittingly the Government decided upon the above course.

The Home Fascinator Co.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5. The "Home Fascinator Company" of Montreal, Canada, publishes a so-called monthly magazine, and offers "prizes" for those who furnish the largest number of words fashioned from certain letters. One of the "prizes," was a "silver tea set." The firm would send congratulatory letters to all who competed for a "prize," assuring them that the tea set had been won, asking that $4.90 be forwarded to pay the cost of boxing, packing and shipping. Of course no tea set was forwarded, and the Canadian concern was $4.90 ahead. It was finally suggested that all American terminal post-offices designated as exchange offices with Canada should be treated as offices of destination and the postmasters thereat instructed by wire to refuse to certify money orders or forward registered letters payable and directed to the Home Fascinator Company, Montreal, Canada, but to return the same to the offices of origin, marked "fraudulent."

It is expected that many thousands of letters containing money will thus be restored to the writers.

Telegraphic Tattle.

A dispatch from Orange, Texas, confirms the report of a riot at Lock Moore & Co.'s train. Fourteen men were killed and two are missing. The trouble was caused by the breaking out of an old feud between a band of robbers known as the Asworth gang and the cattlemen of that section.

New York has still another foul murder. the body of Prof. Charles A. Kaiff, a well-known resident of Boston-avenue, having been found floating in the Sound covered with wounds. Three hundred dollars known to be in his possession were missing.

Cable Chat.

Fifty-five hundred Italians sailed from Geneva for America last week.

Roustan, the French Minister at Washington, has been appointed French Minister to Spain.

The general storehouse of the German army at Rathenow was struck by lightning yesterday and burned; loss $375,000.

The Paris Times ridicules the report of a Franco-Russian alliance. It declares each nation will preserve its liberty, and France desires friendship with England.

The Prime Minister at the King's request announced to the Chamber of Deputies at Brussels yesterday that the illness of the Queen was only temporary and that she was in no danger.

The British Consul at Foo Chow, China, telegraphs to the Foreign Office that the report that riots are imminent is not true. He says Europeans are adequately protected by the Chinese officials as well as by the presence of foreign gunboats.

Why it is Popular.

Because it has proven its absolute merit over and over again, because it has an unequalled record of cures, because its business is conducted in a thoroughly honest manner, and because it combines economy and strength, being the only medicine of which "100 Doses One Dollar" is true—these strong points have made Hood's Sarsaparilla the most successful medicine of the day.

of some kind, and you have a preference as to the kind and place. You know what terms you require, and, if wise, you must know that, with present prospects of Peterborough's future greatness, the half-value prices at which I am now offering property cannot long continue. At present I want to sell, and I have a fixed location at 357 George street. You can have no difficulty in finding my office, and I want any and every person who wishes to buy to come in, talk matters over, tell me what you wish to buy, where you want to buy, when and how you can pay—give me full particulars, and then I can, and will, give you intelligent advice. I claim that thirty years practical business experience has qualified me to do so. In the past many have acted upon my suggestions and made their tens, hundreds and thousands by doing so; so many more who would not be advised are regretting their loss, instead of counting their gain.

A customer remarked this morning, "How bright and cheery your store is." Indeed this is frequently heard at 265. We are going to have our store as bright as a button during August. Yesterday we were very busy selling Summer Goods and also had a number of customers for early Fall Goods. Our aim is to get below everyone else in price, and knowing ones say we succeed very well.

Our reputation is now established as the house for Corsets. The D. & A. is a seller every time. Even the travellers for other corsets acknowledge it has no equal for the price. We're making a clean sweep of all Summer Goods. Embroideries at 2c, Gloves at 5c., Dress Goods at 25c. Spools 20c. doz., Ribbons at 5c., Parasols 25c., Good Tweeds at 25c., Mantle Cloths worth $1.25 for 75c., Colored Silks during August at 49c. worth $1.00.

You may think it impossible to sell so cheap. We can assure you that George Washington and our advertisements alike, bear the reputation of truth. Trade with us.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE

ARE NOT a Purgative Medicine. They are a BLOOD BUILDER, TONIC and NERVE INVIGORATOR, as they supply in a condensed form the substances actually needed to enrich the Blood, curing all diseases arising from POOR and WATERY BLOOD, or from VITIATED HUMORS in the BLOOD, and also invigorate and BUILD UP the BLOOD and SYSTEM, when broken down by overwork, mental worry, disease, excesses and indiscretions. They have a SPECIFIC ACTION on the SEXUAL SYSTEM of both men and women, restoring LOST VIGOR and correcting all IRREGULARITIES and SUPPRESSIONS.

EVERY MAN Who finds his mental faculties dull or failing, or his physical powers flagging, should take these PILLS. They will restore his lost energies, both Physical and Mental.

EVERY WOMAN should take them. They cure all suppressions and irregularities, which inevitably entail disease when neglected.

YOUNG MEN should take these PILLS. They will cure the results of youthful bad habits, and strengthen the system.

YOUNG WOMEN should take them. These PILLS will make them regular.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 5, 1891.

Mr. Fitzgerald's Rejoinder.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

When the other day you kindly inserted the few remarks which, under the circumstances, I felt to have been called for, regarding the Orange celebration on the 13th of July, I did not think they would have brought upon me such abuse and criticism as I have been since subjected to. I notice there are two weighty gentlemen who feel particularly aggrieved. My letter appears to have rubbed them against the grain, and they feel sore. The gentlemen—the Orange master and the Catholic councillor—are now allies in the crusade against me. They are pouring hot shot into me for having dared, as Mr. Kelly puts it, to "intrude on private dinners." I did not "intrude"—I was not at the dinner. But let them go on, I can stand the fire. As the Yorkshireman said when his wife was laying on to him, "It pleases her and it don't hurt I."

I submit, however, that one at a time would be fair play. It is hardly to be expected that a mere "land surveyor" can cope with a Grand Master, and a lawyer to boot, and a full fledged town councillor of great experience and varied attainments. Yet with the odds against me, I would not, if they were both rolled into one man, be afraid to face him. But when there are two things of any kind be they but little curs on the streets, one barking in front of you, and the other snapping at your heels, it is not so easy to get along between them. Mr. Kelly asks, "will Mr. Fitzgerald tell us what quarter he means." Yes, I will be very glad to do so. I will tell us in the presence of the "quarter," but I always object to be too communicative, or to supply food for laughter or scandal to the "common enemy" as Mr. Meredith styled all Catholics, previous to the last provincial election. Mr. Kelly questions my right to use the expression "We Catholics" when identifying myself as I always have and always will, with my co-religionists. Would my inquisitor point out the difference or distinction between his race and my own? I cannot.

He pooh poohs the reference to a letter of mine published many years ago by the EXAMINER, but his friend Mr. Campbell Sawers has now done the same thing, with my late letter in the Times of the 1st inst. There must be something good in them notwithstanding Mr. Kelly's fault finding. Mr. Kelly boasts of having been present at the Orange dinner and joining in loyal welcome to the Grand Master.

There are few Irish Catholics, thank God, who would do so. What a pity Mr. Kelly did not have the additional pleasure along with his friend Mr. Sawers, of doing honour to Mr. William Johnston of Ballykilbeg notoriety, who was at Kingston lately. Mr. Kelly assures me that "it would have done me good had I been present (at the Orange dinner) and that it would have taken a great deal of the excitable prejudice out of my mind." This assurance, to say the least, is gratuitous, and it is quite as disengenuous Mr. Kelly did expect from me an overhauling for having been at that Orange dinner. A few days before my letter appeared, I was in Mr. Kelly's shop. During a conversation that we had I spoke to him a little sharply about it. He had always professed friendship, more or less confidential towards me, so that I felt at ease to say a few words to him on the subject. He did not turn upon me, but he tried to joke it off and addressing his assistant, Mr. Fanning, who was near him, repeated a couple of times, "didn't I tell you so," thus evidently showing that he not only had expected I would speak to him on the subject, but that he had told Mr. Fanning I would be sure to do so. Mr. Fanning, if necessary, will, I have no doubt, vouch for the truth of this. As for prejudice, which Mr. Kelly kindly attributes to me, I really have no prejudice in this matter, at any rate. I look upon it as a matter of principle, and I say it would have been a sounder evidence of principle for an Irish Catholic to have abstained from, rather than be present, at any Orange demonstration or dinner.

Mr. Kelly says:—"The best of etiquette (he is getting up to the degrees) and good feeling prevailed." I do not doubt it. Orange leaders are good fellows when they have all their own way—when ascendancy and "No Surrender" mottoes and party tunes are let pass unquestioned—when obnoxious Catholics will join in the hurrah, and sit around the festive board within, while without, the fife and drum are vigorously pouring away, "To hell with the Pope." Mr. Kelly "has never denied his religion and nationality." No one said he had, but with all due respect he goes dang-rousty near compromising both. I, too, can say that I have never denied either, but I claim no credit for that. I believe the best thing in the world to be is, a good Catholic first, and a good Irishman after. I am afraid I have never edified much the one, nor helped the other. I am neither hypocrite nor pharisee. I do not pretend to holiness. I am but a poor, sinful, humble publican, burdened with a full share of human faults, follies and frailties, and I am in no wise perfect—even in "etiquette." But for all that I would perish rather than be present at an Orange banquet. He says "he is not in the council to represent Catholics." I thought he was, to some extent at least. I understand he is supported in his elections by all the Catholics or nearly all of them in his ward and I hope he always will be, while he keeps away from the lodges. He certainly does not get all the Protestant votes. Of course I do not endorse this line of distinction, although I know, as well as Mr. Sawers does, how much it is practised against Catholics in Peterborough. As usual Mr. Kelly leaves our French Catholics out of his list. They had no French Representative at the "dinner" and are doubtlessly ignored on that account. I am accused of having "political bias but that I will forget it when I carry a bouquet looking for a job." Now that is decidedly witty of Mr. Kelly, and I give him credit for it. There is, however, one thing always lacking in my bouquets, and that is the all potent Orange big, which Mr. Kelly so much admires, and loves to honour and defend. It does not grow in my garden. As to my political bias. What of it? Have I not a right to it as any other man? As to getting "jobs," it requires something more than a bouquet to purchase one now-a-day—solid thousands are paid now for jobs and no jobs. I am not in favor with the Grand Masters and the ledger. They would not have me—they would not have Sir John Thompson. Mr Kelly concludes his letter by daubing off in the following refreshingly confident and offhand manner:—"By the-bye, Mr. Editor, he mentions the "glorious and immortal memory of the adventurous Dutchman, the arch-despoiler, etc.," and Mr. Kelly goes on: "Now I find (as though he had found a missing bull of yours behind the counter) that the Fitzgeralds and he (the Dutchman) were near neighbors, and the Fitzgeralds arrived in Ireland in Elizabeth's time, no doubt to pave the way for the Orange Prince," and in a suggestively patronizing way Mr. Kelly "advises me to read Chesterfield on etiquette." Oh, Mesre! O'Kelly and Chesterfield! What stuff and nonsense! Cut upon such a mixture of presumption and ignorance. The Fitzgeralds were in Ireland nearly twice as long before the Virgin Queen died as since that date.

The noble house of Fitzgerald, the noblest in Ireland, came to Ireland in 1068. The Sainted Elizabeth died in 1603. So much for Councillor Kelly's knowledge of history. The Fitzgeralds, "more Irish than the Irish themselves," have ever been true to Ireland, and have given up, some of them, life and blood in her sacred cause. And there is not on this broad and free continent of America to-day any name in connection with Ireland that stands out so brightly and prominently as the name Fitzgerald. Councillor Kelly calls the Dutchman an "Orange prince." Wrong again in your history, councillor. He was not an "Orange prince," nor was he an Orangeman, nor was there an Orange organization nor Orange lodge, nor Orange master, nor Orangeman in Ireland for many years after the Battle of the Boyne was fought. Would to God there never was one there. Holy Ireland would be free and happy and prosperous to-day, and big and little Orange masters, who have never put foot on Ireland's blessed soil, nor seen the blue arch of heaven above it; would not be trading upon, and making political capital for themselves out of the dissensions and strifes they create and foster and perpetuate among the credulous, good natured people of Ireland, at home and abroad. Irishmen and Englishmen and Scotchmen and Welshmen, aye and Canadians, would then stand together, shoulder to shoulder, as one solid phalanx, welded together by the bonds of mutual trust and confidence, interests and unity and could defy the world in peace or in war.

Now a word or two in regard to Mr. Chesterfield and his book, as the boys in Ireland would say in my school days, and I am done. I presume Mr. Kelly refers to Lord Chesterfield's letters to his bastard son. They form, it seems, Mr. Kelly's manual of etiquette. Hear what Dr. Johnston, an intimate friend and acquaintance of Lord Chesterfield, says of them:—"That they taught the morals of a prostitute and the manners of a dancing master." Etiquette indeed! Etiquette bosh! Lord Chesterfield was not the father of etiquette. Philip, Duke of Burgundy, whose vanity prompted him to try to put himself on a level with his sovereign—as the Grand Masters try to do—is the father of the humbug. Thank God, at the present day, the great diffusion of knowledge and education, by which all classes are brought into closer contact; the universal democratic tendency of the age; the free and active intercourse between nations and men are rapidly demolishing the "manners of the dancing master" and making way for the promotion and advancement of intellect and common sense.

Apologizing, in anticipation, to you kind Editor, for the trespass I have made upon your time and space, I now leave Mr. Kelly without a thought of prejudice in my mind, but with as friendly and warm a place as ever for him in my Irish heart, if he will accept it.

I am dear sir
Yours truly
J. W. FITZGERALD.

The distention of the stomach which many people feel after eating, may be due to improper mastication of the food; but in most cases it indicates a weakness of the digestive organs, the best remedy for which is one of Ayer's Pills, to be taken after dinner.

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. dw

The Safest

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hore, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

MUNCASTER'S

291 GEORGE STREET.

Lies in a State of Coma.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 4.—Miss Jennie Lipsey, teacher Central School, who was thrown from a buggy on June 7 by the horse running away, lies in a comatose condition at her mother's home, River road, Southwold, her demise being the matter of a short time. She left last week on a visit to Chicago and was brought home Saturday evening. A Chicago physician states that she is suffering from paralysis of the brain caused by a heavy blow or fall.

An Infant Crushed to Death.

TORONTO, Aug. 4.—Last night about 6:30 o'clock, Mrs. A. M. Clay was pulling along her baby on Queen street near Seaton in a children's wagon. In order to avoid a passing wagon she ascended a heap of gravel, when the baby carriage upset throwing the infant violently against the wheels of a wagon driven by John Fleming. The wheels struck the child with sufficient force to crush its skull in a terrible manner. The mother's grief was heartrending. The child died at 9:15. No blame is attached to Mr. Fleming.

The Beer Syndicate Again.

TORONTO, Aug. 4.—It is believed that negotiations have reached a point between Beton-Kerr, the English M. P., and the proprietors of the five leading Ontario breweries, by which the latter, viz: Dominion, Ontario, Thomas Davies and Casgraves of Toronto, and Lottridge of Hamilton, will sink their individuality and from the component parts of a great corporation. The figures could not be learned, but they are big.

A Preacher Burned to Death.

PALMER, Mass., Aug. 4. The Weeks boarding house was burned at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. There were 35 guests and boarders in the house and they had barely time to escape in their night clothing. Rev. Mr. Williams, a retired Congregational minister, who boarded at the house, was burned to death. The guests lost all their effects. Loss, $30,000.

Smallpox in the South.

PANAMA, Aug. 4. From Lima and Callao it is reported smallpox is spreading every day, and the citizens have not the slightest idea of what the authorities mean to do to check its spread. Old and young are alike subject to it. The doctors say they cannot get vaccine matter at any price for their client.

A Too Sudden Descent.

ROWSANVILLE, Aug. 4.—Nathan Horne, an employe of the Dominion Organ and Piano Company, was working on the upper flat when the hoist gave way and fell with him on it through the three stories. One arm is fractured in several places, and he sustained internal injuries.

He Set Fire to His House.

KINGSTON, Aug. 4.—James Fitzgibbon was arrested yesterday on a charge of setting fire to his house. He is accused of having caused his family out of doors and then applied the torch. The house was partially destroyed.

A Wonderful Meteor and a Big Shark.

PANAMA, Aug. 4.—A wonderful and startling phenomenon occurred lately in the department of Cuzco. At about mid-day on Saturday, July 4, an aerolite came almost in contact with the earth. It crossed in a southerly direction all along the eastern region of the Cuzco, with as beautiful and luminous tail as that of any comet ever seen. Before disappearance the meteor changed its course and rose about 30 feet higher than when it was first seen, when a terrible explosion was heard and immediately after was a slight shower of pebbles fell through out that neighborhood. Thirty years ago a similar occurrence took place in the department.

An enormous shark was caught in the harbor here last week. It measured nearly 24 feet in length, and was four feet in diameter at its greatest width. The flesh was cut off and the dorsal bone is to be preserved. The skin is above a half inch thick. The monster is what is known as the boneless shark.

The Wounded Duellist.

CROTON LANDING, Aug. 4.—Dispatches now are that Newton Baker, who was shot Saturday by Orville M. Anderson, will live several days longer.

Toronto Boodlers.

TORONTO, Aug. 4.—The city was startled by a clap of thunder yesterday by offshoots of Messrs. Marshall and Coleman, who alleged that E. A. Macdonald had accepted $4,500 in cash to withdraw his injunction proceedings re the street railway franchise sale. Coleman further alleged that Macdonald had the check photographed, and that he then demanded $15,500. Making $20,000 all as the price of his services in favor of Kody Exeett tender for the street railways. While it is true that the Baron of Bowes on Bellamy took the money to withdraw the suit, he denies that he was guilty of blackmailing in the afterwards and, as an excuse of his good faith, he has had a summons issued against Coleman charging him with criminal libel. The case will come up in this morning's police court, when it is expected an enlargement will be granted the defence until Monday. The papers all upon the committee to have a thorough investigation before the contract is signed. The people are hardly awake yet, but it is safe to say they will be before to-day is over. The pals have fallen out, and the crime inwardness of the whole affair is likely to be divulged.

A Sad Drowning Accident.

STAYNER, Aug. 4. At Lynn Valley, three miles from here, Sunday, Anson Wheeler and another young man were returning from Sunday school, when passing the mill pond they went in bathing. Wheeler, who could not swim, waded into the water, got beyond its depth and sank. It was nearly an hour before the body was found, and all efforts at resuscitation were unavailing. Young Wheeler was about 20 years of age and secretary of the Sunday School.

Serious Riot at Carife.

RIGBY, Aug. 4.—Serious rioting occurred yesterday at Carife where a municipal election was being held. A mob hooted and set fire to the town hall a portion of which was destroyed with the archives. One person was killed and many others seriously injured.

Shocking State of Russian Prisons.

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—A Russian named Kafon has arrived at Breslau after 28 years confinement in Siberia. He had made numerous futile attempts to escape and each time was visited with a fresh sentence. He fully confirms George Kennan's accounts of the shocking state of the Russian prisons.

To Settle Jews in Italy.

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—The Stats Zeitung says The Baron Hirsch Committee is negotiating with the Italian Court to obtain grants of large tracts of unoccupied land in Italy upon which to settle Jews and that the Rothschilds promise pecuniary support.

The Treaty said to be Signed.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The Times St. Petersburg correspondent records a rumor that the Czar has already approved and that Ministers have signed the convention brought to Russia by admiral Gervais and French squadron.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

A Famous Cast of Ben Jonson's Play.

The mention of the above-named writer brings to mind a pleasing trait in Shakespeare's character and, moreover, suggests something of his rising influence in matters directly connected with the company to which he belonged, and the important position in it he had by this time acquired. Ben Jonson, hitherto (1598) almost unknown as an author, had submitted to Shakespeare's company a new comedy he had written, with a view to its production by them. According to the testimony of Rowe, the comedy, which was the famous Every Man in His Humor, was about to suffer rejection when Shakespeare interposed, having probably had a reading of the manuscript, and used his influence in its favor. Very likely Henslowe was the chief objector to the purchase of the comedy in which, like enough, he did not see the same elements of success which characterized the approved work of Shakespeare. Be that as it may, not only did Shakespeare succeed in getting the new play accepted and produced, but he undertook himself one of the leading parts in it. The original cast of Every Man in his Humor was as follows, the names of the players being spelled as given by Ben Jonson in the 1616 edition of his works:

"Kno'well"	Will. Seakespeare.
"Braqueworm"	Aug. Phillipps.
"Cap. Bobadill"	Hen. Condell.
"Mr. Steven"	Will. Kempe.
"Kitely"	Ric. Burbadge.
"Downe-right"	Joh. Hemings.
"Just. Clement"	Tho. Pope.
"Mr. Matthew"	Will. Slye.
"Dame Kitely"	Chr. Beston.
"Tib."	Joh. Duke.

How the play was received on its first production—what interests us most to know at present—how the part of Kno'well was acted by Shakespeare, history sayeth not, and tradition is silent on the subject.—Alexander Cargill in Scribner.

Rabbits Can Stand Cold.

A learned professor of the Paris Academie des Sciences has been making experiments which have resulted in convincing him that the rabit is of all living things the most capable of withstanding a very low temperature. Inclosed all night in a block of ice, a rabbit was found next day getting on very comfortably, and evidently not aware of anything peculiar in his circumstances. In this regard the rabbit leaves far behind our faithful friend, the dog, though, according to the learned professor, sheep, goat and pigs take good second, third and fourth places.

Rescued His Own Son.

A policeman named Miller of Port Huron Mich., heard the cry of "A boy overboard!" while sauntering near a bridge there Monday. He saw the boy struggling in the water and immediately plunged in. To his surprise he discovered that he had rescued his own 5-year-old son, who had fallen off the bridge.

Luminous Plants.

Old Pennies.

In the yard of a Lynn (Mass.) resident is a bed of pennies 200 years old.

Behind the Scenes.

On the stage the tinsel, the glitter, the powder and the paint, show forth the most, but step behind the scenes, and you will behold the truth. The chorus girls are not all "fancy paints them," but rather what they paint themselves; just so with many of the flaming advertisements of so called "catarrh cures." Get back of the scenes, and they are not cures. The real one, and the only remedy that is a cure, is Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Lift the curtain and you will find the naked truth to be that this remedy is the one that cures the worst cases of catarrh in the head and no mistake. It is also a remedy in all catarrhal conditions, such as catarrhal headache, catarrh of the throat, ect. c

It is a Very Sad Thing

To see young and beautiful people die when they might just as well live and enjoy health and strength. Many who suffer with coughs, colds and lung troubles, leading to consumption, imagine there is no hope for them, when in reality there is every hope if Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is taken regularly. Spread the news everywhere that this great emulsion will make flesh and blood, cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, sore throats and lung troubles tending to consumption. In big bottles, 50c. and $1 at Peterborough drug stores. dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—168 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

PERFECTLY RESTORED!

"I intended to let you know results of treatment, but thought I'd best wait, and after five months I must say, that I am thoroughly satisfied that I was perfectly restored to health, both as regards physical and nervous vigor, and I may also say, that I am engaged at work for the last five months, which I never could have stood but for your treatment."

Three Times and Out.

For the third time, Mr. John Grady, baker, was fined in the police court this morning on a charge of allowing his horse to run at large. Mr. Grady claimed that the fence of his pasture field was deliberately torn down by some of his neighbors or their children, but there being no proof of this accusation, the defendant was fined $2 and costs, in all $5 90.

Less Than Quarter Cent a Mile.

Have you ever reckoned up what it costs to travel? In Canada 3c. per mile. In the States 2c. per mile, by rail, more by boat. In the face of such charges the workingman must stay at home, let alone the chance of taking his wife along. Sometimes his opportunity comes up such as the Court Little John Foresters excursion to Toronto, Niagara and Buffalo on the Civic Holiday. Think of it, over 140 miles to Buffalo and return for $2.25, less than one-quarter cent a mile; or to Niagara and return for $2, or Toronto and return for $1.75. These are surprisingly low rates and should be taken advantage of. Look at the posters, and buy your tickets at any of the above where they are on sale. Three days in which to do either trip. Come along and see a bit of the world outside your own township. 2629-1w32

A Dull Cheese Market.

Only Half the Board Sold—Adjourned for one Week.

At the regular meeting of the Cheese Board Tuesday 49 factories boarded 5,975 boxes of cheese, about half of which sold at 8¾ and 8 11-16c. Liverpool quotations were 44s. The following was the board:—

Keene	195	Ormond	250
Warminster	167	Brickley (all July)	143
Shearer	178	Laing	146
Central Smith	125	Fraserville	84
North Smith	200	Roseneath (July)	200
Cherry Grove	160	Boboaygeon	145
Warsaw	149	North Dummer	73
Westwood	236	Kirkfield	70
Oakdale	120	Lakeview	75
Missing Link	124	Tweed	60
Norwood	200	Beaufort	120
Melrose Abbey	107	Cedardale	55
Lakefield	120	Stony Lake	55
Pine Grove	160	Ida	45
Peterborough	119	Millbrook	95
Otonabee Union	54	Mount Pleasant	60
Maple Leaf	125	Fleetwood	70
Myrtle	56	Cambray	30
Fenelon Falls	124	Dunsford	84
Scotch Line	90	Reaboro	85
Downeyville	90	Minden	40
Lornesville	70	Spring Valley (all July)	250
Stanhope	70	Hope	125
Perry Town	75	Newtonville (all July)	100
Orono (all July)	100

Mr. Fitzgerald (for Mr. Hodgson) offered 8½c. for the board, Mr. Cook 8¾c. for selections, Mr. Dundas 8¾c. There was no advance on this offer and Mr. Dundas named Keene, Cherry Grove, Pine Grove and Peterborough, but they did not accept. In the Victoria section, however, Fenelon Falls, Cambray, Scotch Line, Lornesville, Reaboro, Downeyville and Dunsford sold at 8¾c. Mr. Cook at this same figure called Ormonde, Shearer, North Smith and Westwood, but these refused, and Mr. Cook did not go any further, but advanced a sixteenth in his offer and took Ormonde, Westwood, Cherry Grove, North Smith, Shearer, Norwood, Melrose Abbey, Pine Grove, Peterborough, Ida, Perry Town and Hope at 8 11/16, the only refusals being Keene and Warminster. Mr. Wrighton offered 8¾ for several factories and 8 9/16 for others, but none accepted.

This left twenty factories unsold, and it was decided that this cheese should be again offered at a meeting to be held next Tuesday, the next regular meeting to be held two weeks from next Tuesday.

"Scotty's" Success.

The Vancouver News Advertiser announces that Mr. G. C. Hodge has been appointed manager of the Westminister Telephone office in place of Mr. Chas. Tilley, resigned. The progress George is making on the Pacific slope will be pleasing to his many young friends here.

The Golden Eye.

The Hastings Star says.—Not much progress was made in raising the Golden Eye during the week. On Friday night an extra effort was made, the result being that the water in the hold was lowered about 15 inches, beyond which no further gain could be made. The deck is now six inches above water, amidship.

Sawdust in the Streams.

Inspector Gilchrist yesterday, before P.M. Edmison, charged Mr. Wm. Cox of Lakefield with an infraction of the Fisheries' Act. Mr. Cox runs the old Strickland mill at Lakefield, and it was alleged allowed sawdust to escape into the river. As it was shown that Mr. Cox was not wilfully negligent but rather the victim of carelessness on the part of his employes, a fine of only $10 was imposed.

A Runaway Marriage.

On Thursday afternoon a little exciting interest was evinced at Hastings, the Star says, by the arrival of a runaway couple. The pair hailed from the neighborhood of Brighton, and selecting the Coughlin house as their temporary resting place this register of that hostlery soon bore the names of "Mr. and Mrs. Blake Cheer, Brighton." The gentleman only for a few minutes anticipated the right to record "Mrs." as he without delay inquired the way to the nearest vendor of marriage licenses, and hurried to Mr. A. C. Huycke, where the document which insures entrance to the matrimonial portals was obtained. A clergyman was then sought for and the services of the Rev. Mr. Phillips brought into requisition, and in "less than no time" the now united pair returned to the hotel for supper as man and wife.

Hymeneal.

At three o'clock this afternoon the residence of Mr. Wm. Cowie, 219 Simcoe street, was the scene of an interesting social event—the marriage of his eldest daughter Ada, to Mr. A. E. Edmonds, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Locke. The bridesmaids, were Miss Ada Rae and Miss Eva Cowie, sister of the bride. The bridegroom was supported by his brother Mr. Andrew Edmonds. After the ceremony a sumptuous dejauner was served to the bridal company after which the happy couple embarked on the 5.45 C. P. R. express for a tour to Detroit and the west. The bride received ample evidence of the high respect and esteem in which she is held in town, in the large number of handsome presents of which she was the receipient, including an elegant combined dressing case and manicure set from the employees of the EXAMINER office, of whose bindery department Mr. Cowie is foreman. The many friends of both in this town and also of the groom will heartily congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Edmonds upon the happy auspices under which their domestic life has begun. On their return from their bridal tour they will take up residence in Toronto.

Exodus of Farm Labourers.

There is employment for everybody in the Northwest. A gentlemen from that province was in town to-day and stated that there never was a more bountiful harvest in all respects. There are only 18 000 farmers in Manitoba, and there are twenty-five million bushels to harvest. There is therefore abundant work for farm labourers. Before harvest they can earn $35 to $40 a month as farm labourers, and ordinary labourers can earn $1 50 per day working on railroads. When the harvest comes on, next week and following, the wages for farm labourers will be $2 00 per day, board and lodging included, equivalent to $15 per week or $60 per month. On Tuesday evening between five hundred and six hundred left Toronto for Winnipeg by special train, many being from the vicinity of Peterborough, and another train is to follow, especially low rates being given. In addition to these, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company advertise three special rate farmers' excursions, thus giving farmers who want to see the Northwest an opportunity of doing so. The first leaves Toronto on August 11 h, the second on the 18th, and the third on the 25th.

A Noted Canadian.

The congregation of St. John's will have the priviledge next Sunday of an introduction to young Canadian who by his intellectual gifts, untiring energy and broad sympathy has already earned distinction in Oxford the home of England's intellectual giants. Rev. John Carter was education in Toronto his native city, taking his University course at Trinity, graduating in 1882. Mr. Carter, having an ambitious turn, went on to Oxford where he took another three years course. During this time he was led to study and take an active interest in social problems in our junction with several kindred spirits, who finally formed themselves into a society for the study and propogation of what they called "Christian Socialism." After graduating with honors, Mr. Carter was ordained and went to work in the slums of East London where he put his principles to practical test in successful efforts to better the condition of the poor. After this experience Mr. Carter returned to Oxford having been offered a useful and responsible position. There he is still working, and he is now on a vacation visit to Canada. A clever correspondent of a Chicago paper lately spent some weeks in observing University life in Oxford, which he afterwards described. In this graphic relation the young Canadian philanthropist is thus referred to: "And there was Carter, stroke-oar of his college crew, and now stroke-oar of the younger thought of the University, a believer in to-day and still more in to-morrow, a democrat, every man's friend, special lover of the East End of London, willing to make a jack screw of himself and get under human misery if so the misery might be lifted up to comfort and virtue." He edits the Economic Review, engineers the Christian Social Union, pulls the slowness of backward-looking chin-stroking, collegiate meditation whenever he can get hold of it, into brisk regard of the problems of the life that now is, a man whose thought is all will—the Yankeish man in all Oxford." Mr Carter is coming here on a visit to a college friend, and will probably preach in St. John's on Sunday evening.

Christ's Words of Holy Cheer.

The following lines were suggested by a conversation with Sarah Cameron, daughter of Donald Cameron, sr., who departed this life and entered into rest July 11th, 1891, aged 27 years:

Let not your heart be troubled
By any doubt or fear,
But ever let your spirit
Be filled with holy cheer.

Let not your heart be troubled,
Nor let it be afraid,
My Spirit will be with you,
To comfort and to aid.

Let not your heart be troubled,
I'll come back to receive
You to Myself, if truly,
You on My name believe.

I only go a little
Before you to prepare,
A place for you in mansions,
Of heaven bright and fair.

My peace I give; peace also Shall fill your inmost soul
E'en when huge waves of trouble
Around your pathway roll.

This strength of holy calmness,
Hath many a soul sustained,
When peace amid life's conflicts,
O'er all serenely reign'd.

How many souls have strengthen'd
Been by these words when near
The vale of death, by making
It luminous appear.

Not long ago a lov'd one
Since childhood's years we'd known,
Upon this promise rested,
And claimed it as her own.

She said, "This is the chapter,
My mother long at rest,
Of all the precious Bible,
Esteem'd and priz'd the best."

"I know my loving Saviour
Will never me forsake,
But even to me, as mother,
This promise sure will make."

And those who through the anxious
And weary days did tend
The suffering one, knew Jesus
Was with her at the end.

His precious word fulfilling
While in His arms of love,
Her soul was borne forever
To dwell with Him above.

The Douro Pic-nic.

Heretofore the EXAMINER omitted to state that Miss Nora Phelan of Lakefield, realized the most money for the sale of tickets in connection with the Douro picnic.

Otonabee.

COUNCIL MEETING.—Meeting of Otonabee council, Keene, July 20th. Henry Coombe was heard regarding a ditch on 14th concession line opposite lot 19. On motion the Reeve and Councillors Nelson and Johnston were appointed to examine said ditch and to take what action they deem necessary. Cavan.

Death of an Old and Respected Resident.

The EXAMINER records with great regret the death of Captain John Dundas, which took place on Wednesday. The deceased gentleman was one of the oldest as he was one of the most highly respected residents of the township. He was a native of County Fermanagh, Ireland, and came to Canada with his parents when he was ten years of age—nearly 70 years ago. He settled with his father, Moses Dundas, in Cavan, where he had since resided, near Springville. He married Miss Birdwhistle nee Miss Meharry. He was a prominent man in the township and a leading member of the Methodist church. In 1866 he raised the Cavanville volunteer company of the 45th Battalion. His wife died some years since. In the death of Captain Dundas, Cavan loses one of its best and best known residents. The funeral takes place on Friday, August 7th, at one o'clock, from the family residence to the Cavanville Methodist cemetery.

Chemong Park Notes

FISHING.—One of the largest muskinonge captured this season was caught Tuesday night by Mr. John Montgomery. It was a splendid specimen of Chemong Lake's prolific fish, and weighed 16 pounds. Mr. Royall, the manager of the hotel, bought the fish and forwarded it by express to the sporting editor of the Empire. The previous evening Mr. Heron brought in two fine fish, weighing about 10 pounds each.

ROAD IMPROVEMENTS.—The township council of Smith met at the town hall, Bridgenorth. Among other business transacted was the letting of a contract for the improvement of the old road from the village leading to the new hotel. A liberal amount was ordered to be expended for the purpose, and when completed will improve the appearance of the hotel and add much to the comfort of the farming community and others travelling to and from Peterborough.

EXCURSION.—An excursion from Millbrook arrived at Chemong Park Tuesday morning about 10 o'clock. It was a joint excursion under the auspices of the Presbyterian and Episcopal churches, numbering about 300 persons. The day was very fine and warm; and enabled the excursionists to enjoy themselves on the lake and park without interruption. All were highly pleased with the park as a picnic resort. A carelessly dropped lighted cigar by one of excursionists set fire to some brushwood in the northern limits of the park and a brisk fire was threatened, but the active exertions of the park dwellers and excursionists nipped the con-fire in the bud.

Their Organ Out of Tune.

The Thirty Party has received a deathblow in the collapse of its official organ, the Nation. The World says:—"The Metropolitan Publishing Company of 12 and 14 Adelaide street west is about to wind up, the courts having instructed E. R. C. Clarkson to liquidate the estate. The concern is a joint stock company and was organized in the interests of the Third Party. In addition to running a general printing business the company published the Nation, the organ of the party till its demise in June last. The officers of the company are: William Bowman, president; Rev. Dr. Sutherland, vice-president, F. R. Dutton, secretary-treasurer. Capital stock was $25,000. A statement is being prepared."

Phonographic Concerts

Messrs. Robertson and Quain, representing Messrs. Holland Bros., Ottawa, are in town exhibiting the Edison Phonograph, with a view of disposing of these instruments for which Holland Bros. have the exclusive right in Canada. These gentlemen are introducing the phonograph into Western Ontario, and in the course of their tour have reached Peterborough where they are publicly exhibiting this wonderful, scientific and mechanical triumph at 416 George street. They will remain a few days, and those who wish to hear reproduced the finest of orchestral and band music, vocal music, clerical and comic, etc., which is comprised in the repertoire of one hundred selections. The phonograph reproduces exactly the tone of the instrument or voice played or sung into it. If Patti warbles an aria into the receiver of a phonograph, or Sankly sings, the phonograph repeats the exact tone or expression of what was originally sung into it. It is well worth hearing. Phonographic concerts are given continuously at 416 George street from 9 a.m. till 11 p.m.

"Oh, if I had only taken this medicine earlier in life, what years of suffering it would have saved me!" was the touching exclamation of one who had become cured of rheumatism by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Scores of such cases are on record.

News Nuggets.

—Attention is directed to the card of Miss Bradshaw in another column.

—There was the usual large crowd in the park last night and the band music was delightful.

—The peculiar enervating effect of summer weather is driven off by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which "makes the weak strong."

—A phonograph was exhibited at the Grand Central hotel last night, and it attracted a large number of listeners at a dime apiece.

—The rejuvenator of Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald to Mr. Councillor Kelly re the 13th of July Orangeman banquet matter will be found upon the second page of this issue.

Personal.

Miss J. Glover, now of Belleville, is home on a visit.

Rev. Father Cote, superintendent of Separate Schools, Hamilton, is in town for a visit.

Mrs. Chambers, of Montreal, is in Peterborough for a few weeks' holidays. Her many friends are pleased to see her back in town, and hope to have the pleasure of hearing her charming voice during her stay.

Mr. Geo. H. Hamm, an old newspaper man of Winnipeg, was in town yesterday and this morning. He will be remembered by many persons as the graphic correspondent of the Mail during the Northwest "unpleasantness" in 1885.

Amongst the passengers on the Stony lake local this morning were Mr. and Mrs. Geo A. Cox, and Mrs. Morrow, Messrs. W. W. Johnston, R. J. Colville, Geo. J. Ecrly, Mrs. A. E. Lech and Mrs. Ludgate, Mrs. T. W. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McIntyre, Mr. Hec. McIntyre and party.

Messrs. W. H. Meldrum, and E Peplow, of Peterborough, and Messrs. John Hall and D. McLean, Lakefield, attended the meeting of the Dominion Millers' Association in Toronto, a report of which is published in another column. Mr. Meldrum, as Vice-President, occupied the chair. Mr. Peplow was elected Vice-President for the ensuing year. Both gentlemen took a prominent part in the proceedings.

Married at Guelph.

The wedding of Mr. Andrew Mercer and Miss Mary Brodie was announced to take place this afternoon at the residence of the bride's father in Guelph, and by the time that this issue of the EXAMINER is laid before its readers the young couple will no doubt have become man and wife. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Mercer will warmly congratulate them upon the auspicious event. They will take a trip of about three weeks' duration through the New England States and Eastern Canada. Details of the wedding will be published to-morrow.

A Fraternal Fraud.

Our exchanges states that a fraud by the name of Watson, but with various aliases, is going round among the Oddfellows. His usual plan of operation is to claim that he is waiting for his mail, and ask to have a check cashed. He has claimed to be a member of Guiding Star lodge, New York, from which lodge he has been expelled. He is described as "about twenty-one years of age, sandy hair, tall, light complexion; at the time of leaving New York was clean shaven. Very plausible in conversation, apparently well up in the work; a smooth talker." Look out for him.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering hurting sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

BY-LAW No.

A By-law to Aid the Firm of Patterson & Corbin and to Exempt from Taxation Their Manufacturing Establishment.

WHEREAS, by the Act of the Province of Ontario passed in the Fifty-third year of Her Majesty's reign, Chapter 89, it is provided that it shall and may be lawful for the Corporation of the Town of Peterborough, by By-law to be passed under the Act passed in the Thirty-fifth year of Her Majesty's reign, Chapter 71, to aid the promotion of manufactures in the said last mentioned Act referred to, by assuming and paying the rent of any buildings or buildings, or acquiring any land or buildings and granting the same or the use thereof to any person or persons or body corporate for manufacturing purposes;

And, whereas, the firm of Patterson & Corbin propose to establish a manufactory of Electric and Horse Street Cars and Railway Cars in the Town of Peterborough, and it is desirable to aid the promotion of such manufactory by expending the sum of Six Thousand Dollars towards erecting a building or buildings and granting the use thereof to the said firm, and also to exempt the said manufacturing establishment from taxation for ten years, as hereinafter provided in accordance with the said Acts and other Acts in that behalf;

And, whereas, it is necessary and expedient to borrow the sum of Six Thousand Dollars, being the amount of the estimated cost of the said buildings, and for that purpose to issue Debentures of the said Corporation for the said sum of Six Thousand Dollars, to bear interest at the rate of four and a quarter per cent. per annum, and to be payable in thirty years from the date of the issue thereof;

And whereas the amount of the whole rateable property of the Town of Peterborough, according to the last Revised Assessment Roll, being, for the year One Thousand Eight Hundred and Ninety, is the sum of Four Millions, Sixty-five Thousand, Three Hundred and Fifteen Dollars;

And, whereas, the amount of the existing Debenture debt of the Town of Peterborough is the sum of Two Hundred and Fifty-four Thousand, Five Hundred and Fifty Dollars, and there is no part of the principal or interest in arrears:

And whereas the amount required to be raised annually for paying the said Debentures and interest thereon is the sum of Two Hundred and Fifty-five Dollars for interest, and the sum of Sixty Dollars for a sinking fund for payment of the principal;

The Corporation of the Town of Peterborough by the Council thereof therefore enacts as follows:—

1. This Bylaw shall take effect on the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and ninety one.

2. It shall and may be lawful for the Mayor and Treasurer of the said Corporation and they are hereby authorized to borrow the sum of six thousand dollars, and for that purpose to issue debentures of the said Corporation for the said sum of six thousand dollars, such debentures to be for sums of not less than one hundred dollars each, and to be sealed with the corporate seal and to be signed by the Mayor and countersigned by the Treasurer of said Corporation and by the Secretary of the Commissioners of the Peterborough Town Trust, to be made payable at the office of the Treasurer of said Corporation in thirty years from the date of issue thereof, and to bear interest at the rate of four and a quarter per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, on the thirtieth day of June and the thirty first day of December in each year, and to have coupons attached thereto for the payment of such interest.

3. There shall be raised and levied in each year during the currency of such debentures the sum of two hundred and fifty five dollars for payment of interest thereon and the sum of sixty dollars for a sinking fund for payment of the principal by a special rate sufficient therefor upon all the rateable property in the municipality.

4. Upon the sale of said debentures the moneys received therefor shall be applied in or towards the erection of a building or buildings for the purpose of the manufactory hereinbefore set out or referred to, and the use of such building or buildings shall be granted to the said firm of Patterson & Corbin, their executors, administrators and assigns, at the annual rental of one dollar per year, if demanded, and taxes, but the same shall be granted upon and only upon the conditions following, that is to say

(a) That the said firm, their executors, administrators or assigns, shall forthwith commence and thereafter continuously carry on the manufacture therein of electric or horse street cars or rail way cars.

(b) That in each year while so carrying on said manufactory the said firm their executors, administrators or assigns, shall pay on the average at least three hundred dollars a week for the wages of workmen employed therein.

(c) That a member of said firm, their executors, administrators or assigns, or the President or Treasurer of the Company, if any, that may hereafter represent said firm, shall in each year on or before the Thirty-first day of December make a statutory declaration and file the same with the Town Clerk, setting out the wages paid each week during said year.

(d) That upon any failure of the said firm, their executors, administrators or assigns, for one year to carry on such manufacture, or upon any failure of said firm, their executors, administrators or assigns, for two consecutive years to pay on the average for each of such years the sum of three hundred dollars a week for the wages of workmen employed in such manufactory, the said firm shall cease to be entitled to the use of such buildings, and the land occupied by them, and shall forthwith give up possession of the same, and the same shall revert to the said Corporation and the said Corporation shall be entitled to take possession thereof.

(e) That the said firm, their executors, administrators or assigns, shall and will forthwith after the erection thereof insure and keep insured against loss or damage by fire in such proportion upon each building as may be required by the said Corporation, the buildings to be erected as aforesaid, in the sum of Six Thousand Dollars of lawful money of Canada at the least, provided the insurable value of such buildings shall be as much as said sum of Six Thousand Dollars, but if less than said sum, then for the amount of their full insurable value, in the Insurance Office or Company to be approved of by the Corporation, and pay all premiums and sums of money necessary for such purpose as the same shall become due, the policy or policies therefor to be made payable to the said Corporation, and all insurance moneys to be received in case of loss either by the said Corporation or by the said firm, their executors, administrators or assigns shall forthwith be expended in the erection of new buildings, which new buildings shall stand and be in the place and stead of the buildings destroyed, and all the provisions and conditions of this bylaw shall apply to such new buildings.

(f) That the said firm, their executors, administrators and assigns, shall keep the said buildings in good repair.

(g) That this bylaw shall not have any force or effect until the said firm of Patterson & Corbin shall give to the said Corporation of the Town of Peterborough security to the extent of six thousand dollars, as liquidated damages, to be approved of by said corporation to carry out the provisions of this bylaw on their part.

5. The manufacturing establishment of the said firm of Patterson & Corbin, their executors administrators or assigns hereinbefore referred to, shall be exempt from taxation for the period of ten years from the first day of January next.

6. The votes of the duly qualified electors of the said municipality shall be taken upon the said bylaw on the commencing at the hour of nine o'clock in the forenoon and closing at the hour of five o'clock in the afternoon of the said day, at the following places and before the following Deputy Returning officers:

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his sufferings against were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were eased, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in two weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

THOMAS CONTRADICTS THE EVIDENCE OF HIS BROTHER ROBERT.

Mr. Fitzpatrick Examines the Member for Quebec Centre—He Says He is not a Boodler—What He Knows About Tenders and Contracts.

OTTAWA, Aug. 6.—At the Privileges and Elections committee meeting yesterday, Thomas McGreevy was the first witness. His appearance on the stand caused a keen of expectation throughout the committee room. He was examined by Mr. Fitzpatrick, who asked him if he took an active part in the management of the Conservative party in Quebec district and was a contractor in a small way. He replied that he was. He trusted his brother in everything and his brother managed his business and political relations. His first difficulty arose out of a statement that Robert of the Richelieu Navigation Company. When Michael told him this he replied that Robert had no funds to invest, and Connolly said he is drawing a [illegible] from Larkin, Connolly & Co. Robert's indebtedness to the Union Bank resulted in a suit against Robert by the bank. It was on a note endorsed by witness, and Robert sued witness as the warranty. Mr. Murphy settled the matter. When witness became a member of the Quebec Harbor Commission in 1879, Larkin, Connolly & Co. had the contract for the Levis graving dock. Murphy was always hanging about the doors of the Board room when the meetings of the Board were going on.

WANTED TO BECOME A DIRECTOR

Asked as to the tenders of the dredging of the Louise basin in 1882, he said the tenders were rejected because the harbor master wanted provision for deeper dredging.

THE LOWEST AVAILABLE TENDER

of the second set of tenders was Frederic & Miller, and he knew they had no means to carry out that contract at the Board. He moved a motion to give the contract to Frederic & Miller if they put up ten thousand dollars security. They failed to do it. Acworth was the next highest tender and he got the contract was offered to him. He was the highest were Larkin, Connolly & Co. who got the contract.

Mr. Fitzpatrick produced a letter dated July 31, 1882, from Sir Hector Langevin asking why the contract was not awarded to the lowest tenderer, and if the tender accepted in collusion with the successful applicant. In reply the commissioners informed Sir Hector that the contract had been awarded.

WITHOUT FAVOR TO LARKIN & CO.

Witness denied positively giving Murphy information as to the intended re-advertising of tenders and a hint as to what Larkin & Co. should take. THURSDAY, AUGUST 6, 1891.

A Striking Corroboration.

It has all along been felt that the report of Messrs Jennings and Macdougall, the Toronto engineers appointed by the Privileges Committee to report upon the Cross-wall tenders, would furnish a supreme test of Murphy's credibility as a witness. Their report was submitted yesterday and Murphy is borne out in a striking manner.

The Cross-wall affair was probably the most unique fraud of [illegible] lot. Murphy [illegible] some time before tenders were called for in 1882 he and his associates, who were then carrying out other Government contracts at Quebec, got wind of the intention of the department to advertise for them. They began by securing the removal of Kinnipie and Morris the old engineers, and the substitution of Perley and the late Mr. Boyd. This was effected chiefly by Uncle Thomas, then and for long afterwards a partner in the firm in everything but name. In response to the advertisement they forwarded three sets of tenders to Ottawa. One set was in the name of Gallagher, their foreman; another in that of George Beaucage, a bona fide contractor who alleges in an action at law which he has brought against that person that he was deceived all through by Uncle Thomas; and the third in the name of Larkin, Connolly & Co. The tenders were simply for prices for various kinds of work connected with the enterprise, the department supplying plans and specifications on which they were based. According to Murphy the firm purposely made errors in all three of the tenders. This was done to give Uncle Thomas and the department an opportunity of practising the usual hugger-mugger and throwing the contract into other hands. Uncle Thomas obtained information for them from the department as to the prices of the other tenderers, who were two in number, Peters & Moore and the Samsons. He wrote to Murphy from Ottawa and frequently went down to Quebec and communicated verbally. He showed Murphy the prices of Peters and the Samsons, and it was clear to both that when the quantities came to be applied to the prices or the prices to the quantities and the totals extended, Peters would be found lower than Larkin & Co. Murphy at first thought of trying to buy off Peters with $10,000, but "there came a letter of instruction to me not to go near Peters." This was from Uncle Thomas. Murphy thereupon offered Uncle Thomas $25,000 if he would secure the work for Larkin & Co., and that worthy set about earning the reward in his own peculiar fashion. They all came to the conclusion from the prices surreptitiously obtained that when the totals were figured out the tenders would stand in this order:

1—Gallagher's. Lowest of all.
2—Beaucage's.
3—Peters and Moore's.
4—Larkin & Co's.
5—Samson's.

Their object, therefore, was to get rid of the three first-named tenders. The department in due course wrote to Gallagher, Beaucage and Larkin & Co. that they must have made a mistake in their figures for sheet piling—that they had offered a price per lineal foot of pile instead of per lineal foot of work. This was what the manipulators had looked for, when, as Murphy says, they made all these tenders "evasive" and "wrong on purpose." In reply they withdrew the Gallagher tender, although Murphy said it was the fairest one of the three, and induced Sir Hector to return the cheque for $7,500 accompanying it. They then altered the piling prices in the Beaucage tender "from cents to dollars so as to put it higher than that of Larkin & Co. With respect to the Larkin & Co. tender they wrote to the department gravely admitting that they had made an error in the piling figures, but adding with a flourish that nevertheless they were prepared to adhere to the tender if the contract were awarded to them. The rascals knew by experience that provided they got the job they and Uncle Thomas could evolve a handsome profit from it no matter whether their price was high or low. The Gallagher and Beaucage tenders have been disposed of in this fashion, the only lion remaining in the path was the tender of Peters & Moore. All the while the tenders lay in the department at Ottawa Uncle Thomas worked like a Trojan for his money. "The Crosswall tenders," he wrote in one letter, "only arrived here yesterday and are locked up till Monday when he will commence his calculations. I will write you Tuesday and let you know the result." In another letter he says:—"I hope to let you know to-morrow about the result of the Cross wall tenders." In a third he said:—"As I told you yesterday try and get a good plan and as quickly as possible in answer to the letter that Gallagher and Beaucage will receive about their tenders to bring them over Larkin & Connolly so as their tender will be the lowest. The contract will be awarded from Ottawa direct," instead of through the harbor commissioners; and so on. In the end the department awarded the work to Larkin & Co. "We were over Peters as the information came to us" says Murphy, yet they got the job. Uncle Thomas subsequently explained to Murphy that the Peters tender had been "figured above" theirs by the department. Murphy has described this process. In applying the quantities to the prices the department, he says, inflated the quantities where Peters' price was higher than Larkin's, whilst in the cases where Larkin's price was higher than Peter's price the department deliberately reduced the quantities which its own engineers had prepared; and so made it appear that the Larkin tender was on the whole the lower of the two by $9,000 the totals being given as follows:—Larkin & Co. $644,340, Peters & Moore $643,071. The amount actually received by Larkin & Co. for the work when all the extras were in was $832,000.

Murphy's account of this transaction astonished both the Liberals and the Tories on the committee, for it was hard to believe that the department could have lent itself to such an audacious swindle. Yet, as already said, the report of the experts bears out all that he alleged. Owing to a variety of causes the report is imperfect to some extent, but the fact that the Peters tender was lower than that of Larkin & Co., and that Peters was jockeyed out of the work by the department is placed beyond any reasonable doubt. Larkin & Co. got the contract on May 26, 1883. On June 4, 1883, they contributed $1,000 to the first Langevin testimonial, and afterwards supplied his reptile fund with a handsome percentage of their stealings from this and other Government works. It may be that Sir Hector will swear that he was entirely ignorant of the scoundrelism practised by Uncle Thomas and by his subordinate officials. But the more completely he establishes his innocence of any moral dereliction the more completely will he demonstrate his incapacity to preside over such a department.—Globe.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Miss Lena Weeks has gone on a short visit to her friends in Muskoka, previous to her departure for N. Dakota. Master Ross Best purposes leaving on Wednesday of this week for the same state, and whil meet Miss Weeks at Burke's Falls. We congratulate Ross on his recent educational success and wish him continued prosperity in Uncle Sam's land.

Mrs. George Ewing returned to Toronto on Friday last after an extended visit to her father in-law's.

Some of our young men are organizing an orchestra; they have purchased instruments and begun practice. We anticipate an outpouring of the mellifluous at no far distant time and wish the performers success.

Miss Nellie McLean has resumed her old position after a good vacation spent in Peterborough.

The Patrons of Industry have purchased about $150 worth of binder, twine and claim to have got it at the right prices. They are apparently in a flourishing condition as a society.

Mr. William Leagh, of Ida, who was recovering so nicely from his recent injuries, we are sorry to say, has been attacked with pleurisy and is at present not in a very favorable condition although his medical adviser apprehends no serious results.

Messrs. J. B. Hayes and wife, and T. Walter McLean were holidaying in Bobcaygeon last week. They were joined by J. A. McLean and J. McMillan of Toronto, and all claim to have spent a most enjoyable time.

Miss Ida Maidis is entertaining a lady friend from Toronto.

The council has apportioned our village some plank and we expect to have our sidewalks modernized.

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. d

Sufferers

FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.

Dr. T. E. Hastings, of Baltimore, says: "Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of my profession."

Dr. John W. Brown, of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills."—G. S. Wanderlich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P. Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—C. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hore, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig. June 27th, 1891.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

A Welcome Announcement.

The first dose will convince you of its excellent effect. All druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a bottle. dw

Since Childhood's Day.

"I have been bothered with neuralgic pains in the head and face since childhood and have tried all possible remedies. A friend persuaded me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after having used it I obtained instant relief, and thoroughly recommended B.B.B."—Jas Inglis, Bredenbury, Assa. dw

What is a Gentleman"

What is a gentleman? Is it a thing,
Decked with a scarf-pin, a chain and a ring,
Dressed in a suit of immaculate style,
Sporting an eyeglass, a lisp and a smile;
Talking of races and concerts and balls,
Evening assemblies and afternoon calls,
Calming himself "at home" and bazaars,
Whistling mazourkas and smoking cigars?

What is a gentleman? Say, is it one
Boasting of conquests and deeds he has done?
One who unblushingly glories to speak
Things which should call up a flush to his cheek?
One, who, while railing at actions unjust,
Robs some young heart of its pureness and trust?
Scorns to steal money or jewels or wealth,
Thinks it no harm to take hone by stealth?

What is a gentleman? Is it not one
Knowing instinctively what he should shun,
Speaking no word that could injure or pain,
Spreading no scandal and de'ying no stain
On one who knows how to put each at his ease,
Striving successfully always to please
One who can tell, by a glance at your cheek
When to be silent and when he should speak?

What is a gentleman? Is it not one
Honestly eating the bread he has won
Walking in uprightness, fearing his God,
Leaving no stain on the path he has trod,
Caring not whether his coat may be cold,
Prizing sincerity far above gold?
Reckoning not whether his hands may be hard—
Stretching it boldly to grasp its reward?

What is a gentleman? Say, is it birth
Makes a man noble or adds to his worth?
Is there a family tree to be had
Shady enough to conceal what is bad?
Seek out the man who has God for his guide,
Nothing to tremble at, nothing to hide.
Be he a noble or be he in trade,
He is a gentleman Nature has made.

BELFAST'S BEAUTIFUL TRIPLETS.

Two Very Bright Boys and a Sweet Little Girl.

Just beyond Primrose Hill, in the suburbs of Belfast, overlooking the Penobscot River and Bay, is the comfortable cottage home of Mr. Harvey S. Cunningham. It was here that a reporter made the acquaintance of the three beautiful children whose innocent little faces look out from the picture herewith.

THE TRIPLETS.

They are more interesting than ordinary babies from the fact that they came into the world together. They are almost two years old, and are as healthy and playful as three little kittens.

The one on the left in the picture is Roy Elijah, the baby in the middle is Ralph Harvey, while on the right, and perhaps the sweetest one of the three, is Rena Elsie.

They were born Sept. 29, 1889. At birth Roy weighed 8¾ pounds, while Ralph and Rena each weighed just 5 pounds. Now Roy weighs 21, Ralph 23 and Rena 21 pounds. All three have sparkling black eyes and very light brown hair, Ralph's being curly. His roguish little face is almost hidden by the profusion of ringlets.

The photograph was taken when they were about six months old, and lovers of babies can easily imagine how much prettier and more interesting they are now toddling about, playing among the daisies and buttercups and sweet clover blossoms in the orchard near the house.

Their mother thinks there is a wonderful sympathetic bond between them, for they cry, laugh and do almost everything in concert. They have a baby carriage with as many seats as babies, and when the weather is fine the nurse or mother wheels them to the city, where they always become a centre of attraction.

"We have one good cow," said Mrs. Cunningham, "but if the little ones continue to grow as rapidly as they have for the past few months we shall be obliged to get another to supply their constantly increasing appetites."

There is one other child in the family, a boy, who was about four years old when the triplets came. On being taken in to see the babies the doctor had brought, this big brother began to cry bitterly and asked if that were all there were of them.

A Heavy Failure in Brantford.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 5. Thomas McLean, the well known dry-goods merchant, has assigned to Townsend & Stephens. According to a statement issued in June last the liabilities are $21,000 and assets $33,000. Mr. McLean has been trying for some time to fight off the inevitable. About 18 months ago he obtained an extension from his creditors, spread over 18 payments. When he came to making the 12th payment he struck a snag and could go no further. The creditors again came to the rescue and agreed to extend the payment of the balance over another 12 months. But even this has not prevented him sinking still further into insolvency. S. F. McKinnon & Co., Toronto, and Stewart & Macdonald of Glasgow, are the chief creditors.

A Watery Grave.

LA CADIE, Aug. 5. Hattie and Lillie, aged 13 and 2 years, children of Joseph Dumas, were drowned yesterday. Alex. Dumas, brother of the girls, who is home on his vacation, had taken them for a drive and drove on the dock at the lake. The horse became restive and backed so far that one of the wheels went down, causing the children to fall into the water. Young Dumas hurried for help, but when the bodies were recovered life was extinct.

Burned to the Waters' Edge.

PORT DOVER, Aug. 5.—At 1.30 yesterday the large pleasure steamer W. M. Anderson was discovered to be in flames. The vessel was cut loose from her moorings to drift out into the bay to prevent the destruction of other vessel property, the docks and light house. The hull, containing the engine and boiler, now lies in about four feet of water.

Crazed with Grief He Commits Suicide.

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—Mr. F. S. Schwabe, a wealthy iron founder of Manchester, England, shot himself dead in his room at the Windsor Hotel yesterday. He had been crazed by grief over the death of his wife, which occurred a year ago. He was on a trip round the world to recruit his health.

Sophie Bandcock's Murder.

TORONTO, Aug. 5. Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Bandcock appeared at the police court, after a week's imprisonment. Their demeanor was as usual; Mrs. Bandcock weary and sad and Mr. Bandcock jaunty and indifferent. Neither side was ready to go on and the case was enlarged till to-day.

THE ROUGE RIVER VICTIM.

The Facts Tend to Show That Werner Committed Suicide While Despondent.

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—The government detective has concluded his investigation into the circumstances attendant upon the death of Werner, whose dead body was discovered floating in the Rouge river last week. The manner of Werner's death, owing to the time which has elapsed since his career was so summarily closed, will probably never be accurately determined. Despite the peculiar features of the case, including the fact that the man was shot before entering the water, the probability is that Werner met death at his own hands. He had not enjoyed the roses and lilies of life to any appreciable extent, and as he pondered over the apparently hopeless future (he was without work) he determined to end all with a bullet. If his death be due to suicide, he must have seated himself upon the bridge and pulled the fatal trigger there. At least this is the opinion of the government official detailed to make the investigation.

Ontario College of Pharmacy.

TORONTO, Aug. 5. The first meeting of the 12th semi annual session of the Ontario College of Pharmacy was held yesterday afternoon.

The following members were present: President, John A. Clark, Hamilton; vice-president, John J. Hall, Woodstock; John McKee, Peterboro; L. A. Lawrence, London; J. H. Mackenzie, Toronto; J. W. Slaven, Orillia; N. C. Polson, Kingston; A. B. Petrie, Guelph; C. D. Daniels, Toronto; F. Jordon, Goderich; and Angus Buchanan, Kemptville.

The first business was the election of officers. John J. Hall, Hamilton, was elected president. Two members, N. C. Polson and F. Jordan disclaimed the election and voted under protest. J. W. Slaven was chosen vice president and J. T. Lewis registrar-treasurer.

The council received and adopted the following report from the committee which was appointed to strike standing committees.

Executive Finance—Messrs. Slaven, Mackenzie, Petrie, Lawrence and McKee.

Education Committee—Mackenzie, Clark, Buchanan, McKee and Lawrence.

Bylaws and Legislation: Messrs. Petrie, Daniels, Jordan, Clark and D'Avignou.

Infringent Committee: Messrs. Daniels, Polson, Jordan, Buchanan and McGregor.

The auditor's report was read and referred to the Finance Committee for inspection.

Sir J. E. Gorst Parliamentary Secretary for the India Office, presented the annual India Budget statement in the House of Commons last evening. He called attention to the continued extraordinary growth of the surplus, which for 1891 he estimated as nearly double that of 1890. This growth was mainly due, he said, to the alteration in exchange consequent on the sudden inflation of rupee by American legislation. He announced a large increase in the revenue from opium and a steady increase in the land revenue.

To Be Arrested for Bigamy.

LONDON, Aug. 5. A scandal of a very serious nature is impending over the Bath party. The arrest of one of the leading anti-Parnellite M. P.'s for bigamy is written. The proceedings. If the story is true, he has married a second time, his first wife being alive and undivorced. He may have a valid defence to a criminal charge in the circumstance that he believed her dead, but even then the case of marriage at present is worthless. It is said that the story will be telegraphed on the two continents, and that the M. P. involved will have to return to private life.

Blood Will Tell.

Of course it will—that is if it is good, healthy blood. It will glow in the cheek, and tell the story of perfect physical health. If it does not, if the complexion is devoid of colour, the muscles weak and flaccid, something is wrong, and something ought to be done about it at once, for in such cases delays are dangerous. For torpid liver, biliousness and the thousand and one ills to which these conditions of the system lead, there is no remedy in the world equal to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Boils, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous sores, salt-rheum, and all kindred diseases are cured by it. n

It is a Very Sad Thing

To see young and beautiful people die when they might just as well live and enjoy health and strength. Many who suffer with coughs, colds and lung troubles, leading to consumption, imagine there is no hope for them, when in reality there is every hope if Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is taken regularly. Spread the news everywhere that this great emulsion will make flesh and blood, cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, sore throats and lung troubles tending to consumption. In big bottles, 50c. and $1 at Peterboro'h drug stores. dw

Consult Your neighbors.

Any one may find out just what Burdock Blood Bitters is and does by asking a neighbor who has tried it. It rarely fails in making a complete cure of dyspepsia, constipation, sick headache, biliousness and diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. dw

To get relief from indigestion, biliousness, constipation or torpid liver without disturbing the stomach or purging the bowels, take a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills, they will please you. dw

Baby was Sick.

"My baby was very sick with diarrhœa and after everything else had failed I tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; the first dose gave relief and a perfect cure soon resulted." — Mrs. John Clark, Bloomfield, Ont. dw

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Can Not Compete

Miss Maud Grant, of Mountair, Ont., writes, "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaints and diarrhœa. There is nothing to compete with it as it succeeds even in the severest cases." dw

Self Application of Electricity
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE
DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.
HEAD OFFICE—[illegible] St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASES, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.
Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.
Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and mets with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.
Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

Insulting Ladies on the Streets.

It is very much to be regretted that ladies abroad in the streets at night unattended have been subjected to insult. Still there is consolation and compensation. Every lady has a great privilege, which is available to ladies of no other town in Canada—that of buying hawley bros.' matchless teas.

Lady Macdonald as an Author.

Just before her bereavement, Lady Macdonald, widow of the late Sir John Macdonald, completed her first ambitious literary effort in a series of articles for The Ladies' Home Journal, the first one of which will appear in the August number of that periodical. Last summer Lady Macdonald with a party of friends, traveled in her private car through the most picturesque part of Canada, and in a delightfully fresh manner she describes her experiences on this trip, in those articles to which she has given the title of "An Unconventional Holiday." A series of beautiful illustrations, furnished by Lady Macdonald, will accompany the articles.

A Painful Accident.

Mr. Mark Spencely met with a painful accident. He was teaming on a contract of Mr. James Telford, yesterday, and at noon was making some repairs to his wagon. He was trying to drive a screw nail with a hammer when the head of the screw was broken off and struck his eye with great force producing an injury that may deprive the unfortunate man of the sight of his eye. Dr. Yelland upon seeing his injuries, advised him to go under Dr. Reeve's care at the Toronto General Hospital where the special nursing and attention demanded by such cases could be given. The patient went to Toronto last evening on the 5.45 C.P.R. express. What adds doubly to the misfortune is the fact that it was Mr. Spencely's only remaining sound eye that was injured, the other having been lost by accident several years ago.

The Result of Night Prowling.

In the police court this morning the "two brothers" appeared in their grand double clog before Mr. Young, J. P. This performance was a continuation of the thrilling contortion act in which they were interrupted last night by P. C. McGinty. It seems that shortly after eleven o'clock four or five young men while under the influence of liquor went into Pratt's restaurant and began using foul and abusive language, and making themselves obnoxious to the proprietor. He called in P. C. McGinty, who ordered the young men to get home to their beds, where they ought to have been long ago, but one of them cut up rough and fell on the officer, who promptly inculcated the majesty of the law by handing one off order in. This morning the young men, who for various reasons shall be nameless here, and also her young man of the same name but not a brother were fined $2 each. It is hoped the lesson will be taken to heart and that the young men concerned will show better behavior in future.

A Beautiful Mirage at Chemong Park.

Another Attraction for this Delightful Watering Place.

It is not extravagant for the admirers of Chemong Park to regard it as a terrestrial paradise, but it seems it is now entitled to advance its claims of attractiveness into the celestial region. A rare celestial phenomenon was seen from the park last night. About 8 o'clock, while glowed the evening sky with the last steps of departing day, upon the suffused and cloudless expanse of it lay screen a black shadow appeared. This object in a clear sky attracted attention, and closer observation showed that it was one of those interesting objects, a mirage. As the picture developed it was seen to represent a large steamer with the black cloud of smoke pouring from its funnels. Every part of the ship, its rigging and equipments, were distinctly visible. The park dwellers assembled at the pavilion and admired the beautiful spectacle of a steamer serenely steaming amongst islands with a bark under full sail, included in the picture. Mr. Joseph English, who has often seen mirages at sea, especially in the vicinity of the equator, was the first to notice the mirage. I was a very pretty and interesting sight. Chemong Park claims credit for mighty many things, and now it can mumble the fabulous gana in its list of astronomy. Not to mention a find of mineral springs in its vicinity, which prominently taken with existing actualities, will tend to make our lakeside suburb beat Ramsay over has favoured summer spots.

A Royal City Wedding.

The Mercer Brodie Nuptials at Guelph.

As the EXAMINER stated yesterday, the marriage of Mr. Andrew Mercer and Miss Mary Brodie took place at Guelph Wednesday afternoon. The ceremony was conducted at the residence of the bride's father by Rev. Mr. Smith, Presbyterian minister at that place, at half past four o'clock in the afternoon, in the presence of a considerable company of the relatives and friends of the contracting couple. The bride looked charming in a dress of pure white. The bridesmaids were Miss Etta Brodie, sister of the bride, who wore pale blue; Miss Lizzie Mercer, of Peterborough, attired in gray Bengaline; and little Margie Brodie, niece of the bride. The groomsmen were Messrs. Frank Mercer, of Peterborough, and J. D. Laidlaw, of Hamilton. At the conclusion of the ceremony there was, of course, the usual wedding breakfast, and at seven o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Mercer left for an extended tour through the Northern States and Eastern Canada. They will return to Peterborough in about three weeks and take up residence in the Cox terrace on Rubidge street.

Few persons in town but are more or less acquainted with both the bride and groom. Mr. Mercer is a prominent young business man of Peterborough and popular among his host of friends. His bride lived here until a few years ago, and is known as a young lady of many accomplishments and attractive personal appearance. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mercer were as handsome a couple as it is often clergyman's privilege to marry, and their many friends in Peterborough and the whole province will tender the young people their warmest congratulations upon the happy event. The gifts to the bride, numerous as they were elegant and costly, gave practical evidence of the high regard in which she and her husband are held. Among the presents were two large beautiful chairs, one a rocker and the other an easy chair, from the staff of Mr. Mercer's tailoring establishment here.

"Oh, if I had only taken this medicine earlier in life, what years of suffering it would have saved me!" was the touching exclamation of one who had become cured of rheumatism by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Scores of such cases are on record.

Lower Rate of Taxation.

The rate of taxation in Campbellford has been lowered from 20 to 15 mills. The assessment is greatly in advance of that of last year, and the amount to be realized from it has been placed at $12,256 70. This will be about $2,000 more than will be required to meet current liabilities this year, and the surplus will be applied towards clearing off our present indebtedness.—Herald.

Cricket and Baseball

Monday next will be a big day in sporting circles. At 9.30 a.m. a cricket match between Peterborough and Campbellford will be begun, and play will be continued till 3 p.m., when the visitors will have to leave to catch the train. Immediately following the cricket match a game of baseball will take place between the Cygnets of Toronto and the Peterborough nine. An admission fee will be charged to both of these games.

They all Admit

There is no room for argument here because they have all admitted that the C. M. B. Purity that is not Pure.

The fallacy of "clearness" as a test of water purity is well shown, by Mayor Powell, director of the U.S. geological survey. He is protesting against a proposal to pipe water to the executive mansion at Washington from a "clear" spring, which he says is presumably polluted with the sewage from vaults and cesspools. He adds:—"By a long series of experiments undertaken with a view of determining economic methods of precipitating, and thus removing the finely divided clay contained in the waters supplied to cities, it was found that there were many different mineral substances, each of which would cause the precipitation of the clay added to the water in small amounts, clarifying in appearance the water, but the most powerful precipitant—the one which produced the result by the smallest addition—was sewage. From the point of view of the Sanitarian the limpid purity of the spring and well is a specious quality.

A Hamilton Romance

Mrs. Fawkes' Death Caused by an Overdose of Chloral.

HAMILTON, Aug. 5.—It has just transpired that Mrs. Elizabeth Kane Fawkes, who passed away on July 28, died from an overdose of chloral self-administered.

Her life was a remarkable one. She was born in England 60 years ago, and came to Canada with her parents, leaving behind her William Alford, an old sweetheart. After years of separation Alford married a former school mate of hers, and she became the wife of a rich mill owner struggled named Fawkes and took up residence. For twenty years after this Mrs. Fawkes kept house for her brother, Justin Skinner, the King street jeweler. Three years ago Mrs Fawkes received a communication from Alford. His wife had died and he now proposed marriage to the companion of his youth. She consented. His offer to be the work of Providence and accepted it. They corresponded for a time and two years were married in Liverpool. Three days after the wedding Mrs Alford was being taken home. She was sent to an asylum and remained there until April 1, when her mind had nearly recovered its balance. Thinking a trip to Canada would complete the cure, Alford took passage and arrived at John Skinner's residence, King street west, during the last week of April. Realization of reason brought to Mrs. Alford and she never ceased to bemoan herself for blighting her husband's life by marrying him. She no longer considered that the marriage had been directed by divine will and expressed herself as sorry that her friends had not prevented it. This so oppressed her that she became a victim of insomnia and found it necessary to the opiates. A friend returned to England three weeks ago, as his presence was painful to her. On Sunday week Mrs. Alford took a treble dose of a compound made up from an English prescription and went off immediately into a deep sleep from which she never awakened.

On the 28th inst. in compliance with her own request, the name of Elizabeth Kane Fawkes was engraved, and thus in death she sought to remove the injury she had done to her old sweetheart by assuming her first husband's name.

Fifty Saw Him Tortured.

Henry Bartels Shocked to Death by Five Hundred Volts.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Another victim has been claimed by the deadly electric current. In this instance a new horror and a new danger was made manifest last night, when Bartender Henry Bartels was instantly killed by the fatal fluid, which escaped from a small motor that runs some electric fans. The accident occurred in the saloon of Henry Feldstein, at the corner of Grand and Forsyth streets.

Bartels was reaching over the bar to get a cigar-box. Witnesses to his horrible death say he had one hand on a part of the motor and the other on the automatic cut-off switch attached to the metal bar. He was standing on a mat of iron netting that is always soaked with water, and this, in the language of electricians, would give him a ground connection. A crash was heard of breaking glass, and poor Bartels was seen clinging to the motor, writhing in agony, and going through all the horrible tortures of death by electricity.

A groan escaped from his lips, the muscles were seen to contract, his features were contorted with pain, a shudder ran through his frame and then he dropped to the floor behind the bar. Bartels was left where he was. Everybody was afraid to touch him. Fifty or 60 customers were in the saloon, and this crowd, augmented by others from the street, flocked around the bar and peered over at the prostrate form on the iron mat. Some one had presence of mind to run for a doctor, and seven minutes after the accident Dr. J. F. Richardson arrived and pronounced the man dead.

The distention of the stomach which many people feel after eating, may be due to improper mastication of the food; but in most cases it indicates a weakness of the digestive organs, the best remedy for which is one of Ayer's Pills, to be taken after dinner.

The value of the silver cups is $850, the cash prizes $3267, making a total of $4117 in prizes. The program, which consists of 32 pages, contains a list of the competitions, regulations for firing and general instructions for competitors. The contests take place on the association ranges, Garrison Common, Toronto, and will extend over several days.

Vox Populi.

A public meeting of ratepayers has been called for Monday evening next in the new market building, for the purpose of discussing the Patterson-Corbin bonus by-law now before the people. It is said there is considerable misapprehension in the public mind concerning this matter, and it is expected one of the firm will be on hand to give explanations and information. The town councillors will also be present. A full attendance of ratepayers is urged.

From Want of Support.

It is rumoured that after this year the Horticultural Society will disband and consequently abandon the care of Court House Park. The reason is said to be the difficulty the society experiences in procuring the necessary funds to meet the expenses which its liberal programme of progressive work demands. If this rumor is well founded, such a result will be a great misfortune. The Society is doing a splendid work in cultivating the public taste in the matter of horticulture, and it will be for the flower-loving portion of our citizens to decide whether they will allow the Society to go under from lack of popular support.

HEROINE OF MANIPUR.

ALL LONDON SHOWERING HONORS AND TRIBUTES UPON HER.

The Girlish Woman of Twenty-two Who Went Through the Awful Disaster—What Her Feelings Were—"The Gentlewoman," the Gold Victoria Wreath Presented to Mrs. Grimwood.

The Queen has requested her presence at Windsor, and honors and tributes of various kinds are showered on every side upon the young heroine of Manipur—the girlish woman of twenty-two who went through the awful disaster and has come back to tell the tale. Not just yet, though: it is too near, too terribly real to be discussed in all its details; but some future day when the dark picture has somewhat paled and when Mrs. Grimwood can think quietly of the fatal days that ruined her happiness suddenly and completely and brought death and destruction into the peaceful little camp, she hopes to write a full account of the disaster.

We picture her, the young and comely three-year-old wife of the late British Resident at Manipur, remaining with her husband when danger threatened, although it had been arranged for her to come to Europe during last April. Then, when the sad disaster came which we so much deplore, Mrs. Grimwood, herself badly wounded in the arm, displayed all those qualities which only a devoted woman could display. Although the bullets were falling around, she tended the wounded in the cellars of the Residency and found them food, quite oblivious of her own needs. Then, when the Residency was evacuated, the trials that had to be borne recall the days of the Mutiny. Starting in only her house shoes, Mrs. Grimwood soon wore these out, and had to don a pair of ammunition boots. She was ten days without taking her clothes off, and one can imagine the relief experienced when the refugees encountered a body of Ghoorkas. At that time Col Butcher had two cartridges left—one for the unfortunate lady and the other for himself if capture was imminent. Mrs. Grimwood is still suffering from a sprain incurred on this memorable journey.

It is a pathetic figure, that of the girl widow, dressed in deep mourning, which makes her tall, slender figure appear taller than she really is. The face is still pale and thin. But it is not the pallor and not the fragility which make it so pathetic. There is a look in the large blue eyes and an expression round the mouth which it is always and to see in one so young. And no smile steals over the fair face; never once the eyes lose the look of sadness, and very often as she speaks the tears are in her voice and brim over in her eyes. She is so natural and simple, as she sits in her low chair with the rows of books behind her; but there is that dignity about her which is said to denote what is generally called "highest breeding," and which is innate refinement and can never be acquired.

"I cannot say much about it yet," she says very quietly, and with a deep sigh. "It is too near. Later on, when all the present excitement about it is over, I hope to write it all down, from first to last, and publish it in book form. But not yet.

"Yes," she went on, musingly and with a far-away look in her eyes, "it is too near though sometimes it seems as if it were such a long, long time ago since we lived there quietly and peacefully. We were on perfectly friendly terms with the Senapurtti. I often rode out with the princes, and there was nothing whatever to warn us of what was coming. When they began to fire at the Residency we had to fly. We stayed as long as we could, but there was nothing else to be done in the end. We had to leave in a terrible hurry: there was no time to pack or take anything, else I should have tried to take my jewelry and valuable things that could easily be carried. I had not even my hat—absolutely nothing except the clothes I wore. My shoes and stockings, which were very thin, were in rags long before we got to British territory, and I had to walk barefoot. My clothes got soiled and torn, and I had to throw away everything I could do without, and all day long we were marching along, trying to get further away. When we were in the jungle we were a little better, but in the open, with the sun pouring down, it was terrible. For the first day and a half we had nothing at all to eat, except roots and leaves that we could find. Sometimes we got food from the natives when we reached a village, but they were not always friendly to us, and when they were hostile we could do nothing but burn their villages, in sheer self-defense. Fortunately, I knew the surroundings well, and I could be a guide to the officers and men with me, all of whom were strangers to me.

"Can you imagine what it was to be the only woman with a number of soldiers, under such circumstances, where privacy of any kind is an impossibility! But they were, one and all, more thoughtful than almost a woman could be. They took off their coats at night that I might be warm; they thought of a thousand little things that would make it a little easier for me; and I truly believe that one and all of them would at any moment have laid down their lives for me. I shall never, never forget what I owe to them." For a moment her voice broke as Mrs. Grimwood said this, but she collected herself almost immediately and went on.

"The first thing I heard after we reached our territory was what had really happened; and what I heard was the worst I had to face.

"A dear friend came to me in her carriage outside the town. She gave me clothes, and I stayed with her, and she did everything that kindness could do. I got very ill indeed, but I believe that illness saved my reason. I am now getting better and stronger: thank you; but my ankle is still very bad; it takes time to get over such journeys and such experiences.

"No, fortunately, I have no children. If there is anything that could have made things worse than they are it would have been if I had had a little child with me. What would have become of it?"

"And had you been out in Manipur for some time, Mrs. Grimwood?"

"Yes: I was married when I was eighteen and went there with my husband. All had been pleasant and friendly so far, and then all at once this came, and all was changed."—Pall Mall Budget.

FAMINE IN PROSPECT.

The Desperate Outlook in Mexico as Regards the Crops.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6.—The latest advices from the city of Mexico state that a great deal of apprehension is felt in that country in regard to crop prospects. An alarming state of affairs exists in the principal grain-producing districts owing to long-continued droughts, while in the state of Vera Cruz, where large crops were expected to be harvested, heavy rains, which have fallen incessantly since the 15th, have caused the Papaloapam and San Juan rivers to leave their banks, and extensive farming tracts are under water. All crops in consequence are reported to be a failure and the situation in Vera Cruz is desperate. Cotton has been heavily damaged, and the city of Tlacotalpam is threatened by the rivers, which are increasing in volume. The people fear a total destruction of the place. The crops between Tuxtepec and Ornattan have been swept away, and these two towns are under water, as are also four other towns. The corn crop of Sotavento, which promised a large yield, is a total loss, and is inundated for miles. Hundreds of cattle have been drowned. The fruit crop is a partial loss, and if the flood continues every tree will be killed. Unless a good drenching rain falls in the drought stricken districts within the next three or four days a complete failure of the crop will result, and a famine stares the people in the face.

On Fire with Eczema
Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 4 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his sufferings were pitiable to behold; he had no rest day and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $8 per week for medicine, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the direction to the letter. Relief was immediate, his suffering was over, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

SUN LIFE
ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355 93
Increase over previous year	2 421,372 84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371 199 15
Increase over 1889	2 265,888 60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889 078 87
Increase over 1889	325 938 35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473 514 19
Increase over 1889	687,691 47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,199 222 65
Increase over 1889	567 732 71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175 69
Increase over 1889	75 649 65
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961 65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount carried during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,394 07
" " " " 1886, "	99,452 97
" " " " 1890, (four years)	232,175 69

MET DEATH IN A SMOKER.

FRIGHTFUL COLLISION ON THE WEST SHORE NEAR SYRACUSE.

A Canadian on Board the Ill-Fated Train Escapes Without Injury. Eleven Killed and a Score Wounded—The Full Particulars.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 7. Yesterday morning a freight train on the West Shore Railway, going west, broke in two between Port Byron and Montezuma, and the fast express train, No. 3, dashed into its rear. The fireman on the passenger train was killed. Ten Italians en route to Niagara Falls in the smoking car and Michael Bergin, fireman were killed. Thirty or forty others in the same car were injured. The sleeping car was burned. All the passengers were rescued. The injured were brought to Syracuse and are being cared for.

A dense fog prevailed over Montezuma marshes and enveloped the trains and tracks. The scene at the wreck is described as terrible. At 9 o'clock a wrecking train brought the killed and wounded here, and ambulance, police patrol wagons and hacks made a mournful procession through the crowded streets to the hospitals and undertakers' rooms. Engineer Patrick Ryan of Buffalo had his chest crushed and he is in a hospital here. Of the 20 Italians in the smoking car only one escaped injury, and he was on the platform, usually considered a place of the greatest danger. Seventeen injured Italians were brought to Syracuse.

The Italians came from Tompkins Cove, Rockland County, and were on their way to Niagara Falls to work on the tunnel there.

Benjamin F. Pitts of 21 East 14th street, New York, musical director of the Uncle Isaac Company, was in the smoking car. He was badly bruised and shaken, but is not seriously hurt. John P. Shultz, property man of the same company, was also bruised considerably, but escaped serious injury. Engineer Ryan's left shoulder is dislocated. He is delirious and is internal ly injured.

An unknown Italian died at the House of the Good Shepherd while his leg was being amputated. Of the 11 killed the only body brought here was that of Fireman Bergen. The coroner of Cayuga county began an inquest at 2 p. m., over the bodies of the 10 Italians. All the injured are at the house of the Good Shepherd.

The most seriously injured are Julius Myers of Buffalo, stockman, spine hurt, left ear torn off, right eye bruised, left shoulder fractured, he may die; John Preston of West Troy, spine injured, will recover. Of the Italians injured six are likely to die.

Joseph M. Keegan, of St. Louis, and Adolphe Umbello, Italian, died at the hospital in this city. These deaths make the number of fatalities 13. George H. Sazsby of Hamilton, Ont., is among the wounded. He sustained injury to back and hips.

TORONTO, Aug 7. Alex Auld, traveler W. R Brock & Co., was on the ill-fated train, but fortunately received no other scratch nor injury. He says he was in no danger, and reached home at 8.40 p.m. instead of by the morning train.

NO ABSORPTION

Of the Grand Trunk by the C. P. R. Says the Former's President.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6. Sir Henry Tyler, President of the Grand Trunk Railway system, arrived in New York yesterday from England on the steamer Majestic. He was accompanied by his son, H. G. S. Tyler. In conversation with a reporter yesterday at the Windsor Hotel Sir Henry said:

"I have come to take a run over the different lines of the Grand Trunk system and to see what can be done in the way of improvement. I shall go direct to Port Huron to see how our tunnel under the St Clair River is getting on. The tunnel is finished, but we are having much trouble with the approach as the ground is so slippery. I cannot say when we will be able to operate it."

"What truth is there in the rumor that you propose resigning after the election of the new Board of Directors?"

"None whatever. I have no intention of resigning. There is no foundation for any such story."

"It has been intimated that the Grand Trunk may become absorbed into the Vanderbilt system."

"That also is mere talk. There is nothing in it. The Grand Trunk is ready and willing to co-operate with the Vanderbilt or any other American railroad system for the purposes of traffic and a fair division of profits. But the Grand Trunk will preserve its autonomy as a railroad. There will be no absorption."

"Are not the relations between the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific more cordial than formerly?"

"Yes, I may say, they are. When the Canadian Pacific was being built they paralleled our lines and tried to cut into the business we had had exclusively. Naturally there was a fierce rivalry and not a good feeling. But the Canadian Pacific is now a railroad and has come to stay. It would be poor policy for the two Canadian railway systems to fight and cut each other's throats. The officers of the two roads are now in accord and we will each do business without seeking to injure each other. There is enough for both."

George Simpson Commits the Dread Deed Near Galt.

GALT, Aug. 7. George Simpson, a well-to-do farmer, aged 67 years, living in the Dickie settlement, a few miles from Galt, committed suicide at an early hour yesterday by shooting the top of his head off with a gun borrowed from Andrew Chisholm, his next neighbor. Simpson informed Chisholm that he wanted the gun for the purpose of shooting a dog that was worrying his sheep. About half an hour later the report of a gun was heard. Search was made in direction from which the sound came and Mr. Simpson's body was discovered face downward close to the bush, with the whole upper part of the head from the middle of the nose blown off. Appearances indicated that the muzzle of the gun was placed in his mouth and, standing up against the fence, pulled the trigger. The gun was found under the body and blood and brains spattered over the fence. Portions of the skull were found several yards away.

BARWICK ON BOODLING.

THE CHARGES HE MAKES BEFORE THE SENATE TO BE INVESTIGATED.

Tetu Suspended as Soon as His Matter Was Brought Up in the House—Documents Alleged to Have Been Mutilated—McGreevy Before the Committee.

OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—Mr. Walter Barwick of Toronto stated before the Senate Railway Committee yesterday morning in connection with the Baie Des Chaleurs Railway that $75,000 had gone to the old company and $100,000 as "tolls" for the powers the company were to receive. He was questioned as to what he meant by "tolls" and as to where the $100,000 had gone. After some hesitation he said that the money had been paid through the intervention of N. S. Pacaud.

He was again pressed for a statement as to who had received the money, but again he hesitated, saying that the charges were very serious.

Mr. Lonegan, one of the directors of the company, was present and said he knew nothing of any corrupt diversion of money.

Mr. Barwick representing the Ontario Bank, said he could prove that 817,000 had been corruptly expended by the Mercier Government and its friends; of this amount $75,000 had passed through the hands of Mr. Pacaud.

The Senate this afternoon passed a resolution to authorize the Senate Railway Committee to order the production of papers and the examination of witnesses on oath for the purpose of investigating the charges of boodling presented by Mr. Barwick against the Mercier Government.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS.

Tetu Suspended—Frauds and Forgeries Said to Have Been Discovered.

OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—Yesterday morning at the Public Accounts Committee, Mr. Mulock complained of the mutilation of documents produced in response to orders. It was decided to inquire into this highly important matter.

Captain Bowie of the Ottawa River Navigation Company testified that he has seen the yacht Joe of Arnold's tow dredges. He saw her tow one this season.

The next witness was W. A. Anderson, local manager of the Union Bank. He was examined relating to the mysterious Bancroft of Kingston graving dock contract. He received instructions from his head office to put $20,000 to the credit of N. K. Connolly and he did so. It was drawn against by a check signed A. C. Bancroft, which in due course passed to the Government and the bank of Montreal. He had never seen Bancroft.

D. C. Woodman, formerly employed in the Immigrant Department, was examined by Mr. McMullen. He said that in 1886 he was sub-agent at Emerson, Man. He also acted as caretaker for the office in which he lived. The public accounts contained an entry of payments to one Fournier as caretaker. Witness declared that Fournier never acted in the capacity of such. Fournier was servant to J. E. Tetu, the agent who stayed at West Lynne. The checks produced were signed "A. Fournier, per J. E. Tetu." Fournier left for St. Paul in 1885, yet the public accounts contained accounts in his name which, witness said, were not correct. In 1887-88 the accounts contained $732 for his services as caretaker at Deloraine. The witness was never there, and he never got the money. Tetu asked him many times to make up accounts for extras but he refused. A large number of accounts put in by Tetu witness said were incorrect. Wood, etc., was charged for and never bought. He also said that his name was forged to accounts, and it was supposed moneys went to Tetu.

Mr Lowe, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, was next examined, and said that Tetu had been suspended for gross irregularities in connection with the department. Although the department has been notified that these irregularities were going on and that he was drawing money to which he was not entitled, nothing was done because the charges was not believed.

The moment the matter was brought up into the House Tetu was at once suspended.

Privileges and Elections.

OTTAWA, Aug. 7. Before the Privileges and Elections Committee the cross-examination of Thomas McGreevy by Mr. Geoffrion was continued yesterday. The proceedings were not exciting.

McGreevy stated in the course of the proceedings that of the money given him for political purposes he had paid out $28,000 for the purchase of Le Monde newspaper, Mr Hector's organ. This was in 1884. He paid the amount at the request of Messrs. Larocque and Cassar.

An Overcrowded Profession.

TORONTO, Aug. 7. At the meeting of the Council of the Ontario College of Pharmacy yesterday the following gentlemen were appointed examiners: Chemistry, B. Jacques, Toronto; materia medica, J. F. Pepper, Russell; pharmacy, F. T. Harrison, London; botany, C. B. Sneath, Toronto; prescriptions, A. R. Frazer, Toronto; dispensing, William Murchison, Toronto.

It was resolved that owing to the repairs that are being made in the college the lecture term would begin on Oct. 1, and that this would change the other dates as follows: Matriculation examination Sept. 29, formal opening junior term Oct. 1. Laboratory classes commence Oct. 5. Junior examinations Dec. 21, 22 and 23.

A lively discussion took place on a motion to admit a graduate of the Philadelphia college to practice in Ontario, and in an amendment it was stated that the profession in this country was overcrowded. The amendment, however, was defeated, and the original motion carried by 9 to 3.

SIR HENRY AT THE SALT.

HAMILTON, Aug. 7.—Sir Henry Tyler, President of the Grand Trunk Railway, spent yesterday morning at Niagara Falls and passed through Hamilton at 1.30 in the afternoon, for Windsor, where he will make a thorough inspection of the new tunnel. General Manager Sargeant, Superintendent Stiff, Mr. Joseph Hobson and Mr. John Proctor accompanied him.

FAMINE FEARS LIFTED

FROM HEAVY HEARTS IN INDIA BY THE MONSOON SETTING IN.

A Looked For Deliverance Which Will Not Help Those Districts Whose Crops Have Succumbed to the Long Drought —Great Suffering Among the People.

MADRAS, India, Aug. 7.—Though the Monsoon set in some time ago in some parts of India, dispelling all fears of a failure of crops in that portion of the country where the rains had fallen, there has been no rainfall in the Chingleput and North Arcat districts, in this presidency, and all hopes of averting a famine have been abandoned. The standing grain and other crops have succumbed to the long drought, and all are withered and burned. Already the effects of the scarcity of food are being felt, and there is great suffering among the inhabitants of those districts. Many deaths from starvation have been reported. It is also impossible to get food for the cattle, the pasture lands being devoid of grasses, and in many places the streams have dried up, rendering it impossible to get water for them. Horses, cows, donkeys and other live stock are dying in large numbers. It is not only the poorer classes of the population that are suffering from scarcity of food. [illegible] are applying for relief to keep themselves and their families from starvation.

TO MARRY AGAIN.

The Archduchess Stephania and Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria.

LONDON, Aug. 7. It is reported that Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria will marry Archduchess Stephania, the widow of Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria.

A Curious Sarnia Case.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—An interesting case was brought to the attention of the Secretary of the Treasury yesterday, and was referred by him to the Attorney-General for an opinion. It appears that the custom officers at Port Huron, Mich., apprehended a Chinaman who had crossed over from Sarnia to the United States. Upon reference to the law in regard to the importation of Chinese it was determined that the new arrival was amenable to the clause providing for his deportation to China, and preparations were made to return him to the Flowery Kingdom via San Francisco. At this juncture, however, the British Ambassador at Washington interfered, claiming that the Chinaman in dispute was a bona fide resident of Canada, and could not be treated as a new immigrant from China. "This is the first time to my knowledge," remarked acting Secretary Nettle, "that such a point has been raised, and it has been deemed best to refer the question to Attorney-General Miller for his decision. Meanwhile the Chinaman will remain in custody at Port Huron pending a settlement of his case."

The European Situation.

PARIS, Aug. 7. M. Lockroy yesterday said he had no doubt the handsome reception of the French fleet at Cronstadt, if not the visit itself, was due to England's support of the Dreibund. While France was isolated there was a strong temptation for the masterful and capricious German Emperor to plunge Germany into war. The approchement between France and Russia removed that danger. France, however, had mainly herself to blame, her obstinacy in her policy in the Egyptian and Newfoundland questions throwing England into the arms of Germany and the Dreibund. After the initial mistake she ought to have accepted the situation in Egypt, and in regard to Newfoundland she ought to have modified the Utrecht treaty.

Begs to See Her Son.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 7.—Queen Natalie is making things very disagreeable during the visit of her son, King Alexander of Servia, to Russia. She has made a frantic and pitiful appeal to the Czar and Czarina for permission to see her child, as she calls him. "In the name of the most merciful God," he has written, "I implore you to have pity on a mother so sorely tried, and to permit me, poor, miserable woman, to clasp my son to my bosom." She begs the Czar either as a godfather, to order him to see his mother. The Czar is, of course, powerless to interfere, even by suggestion, as King Alexander is in the care and custody of the Chief Regent, M. Ristitch, who accompanies him.

The Indian Budget.

LONDON, Aug. 7. Sir J. E. Gorst, Parliamentary Secretary for the India Office, has presented the annual Indian statement in the House of Commons. He called attention to the continued extraordinary growth of the surplus, which for 1891 he estimated as nearly double that for 1890. This growth was mainly due, he said, to the alteration in exchange consequent on the silver inflation. He announced a large increase in the revenue from opium and a steady increase in the land revenue.

The Glendale Mystery.

GLENDALE, L. I., Aug. 7. The body of the unfortunate girl that was found Sunday morning by the wayside here has been fully identified and detectives are now following a clue which will undoubtedly put them on the track of the murderer. The girl was Hannah Robertson, a servant of Rev. Thomas Martin, pastor of Trinity church at Hewletts, L. I. She left his house on Saturday afternoon for New York to visit a sister.

England, France and Germany Making Joint Cause.

LONDON, Aug. 7. England and France are negotiating to take joint action for the protection of their subjects in China if such action should become necessary. It is stated that Germany will join England and France in this work.

Scalded to Death.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Aug. 7. An engine in the Whitmore Narrow Gauge Railway struck a log near Elk Garden yesterday and was wrecked. John McKenzie was scalded to death by escaping steam. Six other workmen who were crowded on the engine were badly burned.

Wired from Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 7. J. E. Tetu of the Dominion immigration staff, formerly agent at Emerson, has received notice of his suspension. A reporter endeavored to find Mr. Tetu, but he has not presented himself at the office for two days.

T. C. Norsworthy, a young man from Bowmanville, Ont., died yesterday at the General Hospital here from typhoid fever. The remains will be taken east for interment.

The new Manitoba Hotel, owned by the Northern Pacific, will be opened in two weeks. It is thought a local man will be appointed manager.

Raiding Illegal Fishermen.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Aug. 7. A raid was made on net fishermen in the St. Lawrence, near Cape Vincent, last night, resulting in the confiscation of thirteen large nets which had been in illegal use in catching the game fish of the river. Two of the net fishermen, Frederick and Edward Barber, were arrested after a chase and a struggle, the offenders making a desperate resistance, even striking at the officers with hatchets when the latter boarded their boats. In one of the nets 500 black bass were found. The nets were taken to Alexandria Bay and burned.

A Modern Deer Slayer.

ORRILIA, Aug. 7.—Alfred Carter of North Orillia killed a deer with his self-binder. R. M. M. Donnelly had just set up the machine and Carter was driving around the field when he noticed what he took to be a ground hog in front of the knife. He pulled up, but the knife ran into the animal. It proved to be a fawn about five weeks old and its throat had been cut by the sickles so that it speedily bled to death.

Wiped Out by Fire.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 7.—The thriving Millar & Bunting basket factory situated in Geneva-street, opposite the G. T. R. station, was completely wiped out by fire last evening, between 11 and 12 o'clock. The loss is very heavy, as the season's stock of baskets, comprising thousands of dollars worth, are all consumed, including machinery and engine.

THE HANDCOCK MURDER CASE

Adjourned Although the Magistrate Believes Evidence Sufficient to Commit.

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—The case against Edward Handcock was continued at the Police Court yesterday morning. The only new evidence that was elicited was from Mrs. Mary Lloyd, who testified that the prisoner sold her last spring that he was in great difficulty and that he and his wife had quarrelled together for a year.

Before entering upon the case Mr. Murdoch asked that the Crown procure a ruling from the Attorney-General to have the body of the dead girl exhumed. Mr. Murdoch expressed the opinion that there had been considerable tampering with the wound in the head during the examination. He wished to have further medical opinion on the matter.

Detective Greer rather startled the assemblage with the announcement that the skull was in the possession of Coroner Johnson, and therefore it would not be necessary to disinter the body.

Several witnesses were then called.

When the prosecution had completed their case the Magistrate stated that he thought there was sufficient evidence to warrant his committing the prisoner for trial. "I believe" he said, "that this girl was murdered. She must have been murdered either by the prisoner or somebody going along the road who entered and struck her down. It is extraordinary that any stranger could so suddenly commit the dead and get away [illegible] point I must remember."

Mr. Murdock asked for an adjournment of the case till an examination of the body was made.

The Magistrate agreed and adjourned the case till Thursday, 13th.

THE DOUBLE SCULL RACE.

The Big Aquatic Event at Burlington Beach Tomorrow.

BURLINGTON BEACH, Aug. 7.—At this place tomorrow there will be a chance to see the greatest aquatic celebrities in America engaged in one race, when Hanlan and O'Connor meet Gaudaur and McKay for the double scull championship. The course is a mile and a half and return.

Very little money was bet up to last night on the race. It is expected here that Gaudaur and McKay will be made favorites by noon to-morrow.

The knowing ones say that the race will be practically over at the turn. It is understood that Gaudaur and McKay will start at a 40 stroke and thus try and rattle the Toronto pair. But then, if they can get away faster than Hanlan and O'Connor they're dandies.

The race is for $1000 a side and all percentages given by the railways, steamboats and Burlington people. The articles demands that the event takes place on smooth water.

Gaudaur and McKay rowed six miles yesterday, which they required to reduce a recently accumulated two pounds of flesh. Hanlan and O'Connor were out and had a good spin on the lake side of the Beach.

Yesterday J. W. St. John of St. Louis, Gaudaur's backer, wired the Orillia man that he would be at the Beach to-night or to-morrow morning.

A. C. Macdonnell of the Argonaut R. C. has been appointed judge at the finish by Referee McKay. Fred Mossop will probably act as judge on the referee's boat for Hanlan and O'Connor and R. Dissette for Gaudaur and McKay.

FOUND DROWNED.

The Body of An Unidentified Man Lying in Toronto Morgue.

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—As Clark Bros' steamyacht was coming into the wharf at the foot of Jarvis-street last night, the action of the screw turned up the body of a man. It was taken to the morgue and as yet remains unidentified. The corpse seems to have been in the water about eight days and is very much bloated and disfigured. The deceased was a man about 50 years old, apparently a laborer. He is about 5 feet 5 inches in height, has side and chin whiskers and is attired in a home-made blue checked shirt with grayish tweed coat and vest. The pants are of tweed and beneath them is a pair of overalls and woollen drawers. On his feet are grey woollen socks and low shoes. Nothing was found in his pockets that helped to identify him, the only things being a clay pipe, a button and a Rogers pocketknife. There is a cut on the back of his head, but this may have been made by the screw of the yacht.

John Hince, mate of the schooner Rapid City while coming from Bronte to this city, picked up a skiff about six miles out in the lake from Oakville. The skiff was overturned, and the sail was set. No name or anything else that would point to the owner of the boat were found. Whether there is any connection between the upset boat and the unidentified dead is not very clear.

A Hamilton Seduction Case.

HAMILTON, Aug. 7.—Robert McDonald, the letter carrier, charged with seduction, was arraigned in court yesterday morning and a very strong prima facie case made out against him. Lydia Gale and Bertha Clay, two girls 14 years of age, swore that the prisoner invited them to go for a drive to the beach on Monday night. The Gale girl had got acquainted with him when he called at her mother's house with the mail, but had never been out with him before. The other girl was not acquainted with him. At the beach he treated the girls to sandwiches and pop. On the way back the rig was stopped on a lonely part of the road, and Bertha Clay held the horses while McDonald took the other girl away and accomplished his purpose. He then tried a similar plan with Bertha Clay, but she resisted and foiled him. After returning to the city and putting up the horse the prisoner walked around with the girls until 6 a. m. He is a married man and has a family. The magistrate committed him for trial under the Charlton Act.

The Toronto Street Railway.

TORONTO, Aug. 7. The whole town is astir over the partial revelations in the street railway franchise negotiations and resulting charges thereanent. Nothing every near yet, but everybody believes that occult influences are at work to secure this fine plum. The latest is that E. A. Macdonald, who got $4,500 to withdraw his suit against the city council, is suing the Empire for libel. The Empire consented to allow the case to go on without notice, and thus the baron of Bellamy is enabled to get what he wants conveyed to the people in the shape of sworn evidence. What the outcome of it all will be is hard to tell, but most people believe that where there is so much smoke there must be considerable fire.

A Parkhill P. O. Clerk Under a Cloud.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—A warrant is out for the arrest of Bert Mulvaney, a clerk in the Parkhill post office, on a charge of stealing a letter about the second week of July. Mulvaney has gone away. Robert Jackson has been committed for 60 days by P. M. Noble, of Strathroy, for the larceny of $30.

Mrs. Biggard, of Brantford, Hangs Herself at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Aug. 7.—Mrs. Biggard of Brantford, Ont., who came here a week ago on a visit to her brother, James W. McKay, No. 110 South Division-street, was found by Mrs. McKay yesterday afternoon hanging from a bed room door, a roller-towel twisted around her neck. Mrs. Biggard appeared to be in the best of spirits and joked and laughed with the family as she assisted them to shell a batch of peas for dinner. When this task was accomplished she went upstairs ostensibly to dress for dinner. When the meal was ready Mrs. McKay went to call her and discovered she had taken her life. Mrs. Biggard was an estimable woman and had many friends in Brantford, where she has resided for a number of years. Last spring she was afflicted with a severe attack of la grippe, and her mind has since been injured.

The remains will be taken to Brantford.

TURNBULL'S,

We want to call attention to a large lot of Lace Curtains we are opening out and marking; there is nothing attractive in a large lot unless they are being sold at prices that will save money to the purchaser. This is just what we purpose to do. We show a Curtain, taped and bound, at 60c. a pair, a still better one for 75c., and a beauty for $1, while the best in the lot are only $1.50. We have cleared out whole lines at greatly reduced prices is how we are able to offer such inducements. We have opened out to-day and placed on our second floor a nice range of new patterns in Hemp Carpets, some of these are very desirable.

To-day we open our first shipment of Ladies' Mantles for Fall. They are a very stylish lot. Parties wanting one for a special occasion early will be glad to know that they can now see the new fall styles with us. We have received the invoice of a lot of Dress Goods, they will be opened before this appears in print. We have also got nearly all the shades of very pretty Plaids for making over dresses. We need hardly remind the public that everything stylish, serviceable and cheap is kept on our counters.

In our Tailoring Department we are showing some fresh patterns of Heavy Weight Tweeds at from $15 to $17 a suit, especially suited for elderly men. Ask to see our heavy pantings at 50c. a yard, made out of the best of wool.

A CASE WITH A HISTORY

The Tarte-McGreevy investigation has been in the hands of the Privileges and Elections Committee for nearly two months, and a villainous amount of boodleism has been brought to light. A brief history of the case as developed by the investigation will be of interest, and in order that the idea of giving it a partizan view may not attach to a history of it, that given by the Mail, an independent newspaper, may be given. In reading this history, which deals chiefly with the operations of the firm of Larkin, Connolly & Co., it is to be remembered that the immense profits that this firm realized could not have been secured if the employes of the Government, from the humblest inspector to the Minister of Public Works himself, had not "stood in" with the contractors, not from gratuitous philanthropy towards the contractors, but for a substantial quid pro quo. The Mail says:

It seems that the firm originally consisted of Capt. Larkin, Nicholas Connolly, and another partner named Nihan. Owen E. Murphy, an exile from the United States, bought Nihan out soon after the firm had commenced to build the Levis graving dock, and from that moment became the leading spirit in the company. He looked after the contracts, devised means for securing them, and rewarded out of the firm's funds those persons who were worthy of donations. The firm has done a good deal of important work. It has built the Levis graving dock, the cross wall and south wall at Quebec, it has dredged the Louise basin, and it has completed the Esquimalt graving dock. In the latter contracts Michael Connolly, was a partner, and in all but one, namely, the Levis dock contract, Robert H. McGreevy, who was not under the necessity of subscribing to the capital of the firm or of taking any risks, had a share.

The contracts on the whole have been remunerative. That which was the least profitable was the Levis graving dock. The total cost of that work to the Quebec Harbour Commission was $718 372. The profits to the firm were $80,000 divided among four partners and $45,035 paid out in donations of one kind or another. The largest of the donations was a sum of $22,000 which according to Murphy, Thomas McGreevy got. If the firm did not make much at Levis it rolled in handsome profits upon the works across the river. Its receipts on account of the dredging were $626,000; it received $832,448 for building the cross-wall and $259,518 for building the south wall; besides small sums of $50 000 each for minor works, which bring the total receipts from Quebec up to $1,833,415. It is in connection with the dredging payments that one charge of extortion is founded. Mr. Perley reported favorably to an increase in the prices from twenty-seven to thirty-five cents a yard, just after Michael Connolly had written a memorandum stating that if the prices were so raised the firm would pay $25,000, meaning, according to Mr. Murphy's commentary, $25 000 to Mr. Thos. McGreevy for his influence. The firm was allowed the increased price, and the sum of $25,000 was paid out on the evidence of the account books to somebody, who is not named. The firm appears to have had a slice of luck in its dredging operations, for while it was receiving thirty-five cents a yard for dredging and throwing the material into the river it was enjoying under another contract forty five cents a yard for dumping this same dredged material upon an embankment. Thus it got eighty cents a yard for what formerly it drew but twenty-seven cents. But Mr. Martin F. Connolly intimates that, not satisfied with this good fortune, Murphy bribed inspectors to report that more material was dredged than was actually the case. The firm then profitted by its dredging in three ways: first by the increased price, secondly by the combination of the embankment work with the dredging work, and thirdly by manipulating the inspectors. The cross-wall contract is that the tendering for which was scientifically conducted. Three tenders were put in under the firm's auspices, one by Gallagher, a second by Beauvage, and a third by the firm itself. Gallagher's, which was the lowest, was withdrawn. The next; Beauvage's, was lower than Larkin, Connolly's & Co.'s. Murphy was to have paid Beauvage $5,000 to follow Gallagher's example, and to stand aside. But, by good fortune, Mr. Perley found a mistake in Beauvage's tender and suggested that he should remedy it. Beauvage at once corrected his figures, thereby so increasing his prices that his tender was a few thousand above Larkin, Connolly & Co.'s. Thereupon the firm received the contract. The contract price was $634,340, but at completion the actual payments to the firm had reached $832,448. Of the receipts it is charged that Thomas McGreevy received $25,000. The south wall contract, which comes to $259,518, is not the subject of a great deal of evidence. It is lumped with the other work so far as irregular payments are concerned. A together, as already observed, the firm drew $1,833 415 for its work in and around Quebec. Of this amount $418,187 was profit and $96,684 was spent in donations. The Esquimalt graving dock was a still more profitable work than the Quebec work. According to the contract and the original estimate of the work the cost was to have been $374,589, but Mr. Perley and the Minister permitted departures from the specifications. For example, larger courses in stone than were originally determined upon were authorized. The consequence of the resort to these larger courses was that much of the stone measured three times as much as was at first intended. At the same time the quantity of concrete required was reduced. By this change profitable work was increased and the less profitable work was diminished. The actual cost of the firm's work upon the dock was $586,445, or $212,000 more than the first estimate. The profits upon this work divided among the five partners aggregated $240,000. In addition $28,000, of which $22 000 is said to have gone to Thomas McGreevy, was spent in donations. The gross profit on the Esquimalt work appears to have been $268,000, or almost half of the total sum paid by the Government to the contractors. Altogether the firm cleared $953 975 on $3,138,234 worth of work.

It is estimated that the firm paid $170,000 in boodle; but to this ought to be added Robert McGreevy's receipts. Robert put in no capital and rendered no services except such as came through his brother. His $187,000 of profits were practically donations. Add the $187,000 to the $170 000, and we have a total distribution by the very generous firm of $357,000. The largeness of the profits, it appears, were the cause of the present exposure. Thomas quarrelled with Robert, calling his brother a thief and declaring that he was not getting a fair share of the proceeds. Robert then sued Thomas and Thomas sued Robert. Murphy sided with Robert, and consequently fell into disfavour with Thomas, who said he should have no more contracts and no more large profits. A new contract presented itself in the shape of the Kingston dock. Murphy tried for it and failed, for it went to the Connollys, who stood firmly by Thomas. Thereupon Murphy and Robert complained of their ostracism to senator Robitaille and Mr. Tarte, and Mr. Tarte gave the whole story of Robert's woes and Thomas' receipts to the world. After this there was no stopping the developments, and as a consequence to-day we know what we know.

Canadian Apples.

One of the extensive dealers of Liverpool, Eng., gives the following opinion regarding the prospects of trade between Canada and the old country during the coming fall: To give our friends a timely idea of the prospects for apples sent to this to this market from the States and Canada, we have made careful inquiries and find that although it is somewhat early to form an opinion on that estimated home yield of apples, still the general opinion is that the crop will be a large one. The fruit blossomed well, and unless we have an extended season of drought the early varieties should be very plentiful. Latter sorts do not promise so well, and in one quarter the yield is estimated at about one half a crop. Still, for the last three or four years English apples have been a comparative failure, so that, taking one thing with another, it is only fair to expect a good result this season. This being the case, our market for foreign and colonial apples will be seriously affected until at least Christmas, when the home product is exhausted. We therefore would point out that the demand in the early part of the season will in a great measure be restricted to red fruit, with a selection of large clear greenings, which at all times find a good sale here. As shippers are aware, the home of the apple in these islands is in the southern and western districts of England. While London and Bristol are full of English apples, comparatively few find their way so far north as Liverpool, which has the monopoly of supplying the great manufacturing towns of Lancashire and Yorkshire, which consume more of this sort of fruit than all the rest of the kingdom. Notwithstanding, therefore, a probable good English crop, we anticipate a paying rate for the imported article until arrivals get too heavy, when a serious fall may be anticipated.

Our High Commissioner as Incubator.

It has leaked out says an exchange that the special consignment of Canadian eggs sent to England last autumn, for the purpose of testing the value of that market, was bought up by Sir Charles Tupper, no doubt with money provided for the purpose by the Canadian government. Of course good prices were paid for the eggs. This is a good sample of Tory "statesmanship." The high commissioner wanted to make it appear that Canadian eggs were much relished by the Cockneys, but those merchants who have since shipped eggs to England have lost money.

A Welcome Announcement.

Those who have tested it say that for the grippe, and especially for the cough that hangs on after the disease itself seems cured, there is nothing equal to Kemp's Balsam, the specific for all throat and lung diseases, and the best cure for coughs and colds. A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. dw

Sufferers

FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.

Dr. John W. Brown, of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills."—G. S. Wanderlich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P. Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hore, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

HER MAJESTY'S SPEECH.

PROROGATION OF THE IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT YESTERDAY.

What the Queen Said to Her Commoners—The Behring Sea Seal Fishery Negotiations—France Rallying With the Newfoundland Agreement.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Parliament was prorogued yesterday to Oct. 24. The Queen's speech closing the session, after alluding to the amicable relations existing between Great Britain and the other powers, made a brief reference to the treaties that had been concluded with Portugal and Italy regarding territory in Africa. Continuing, the speech said: "I have made proposals to the President of the United States looking to the submission to arbitration of the differences between Great Britain and the United States in regard to seal fishery in Behring Sea. The negotiations are far advanced, but have not yet been concluded.

"The French Chambers have not yet approved of the agreement between myself and the French Republic with reference to arbitration of certain differences which have arisen concerning Newfoundland, which agreement was signed during the present year.

"I am glad that you have been able to devote a considerable sum of money to the mitigation of the burden which the law of compulsory education has imposed upon the poorer portion of my people.

"The various measures which you have adopted in recent years to secure the observance of the law in Ireland and to improve the general condition of that country have resulted in a marked abatement of agrarian offences and in a considerable advance in prosperity.

"The steps taken to cope with the distress threatened in Ireland have been effectual in averting a famine.

"You have also passed a beneficial measure dealing permanently with the congested districts of Ireland, which it is hoped will, by fostering agriculture and stimulating the fishing industry, contribute largely to the prevention of similar danger in the future.

"The measure which you have passed for the improvement of land with respect to factories, workshops and savings banks, and for the preservation of the public health, will, I am convinced, conduce to the comfort and well being of my people.

A Sample of Jewish Persecution.

LONDON, Aug. 6. Advices from Elisabetgrad, Russia, state that recently several thousand farm laborers, small land holders and others engaged in agricultural occupations in the country surrounding Elisabetgrad, marched into the town and proceeded to the Jewish quarters. Amid cries of "Kill the Jews" the thousands of yokels descended upon their cowering victims. They attacked the Jews shops and dwellings, driving the owners from them, and plundered them of everything valuable, what was considered not worth stealing was wantonly destroyed. Some of the bravest Jews resisted this looting of their property, but this only made matters worse for them, and three of them were killed. Many others who attempted to defend their families or property were set upon and severely wounded. The rioting in the Jewish quarter continued for hours, and although the authorities were well aware of the outrages being committed they made no attempt to stop them.

The Kaiser's Fit.

PARIS, Aug. 6. It is now stated on the best authority that the injury to the German Emperor's knee, which he received by falling when on board his yacht, the Hohenzollern, was not caused through slipping on the wet deck, as was originally announced.

The Emperor was standing at the head of the short flight of steps leading from the upper to the main deck and was conversing with an officer, when he was suddenly seized with an epileptic fit, and he fell down the steps.

He was at once picked up and carried to his cabin, and since then he has suffered severely from the bruises he received at that time.

His Majesty has had several of these fits since he left London, and, as it is known, he had two or three while he was the guest of the English people, the news has caused a great deal of uneasiness.

War to Give Way to Arbitration.

LONDON, Aug. 6. In the House of Commons William Randall Cremer gave notice that at the next session he would introduce a resolution in favor of the conclusion of a treaty between England and the United States by which the nations will agree to submit to arbitration all differences that may arise between, and which they are unable to adjust through the usual diplomatic channels. Mr. Cremer, who is a Radical Reformer, is well known for his efforts in the direction of substituting international arbitration for war. He is a carpenter and joiner by trade, and since 1873 he has been secretary of the Workingmen's Peace Association.

Bulgarian Rumors of War.

PARIS, Aug. 6. Telegrams from Sofia, the capital of Bulgaria, bring rumors that active preparations for war are being made by the military authorities of that country. Inquiries have been made in official quarters here, but the officials declared that they had no knowledge of warlike preparations being made in any of the capitals of the Balkan States. The only information elicited was that Bulgaria recently placed a large order for artillery with the great German gunmakers, the Krupp.

Lightning Strikes the German Commissariat.

BERLIN, Aug. 6. The commissariat of the German army has suffered a severe loss by fire. A heavy thunderstorm prevailed yesterday at Rathenow, 34 miles from Potsdam, and during the height of the storm lightning struck the building in which the stores of the garrison were kept. The storehouse was filled to its utmost capacity with oats and straw for the use of the cavalry horses and other animals belonging to the garrison regiments and with thousands of tins of preserved meats for the use of the soldiers.

Despite the heavy rain which was falling, and which it was at first thought would aid the soldiers and firemen in extinguishing the fire, the flames, fed by the highly inflammable contents of the building, were soon beyond all control, and the structure, together with all its contents, was entirely consumed. The loss is placed at $375,000.

Parnell Losing Friends Daily.

DUBLIN, Aug. 6. The Belfast Morning News, which has hitherto supported Parnell, yesterday declares that public opinion is setting in the direction of the policy of Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien.

Distinguished Visitors En Route.

LONDON, Aug. 6. The Earl and Countess of Lathom sail by the Mongolian of the Allan line for Montreal tomorrow. They will spend a vacation extending over two or three months in Canada.

CLEVER STRATEGEMS

Of the Heathen Chinee to Evade the Exclusion Laws.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—The resources of the Chinese to evade the exclusion laws seem to be unlimited. The treasury officials here have learned that seven Chinamen were stopped on the Northwestern border last Wednesday, as they were about to enter this country. They had certificates signed by citizens of Chicago averring that they were Chicago merchants. The officers also have advices from Montreal that 26 of these alleged merchants have left there for this city, each with a certificate. Each certificate bears a photograph of the holder, and these photographs are secured in the certificate by the seal of the United States Commissioner here. It is presumed these certificates were obtained here and sent on to China. This could easily be done, as the application for a certificate need not be made by the person intending to return to America.

Special Agent Crowley says it has been discovered that schools have been established in China where intending emigrants are taught minutely the names of the streets, the location of houses, the furnishing of rooms, etc., in San Francisco and other cities, and that when they arrive here under the guise of returning merchants they can describe perfectly the location and appearance of the alleged quarters they occupied formerly.

EXCURTIONISTS KILLED.

Collision of Two Passenger Trains on the Central Vermont Railway.

CHAMPLAIN, N. Y., Aug. 6.—A train conveying a Sunday school excursion from Ellenburg and Rouse's Point and intervening stations on the Central Vermont Railway ran into a mail train, which had the right of way, just east of this station at 6.40 last night. The excursion train had 675 persons on board. William Anhell, aged about 17, son of a merchant of this place, and Sim Nenetta, a laborer of Chateaugay Lake, were killed outright and some 20 people, more or less, seriously injured. Henry Lamountain of Champlain had both legs broken, H. Swett of Ellenburg Centre arm fractured and badly bruised. John Patterson of Perry's Mills, leg broken. Miss Lewis of Moira, head and limbs bruised; Miss Bateman of Perry's Mills, hip dislocated; S. Levy of Albany, wrist broken and seriously bruised. The excursion train had orders to meet the mail here and should have gone on siding.

The London Shooting Affray.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Fred Macdonald, the young fellow who shot his brother John in a row regarding the latter's wife at a house just over Kensington bridge a few nights ago, was arrested yesterday morning by Detective Allen. The prisoner was found at Maloney's house on Ridout street, where it is supposed he has been in hiding since the shooting. Fred Macdonald is married and has as wife a domestic servant in a family on Talbot street. It is only a couple of weeks since he was released from Bullen's penitentiary. The wound in the brother's neck may prove more serious than at first expected.

John Quickly Extemporized Five Tow Bags.

This is a meaningless sentence, but it contains all the letters of our alphabet. Five of these letters spell "woman," and large numbers of women believe in the virtues of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a strictly vegetable compound, for her use only, and an unfailing cure for the many ills that beset her. It recuperates wasted strength, restores the functions to a normal condition and fits her to bear and rear healthy offspring; promotes digestion, purifies the blood and gives activity to the bowels and kidneys. In a word it is woman's cure and safeguard. Guaranteed to give satisfaction, or its price ($1) refunded. b

Nicolet Notes.

"I suffered continual pain from canker of the stomach and my face and body were almost covered with pimples. I tried Burdock Blood Bitters, the first dose occasioned slight pain, but I soon found relief, and after taking 5 bottles I became completely cured. I think B.B.B. the most powerful remedy known to science."—Stephen Edge, Nicolet, P. Q dw

It is a Very Sad Thing

To see young and beautiful people die when they might just as well live and enjoy health and strength. Many who suffer with coughs, colds and lung troubles, leading to consumption, imagine there is no hope for them, when in reality there is every hope if Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is taken regularly. Spread the news everywhere that this great emulsion will make flesh and blood, cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, sore throats and lung troubles tending to consumption. In big bottles, 50c. and $1 at Peterborough drug stores. dw

Consult Your neighbors.

Any one may find out just what Burdock Blood Bitters is and does by asking a neighbor who has tried it. It rarely fails in making a complete cure of dyspepsia, constipation, sickheadache, biliousness and diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. dw

To get relief from indigestion, biliousness, constipation or torpid liver without disturbing the stomach or purging the bowels, take a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills, they will please you. dw

Baby was Sick.

"My baby was very sick with diarrhœa and after everything else had failed I tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; the first dose gave relief and a perfect cure soon resulted." — Mrs. John Clark, Bloomfield, Ont. dw

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Can Not Compete.

Miss Maud Grant, of Mountain, Ont., writes, "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaints and diarrhœa. There is nothing to compete with it as it succeeds even in the severest cases." dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliances. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and meta with which the country is being flooded. If you want to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

Insulting Ladies on the Streets.

It is very much to be regretted that ladies abroad in the streets at night unattended have been subjected to insult. Still there is consolation and compensation. Every lady has a great privilege, which is available to ladies of no other town in Canada—that of buying hawley bros.' matchless teas.

Acknowledgment.

The committee of management of the Peterborough Protestant Home acknowledge with thank the following donations for July: Sons of Canada, basket of sandwiches; a friend, $1 00 worth of bread tickets; Miss Neil, clothing; Miss Stothart, cherries; Miss Wallis, black currants, ; Mr. T. W. Robinson, berries; Mr. Giles, apples, raspberries and milk.

They all Admit

There is no room for argument here because they have all admitted that the C. M. B. A. excursion is by far the most popular and finest trip on Civic Holiday to Chemong, Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point and Lindsay for the amount of a dollar. Every amusement, sports and dancing. A grand sail and the finest scenery on the upper lakes. This is the trip to take in for a good days outing and fresh air excursion as well as a solid days genuine sport. d31 32

Gone Into a Decline.

As the time draws nearer, the Ontario says, the probabilities are more certain that Belleville will not have a fair this year. The directors of the fair want the taxes remitted and ask for a $420 subscription from the citizens. John Johnston and Jas. Ketcheson will make the canvas of the hotelkeepers and endeavor to raise this amount. A prominent citizen stated within the hearing of the Ontario yesterday that a few people were asked to keep up the fair while the directors got little or no thanks for their work.

A Woman in the Case.

Postmaster-General Haggart Rests Under a Nasty Charge.

The John Haggart scandal was probed in the Public Accounts Committee this week, the Mail says. There is a woman in the case. Her name is Jane Craig, formerly a clerk in Mr. Haggart's department. Miss Craig entered the department on August 15th, 1883, and remained until June 2nd, 1889. There were frequent absences during the term. After June 2nd, Jane Craig was not seen in the Langevin block, but her salary continued until October, and she got five month's pay for doing nothing. Her salary was paid as all salaries are, by cheques. Curiously enough, the record on one cheque reads, "Handed to Deputy Postmaster-General for Postmaster-General," while for others issued while she was away the receipt was signed by Mr. Haggart's private secretary. It appeared as if the Minister was taking care that the lady should be paid. This is claimed to be an extraordinary display of partiality on the part of a Minister for a subordinate. Mr. Barron, who had the enquiry in hand, asked Miss Craig's brother-in-law, who was a witness and with whom Jane Craig boarded, if Mr. Haggart was in the habit of visiting her. Mr. Daly at once protested that a question such as this was an attempt to blacken the lady's character, though why a visit from the Postmaster-General should be injurious to any one's character it is difficult to say. The net result of the inquiry is that Mr. Haggart is charged with paying the salary of the lady when she was not employed by the Government, and that it is intimated, more or less directly, that his relations to this fair employee were more friendly than the necessities of the service required. The case is in such a position that Mr. Haggart ought at the next meeting of the committee enter the box, and make a statement in his own defence. No Minister resting under the charge implied against him in Mr. Barron's question should allow the deduction which is drawn from to-day's evidence to pass unchallenged, not for his own sake only, but for that of the lady.

You are troubled with Catarrh, but in this warm, dry weather do not strongly experience its evil effects and you neglect treatment. A mistake. When the disease is least troublesome is the best time to get rid of it, and this the use of Nasal Balm will accomplish. Sold by all dealers, or sent post paid on receipt of price (50c. or $1 a bottle.) C. T. Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont. dw

Fishing Extraordinary.

The other day Mr. R. M. Roy did some tall fishing near Orillia. He had the privilege of whipping some preserved streams on a friend's estate, and in exactly an hour and a half's fishing landed three dozen and four trout, averaging a foot in length. The same day a 25 pound 'lunge was caught in Lake Couchiching by an Orillia man, and the following day the same person brought in a 32-pounder.

Serious Illness.

Mrs. Sarah Millburn, wife of the late Isaac Millburn, of the Communication Road, Smith, was suddenly seized with a paralytic stroke on Thursday, 6th inst. Very little hope is entertained of her recovery. Mrs. Millburn is in her 71st year, and has been long a resident of Smith, being one of the first settlers of the township. The numerous friends of the family will regret to hear of her illness. Dr. Boucher is in attendance.

A Dog Day Puzzle.

The following has been published as an exercise for ingenuity to work upon:

A —— old woman with —— intent
Put on her —— and away she went;
"——," she cried, "give me I pray,
Something that I may —— to-day."

The blanks are to be filled by five separate words, each composed of four letters, and the same four letters are to be used in each word. The solution is easy.

Foul Mouthed Fellows.

Three boys verging on manhood were arraigned in the police court this morning on a charge of having used foul language on Simcoe street last night. A gentleman who lives on that street testified that about ten o'clock he heard these boys using words which were unfit for any decent person to hear, and the boys spoke them loud enough to be heard half a block away. The offence was clearly proven, but this being their first appearance the magistrate dismissed them with a warning to behave themselves better in future.

Sanctum Gratitude.

The thanks of the editor's table are due to Mr. T. M. Hunter, who has returned from a prolonged stay in the Northwest, for a beautiful specimen of silver ore from the Silver Mountain mine, East Algoma. The beautiful crystal of argentiferous ore overlie a splendid stratum of amethyst, which in turn rest upon a base of quartz.

The editorial entity, after breakfasting sumptuously upon several Stony Lake bass, sweet as nectar, crisp as celery, and solid as a rock, feels well disposed to thank Mr. W. E. Leob, the spoils of whose hook they are, for so thoughtful and toothsome a gift.

$500.00 Prize for the Best Short Story.

We have read with much pleasure Brains, a semi-monthly journal for literary folk, published at Meadville, Pa., by the United Publishing Co. It is devoted to practical literary details, aims to help the writer and has such eminent contributors as Albion W. Tourgee, Julian Hawthorne and Thomas Wentworth Higginson. The publishers are offering a prize of five hundred dollars for the best short story submitted to them before December 1st. They make it a requirement that all competitors be subscribers to the paper, and will forward sample copy and rules upon request.

Excursion and Regatta.

Once again public attention is drawn to the excursion to Chemong Park on Civic Holiday, Thursday, Aug. 20th, under the auspices of the Fire Brigade and Band. The Park is close at hand and almost the whole day may be spent at the Park, with no time wasted in getting there and back. Amongst the attractions is a regatta, which promises to be a first-class one. There has not been a regatta in Peterborough or vicinity for many years, and the opportunity to witness the aquatic sports on Civic Holiday should not be lost. Tickets are very cheap and the committee in charge are making every arrangements to accommodate the largest crowd it is possible to get together. d32 1d

Lights on the Lawn.

Mr. R. M. Roy gave a small company of his friends a most delightful evening last night. Mr. Roy, as is well known, is an expert photographer and stereopticlan, and with his fine views can give a splendid entertainment. This summer Mr. Roy has succeeded in getting a number of new photographs of Niagara Falls, Rochester, the Thousand Islands and many other Canadian scenes, and last night presented them in enlarged form upon a canvas stretched at one end of his lawn, while in front of it there sat about 75 persons in the open air and enjoying the coolness of the evening in a comfortable, easy way. The views were magnificent, and some stunning slide effects were introduced. It has been suggested, and the idea will probably be carried into effect, that Mr. Roy give a similar evening at Chemong Park. It would be a treat for the Park residents.

How to Get There.

You are going on the Court Little John Foresters' excursion to Toronto, Niagara and Buffalo on the civic holiday. Good! Now for fares and trains and boats. You leave town by C.P.R. train at 4 45 or 7 10 a.m. for all points reached by the excursion. The Toronto return fare is $1.75; children, 90c.; tickets good for two days. If you are going to Niagara the boats leave the Yonge street wharf in Toronto at 11 a.m., 2 p.m. and 4 45 p.m. The run across the lake and up the river to Lewiston is a pleasant experience. Trains meet the boat and take you up to the Bridge and to Niagara Falls. The Niagara Falls return fare from Peterborough is $2; children, $1; tickets good for three days. From Niagara you run on to Buffalo, reaching the city in a short time. The return fare to Buffalo from town is $2 25; children, $1 15; tickets good for three days. On the return trip sharp connections can be made by train and boat both from Buffalo and from the Falls, and in Toronto for Peterborough. Cut this out and keep it. Make up your mind to go on this excursion. Get tickets from local stores as named on posters. d32-33

Found Dead in a Deserted Garden.

A Stranger in a Strange Land Meets Death Alone—Evidently Another Victim of Intemperate use of Drink.

At noon to-day Mr. John Bent of the EXAMINER office, was passing along Hunter street opposite the old Sheriff Hall residence at the corner of Aylmer and Hunter street, now vacant, and his attention was attracted by an offensive smell. Looking over the fence to ascertain the cause, a terrible sight met his eyes—the dead body of a man lying squarely on the back, the body distended by the processes of decay to an enormous size, head and face swollen beyond recognition as the shape of a human countenance, and the riotous worms holding horrible feast. The news soon spread, and the garden was invaded by a curious crowd of awed sightseers. The body was well dressed in dark clothes, laced boots were upon the feet, and in a position of repose out of all keeping with the gruesome surroundings. The body lay with the head towards the fence and under the shrubbery that bordered the deserted garden. It was not long before some workmen employed in Paterson & Son's tannery identified the corpse as the body of one William Waldron, a carrier by trade, who worked in the tannery. The deceased came to work there some time in April, and was there almost continuously, excepting one week when he worked at Lamb's tannery, Omemee, until the Saturday evening before his death. He boarded at Cornelius Wall's, on Aylmer street, one door north of the residence in whose grounds the body was found. Waldron was said to be, by his fellow employes, a first class currier and a good worker when he worked, but given considerably to drinking, some times being off on a debauch for days at a time. He was a very quiet man and uncommunicative. During the several months he boarded with Mrs. Wall nothing could be extracted from him as to his antecedents, home or connections except that he lived in the United States, some distance west of Buffalo; that he was 50 years of age and

A WIDOWER WITH AN ADULT FAMILY.

He was well behaved and quiet at all times, and much more so, when in his cups. He was known to receive no letters, only a postal card or two in reference to some work he was seeking in Omemee and Lindsay. At the latter place it seems he had an acquaintance, one August Schultz. He was never known to go to church since his residence in town. He was in the habit, when overcome with drink, got from a bottle concealed in the tannery, to steal away from his boarding place and, passing through a break in the fence separating Mrs. Wall's from the adjoining grounds, to rest and sleep off his load of care in the garden where his body was laid, and it is only natural that his dead body should have been found where it was discovered.

On Saturday night he quit working at the tannery, and all day Sunday and Monday and Tuesday, according to Mrs. Wall, he was drinking heavily. On Wednesday morning he dressed himself in his best clothing and left the premises saying that he was going to take the train for Port Hope, and the boss for Charlotte on his way home. He was under the influence of drink when he left, and the last he was seen he was going down Aylmer street in the direction of the Grand Trunk railway station. It is supposed that being too early for the train and fatigued he sought the deserted garden for rest and seclusion, and there being seized by some sort of fit fell into

THE SLEEP THAT KNOWS NO WAKING.

The police were communicated with and also the coroner. The latter saw no reason for holding an inquest and instructed Mr. D. Belleghem to take charge of the remains, which has been buried amid the shrubbery of the Potters Field in the Little Lake Cemetery, amidst scenery very much like the last upon which his eyes looked on earth.

Waldon was about five feet seven or eight inches in height, of stout build and light complexion. He wore a heavy moustache.

In the man's pockets were found a pipe and some tobacco, a cork, a red bandana handkerchief, a pair of spectacles in a battered case, and the following G.N.W.Co.'s telegram:—

A Bull in the Wheat Field.

It looks as though a wheat bull who wants to realize in a hurry, is doing the Mulhatton act in North Dakota and Minnesota. Hail storms which destroy thousands of acres have been reported regularly once a week for the past six week, and if the stories had all been true, there would be no wheat left in either state.

Too Tame for Tipplers.

Cobourg in the depressing dog days is so dull and quiet that there is no fun in getting drunk there. For the second time this week a Cobourg man has been arrested here for drunkenness. The latest victim was Edward Piewith, who was gathered in last night. He was discharged, first off nce,

Wedding at Lindsay.

LINDSAY, Aug. 5.—A very interesting marriage ceremony was performed in St. Paul's church at 9.30 this morning, Archdeacon Allan, assisted by Rev. Mr. McCann, officiating. Miss Nellie Knowlson, daughter of J. B. Knowlson, collector of inland revenue, was married to George E Martin, eldest son of the late P. S. Martin, town solicitor. The happy couple left for an extended trip to eastern points at 11 a.m., amidst profuse good wishes.

The Phenographic Concerts.

The Edison phonograph now on exhibition, or rather performing, at 416 George street, in charge of Messrs. Robertson and Quain, has numerous auditors, and all who hear its wondrous productions are delighted and amazed at the marvellous reproductions of band music, vocal and instrumental solos, speeches, etc., which the instrument gives. Local musicians can be delighted with one of Mr. F. J. Daly's rattling banjo virtuosities, the lover of concerted music can hear selections by Gilmore's and Cappa's bands, or any other of the over one hundred fine selections in the repertoire. A number of beautiful selections were received from Ottawa last night. All those who desire to hear this wonderful instrument should be quick about it, as to-morrow night will be the last night in town.

He Was Spelling for Fight—and Got It.

Patrick Clancy, an old campaigner, gave P. C. McGinty a lively tussle last night. Clancy is one of those nomadic gentlemen who are always looking for work—in summer he wants a job shovelling snow, and in winter he would like to run the lawn-mower. He is a hardy specimen of tramp and has been through the justice mill before this. He had been drinking yesterday, and last night began using obscene language on George street. P. C. McGinty ordered him to move on, and the fellow walked into a yard below Comstock's furniture shop, apparently to look for a sleeping place. The officer told him he'd better spend the night at the station house. "I'll be d—— if I will," the tramp replied—but he did, though after one of the hardest struggles Constable McGinty ever had. The officer was compelled to manacle the prisoner and use his baton before Clancy was subdued. The prisoner fought like a tiger, struck McGinty on the nose and left a mark there, and tried his best to bite and kick the officer. P.C. Stewart arrived on the scene and the prisoner was hustled to the cells. This morning he cut an amusing figure before Mr. Young, J.P. He was convicted of being drunk and disorderly, and of assaulting the policemen, and on these two charges was sent to gaol for two months. Clancy begged to be let go and condoned his own case in a way which showed he was familiar with police court proceedings, "When I get out I will ax yer Honor to give me a new coat and a job," were his last words as he departed with a smile on his weatherbeaten countenance.

A Brave Boy's Death

Drowned While Attempting to Save a Comrade.

The Lindsay Post gives the following particulars of a sad drowning accident which took place in that town Wednesday evening.

After supper Wednesday evening Patrick Moran, aged 16 years, and another youth named Hughes, eldest son of Mr. Joseph Hughes of Lindsay street, repaired to Hennessy's landing to enjoy a bath, and after they had dressed embarked in an old punt that was floating about close to shore. It leaked very badly, but by bailing they managed to keep it afloat until out quite a distance, when it filled suddenly, precipitating them into the water. Moran, who was a good swimmer, struck out and reached the shore, leaving Hughes, who could not swim, clinging to the boat, which would not have upheld both. A few minutes later Hughes uttered cries of distress, and fearing no doubt that he would let go of the boat in his excitement, Moran plunged in again and swam out to his assistance. When he reached him Hughes at once caught hold of him, and both sank out of sight. A young man named Henry witnessed the accident from the shore and gave the alarm, when Mr Michael Dundrus, who lives close by, rushed down, and directed by the air bubbles rising to the surface dived and brought up young Hughes in an unconscious state. Conveying him to shore a slight movement of the pulse was observed by Col. Deacon, who had been attracted to the spot, and the usual means were taken to restore animation, and fortunately succeeded. Mr. Dunigan, after rescuing Hughes, was told that Moran was also in the water, and, with Thos. Sadler, dived repeatedly after him, but as it was dark their efforts were fruitless. Half an hour after the body was found by Mr. John O'Connell close in shore. Coroner Poole was notified, but did not deem an inquest necessary.... The deceased was one of a number of emigrant children placed by the late Father Stafford, and Mr. and Mrs. Corrigan loved him as their own son. They have the sympathy of many in their loss. Moran was a quiet, steady, industrious boy, and his sad death is very distressing. The circumstance call for some recognition of his heroic act in trying to rescue his comrade.

Municipal Mutterings.

A Threatened Storm in Ashburnham's Civic Circles—Alleged Misconduct by Village Officials.

A mare's nest of considerable magnitude has been stirred up in civic circles in Ashburnham. Rumors are afloat to the effect that there is ground for suspecting the disinterested honesty of a certain village official, but as the charges have not yet been publicly preferred, it is with some diffidence that the EXAMINER takes the matter up. However, as the village council will deal with the subject at its meeting Monday next, it may not be out of place to refer to it now.

Briefly, the charges are that the Street Inspector has shown favoritism, that in at least one known instance he has entered one of his friends down upon a pay sheet for working more days than was actually the case; that too much time was spent on a certain sidewalk in the village, and perhaps other similar complaints. The matter was to have come before the Ashburnham council at its last meeting, but in the absence of two of the councillors no action was taken. Another meeting is to be held Monday night next.

Street Inspector Craig says he is ready to meet his accusers and disprove every charge that may be brought against it. He ascribes the accusations to personal spite and jealousy. However that may be, there seems to be a demand for investigation on the part of the tax payers.

It is probable also the street sprinkling question may come up for discussion. In this connection carelessness and bungling are alleged. The council gave out a contract for street sprinkling this spring, but no bonds were signed and when the work was not done to the satisfaction of the authorities there was no means of compelling a better fulfilment of the contract, and the whole thing fell through, and Ashburnham on a windy day is shocked with dust.

These matters are being discussed freely by the ratepayers, and there is likely to be some trouble before the outstanding forces are quieted. The statements are given for what they are worth, being matters of mere rumor as yet, and until something more definite is learned no one can be rightfully accused of wrong doing.

The distention of the stomach which many people feel after eating, may be due to improper mastication of the food; but in most cases it indicates a weakness of the digestive organs, the best remedy for which is one of Ayer's Pills, to be taken after dinner.

Avoiding Dangerous Ground.

The examination of Mr. Thomas McGreevy by his own counsel, (representing the government's interests), and the care taken by the latter to keep his client "out of deep water," and to question him only with regard to such matters as he may be willing to talk about, reminds one of the story of a negro who applied to a gentleman for employment. "Want work, eh!" said the gentleman. "Have you been stealing any geese lately?" "No, sah." came the reply promptly. "Nor chickens?" "No sah." Nor watermelons?" "No sah." "Very well then, come to work to-morrow." But when the negro got outside he was heard to remark to himself: "Golly, if he'd only said ducks he'd a had me."

"Oh, if I had only taken this medicine earlier in life, what years of suffering it would have saved me!" was the touching exclamation of one who had become cured of rheumatism by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Scores of such cases are on record.

Purity of the blood is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditted and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. Nothing is more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

BRITISH WARSHIPS.

The Bellerophon and Canada Sail for Newfoundland Waters.

HALIFAX, Aug. 7.—The British warships Bellerophon, carrying the flag of Admiral Watson, and Canada sailed yesterday for Bay St. George's, Newfoundland, the scene of the recent outrages by French warships. Thence they will go to Quebec. Admiral Watson will not take his warships to American waters this year, because so many sailors attempted to desert at Newport when the ships were there last season. The reason given by the sailors for their dissatisfaction was the arbitrary treatment of the officers in refusing to permit them to go ashore.

The troopship Tyne has been ordered to Halifax with reliefs and 10 new guns for the warship Canada. A short time ago a gun exploded on the warship Cordelia in Australian waters by which two lieutenants and five marines were killed. The gun that exploded was similar to those now on the Canada. The admiralty at once decided to remove all guns of this pattern from the British warships, and replace them with more modern pieces. Hence the change of guns on the Canada. They will be 6-inch bore. Use 48 pounds of powder at a shot, and will throw a 100-pound projectile.

MRS. TIFFIN'S ESCAPADE.

Wealthy She Yet Marries Her Coachman and Scandalizes Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 7.—Montreal society is very much excited over the marriage of Mrs. John Tiffin, a wealthy widow, to her coachman, an English emigrant named Arthur Crew. The latter is young, good-looking and intelligent. The Tiffin family is one of the best connected in Montreal. The head of the family was Henry Tiffin, who died immensely wealthy. The former husband of Mrs. John Tiffin died through effects of excesses. He married his cousin when she was 19 years of age, and she is now only 21. She owns a large country property at Sault Au Recollect, in the suburbs of Montreal, where she resides, besides a life income.

Crew came out from England two years ago and was engaged as stable boy by Mr. Tiffin, and afterwards became his coachman. Soon after his arrival he ingratiated himself with Mrs. Tiffin, and her evident partiality to him was remarked by all. The wedding was a quiet one. The couple, with witnesses, went to the little Episcopal Church at Sault Au Recollect and were married by Rev. Mr. McManus. The family of Mrs. Tiffin refuse to recognize either bride or husband.

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 4 months old, broke out with eczema. The trouble and worrying was fast the common spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his terrorized appearance were pitiable to behold; his head no sooner and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expected almost to see him week for medicines, but was entirely disappointed. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were ended, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,255.92
Increase over previous year	3,421,372 54
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599.15
Increase over 1889	2 268,888.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	$599,978 87
Increase over 1889	385,936.35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514.19
Increase over 1889	687,691.47

Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

BANCROFT--CONNOLLY

THE IDENTITY OF THE MYSTERIOUS PERSONAGE ESTABLISHED.

The Evidence Taken Before the Public Accounts Committee and That Elicited Before Privileges and Elections—Mr. Tarte's Contribution to the Party.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—In the Public Accounts Committee yesterday Col. Amyot discovered the identity of the mysterious Bancroft whose connection with the Kingston graving dock contract has been so much discussed in the House and committees.

Michael Connolly admitted that he himself was Bancroft; that he had made out the tender in the name of Bancroft; had introduced W. R. Hughes, one of his foremen, as Bancroft to the secretary of the Department; wrote to the Department in Bancroft's name saying that he was associated with the Connollys and praising their firm highly; bought a box at the Kingston postoffice in Bancroft's name, and in fact was Bancroft.

Mr. Lister then recalled Arnoldi of brass dog fame, as to who paid for the propeller wheel fitted into his yacht. He heard that the Government never paid for the wheel made by Lawson of Ottawa for the boat. Lawson, he swore, also admitted having taken Bancroft's tender to the Department of Public Works and handed it in.

Witness swore he didn't know how the dogs came to Ottawa. He first saw them in his house. He never knew how they came. "You must remember, Mr. Lister, I received a great many presents."

He afterwards, he said, met his electric friend who sent him the dogs and enquired how he sent them, and his friend replied, "I'll be hanged if I know." (Laughter.)

As to the duty on dogs, he had gone the other day to the custom collector and said a matter of dogs was now before the public and I want you to appraise them. He did so and I paid the duty. This was since the investigation began. The dogs came to Ottawa in 1885.

Witness used men in the public works as workmen at his house which he had built in 1885, but said their names were deducted from the public pay list.

Premier Mackenzie, witness said, had men from the department down at his house, and said that if the premier had he could. (Laughter.)

George McCullough of Ottawa has for years supplied fuel for the public buildings under Arnoldi's directions. Arnoldi was asked if he ever received a gift from Mr. McCullough. He replied that he never did, but when Lister asked if he had not received a gift of tandem harness worth $100 he said he had, but it was a loan only. (Laughter.)

Asked again about gifts of jewelery to his family from Chanteloup of Montreal, Government contractors, witness denied receiving for his wife diamond earrings, but acknowledged a pincase and pencil of gold set with cat's eyes. Previously he had sworn to receiving other gifts from Chanteloup.

Witness now grew indignant and said Mr. Mackenzie's private secretary received a gold watch once, and Perley's predecessor received presents and yet they were not branded as scoundrels and hounded to death.

The committee received this with great laughter.

Mr. Lister reminded Arnoldi that he had formerly sworn to Mr. Mackenzie giving a contract to Mr. Steed of Sarnia, and paying the account to John King, and professed the contract, which he handed in. Arnoldi, who examined it and then admitted that the contract was not given to Steed, but to the Sarnia Ship Building Co., of which King was president.

This ended Arnoldi, and Mr. Lister moved that M. Berthiaume, of La Presse, Montreal, be summoned to appear before the Public Accounts Committee and produce all the documents in the suit between the La Presse publishing Company and the New England paper Company. The enquiry bore on the paper furnished the Government printing bureau.

Mr. Foster demanded reasons for ordering all these papers, and Mr. Lister said his instructions were that the Secretary of State had interest in La Presse, a rival paper of Montreal. The Government owned the New England Paper Company to $10,000, and they have notes for the debt endorsed by Chapleau, accompanied by a written agreement that a percentage of the profits on any paper sold by the New England Paper Company to the Government of Canada should be applied in reduction of La Presse's debt of $10,000. This, he said, if true, was a most corrupt arrangement, and he was informed that the agreement was made with the knowledge of the Secretary of State.

Mr. Chapleau rose and declared he had no knowledge of such agreement. He had a large interest in La Presse and had signed notes for Berthiaume, the lessee, but only because Berthiaume was a friend. The New England Paper Company never received a contract from the Government, but by accident once they supplied 240 or 250 reams of paper out of a total consumption of 100,000 or 120,000 a year.

The litigation going on arose out of the breaking of the agreement now spoken of. Mr. Young of Montreal might have said to Mr. Berthaume, "If I was getting Government contracts I might make you a reduction off, but it would be strange," added Mr. Chapleau, if I was a party to that transaction, because Young never had a contract from my department. La Presse, in which I have been largely interested for three years, has never asked for more than $200 or $300 worth of Government patronage and has never asked for a subscription from a political party.

This reference to the subscription by McGreevy to Le Cande, Sir Hector Langevin's newspaper, was regarded as another of Chapleau's sly hits at his rival, Langevin.

Chapleau asked Lister to take a manly course in making his charge in the House and getting it referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

Quimet, as counsel for Berthiaume, said La Presse broke its agreement with the New England Paper Company. Chapleau's firm, he said, was solicitors for the New England Company and Chapleau was president of La Presse Company.

Mr. Lister: Was it a condition of that agreement that any profits on Government contracts would be applied to the reduction of these notes endorsed by Chaplau?

Quimet: There was something of that kind.

Mr. Lister amended his motion so as to order George H. Kernack, Clerk of the Court of Review, Montreal, to bring the original agreement on file in that court before the committee.

Quimet promised to get it and produce it himself. The order then passed.

Privileges and Elections.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—In the Privileges and Elections Committee yesterday, while Mr. German was cross-examining Mr. Thomas McGreevy, he asked him what had become of the $30,000 unaccounted for of the $55,000 which he admitted receiving from the firm for political purposes. "Thirty-five thousand dollars he (witness) had said went to 50 people. Where did the other $35,000 go?" Mr. German asked.

Mr. McGreevy refused to answer. It was a matter of confidence, and the money was mixed with other accounts.

Mr. German asked for the ruling of the chairman whether the witness ought not to be made to answer.

The committee was awaiting for the ruling when Mr. J. J. Curran, member for Montreal Centre, stepped forward, and with a pale face and in a high voice he addressed Mr. McGreevy:

"Did you not show me," he asked, last year when I read your statement in the House a receipt from Mr. Tarte for $30,000?"

There was a sensation in the committee at this question. The witness made no reply.

Mr. Tarte rose and passionately declared the way Mr. Curran had put his question implied something that was not true. It was true he had paid and been paid amounts for political purposes, but he had not been implicated in anything more. He demanded that the chairman require Mr. McGreevy to produce the check and so far as he was concerned, he said, he was not afraid of the strictest enquiry.

At the afternoon sitting Mr. German renewed the question to McGreevy: "To whom did you give the balance of the $55,000 received from Larkin, Connolly & Co. after paying $35,000 to Le Monde?"

McGreevy refused to answer.

Mason asked if the party who got it knew that it came from L., C. & Co.

McGreevy said he did not.

German moved that the refusal be reported to the House. The motion was adjourned until a larger number of the committee were present.

Mr. Quimet—He said he never gave $3000 to Le Courier du Canada or anyone for it.

Mr. Amyot read portions of a large number of letters signed Thomas McGreevy, which have been already published, and asked if they were forgeries. Mr. McGreevy said they were not.

To Mr. Tarte he said he paid Mr. Desjardins (L'Islet) money for Le Canadien in 1890. This was before Mr. Tarte became proprietor. He thought the amount was $15,000.

Mr. Tarte said he was not on oath, but was prepared to say that he never made one cent out of the paper.

Continuing Mr. McGreevy said this was from his own friends and did not come from Larkin, Connolly & Co.

Mr. Davies read this passage from the accountants' report of their examination of Thomas McGreevy's books: "These books shows direct dealings with Sir Hector Langevin, notes amounting to $10,000 have been current from early in 1878 to June, 1891. The notes, $3000, $3300 and $3800 have recurred each four months as bills receivable unchanged as to amount through these 12 years. The account 'H. L. Langevin' begins on 13th March, 1878, as a note account. The transactions can be traced back to 21st June, 1874, when a note of $7500 is charged to the account of Tarte and Desjardins. Later between 8th July and 7th Sept., 1874, 14 cash payments amounting in all to $2000 are charged to the same firm's account and are offset by a note 'H. L. L. for $2000 due 2nd Nov., 1874."

McGreevy admitted that the notes were renewed every four months and that he paid the interest himself. The notes were discounted in the Union Bank.

Mr. Tarte: Is it not a fact that you have been endorsing notes for Sir Hector Langevin's private use for a long time.

Mr. McGreevy: No, only for this lot of notes that I know of.

Mr. Tarte repeated the question: Is it not a fact that I went with Sir Hector to you to get you to endorse his notes.

Mr. McGreevy: Oh, you may have. [Laughter.]

To Mr. Lister he said Sir Hector's indebtedness commenced in 1876. It increased until about 1878 it amounted to the present sum. Every four months he renewed the notes he endorsed for Sir Hector and paid the notes out of his own pocket. The interest was not added to the notes. Some of the notes were given to help Sir Hector in the Charlevoix election. The rate of interest was 7 per cent, which he was paying. He never charged Sir Hector anything for interest. He could not tell what the balance of the notes for.

Mr. Lister: Did you lend or pay Sir Hector money for elections other than those charged here?

The chairman objected that this did not come within the order of reference. But after listening to argument he allowed the question.

Mr. Lister: Have you since 1882 paid to Sir Hector Langevin any money for political or other purposes?

Mr. McGreevy: No.

Mr. Lister: To anyone for Sir Hector?

Mr. McGreevy: I refuse to answer. It does not come within this inquiry.

Mr. Davies: Did you pay anything for Sir Hector's election in 1887?

Mr. McGreevy: I refuse to answer on the same grounds.

Mr. Davies then moved that refusal of witness to answer these questions be reported to the House of Commons. This motion was carried by vote of six to seven, two Conservatives voting with Liberals for the motion.

Proceeding witness said he speculated with Murphy in stocks in 1888, and I don't find checks given by himself to Murphy in 1888 and in 1889 for various large sums which he said were given in connection with stock transactions. Murphy bought stock on margin account and he advanced purchase money. He sold some Richelieu's Company's stock to Murphy in 1889 and received a check from him in payment. Payment of $3000 mentioned by Murphy as having been paid to witness was for Le Courier du Canada newspaper, owned by Mr. Chapais, Sir Hector's son-in-law.

William Baskerville, contractor, Ottawa, said his firm had tendered for the Esquimalt dock. After the tender had been put in Mr. Perley, Chief Engineer, told him that if he would send a letter to the Minister amending his tender in a certain way his firm would get the contract. He wrote the letter as directed by Perley, but did not get the contract.

Mr. Mulock asked witness if any person had approached him or asked him to do something in order to get his tender accepted.

Witness answered that he had conversation with some parties about the matter.

Mr. Mulock: Do you know a man named John Heney of Ottawa?

Witness: I do.

Mr. Mulock: Did he ask you to do something to get your tender accepted.

Mr. Osler objected to the question on the ground that it did not come within the scope of the Tarte charges.

Mr. Lister claimed that it was charged that tenders had been got out of the way. It had been pretended that Mr. Osler and the Minister of Justice were anxious to sift this scandal to the bottom, but now they were obstructing enquiry.

Messrs. Davis and Mills argued that the committee was charged with the duty of enquiry into all circumstances connected with the contracts referred to in the charges.

After a long wrangle the chairman ruled that the question was in order if Mr. Mulock would say he proposed to bring out evidence directly bearing upon the charges.

Mr. Mulock said that threw responsibility upon the committee and Government. His information was that John Heney, an Ottawa alderman and Government contractor, had approached this witness and told him that if he would give him (Heney) a marked check for $10,000 his tender would be accepted.

Mr. Osler said that in view of Mr. Mulock's statement he would withdraw his objection.

Witness then said: John Heney told me that if I would give him a check for $10,000 I would get the contract and that if I did not get the contract I would get the check back. He had asked Heney if he was acting for McGreevy's firm but he refused to state. Heney repeated the proposal several times but he never entertained it. This occurred in the summer of 1884. Heney assured him that he had means of securing the contract. The contract was not awarded then, but new tenders were called for.

To Mr. Osler witness said that he believed Heney's proposal was serious. After he found that his tender had been ignored and new tenders called for. He had no hope of getting the contract until Perley told him to send in a letter making certain changes in the firm's tender. Perley told Sir Hector Langevin had decided that if he (witness) would amend his tender he would have the contract.

Mr. Davies read the report from Perley to Langevin recommending that Baskerville's tender for the Esquimalt dock be accepted.

Heney had approached him first while the tender was before the council.

Messrs. Cross & Lang, expert accountants, testified to the accuracy of their report upon Thomas McGreevy's account.

They Wanted to Withdraw.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 8.—At the Railway Committee of the Senate yesterday the promoters of the Baie des Chaleurs Railway bill wanted to withdraw it and thus avoid the enquiry which the committee determined to institute. Mr. Ogilvie made a motion that the committee report to the Senate, asking consent for the withdrawal. This was hotly opposed. The supporters of withdrawal argued that it was without precedent that when the promoters of a private bill asked to be allowed to withdraw their bill that they should be refused, and they contended as well that now that so much had been made public the matter might be left with the Opposition in the Quebec Legislature to finish the enquiry. Anyway, they said the charge did not concern this part of Canada, but of Quebec, and it should be left to the people of Quebec to deal with them. The opponents of the motion took the ground that inasmuch as money of the Parliament of Canada had gone into the road, the bill was of a quasi-public character and it was the duty of the Senate as a part of the Parliament of Canada to investigate the expenditures on the enterprise, the more because 40 miles of the road remains unbuilt. The motion was defeated on a vote of 9 to 17.

Mr. Barwick was then called upon to present his evidence. Mr. Barwick's first witness was C. N. Armstrong, Sir Hector Langevin's nephew and the contractor for the railway. The witness was not present. The messenger who served the subpœna swore he served it to Mr. Armstrong.

Hon. F. Langelier, M.P., will represent Mr. Mercier's Government. Ernest Pacaud has been summoned to appear.

The case will be again called on Monday.

IS THIS ANOTHER MURDER?

Body of a Girl Found in Niagara River—Two Men Arrested.

NIAGARA FALLS, Aug. 8. Early yesterday morning the body of a young woman probably 20 years of age was found in the river among some weeds a little below Lewiston N. Y. The body apparently had been in the water but a few hours. It was plainly dressed in a dark colored dress and striped blouse, dark complexion and well formed features and about 5 feet 4 inches. The woman was recognized by the hands of the Chicora as a passenger on that boat a day or two ago.

Two young men giving their names as Lawrence Costello and James Daley, hailing from Rochester and Cleveland, were on their way to Toronto. Daley claims to be a wood-finisher, while Costello says he is a painter, and both claim to have formerly resided in Toronto. The two men were arrested on suspicion and are in the custody of the local authorities at Lewiston and they will have a hearing tomorrow at the coroner's inquest.

The general opinion is that the woman met her death by suicide, as she was seen to act strangely about the dock yesterday by the villagers, while few think she met her death by foul play.

Later: After the body was found a hat, parasol, purse and torn postal card marked "H.D." were found near the grove. They are supposed to have belonged to the unfortunate girl and possibly may throw some light on who she is. The police have had the dead girl photographed in order to assist them in locating her identity.

The girl's body was found shortly before the Chicora arrived at Lewiston and many of the passengers saw it. Among others aboard were Charley Tuck, a waiter at Webb's restaurant. He thought the face resembled that of Miss Pearson, cashier at Mr. Webb's establishment. Mr. Barlow Cumberland, who was a passenger on the boat, is familiar with Miss Pearson's features and he also thought the features resembled those of the young lady.

On enquiry in Toronto it was ascertained that Miss Pearson was out of the city on holidays and that she was expected to arrive home by the Chicora last night. These coincidences confirmed people in the belief that Mr. Webb's pretty and popular cashier in some unexplainable way had met a shocking death. This belief was accepted among her companions in the place.

A call at the house of Miss Pearson's parents, 420 Wilton-crescent, elicited these facts: Miss Pearson and her sister a month ago went on a visit to some cousins in Seymour, Connecticut. The parents received a letter on Thursday stating that the girls would leave for New York on Thursday morning. They would spend the day visiting in New York, perhaps stay over night there and then take train for home. If the girls carried out their program it would be physically impossible for them to be at Lewiston at the hour at which this body was found let alone earlier.

A Miss Cole of 1914 King street east called at the Toronto Police Headquarters and said the description of the drowned girl tallied with a sister of hers who was missing.

The police in Toronto surmise that the man Daley who has been arrested is James Daley of Crocker avenue and that Lawrence Costello belongs to 33 Hackney street.

Foul play is suspected, as the body when found was standing slightly bent in about three feet of water with the skirt thrown over the head and tightly twisted under the throat, while signs of a struggle are visible on the shore and about half way to the tip of the bank. Two young ladies from Lewiston say they saw the two men and the deceased girl in company late yesterday afternoon.

JACK THE RIPPER AGAIN

THE WHITECHAPEL BUTCHER IS AGAIN AT HIS WORK

An Old Woman Stabbed and Mutilated in a Dark Alley—The Fiend Escapes, Leaving No Trace Except the Victims Lured from Their Native Stream.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Much excitement was occasioned in the Whitechapel district this morning from a rumor that "Jack-the-Ripper" had again appeared and committed another butchery.

At an early hour yesterday morning as one of the inhabitants of Whitechapel, an old woman named Wolfe, was passing through one of the numerous dark alleys with which the region abounds, she was set upon by an unknown man armed with a sharp knife. The place where the assault was made was dark and dismal.

The man grasped the woman by the head, and drawing her backward, he, with one hand across her mouth, silenced the cries she would naturally have tried to make, while with the other hand he drew the keen-bladed knife across her tightly-drawn throat, inflicting a terrible wound.

Then using the knife as a dagger, he plunged it into her body again and again.

There is a deep wound on the woman's arm, which it is believed was received while she was attempting to ward off the ferocious blows aimed at her body.

When released from the grasp of her assailant the woman dropped to the ground with the blood pouring from her wounds, and when shortly afterward she was discovered by a passing policeman she was unconscious and in a dying condition. She is 70 years old.

The police are hunting for the assassin. He has disappeared, leaving no trace save his mutilated victim.

The woman was taken to an hospital, and after a time she recovered sufficiently to tell of the attack made upon her. She is a German, and, unlike the other women murdered and mutilated in Whitechapel, she was not in the company of the man who attacked her, but passing along the street when, without warning, the assassin sprang upon her. She saw the glitter of the uplifted steel blade, but was unable to escape from the grasp of her assailant. She raised her arm to defend her throat from the blow aimed at it and it was through this movement that the wound in her arm was received. When her assailant released her from his grasp she fell upon a doorstep.

Despite her terrible injuries she still retained possession of her senses, and though the wound in her throat was bleeding furiously, she was able to articulate, the weapon not having reached the windpipe. Several persons passed while she was lying on the door step and though they endeavored to ascertain what the trouble was, she could not speak English sufficiently well to make them understand that an attempt had been made to murder her.

It is understood that the police found a razor covered with blood near the scene of the crime.

The wound in the woman's throat could have been caused by a razor, as could also the deep cut in her arm, but from the nature of the deep wounds it was believed they were caused by either a knife or a dagger, as they appear to be stab wounds, and such as would not be made with a razor. One man has been taken into custody on suspicion.

Arrest of a Price Depressor.

MADRID, Aug. 8.—A well-known and heavy operator in Government securities was arrested at Barcelona yesterday on the charge of being a party to the recent conspiracy to depress prices on the Bourse. The police found in the possession of the prisoner a number of letters which prove beyond doubt that he was concerned in the attack upon the barracks and that the affair was not a revolutionary movement but simply a novel and most desperate scheme to originate startling rumors, and thus allow the operators concerned to "bear" the market.

Bad Crops in Austria.

VIENNA, Aug. 8.—Bad weather is spoiling the crops in many districts in Austria and Hungary. It is impossible to harvest on account of continuous rain. A hurricane yesterday in Lower Austria, Moravia and Upper Hungary destroyed the season's vintage. In the Gumpoldskirchen district many of the rivers have overflown and the adjacent country for miles is inundated. Several persons have been killed by falling trees and houses.

Rumors of a Big Railway Deal.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 8.—An Ottawa despatch published here says: It is learned from a trust worthy source that a big railway deal affecting Manitoba is on the tapis. The information given is to the effect that the M. & N. W. Railway after acquiring the Northern Pacific in Manitoba will in turn be absorbed by the Canadian Pacific. The reasons for this alleged roundabout course are obvious. Mr. Van Horne's visit to London with Contractor James Ross is stated to have had no relation to Grand Trunk affairs, but simply with regard to the Manitoba deal. Manitoba and Northwestern will be extended, so the story goes, and already James Ross has ordered the dispatch of a surveying outfit beyond the present terminus of the road.

Lightning's Deadly Flashes.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 8. Lightning struck dwelling of farmer named David Martens, near Marden, setting fire to house, instantly killing Mrs. Martens and stunning Mr. Martens and six children.

A Moosejaw despatch says: Mrs. John McGinnis, wife of John McGinnis, farmer, was killed by lightning about four miles south of here yesterday. McMillan's grain warehouse was also struck.

A Mutilated Body at Weston.

WESTON, Aug. 8.—At above five o'clock yesterday morning Mr. P. Lantenslayer, night-operator on the G. T. R. here, went to put out a switch light when a ghastly sight met him. It was the mutilated body of a man lying beside the track. The body is that of a man about 20 years old. One leg and one arm are severed and the breast is crushed. The body was taken to the freight sheds, where it is as yet unidentified. Deceased has probably fallen from a freight train and been run over.

A Murderous Deaf Mute.

MILTON, Aug. 8.—Robert George Johnson, a deaf mute hailing from Belleville, was tried before the judge yesterday charged with threatening to cut Edith Tansley's throat. The prisoner went to the house of Edward Peer and wrote on a slate, "wanted work or help" and that he would slap Edith Tansley, a neighbor girl. Wrote on slate on Monday morning that there would be blood shed on her before night; took out his knife, opened it and drew it across his throat several times.

Deserted the Twins.

HAMILTON Aug. 8.—A colored family named Grean arrived at the Black Horse Hotel with a peculiar-looking outfit a few days ago. Last night the couple left and when the blankets and filth in the wagon were turned over two little colored babies, apparently twins, were found asleep in the bottom of the wagon. The vehicle is reeking with filth. The children were placed in charge of a colored woman in the neighborhood, who cleaned them up.

From Horses' Kicks.

ELMIRA, Ont., Aug. 8.—William Martin, aged 12, in the employ of Aaron Weber, had his eye kicked out by a horse yesterday.

HAMILTON, Aug. 8.—Alexander White, aged 7, had his skull crushed in by a fractious horse while playing around his father's cottage at Burlington yesterday.

Just as Good.

Say some dealers who try to sell a substitute preparation when a customer calls for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not allow any such false statements as this induce you to buy what you do not want. Remember that the only reason for making it is that a few cents more profit will be made on the substitute. Insist upon having the best medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is peculiar to itself.

TURNBULL'S.

We want to call attention to a large lot of Lace Curtains we are opening out and marking; there is nothing attractive in a large lot unless they are being sold at prices that will save money to the purchaser. This is just what we purpose to do. We show a Curtain, taped and bound, at 60c. a pair, a still better one for 75c., and a beauty for $1, while the best in the lot are only $1.50. We have cleared out whole lines at greatly reduced prices is how we are able to offer such inducements. We have opened out to-day and placed on our second floor a nice range of new patterns in Hemp Carpets, some of these are very desirable.

To-day we open our first shipment of Ladies' Mantles for Fall. They are a very stylish lot. Parties wanting one for a special occasion early will be glad to know that they can now see the new fall styles with us. We have received the invoice of a lot of Dress Goods, they will be opened before this appears in print. We have also got nearly all the shades of very pretty Plaids for making over dresses. We need hardly remind the public that everything stylish, serviceable and cheap is kept on our counters.

In our Tailoring Department we are showing some fresh patterns of Heavy Weight Tweeds at from $15 to $17 a suit, especially suited for elderly men. Ask to see our heavy pantings at 50c. a yard, made out of the best of wool.

ROWSE'S

A customer remarked this morning, "How bright and cheery your store is." Indeed this is frequently heard at 265. We are going to have our store as bright as a button during August. Yesterday we were very busy selling Summer Goods and also had a number of customers for early Fall Goods. Our aim is to get below everyone else in price, and knowing once my we succeed very well.

Our reputation is now established as the house for Corsets. The D. & A. is a seller every time. Even the travellers for other corsets acknowledge it has no equal for the price. We're making a clean sweep of all Summer Goods. Embroideries at 3c., Gloves at 5c., Dress Goods at 3½, Specials 30c. doz., Ribbons at 2c., Parasols 25c., Good Tweeds at 25c., Mantle Cloths worth $1.25 for 75c., Colored Silks during August at 49c. worth $1.00.

You say it is impossible to sell so cheap. We can assure you that George Washington and our advertisement's alike, bear the reputation of truth. Trade with us.

NASAL BALM

It is a certain and speedy cure for Cold in the Head and Catarrh in all its stages.

SOOTHING, CLEANSING, HEALING.

Instant Relief, Permanent Cure, Failure Impossible.

Many so-called diseases are simply symptoms of Catarrh... such as headache, partial deafness, offensive breath, ringing noises, sneezing, hawking, hoarseness, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. If you are afflicted with any of these or similar symptoms, you have Catarrh, and unless cured, tend to Consumption, Insanity and Death. In the early stages, Catarrh may be cured in from one to three months by the use of NASAL BALM. In chronic cases, where the nasal passages are almost entirely closed up, and the sense of smell and taste lost, a cure may be confidently expected within six months. NASAL BALM is sold by all druggists throughout the world. A treatise on Catarrh will be sent, post paid, to any address on receipt of price (50 cents and $1.00) by...

NEVER FAILS CURES COLD IN HEAD AND CATARRH

Daily Examiner.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 8, 1891.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.

Lieut Col. Morin, has received the appointment of Registar of Welland, made vacant by the death of Dr. Everard. Mr. Morin is well qualified for the position, and his services to the country which he represented in the last two Legislatures, entitled him to the recognition the appointment implies. Col. Morin was a faithful and energetic representative, a most valuable worker on committees, and always solicitous for the promotion of the interests of the grand old constituency that received and gave honor in having him for its representative. The EXAMINER cordially congratulates both the county and the Colonel on his appointment to this important position,

THE CAR WORKS BY-LAW.

It is generally known that a public meeting has been called to discuss the various features of the Car Works by-law which is to be submitted to the vote of the duly qualified ratepayers on Tuesday, August 18th. It is highly proper that such a meeting should be held—and it is also desirable that there shall be a full attendance of the ratepayers, so that every section and interest of the community may be represented. In view of the importance of the proposal, it is also to be hoped that the fullest discussion will be made, that every point for and against the adoption of the by-law may be elicited, so that the material may be available for a sound and dispassionate judgment upon the merits of the proposed new industry, and upon the wisdom of extending the encouragement solicited. It will be well for all to recollect that the question of the establishment of new manufactories in town is one of the most vital importance to the town — that upon manufactories depends the future growth and prosperity of Peterborough—that the present manufacturing standing of the town is only a beginning—and that our natural and created advantages in the shape of water power and railway communication, fit the town to be the greatest manufacturing centre in the province. While this is the case, the people should be careful not to reject any proposition without due and dispassionate investigation, nor to compromise the town by too hastily endorsing any proposition. It will be well therefore for all, who attend the meeting on Monday evening next to go with their minds as fully cleared as possible of all prejudice or preconceived notions that may have been formed in the absence of a full knowledge of all the facts. Let there be full, free, friendly discussion of the matter and may the decision arrived at be in the direction of the promotion of the best interests of the town.

The Defence.

The revelations of corruption, bad as they are, are not more disgraceful than the lying which has been done by the accused in the McGreevy inquiry. When Rykert was first charged with taking in Sands he vehemently denied it in the House amid the applause of fellow-boodlers. Uncle Thomas followed this example. In the session of 1890, Mr. Barron drew attention to certain letters printed in Le Canadian, Mr. Tarte's paper. These letters form part of the mass of proof piled against Uncle Thomas and the department during the past two months. They were the ones in which he informed his brother what the department was doing about the Cross-wall tenders. Murphy had promised him $25,000 if he would secure the contract for Larkin & Co. Gallagher's tender was a and Beauvage's was little better, but that of Peters & Moore, which was lower than Larkin's, had to be got rid of somehow; and to this job, which was ultimately accomplished by the process of "figuring up and figuring down," Uncle Thomas applying himself with his usual energy. Mr. Barron also referred to sworn statements by Murphy and Robert McGreevy published in the same paper. These charged Uncle Thomas with profiting by the contracts, and outlined his whole connection with the frauds. Mr. Barron's first inquiry was made on May 7, 1890. Mr. Carran, on behalf of Uncle Thomas, read a reply in which he categorically denied the charges, and virtually accused his brother and Murphy of seeking to ruin him by lying and forgery. He likewise declared that he had never owned the steamer Admiral and had never had a contract with the Government on account of that vessel. On Wednesday he took the stand and notwithstanding the array of testimony against him undertook to establish his innocence by dint of hard swearing. Yet with all his effrontery he was obliged to make damaging admissions to his own counsel, amongst them that he had lied when he had told the House that he had nothing to do with the Admiral. Under Mr. Geoffrion's cross-examination yesterday the unhappy man was "made a hare of." How could it be otherwise? His letters show that he watched the department and had the run of it on behalf of Larkin & Co. The correspondence of Michael Connolly and Larkin, still his friends, proves that they recognized him as their agent and benefactor —"Bre Uncle Tom," "Stick to Tom," "By all means keep in with Friend Thomas", "Friend Tom as can work it," "Hon. Thomas has the whole thing in the bollow of his hand," and so on. Then there is the fact that officers of the department were bribed, that frauds were perpetrated in connection with every contract that he had a hand in in procuring for the firm, and that he received large sums of money from them; lastly it has been shown that he was Sir Hector's intimate friend and the treasurer of the reptile fund, which the thieving contractors kept full. The most robust and skilful of perjurers would quail before such overwhelming proofs, and Uncle Thomas cuts a humiliating figure in his efforts to extricate himself from the web. As might have been expected, he states that the engineer Boyd gave him most of the information he got from the department about the Cross-wall. Boyd is dead and cannot speak. With regard to the other transactions his memory is as defective as that of Michael Connolly. When confronted with the tell-tale letters or other documents his replies are false on their face.

Another of Mr. Barron's inquiries was made in the House on May 13, 1890. He asked for an explanation from Sir Hector about the Cross-wall letters.—"The tenders for the Cross-wall only arrived here yesterday and are locked up till Monday when he will commence his calculations. I will write you Tuesday and let you know the result," with other of a like character. Mr. Blake pointed out to Sir Hector that it was evident that Uncle Thomas had been in league with somebody connected with his department:

"Such a condition of things," said Mr. Blake, "could have been effective only by means of the complicity of some of the tion. Minister's department. That it was so seems to be fairly indicated by the correspondence, and, therefore, even in these last hours of the session. I call on the Hon. Minister to do again with respect to this new development as he agreed to do with respect to the other developments (of May 7)—to repeat at the earliest moment his pledge that he will make an inquiry and give us the result, so that we may not close this session, with such an apparent stain resting on the Hon. gentleman's department as exists to-day."

Sir Hector's answer is worth noting. "Mr. Speaker," he said, "my attention was called to these three letters, I think, two days ago, and I gave orders at once to examine and inquire about the contents of these letters; in so far as my department is concerned, I intend to take measures to see whether there has been any indiscretion in the department, if there was any indiscretion." A curiously worded sentence this. It reads like the answer of a man who felt that the lee was thin, but it satisfied the House which at that time, of course, knew nothing of the case. When Sir Hector goes upon the stand he should be asked if he to did not lie to Parliament. A few minutes before prorogation (May 16) he rose and said:—

"I told the hon. member for West Durham (Mr. Blake) the other day that I would cause inquiry to be made in my department in reference to the matter in connection with the Quebec harbour improvements to which he referred. I now submit the papers. The result so far obtained in the inquiry made respecting the tenders of the Cross-wall harbour works, Quebec, does not show that any person connected with the department was guilty of indiscretion, or that any of them has given information to any person outside of the department. The officers who by the nature of their duties might have had cognizance of the tenders and who still belong to the department declare that they did not give such information to any person. (See attached letters of the deputy, Mr. Baillairge; the chief engineer, Mr. Perley; the present secretary, Mr. Gobeil; the chief engineer's stenographer, Mr. Lightfoot, and the mail clerk, Mr. O'Brien). The assistant engineer, Mr. Boyd, in whose handwriting the extension of the tenders was made; Mr. Ennis, who was secretary of the department in 1883; and Mr. James Walsh, the correspondence clerk, who wrote the letters and reports to Council, presumably under Mr. Ennis' orders and as his dictation, are now dead; but they never gave any reason to suspect their discretion. The inquiry will be continued."

Was it true that Sir Hector had made a bona fide investigation? If so, how did it happen that he did not learn that both Perley and Lightfoot had been bribed by Uncle Thomas' principals? How was it that he failed to discover the heinous fraud perpetrated in the letting of the Cross-wall contract which has just been reported on by Messrs. Jennings and Macdougall acting for the Privileges Committee? And why did he not tell Parliament of some of his own "indiscretions," say, the application of $25 000 of Larkin & Co.'s steamage to the purchase of Le Monde, his special organ in the press, to which Uncle Thomas confessed yesterday? A very modest inquest conducted by the Minister in dead earnest would have put him on the trail of some of the scandals. But the Minister, as we know now, was himself implicated. If he was not privy to the frauds he was guilty of criminal neglect and carelessness in allowing them to occur, not in one work merely but in every single work let by the department to these contractors; and he was doubly guilty in accepting contributions from them or from the member of Parliament and harbor commissioner who, to his knowledge, if Valin is to be believed, was backing them in a suspicious manner. On the whole it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that Sir Hector's response to Mr. Blake and Mr. Barron was in effect as big a falsehood as that which Uncle Thomas put on paper for the deception of the House.

When one remembers that Mr. Tarte has had to deal with a number of unwilling witnesses—Uncle Thomas, Larkin, the Connollys, Perley, bribed foremen like Milne, etc—and with officials whose interest lies in protecting their superiors, especially their Minister; and that in addition to this the Government, as he declares, left no stone unturned to hush up the matter in the first instance and to silence persons whose testimony was known to be damaging, one cannot but marvel at the strength of the case which he has presented. If everything were eliminated but the report of Jennings and Macdougall and the letters and admissions of Uncle Thomas they alone would suffice to place Sir Hector in the dilemma of being either a superlative rascal or a man entirely unfit to have charge of a spending bureau. How he proposes to defend himself remains to be seen. But it is clear that he will not help his cause by adopting Uncle Thomas' shameless tactics, and still less by pleading ignorance, for that would simply be heaping up proof of his incapacity.—Globe.

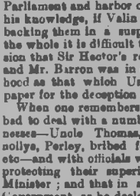
Sufferers

FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.



Dr. T. E. Hastings, of Baltimore, says: "Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of my profession."

Dr. John W. Brown, of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills."—G. S. Wanderlich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P. Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contents by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig. June 27th, 1891.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

NAVAL HOMING BIRDS.

EXPERIMENTS SHOWING THE VALUE OF CARRIER PIGEONS.

Intelligent Creatures That Can Be Taught Many Things of Value During War-Time—No Danger that They Will Return to Any but Their Own Ships.

The late manoeuvers of the French fleet of evolution at Toulon, says the New York Herald, have demonstrated the usefulness and advantage of homing pigeons for naval purposes. During a sham attack on the port of Toulon the trained pigeons of the central station were distributed among the scouts and torpedo cruisers which were stationed to watch the approach of the enemy's fleet. The pigeons were released at intervals thus enabling the prefet maritime of the port of Toulon to be speedily informed of the approach and movements of the attacking fleet and to keep in constant communication with the ships of the fleet defending the port.

The naval messenger pigeon service was established in France by Admiral Bergasse Dupetit Thouars several years ago with headquarters at Toulon. Every man-of-war leaving Toulon is provided with an outfit of homing pigeons which are released at various distances according to the stage of their respective training. With a few exceptions they return to their home lofts the bearers of cipher dispatches attached in the customary manner in their wings or tails.

A loft has been established on board the gunnery practice ship St. Louis with the view to accustoming the pigeons to the report and smoke of guns. They follow the vessel in her cruise and never mistake her for another.

Their usefulness has been especially demonstrated whenever the ships of the squadron were beyond the range of the heliograph, as they enabled the commander of the fleet to communicate with the shore at long distances when no other means of communication were available

A NICE BIT OF TRAINING.

The ordinary service which the pigeon unconsciously performs by carrying letters, orders, reports, and similar dispatches is based on the natural instinct of the pigeon to return to its own home, to which its nest, mate, and food attract it. In a "there and back" flight, however, the task is to induce the same pigeon—which, unless carried away, as a rule never forsakes its own loft—to fly to another with which it has been previously made acquainted in order to provide itself there with its accustomed food and water and then return to its proper home.

In this manner a pigeon carries a dispatch to a certain spot with a view of obtaining food there. The first message is then removed and an answer substituted, which the pigeon in the completion of its feeding carries back to its own loft. In this way it is possible with a single loft of ten birds trained for this particular work to keep in constant communication by messages two places, either or both of which may be besieged or blockaded.

ITALY ALSO USES THE BIRDS.

After several successful experiments in Italy with homing pigeons on a "there-and-back" flight a continuous service was established between Rome and Civita Vecchia, the latter being selected for these experiments because of its strategic importance. The distance between Rome and Civita Vecchia is forty miles. This remarkable means of communication was obtained only after long and careful training.

Germany, France, Spain, Austria, Italy, Portugal, and Canada maintain numerous pigeon service establishments, which form an important department of their naval and military organizations. Several of them employ pigeons in connection with the defense of the coast as well as on board war and dispatch vessels.

So far no organized service of messenger pigeons has been established in the United States navy. It is to be hoped that such a service will soon be established, as numerous experiments have demonstrated that homing pigeons can fly several hundred miles at sea, that they can be bred and trained on board ship, that they can recognize their own ship among others, and that they can be relied upon to carry news from the fleet to the shore, and under favorable circumstances from the shore to the fleet and from one vessel to another, when beyond the range of heliograph and electrograph.

A naval messenger pigeon service can not be improvised on short notice, as the pigeons require long and careful training before they can be depended upon to carry dispatches. War vessels employed in defending a coast are frequently without the means of transmitting information of the utmost importance to the mainland. By means of trained messenger service they could send communications on shore over a distance of several hundred miles, signal the approach of an enemy's fleet, and report quickly all his movements.

Remedies for Mosquito Bites.

Now that many of us intend to lie ourselves away for the summer, some to the hills and some to the Jersey coast, it would be well to remember our buzzing enemies, who make night and our bodies alike hideous. In such calamity as this a little bottle of witch hazel will be a great convenience to those who remember to take it with them; so, also, will camphor. But if neither of these is at hand, soap rubbed over the bite in a good lather and allowed to dry there is said to be as good as anything for taking away the sting and allaying the itching.

Making a Hole in the Water.

An English inventor has constructed a novel device to do away with the enormous pressure of water against the bows of ocean steamers. It consists of one or more screws on each side of the bow, which throws the water aside and creates a dry well in front of the vessel.

In Progress Science.

It has been noticed in France that those persons engaged in cleaning out the apparatus used in refining petroleum are subject to a skin disease resembling the cancer of chimney sweepers.

The amount of coloring matter in a pound of coal is enormous. It will yield enough magenta to color 300 yards of flannel, two million for 2,360 yards, aurine for 120 yards, and alizarine for 255 yards of Turkey red cloth.

Red stockings are generally colored from matters of aniline which contain large quantities of antimoniac products. When perspiring, this matter becomes soluble, enters the pores of the skin and produces a violent rash.

The highest inhabited place in the world is the Buddhist monastery, Hanle, in Thibet, Asia, 16,000 feet above the sea. Next to this comes Galera, a village in Peru, 15,635 feet. Leadville, Col., has an elevation of 10,200 feet.

NICKEL'S BOOM AT SUDBURY

Has Been Wonderfully Invigorated by Americans and British Capitalists.

SUDBURY, Aug. 7.—Activity in the nickel industry has of late been steadily increasing and solid progress is being made. The results of the experiments by the U. S. Government with nickel that have been received with great interest and satisfaction. It is stated that similar experiments are being quietly made by the British Government, and that in consequence of the results, which are not yet publicly known, a number of British capitalists usually well posted, are investigating heavily in nickel lands. A strong company has been formed in Chicago to operate a property some miles west of Sudbury and another company of leading Canadian investors is being formed to develop the nickel deposits of the Townships of Craig and Moncrief. The new machinery of the Canada Copper Company is now in operation, and the large shipments of nickel matter have inspired great confidence in the future of the district, which is now beyond doubt.

Work on properties in the townships of Trill, Fairbank and Creighton have established the occurrence there of large bodies of ore awaiting development.

Bail Taken from an Alleged Bigamist.

BARRIE, Aug. 7.—Olive E. Bristow (Mrs. James H. Robertson) appeared before the judge to answer to a charge of bigamy. It appears that Mrs. Bristow left her husband in 1886 and went to reside in the township of Medonte, where she married her present husband. Her first husband has now applied for a divorce. The woman was located about 10 miles from Coldwater and brought to Barrie. His Honor accepted bail till Oct. 5, by which time another child will call the prisoner mother.

The G. T. R. Chief Doctor Dead.

MONTREAL, Aug. 7.—Dr. Thomas Anderson Rodger, chief medical officer of the Grand Trunk Railway since 1884 is dead at Montreal. He was in the prime of life, being only 44 years of age. Dr. Rodger was born at Ruth, Ayreshire, Scotland, and came to this country as a boy. He was educated at McGill University from which he graduated as M. D. 1869.

The Rouge River Victim.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Mrs. John Hartel now claims that she has positive evidence that the floater washed ashore at the Rouge River is her husband who disappeared about a year ago. She thinks he registered at the York street Toronto Lodging House as August Werner, in order to conceal his whereabouts from her.

His Life for His Friend.

LISOWAY, Ont., Aug. 8.—Patrick Moran, aged 15, was drowned while bathing at Hennessey's Landing. A lad named Hughes was sinking when Moran swam to his assistance and was carried under by the struggling boy. Hughes was rescued, but the other brave lad perished.

Cable Chat.

Ted Pritchard is shortly going to America to deposit £200 as a challenge to fight any man in the United States.

The British Admiralty has voted £2000 to entertain the officers of the French squadron on their visit to Portsmouth.

Behind the Scenes

On the stage the tinsel, the glitter, the powder and the paint, show forth the meat, but step behind the scenes, and you will behold the truth. The chorus girls are not all "fancy paints them," but rather what they paint themselves; just so with many of the flaming advertisements of so called "catarrh cures." Get back of the scenes, and they are not cures, and the only remedy that is a cure, is Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Lift the curtain and you will find the naked truth to be that this remedy is the one that cures the worst cases of catarrh in the head and no mistake. It is also a remedy in all catarrhal conditions, such as catarrhal headache, catarrh of the throat, ect. o

Nicolet Notes.

"I suffered continual pain from canker of the stomach and my face and body were almost covered with pimples. I tried Burdock Blood Bitters, the first dose occasioned slight pain, but I soon found relief, and after taking 5 bottles I became completely cured. I think B.B.B. the most powerful remedy known to science."—Stephen Edge, Nicolet, P. Q. dw

It is a Very Sad Thing

To see young and beautiful people die when they might just as well live and enjoy health and strength. Many who suffer with coughs, colds and lung troubles, leading to consumption, imagine there is no hope for them, when in reality there is every hope if Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is taken regularly. Spread the news everywhere that this great emulsion will make flesh and blood, cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, sore throats and lung troubles tending to consumption. In big bottles, 50c. and $1 at Peterborough drug stores. dw

Consult Your neighbors.

Any one may find out just what Burdock Blood Bitters is and does by asking a neighbor who has tried it. It rarely fails in making a complete cure of dyspepsia, constipation, sick headache, biliousness and diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. dw

To get relief from indigestion, biliousness, constipation or torpid liver without disturbing the stomach or purging the bowels, take a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills, they will please you. dw

Baby was Sick.

"My baby was very sick with diarrhœa and after everything else had failed I tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; the first dose gave relief and a perfect cure soon resulted." — Mrs. John Clark, Bloomfield, Ont. dw

Can Not Compete.

Miss Maud Grant, of Mountain, Ont., writes, "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaints and diarrhœa. There is nothing to compete with it as it succeeds even in the severest cases." dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

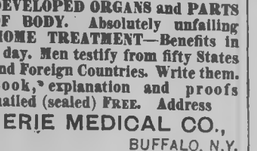
BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliances. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Echo Cottage

A gay party are having a festive time at W. E. McCamus' Echo Cottage on Pigeon Lake, says the Independent. Mr. McCamus is Captain, and Mrs. James Dixon, of Peterborough, performs the duty of chaperone. Cruises during the day and campfires at night fill in the time with no end of jolliity. Tuesday the party cruised over to the village, and did the town. They have now been out a week and the increase in avoirdupois has been tremendous. The weights run from 76 pounds to 186 pounds, and the party totals something over a ton and a half. By next week they will reach two tons if the bakery holds out. The party consists of Mrs. Jas Dixon, Mrs. M. A Dixon, the Misses Violet Dixon, Lily Dixon, Emily Dixon, Maud Mason, Mabel Mason, Helen Mason, Mary Rutherford, Minnie White, and Messrs. W. E. Continuation of the Military League Series —Regular Monthly Match.

The rifle ranges were busily occupied yesterday. The final match in the Military League took place, and at the same time the regular monthly Association match was shot off. The light was described as varying from bright to hazy, wind, left, variable and very strong at times; weather fine, feeling dry. Some good scoring was made, Mr. John Campbell heading the list with 81 points.

Electricity for Lindsay.

Mr. B. D. Frances of Peterborough, says the Lindsay Post, representing the Edison Electric Light Co., was in town for a few days this week making arrangements in conjunction with Mr. Sam. Parkin for the establishment of an arc and incandescent plant in town. He secured a number of subscribers in a short time, and the work of planting poles and wiring the town will be proceeded with at once. The plant will be placed in Mr. Parkins' mill, and the dynamo will be a powerful one.

Emerald Beneficial Association.

The following resolution was unanimously passed at the last regular meeting of St. Peter's branch, No. 21, E.B.A.:—Whereas it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite goodness and wisdom to call from amongst us our late Brother D. E. Donoghue, and whereas this branch has lost by his death a most valued and estimable brother, therefore be it resolved that, while bowing to the will of Divine Providence, we, the officers and members of St. Peter's branch, No. 21, of the Emerald Beneficial Association in session assembled, do hereby express our heartfelt condolence and sympathy to the relatives of the deceased; and be it further resolved that the charter of this branch be draped in mourning for the space of one month out of respect to his memory, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to his relatives and also published in the Catholic Record and Irish Canadian and local press.

Signed on behalf of the Association,

WM. HOGAN, R.S.
G. H. GIROUX.

How to Get There.

You are going on the Court Little John Foresters' excursion to Toronto, Niagara and Buffalo on the civic holiday. Good! Now for fares and trains and boats. You leave town by C.P.R train at 4.45 or 7.10 a.m. for all points reached by the excursion. The Toronto return fare is $1.75; children, 90c; tickets good for two days. If you are going to Niagara the boats leave the Yonge street wharf in Toronto at 11 a.m., 2 p.m. and 4.45 p.m. The run across the lake and up the river to Lewiston is a pleasant experience. Trains meet the boat and take you up to the Bridge and to Niagara Falls. The Niagara Falls return fare from Peterborough is $2; children, $1; tickets good for three days. From Niagara you run on to Buffalo, reaching the city in a short time. The return fare to Buffalo from town is $2.25; children, $1.15; tickets good for three days. On the return trip sharp connections can be made by train and boat both from Buffalo and from the Falls, and in Toronto for Peterborough. Cut this out and keep it. Make up your mind to go on this excursion. Get tickets from local stores as named on posters. c32 33

A Pulpit and Platform Orator.

The Bluevale correspondent of the Wingham Times has the following last week in reference to a reverend gentleman now visiting in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Last Sabbath morning the Presbyterian church was crowded. And was it any wonder? Rev. I. Campbell, Ph. D., of Listowel, had been announced to preach. The Dr. rose in the pulpit and after quietly going through the opening exercises he read his text—"Ye shall have tribulation," (Rev. 2.10.) He was in full sympathy with his subject, and the words fell eloquently and gracefully from his lips as he described to his enraptured hearers, 1 cause, 2 object, 3 duration of the "tribulations" of the human race. The grand old truths of orthodoxy were presented and received by preacher and people respectively, and although the eloquence, beauty and grace of style, of the discourse were enough to have held any audience spellbound, yet logic was not crowded out and every philosophy found a place. In the evening the house was hardly less full than in the morning and none were disappointed, for the Dr. was if anything, more vigorous than before and held his audience in a state of entrancement as if by magic. His text was in Luke 9: 13, and few could have discussed it more ably. Dr. Campbell delivered his celebrated lecture entitled "The Sins of the Pew," on Monday evening. Again the house was full and again they were charmed with their orator; but if Dr. Campbell surprised them by his pulpit oratory he no less astounded them by his platform ability. The subject was a delicate one, but the doctor knew how to handle it, and while the various delinquents of the various pews were duly admonished, the audience was borne unresistingly on by the tide of eloquence and pathos of the orator, while an undercurrent of humour ran through the whole which now and again sent flashes of wit that completely convulsed the hearers.

Two Sentences.

Chas Allard Receives Ten Days in Gaol and Quigley, the Thief Three Months.

Police Magistrate Dumble presided at the police court this morning.

Chas. Allard, the man convicted of expectorating his person on Saturday last, was first disposed of. It will be remembered that Allard pleaded guilty to the one offence in which he was caught, and this morning several letters were received by Mr. Dumble from ladies who had seen Allard in jail and identified him as the man who had insulted them in like manner; and that they were ready to testify in court to that effect if necessary.

In sentencing Allard, Mr. Dumble remarked that prisoner had pleaded guilty to the one charge, but it so happened that some person has for some weeks past been making most open and indecent exhibitions of his person before ladies, and the complaints were so numerous that a strict watch was kept. Allard was the party caught, and his identity proven. It was extraordinary that such a respectable looking man, an industrious man and of whom so many good characters have been given as he (Mr. Dumble) had read, it was extraordinary that such a man, young and married, should openly and in broad daylight with a merely vicious view, so expose himself. He had been in hopes that there might be some mistake about the identity of the person, and whilst he had read certificates of prisoner's character, he had also read letters from three most respectable ladies in town showing that they have identified him. But leaving all these certificates aside as not being made under oath, there was still the prisoner's admission of guilt on the one occasion. He (the magistrate) must therefore come to the conclusion that Allard was the man who not only this time but at other times was

GUILTY OF THREE ACTS.

His conviction was that Allard was in some respects unsound in his mind, which led him to these unseemly and unnatural acts. Prisoner apparently had no other object in view than a vicious tendency to expose himself, but of course it was intolerable in decent society and cannot be allowed to go unpunished. Prisoner has been already in gaol for a week, and the sentence of the court was that he be confined for a further term of ten days with hard labor. It is to be hoped, said Mr. Dumble, this will either cure you or lead you to find quarters where the people are not so fastidious as they are here.

There was a large crowd in court, who evinced great interest in Allard's case. The prisoner is a fine looking, well dressed man, about 30 or 35 years of age. He accepted his sentence with an air of relief, apparently thinking that he had got off very lightly.

THREE MONTHS AT HARD LABOUR.

John Quigley, accused of stealing $5 30 from P. O'Connor at the Cardwell House, and whose trial was recorded the other day, was also sentenced. The magistrate told Quigley that in picking the money off the bed, as he said he did, transferring it to his own pocket with the intention of converting it to his own use, as his subsequent denial that he had the money showed he intended doing, was theft. Prisoner said he did not intend to keep the money, but the magistrate pointed out that his actions did not bear to show that. Quigley was sentenced to three months in gaol at hard labour.

In this connection, the Cobourg Post published the EXAMINER'S account of Quigley's arrest and trial on Tuesday, and adds: "We are surprised that the young man mentioned in the paragraph should be charged with such an offence. If it is our John, it is his first offence. He has always been known as a straightforward, honest, young man, and if the charge is true, a large number of acquaintances will regret his downfall."

—Merit wins, as the marvellous success of Hood's Sarsaparilla shows. It possesses true medicinal merit. Sold by all druggists.

Magistrate Pro Tem.

Police Magistrate Dumble presided at the sittings of the police court to-day, but will be absent again next week, during which time the bench will be occupied by Mr. A. V. R. Young, J. P.

The Fire Fighters' Excursion.

The most delightful excursion of civic holiday will be the Fire Brigade's outing to Chemong Park. Bathing, fishing, boating, a short run, a long stay—early at home, cheap and full of enjoyment. d33

Out Goes the Goods.

Prices does it. When we say things are to go, they go. We mean everything we say. Goods at first cost and less, to clear. No wild statements; absolute facts. $9,500.00 to be cleared in thirty days, and they are going—fast. KNOWLES & Co. 470w

Organ Recital.

Dr. Davies will give one of his popular organ recitals at St. John's Church on Tuesday evening next. Among the selections to be play are the Andante Concolante Opus 70, Weber; Overture for a Military band, Mendelssohn; and Salome's Grand Chœur.

Insulting Ladies on the Streets.

It is very much to be regretted that ladies abroad in the streets at night unattended have been subjected to insult. Still there is consolation and compensation. Every lady has a great privilege, which is available to ladies of no other town in Canada—that of buying hawley bros.' matchless teas.

Annual Labour Demonstration.

At a large and representative labour meeting on Friday evening, it was unanimously decided to hold their annual picnic at Chemong Park. As in the past, it will be held on the first Monday in September, which will be the seventh. An energetic committee was appointed and a good programme of sports will be furnished for the occasion.

The "Gay Hussar."

To night the "Gay Hussar" and other songs, by Mr. T. Dunn, our popular baritone will be reproduced by phonograph at the room of Messrs. Robertson & Quain, 416 George street, also banjo solos by Mr. F. J. Daly, Grand Central. A comical dialect speech on Home Rule by Mr. Walter Wall, of Ottawa, has also been added to the repertoire. This is positively the last night. d33

Sawdust in the Streams.

Inspector Gilchrist had another Lakefield mill owner before P. M. Edmison this morning on a charge of violating the law by allowing sawdust to escape from his mill into the river. Mr. Geo. Baptie, the defendant, was fined $10, it being his first offence and there being mitigating circumstances.

Before P. M. Dumble this afternoon Mr. Mr. Gilchrist further charged Mr. Geo. Hilliard with a like offence. The case was enlarged in order to allow the defendant to make suggested improvements to his mill.

Of Unsound Mind.

A middle-aged healthy looking woman was arrested by Chief Rossel on George street at noon to-day. She was acting and talking strangely and was evidently affected in her mind. She is the wife of a resident of Ashburnham, who recently removed from Otonabee, and is well connected. When arrested there was a child with her. The woman was remanded for a week, but if her husband or friends who have been communicated with, wish to take her home she will be allowed to go.

Nothing Equal—

To the great excursion on Civic Holiday to Chemong, Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, returning by way of Lindsay. Any person desiring to have a first-class day's outing should take advantage of this beautiful circular trip. Remember that those attending will have every comfort and convenience. A first class boat (the fastest boat on the northern waters) and palace scow has been chartered. There will also be an orchestra furnishing in abundance first class music for those wishing to take part in dancing. Therefore don't miss this trip if you wish to have the best day's outing and enjoyment this season. Just think of such a grand sail and fine scenery as this route will furnish—and all it costs is a dollar, children half fare. Take it in by all means. d33-34

"Oh, if I had only taken this medicine earlier in life, what years of suffering it would have saved me!" was the touching exclamation of one who had become cured of rheumatism by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Scores of such cases are on record.

Telfordian Temperature Topics.

Monthly Meteorological Report for July.

Another of our summer months has passed into oblivion, leaving behind it its many incidents ruled by an unseen and powerful hand, causing vacuums and blanks which can never be filled up. The month of July came in with about the usual temperature down to the 12th, when we got a hot breeze from the south, at sunrise the thermometer indicating 60°, at 12 up to 80°, at 2 to 85°, at 3 to 86°, and at 7 it stood at 78°. The 13th was exactly the same in degrees in the given hours, being the two hottest days during the month, although taking morning at 2 p.m. and night together we have the same result, namely 222 degrees. Monday, the 27th, was the coolest day, the maximum standing at 76°, with a sharp frost doing considerable damage throughout the country and leaving the mean temperature of the month as at 57 20-31°. We had rain on 17 days to the depth of three inches and 62-100 of an inch, being rather above the average for July. Six times we had thunder—twice no rain, but during the storms of the 1st and the 14th, it fell 96-100 each time. The 4th and 5th a severe gale from the northwest. Frost on four mornings, that on the 27th doing considerable injury. Five times hail and once fog, but no natural lights this time. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month respectively, namely, west, 2 days; southwest, 3 days; northwest, 13 days; north, one day; northeast, 1 day; southwest, 7 days; south, 2 days and east 2 days.

A Tiger at Large.

Copied from the Toronto Telegram and News.

The new brand of tea introduced into Toronto by the Tiger Tea Co., has taken a strong hold on the public and is found to meet the most critical tests by the consumers and to still further popularize its use, the management have placed it in the Curio Hall of Robinson's Museum, Yonge St., where the young ladies dispense the steaming beverage free gratis. To all those visiting this popular resort, we might mention that the Tiger brand of tea is booming in a way most encouraging to those handling it, and that the ladies of this city have an opportunity of trying and testing this tea before they buy it, and we are safe in saying that the verdict of any one who is particular in regard the tea they drink will be "no competitor but a leader," and will use no other.

NOTE—Messrs. Brown Bros., our well knowns and enterprising grocers, have taken the agency for the celebrated "Tiger Brand of Tea" and will be pleased to furnish free samples to all those calling at their place of business. On trying this tea, if you like it, recommend it to your friends. d33-w33

The distention of the stomach which many people feel after eating, may be due to improper mastication of the food; but in most cases it indicates a weakness of the digestive organs, the best remedy for which is one of Ayer's Pills, to be taken after dinner.

Personal.

Miss Mabel Pritchard left town Wednesday for a trip to the west to visit he uncle Rev. Mr. Pritchard, of Forest, N.Y.

Messrs. W. E. Wright and A. W. Murdock, of Toronto, passed through this morning en route for Stony Lak to join the Echo Camp.

Miss Ruby Patterson of Peterborough, the Post says, is holidaying in Lindsay and at Sturgeon Point, the guest of the Misses McMillan.

"Metronome" in Toronto Saturday Night announces that Master Gussie Arthdge, of Peterborough, will sing to-morrow at both services of the Church of the Redeemer, Toronto.

Mr. R. J. Armstrong, of New Westminster, British Columbia, and Miss Armstrong, of Victoria, B.C., are on a visit to Peterborough the guests of Mrs. Jas. Stratton, 118 Gilmour street.

Mrs. John B. Nicholl's and W.D. Nicholls, of Beatrice, Nebraska, arrived in town today, having been called home to the bedside of their dying father, Mr. Wm. C. Nicholls, McDonel street, whom they found in a very low state. He is not expected to live more than a day or two.

Rev. R. J. Hunter, B.A., of Millbrook, was offered a unanimous call to the Presbyterian church, Ridgetown, Ont. Mr. Hunter is a son of the late Wm. Hunter, of Cedar Valley, and is a graduate of Queen's University and Knox College. He has also been offered a call to Harriston, and to Port Perry, both of which he has declined.

A letter received from Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, Denver, Col., states that he has been recently promoted to the position of Warden of the College of St. John the Evangelist—the second highest position in the gift of the Diocese. It is a cause for satisfaction and rejoicing to the many friends of Rev. Mr. Bradshaw to learn that in the short time he has been in Denver he has risen to such an important position.

Make the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

That Tired Feeling

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. PHEBE MOSHER, 30 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy anything else instead. Insist upon having

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his tortures seemed more than he could bear; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $5 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were ended, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has never as since a sickness and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

THE DOUBLESCULL RACE

HANLAN AND O'CONNOR WIN EASILY BY THREE BOAT LENGTHS.

The Contest Witnessed by 20,000 People —Features of the Race—How the Betting Stood Before the Start—No Put-Up Job in the Contest.

BURLINGTON BEACH, Aug. 8.—The double scull race certainly proved to be the greatest attraction that ever drew a crowd to this place. From everywhere the people came, the great majority, of course, from Hamilton and Toronto. The resident caterers had made every arrangement for entertaining a big crowd and taking and relieving them of their superfluous shekels. No one would believe it unless he saw it, but there they were. Thimble-rigger operators of the notorious sweat boards, wheels of fortune and almost every lake contrivance imaginable.

Among the most notable visitors were Hon. J. A. St. John of St. Louis, Mo. He bet $300 even with Fred Mossop. Dick Dissotte bet $200 even also with Mossop and these were the only large early bets recorded. The event afforded great speculation for the crowd. Hamiltonians canvassed afternoon with their share of boodle, but so mystified were they as to the result that their pocket-books were generally kept closed.

Crier Clark yelled out odds for Billy Stroud who wrote out the tickets. Now Orillia and now Toronto was favorite, and generally $10 was brought up at $10. Hanlan and O'Connor met the Macassa at 4 p.m. on which boat was Mrs. Hanlan and the great sculler's family, including his 3 month old baby. Both were a jaunty air and bear true evidence of proper training. In fact their friends commented on their appearance. Gaudaur and McKay walked around the Burlington platform. The Halifax man looked unconcerned, but to-day Hanlan looked and carried himself nervously, which was very apparent to everyone. Toronto speculators frequently accused that Gaudaur would quit before the three miles were finished. The quartet rested in their boathouses from 2 until 5.30. Your correspondent cannot understand how any person could say that this race was fixed as sports of this town averred. Hanlan and Gaudaur hate each other bitterly and almost kiss when passing. They certainly never recognize one another. St. John and Hanlan have not forgotten their old differences and are at daggers draw.

The Bay bore a glassy surface all afternoon and scarce a ripple troubled the calm, save the swells and furrows caused by the myriads of passing steamers, yachts, row boats and canoes. There was scarcely the semblance of a breeze and of course the bay course was selected. The beach was literally dotted with a human mass, elbowing one another for points of vantage.

Towards the time for the start the many flags that hung lackadaisically from their masts were lifted by a slight breeze from the east. Gaudaur and McKay were the first to appear a few minutes before 6. Hanlan and O'Connor followed a little afterwards. The Orillian's colors were red, while the Toronto distinguishing ranks were blue.

Both crews took smart spins around the starting buoy while the Macassa surveyed the course. They also sculled leisurely over the entire 3 miles, a performance that mystified many. But they were simply waiting for the course to get cleared.

Ray came directly on their flag and were forced to swerve to the east and more than complete a circle. Hanlan and O'Connor made the prettiest turn imaginable and gained thereby fully 3 lengths. Home they sped with fiendish delight looking back with a cynical smile at their fast receding adversaries. On they came with a regularity and fatal certainty warranted by their aquatic renown.

Whoever dared to believe that Gaudaur and McKay worthy of their steel! The surface of water between prow and stern broadened at every stroke and when 2½ miles was covered fully seven lengths intervened.

The race was practically over now and pandemonium began.

"Throw away your sculls" said Hanlan "and I'll row home alone," but O'Connor didn't and Hanlan dropped his own and, like in his races of old, dipped the keel in the water. These antics gave the Gaudaus time to plow a little nearer, but race was taken not to allow them too close. The line was crossed with Gaudaur and McKay exactly three lengths behind, but O'Connor and Hanlan could easily have made the space 10 lengths. The official time at the turn was 8.37, and at the finish 18.36. Best time on record 17.57½ by Conlon and Courtney at Albany, N. Y., Aug. 29, 1885.

A British Columbia Engagement.

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—Hanlan and O'Connor have accepted the offer of McLean and partner, of New Westminster, B. C., to row a double scull skiff race on Sept. 23 for $1,000 or $1,500 a side. They have also consented to row in the single scull race, there.

Peterson Defeats McLean.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Aug. 10.—The sculling race on the Fraser River between Wm. McLean of British Columbia and Henry Peterson of San Francisco, for $1250 a side, was won on Saturday by Peterson by 300 yards.

The Barrie Regatta.

BARRIE, Aug. 10.—The twelth annual regatta of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen opens here today, and will be continued tomorrow. The entry list is the largest on record, owing doubtless to the beautiful course offered on Kempenfelt Bay and to the advantages of holding the regatta in Western Ontario. The programme for today comprises junior singles, junior doubles, junior fours and senior doubles.

ANOTHER DROWNING

In Burlington Bay—A Terrific Storm and Rumors of Loss of Life.

HAMILTON, Aug. 10.—Another drowning accident occurred in the bay Saturday evening shortly after 8 o'clock. The little steamer Maggie Mason was returning from the beach, bringing a big load of passengers from the boat race. A crowd of young men were clustered round the stern of the boat, and as she was passing the foot of James street three of them fell or was crowded overboard. Those about immediately gave the alarm, and the boat was stopped and turned back, but the man had either sunk or they could not find him in the darkness. No one on board the boat knew him, but Sunday morning it was reported to the police that a young man named Max Pappel, a sailor, living at 195 Hunter street east, is missing, and his friends fear that he may have been drowned.

A TERRIFIC STORM.

At 6 o'clock last evening a terribly destructive storm passed over the city, and it is feared there has been loss of life on the bay. At present the telegram and telephone lines are down and not much reliable information can be obtained. Vague rumors are current putting the number of drowned at from two to 14, but so far none of the reports have been verified. The storm began to gather in the west about 5.45, and soon a heavy bank of inky clouds overhung the city. Within 15 minutes from the time the storm became a regular tornado struck the city and increased in violence for about 10 minutes and then gradually subsided. It was followed by a heavy storm of thunder, lightning and rain, which was still in progress at midnight. In the city the streets are full of fallen trees, telephone and telegraph wires are down, electric wires crossed and burning at times. The fire department has been out all evening trying to clear the sidewalks and free the alarm wire. On Cannon street no less than 32 trees are down, many of them as thick as telegraph poles. The firemen report 410 trees down on the principal streets by actual count. There were many narrow escapes but no casualties in the city are reported up to the present time.

It was on the bay and at the beach that the storm spent its fury. Seven yachts were blown ashore on the beach. The tents of the campers were levelled and hundreds of men, women and children left exposed to the rain. Hundreds more, who drove down in the afternoon before the storm, are unable to get back and a few men who came up to the city are driving about notifying their relatives of their safety. There were many boating parties on the water driven out of the city by the intense heat, and it is among these that the loss of life is reported. Many yachts were upset and empty row boats drifted ashore, but it is thought the crews was rescued.

IN TORONTO.

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—At the Observatory, near of the storm is very scarce, as the telegraph lines are down in a great many places, chiefly between Hamilton and Buffalo, from which latter place most of the news is received. This much is known, however, that the rainfall yesterday was by long odds the greatest of this year for at 11 p.m. last night, 2½ inches of rain had fallen on the level.

Arrested For Forgery.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—Quite a sensation was caused in the Government Printing Bureau yesterday about 10 o'clock by the arrest of Alfred Barrette, a messenger in the bureau. Barrette is a young man about 21 years of age and well dressed. The charge against him was for forging on a couple of checks the name of Mr. J. C. Gagnon of York street. After his arrest he admitted being guilty of the forgery.

AN AERONAUT KILLED.

WEST INDIAN CONFEDERATION IN WHICH CANADA FIGURES.

A Peculiar Railway Coach Shooting Affair Reported—More Seceders from Parnell—The Fourth Duke of Cleveland Dying—Interesting Cable Chat.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—A balloon accident occurred at Leeds on Saturday by which an aeronaut named Higgins was killed and a young woman, Miss Devoy, had a narrow escape from death. The ascent of the couple was watched by quite a crowd and when the balloon was released it rapidly soared upward amid cheers. A cross-bar was attached to the balloon and it was the intention of the couple to give a trapeze performance when they had reached a sufficient height, afterward to descend by means of a parachute. After the balloon had risen a short distance it was caught in a current of air and drifted sideways till it struck a telegraph pole. The couple were sitting on the bar and when the balloon struck the pole the bar swayed to and fro in a frightful manner. Miss Devoy, to avoid being thrown off, lowered herself by her hands, hung for a moment and then let go. The height from which she dropped was not great and she landed on the ground unhurt. Released from her weight the balloon swung upward. Higgins, who was still on the bar, became entangled in the telegraph wires, was swept off the bar and fell twisting and turning upon a fence. He struck on his back, receiving terrible injuries and died after suffering for a few moments the most intense agony.

A Widow's Peculiar Story.

LONDON, Aug. 10. A woman who was on her way to London, giving her name as Lenore Marie, reported to the police at Bedford that she had been shot in a railway coach. She wears a wedding ring and says she has recently become a widow after being married five months. She thinks that some one shot her by mistake for another person. The assailant was on the outside footboard and fired as the train was leaving Leicester. The police do not credit the story, however. They are inclined to think that the woman shot herself, and the fact that the revolver was found on the track near where the train stopped seems to throw doubt upon the woman's statements and to bear out the theory of the police. The physician who examined the wound also considers it likely that the bullet was fired by the woman herself.

West Indian Confederation.

LONDON, Aug. 10. The only Government offices that show any kind of life are the Colonial and the Admiralty. The Colonial Office is giving more attention than usual to West Indian affairs. It is stated that the scheme of a West Indian confederation which has been urged upon the Government has been substantially rejected, and the Government policy will be not to erect a separate confederation, but to unite the West Indies to Canada by closer ties of commerce and of intercourse. A colonial agent said to a correspondent: The plan of the present Cabinet is to make the West Indies dependencies of Canada, where it is believed the bulk of the population is considered to be devoted to British supremacy.

Persuasive Dillon and O'Brien.

DUBLIN, Aug. 10.—A telegram has been received in this city from Belfast, saying that Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien have persuaded four of the Irish members of the House of Commons, who since the disruption in the Irish Parliamentary party followed the leadership of Mr. Parnell, to secede from the Parnellite section and to cast their fortunes with the McCarthyites.

A Dukedom Soon to Be Extinct.

LONDON, Aug. 10. The Duke of Cleveland, fourth holder of the title, is dying. He was born in 1803, and succeeded his brother in 1864. He married Lady Delmany in 1854 but of this union there was no issue. The title will, therefore, become extinct on the death of the Duke.

A Second Jesse James.

COLUMBUS GROVE, O., Aug. 10.—On Saturday Cashier T. J. Maple had just opened the Exchange Bank, and had laid out about $2000 near the cashier's window, when a man appeared in the door with a revolver in each hand. He immediately began shooting. Cashier Maple was struck, twice, once in the arm and once in the right side. As he fell to the floor, an old farmer, William Van Dibark, entered the door, having come to get his money for some horses he had just sold. The robber turned and shot him through and through. The old man fell in all of his tracks. A hired man sat in the buggy at the bank paralyzed with fear. He was not molested. The desperado then pulled off a $200 in greenbacks, stowed it away in the pocket of his sack coat and started out shouting: "I'm a second Jesse James." The robber is still at large.

Lightning Shocks an Electric Operator.

BURLINGTON, Aug. 10. Yesterday morning about 11.30 o'clock Assistant Operator Barnes at the G. T. R. crossing station had a narrow escape. He was sitting at the keys, when the lightning began to play breaks around the room and one bolt more powerful than the others sent a severe shock through his system, knocking him a dozen feet and up against the wall. He was so thoroughly stunned by the electric shock that for two hours he was incapable of discharging his duty, and he still feels the effect of the shock.

SHOT TO DEATH.

A Startling Discovery in the Sophie Handcock Murder Case.

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—Ever since the government detectives started investigating the circumstances which led to the violent death of Sophie Handcock, of Fairbank, on the 16th July, they have been in search of the weapon with which the crime was committed, their belief being that a lather's hammer was the instrument used. Detective Greer received an anonymous letter on Aug. 3, dated from Hamilton, suggesting that the weapon might be found in the coffin which incased the body of the murdered girl. Call it fate, kismet, or what you will, the author of that anonymous letter gave the authorities the most important clue of the investigation, for when the body was exhumed Saturday afternoon and a more thorough examination of the skull took place, the startling discovery was made that a bullet had caused the injury to the girl's skull—that she had been cruelly shot to death from behind.

At the exhumation of the body on Saturday afternoon were Dr. Harrington, who conducted the postmortem; W. G. Murdock, counsel for the prisoner, Edward Handcock; Dr. Teskey, Dr. Adam Wright, County Crown Attorney Badgerow and Detective Greer. The body of Sophie Handcock was soon reached and the examination proceeded with. Dr. Harrington did the operating. After a careful examination all the organs were pronounced healthy by the medical men. The scalp was then examined. The two pieces of bone that had been retained by the Crown as evidence were produced and fitted exactly the opening in the girl's head. This established the fact that they were taken from her head. A close examination revealed for the first time particles of lead that looked like grains of powder. These had been overlooked in the first place on account of the moisture about the wound, and the numerous clots of blood. Since the post-mortem, however, the bones have become quite dry and the metalic lustre of the lead was very apparent.

After the body had been replaced the party returned to Fairbank and examined the house in which Sophie was killed.

Before they had been searching long Dr. Teskey made another startling discovery. In the door leading to the sitting-room, and about six feet from the floor, was found a bullet hole about half an inch deep. Particles of lead were found there also. The hole, on examination, was found to be fresh; the upper edge was clean cut, the lower ragged.

The discovery that death was due to a bullet opens, of course, an entire new channel of enquiry.

The theory of the prosecution hitherto has been that the girl was killed by her father with a hammer in a passionate outbreak of rage. They must now be dismissed.

Handcock will come up on remand at the Police Court on Thursday when his discharge will be asked for in view of the discovery of Saturday.

SUCICIDE, NOT MURDER.

The Body of the Niagara Floater Still Unidentified.

LEWISTON, Aug. 8.—The mystery surrounding the death of the young woman whose body was found in the river Friday remains unsolved, the body not having been identified. The parasol of the deceased, along with a short black jacket with a roll front, her hat, a pair of silk mits, a lace collar and a small leather purse, were found secreted under some brush close to the path and about half way up the bank from where the body was discovered. In the purse was a fine comb, a small knife and some hairpins. There was nothing about the several articles that would lead to the least definite clue to her identity. The hat was of brown straw, and was trimmed with a bunch of pink poppies and a brown ribbon. The parasol had a looped silver handle and was of a cotton and silk mixture. The officers of the steamer Cibola were confident after viewing the corpse that the woman was a passenger on the boat from Toronto. The fragments of a postal card picked up near where the hat and other articles were found were put together. It was addressed Miss Mamie Soules, 174 St. James street, Montreal, in care of D. Batherby. The message written on the card ran as follows:

ST. CLAIR FLATS, July 30.

DEAR MAMIE.—How long do you expect to stay at Niagara? Write immediately. Frank and I may come.

(Signed) J. (or N.) D.

The girl's shoes bore the firm name of Barnes, Hengerer & Co., Buffalo. Dr. Kerr, who made an examination of the body, says that death was caused by drowning and there was no evidences that she had been outraged.

The inquest was begun on Saturday. Attorney King took charge of the case. Nine witnesses were examined. The evidence was not sufficient to hold the men arrested, James Daly of Euclid avenue, Toronto, and Lawrence Costello of 33 Hackney street, Toronto, and they were discharged. The inquest will be continued Aug. 11.

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—There is no certainty that the girl whose body was found floating in the Niagara on Friday, belonged to this city, as was generally believed. Sergeant Reburn, who visited Lewiston Saturday and viewed the corpse, is positive from the clothing the style in which the girl wore her clothing that the girl was not a Canadian.

She Belonged to Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Aug. 10.—The body of the girl discovered near Lewiston last week has been identified as that of Miss Cora Hartling of this city. It was an undoubted suicide.

Fatal Accident in Toronto.

TORONTO, Aug. 10. Riverside Park was the scene of a fatal accident Saturday evening. The victim was 11 year old Frank J. Redican. Between 6 and 7 p.m. the lad, with a number of companions, was playing near the guns at the east end of the park, when striking his foot against an abstraction in the ground he was precipated over the high bank by the old toboggan slide. His scull was terribly fractured and his left ankle broken. He was removed to his father's residence, No. 21 Sumach street, where he died at about 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The boy's father, Frank J. Redican, was out of the city at the time of the accident.

The Rouge River Victim Identified.

PICKERING, August 10.—Despite the fact that the government detective inclines to the belief that August Weber, the Rouge floater, committed suicide, residents of this locality still incline to the murder theory. Mrs. Hartle of London, who identified the body as that of her husband from the description furnished her, has been forwarded a photo of the floater by Constable Denny O'Connor, who has been industriously engaged in throwing all the light possible on the case. On the 9th she telegraphed from London, as follows: "Have received photo. I am satisfied it is my husband. Mrs. Hartle."

Nine Cars Wrecked.

BROCKVILLE, Aug. 10.—An east-bound freight train of 25 cars ran over an open switch in the yard here Saturday morning. Nine cars loaded with salt, crockery, etc., were badly wrecked. The cause of the mishap is said to be on the part of the brakesmen, who were both sleeping, one on the top of a flat car and the other in the caboose. While employed on the wreck a man named Begley was caught by a cable and his foot badly crushed.

A Correction.

TORONTO, Aug. 8.—A paragraph in regard to the Home Fascinator Publishing Company was published extensively by Canadian papers on the 5th Aug., having been received in the regular way of news. The solicitors of the company write to say that the article has seriously damaged their clients and is defamatory. The papers which published the dispatch regret that anything unfavorable concerning the company should have inadvertently found access to their columns and gives the denial of the solicitors of the company the widest possible publicity.

TURNBULL'S.

We want to call attention to a large lot of Lace Curtains we are opening out and marking; there is nothing attractive in a large lot unless they are being sold at prices that will save money to the purchaser. This is just what we purpose to do. We show a Curtain, taped and bound, at 60c. a pair, a still better one for 75c., and a beauty for $1, while the best in the lot are only $1.50. We have cleared out whole lines at greatly reduced prices is how we are able to offer such inducements. We have opened out to-day and placed on our second floor a nice range of new patterns in Hemp Carpets, some of these are very desirable.

To-day we open our first shipment of Ladies' Mantles for Fall. They are a very stylish lot. Parties wanting one for a special occasion early will be glad to know that they can now see the new fall styles with us. We have received the invoice of a lot of Dress Goods, they will be opened before this appears in print. We have also got nearly all the shades of very pretty Plaids for making over dresses. We need hardly remind the public that everything stylish, serviceable and cheap is kept on our counters.

In our Tailoring Department we are showing some fresh patterns of Heavy Weight Tweeds at from $15 to $17 a suit, especially suited for elderly men. Ask to see our heavy pantings at 50c. a yard, made out of the best of wool.

The Charges Against the Mercier Government.

The Senate Committee on Railways met yesterday to investigate Mr. Walter Barwick's charges against the Mercier Administration in regard to its dealings with the Baie des Chaleurs road. Mr. Barwick, who appears on behalf of the Ontario Bank, which is interested in the estate of a creditor of the company, says he can prove that Mr. Pacaud and others acting for Mr. Mercier, stole $100,000 of the Quebec bonus to the enterprise. Mr. Armstrong, the contractor for building the line, has been summoned, but did not appear, and the inquiry was adjourned till Monday. Armstrong is a relation of Sir Hector's and was served with a subpœna in Sir Hector's house. L'Electeur, Mr. Pacaud's paper and the chief mouthpiece of the Mercier Government, declares that the story is false It says that that Government gave a subsidy of $280,000 to the road last spring, the original company having failed to complete the work. This subsidy was to be paid to a new company which undertook to assume the liabilities of the old one. Mr. Mercier was out of the country when the new syndicate was formed, but Mr. Garneau, acting Premier, took the matter in charge. The first thing he did was to demand a deposit of debentures from the syndicate to the amount of $500,000, which became the first lien on 60 miles of railway constructed at an outlay of over a million; and he informed the new board that he should see that the debts of the old concern were paid out of the subsidy. All the debts and liabilities so deemed were first passed upon by the new board. Armstrong held possession of the road for a claim of $298,000 due to him for construction. The board and he came to an agreement, and the claim was reduced to $176,000 and paid to Armstrong in cheques made out to his order. Mr. J. C. Langelier acted as agent for Garneau and his colleagues in the Government. Armstrong swore before the Senate Committee the other day that he had paid no "commissions" to anyone for the $175,000, either directly or indirectly; and that he had engineers' certificates to show for the money he had spent on the line. He refused to state, however, what he had done with the $175,000, by L'Electeur says that the Provincial elections were over before the money was paid to him and that anyway he is a Tory and would not be likely to help the Liberals. It is not altogether clear why if his claim was a bona fide one he reduced it from $298,000 to $175,000, but apparently that was nothing to do with his dealings with Garneau and Langelier. According to L'Electeur's dates the money, if stolen for election purposes, must have been used in the Federal elections in Quebec. Mr. Barwick charges that of the $175,000 received by Armstrong $100,000 went to Pacaud as compaign funds and $24,000 to the promoters of the old company. L'Electeur maintains that he has found a mare's nest—that there is not a word of truth in the story.

It is extremely desirable that the affair should be probed to the bottom. L'Etendard and journals more unfriendly to Mr. Mercier have been harping vaguely on the charge for three months past, and Mr. Mercier, to say nothing of Mr. Garneau, Mr. Pacaud and Mr. Langelier, will no doubt make haste to meet a tangible accusation like Mr. Barwick's.—Globe.

Canadian Export Wheat Crop.

It is estimated that the Dominion will have 22,000,000 bushels of wheat for export this year. This is the figure given by an authority at the millers' convention held in Toronto. Interesting, though perhaps not altogether trustworthy, calculations have been made in the states touching the deficiency in Europe. It is estimated that Europe during the next twelve months must buy 800,000,000 bushels of wheat and rye. On the continent rye is an important staple, and the crop is a bad one, especially in Russia. The same figurer makes it appear that only some 260,000,000 bushels of wheat can be supplied by the rest of the world to meet this enormous shortage. If the guess were correct there would be nothing for Europe but starvation. There is little doubt, however, that a good price will be paid for all food products before next harvest, and that the farmers of Canada and the United States will be able to lift themselves out of the rut to some extent. Our neighbors reckon that their huge corn crop will be drawn up by European countries to an extent never before known, and that in addition to this they will export close upon 180,000,000 bushels of wheat and flour as wheat. Kansas alone is talking of making $100,000,000 out of this year's wheat, corn and hogs, but that is evidently an exaggeration. The Philadelphia Ledger gives the American farmer some advice which is worth reproducing:—

"There is always a great temptation to spend whatever profits come from farming in needed improvements, and this is good policy when the farmer is spending his own money—that is to say, is free from debt. But there is scarcely any business less suitable to be carried on on the credit system than farming. Interest goes on accumulating regardless of wind or weather, but the crops are wholly dependent on the chances of a favorable or unfavorable season. A failure may be borne if the farm is free from debt, but is sometimes ruinous when mortgages have to be met or the interest thereon paid. If Kansas has a surplus a very large portion of it should be used in paying debts."

For Canada the good harvest means a great deal. It will not only revive the farmers' courage but set business of all kinds into active motion.

The Millers' Meeting.

In the opening address at the annual meeting in Montreal on the 4th inst., of the Dominion Millers' Association, the vice-president, Mr. W. H. Meldrum, referred to the importance of unity of the members. They could not without this, he thought, hope to do justice to one of the foremost manufacturing industries of the country. He would like to see it lead in progressiveness and business enterprise. Being scattered all over, millers were at a disadvantage as compared with other manufacturers who located in towns and cities. Years ago mills were built on almost every stream that could turn a wheel. Settlers then found millers a powerful medium from which to obtain money. Great inducements are being held out to this industry in Manitoba, where it is destiney to become of much importance. Mr. Meldrum advised the association to obtain from the railways discriminating freight rates in favour of millers, and not, as heretofore, in favor of wheat exporters. This, in his opinion, would be to the advantage of the miller, the railroads and the community generally. The loyal support of members was urged. This would, in time, do much towards making the reputation of Canadian flour second to none in European markets.—Monetary Times

Canada Practically Independent.

The "Scottish Leader's" Outspoken Opinion.

Those Tories who say that Britain would not allow us to establish unrestricted trade with the States because it would involve discrimination against her goods do not appear to be familiar with the trend of public opinion there. The Scottish Leader, the most prominent Liberal journal north of the Tweed, in its issue of the 24th ult. says:—

"It is necessary to acknowledge, on a candid survey of the facts of the case, that the existing connection between Great Britain and the Canadian Dominion is now one of mere form and sentiment. The advantages derived from it by both parties are indefinable and imperceptible. Canada is to all intents and purposes independent. She governs herself; she legislates for herself; the Governor-General, the representative of the Sovereign, is even more of a merely ornamental figure-head than the occupant of the British throne. No home Government would dream of imposing on the Canadians a measure or policy which was distasteful to them, and their power to enact, if they thought proper, fiscal legislation which would differentiate against the imports of the Mother Country is not seriously questioned by anybody."

This is straight enough. Britain always acts upon the principle of doing the best she can for herself regardless of the interests of her colonies—witness her commercial treaties from the advantages of which we are excluded; and is quite prepared to admit that such a wholesome rule should work both ways.

They Musn't Flirt.

That was a funny thing that happened out in Detroit recently, when the telephone girls threatened to strike because a word was passed forbidding them to flirt over the wires. The telephone management forgot that it always takes two to get up a flirtation, and when the girls rang up the other ends of the lines the company found that their subscribers were unanimously in sympathy with the girls. Moreover, there was not a man to be found in the town who was willing to believe that the girls would flirt, and the management finally decided that if they did flirt there was no use trying to stop them. It couldn't be done. How is it in your town, neighbour?

Blood Poison

Is very liable to follow contact of the hands or face with what is known as poison ivy, especially in hot weather or if the body is perspiring freely. The trouble may subside for a time, only to appear in aggravated form when opportunity offers. The great purifying powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla thoroughly eradicate every trace of poison from the blood, as the cures it has accomplished conclusively show. It also cures scrofula, salt rheum and all other affections arising from impure or poisoned blood.

A Spring Medicine.

There are few who do not at this season feel the need of a spring medicine, and to all such we recommend Lane's Family Medicine as the best. This is a pleasant herb drink made by pouring boiling water on the dried roots and herbs. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1. It is the best as well as the pleasantest cure for constipation and headache. dw

Since Childhood's Day.

"I have been bothered with neuralgic pains in the head and face since childhood and have tried all possible remedies. A friend persuaded me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after having used it I obtained instant relief, and thoroughly recommended B.B.B."—Jas Inglis, Bredenbury, Asss. dw

Freeman's Worm Powders destroy and remove worms without injury to adult or infant. dw

Do You Cough?

Don't delay. Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. It will cure coughs and colds. It will cure sore throat, or a tickling in the throat. It will cure pains in the chest. It will cure influenza and bronchitis and all diseases pertaining to the lungs, because it is a pure balsam. Hold it to the light and see how clear and thick it is. You see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Large bottles 50c and $1. dw

As a healing, soothing application for cuts, wounds, bruises and sores, there is nothing better than Victoria Carbolic Salve. dw

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c. and $1 at all druggists. dw

Sufferers

FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.

Dr. T. E. Hastings, of Baltimore, says: "Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of my profession."

Dr. John W. Brown, of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills."—G. S. Wanderlich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P. Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hore, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

THE LABRADOR FALLS.

THEY ARE SAID TO BE GREATER THAN WORLD-FAMED NIAGARA.

An Expedition to Clear the Mystery Up—A Philadelphia Lawyer and Prof. Kinlator on Their Way There—Falls Only Two White Men Have Seen.

The mystery which has always hung over the Grand Falls, in the interior of Labrador, is to be cleared away at last, and in a few months the scientific world will know whether the falls in Grand or Hamilton River are the greatest in the world, or whether the previous accounts have been greatly exaggerated. Henry G. Bryant, a member of the Philadelphia bar, accompanied by Prof. Kenistor of Georgetown University, is now on his way to visit the falls, and they last week sailed from St. John's, Newfoundland, on the next to the last stage of the journey.

Only two white men have ever seen the falls, so far as it is known, and they both place the height at 2,000 feet. Both of the men stood high in the service of the Hudson Bay company, and although they saw the falls at different times, their accounts agree in nearly every particular. Maclean, the first to reach the scene, conducted an expedition into the interior in 1839, and was stopped by these falls. Kennedy reached them under guidance of an Iroquois Indian, who had spent most of his life in Labrador. The native Indians give the falls a wide berth owing to a tradition long current among them that they are haunted by evil spirits and that no man can look upon them and live.

Above the falls the river is said to be 500 yards broad contracting to fifty yards at the falls themselves. If this account be true then in the whole world there is no other fall having such a volume of water descending at a bound from such a stupendous height. Niagara's volume of water is far greater, but its height is only 164 feet. The famous falls of Zambesi are but 100 feet. In the Yosemite Valley there is a fall of 2,550 feet, but this is broken into three leaps, and the volume of water is not equal to that of the Grand Falls of Labrador. Thus, taking into account the combination of height and volume, these Grand Falls of Labrador throw all others into the shade.

A fall of 2,000 feet has generally been regarded as utterly inconceivable, however, and various efforts have been made to verify the reports of Maclean and Kennedy. In 1887 Randle F. Holme of Oxford University made an effort to reach the falls, but his provisions gave out when he supposed himself within fifty miles of his journey's end, and he was absolutely forced to go back.

Mr. Bryant has carefully studied the situation and has made his preparations with so much care that his success is regarded as assured. He sailed from New York June 23 and reached St. John's two days later. All his supplies were purchased there and his final arrangements completed, and to-day he sails for Battle Harbor on the Strait of Belle Isle. Another steamer will take him to Rigolet, a post of the Hudson Bay company, in Hamilton Inlet, from where a two days' sail will land him at Northwest, from where he will begin his last journey of 300 miles up the Grand River.

Besides himself and Prof. Kenistor Mr. Bryant hopes to take about eight Indians and a white man for guide if he can get one. The journey up the river will be made in canoes, which must be carried around the many rapids and falls. It is estimated that the trip of 300 miles each way can be made in about six weeks, and on that estimate Mr. Bryant will get back to Northwest about the middle of September, and to Philadelphia about Oct. 1. His idea is, however, to come back by a different route if practicable.

In a letter to his mother and brothers Mr. Bryant speaks very hopefully of his trip. The French priest, a very intelligent man who makes pilgrimages through Labrador, estimates the height of the falls at about 1,000 feet.

Mr. Bryant, the head and front of the expedition, is a graduate of Princeton College and was admitted to the Philadelphia bar in 1886. He has not practiced much, however, devoting most of his time to travel and scientific studies. His present venture is undertaken solely on his own responsibility, to settle the long-disputed question of the height of the great falls, and if successful will make him famous in the world of science and travel. He has a wide field before him, as few portions of Labrador beyond the coast line ever been visited by white men, and only the barest outline of its geography is known.

The Dismal Swamp.

A correspondent of the New York Evening Post, describing a trip to the Dismal Swamp of Virginia, says one can look for miles down the canal which passes through it, and the scene suggests the heart of Africa. A solid wall of verdure is on either side—gum trees, wild magnolias, occasionally a juniper or a cypress—and always the burning sun above and the strange black water below. Now and then a shrill birder, now and then a water snake, always the most beautiful shadows and reflections. Negro cabins occasionally, and glimpses of wide clearings, and at one of the locks a group of little darkies with great bunches of water lilies, making a most effective combination. Among them is a most admirable young tatterdemalion, who has stuck on the side of his rugged hat a single magnificent lily, whose whiteness shines, star like, against the black background of his woolly head.

A Pleasant Reception.

Mrs. Fangle—Why, I'm so glad to see you, Mrs. Wallace. I had a presentiment that you would call this evening.

Mrs. Wallace—Indeed!

Mrs. Fangle—Yes, whenever Henry and I sit down to have a nice, quiet evening to ourselves somebody is sure to call.

A Hagersville Sensation Spoiled.

HAGERSVILLE, Aug. 8.—What at first seemed to be a case of murder, from the mysterious circumstances connected therewith, has on investigation turned out to be one of accidental poisoning. An Indian named Ezekiel Burnham occupies a house on the reservation, about a mile from Ballsville, and his child was found dead at the corner of the building, without any marks of violence on the body or anything to indicate the manner of its death. As the little girl seemed to be in perfect health when the mother left her a short time before suspicions of foul play were aroused. Dr. McDonald, coroner of the county, and Dr. J. S. Almas held a post mortem on the body the following day when it was found the child had been accidentally poisoned by eating wild parsnips which grew in abundance at the rear of the house.

A Hot Friday.

TORONTO, Aug. 8.—The temperature here yesterday was 90, being hotter than any other part of Canada, with the exception of southwestern Ontario—Essex and Kent counties—where it was slightly above that degree. In Quebec and the Maritime Provinces the temperature was over 80 and in Manitoba up to 84. The maximum heat in Alberta and Assiniboia was not over 65. The standing of the thermometer yesterday in various portions of Canada was as follows:

Calgary	64	Montreal	78
Qu'Appelle	62	Quebec	72
Minnedosa	84	Halifax	80
Toronto	90	Port Arthur	70

In Minnedosa and Dakota the temperature ranged from 70 to 100, while one station in the former state gave it as high as 104. The indications are that to-day will be very warm, though not so much so as yesterday.

Descent Upon Hayti.

ST. THOMAS, W. I. Aug. 8.—The British bark Mary E. Bliss has been chartered here and has sailed for Kingston, Jamaica, with 36 Haytian passengers. Among them was a general or two. The balance were rank and file. It is thought there is in contemplation a descent on Hayti from Jamaica.

Off to Chili.

GENOA, Aug. 8.—The Balmacedan cruiser President Pinto has left this port and shaped her course in a westerly direction. On the eve of sailing a number of sailors deserted her.

Crushed to Death.

LISTOWELL, Aug. 8.—Mr. Willoughby of Wallace, aged 24, fell from a load of wheat and the wagon passed over his head completely smashing it to a pulp. Death was instantaneous.

Here Lies!

Epitaphy is a demoralizing kind of taffy. It appears on the tombstone and eulogizes the dead almost to the very stars. The usual method of beginning is: "Here lies." Very suggestive, for the lies are frequently quite astonishing—almost enough so to both amuse and amaze the dead of whom they are written. A truthful epitaph, in many instances, would be: "Here lies one who omitted to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery." If sick and suffering and dreading premature death, test the potent remedy. It cures all chronic, liver, blood, and lung diseases, as biliousness, skin and scalp diseases, scrofulous sores and swellings, salt rheum, tetter, erysipelas and even scrofula of the lungs (or consumption), if taken in time. s

Nicolet Notes.

"I suffered continual pain from canker of the stomach and my face and body were almost covered with pimples. I tried Burdock Blood Bitters, the first dose occasioned slight pain, but I soon found relief, and after taking 5 bottles I became completely cured. I think B.B.B. the most powerful remedy known to science."—Stephen Edge, Nicolet, P. Q dw

All cases of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Ballodanna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them. dw

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores, dw

Consult Your neighbors.

Any one may find out just what Burdock Blood Bitters is and does by asking a neighbor who has tried it. It rarely fails in making a complete cure of dyspepsia, constipation, sickheadache, biliousness and diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. dw

Oh! What Beautiful Hands.

Always avoid harsh purgative pills. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill. dw

Baby was Sick.

"My baby was very sick with diarrhœa and after everything else had failed I tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; the first dose gave relief and a perfect cure soon resulted." — Mrs. John Clark, Bloomfield, Ont. dw

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Can Not Compete

Miss Maud Grant, of Mountain, Ont., writes, "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaints and diarrhœa. There is nothing to compete with it as it succeeds even in the severest cases." dw

A Suitable Gift.

A tube of Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses for making the skin soft and smooth will be acceptable to any lady. Druggists keep it, W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6334

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

HEAD

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

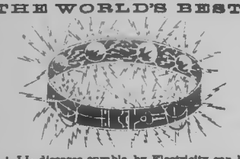
BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—168 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

The directors of the Central Exhibition met at the Morgan House, Peterborough, on Saturday, and furthered preparations for the annual fall show, which is to be held Sept. 21, 22 and 23. The prize list and posters will soon be issued and the fair properly advertised. A good exhibition is looked for this year.

To-Night's Mass Meeting.

Ratepayers are again reminded of the mass meeting to be held in the market building this evening for the purpose of discussing the car works bylaw and getting an expression of public opinion with regard thereto. Ratepayers should state their opinions freely and not wait until the bylaw has been voted on and it is perhaps to late to object. Pros and cons are wanted in concise form to-night.

Killing Deer With a Self-binder.

Alfred Carter, of North Orillia, killed a deer with his self-binder one day last week. R. M. Donnelly had just set up the machine and Carter was driving around the field when he noticed what he took to be a ground hog in front of the knife. He pulled up but the knife ran into the animal. It proved to be a fawn about five weeks old and its throat had been cut by the sickles so that it speedily bled to death. Donnelly is having it stuffed.

Fish Stories in Order.

The Empire says: One of the largest maskinonge caught this season was placed on exhibition at Harry Webb's restaurant yesterday. It was caught along with nine others during a few hours fishing withim a few rods of the new summer resort, Chemong Park Hotel, Bridgenorth, Ont., a few miles west of Peterborough, and sent to Toronto by Mr. E. G. Ryott, manager of the Chemong Park Hotel. This hotel has only been opened for a month, and it is claimed is situated near some of the finest fishing places in Ontario, and judging from the specimen seen yesterday the claim is well sustained. Mr. Ryott is well known in Toronto as a genial host, and has many frends wherever he goes.

Nothing Equal—

To the great excursion on Civic Holiday to Chemong, Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, returning by way of Lindsay. Any person desiring to have a first-class day's outing should take advantage of this beautiful circular trip. Remember that those attending will have every comfort and convenience. A first class boat (the fastest boat on the northern waters) and palace scow has been chartered. There will also be an orchestra furnishing in abundance first class music for those wishing to take part in dancing. Therefore don't miss this trip if you wish to have the best day's outing and enjoyment this season. Just think of such a grand sail and fine scenery as this route will furnish—and all it costs is a dollar, children half fare. Take it in by all means. d33-34

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

A Snake on George Street.

The Commotion Caused by the Appearance of a Harmless Creeping Thing.

A poor little green garter snake, frightened by the uproar on George street, crawled from under the sidewalk in front of the market building this morning, and wriggled cautiously out into the muddy road towards the opposite sidewalk. Before it had got half way across some small boys observed it.

"Hi, Bill, lookit ther snake," shouted one of the ragged urchins, and the trio plunged out into the road and surrounded the serpent, which stood, or rather lay as boys, its bullet-shaped head moving menacingly from side to side and its red forked tongue flashing at intervals from its mouth.

"Look out, Tommy; don't git too close or it 'll sting yer," cried Bill, as the three young Arabs pranced around their prey as happy as only wicked little boys can be when they have found some smaller living thing than themselves which they can beat to death with impunity. Already they had begun the work of destruction by throwing stones at the snake, which squirmed this way and that in an attempt to escape, but was always headed off by its persecutors.

Presently a butcher's cart drove up, and the boy driver at once joined in the "sport." He drove his waggon over the snake, and pinned its tail to the ground. The kids fairly howled with delight at the success of this manœuvre.

"Now we've got 'im, fellers," said Bill, the biggest of the three, "Give us yer whip, Cully, and I'll smash ther critter wid ther club and."

Bill took the whip and began operations. By this time a number of persons had gathered to see the fun. The wretched little snake was given two or three heavy blows with the stock of the whip. Its pretty green colour was bedrabbled with mud, and blood oozed from its bleeding sides. Bill in his enthusiasm struck too hard and broke the whip.

"Now yez 'll by me a new whip," shouted the butcher's boy.

"I'll give yer a shoot in de jaw, d'ye see. Wat do yer want to give a feller a old rotten stick like that fer. It wouldn't kill a hinsect, 'less praps it wuz one of yer boss's measly old cows that can's chew their own cud."

The butcher's boy was silenced. Bill was bigger than he, and besides the insinuation about his master's beef was unanswerable.

Just then a benevolent looking old gentleman, with kindly eyes beaming through his spectacles, walked gingerly out through the mud and joined the crowd.

"What have we here?" he asked.

"It's a bow constructor," said one.

"Naw, 'taint; she's a rattler, she is," quoth the irrepressible Bill.

"Ugh! It's a snake," cried the old gentleman in a horrified tone. "Go up to McKee & Davidson's and get some dynamite," he suggested.

"Run for Harry Winch's meat axe," said another.

The butcher's boy chimed in, "Call Charlie McGinty, and he'll run 'im in for drunk and disorderly, and Misther Young will send his snakeship up for thirty days."

A laugh went round the crowd.

"Throw some of Tommy Pratt's buttermilk on the varmint," piped another voice.

Finally the old gentleman plucked up his courage and came forward with his cane firmly grasped in his hands. He poked and prodded the wriggling ribbon of green, the boys helped him with a shower of stones, and in a few minutes the poor little snake was dead—all except its tail, which continued to squirm as the crowd dispersed, the small boys staying behind to take a few parting shots at the mushy, bleeding object on the road. Finally these, too, left, the butcher's cart rolled on, other vehicles followed in its wake, and the snake was crushed and ground to shreds until it had quite disappeared in the general mixture of mud.

The Salvation Army.

A general change is being made amongst the officers of the Salvation Army in Canada, and Peterborough station is subject to an exchange of officers. Capt. Gale and Lieut. Burrows farewelled at the barracks Sunday, and Wednesday night will be their last in command here. At that meeting a general financial statement will be read. Staff-Capt. Beatty, D.O., has also received marching orders, and next Sunday will, with his wife, say good-bye to his friends here.

A New Dodge.

The Salvation Army at Kingston have a way of taking up a collection that rivals the nickle-in-the-slot machine. At the service in the park Sunday they put the big drum in the middle of the ring and throw their collection at it, trying to see who could come the nearest to it. Capt. Dollman counted counted the collection and announced:—"Now, God bless you, there is only 75 cents in here. See if you cannot make it a dollar." The shower began again till the necessary amount was raised.

Family Affliction.

Mr. Theodore M. Caldwell, of Emily, has the sympathy of all his friends here in the loss of his wife and child. The death of his wife occurred at Peterborough on Monday, 3rd inst. The event is especially sad, as it brings to an abrupt termination a happy wedded experience of only a year and a half. The funeral took place from the residence of her father, Mr. Chas. Miller, Peterborough, to Emily cemetery, and was very largely attended. Their three months old boy was buried about a week before the mother.

Perhaps they are Unintentional.

The Fenelon Falls Gazette ought to pose as a comic paper. In last week's issue of that journal there are at least two paragraphs that will cause more amusement than the average dog-day joke one reads in the professedly funny papers. Here are the items:

BASEBALL.—A match at baseball was played on Wednesday evening at Zion, in the 6th con. of Fenelon, between the Bobolink Grove "Clippers" and the Zion "Blazers"; and after an hour's play the "Clippers" beat their opponents by one goal to nothing. There will probably be a return match before long.

APOLOGY.—We have to apologize to Mr. Jackett's old grey mare for announcing her death in last week's Gazette, when all the time she was alive and well—or, at any rate, as well as a mare can be in her circumstances. Who it was started the story that she was drowned, we do not know; but it was on the street when we came up town on the morning of Thursday of last week, and we heard so many persons mention it that we had no reason to doubt its correctness.

The Guelph Report of the Wedding.

The Guelph Mercury of Saturday says:—"On Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock a private wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Robt. Brodie, Norfolk street, proprietor of the Hespeler woollen mills, when his daughter, Miss Mary, was married by the Rev. J. C. Smith, M.A., B.D., St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, to Mr. Andrew Mercer, of the firm of A. Mercer & Co., merchant tailors, Peterborough. The bride looked charming in a becoming robe of cream faille, trimmed with silk lace and wearing a wreath of orange blossoms. The bridesmaids looked equally attractive. They were Miss Estie Brodie, sister of the bride, attired in pale blue silk and white lace; Miss Lizzie Mercer, sister of the groom, in French grey faille silk, trimmed with silver. Miss Margery Brodie, maid of honor, a little girl, dressed in cream, claimed considerable admiration. All the ladies carried beautiful bouquets, gifts of the groom. Mr. F. H. Mercer, brother of the groom, and Mr. J. D. Laidlaw, Hamilton, supported him. After the ceremony the guests, who were principally from Peterborough, were entertained to a sumptuous wedding breakfast, when the happy couple left for a tour to the Eastern States, amid the well wishes of their many friends here. On their return they will take up their residence in Peterborough."

Saturday's Baseball.

A Close Call for the Peterboroughs—But They Got There Again After an Exciting Game.

The Saturday series of baseball games is growing very interesting, and the rivalry between the various town teams is growing keen. On Saturday afternoon a close and exciting game was played on the P.A.A.A. grounds between the Peterboroughs and a nine known as the "Harvey," so called from the fact that the members all board at the one house. They comprise the best players of the Edison Works club and a couple of other good ball-tossers, and on Saturday put up a stiff game, coming within an ace of winning the match. Davis, the catcher of the Edison team, started in behind the bat, but the injury he received a couple of weeks ago to his hand was repeated and he had to retire after receiving only a few balls. Parks took his place. Pomfret pitched a strong game and was fairly well supported. For the winners some good individual play was done, the battery work being good. But both teams were rather rocky at times and the error column stands out boldly. Mr. McManus again umpired satisfactorily. The Harvey nine did not do much with McCabe's delivery until the last two innings, when by means of timely hitting and their opponents' errors they crept up pretty close to the leaders. The finish was exciting, and it was anybody's game until the last man was out. Following was the score:

Ashburnham Items.

A Midnight Pow-Wow.

On Wednesday night a delivery waggon drove up to a resident's door on Concession street, Ashburnham, and a large supply of eatables and firewater was taken in. Nothing more was anticipated, until late in the evening when couple after couple were seen making their way to where the supplies were stored. About 11 o'clock the residents near by were awakened by loud talk, laughing and screaming, and singing to the top of their voices. From that until four in the morning a steady war was kept up of hooting, yelling couples, reeling up and down the sidewalks, and also a steady hub-bub in the small room where the pow-wow was going on. About four in the morning the excitement had grown to its height, the participants making their way to the other side of the river down Concession and Seward streets, turning on Elizabeth street and then crossing the bridge to get wind and sober off. We have often heard and seen those that have seen the Crees and Blackfeet engaged in their pow-wow or war dance, but a fouler example could not be given than was given to the residents on Concession street last Wednesday night. We wonder at our chief officer not turning up, but reckoned he must be a sound sleeper, as he only lives a little over half a mile away from where the pow-wow was held. We think that it is high time to do something to put down those midnight brawls, so that peaceful citizens can take their rest and not be kept up all night in dread of some of those drunken rowdies damaging them or their property. It has come to a fine pass when the roughs of Peterborough to evade the strict rule of justice they will skip over to Ashburnham and do as they please. What we want and should have is two policemen, one to take the rounds by day the other by night. The midnight raid that took place at Mrs. Allens would not have been made; the shooting at Mr. Throop would have been avoided and many other things would be done away with so that peaceful citizens could rest and not be in dread of those outlaws. In conclusion I must say that if any more of those pow-wows take place in this part of Ashburnham they will meet with a hot reception. These roughs must understand that there is a little sand left here that has not blown over to Peterborough and a warning to those that will open their doors for such brawls who will be exposed, their names being withheld this time for others to take warning.

Butter vs. Cheese.

If we are to take the word of Professor Dean, says the Monetary Times, of the Ontario Agricultural College, the Ontario cow is eating her head off! She does not give enough milk—3,000 lbs. a year being given as the average—to pay for her keep. Does this calculation include or exclude the manure she makes? Her fault seems to be that her stomach is not large enough to hold a sufficient quantity of bulky food. This is a question of the quality of the animal, and if the statement be correct, we have not yet got the right breed. Mr. Dean, however, did not raise this point, otherwise than by inference. His advice to farmers to become manufacturers of butter in the same way that they have of cheese is sound. Professors Dean and Brown are trying to forward this object by travelling through the country with apparatus for the scientific manufacture of butter. Never till we get creameries generally established shall we produce good butter that will command the best price in the market, especially the foreign. The same sort of combination that led to a revolution in the making of cheese with such happy results, would go far towards giving the country successful creameries, at which the best butter could be made. Our climate is favorable for butter making; but the advantages we possess are not being utilized, and the consequence is that in the item of butter the country is losing millions a year.

Llewellyn A. Morrison.

A Peterborough Boy in the Queen City.

One of the best known faces in the city of Toronto is that of Llewellyn A. Morrison, the mechanical engineer and Manager of the Soho Machine Works business. This gentleman was born in Peterborough county in 1846, and until 1866 was occupied on his father's farm and in the lumber woods. After passing a year at Norwood Grammar School, and two years teaching, he spent some time in the United States, engaging in mechanical pursuits. Returning to Canada, he opened a warerooms for the sale of machinery in 1877, which was the beginning of the present Soho Machine Brokerage business. He sold out this business in 1883 to the present owner, Mr. A. E. Williams, intending to go into the manufacture of machine tools, but having made suitable arrangements with the London Machine Tool Co. for the production of these he returned to his former business. Since that date he has been closely identified with the development and growth of the machine business of Canada. Mr. Morrison is a regular contributor to the technical and scientific journals of the continent, and among the Methodist readers of the country—more particularly he being a Methodist—is known as a hymn and song writer.—Mail.

Willow and Wicket.

The cricket match played on the P.A.A.A. grounds to-day resulted in a victory for Campbellford over the home team by five runs. Only one innings was played. Peterborough put up 85 runs, of which Sam. Ray made 20 and Walter Stocker 18. Stocker bowled a fine set of balls, taking seven wickets for only twenty-seven runs. For Campbellford Clarke put together 41 runs.

Aquatic Sports.

Thursday, the 20th, Civic Holiday, will be a great day at Chemong. The committee of the Firemen's Excursion have arranged a fine programme for the regatta, and old times are likely to be revived in aquatic sports. Times was when regattas were of frequent occurrence here and the people took a great interest in the contests. A regatta worthy the name has not been held in this vicinity for a long time. Don't miss the boat races at Chemong Park Civic Holiday, and remember the easiest and cheapest way of getting there is on the Fireman's Excursion. d34-34

Port Hope Hymeneal.

St. John's church, Port Hope, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon, the 5th inst. says the Times, when the Rev. Francis W. Kennedy, Rector of Bolton and Sandhill, and Miss Lucy H. Rowe of this place were made one. The ceremony was performed by the uncle of the groom, Rev. J. McLean Ballard, Rector of St. Anne's, Toronto. The bride looked charming, dressed in cream lustre, with the usual veil and flowers, and was attended by Miss Shorts, daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Shorts, and Mr. Allan Ballard, cousin of the groom did duty as best man. The church was tastefully decorated with flowers by Mr. Daniel and other friends, and the choir (of which the bride had been a member) acquitted themselves in their usual good form, as the choir of St. John's church, Port Hope, only can. The bells rang out a merry peal as the bride left for her home, to which the guests repaired and partook of the good things made ready for them. From the number and beauty of the gifts received we judge the bride to be a favourite with her friends. The happy couple left on the 8 o'clock train for Peterborough and Kingston, thence by boat to the Thousand Islands.

Obituary.

The Late Mrs. Millburn.

On Monday morning, August 10th, one of the pioneer residents of Smith passed away in the person of Mrs. Isaac Millburn. On Thursday morning Mrs. Millburn was stricken with paralysis and lingered till two o'clock Monday morning. The deceased lady was a native of Cumberland county, England, from which she came to Canada with her parents at the age of eight or ten years. She has therefore been a resident of the township for over sixty years. In 1840 she was married to Mr. Isaac Millburn, who died about seventeen years ago. To this union were born nine children, of whom seven, all grown up, survive. Mrs. Millburn was a Methodist, a member of the George street church, and was very highly respected in the community in which she lived so long.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Loch and family have gone to Stony Lake.

Mr. Jas. Best has joined the party at Mr. W. A. Sanderson's cottage in Stony Lake.

Mr. Allan Lochart and Mrs. Lochart, father of Mr. William Lochart, M.P.P., West Durham, Bowmanville, have been in Smith the past two weeks visiting with friends and old associates. They were the guests of Mr. James Mann and Mr. Stephen Boyce, of Smith. Mr. Lochart was born in Smith and resided in Peterborough for some years, and had the pleasure of hearing the late Rev. G.M. Roger preach his first sermon in Peterborough. His old friends are all glad to see him.

Make the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

That Tired Feeling

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. PIERE MOSHER, 90 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.

Rev. Walter Rogers, of London, conducted the services in St. Paul's church yesterday.

In the Aikin street Methodist Church, Ashburnham, on Sunday, the pastor took the morning services and the evening services was taken by Rev. Dr. Campbell, of Lindsay.

At St. John's yesterday, Rev. C. B. Kenrick took the services in the morning and in the evening conducted the services at the Mission School House.

In the evening at St. John's the sermon was preached by Rev. J. Carter, of Oxford University. Rev. Mr. Carter is a young man, of medium height, full bearded and dark, with a pleasant earnest voice and perfectly undemonstrative style. He took for his text St. John's Gospel, chap. xix, v. 26, "Unto every one that hath shall be given." The preacher pointed out that all our talents, whether of wealth, influence or learning, were only lent to us—given on trust, that we were rewarded not according to our gifts, but given further responsibilities. These especially applied to members of the church who were too prone to rest upon the glorious position she occupied to the neglect of individual effort, and on that account the church became dead. But when individual effort was put forth, as the speaker showed had been done in the east end of London and at Oxford, there was a great and significant revival of church work. We could not trust to church organization nor the due administration of the sacraments, important as these were in their place, the work must be done by the individual efforts of the members of the church. We could not rest upon the work of the past, the work of the church must go on. Every baptised member of the church had some definite work which could be done, some little gift or responsibility, some way of showing forth practically the doctrine of Christian love—to have Christians of today, as did the Christians of old, give reason to the world to exclaim, "See how those Christians love one another!" Love and its fruits to our fellow men should be the witness of our Christian life. After stating what great things had been wrought in East London and Oxford by concentrated individual efforts of church members the speaker pointed out that this was no new truth, no new doctrine, but a practical application of them in the spirit of Christian love. The speaker closed a simple, straight forward earnest address with the relation of incidents to sustain his position. His quiet, impressive style, simple language, and earnest purpose were most edifying.

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 6 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered, his torture was pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were ended, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355 92
Increase over previous year	3,421,372 84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599 15
Increase over 1889	2,268,888 60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078 87
Increase over 1889	325,938 35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514 19
Increase over 1889	687,691 47

Increase over 1889	567,732 71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175 60
Increase over 1889	75,649 05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961 65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,824 07
" " " " 1886, "	89,452 97

DEATH AT THE ALTAR.

A Superstitious Widower Prepares for the Grave Prior to His Wedding.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 11.—Monday morning Owen Clark, a merchant, aged 65, summoned Attorney W. W. Bacon to his office and indited a will. Later in the day he visited Graw Brothers, undertakers, and had prepared a bill of expenses for a respectable funeral, which he ordered sent to his rooms. The next morning Clark engaged a carriage and drove immediately to St. Clair street, where he was joined by Mrs. Murphy, a widow.

The two then drove to the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Lorain street, where the marriage ceremony was begun by Rev. Luther Sidley. Before the last words, which would pronounce them man and wife, could be spoken Clark fell forward in an apoplectic spasm, from which he never recovered.

The body was taken to the residence on Hill street, where an elaborate wedding breakfast had been prepared. It has been learned to-day that Clark was remarkably superstitious, and that his concern over the arrangements for the burial and the discussion of his property was due to a solemn promise made his first wife on her death bed, in presence of many witnesses, that he never would marry again under any circumstances. In his will, which was probated to-day, Clark left his entire estate, valued at $80,000, to Mrs. Murphy, who, however, insists that the ceremony had progressed far enough to make her name Mrs. Clark.

FIRE AT SEA.

A Steamship on Fire for Ten Days and the Passengers Did Not Know it.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The steamship Cachemire arrived here this morning. Last Friday evening with 160 Italian emigrants on board. It was learned Sunday, for the first time that for 10 of the 12 days of the Cachemire's voyage the vessel and all on board of her were in constant danger of the direst character. When the steamer was but one day out from Marseilles it was reported to the captain that the coal in the bunkers was on fire. The captain at once orders that the strictest secrecy should be observed, as, if the news got among the passengers, it would be impossible to avert a panic. Immediate steps were taken to quench the fire, but it had already gained serious headway. The engines were put to work and the stoke-hole doors were pressed upon the pile of coal and upon the deck above it. This was kept up for six and eight for 10 days, and not till the end of that time was the fire extinguished. The captain and crew were in almost continuous duty during that time and were completely worn out. During the whole time none of the passengers had any suspicion of the danger in which they stood, nor did they learn of it until port had been reached.

VERY HOT IN GOTHAM.

The Mercury Shows 97 in the Shade—Many Prostrations.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—To-day of the heated term in the city and it was the hottest of the year. At 3.30 p.m. it was 97 in the shade on the street level. The local Signal Service observer has a habit of touching the hottest mark to-morrow. From noon until 12 o'clock to-day, the ambulances were busy engaged in carrying to the hospitals scores of human beings prostrated by the heat. Nothing like it has been recorded all this time of the year for nearly twenty years and a continuance of the hot weather during the week would cause an enormous increase of mortality, especially in the crowded tenement districts. Several deaths have occurred and many persons are in a precarious condition. The deaths so far reported are: Jeanne Zan, a French child, Mrs. Mary Mannagh, 50 years, from illness, 3 months, John Sikes, 60 years, and Joel Pennegan, 45 years. Police Inspector Steers is also prostrated, as is also Inspector Conlin and a number of police men had to leave their posts to-day. The theatres to night are almost deserted.

Three persons were rendered insane by the heat. The scenes to night east of Broadway and south of Houston street are beyond description. The entire population have deserted their tenements and have sought the hot steps and the streets, where they are lying down or walking and gasping for breath. Little relief is offered them, however, as the brick walls are sending forth the accumulated heat of the day.

TRIED TO POISON THEM.

Powdered Pumice Stone Put in Their Milk and Three Persons Made Sick.

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 10.—On Friday night last Mr. Hedman, wife of Engr. Hedman, of 119 Main street, placed her milk pail in the front hall of the house to be filled by the delivery man in the morning. Yesterday morning Mrs. Hedman took her pail of milk up stairs to use at breakfast. Mrs. Hedman, with her two children and a girl visitor from Rhinebeck, sat down to breakfast together and partook freely of the milk. After breakfast the youngest child was taken ill and vomited violently, and Mrs. Hedman also began to feel sick. Dr. Marull was summoned, and asked what the child had been eating, and thought the illness not serious.

At supper Mr. Hedman drank two cups of the milk, and soon after and he too, was attacked with vomiting and a burning sensation in the throat. Then Mrs. Hedman thought the milk had a peculiar appearance, and Mr. Hedman examined the pail, finding the bottom of it covered with a powdered substance. Last night the members of the family were still suffering, and the remaining the contents of the pail were taken to Wilkinson & Roberts' drug store and analyzed. The powder was ascertained to be pulverized pumice stone. The case has been placed in the hands of the police and it is expected that an arrest will be made. The French people are impetuous.

Good Times in England Ended.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The St. James Gazette takes a very gloomy view of the condition of British trade, and to-day there appears in its columns an article commenting in a pessimistic manner upon the outlook for the manufacturing and other industries of Great Britain. It says, alluding from the returns issued by the Board of Trade, it looks as though we have already reached the end of good times."

TENNYSON'S BIRTHDAY.

Kaiser William Has a Mania for Collecting Autographs.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Thursday was the 82nd anniversary of the birth of Baron Tennyson, the Poet Laureate of Great Britain. A multitude of the friends of the poet visited him at his residence, Farringford, Freshwater, Isle of Wight, to tender their congratulations. Many letters bearing messages of love and respect were received. Among the distinguished churchman who personally offered their congratulations to the aged poet were the Right Rev. W. Boyd Carpenter, Bishop of Ripon, and Dr. Bradley, Dean of Westminster. Both are old friends of the poet and they spent the greater part of the day with him, taking luncheon at his delightful home.

Lord Tennyson is in excellent health. He lives in the strictest retirement, but may almost daily be seen rambling in the vicinity of his home, either in company with his son Hallam, or with his physician, Dr. Whiting. Sometimes he visits Professor Tyndall, whose residence, Hindhead, is near by. The route from Lord Tennyson's home to Hindhead passes the picturesque cottage where George Eliot wrote "Middlemarch." Lord Tennyson rarely puts his hand to pen or paper nowadays, his son conducting all his correspondence for him. But there is reason to believe that further poems by him will appear. A concert was given on Thursday at the Freshwater Assembly Rooms in honor of the anniversary of the poet's birth. Lord Tennyson's songs, set to music composed by Lady Tennyson, were the principal attraction. The accompaniments were played by Mlle. Janotha, who arranged the musical production of Tennyson's "Cycle of Songs, which was sung at St. James' Hall in March. There was a large audience present.

The Emperor William's recent visit to London he, while attending one of the social functions given in his honor, was talking with Countess Hatzfeldt, wife of the German Ambassador to London, on the subject of his collection of autographs of celebrated persons. The Countess mentioned that her husband had in his possession some letters written by Napoleon I. dated "Berlin, 1806." The Emperor was greatly interested and asked that the letters be shown him. Upon this becoming known, several celebrated families of Prussia, whose forefathers had played important parts in the campaign of that year, among them the Hohenlohe, Holstein, Kalckreut, Hatzfeld and Wittenburg families, decided to present to His Majesty all the letters, decrees and other documents written or signed by the great Napoleon which they have had in their possession for many years.

Savernake Forest for sale.

LONDON, Aug. 11. The Marquis of Ailesbury has made application to the courts for legal sanction to sell his estate at Savernake Forest, Marlborough, to Lord Iveagh (sic Edward Cecil Guinnis, of "Dublin Stout fame," for £170,000. The property consists of the ancient mansion and 1000 acres of ground. The other boys are opposed to the granting of the application, fearing the opposition on the argument that annuities alone will reap any benefit from the sale. The court reserved its decision on the application until Monday.

The Marquis of Ailesbury is one of the most accomplished sodgerjeers in the list of peerage. Born in July, 1863 he succeeded the grandfather in the family titles in October 1886. Two years previously he found a fitting mate by marrying a member of the ballet troupe attached to the Brighton Theatre, who was known as "Dolly Dexter."

The judge to whom the Earl of Ailesbury made application for leave to sell his estate has refused to grant the application.

Brigands of Turkey.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 11. The brigands of Thessaly recently made a descent from the mountains and kidnapped a French boy named Raymond Ruthe, son of a well-to-do merchant named Ruthe. The men made a desperate resistance and were severely injured. The leader of the band despatched Ruthe to Constantinople with a letter to the Count of Montebello, French Ambassador, demanding $25,000 for the release of the prisoners. The letter stated that in the event of refusal to pay the money Raymond would be shot. The Count of Montebello immediately demanded an interview with the Sultan and represented to His Majesty that the Turkish Government must take such measures as would secure the release of Raymond.

HARRY CAME BACK ALONE.

He Says the Little Girl Who Was With Him is in the Water.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. At 214 East Fourth street live the families of James Burns, a machinest, and Michael Fredricher, a furworker. Harry, a three-year-old son of Burns, and a 4-year-old daughter of Fredricher, whose name is said to be Gilmore, wandered down the street hand in hand on Sunday foward the river.

An hour later the boy was found sobbing about the bulkhead there, and taken home. Then, when asked where the girl was, he only said: "In water, in water." Fredricher ran hatless out of the house, and stayed about the dock until a late hour. He was frantic. The police say that too many people are about the dock on Sunday not to notice a drowning accident. They have learned of none by enquiry.

A Conflicting Report.

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—The Cologne Gazette reasserts that Emperor William is in robust health and adds that he now uses his leg easily and will be able to dispense with his doctor after a few short sea trips.

BITTEN BY A RATTLER.

The Horrible Fate of a Tennessee Still-Bitten in a Dozen Places.

NASHVILLE, Aug. 11.—The body of Miss Lulu Bowling was found yesterday morning in the woods near Bradyville, in Cannon county. The young woman had left her home the day before to go to a neighbor's and had been absent during the night.

She had been bitten in a dozen places by a rattlesnake, as was shown by as many discolored places on her body, which was badly swollen.

Coiled up beside the young woman's body was one of the largest rattlesnakes ever seen in the county. It was killed by the parties who found the body. It measured five feet and had 18 rattles and a button.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE LABOR BUREAU TO BE PUT IN OPERATION SHORTLY.

The Government Considering the International Abattoir Company Question—A Reciprocity Treaty with Spain to be Sought by Negotiations by the Government.

OTTAWA, Aug.—11.—In the house yesterday Mr. Haggart said the question of allowing the International Abattoir Company to import cattle from the United States to be slaughtered and the meat exported was receiving the consideration of the Government.

In reply to Mr. Lepin, Mr. Haggart said it was the intention of the Government to put into operation the act of 1890, creating a Bureau of Labor Statistics. This would be done as soon as the census returns, on which the bureau would be based, were compiled.

Mr. Foster said, in reply to Mr. Laurier, that the Government is aware that a reciprocity treaty has lately been concluded between the United States and Spain, and it intends to resume negotiations for a reciprocity treaty between Canada and Spain.

Sir Adolphe Caron said in reply to Mr. German, that a response to a petition a sum was placed in the estimates for the erection of a monument on Drummond Hill to commemorate the battle of Lundy's Lane. Since then the petitioners had requested the amount to stand, as they intended to solicit subscriptions, which with the grant of the Government, would make a larger and more imposing monument. The amount was at the disposal of the petitioners still.

The Senate Committee on Railways met this morning to investigate the charges made in connection with the disposal of the Baie des Chaeurs Railway subsidy. The gentleman usher of the Black Rod reported that his deputy, who was sent to Montreal to serve a summons on C. N. Armstrong, contractor of the road, was unable to find him. A telegram was read from Mr. Armstrong, dated at Inch Arran, saying that he would be present on Wednesday. A letter was read from the company saying that it had decided to take no part in the proceedings.

The chairman reported that no answer had been received from several of those to whom summonses were sent Saturday, including Mr. Pacaud, editor of Le'Electeur. As there were no witnesses present the committee adjourned until to-day.

Hon. Francois Langelier received a telegram from Mr. Pacaud to-day, stating that he had not received any summons to appear before the committee, but that he left Buebec yesterday, expecting to give evidence to-day. When Mr. Pacaud reached Montreal he learned from the Gazette that he was requested by his summons to bring certain papers, and that Mr. Barwick declined to proceed with any inquiry until after Mr. Armstrong had given testimony, consequently Mr. Pacaud went back to Quebec, where he will await the Senate's summons.

The bill to grant a subsidy of $80,000 a year for 21 years, to the Hudson Bay Railway, passed the Senate on a division of 35 to 15.

Hon. Mr. Cosgrain Dying.

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—A telegram from Mr. H. Cosgrain, of the Patent Office, conveys intelligence of the sudden and serious illness of Senator Cosgrain, at one of the islands near Cornwall. The Senator went out on Saturday in perfectly good health with his brother, with a view of spending a couple of days among the Islands.

A Government Laborer Fatally Injured.

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—Charles Lepage, Government workman, received probable fatal injuries. He was, with others, running up the Russian trestle for use in repairing the roof of the Parliamentary Library, when the rope broke and the trestle, weighing 1500 pounds, fell on his head, crushing him to the ground insensible. He was taken to the Water-street hospital. The rope was taken from the Government stores and was said to be rotten.

A Bridegroom Killed.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11. Saturday morning Hermenas Pabardeau, aged 20, of St. Henri, left for St. Hubert to visit a young lady, to whom he was about to be married. He remained all day, during which the wedding day was fixed and all preliminaries for the happy event perfected. With many adieux the groom expectant left at dark for the station to catch the train for Montreal. This was the last heard of him till yesterday, when the driver of the 6 o'clock morning train approaching St. Hubert for the city saw the body of a man lying in the centre of the track just ahead. The body was subsequently identified as being that of young Pabardeau.

It is thought the young man having remained rather late at the house of his affianced, hurried along the centre of the railway track to catch the train, and it being quite dark the latter overtook and knocked him down before he could realize its nearness.

A Sunday Storm's Fatality.

WATERLOO, Ont., Aug. 11. Many barns north of this were unroofed by yesterday's storm, fences blown down and much damage done to standing crops. In Waterloo a dwelling house was struck by lightning. The roof of the establishment of Graybill Manufacturing Co. was blown off and carried a considerable distance. The church and school house in the village of Bloomingdale were unroofed. A party of small children were holding a picnic in Koerber's grove, near Lexington in the afternoon. The storm came on suddenly just as they sat down to tea and blew down a large maple, the branches of which in its fall struck a number of children. A little girl name years old, named Siegman, was instantly killed and five others seriously injured, two of them, it is feared fatally.

Shown to the Jury in Its Coffin.

STRATFORD, Aug. 11.—An inquest was held by Coroner Devlin and a jury on the body of a child which died under suspicious circumstances. The child was born at the house of a family named Bingeman in this city, the mother's name being Rose Hohner, and was afterwards removed to the house of Mrs. Stevenson, who lives in the Duperow farm in Downie. While there numerous attempts were made to have the child adopted, but without success. On the day of the child's death it was given something to drink supposed to be milk. Immediately after partaking of the liquid it turned sick, vomited and died one hour afterwards.

The child was produced in court to enable the jury to witness it. It was in a coffin and appeared quite natural.

Death Claimed Him.

DELHI, Ont., Aug. 11.—Saturday evening Robert Laing while bathing in Big Creek dove striking his head against a log injuring his spine so that he had to be extricated from the water. He died last night. He was a member of the I. O. F.

A Double Blow.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11.—A dispatch from Lanenburg yesterday says: Mathew Weiser was working from home last week, and upon returning Saturday night he found his wife dead in the house, with her blind baby by her side calling her. She had apparently been dead several days, and her baby had been without food that length of time. She had been subject to epileptic fits and is supposed to have died when having one.

China Wears Nothing.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 11.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister, was the representative of his Government for many years and had been Attorney-General at Hong Kong and also had held other important positions there.

These uprisings, he said, were common and he did not attach any importance to them. The lower classes were invariably opposed to the superior.

Drowned While Bathing.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—A young man named Ellis Hayden, employed by T. R. Escott & Co., wholesale grocers, was drowned in the river near Saunby's mill to-night while bathing. The body is being grappled for as this report leaves. Deceased was a nephew of Rev. J. E. Lancely, of Toronto.

HIS ARDENT TEMPER

MAY WORK THE NATION ILL BY HASTENING HIS DEATH.

Kaiser William's Rheumatism May Reach His Heart—His Physicians Advise a Long Rest in Order to Avert the Danger—What His Death Would Mean.

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—William the second arrived to-day at Kiel on board the Hohenzollern, which at present he is unable to leave. The Emperor's condition is much more grave than has been admitted, for not only does he suffer from his knee-joint and his ear trouble, but terribly severe rheumatic pains absolutely nail him down to his chair and will compel him to remain utterly inactive for at least a fortnight, without the least prospect of stirring.

"The doctors, while stating that the alarming news which has been circulated is exaggerated, say that if the Emperor continues to refuse to submit himself to the treatment prescribed, the rheumatism must soon assume a more serious aspect and attack the heart.

"For the moment he is quite unable to undertake any work, and it is though his stay at Kiel may benefit him if he keeps to the regime laid dowe. But they fear that his ardent temperament will not resign itself to enforced repose.

"There is much anxiety as to the condition of the Emperor, and uneasiness is felt as to what will be the outcome should his disease have a fatal ending.

"'If William II. were to die,' said Herr Miguel, the German Minister of Finance, 'Germany would be in a most unenviable position. The crown would revert to a child seven years old and the nation would have to appoint as regent Prince Henry of Prussia, the Emperor's brother, but Prince Henry is a sailor and his friends are only sailors, scarcely known to the public. His hand could not for a moment hold the mane of the German lion.'

"Here is the other side of the question: Others say that in the event of Henry of Prussia becoming Regent his first step would be to reinstate Prince Bismarck in the Chancellorship—in fact, Prince Henry is one of the most ardent admirers of the ex-Chancellor, whose recall would, in addition, be insisted upon by the Germans, who would consider the unity of the Empire at stake if its founder did not come to the rescue.

"Now, Bismarck's first act would be to bring about a reconciliation between Germany and Russia. On the other hand, he would take strong measures to revive the laws against Socialists, and he is hardly the man who would in any wao diminish the present martial law that weighs down the people of Alsace and Lorraine.

"It is an absolute fact that the Emperor cried with pain when he was moved; that his ear trouble is increasing and causes frequent epileptic fits, which are recurring at shorter intervals and with greater intensity than ever before; so that most serious apprehensions are entertained as to the result throughout the German Empire."

The Emperor's Side of the Story.

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—The Cologne Gazette reasserts that Emperor William is in robust health, and adds that he now uses his leg easily and will be able to dispense with his doctor after a few short sea trips.

THE ZOLLVEREIGN'S ATTITUDE.

Are France and Russia Menaced With Isolation.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—M. Ribot, French Minister of Foreign Affairs, will go to Lausanne at the end of this month on a vacation, during which he will meet, either at Lausanne or at Lucerne, the Russian Foreign minister, M. de Giers. The meeting is the subject of much speculation. Apart from the Franco-Russian treaty to understandin galready partially effected. M. Ribot, according to a diplomatic report, will seize the chance to consult with M. de Giors on the menacing attitude of the Dreibund Zoilvereen toward both France and Russia. Yesterday's evening "North German Gazette" frankly avows what the French Foreign Office has long suspected that the ultimate object of Germany in promoting a European commercial league was the conclusion of tariff convention with all States outside of Europe. A semi-communication to the "North German Gazette" repudiates any design to isolate France or to interfere with Russian commerce, but the palpable result of the Zollvereen in placing the parties to the compact in an advantage position for the negotiation of commercial treaties with foreign States is dwelt upon.

If M. Ribot succeeds, through his conference with M. de Giers, in effecting an economic understanding between the two countries, it will greatly add to the Repute of both statesmen.

TO OBTAIN A WILL.

Victor Berge, of Bordeaux, Cut Open a Woman's Body.

BORDEAUX, Aug. 11.—Victor Berge has just been sentenced at the Girondo assizes to life imprisonment to hard labor for the murder of his mistress, Marie Boudon. Berge, whose father is a small land owner at Cehoes, Department of the Lot, was a medical student in this city. He met Marie, who was a dressmaker, and shortly afterwards the couple lived together. By the death of a maiden aunt a short time ago, Berge came into possession of 10,000 francs. This will naming him as heir he had in his possession and showed to Marie, whereupon she demanded that, as a recompense to her, he gave her one half of the legacy. This Berge refused and the woman snatched it from his hand. A terrific struggle ensued, which was finally ended by Berge throwing the woman heavily to the floor, but not, however, before she had by a final effort swallowed the will. In a few hours the woman was dead.

Berge, in order to gain possession of his inheritance, cut the body open and removed the will. It was in this condition that the body was discovered.

AN ANCIENT CEREMONY.

"Reconciliation" Performed in an English Church.

LONDON, Aug. 11. The ancient and unusual ceremony of "reconciliation" has been performed in a London church for the second time within a few months, although it had not been performed for many years. The first case was that of a man who shot himself during service in St. Paul's Cathedral. The church was purified or "reconciled," which is the ecclesiastical word.

The second case of "reconciliation" was two days ago. A poor tramp, as fi in rebuke to the quality of Christianity which he met in London, hung himself in the porch of the parish church of St. Ethelburga in Bishopsgate street. When found by the sexton the tramp was dead. His death being assumed to have polluted the edifice the Bishop of London held the quaint "reconciliation" servide, the tramp meanwhile having been buried with the paupers. Many members of the Church of England have protested against the service, as savoring too much of the middle ages.

International Convention of Hygiene.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The seventh annual session of the International Congress of Hygiene opened in St. James' Hall here today. The Prince of Wales presided. There were 2300 delegates present. Among the more prominent delegates were Prof. Pasteur of Paris and Prof. Koch of Berlin. In his address of welcome the Prince referred to the improved sanitary condition of factories.

"Just as Good."

Say some dealers who try to sell a substitute preparation when a customer calls for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not allow any such false statements as this induce you to buy what you do not want. Remember that the only reason for making it is that a few cents more profit will be made on the substitute. Insist upon having the best medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is peculiar to itself.

TURNBULL'S.

We want to call attention to a large lot of Lace Curtains we are opening out and marking; there is nothing attractive in a large lot unless they are being sold at prices that will save money to the purchaser. This is just what we purpose to do. We show a Curtain, taped and bound, at 60c. a pair, a still better one for 75c., and a beauty for $1, while the best in the lot are only $1.50. We have cleared out whole lines at greatly reduced prices is how we are able to offer such inducements. We have opened out to-day and placed on our second floor a nice range of new patterns in Hemp Carpets, some of these are very desirable.

To-day we open our first shipment of Ladies' Mantles for Fall. They are a very stylish lot. Parties wanting one for a special occasion early will be glad to know that they can now see the new fall styles with us. We have received the invoice of a lot of Dress Goods, they will be opened before this appears in print. We have also got nearly all the shades of very pretty Plaids for making over dresses. We need hardly remind the public that everything stylish, serviceable and cheap is kept on our counters.

In our Tailoring Department we are showing some fresh patterns of Heavy Weight Tweeds at from $15 to $17 a suit, especially suited for elderly men. Ask to see our heavy pantings at 50c. a yard, made out of the best of wool.

THE CAR WORKS BY-LAW.

Public Opinion Apparently Endorses It.

Not Much Opposition to the Measure—Some Good Speeches and Others Not So Good—A Few Stirring Clashes Amongst the Debaters.

If the expression of public opinion gained at the mass meeting Monday night is a true reflection of the feelings of the ratepayers, there does not appear to be much consistent opposition to the Car Works Bylaw. The pros fairly overwhelmed the cons. In fact no one opposed it openly.

There were about 200 ratepayers present, among them several councillors, prominent business men and representative labouring men. Mayor Stevenson presided and called the meeting to order shortly after eight o'clock.

Mr. STEVENSON briefly explained the objects of the meeting. None of the ratepayers would say that manufactories were not an advantage to the town, and the people had now before them an opportunity to bring an industry here, which if not accepted would not be repeated for some time. This was a St. Catharines' firm, Patterson & Corbin, who made street cars, both electrical and horse. St. Catharines was sorry to lose them, but they wanted to be near the Edison General Electric Company with whom they exchanged supplies. The terms they asked from the town were that they be granted free buildings and land (which they would keep insured) and exemption from taxes, and as soon as they cease to pay $300 a week in wages the property would revert to the town. The gentlemen who composed the firm had seen the land which the town owned in the south ward and were satisfied with it. The Company would have to employ at least 50 skilled hands to bring the wage rate up to $300. Personally Mr. Stevenson said he was opposed to bonuses, but they were in this position that they would get nothing unless they gave something. This was an important matter for the ratepayers. He had himself every confidence in the future of the town, as was evident from the fact that he had purchased Mr. Geo. A. Cox's interest in property valued at $40,000 which they had owned jointly. Property was rising in value all over the town, and it was due to the manufacturing industries, the Edison Works and others, which had been brought into the town. With regard to the matter in question, Mr. Stevenson said he believed it was to the ratepayers' interest to support the Manufacturers' Committee. Even if this industry failed, which he did not in the least anticipate, the property would be ready for another industry. But these men were recommended by scores of gentlemen who knew them, as who would make the business go. The extra outlay in taxes to the ratepayers would be more than repaid by the increased prices of property. Some men say their houses do not rent now for increased prices, but while this might be so they must remember that there were a great many houses going up and when more factories were brought in with hundreds of families they would then be filled up. The town had hit upon the best thing yet in bringing the Edison Works here, and in his mind the next best thing was the Car Works they proposed to bring here. The expense to the ratepayers would be small—only about $300 a year would be added to the civic expenditures, and they simply allowed the new company the use of the buildings rent free. The increased assessment resulting from the rise in the value of property in the neighborhood benefitted should, if the assessment was properly made, bear the burden of the bonus. When the Carbon Works was voted $6,000 there was great grumbling, and he himself had not great faith in it then; but now he saw a great future before it. The Carbon Works Company now employed about 60 men, and had branched out into the manufacture of porcelain goods on which alone Mr. Taylor expected to employ 150 men. There was a great demand for porcelain goods. The Edison company used lots of it for switches and nobs, and the Lock Works needed door knobs. The Lock Works had in the last ten years paid $14,000 for duty on porcelain knobs, and if these were purchased in town there would be a great deal more money left with the people. So he felt confident the car works would give good results on the grounds he had given.

Councillor MOORE said that, in the first place, the council never invited Patterson & Corbin to come here. The firm had declared their intention of leaving St. Catharines, where they had not the facilities they desired. After examining different towns in the Province they had come to the conclusion that Peterborough alone possessed what they wanted—railway facilities and other privileges. Mr. Moore denied the rumour that this car works scheme was only a side line to aid the Edison Works. There was nothing more in it than that the Edison Company had expressed a wish that the car works be located here, as they would use a great deal of their goods. Mr. Moore pointed out several clauses in the by-law which were a

SAFEGUARD TO THE TOWN'S INTERESTS.

The Car Works Company had bound themselves to pay out $300 a week in wages, to insure the buildings and to keep them in repair. The property they were using for the car works building was a piece of land lying between the two lines of railway which could be used for no other purpose than for manufactories. Besides the property always remained in possession of the town, and the corporation gave them no cash consideration. The ratepayers could not say they encouraged industries to come here unless they knew them to be solid and progressive. The manufacture of electrical street cars was going ahead. Electric street cars were replacing horse cars all over the country. Now, it was stated in the bylaw that the debt of the town was $300,000, which was the gross debt, and against it there were assets to the amount of $125,000, which could be turned into ready cash—$60,000 railway stock $60 000 debentures, and the valuable town buildings. Lindsay had three times the debt of Peterborough with not a quarter of the assessment, and other towns were as bad or worse, so that so far as giving away the assets of the town and incurring debts, the present council could not be accused of anything like it. The town occupied a unique position as to its indebtedness, and could put its bonds on the market as favourably as could Montreal or Toronto. Mr. Moore concluded with other remarks anent the sound financial position of the town.

Mr. JOHN MCNAUGHTON then rose up and said that this had been announced as a meeting of ratepayers, and he did not think it right for the Mayor and councillors to occupy the platform and conduct the meeting.

Mr. D. HILLIER, carter, at the same time claimed a hearing, and said he would like to have a detailed statement of what the Edison Co's bonus would cost. (Applause.) The people had voted $15,000 for the Edison Works, but he was satisfied that three times that amount would not cover it. (Applause.) He kicked against the council asking for $15,000 for something that would cost $50,000 or $60,000. (Applause.) Mr. Hillier then went into details on this question, and cries of "sit down" became heard, but Mr. Hillier was not easily repressed, and an amusing dialogue took place between him and the chairman. Mr. Hillier continued to interrupt and demand a fair hearing, and finally had to be removed by the Chief.

Councillor KENDRY said that at a late council meeting he had moved that the Clerk bring down a detailed statement of all the moneys expended on account of the Edison Works, which would show that the

and the statement when made out would satisfy the people. Mr. Kendry expressed himself as in favor of aiding industries by any means except a cash bonus, and he felt the council was doing the best for the town. They had brought the Edison Works here, which was a big thing, and others followed as a natural consequence. They wanted the ratepayers to support them in their efforts to build up the town.

Councillor DAWSON explained that the statement asked for by Mr. Kendry had not been issued because they were waiting until the drain to the Edison Works was finished when they could give a complete statement of every cent expended.

Mr. GEO. BALL asked if the statement would be down before the vote was taken on the new bylaw. He said he had come there as the representative of two organizations—the workingmen of the northern district and the Single Tax Society. The latter objected to the system of municipal taxation now in vogue. They were in favor of granting exemption to new and established industries alike. The new ones came here simply because of the natural facilities the town afforded. A paltry bonus alone would not bring a rich corporation like the Edison company, but they came because there were other industries here and the town afforded splendid privileges. Therefore the established industries should receive the benefit for having pointed out the town's advantages to those who followed. Mr. Ball then dwelt upon the connection of the single tax theory with industries. He did not think it fair that the people of the north end of the town (or vice versa) should pay for

Is very liable to follow contact of the hands or face with what is known as poison ivy, especially in hot weather or if the body is perspiring freely. The trouble may subside for a time, only to appear in aggravated form when opportunity offers. The great purifying powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla thoroughly eradicate every trace of poison from the blood, as the cures it has accomplished conclusively show. It also cures scrofula, salt rheum and all other affections arising from impure or poisoned blood.

Do You Cough?

Don't delay. Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. It will cure coughs and colds. It will cure sore throat, or a tickling in the throat. It will cure pains in the chest. It will cure influenza and bronchitis and all diseases pertaining to the lungs, because it is a pure balsam. Hold it to the light and see how clear and thick it is. You see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Large bottles 50c and $1. dw

As a healing, soothing application for cuts, wounds, bruises and sores, there is nothing better than Victoria Carbolic Salve. dw

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Sufferers

FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.

Dr. T. E. Hastings, of Baltimore, says: "Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of my profession."

Dr. John W. Brown, of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills."—G. S. Wanderlich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P. Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

A Handsome Prize,

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—*The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig. THE NEW

Chemong Park Hotel

—AND—

SUMMER RESORT,

BRIDGENORTH.

Six Miles from the Town of Peterborough

WILL BE OPEN to the public on July 1st. The new three-story brick Hotel is very pleasantly situated, in close proximity to the shores of Chemong Lake. The house has been elegantly furnished throughout with new furniture, new carpeting, new bedding, etc. It is fitted up with hot and cold water baths, closets, and other accessories. The sleeping rooms are all large, airy and well ventilated. The inviting breeze from Chemong Lake, the excellent boating, fishing and bathing facilities, together with its easy access by rail or boat, contribute to make this Hotel and Summer Resort a most attractive spot. The table will be kept strictly first-class and every attention will be paid to the comfort of guests.

Terms moderate. Further information on application to L. G. FORREST, proprietor, Bridgenorth, Ont. d148-1m

OUR NICKEL MINES.

Work Being Vigorously Pushed Forward in Fairbank Township.

LAKEWOOD, Aug. 10. Work has been vigorously pushed forward in the large quartz vein recently discovered in the township of Fairbank so far with excellent results. It has been known for some months that the geological formation in Fairbanks, Trill and Creighton were favorable to the existence of gold bearing quartz, but until quite recently the enormous extent and richness of the ore bodies have not been known. Two of the experts who have examined the district have pointed out the remarkable resemblance of the vein to that operated by the consolidated Virginia and California Company of the United States. That successful company on an investment of $100,000 has already paid dividends amounting to $3,466,000 according to official statistics. In the townships of Trill, Fairbank and Creighton are several very promising locations. As both the hanging and foot walls are well defined the veins are pronounced to be true fissure veins. The country rock is a conglomerate, but at a depth of about 75 feet changes into a dark talcose formation, in which the richest gold deposits of Nevada, California and Australia are found. A large quantity of ore has already been extracted. Assays made by Prof. Thomas Heys of Toronto show that the ore very much exceeds in richness the best paying gold mines of Colorado, Alaska or Michigan.

Although the nickel deposits are of great importance, both to the district and to the province, the interest in them is already much exceeded by the increasing interest in the gold properties of Creighton and Fairbank. The Canada Copper Company, a company exclusively of Yankee capitalists, already numerous considerable properties in the township of Creighton, and mining engineers are busily working at the development of them. The richness and extent of the deposits and the enormous profits to be derived from their development will no doubt in the long run prove a blessing to Canada. America will come to Canada, but Canadians should endeavor to secure and retain such a large proportion of these properties which will afford unlimited opportunities for lucrative enterprises.

Privileges and Elections.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10. At the Privileges and Elections Committee Saturday morning Expert Engineers Jennings and McConnell presented their bill and were given an order for the same. It amounts to $1,905.

Colonel John Hesp, Q.C., late Sergeant-at-Arms, was the first witness. He is a civil engineer, and has lived in Ottawa for 47 years. He read the story told by Baskerville on Friday before the committee that he (witness) promised Baskerville, who was one of the tenderers for the Esquimalt dock, that if he (Baskerville) would give him $10,000 he would get the Esquimalt dock contract. It was all a joke.

Proceeding with his evidence he said he was a contractor for the Public Works Department but he was honest and never got his contracts corruptly. He might have cracked that joke with Baskerville and afterwards twitted him with not accepting the offer.

George Beaucage was sworn. He told how he had put in a tender for the Quebec cross wall contract, and that when he was not given the work, although the tender was on his judgment, the lowest, he took action on for $5000 damages against Thomas McGreevy because of his allegation in the Senate, he believed Thomas McGreevy had wronged him by unjustly causing the rejection of his tender to the contract. He said that J. C. Archambault, Q.C., of Montreal, had taken the action against Thomas McGreevy on the information given by Mr. Tarte to the witness. He had had interview with Messrs. Tarte and Archambault about it and the Q. C., he said, was always urging after him to get permission to take on the action.

Witness said Mr. Tarte told him that Thomas McGreevy had robbed him. The suit was taken and judgment given against witness with $300 or $450 costs. The costs had not been paid and the case had been appealed.

Major Ryerson's Body Found.

VICTORIA, Ont., Aug. 10. Three young men named Jackson, Lade and Post, residents of Normandale, when returning from an excursion over Long Point yesterday found a body on the beach about a mile below Ryerson's Island. In the pockets were found a gold watch and chain, a bunch of keys, on one of which was engraved the words, "Egerton Ryerson," also a handkerchief with the name of W. Ryerson stamped on the corner. A ring on the little finger of the right hand was also found which is recognizable by friends here as worn by Mr. Ryerson. The body is very much decomposed but from the above evidence is beyond doubt that of the late Major Ryerson, who with Mr. Bunker of Toronto, were lost in the yacht Mabel in Lake Erie on 3rd July last.

Great Loss of Life.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 11.—Four young people, children of prominent business men, were drowned at Lake Pewaukee, 20 miles from here, yesterday.

They were out in a small boat with three other people. The names of the drowned are: Albert Barte, Emma Barth, Martha Kindling, Clara Zeigler. Their ages ranged from 13 to 20 years.

BOSTON, Aug. 10.—At Dorchester Bay this afternoon the yacht Nay started on a cruise about the bay having on board four men and five children. In backing the vessel keeled over too far and the entire party was thrown into the water. Names of those lost follow: J. M. Burke, captain, aged 40 years; Thaddeus Manthou, aged 30; Nellie Burke, aged 11; James Burke, aged 8; Thomas Carmody, aged 11; Annie Carmody, aged 13.

WEST BAY, Mich., Aug. 11. About three o'clock three boys were out alone on the bay in a row boat, when it capsized and as there was not another boat near they were all drowned. The boys, whose ages were 16, 18 and 20 years respectively, lived in Saginaw. Two of their names were Frank Winterhalter and Charles Wiedemeyer.

Fight at a Camp Meeting.

BARNESVILLE, Md., Aug. 11. The colored camp meeting here was the scene of a bloody fight yesterday, while the crowd was waiting for the evening train to convey them to their homes. A party of negroes engaged in a dispute over cigars, when one of them, Louis Brown of Richmond, Va., threw a stone at some of his companions. This caused the rest of the gang to draw revolvers and razors, and after a dozen shots were fired it was found Brown was killed. Three of his companions were also wounded. Brown's body was left lying on the platform near the depot. It presented a horrible spectacle. His pistol was still grasped in his right hand.

The Boy Was Killed.

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 10.—A most melancholy accident occurred on Friday night at the residence of R. W. Hayes, London township, whereby a 17-year-old son of Mr. Clark, cheese buyer, of South London, lost his life. The lad was spending his holidays in the country, and was driving a heavily loaded waggon and team, when by some means he was thrown out and run over. He was picked up unconscious and carried into the house, where all that was possible was done to restore consciousness, but without effect. Death intervened about midnight.

Will Formally Protest.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—It was stated last night that at the meeting of the Senate Committee on Railways this morning Mr. Francois Langelier, M. P., will enter a formal protest against the proposed investigation on the ground that it is not within the jurisdiction of either the committee or the Senate to enquire into a matter concerning the expenditure of money by a provincial legislature.

The North Brandon Election.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 10. In the election on Saturday at North Brandon, Attorney-General Sifton was successful, defeating Cliff, Opposition, by 173. The majority was much larger than anticipated.

The Largest Bear Killed.

WIARTON, Aug. 10.—Mr. T. Hepburn and W. Candle, residing at Hope Bay, killed a bear weighing 750 lbs. This was the largest ever killed on the peninsula. The killing was done with an axe.

A Terrible Sneezing Fit.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Aug. 10. The physicians of South Charleston, 12 miles east of here, are completely baffled by the case of Miss May Creston, who is sneezing to death. Physicians have been unable to check it. The girl neither eats nor sleeps, and seems to suffer terribly.

Two Were Killed.

SENECA, Kas., Aug. 10.—Last evening a passenger train struck a carriage full of people at the Simson crossing, two miles east of here. A. H. Burnett and Miss Frances Fuller were killed outright.

Went Bathing While Heated.

PICKERING, Ont., Aug. 8.—John Jackson, aged 25, went in bathing while heated at Greenwood. His clothing was subsequently found on the bank and the body was recovered yesterday.

Drowned While Drunk.

BROCKVILLE, Aug. 8.—James Watts of Oak Point in attempting to bail out his boat while intoxicated fell overboard and was drowned.

She was Willing to Give Up All.

When Queen Elizabeth of England found death approaching her she cried despairingly, "All my possessions for a moment of time!" There are wealthy ladies to-day, the world over, who would gladly exchange their riches for sound health. Many are made well and happy by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a never-failing cure for all diseases so common to women. As a corrective for all functional weaknesses it is of universal repute among the sex, and thousands of pale, worn-out, enfeebled victims have been changed into vigorous women and girls by its use. Guaranteed to give satisfaction, or price refunded. Druggists have it. b

Nicolet Notes.

"I suffered continual pain from canker of the stomach and my face and body were almost covered with pimples. I tried Burdock Blood Bitters, the first dose occasioned slight pain, but I soon found relief, and after taking 5 bottles I became completely cured. I think B.B.B. the most powerful remedy known to science."—Stephen Edge, Nicolet, P. Q. dw

All cases of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them. dw

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores, dw

Consult Your Neighbors.

Any one may find out just what Burdock Blood Bitters is and does by asking a neighbor who has tried it. It rarely fails in making a complete cure of dyspepsia, constipation, sickheadache, biliousness and diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. dw

Oh! What Beautiful Hands.

Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses will cure chapped hands and make them soft and smooth. Try it. Druggists keep it, W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d34

Always avoid harsh purgative pills. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill. dw

Baby was Sick.

"My baby was very sick with diarrhœa and after everything else had failed I tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; the first dose gave relief and a perfect cure soon resulted."—Mrs. John Clark, Bloomfield, Ont. dw

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Can Not Compete.

Miss Maud Grant, of Mountain, Ont., writes, "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaints and diarrhœa. There is nothing to compete with it as it succeeds even in the severest cases." dw

A Suitable Gift.

A tube of Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses for making the skin soft and smooth will be acceptable to any lady. Druggists keep it, W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d34

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—193 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an Independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER and KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded—If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

Fell From a Scaffold.

This morning a scaffold attached to a house in process of erection at Javeries, collapsed and fell to pieces, precipitating three men to the ground but fortunately without serious results. Those on the scaffold were Mr. Hall, painter, and Messrs. W. F. Adamson and Harry Dawson, employes of Mr. Adam Hall, plumber. They fell a distance of about 18 feet. Harry Dawson received the worst shaking up, but the others were not incapacitated for work.

Work of the Lightning.

Sunday afternoon's storm did considerable damage. Already a couple of fires are reported as being caused by lightning.

The barns and stables of Mr. Richard Cavanagh, in the first concession of Douro, were destroyed by fire Sunday evening. They were struck by lightning. Mr. Cavanagh's loss will be quite heavy.

The two frame barns, horse stable and other outbuildings owned by the Mathers brothers, Mathers' Corners, and occupied by David Crukshanks, were struck by lightning and destroyed with all their contents. There were in the buildings a large quantity of grain and implements, valued at about $1000, on which Mr. Crukshanks holds a policy for $500. The buildings were also covered by insurance by the Messrs. Mather.

BIG BOODLING CHARGES.

The Concession Street, Ashburnham Sidewalk Scandal.

The Downer-Dawson Charges Investigated—Both Sides Heard—Evidence Taken on Oath—Contradictory Statements as to the Time the Work Took—Adjournment of the Investigation.

The spirit of investigation waved its wand—not the genial councillor of that ilk—over virtuous village of Ashburnham and in obedience thereto a special meeting of the village council met Monday night. There were present, the Reeve in the chair, councillors Craig, Throop and tWead, and a large gathering of the free and independent ratepayers and the equally free and independent small boy, who were attracted by the entertainment which the investigation into the Downer-Dawson-Craig charges as to the undue and excessive expense of constructing a certain sidewalk, to wit, that on Concession street south of Maria, gave. Though the electors objected to being taxed unduly for sidewalks they did not object to taxing the seating capacity of the hall to its utmost limit, and bringing up the temperature to a melting notch. Not only was the inside of the hall full, but a crowd of eager faces filled every window, and very effectively excluded every puff of wind that might have strayed inside to mitigate the roast within.

The proceedings were of a judicial character, Mr. John Burnham, Q.C., M.P., acting in a judicial capacity and administering the statutory declarations which he warned the witnesses had the binding nature of an oath. Neither side of the parties concerned was represented by counsel, each seeming to be able to look out for its own interest, and in the frequent sotto voce verbal recriminations indulged in, parliamentary language was not always adhered to, but the soothing voice of the chairman poured oil on the troubled waters.

Below are given verbatim the

made and subscribed by the several witnesses :—

Ontario, County of Peterborough, To wit : } In the matter of the sidewalk on Concession street, south of Maria street, in the village of Ashburnham.

I, William Dawson, of Ashburnham, do solemnly declare that during the month of June and in the early part of July I had occasion to pass the corner of Maria and Concession streets and I remember that in the latter part of June, on the 26th, I think, a sidewalk had been commenced, and I again passed the same place on the 27th, about 9 a.m., when I saw two men working at it (Jesse Gray and another man). The next day was Sunday. I passed again on the 30th of June in the forenoon, when I saw two men working. I do not remember about the first of July. On the 2nd of July I passed again in the forenoon, when I saw two men working, and the work was all or not finished. (The sidewalk is about 462 feet long and is less than four feet wide.) There was some grading to be done. I do not know who did it. I think two men could do the work in three days, including the grading, provided lumber was cut to length.

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, under and by virtue of the Act respecting extra judicial oaths.

Signed, WM. DAWSON.

Declared before me, this 10th day of August, 1891, at the village of Ashburnham.

JOHN BURNHAM.

Ontario, County of Peterborough, To wit : } In the matter of the sidewalk on Concession street, south of Maria street, in the village of Ashburnham.

I, Lewis S. Downer, of the village of Ashburnham, do solemnly declare that I worked on the said sidewalk four and a half days, the first day with Bert Craig, worked all day at sidewalk, except one half day at railroad crossing; the second day Bert Craig and I worked at the sidewalk all day; the third day I worked all day, and Maxwell worked with me from 9 a.m.; the fourth day Maxwell and I worked all day at it till 10.30 a.m., when we completed it. I worked faithfully at the work during the times I have mentioned, as also did those who were working with me, and I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and under and by virtue of the act respecting extra judicial oaths. Signed

JOHN BURNHAM.

Mr. Frank Eano was called to corroborate Mr. Downer's figures as to the measurement of the sidewalk in question, but he failed to remember anything about the matter, stating that he had enough to do to look after his own affairs.

THE DEFENCE

was then heard.

Mr. John Craig, street inspector appeared with his time book, and made, by its aid, the following declaration :

Ontario, County of Peterborough, To wit : } In the matter of the sidewalk on Concession street, south of Maria street, in the village of Ashburnham.

I, John Craig, of the village of Ashburnham, Road Overseer, do solemnly declare that I commenced to lay the walk mentioned above on the 24th day of June. The sidewalk is 471 feet long together with an approach to Eano's gate five feet in length. It is three feet wide being plank cut into four. Bert Craig and Jessie Gray went to work at 7 a.m., they took the lumber with them. These two men worked the greater part of the day at that sidewalk. I was not there that day. The rest of the day they worked at the railway crossing over the creek on Concession street towards Downer's Corners. Two men worked at the sidewalk on the 25th, from 9 a.m. till 5 p.m. These two men were Jesse Gray and William Marshall. I think Marshall and Gray worked at the sidewalk on the whole of the 26th, and also on the 27th or part of the day. They completed the sidewalk on the 29 h between ten and eleven a.m. The three men above named are all the parties who worked at the sidewalk and I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true and u der and by virtue of the act respecting extra judicial oaths. Signed

JOHN CRAIG.

Taken and declared before me this 10th day of August 1891 at the village of Ashburnham.

JOHN BURNHAM.

At the conclusion of the testimony there was a consultation amongst the councillors in which all the parties concerned joined, as well as some outsiders, Mr. Hamilton Marshall volunteering the palliating remark amidst much laughter that the workman should naturally do less work in a day than last year because the wages were $1.00 this year against $1.25 the previous year.

The council not being able to come to any conclusion in the absence of the street pay list bearing upon this work, an adjournment was made to permit of the inspection of this important document and comparing it with Inspector Craig's time book and the evidence of the witnesses.

Campbellford Scores a Victory Over Peterborough.

The result of the cricket match was published in the EXAMINER yesterday, and to-day the score is given in full. It will be seen that Ray, Stocker and Rutherford did the scoring for Peterborough, "Sam" batting in old form. The bowling of Stocker was the most effective. Walter made a good record—7 wickets for 27 runs. The fielding of the home team was very loose. Had it approached the average Campbellford's 90 runs would have dwindled down to one-half that figure. For Campbellford Sharpe, of Belleville, scored 45 in good style, but he was missed early in the game when he should have been retired for a small figure. Following was the score :—

New Orange Lodge.

C. W. Sawers, County Secretary, has received and forwarded to Secretary of British America, an application for a new Orange warrant. The new lodge will be composed of Edison Co.men and starts with a membership of about 50.

The Clergy of St. John's.

Rev. J.C. Davidson left town this morning for his summer holiday, leaving Rev. C. B. Kenrick in charge of the parish. Mr. Davidson will be absent until the first week in September. Rev. W. M. Loucks returns at the end of this week.

A Serenade.

Mr. Cardwell, of the Cardwell House, was last night honoured with a serenade. The fine band of the Lindsay True Blues on their return from Port Hope having a short time to wait in town, visited the Cardwell House and delighted the proprietor with a few fine selections which were duly appreciated by the genial host.

True Blues Demonstration

The Peterborough True Blues put in a good day at Port Hope. There was a large number of Blues from Toronto, Lindsay and other places present, and a big parade was held, after which there were sports in the park. The Peterborough Blues, made a fine appearance. They returned at an early hour last night.

Another New Industry.

A Mr. Jackson of Toronto, representing a syndicate of five or six was in town yesterday looking for a site for the establishment of a manufactory of safety and other bicycles tricycles, an improved model of baby carriages and other goods. Mr. Jackson is not seeking a bonus but hopes to organize a joint stock company.

Hail Stones Like Marbles.

A terrific rain and hail storm passed over the town this afternoon. Rain began, falling heavily at first, accompanied by flashes of lightning and slight thunder, and presently hailstones mingled with the rain, at first the size of peas and then as large as marbles. The hail was driven violently before a high wind and some damage must have been done to the crops throughout the country. The air was considerably cooled by the storm.

A Rattling Runaway.

A fine gray team owned by Mr. Michael O'Donnell ran away this afternoon, and one of the horses was badly injured. Mr. O'Donnell was engaged in drawing logs to the gully on Water street for filling in the crib work, and while unloading, shortly before 2 o'clock, his team was frightened by some cattle and ran wildly up the hill, Mr. O'Donnell being hurt in attempting to stop stop them. The horses appeared to be fairly frantic and at the corner of Antrim street the team, with the waggon still attached, straddled a picket fence in front of the residence lately occupied by Mr. Langford, destroying the fence and several trees in their mad flight. One of the greys received an ugly wound in his flank from a sharp picket. Continuing up the street the team circled around the old railway track to George street, and started southward, colliding with and smashing several trees and posts until finally their career was stopped by a large tree. The injured horse may have to be shot, while its mate was not damaged. The waggon will need considerable repairing to make it fit for use again.

News Nuggets.

—The band plays in the park to-night, weather permitting.

—Mr. Ed. Webb has secured the contract for the bricklaying of the new Custom House building.

—Merit wins, as the marvellous success of Hood's Sarsaparilla shows. It possesses true medicinal merit. Sold by all druggists.

Sir Hector Resigns!

The Minister of Public Works Steps Down and Out.

It was announced that Sir Hector Langevin was to appear before the Privileges and Elections Committee to give evidence respecting the Tarte-McGreevy charges, but it appears that the Minister of Public Works will not appear before that Committee, as witness the following despatch received this afternoon :—

OTTAWA, Aug. 11th.—Sir Hector Langevin has resigned from the Ministry.

The above telegram is very probably correct. If Sir Hector was in the habit of doing what was right it might be on ain that there was no doubt of his resignation.

Visit of Bishop O'Connor.

An Enthusiastic Welcome to His Lordship.

(Sudbury Journal, Aug. 6.)

Tuesday was a gala day in town for our Roman Catholic citizens, the occasion being the second visit of His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, of Peterborough, to Sudbury. The day was fine, and the town was looking at its best. Two fine arches were erected, one at the entrance to the church grounds and the other at the corner of Elm and Durham streets, ornamented with flags and mottos, while a row of evergreens planted on each side of Durham street gave it the appearance of a beautiful avenue. When the hour arrived for the Pacific express to come in an immense crowd had assembled at the station. The train was marked to arrive on time, and was reported to have left Wahnapitae on time, but it was over an hour behind, being detained by a heavy freight train near Ramford. On its arrival His Lordship was escorted to a carriage in waiting, and the procession then moved forward in the following order : Citizens' Band, members of the C. M. B. A., about 30 strong, carriage with His Lordship, Rvs. Fathers Fournier and Farron, and Reeve Fournier, St. Jean Baptiste Band, citizens. On arriving at the church a short service was held, and proceedings terminated until evening.

The large hall in connection with the church was completely filled at the entertainments in the evening. Both bands were present, and after some selections had been given, an address on behalf of the French citizens was presented by Reeve Fournier and Councillor Magean, and on behalf of the English portion of the congregation by Mr. F. F. Lemieux and Councillor O'Connor. The latter address was read by Mr. Lemieux.

His Lordship replied briefly in English to the addresses. He referred particularly to the progress developed here since his visit two years ago; to the fact that Sudbury must become a point of great importance, on account of the nickel industry, which had turned the eyes of many parts of the world in this direction; that we should look on ourselves as Canadians, and not as Irish, Scotch or French, or of different nationalities; that he had given all the assistance he could towards the erection of churches in this northern country, and expressed himself as well pleased with the very hearty reception which had been tendered to him.

The drama, "La Caverne des Brigands, ou les Jeunes Capifs," was then given in French, followed by the English play, "Old Heads on Young Shoulders." Excellent music by an orchestra, composed of Mrs. Filteau, piano; C. Labelle, violin; A. Croulx, cornet, was given between the acts.

The demonstration throughout was a complete success, and reflects credit on those who had the management of the details.

The Foreigners Defeated.

The Toronto Baseball Team Outplayed by the Peterboroughs.

The best game of baseball that has taken place here this season was played on the P. A.A.A. grounds Monday afternoon between the Cygnets of Toronto and the Peterboroughs. There was a large crowd present and frequent cheers and applause were heard from the spectators when exciting plays were made.

The visiting team has beaten the Excelsiors and Diamonds, of Toronto, both of which nines have taken the Peterboroughs into camp; yet the Cygnets are now outplayed and easily beaten by the Peterboroughs. Such is baseball.

The home team put up a splendid game of ball. Only four errors show up against them, while there batting record is equally good. McCabe was never in better form, and the more he practises the more this fine young player improves. "Danny" can fool the best of them every time, and is as good at fielding as at pitching. O'Brien caught McCabe in good style, and in his throwing to second showed great improvement. The team play all around was much sharper and better than usual. There was no "rattle," but steady ball playing from start to finish.

The Cygnets on the contrary took a spasm in the second innings, when their opponents scored six runs, and they did not seem to recover during the rest of the game. Their playing was very loose at times. Their battery work was good, both pitcher and catcher being up to the mark, but their field did not give good support. The Cygnets are not satisfied with the result. They did not play their usual game, and they say they will soon give the Peterboroughs a return match.

Mr. McManus umpired, and, though the Cygnets kicked hard occasionally, his decisions were generally approved of by the spectators.

There was some betting done. An Ashburnham young man cleared $33, and he had to put up his money at odds of 2 to 1.

The score, which will be intelligible to none but those who know the game, gives the details.

Have Tired of Skirts

A Dress Reform has been Inaugurated by Mrs. Frank Stuart Parker.

A great dress reform movement is about to be inaugurated in the United States, which will be concerted and comprehensive. The leader has just been found in the person of Mrs. Frank Stuart Parker, of Chicago, who bravely nailed her dress reform colors against the gates of Chautauqua about a week ago and has since that time been receiving designations of women from all over the country. The women interested have just selected as a central committee the following prominent women :—Mrs. Frank Stuart Parker, Chicago; Mrs. Frances E. Russell, St. Paul, Minn.; Annie Jenness Miller, New York; Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Anna C. Brickett, Dr. Mary Putnam Jacobi, Miss Grace Dodge and Margaret Sangster. Chautauqua has four styles of dress, the "no skirt," the "old skirt," the "divided skirt" (or trousersette). Miss Frances Willard has wheeled the whole National temperance union into line in support of the movement. In her very bright address at Chautauqua last Saturday she made some striking and suggestive remarks.

THE CAR WORKS BY-LAW.

the advance in property in the south ward by paying for bringing industries to locate in the south end. He did not think the present system of taxation just or honest.

The Mayor replied to Mr. Ball's single tax arguments with considerable fervor, designating them as "miserable" and "trash" often.

Mr. GEO. MCWILLIAMS said he had been a resident of Peterborough for 23 years, and he knew what had built up the town. Other towns were stagnant and what had done it?

A voice—Bons es.

Mr. McWilliams—No, not a bit of it, bonuses to industries build up a town. It was caused by bonussing railways to take the trade away from the town. If Lindsay could get the Edison Works for $50.000 they would pay it. Mr. McWilliams thought the ratepayers in its actions with regard to industries. Men were grumbling about their taxes, but these same men could sell their property for enough of an advance to pay their taxes for the next twenty years. (Applause.) Mr. McWilliams said no honest man could say the Edison Works had not been a benefit to the town, and he thought this new one would be equally as good. Look at towns all over the Provinces and it would be seen that it was their industries which were building up some and the lack of them killing others. If Peterborough did not work for these industries, other towns would do so and they would get them. In other towns people were abusing their councillors because they did not make effort enough to get industries. We had also heard that the Edison Company were employing women and boys instead of men, but he would say that if many of these men who were doing the talking would work themselves their women would not have to seek work and so deprive other men of it. (Applause.)

OUGHT TO ENCOURAGE THE COUNCIL

Referring to the Edison Company's statement, Mr. STEVENSON said he felt safe in asserting that $25,000 would cover the expenditure on account of the Edison Works. Mr. Stevenson said he thought the town was getting the new industry very cheap. Under the Act of Parliament dealing with the town's debt the town could not now vote more than $40,000 more for the purpose of industries.

Mr. GEO. EDMISON said that after considering the bylaw he came to the conclusion that he would vote for it. He came to this meeting in the belief that perhaps he might be mistaken, and he had been in hopes of hearing the ratepayers and if there were any sensible objections to it he was open to conviction and would then oppose it. But looking over the past he thought it must be seen that the future of the town lay in its industries. It used to be considered that the lumbering industries were the hope of the town, but they had now become a comparatively small thing. The agricultural interests would not certainly support the town. If there were any objections to the bylaw he would like to hear them stated. Mr. Edmison reiterated the arguments previously adduced in favor of the bylaw, and pointed out the advantages derived from the expenditure of a large amount of wages by industries to every class of the community. Property had increased in value for he had been offered $1000 more for a block than he asked for it a year ago. This showed that money voted to these industries

CAME BACK TO THE PEOPLE.

Mr. ROBT WEIR expressed himself in favor of getting manufactories here, and believed every individual in the town would be benefitted no matter in what portion they located. With regard to the new company, they had bound themselves to do certain things and if they did not fulfil their contract they would have to leave again and the town would not lose much. For good reasons he felt like voting for the by-law.

Mr. E. C. HILL was called on, and said he wished the Car Works God speed. On general principles Mr. Hill supported the principle of bringing industries here. His own property had not been enhanced by the Edison Works, but he was glad to have them here because they were real live Yankees and would bring energy and push with them. He would be better pleased if there was no dividing line between the two countries and we would be all Yankees. As to the bylaw, he did not see why they should oppose it any more than they had certain other ones.

COUNCILLOR CAHILL said the unanimous action of the town council had shown that they were in favor of the bylaw, and personally he considered it fortunate for the town that they were getting this firm, because electrical street cars were replacing horse cars and there was a great industry to be built up in the manufacture of electric cars. He thought probably this would be the last bylaw that would be submitted to the people for some time to come. Mr. Cahill pointed out how property had increased in value in the town on account of new industries, and he felt the town was singularly fortunate in getting the car works so cheaply. The ratepayers had in the past carried every bylaw submitted to them by the council, and he believed they would do the same now. To a man with $1,000 assessment the $6,000 bonus would mean only 7½c. a year.

Councillor DAVIDSON said that as one of the deputation that went to St. Catherines, he might say they had seen Patterson & Corbin and heard a great deal about them; and he could say of them that they began as humble blacksmithe and worked up to their present position. They were not gaining anything in coming here. They would lose more in leaving their St. Catherines property than the Peterborough bonus would amount to. The St. Catherines council had made them great offers to remain, but the city did not afford them the facilities they require. The firm was sound financially. Practical business men were ready to take stock in the concern after its removal here. Mr. Davidson thought the ratepayers would make a great mistake in not voting for the bylaw.

The meeting then dispersed.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEAR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his torturing agonies were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were eased, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

COLORADIAN WONDERS.

DISCLOSED BY TIDAL WAVES AND EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS.

The Great Tidal Wave and Earthquake at the Mouth of the Colorado River Described by Indians—Scores of Mud Volcanoes—A River of Sulphur and a Fissure that is Bottomless.

EAGLETON, Aug. 12.—Further details of the great earthquake and tidal wave at the mouth of the Colorado River since last reported were not exaggerated. The Indian Peter, a well-to-do man from Lerdo, has resided Yuma. He says that on the forenoon of the day of the earthquake several men were building a house on his place when suddenly the fence toppled over. At once themselves on their knees and began praying. In the midst of their devotions a shock declared, tidal wave showed up on the prairies were carried, stopping only at the spectators on the bodies of Arcade hill was reached by the men. From that peak, Peter says, the sight was awful. Across the Colorado turbulent volcanoes could be seen in brilliant eruption. On the bed of the river and some miles beyond its banks, boiling colorado, the mineral water rushed ahead at the height of fully 100 feet. Below Lerdo could be seen a wide river of bluish purple fire flowing down into the Colorado mouth. Gulf, whereat it roared, sputtered and added to the general confusion. This river is the combustible, it is from Sulphur Mountain, where it is produced, has been for centuries the source of burning and inflammable material. Even now out from the volcanoes, Peter says, he has never been to known to allow out anything else could not be used. General Andrade, governor of the territory, has received private advices from the scene of the disaster. He says the shock was much more severe than was at first expected. One of the largest towns on the Colorado was cracked from top to bottom and in one end fell in with a crash. What could be taken into that. Luckily the inhabitants were out when the first the premonitory shocks began. Thus the appalling death list is limited to a few score, all told. Many of the buildings were almost entirely destroyed by the earthquake and the aftershocks. The most striking phenomenon was a chasm three feet wide and between 200 and 300 feet long. Although weight after weight of line several hundred feet in length was let down, no bottom could be found. Even more remarkable bizarre issued smoke upon which disappeared after a few feet, and the air is permeated with a pungent odor irritating to the lungs. The people in the neighborhood are almost demented by the repetition of the earthquake and the superstitious Indians are holding religious rites to placate the God of fire.

YUMA, A.T., Aug. 12.—Reports continue to come in from the earthquake scene at the head of the Gulf of California. Two more pueblo Indians, of the tribe that lives on the Colorado river, arrived here yesterday. They verified the sad story. Early the day of the earthquake, they say, the whole country was shaken by the shock of mild volcanoes, 30 in all, burst into a violent eruption. Immediately the earth and many adobe houses were shaken. At last a violent thunder tone cleared the air, only to show the tidal wave approaching with frightful rapidity. The water was yellow, and up the cattle, horses and grass to the and driving them for their lives to the opposite mesas, a hundred feet above them. The last shock threw every one down, several killing many. The dust darkened the sun. The rumbling of the earthquake, the deep explosion of the distant volcanoes, the bellowing of the crazed cattle, made unbearable the uproar and the frightened Indians fled wildly up the river. Two only succeeded in reaching here, who tell the story. The others dropped exhausted on

THE HORSFORTH TRAGEDY

The Female Prisoner Sentenced to Life Servitude.

LONDON, Aug. 12. The trial was commenced at Leeds assizes of Walter Lewis Turner, 32, weaver, and his mother, who were charged with the murder of Barbara Mary Hollins, aged 8 years. Although only nine months old, the body was identified by the mother as that of her child. The body was found in a ditch at Horsforth village near Leeds, mysteriously disappeared and her body was found in a ditch near the Leeds town hall at 11:30 on the evening of the 10th, two days after it was. The body was much mutilated. The mother made a statement to the police that she had found in the house a bundle containing the body, and that on asking her son about it they agreed to bring it to Leeds, and left it where it was discovered. The shawl in which it was wrapped was, she admitted, her property. The judge announced that he would try the mother on the capital charge, but as an accessory. After the jury had returned a verdict of guilty and the women was sentenced to penal servitude for life. The male prisoner will be tried to-day.

RAILWAY CHANGES.

The C. P. R. and the G. T. R. Perfecting Their Working Staffs.

MONTREAL, Aug. 12. Extensive changes are about to be made in the working staffs of the two railways. It is announced that C. M. Bosworth, at present assistant traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Toronto, has been offered the position now held by Joseph Broughton, who is assistant traffic manager of the Grand Trunk Railway here. It is understood that Mr. Broughton is to take charge of the claims department of the Grand Trunk Railway. Another change contemplated is that W. S. Rollo, at present private secretary and chief clerk of Mr. Stephenson, superintendent of the Grand Trunk Railway will succeed Mr. Tennant, as assistant superintendent of the Grand Trunk Railway at Richmond.

The Geographical Congress.

BERNE, Aug. 12. At the International Geographical Congress to-day a resolution was introduced providing for the preparation of a map of the earth on a scale of 1:1,000,000. Among the questions which will be discussed by the congress are those of a prime meridian, a universal hour and the rules to be observed in the spelling of geographical names.

THE BARRIE REGATTA.

THE C. C. A. C. HONORS AND HOW THEY WERE DIVIDED.

Dons, Argonauts and Catlins of Chicago Divide the Prizes—Detroit Captures a Single Event—Hanlan and O'Connor Challenge the World.

BARRIE, Aug. 12.—The weather for the second and last day of the regatta of the C. A. A. C. was all that could be desired. The water was quite smooth at the start and a good breeze prevailed.

THOMPSON, ARGONAUTS, WINS THE JUNIOR SINGLES.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the officials were in their places and the final heat in the junior single sculls was proceeded with. Thompson, Argonauts were the winners of the first and second places in the preliminary heats yesterday. E. H. Thompson, Argonauts; R. F. Turner, Dubuque; Joseph Wright, Toronto, and L. B. Stewart, Argonauts.

Thompson caught the water first and took the lead. Turner was quickly after him with Wright and Stewart close together. After they had proceeded about 30 boat lengths Turner and Stewart fell to one rear and Wright was leading. They continued quite a distance in this way, until Thompson shot ahead of Wright and kept there to the finish. Turner and Stewart, although they had fallen back quite a piece, seemed to be gaining on the two ahead, this being occasioned by Turner's effort to take the third position, which he succeeded in doing by half a length. Time 10.46 2-5.

THE DONS SENIOR FOURS.

One of the best race boatsmen have ever witnessed was the final heat of the junior four. The crews were Lachines, Dons, Toronto, Grand Trunk and Tecumseth of Walkerville.

The Grand Trunk crew got away first and hugging the shore had smooth water. The Lachines followed up close, but the Dons were pressing forward and soon got in the lead. To auto took a bold dash and for over half a mile first one then the other was leading. It seemed to be anybody's race except the Tecumseths; they were not in within a quarter of a mile of the finish. The Dons had gained a lead they were able to keep to the finish, although Grand Trunk and Toronto followed closely. The Grand Trunks were beaten out of second place by only three feet. Lachine came in fourth. Time 9.55.

THE FAIR OARS GOE TO DETROIT.

There were three to start in the pair oars, L. B. Stewart and A. D. Crooks, Argonauts; J. D. Standish and Frank A. Lyon, Detroit No. 1; W. D. Gridley and George L. Peacock, Detroit No. 2.

The race was between Detroit No. 1 and the Argonauts. For the first half mile there was not much difference between them, but the fact that Stewart had pulled in the junior single sculls began to manifest itself and Detroit No. 1 took the lead and kept it to the finish. Time 11.18.

SINGLE SCULLS WON BY HENDERSON, OF CHICAGO.

The race in which considerable interest centered was the senior single sculls. For this there were six entries: E. H. Thompson, Argonauts; J. A. Ryan, Sunnyside, Toronto; James Henderson, Catlin, Chicago; A. P. Baxter, Argonaut; R. McKay, Argonaut; M. Shea, Don.

Thompson, who won in the junior singles, was the favorite and took first place for the first half mile, when he was seen to stop suddenly and gave up the contest. The

VALE SIR HECTOR

The Minister of Public Works Hands in His Resignation.

HE IS AN INNOCENT MAN.

He Protests Throughout His Valedictory Statement—Of Manipulating Tenders or Collusive Contractors He Says He Knew Nothing.

OTTAWA, Aug. 12.—Sir Hector Langevin has handed in his resignation as Minister of Public Works. The resignation of Sir Hector has proved a veritable bomb shell in political circles. It was totally unexpected at this stage of the proceedings and is the absorbing topic.

Before the Privileges and Elections Committee yesterday Sir Hector Langevin appeared and made a statement. He preceded it by saying that he had read the evidence in the case, and, as his name has been connected with the charges, he had decided of his own free will to come and make a statement under oath.

He was sworn and read his testimony from a type-written document. He said that if Mr. Tarte in making his charges in the House had then directly implicated him he would have resigned as the custom was in England in such cases. But Mr. Tarte's charges were aimed at Thomas McGreevy, and so far as they had touched him (Sir Hector) they were vague and indeterminate. When the evidence was reduced it became clear that he too was assailed. Had he known this at the beginning of the investigation he would have been represented by counsel while the evidence was being taken. He said he intended to meet the charges with a definite denial, but he intended to lay in the hands of the first Minister his resignation as Minister of Public Works, so that he might meet the accusations as a private individual. He denied that any one had influenced him in connection with the administration of his department, or that he had ever received money from Larkin, Connolly & Co., or from any one else in their behalf. He denied that during the years Thos. McGreevy was his guest when in Ottawa from 1879 to 1890 he had ever received from him (Thos. McGreevy) any money presents or loans. Thos. McGreevy had never used undue influence to obtain advantages for any one from the Department. He had never given Thos. McGreevy information which his duty would require him to withhold.

He had no knowledge that the Messrs. McGreevy were connected with the firm of Larkin, Connolly & Co. at any time. Here he read the respective tenders of Beamage, Gallagher, Peters & Moore and Larkin, Connolly & Co. He read a letter from Gallagher stating that he had in the meantime taken another contract. Beamage wrote that he had made an error, and so did Larkin, Connolly & Co., but the latter firm stated that they would stick to their offer. He (Sir Hector) knew nothing of the manipulation of the tender nor of any collusion between the tenderers, nor did he ever suspect Perley, who was his chief adviser, in matters of that kind. He was not in the least influenced by the $1000 subscribed by Larkin, Connolly & Co. to the Langevin testimonial fund. He had made statements with regard to the Lesperance dock and the dredging in Quebec Harbor. As to the south wall he did not try to influence the Harbor commission. He never knew that the McGreevys were interested in this work and never talked to Shanly about it. Referring again to the Lesperance dock, he said that Hon. Mr. Tarte was the superintendent of the work. The tenders were opened on March 4, 1881, and a few days afterwards two of the tenderers wrote that they had made important errors, and in September next tenders were called and Starr & O'Hanley were lowest, but the chief inspector said their tender was too low, and they were accordingly asked to increase their deposit. This they refused and withdrew their tender. An order-in-council then authorized the acceptance of the tender of Larkin, Connolly & Co. Sir Hector then quoted extensively the statistics given by the engineer in his report on this work. In the fall of 1885 Mr. Perley visited Esquimalt and told the department that an additional $25,000 would be necessary to complete the work. Sir Hector assented to the change on condition that no additional price be given to the contractors. With regard to the plant taken over by the contractors the Minister said that Perley had granted a remission of the price to be paid by the contractors. He reminded the committee, however, that with 30,000 letters a year coming to his department it was impossible to be cognizant of what took place. With regard to McGreevy's sled ernste Robert to the effect that he (Thomas had frequent interviews with him (Sir Hector) about the contractors. Sir Hector declared that the only part he had in this was that of a friend, and that Thomas McGreevy was not the man to be said that he Sir Hector) was willing to give another subsidy for that of the Rate de Chaleurs Railway. Sir Hector swore that Murphy never gave him a cent of money, nor gave anything to Sir Hector's son. In answer to Murphy's statement that he offered 25 per cent of the profits of the Esquimalt dock he denied it positively. He also swore that he never got the $5000 for the Three Rivers elections. As to Valin's evidence about the document signed in his Sir Hector's) house he swore that Valin denied having anything to do with Mr. Tarte's charges in Le Canadien. He therefore got him to sign a letter to that effect. The letter was produced and Sir Hector read it to the effect that Valin stated that Tarte did not understand him (Valin), but told Tarte that he had nothing to say against Sir Hector, not that he (Valin) wished to run in Montmorency as the Opposition candidate. To Mr. Dawes Sir Hector said that he wrote that letter himself, and that Valin signed it in the presence of two electors. Continuing, Sir Hector swore that he never promised him a situation, nor told him to take Sir A. P. Caron's promise for that appointment. He swore that he did not know anything of the names of subscribers to the Langevin funds. Mr. Symard never spoke to him about anything of the works. He recollected that Bennett was unsatisfactory to the contractors and that his place was likely to become vacant. He might therefore have asked Perley to look out for an other engineer, but he never recommended Williams for that position, neither did he ever recommend C. E. Murphy to the British firm as a contractor for the Halifax graving dock. He admitted that Thomas McGreevy discounted his notes and paid the interest regularly since 1878. He said that he had no interest in Le Monde and gained nothing from what Mr. McGreevy paid to that paper. He swore that he knew nothing of Murphy's antecedents in New York; and stated that Murphy's evidence was false. He wished only to clear his character, and he left his case in the hands of the House of Commons.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

For some time the interest of the public in the proceedings before the Privileges and Elections Committee has been centring upon the appearance of Sir Hector Langevin before that body, and expectation regarding the statement he would make has been keen. Yesterday the veteran Minister made his statement, reading it with deliberation and announcement that he had resigned his position in the Government in order that the committee, and Parliament itself, might be perfectly untrammelled in reaching a decision upon charges which partly concerned himself. This course was one which might have been expected by all those who knew the man and who rested assured that he would not, under the circumstances, take up a position which would even seem to demand support on party grounds, when accusations of such a nature were laid against him. The resignation, therefore, made as it has been made and for the reasons stated, entitles Sir Hector Langevin to the fullest consideration and fairness, irrespective of party leanings.—Toronto Empire (Conservative).

After reviewing the evidence already submitted and contending that it proves that Sir Hector must have had guilty knowledge or else be thoroughly incapable of filling the office of Minister of Public Works, the Toronto Globe (Liberal) says: It is rumored that Sir Hector will return to the Cabinet and to the Public Works Department. Another report says he is to be elevated to the Lieutenant-Governorship of Quebec. Surely both stories are incredible. If Mr. Abbott is sincere in his expressed determination to punish wrong-doers to the bitter end, let him begin by making an example of the Minister who on the most charitable hypothesis has been guilty of criminal negligence and is morally responsible for all the hideous uncleanness that has been revealed to the world.

In resigning his portfolio before entering the presence of the investigation committee, Sir Hector Langevin did the right thing at a dangerously late moment. The Government has already suffered too much through his incompetence or worse, which it would not have suffered had he resigned sooner. It is useless to suppose that his resignation was altogether voluntary. He has held his ground for months against public expostulation and resigned now but through pressure from above. Premier Abbott's speech the other day in the Senate when he expressed a determination to punish wrong doing without the slightest regard to the personality of the offender, no doubt had its due weight with the Minister of Public Works, and the same resolve may have been more pointedly expressed in private. It is well known that the Conservative members of the House would refuse to vote supplies to the Public Works Department while Sir Hector remained at its head. The Premier is sound and the party is sound. The charge that the Conservative Government had resolved to whitewash the Minister of Public Works at all hazards has not and never had anything to warrant it. The present situation of affairs amply discredits such a charge. The evidence of incompetence is sufficient to explain his resignation and justify it. At the same time his defence against the charge of corruption deserves respectful hearing, and we mistake the feeling of the country if pleasure is not evinced should he vindicate his personal character. That is the task he has undertaken. He has given a point blank denial to statements made by Owen E. Murphy, Mr. Valin and others, and as he proceeds may clear away the pile of unsavory charges from his door.—Toronto World (Independent).

This morning announcement was made that Sir Hector had resigned his portfolio and ceased to be a member of the cabinet. While the act should be viewed in the light of the testimony which is yet to come, the fact that the resignation was made at such a time will cause a painful feeling. Sir Hector might have resigned when the charges were first preferred, and still have asked his friends to hold him guiltless. The only ground on which he could continue in office was that he had a perfectly good defense, and that at the close of the investigation the public would be convinced that he had done nothing which made it improper for him to remain in office as an administrator of the Government and an adviser of His Excellency. Having decided to remain he should remain to the end. To withdraw while under fire is to open the door to most unpleasant anticipations as to the coming testimony. Still, the investigation is not ended. It is still wise to wait for the end—to hear what all the witnesses have to say, then to find the verdict.—Hamilton Spectator (Conservative).

The Minister of Public Works has at last done what he ought to have done long ago. He has resigned his office—stepped out to avoid being kicked out. The revealed record of his misconduct is strong, though not complete. He was in league with contractors to rob the public treasury.—Hamilton Times (Liberal).

TOLD IN THE HOUSE.

Sir John Thompson's Confirmation of the News—Hon. Frank Smith to be Appointed Acting Minister.

OTTAWA, Aug. 12. When the orders of the day were called in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon Mr. Laurier said he understood that the Minister of Public Works told the Committee on Privileges and Elections that he had resigned. He wanted to know whether the resignation was accepted.

Sir John Thompson said that the Minister of Public Works tendered his resignation today. No action had been taken on it except that another Minister would take charge of the department.

Hon. Frank Smith will be appointed Acting Minister of Public Works to-day.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. During the 24 hours ending at midnight last night there have been 46 cases of heat prostration in this city, 11 of which were fatal.

Public Accounts Committee.

OTTAWA, Aug. 12. At the Public Accounts Committee yesterday Mr. Lister examined William Smith, foreman of the shipyard and dredging. He testified that he made trips in the Joe for the last three years in the summer. It was necessary to have a steamer to visit dredges. He was captain, pilot and everything else upon the Joe.

Thomas Lawson, machinist, testified that Arnoldi had sent him 350 pounds of iron and he made the propeller wheel for the yacht Joe. He was in the habit of buying iron from Arnoldi. He did not charge Arnoldi for the making of the wheel but paid his workmen for same.

Wm. Thompson, engineer of the Joe, examined, said that he never saw more than ten persons on the Joe at a time.

THE PRINTING BUREAU.

The next case was that of the Printing Bureau. The first witness called was Mr. Chamberlain, Queen's Printer. After giving in detail the nature of his duties, etc., he said that while in all cases he was generally instructed and his advice sought as to purchasing paper, in one case, that of the New England Paper Company, 250 reams were purchased by Mr. Bronskill, the superintendent of stationery, on the authority of Mr. Chapleau. That was the only instance he could remember of this kind. The Secretary of State certified for this account, but in all other cases he did not certify any accounts. This was the only case he could remember of this kind. The paper that was purchased in this instance was used for the printing of the Postal Guide.

Walked to His Death.

TORONTO, Aug. 12. About one o'clock yesterday, a man, supposed to be Edward Allinghan, entered York Chambers, Toronto street. Meeting a gentleman in the hallway he asked for Mr. Shanley's office, accompanying the request with a military salute. A moment later a heavy fall was heard in the basement. The caretaker, on investigating, found the man lying at the foot of the stairs. Blood was flowing from his nose, mouth and ears, and he was unconscious. Dr. Sweatman was summoned. He examined the man but did not anticipate serious results. He, however, ordered his removal to the hospital, whither he was taken in the ambulance.

TURNBULL'S.

We want to call attention to a large lot of Lace Curtains we are opening out and marking; there is nothing attractive in a large lot unless they are being sold at prices that will save money to the purchaser. This is just what we purpose to do. We show a Curtain, taped and bound, at 60c. a pair, a still better one for 75c., and a beauty for $1, while the best in the lot are only $1.50. We have cleared out whole lines at greatly reduced prices is how we are able to offer such inducements. We have opened out to-day and placed on our second floor a nice range of new patterns in Hemp Carpets, some of these are very desirable.

To-day we open our first shipment of Ladies' Mantles for Fall. They are a very stylish lot. Parties wanting one for a special occasion early will be glad to know that they can now see the new fall styles with us. We have received the invoice of a lot of Dress Goods, they will be opened before this appears in print. We have also got nearly all the shades of very pretty Plaids for making over dresses. We need hardly remind the public that everything stylish, serviceable and cheap is kept on our counters.

In our Tailoring Department we are showing some fresh patterns of Heavy Weight Tweeds at from $15 to $17 a suit, especially suited for elderly men. Ask to see our heavy pantings at 50c. a yard, made out of the best of wool.

Does it pay to dress well? Assuredly. No money is better spent than what is laid out for domestic satisfaction. A man is pleased that his wife is dressed as well as other people, and the wife is pleased that she is so dressed. At no 365 George street you will do well to pause in your down-town career. There you will be pleasantly surprised at the variety of beautiful Dress Goods and the Low Prices that prevail during this month. Saturday was such a rushing day with us and though we were among the first to sign the petition for early closing yet we found it impossible to close our store until after 11 o'clock and no wonder for the people fairly got excited over selling bargains. 33 yards of Dress Goods for $1 00 is a prodigy, 20 yards of Dress Goods for $1.00 must be cheap, 15 yards of Dress Goods for $1.00 is a paralyzer. Rowse's, Rowse's, Rowse's is the spot for cheap Dress Goods and if you want also to see the nobbiest most attractive, elegant Dress Fabrics, Rowse's is still the spot. We show at 20c. Uncle Thomas' Story.

Uncle Thomas McGreevy occupied three days of last week in an effort to overcome or explain the testimony piled up in support of Mr. Tarte's charges. Before the cross-examination began he admitted that he had received $55,000 for political purposes between 1883 and 1887. He named his brother Robert as the donor, but as he had already described Robert as deeply in debt and too poor to buy stock to qualify him for a seat on the board of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company, it is clear that he must have known that Robert was merely the pipe and not the fountain. It is evident also that he knew where the fountain was. "When the general elections of 1887 commenced," he said, "I met Robert and asked him what his firm was going to subscribe towards the general funds of the election. He (Robert) went to see them and came back and reported that they wanted to subscribe $25,000." By "his firm" he meant Larkin, Connolly & Co. He says that at that time he did not know that Robert was a member of the firm, but believed that he was acting as its broker. For that election alone he received $20,000. He has not fully accounted for the expenditure of the total of $55,000. A large amount, somewhere between $25,000 and $35,000, went to Le Monde, Sir Hector's paper, and $20,000 was spent on elections, but he declines to say how or where the latter sum was distributed, and refuses to answer yes or no to the question whether any of it went to secure Sir Hector's return. Uncle Thomas had to admit, however, that he turned to political uses a portion of a further sum of $84,000 which Parliament in 1884 voted on account of an Intercolonial Railway contract in which he and Robert had been interested. The money was paid nominally to Robert, but Thomas confesses that he received it, his explanation being that his brother owed him that much money. His admissions in regard to the steamer Admiral are of special importance because they show the falsity of the statements made by himself personally and through Mr. Curran in the House of Commons. In the declaration read by Mr. Curran he said:—"I now come to the last accusation, relative to the Admiral. I never owned the steamer, nor was I contractor with the government for the same." On another occasion he told the House that the charge made by Mr. Tarte on this point was false. Last Wednesday he admitted that the Admiral was his property all the time she ran, and that he received the subsidies of $12,500 a year which he as a member of Parliament had voted for: that the vessel was registered in the name of another person simply because he knew that he could not appear as owner without being brought to book for violating the Independence of Parliament Act. By this transaction alone he has forfeited his seat. The charge in reference to the Baie des Chaleurs Railway is also virtually admitted. According to his own evidence Uncle Thomas was one of the original directors of the road. He gave a check to cover 10 per cent. of the shares he acquired, but the cheque was never paid, so that he really got his interest in the road for nothing. He sold it, however, for $42,000, being anxious to get rid of his shares because of the liability they would involve and also because he was afraid the organization was an illegal one. Before he succeeded in making the sale there was a proposal for another raid on the Federal treasury, for he swore that in order to induce him to surrender his interest in the railway Sir Hector offered to give a subsidy of $6 000 a mile to the St. Anne's road. Mr. McGreevy's comment upon this offer was that "a man must be a madman to try and build a road for $6,000 a mile over the mountains;" yet Sir Hector was willing to throw away the money of the country on that wild cat scheme with a view of straightening out the tangle in which Uncle Thomas and other political friends had got into over the Baie des Chaleurs line.

Besides these positive admissions, it must be borne in mind that Uncle Thomas has utterly failed to give any rational explanation of the letters in which he supplied his brother with information of the greatest value to Larkin, Connolly & Co.—information which no one outside the department had a right to learn. While the tenders of the Cross-wall were being considered he wrote from Ottawa:—"The tenders for Cross-wall only arrived here yesterday and are locked up until Monday, when he will commence his calculation. I will write you Tuesday and let you know the result. Larkin was here yesterday. I told him that it would be useless to get Peters out of the way, as it would be tantamount to giving the contract to the highest tender, that you would have to stick to Beaucage's tender as it was fair." Beaucage's tender was a bogus one, put in by Larkin, Connolly & Co., and Thomas says that his brother Robert was continually tendering in Beaucage's name. Two days later he wrote:—"I hope to let you know to-morrow about the result of cross wall tenders. Have your arrangements right with Beaucage before result is known," and again, "Try and get a good plan and as quick as possible in answer to the letter that Gallagher and Beaucage will receive about their tender, as to bring them over L. & Co.'s so as their tender will be the lowest." The history of the transaction referred to here has been often told. Gallagher and Beaucage did receive letters from the department which gave them a pretext for withdrawing their tenders, and the contract was awarded to Larkin, Connolly & Co. Here we find Uncle Thomas in possession of information which he should never have obtained, and which, having obtained, he should never have communicated; in fact, he stands revealed as having been on intimate terms with the department at one end and with the contractors at the other. He says that he did not then know that his brother was a member of the firm, and that his interest in Larkin, Connolly & Co. was due to the fact that they were his constituents, and that they were heavily indebted to the Union Bank, of which he was a director. Why, then, were all his communications relating to the firm written to his brother? It is also to be noted that Uncle Thomas is unable to account for the frequent references in his correspondence to his influence with Sir Hector or the department. He is anxious to clear the Minister of lending himself to his schemes for favoring Larkin, Connolly & Co. at the public expense, but he cannot explain away the letters which almost force one to believe that the Minister was hand and glove with him in working the whole series of swindles. So far as he himself is concerned his own testimony shows that he handled election funds for the Government side; that while he was a member of Parliament he made profit out of a railway subsidized by Parliament; that he received a Parliamentary grant of $12,500 a year for the carrying of the mails by his steamer; and that he was the beneficiary of a payment of $34,000, made in accordance with an act of Parliament. It need hardly be said that much less than this would unseat him.

Public interest will now be centered on Sir Hector Langevin, who will go into the witness box this week. He will have to explain the financial dealings which, according to the report of the accountants, he had with Thomas McGreevy, as shown by McGreevy's books, and will be asked the question which Uncle Thomas has refused to answer, namely, whether any of the election fund went to help him in his own election. No matter what Sir Hector may say under oath he cannot explain to the satisfaction of the public a mode of managing his department which left it at the mercy of a firm of contractors, whose profits amounted to a million dollars, and whose methods of doing business included the framing of bogus tenders, the employment of men of straw like Gallagher, and the systematic bribery of officials from the chief engineer down to the inspectors of works. The Minister who whether conniving at the crimes or in ignorance of them allowed them to be perpetrated, is no more fit to remain at the head of a great spending department than Uncle Thomas is to represent honest men.—Globe.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. Wm. Lough, of Ida, is slowly recovering. Dr. McKinnon anticipates his early restoration to health.

The city fathers have begun to lay a new sidewalk, and our citizens are rapturous over the movement. We hope to see the work completed at an early date, and to be able to say that our village is second to none of its size in this province.

Mr and Mrs. Charters, of Toronto, are the guests of the Rev. John Ewing.

Miss Jennie Graham is holidaying at Hamilton.

The cheese market was somewhat small as to the amount of sales made a week ago. Our factory boarded some 60, but refused the offers made.

On Wednesday of last week the house of Mr. McIndoo was one of mirth, the occasion being the marriage of his daughter Mary to Mr. Dean, ex-master of Fairmount school. A small number of friends witnessed the hymeneal contract, and the young couple left by the evening C.P.R. train for a honeymoon in western Ontario. The Rev. Mr. Cook, of Cavanville, officiated.

Much injury is done by the use of irritating, griping compounds taken as purgatives. In Ayer's Pills, the patient has a mild but effective cathartic, that can be confidently recommended alike for the most delicate patients as well as the most robust.

Blood Poison

Is very liable to follow contact of the hands or face with what is known as poison ivy, especially in hot weather or if the body is perspiring freely. The trouble may subside for a time, only to appear in aggravated form when opportunity offers. The great purifying powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla thoroughly eradicate every trace of poison from the blood, as the cures it has accomplished conclusively show. It also cures scrofula, salt rheum and all other affections arising from impure or poisoned blood.

A Spring Medicine.

There are few who do not at this season feel the need of a spring medicine, and to all such we recommend Lane's Family Medicine as the best. This is a pleasant herb drink made by pouring boiling water on the dried roots and herbs. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1. It is the best as well as the pleasantest cure for constipation and headache. dw

Since Childhood's Day.

"I have been bothered with neuralgic pains in the head and face since childhood and have tried all possible remedies. A friend persuaded me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after having used it I obtained instant relief, and thoroughly recommended B.B.B."—Jas Inglis, Bredenbury, Assa. dw

Do You Cough?

Don't delay. Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. It will cure coughs and colds. It will cure sore throat, or a tickling in the throat. It will cure pains in the chest. It will cure influenza and bronchitis and all diseases pertaining to the lungs, because it is a pure balsam. Hold it to the light and see how clear and thick it is. You see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Large bottles 50c and $1. dw

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c. and $1 at all druggists. dw

Sufferers

FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.

Dr. T. E. Hastings, of Baltimore, says: "Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of my profession."

Dr. John W. Brown, of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills."—G. S. Wanderlich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P. Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 25 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

A Handsome Prize,

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a [illegible] venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig. June 27th, 1891.

THE ESCORTED GIRL.

SHE IS AN INTERESTING CREATURE AND YOU LIKE HER WAYS.

A Girl That Can be Told at a Glance—Just Budding into the Consciousness That Man is Her Natural Prey—But She Tries to Please.

These are the days when the escorted girl is prevalent. You can tell her at a glance. The girl whose brothers are accustomed to take her about has an air of good fellowship which is unmistakable. She isn't the escorted girl. Oh, no!

The escorted girl has the conscious air of having just discovered that she is desirable, but not having yet learned for a certainty that she is worth while. She has the consciousness of suspecting that man is her natural prey, but of not being certain that she will get the chance to devour him. She enjoys the sensations of being desired without the full knowledge that the desire will grow by what it feeds on. She feels her power, but does not quite know how to use it. She tries it, but with a slightly timid manner. She has not yet gained confidence. There is usually an open attempt to please in her manner, which draws marked attention to her. It is while she is in this state that she gives away more of her real nature than she ever does later. And it is while she is in this frame of mind that she comes under the head of the sort of girl I have been noting lately, and for lack of a better classification have dubbed "the escorted girl."

There are women, I find, who never get beyond this stage. There are girls of suggestive possibilities who never realize all that they promise, for some undefinable reason. They never grow sure of their rights, never wear them with authority. This class of women is not uncommon. I recollect them in my youth. One often made great efforts to be made acquainted with them, and never got any further. They are often prettier than less attractive girls, but lacking reality they are only inspiring to the imagination. Femininity is hard to classify, however, and there is as much difference of opinion about it as about religion.—Boston Home Journal.

CURRENT NOTES.

A progressive spirit—the alcohol in the thermometer.

Should the telephone girl wear "yeller" shoes in summer?

The love that never speaks until it does it on a gravestone doesn't mean much.

First Fly—"Well, how do you like this new fly paper?" Second Fly—"O, I'm just dead stuck on it."

"I'm on to you," said the mustard plaster to the boy with a colic. "Ah come off," answered the boy, as he flung the disrespectful plaster into the soup.

Generosity is a national trait of the Chilians, and tramps who drift into Santiago are reputed to make from $40 to $50 a day by begging at the doors of the wealthy.

You may visit a family a week before you will find out their greatest pleasure, but will hear the rattling of the family skeleton's bones before you have been there a day.

The Missus—"You oughtn't to leave the floor in such a condition. Why don't you take your chips with you?" Carpenter—"Who do you take me for, the Prince of Wales?"

The large number of persons who commit suicide nowadays by shooting themselves in the mouth seems to indicate that we, as a people are beginning to find out where the offense lies.

It is said that in Munich which consumes more beer than any other German city, the family allowance of the amber fluid amounts to 565 quarts a year for each man, woman and child.

Traveler—"Which is the shortest, quickest, and best route to the West?" Ticket Agent—"I don't know, sir." "Have you no opinion on the subject?" "None at all. They all pay the same commissions now."

"Now, little boys, can you tell me," said a Columbus teacher, "what the effect of tobacco is upon the system?" Little Billy, who has wrestled with his first chew, promptly held up his hand. "Well, Billy, what is the effect?" "Makes ye wisht ye wuz dead!"

Miss Slimwaste—I always like to see old Deacon Wiggsy standing at the door when I am going to church. Hortense—Why? Miss Slimwaste—That old Prince Albert coat he's worn for nearly fifty years does me just as well as a mirror to see if my hat and bangs are all right.

A western cattle rancher says it is becoming an every-day occurrence to see women out West dealing in cattle and horses. The loneliness and hardships of the great prairies do not seem to deter energetic women from the purpose of conducting a profitable business. A few days ago a cattle queen from Idaho sold two carloads of fine horses at Omaha at a much better figure than any man could have obtained.

The successful prosecution of the Mala Vita gang in Italy is to be followed by the punishment of another similar association with extensive ramifications. About fifty arrests had been made at last accounts and more were expected. It is evident that the government is determined to suppress the murderous secret organizations which have terrorized the Italian people for so many years, robbing and blackmailing them.

Time to Stop Footing.

Dr. Graff to fashionable patron—"It's merely the same old ailment, my dear madam.

Mrs. Swell—"Oh, doctor, I really am ill now."

Dr. Graff—"I must have you change the treatment.

SPORTING NEWS.

The Barrie Regatta.

BARRIE, Aug. 11.—The twelfth annual regatta of the C.A. of A.O. commenced yesterday on Kempenfelt Bay. Representatives from nearly every Canadian rowing club were crowded and a few from the United States. The weather today was decidedly warm. The bay all afternoon was like a sheet of glass. The races were a mile and half straight away. Prominent among the visitors were Hanlan and O'Connor.

The officials were: Umpire, W. A. Littlejohn; judge at finish, Samuel Lount; starter, James Pearson; timers, R. W. Gouial, S. P. Grant and F. Hornsby. As in several of the races there were over six crews, they were towed in heats, the first and second in preliminary heats, being eligible to row in finals.

The finals take place today. First on program and junior single sculls.

First trial heat, the entries were: Fred Nye, Toronto R. C.; Jos. Wright, Toronto R. C.; A. Russell, Bayside R. C.; R. F. Turner, Oubuque R. C.

Guelph Beats Toronto at Cricket.

GUELPH, Aug. 11.—The cricket match between Toronto and Guelph to-day resulted in favor of Guelph on the result of the first innings, through the very exceptional bowling of Campbell, who took eight wickets for nine runs. Score: Toronto 44, Guelph 52. Toronto got 28 in the second for five wickets.

SMUGGLED LIQUOR.

A $5,000 Capture Made by Officer Trudel on Saturday Night.

QUEBEC, Aug. 11.—The schooner Anne Prudence was captured by Officer Trudel, of the customs, at Isle aux Coudres on Saturday evening for smuggling. The following is an invoice of her cargo: Twenty-five barrels alcohol, 20 barrels gin, 247 cases brandy, 12 green cases gin, 33 cases of champagne, one case wine and four cases assorted liquor, the whole valued by the seizing officer at about $5,000.

At 6.30 this evening an unusual sight was visable from the north-east end of Dufferin terrace. The French frigate Naiade was lying at anchor, while either at anchor or in motion were to be seen the English barque Annot Lyle, the Holland barque J. P. A., the Norwegian barque Aratic and the American steam yacht Sagamore. Thus five flags of different nationalities were found nestling under the King's Bastion. All the vessels dipped their flags to the French man of war and the courtesy was cordially responded to in each case.

Two Souls with But a Single Thought.

As they sat side by side, they sighed, "Oh, my idol!" he said, and then idled. "Dear Luke," said she, as she looked, "I will wed thee if thou wilt," and he wilted. The honeymoon passed in an excess of joy. Excess in eating rich food brings indigestion, sick headache, and frequent attacks of dizziness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure all these. They are tiny, sugar-coated, and easy to swallow. No other preparation compares with them as a liver pill. They are guaranteed, and one is a dose. o

Nicolet Notes.

"I suffered continual pain from canker of the stomach and my face and body were almost covered with pimples. I tried Burdock Blood Bitters, the first dose occasioned slight pain, but I soon found relief, and after taking 5 bottles I became completely cured. I think B.B.B. the most powerful remedy known to science."—Stephen Edge, Nicolet, P. Q. dw

All cases of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them. dw

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores, dw

Freeman's Worm Powders destroy and remove worms without injury to adult or infant dw

Consult Your Neighbors.

Any one may find out just what Burdock Blood Bitters is and does by asking a neighbor who has tried it. It rarely fails in making a complete cure of dyspepsia, constipation, sickheadache, biliousness and diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. dw

Oh! What Beautiful Hands.

Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses will cure chapped hands and make them soft and smooth. Try it. Druggists keep it, W. A. Dyer & Co. Montreal. 6d34

Always avoid harsh purgative pills. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill. dw

Baby was Sick.

"My baby was very sick with diarrhœa and after everything else had failed I tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; the first dose gave relief and a perfect cure soon resulted."—Mrs. John Clark, Bloomfield, Ont. dw

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Can Not Compete.

Miss Maud Grant, of Mountain, Ont., writes, "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaints and diarrhœa. There is nothing to compete with it as it succeeds even in the severest cases." dw

A Suitable Gift.

A tube of Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses for making the skin soft and smooth will be acceptable to any lady. Druggists keep it, W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d34

FOR FLAX-SEED EMULSION COMPOUND

BRONCHITIS

136 Lexington Ave., New York City, Sept. 19, 1888.

I have used the Flax-Seed Emulsion in several cases of Chronic Bronchitis, and the early stages of Phthisis, and have been well pleased with the results.
JAMES K. CROOK, M.D.

CONSUMPTION

Brooklyn, N. Y., Feb. 14th, 1889.

I have used your Emulsion in a case of Phthisis (consumption) with beneficial results, where I scarcely could not use Cod Liver Oil in any form.
J. H. DROGE, M. D.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 20th, 1888.

I can strongly recommend Flax Seed Emulsion as helpful to the relief and possibly the cure of all Lung, Bronchial and Nervous Affections, and a good general tonic in paying debility.
JOHN F. TALMAGE, M. D.

GENERAL DEBILITY

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 10th, 1888.

I regard Flax Seed Emulsion as greatly superior to the Cod Liver Oil Emulsions so generally in use.

Self Application of Electricity
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE
DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.
HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliances. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and meta with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

Changes in the Teaching Staff

Of the High and Public Schools—The Vacancies Filled up.

The Committee on Appointments of the School Board wrestled with a big bundle of applications from teachers for over an hour last night, and drafted a report embodying a number of changes in the staff of the High and Public Schools.

After the committee had finished their labors, the members went into session as a Board. There were present Mr. Chairman Wrightman, Messrs. Dr. Boucher, Dr. Burnham, W. H. Hill, Peter Hamilton, Jas. Corbery, T. H. Bradburn and Jas. McKee.

BILLS ACCOUNTS PASSED.

Dr. Burnham, Chairman of the Finance Committee, presented a report recommending payment of these accounts:—

J. B. Deasl	$ 11 00
Clarke & Gibson	6 00
A. Jenkins, when certified	5 40
Peterborough Gas Co	86 10

The report was adopted.

THE TEACHING STAFF.

Dr. Boucher read the report of the Committee on Appointments, as follows:—

To the Chairman and members of the Board of Education:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Committee on Appointments beg leave to report that, in accordance with a resolution of the Board passed in July last, they advertised for teachers to fill the vacancies on the staff of the Collegiate Institute and Public Schools, recommend the following appointments:—

Miss Lough, of Cavan, to take Miss McClennan's position.

Miss Ames to take Miss Boughner's position.

Miss Cameron to take her sister's position.

Miss Florence Byers, of Omemee, to take Miss Macdonald's place.

In regard to the Principalship of the South Ward School, we have received a very large number of applications and after having made careful enquiry from the department beg leave to recommend the appointment of Mr. McKay, of Markham, as Principal.

With reference to the appointment of a Classical Master for the Institute, we beg leave to recommend the appointment of Mr. Heap, of Lindsay, at a salary of $850 per annum and in the event of Mr. Heap not being available, that the position be offered to Mr. Ross or Mr. Freeman.

Your Committee do not think it advisable to appoint a Modern Language teacher until the new addition to the school in course of construction is completed.

R. F. BOUCHER,
Acting Chairman.

The report was adopted without dissent and the Board adjourned.

The Problem Solved

A correspondent has solved the missing words problem, which was published the other day as follows:

Put on her veil and away she went
"Devil," she cried, "give me I pray, Something that I may live to-day."

Near Drowning

Day before yesterday a lad named Knight was playing on the logs at Dickson's dam, when he slipped between the logs and disappeared. He would have certainly been drowned if a son of Mr Leonard Tobbin had not heroically rescued him. Considering the restless nature of the average boy it is a wonder that daily deaths from divers causes are not recorded in favor of the small boy

Don't be Misled

Grand sail, comfort and amusement, and only 75 cts for the round trip. Therefore don't be misled. If you want to spend the most take this excursion, you will be certain to make no mistake. 183-35

Weather Wisdom

Yesterday was a peculiar day. As soon as the thermometer stood at 65° a thunderbolt at 9.10, at 2 p.m. at 2.20, when some dark, angry looking clouds came grumbling from the northwest, and at half past 3 a fearful storm of rain hail and thunder burst over us. Some of the hailstones looked up weighed half an ounce each. In 4 minutes there fell more than 50-100 of an inch of water. The mercury then suddenly dropped down to 75°, but the heat still awaits. A collision, it was up again to 90°, and late at night, we had considerable more thunder, but not much rain. We will have to move a little cooler.—THOMAS TAYLOR.

Resolution of Thanks

The following resolution was adopted by the directors of the Mechanic's Institute at a meeting held on Monday evening, 9th 10th inst

Moved by Mr. Lewis, seconded by Mr. Geo. Moore—as Resolved that this Board feel deeply indebted to Messrs. Richard Hall and J. McGill, executors of the estate of the late Mrs. Nichols for the prompt and liberal manner in which they acceded to the request that the premises of the Institute be put in repair. We feel that taking into consideration the character of this Institution, they did more than we had a right to expect, and we feel that we cannot do better than to express to them by presenting only what is equal to the stamped, $43.50. One of the most unusual theatrical enterprises which appears in New York city early in August, is the great romantic drama, "Cleopatra." Tremendous preparations have been expended during the summer. The scenery will eclipse anything presented in New York during recent years, and with the magnificent costumes of colonial artistes are sure to make an instantaneous and unqualified success. After the New York opening it will be sent across the continent to San Francisco with the entire New York cast, and it is unanimously accorded by newspaper and theatrical critics that among the big deals of the season, "Cleopatra" will be found "Always Trouble." 686

A Mighty Mackinaw.

Mr. Smith, a somewhat noted fisherman, captured the "Queen of the Lake" at Lovesick Lake. He was trawling along quietly when it seemed that a whale, from his speed to match. A tremendous tug on the line, and, like the Ancient Mariner's craft,

"Then like a witch I wrest the mighty fish."

This time round would be

"Then like a witch I went with my big mackinonge."

And Mr. Stabler "played" him for a quarter of an hour and when he had him pretty well drowned he towed him alongside his boat and having struck him several times on the head with a club, he derricked him on board. This fish was fully four feet and a half in length and weighed by scales twenty two pounds. The monster was in this condition, and Mr. Stabler is sure that if he had not been a Lovesick mackinonge—and had been in full form he would have weighed thirty pounds. At any rate, as he was, he was one of the largest fish ever caught in these waters. A day or two previous Mrs Stabler caught with a trawl a sixteen-pound maskinonge in Chemong Lake, a very large fish indeed for a lady to capture, and one that many a tourist would travel hundreds of miles to have the pleasure of casting.

A DROWNING DISASTER.

Three Young Persons Drowned in Rice Lake.

The Frightful Consequences of Tuesday Afternoon's Storm—Recklessly Venturing on the Water, Their Boat is Upset and All Three Perish.

Rice Lake has added another to the list of horrors which have been enacted on its treacherous waters, and again the community is plunged into gloom and mourning. Tuesday's storm will be a memorable one on account of its severity, and still more so because of the fatal effects of its devastating breath. Three persons—a young married couple and a girl of sixteen—met death in the turbulent waters of Rice Lake during the fearful riot of the elements. This morning the news flew like wild-fire around the town, and the EXAMINER learned the following particulars of the distressing accident from some residents of the Rice Lake district who were in Peterborough today.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins, a recently married young couple living at Canton, a village near Port Hope, have been camping at Lee's Point in Rice Lake, and on Tuesday afternoon they sailed over to Bewdley to get their post-office matter. They started to return about three o'clock, and were accompanied by Miss Maybee, the sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. Benjamin Maybee, of Rosemount, who was himself camped at Lee's Point. Before they left the wharf, the storm which had been brewing, burst upon the land and rain began falling. Notwithstanding this, the party of three set out in their mail boat, literally which overcame them. Worse than all, the sail was tied, under which circumstances sailing is always very dangerous. The craft, an ordinary sized skiff, carrying an average sail, left its moorings safely, and plunged through the roughening water at high speed. Friends anxiously watched the boat from the Bewdley hotel. The storm was increasing, and the wind began blowing a hurricane. However, the staunch little vessel held its course for a mile and a half, but when not more than a quarter of a mile from the landing place at Lee's Point, and when within speaking distance of safety, an unusually severe squall swept over the lake, and in an instant the boat, its mail being tied, was capsized. The disaster was witnessed by a number of people, but no effort could be made to rescue the unfortunate victims. In the violent storm which was raging it would be next to impossible to reach them, and the risk would be very great. So the three human beings struggling in the water had to be left to fight their own life and death battle. When the storm subsided, which it did almost as quickly as it had arisen, boats put out to the scene of the accident, but only the empty, upturned craft was there.—

AN OLD BOAT'S SAD TIDINGS.

At once the work of searching for the bodies was begun, and it was stated this morning that the searchers had been successful and the yawning depths had grudgingly yielded up their dead.

The accident was a most lamentable one, and the profoundest sorrow reigns throughout the Rice Lake district. Amidst it all, however, there is a feeling of blame towards Mr Hawkins for what was regarded as his foolhardiness in venturing upon the lake in the face of such a storm; and with his action. The unfortunate man paid an awful penalty for his rashness.

Prentice Boys

About 100 persons, including the members of Jubilee Lodge of Prentice Boys in their nobby uniforms, went up to Toronto to-day on the excursion held under Prentice Boy's auspices. A big demonstration by the Prentice Boys is held in Toronto to-day.

His Eye Safe

A letter received from Mr. Mark Spencely now in the Toronto General Hospital, gives the pleasing information that his eye injured by the accident recorded in the EXAMINER a few days ago will not have to be sight destroyed. The surgeon put two stitches in the substance of the eye ball, and can save the sight of the eye

Their Labours Closed.

To-night at the Salvation Army barracks Capt. Oak and Lieut Barrows the officers who have been in command here for the past seven months, will say good-bye to the soldiers and many friends. They leave for their new station to-morrow. A special feature of to-night's meeting will be the reading of the financial report for the past seven months. The new officers are expected to arrive to-morrow and take command.

The Golden Eye Floats Again

The Hastings Star says:—"No progress was made in raising the Golden Eye during the past week, until Monday, when an extra effort was put forth with the result of a steady gain on the water and by six inches the hull is now afloat, the three feet above water. Several leaks were discovered and were repaired. The pumps were kept going until past midnight. Work was resumed Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock expecting that the boat will be entirely free from water Wednesday

Weekly Entertainment.

The Templars programme last evening more than sustained its usual high merit. Miss Jennie Cox delighted the audience with "Ashamed to Beg," which was rendered in excellent voice. Mrs. M. H. Cochrane followed with "Bonnie Sweet Bessie, the Maid." "Dundee." The wonderful compass of the fine, round, richness of her cultured voice were received with rapturous applause, and Mr. Mulligan, whose rich tones of rare volume and power, under the most perfect control, is ever a rich treat and delight, gave a most appropriate selection, fully sustaining his own high reputation, and so on to the end the programme was one which few would have cared to miss.—Com.

Found to Be In It.

Although the thermometer has been humming around 80° during the past week, large and numerous shipment of Lace Goods have been received by J. J. Sheehy. This year Mr. Sheehy will place on his shelves and counters the largest stock of Dry Goods, both staple and fancy, since his entering into the business ages years ago. All his imported Yarns have now arrived and parties who think of "making hose while the sun shines" will find it to their advantage to give him a call. He has also received a beautiful stock of Fall Mantings and Black Dress Goods (the latter line of Goods always a specialty with him.) During this week special reductions will be made in order to clear the way for fall shipments. 858a83

Dominion Illustrated

The engravings in the last issue of the Dominion Illustrated include two pages of views at Jolliette, P.Q., and one showing the Coliseum at Rome. Bishop's Rock, Grand Manan, N.B., and a fishing beach on the same picturesque island, the Quebec dry dock, the Cathedral at Ionia and views of the old Barrister, P.Q., Manor house are also shown, besides several military and other views. The fine historical sketch of the Chebucto of Berbiker is concluded in this number. Mrs. Curzon describes the late celebration of the battle of Lundy's Lane. The Relic of the Settlement, a Northwest story, is a bright and readable sketch. The Magazine talks of books and readers, with more humour than regard for periodical honesty, and there are many other interesting features in this otherwise.

Have we any truly great men at the present day? None doubt it, and ask to be shown the modern Washington, Franklin or Webster. However this may be, of one thing we are sure, there never was a greater blood-purifier than Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Echoes of Yesterday's Storm.

Great Destruction of Crops in Some Quarters—Heavy Downpour of Rain.

It appears that our favoured people in the centre and northern portions of the town did not feel the full effects of the storm of yesterday, which was, in some respects, the severest of the season. The quantity of rain fell in a little over half an hour was abnormally large, over an inch on a half—about equal to an ordinary day's steady rain. In few places it was impossible for man or team to go upon the saturated soil for some time after the rain. The rain was not the worst feature of it. A terrible drift of hail, driven before a fierce wind, did a great deal of damage in the lower portion of the town, and in the part of North Monaghan in the vicinity the hail was peculiarly destructive. It was not simple hailstones that fell—it was huge clusters of ice lumps, frozen together in masses, some of them an inch and a half or two inches in diameter. In some places scores of bushels of apples and quinces were beaten from the boughs; green crops especially were and fields of oats that stood yesterday a waving sea of green, nearly a yard in height, look this morning as if a dull reaper had passed over them; the hailstones riddled the turnip leaves like bullets; peas were shelled from the pods as they hung on the vines; and tomatoes were found with angular fragments of ice impacted in them; window glass was broken and a great deal of damage done in many ways. Fortunately the area of the storm was small, nearly local. The hail drift first came driving from the north and suddenly changed and swept from the south. It did not reach across the river to do any damage but the rain fell heavily and the area of the general storm reached at least as far south as Rice Lake.

Further reports arriving show that the destructive portion of the storm passed over the country in belts, the most southern one, so far as known at this writing, being the one referred to above. In addition to the damages already noted, just below the southern boundary, the green houses of Messrs. Stevens and Green had about a hundred lights of glass broken, and the crops in the vicinity were greatly damaged.

THE SECOND BELT OF HAIL

prevailed in the township of Smith, between and including the 5th and 7th concessions. At Mr. Richard Walton's and vicinity the hail was very destructive. Mr. Walton with a farm servant was harvesting peas when the storm came up. They took refuge under some adjacent trees, and when the horses attached to the machine became restive under the pelting volleys of hail the men went out to look after them and the force of the icy bullets was sufficient to riddle his straw hat with holes. A large proportion of the peas were thrashed out, bushels on bushels of plums pears and apples were knocked to the ground and more and destroyed by the hail stones. In the 7th concession the hail was very destructive. A Mr. Haskins had the glass on one side of his shattered to fragments, and crops of hail, garden and orchard suffered greatly. In the absence of specific and detailed information, it is impossible to arrive at any estimate, even approximate, of the damage done. In addition to the ravages of the hail, the wind prostrated a good deal of grain, which make harvesting very difficult and tedious. The terrible triple drowning accident that resulted from the storm at Rice Lake, is recorded in detail in another place in this issue.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Many people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an illness developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 127 pounds, suffering burning sensation in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla. As a result of the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla, my dyspepsia disappeared. I did not and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easy, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning health and strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

BASEBALL.—Saturday, 8th August, witnessed one of the best baseball games of the season. Quite a number gathered and took much interest in the sharp play of both teams. The victory resulted in favor of the Rangers. Still the play of the Strathcona was admirable. The score was 4 to 3. The principal feature of the game was the playing of A. Whibbs on first base, but to the sorrow of his side he was seriously injured in pitching M. Fitzgerald out on 2nd base. His foot became in contact with the base and caused a severe injury but it is hoped he will soon be able to resume play.

The following are the teams and their respective positions:—

Umpire, J. O'Leary.

P.S.—It must be noted that the umpire gave some rank decisions, and it would be better for him to study the rules more exactly and not give so much favour. He had better tie his hands or he will get them tied.

GRAND SOCIAL.—On Saturday evening shortly after the game of baseball a grand social took place at Mod Meade, better known as the Seal Pit Hill. The social was conducted under the auspices of W. Geerts, J. O'Leary, R. Hickson, F. Maher. On one side of the lawn sat G. Smith with his highland pibroch and James O'Grady danced a fine highland fling something to outdo John Daff of Indian River. Mr. O'Brien danced the sword dance. F. Maher danced the Spanish fandango. Opposite Mr. Smith sat Mr. Hickson and Blake with their beautiful violins. There was an elegant platform erected upon which the youngsters danced the light fantastic toe. The master of ceremonies was Mr. Thomas O'Brien. There was an elegant table set out and the toasts were given after the supper, the last of which fell upon Edward Leahy, who was very willing and said that he would choose for his topic "Annexation." A decided preference for the admirable way he spoke and showed all the signs of being a first class politician.

Rev. Mr. Waddell, of Tokio, Japan, has been making a limited visit to his friends, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Waddell. He is a very genial looking gentleman and we are all sorry that his stay was so short. The Rev. gentleman also gave a lecture on Japan in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening August 5th, and considering it being a very busy time a large audience gathered. This most enjoyable and pleasant evening was commenced with singing and the Rev. Mr. Waddell was presented. He gave a very interesting discourse of an hour's length, dwelling on the customs, character, etc. of the people. He also gave an account of the progress of the missions. At the close of the evening a vote of thanks was tendered and the audience dispersed quietly and pleasantly.

Two of our enterprising farmers left for Manitoba on Tuesday evening, August 4th. We wish them a happy and pleasant time, and that when they return they will be able to give us a correct account of the prairie country.

Master Rolland Waddell has returned home after spending part of his vacation at the well known resort, Sturgeon Point.

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby, Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 4 months old, broke out with eczema. The limbs of one arm were affected the eczema spread to his face, body, neck, and head, until he was nearly covered; his tortures and agonies were pitiable to witness; he had no peace day or night. His little nails had to be cut to prevent him scratching himself to death. He was under treatment of different doctors at intervals for nearly two years, in the city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended almost all my time and attention, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Before using one bottle, his eczema was nearly cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommended every mother to use it for every Baby Humour.

SUN LIFE
ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,359,355.92
Increase over previous year	3,481,375.54
New Applications received in 1890	6,271,599.15

Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	880,978.87
Increase over 1889	195,935.35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,477,814.10
Increase over 1889	697,601.47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,100,332.68
Increase over 1889	567,726.71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	332,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,640.95
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,061.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,834 97
" " 1886,	89,452 97

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Sir Hector Cross-Examined The Alleged Mercier Government Steal.

OTTAWA, Aug. 13. In the House yesterday afternoon Mr. Girouard presented the report of the Committee on Privileges and Elections that Thomas McGreevy in the course of his examination refused to answer several questions as to whom he paid certain sums, alleging that it was given in confidence.

Sir John Thompson said the report of the committee required action on the part of the House. He gave notice that he would make a motion in relation to it to-morrow.

Clarke Wallace's Bill, which amends the Combines Bill by striking out the words "unduly and unreasonably," which qualify the restriction of trade produced by the act came before the Senate to-day.

Mr. Vidal said that, in the opinion of E. B. Osler, it would not be safe to leave out those words without inserting the clause: "Provided that nothing in the said act shall apply to any business arrangements or transactions which are not to the detriment of public interests."

Mr. Abbot said this amendment had received the consent of Mr. Wallace. The bill then passed through committee and stands for third reading.

Senator Ferrier gave notice that he will on Tuesday call the attention of the House to the propriety of amending the act respecting the Senate and House of Commons and amendments thereto, so as to render ineligible to the Senate or House of Commons, and to disqualify from sitting therein any person who is a shareholder in any incorporated company holding a contract with the Government, or receiving or having received any subsidy from the Government of Canada.

Senator Macdonald of Burlington gives notice he will on Wednesday enquire whether in view of the irregularities and violations of the Civil Service Act recently discovered it is the intention of the Government to institute an investigation by commissioners or otherwise, or to take such other steps that may be deemed expedient to secure the better administration of the civil service and prevent the recurrence of similar irregularities to those which have lately been brought under the notice of Parliament.

SIR HECTOR ON THE STAND.

His Cross-Examination is a Trying Ordeal for Him.

OTTAWA, Aug. 13. The cross-examination of Sir Hector Langevin was continued yesterday. Questioned about the testimonial fund Sir Hector said that he personally received $800 from John Rochester, M.P. for Carleton, and he knew that Mr. Rochester had paid $200 to the treasurer of the fund. These were the only contributions to the fund of which he was personally aware. As to the purchase of Le Monde newspaper he said he knew the transaction was about to be made, but he took no direct part in it. He admitted that Fossard and Vanasse, the nominal purchasers of the paper, had no funds with which to buy the original proprietors out. He knew that Thomas McGreevy collected the money for this purpose, to all about $30,000. He did not know personally that Mr. McGreevy paid the money out of his own pocket, but he thought so. He, Sir Hector, admitted that he made several advances of money to Le Monde not to gain, though he did not expect any return, but in order to obtain political control of the organ. He could not remember passing, though Quebec in July, 1887, en route for the Lower Provinces.

Mr. Geoffrion then produced a copy of La Patrie Chronicle of that time, stating that he passed through Quebec that day. Sir Hector said that his experience with newspapers was not such as to convince him of its reliability. He often looked them in reading them to imagine that he was away from his office at Ottawa. He did this on the day in question, but was not aware that he engaged at his departmental work. It denied that at this time in Quebec Thomas McGreevy had given him $40,000 or any other sum. Thomas McGreevy was never authorized to ask Larkin & Co. for money on any purpose whatever. He never had any conversation about subscriptions which obtained or was about to obtain from Larkin & Co. as a member of Parliament. He, Sir Hector, would not be surprised that Mr. McGreevy should take an interest in the affairs of Larkin, Connolly & Co., who were his constituents. He also knew that Thomas McGreevy was a director of the Union Bank, which was supporting Larkin & Co. financially. For this reason he might also be interested in the success of the firm.

Examined in reference to the reduction made on the price stipulated on to be paid to Larkin, Connolly & Co. for the Government plant at Esquimalt, Sir Hector said that Mr. Perley had taken the entire responsibility for this action. Mr. Perley had no discussion with the Minister before making his report recommending the reduction of $11,000 in favor of the firm.

Sir Hector said that if his attention had been called to the matter as it should have been he would not have allowed the deduction in favor of Larkin & Co.

Mr. Geoffrion then called Sir Hector's attention to a letter written by Mr. Grobel, then Secretary of the Department, to the Hon. Mr. Pelch, in which he said he was ordered by the Minister to refuse any deduction from the price agreed to be paid by the firm for this plant. Mr. Geoffrion asked how it came that, after giving such instructions, he, Sir Hector, could have sanctioned Mr. Perley a report nine months afterwards in favor of allowing the deduction to the firm.

Sir Hector said that Mr. Perley had never reported of allowing the deduction in favor of the firm. The Chief Engineer only called his attention to the fact that the question of a deduction might arrive between the government and the firm.

Mr. Geoffrion called Sir Hector's attention to Capt. Larkin's evidence in which that gentleman said that he had a conversation with Sir Hector and the latter promised him that he would attend to the firms request for deduction when he, Sir Hector, would not consent to take the contract. The witness admitted that he might have looked into the matter but he never promised that there would be any rebate in the price of the plant.

Examined in reference to another letter from N. K. Connolly, in which that gentleman said he was promised the rebate, Sir Hector denied that any such promise was ever given.

THE RAILWAY COMMITTEE.

Investigating the Charges Preferred by Walter Barwick Where is Pacaud?

OTTAWA, Aug. 13. A lively session of the Railway Committee took place yesterday morning. Mr. C. N. Armstrong was put upon the stand and asked what he did with the one hundred and seventy five thousand dollars Quebec grant. He said that one check of twenty-four thousand dollars was paid to Senator Robitaille, director of the old company.

The witness refused to say whether the balance of the first seventy-five thousand went to the other members of the old company. As to the hundred thousand alleged to have come to Pacaud he refused to testify.

It was admitted that negotiations for Quebec subsidy to the new company were conducted by Pacaud. He met Pacaud with Provincial Secretary Langlier and Hon. Robertson at New York, but would not say whether the one hundred thousand dollar matter was talked over. Mercier was away when the grant was given. There was some delay and trouble.

Witness refused to answer the question whether Pacaud did not show him a memorandum of Mercier's debts which he had and were to be paid out of the one hundred thousand. Barwick told him that Robitaille would swear that Armstrong told him last week about this memorandum, and that the amount of Mercier's debts paid out of the grant was $57,000. Witness said that he had a conversation with Robitaille, which he thought confidential, concerning what to the above effect. He admitted seeing a memorandum of Mercier's debts in the hands of Pacaud at the time. This event was before the Quebec Government.

Questioned in reference to commissions paid and to be paid out of subsidies from time to time to the old company the witness refused to answer. The committee ruled that the question must still be answered, but counsel preferred that no action be taken until it actual may be reported together. Pacaud, who is summoned, he left the country.

WHAT THEY SAY IN ENGLAND.

Newspapers Comments Respecting the Resignation of Sir Hector Langevin.

LONDON, Aug. 13. Hon. Sir Hector Langevin's resignation of his portfolio in the Dominion Cabinet as Minister of Public Works is the subject of much comment, not only by the press, but in political and colonial circles generally.

The Chronicle refers to Sir Hector Langevin's standing in Canadian politics and his past record, and hopes that he will be able to clear himself from the charges preferred against him, but it says that it is more than doubt that the whole system of public works in Canada rocks with wastefulness and corruption. The article concludes: "Only by bringing the offenders to justice can the Dominion Government avert a political catastrophe besides which the death of the late Prime Minister, Sir John Macdonald, is of small moment."

The Pall Mall Gazette says Sir Hector Langevin has done the straight thing in resigning his portfolio and hopes he will succeed in proving that his hands are clean.

The Canadian Gazette, in an editorial entitled "Canada's Humiliation," applauds Sir Hector Langevin's action in resigning his seat in the Cabinet, but regrets that he did not resigned before as he would thus have escaped such a suspicion. His resignation at the present time is more forced than voluntary.

GRAND LODGE I. O. O. F.

Opening at Stratford Reports of Grand Master and Grand Secretary.

STRATFORD, Aug. 13. Since early morning yesterday every arriving train has brought its contingent of delegates to the Grand Lodge I.O.O.F. The session of the Grand Lodge are held in Convocation Hall of the Collegiate Institute. At 9.30 yesterday morning a mounted procession was formed and marched to the place of meeting where Grand Master P. L. Fitzpatrick K of H could be found in chair. The cordial welcome extended to the delegates and cordial greeting. Grand Master Fitzpatrick made a suitable reply.

The reception ceremonies over, Grand Lodge was opened in its usual form. The business of the session began. The Standing Committee were named by the grand master.

The report of Acting Grand Master Fitzpatrick showed the order to be in a healthy and flourishing condition throughout the jurisdiction. The utmost harmony and good feeling exists throughout the province and the reports from the D.D.G.M.'s all indicate bright prospects for the future.

Grand Secretary J. B. King also presented his annual report, which showed the expenditure during the past fiscal year to have been $10,713,880. The present membership of the order is 17,707, compared with 005 in 1856. Since 1856 the order through its lodges has disbursed for the different purposes of relief the sum of $6043,250.00.

Chairman Dunson from the Mileage and per Diem Committee submitted a report recommending that grand officers and representatives be paid $2 for each day they are in attendance and 5 cents per mile for each mile traveled on way. A motion to adopt this report passed without comment. The consideration of the report of the special committee on district redistribution, one of the important matters to come before the session, was made the first order of business at to morrow afternoon session.

Behind the Blind Door.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13. Police raided a disreputable house kept by a colored woman and discovered a blind door nailed up. It led to an attic, in which the officers found two women, Mrs. Mary Rumpler of Cincinnati and Malvina Sparling, a handsome young Danish girl, who had been decoyed into the den and starved in order to force them into lives of shame. The keeper of the place was arrested.

Another Fatal Accident.

LONDON, Aug. 13. Oliver B. Harris, a resident of South street, died in the City Hospital yesterday afternoon from the effects of a fall from a step ladder.

Derry Wants.

TORONTO, Aug. 13. The 202nd anniversary of the opening of the gates of Derry by the 'Prentice Boys was loyally celebrated in Toronto yesterday. It needeth not to recite the story of that eventful time further than to tell that the closing of the gates was on Dec. 18, 1688, against the army of King James, and the opening of the gates, the relief of Derry, on Aug. 12 following.

A SYSTEMATIC THIEF

STEALS $15,000 FROM THE HAMILTON STREET RAILWAY CO. IN SIX YEARS.

Caught Red-handed in the Act of Going Through the Cash, a Trusted Employer Makes a Clean Breast of the Matter and Restores $12,500.

HAMILTON, Aug. 13.—The biggest steal from a single firm that has taken place in Hamilton for many years came to light yesterday morning. The thief is John Callahan, of 393 Catharine street north, night watchman in the employ of the Hamilton Street Railway Company, and the money that he stole was the property of that company. The stealing has been going on for six years and the money that he has stolen in that time aggregates about $15,000. Callahan has been nearly eleven years in the employ of the company. For the first four years he was employed as a car driver; then on account of his superior intelligence, he was promoted six years ago to the position of night watchman at the Stuart-street offices and stables. His duties were to go in company with an employe named Washington, to all the stations at 10 p.m., and collect the fares that had been deposited in the cars. They took the money out of the boxes, placed it in small linen sacks, and carried it thus to the Stuart-street office, where there is a large safe with a safety-combination lock. There would generally be 26 sacks each evening. Callahan would place these sacks in leather satchels, which were deposited in a tin case that fitted into the safe. Callahan's duty was to lock the safe in the presence of Washington and break the combination, this showing that the safe was completely locked. Then Washington would go and leave Callahan alone in charge.

For a long time the company has suspected that its money was being stolen, and employes have been at various times discharged on the strength of these suspicions.

But what baffled the skill of the company has been made clear with the assistance of a professional detective. It is now known that when Callahan apparently locked up the safe in the presence of Washington he did not lock it at all. He learned, about a month after his appointment as night watchman six years ago, that by turning the knob of the combination to the right the safe door would be apparently though not really locked, for the combination would not be broken. All he had to do was to turn the knob back to the star and the safe door was open. By his own admission he has been systematically stealing from the company for about six years, or from the time that he made the discovery about the combination. Hardly a night passed in all these years without Callahan adding something to his pile. He would select what he thought the most opportune time during the night to operate. After Washington went away and he was alone in the sheds he would open the safe door and take out all the sacks containing money and take a small sum from each—20 or 25 cents. He has taken as much as $1 out of each sack. The highest amount which he took on any one night was about $20. His stealings would average between $4 and $5 a night. The grand total of his stealings is in the neighborhood of $15,000.

The fact which made the company suspect Callahan was his application for a permit to build a house to cost $1800, rather too much of an undertaking for a man in receipt of his small income, so the company thought. An investigation was set about and it was discovered that he had a large amount of money deposited in a certain bank in the city. It was then decided to take action, and Detective Hastings of the Pinkerton force was engaged. Hastings watched the safe and saw Callahan transact the sacks as described above. He reported to the company. Several days ago Hastings with three members of the city police force went on watch with Hastings and saw Callahan open the safe and go through 19 sacks, taking out of them coins amounting in all to $3.80. The party on watch then came out of their hiding places. Everything was carefully examined and noted. Callahan was caught red-handed.

Callahan upon being accused of having systematically robbed the company for years confessed all and pleaded hard for mercy. He signed orders on the various banks and financial institutions in which he had deposited money. These were the Bank of Hamilton, the Bank of Montreal, the Traders' Bank, the Hamilton Provident and Loan Society and the postoffice savings bank. The sums to his credit in these institutions aggregated $12,500. Callahan gave orders for it all.

He confessed that it had all been stolen from the company and also that some money which he had invested in real estate he had also stolen, and made over the real estate in his possession to the company.

Callahan voluntarily remained with the party until 10 o'clock, when Chief McKinnon took him into custody. He will be charged with stealing $5 on Aug. 8.

The company has received all the money which lay at Callahan's credit in the institutions mentioned.

Callahan is about 35 years of age. He is married and has four children. His wife is at present in a delicate condition, and her husband's disgrace is a terrible shock to her.

Killed by a Train.

BARRIE, Aug. 13. Old residents of this county will be pained to hear of the death, by accident, at Seneca, of Mr. Aaron Burnett, who for many years lived in this town. Mr. Burnett, his daughter, Mrs. Fuller, and grandaughters, Frances Fuller and Mrs. Firstenberger (the latter a daughter of the late G. C. Lount) and two of Mrs. Firstenberger's children, were all in a carriage when it was struck by the locomotive of a train. Frances Fuller, an invalid girl of 16, and Burnett were killed. All the others were more or less seriously injured.

Distinguished Visitors.

MONTREAL, Aug. 13. A number of distinguished personages are about to visit the Dominion. The Bishop of Exeter and his wife and daughter and Lord Elphinstone sail from Liverpool on the Allan steamship Parisian to morrow for Montreal. Lord and Lady Mountstephen sail on the Majestic today from New York, en route for Montreal. Sir Donald Smith will follow on Saturday.

RUSSIAN RYE.

The Ukase Forbidding its Export Creating Consternation in Germany.

BERLIN, Aug. 13. The ukase forbidding the export from Russia of rye and ryemeal has created an enormous sensation in this city. The ukase came as a complete surprise to the grain dealers here. The prohibition will not be enforced until Aug. 27, and this short respite affords some relief. Rye is the principal sustenance of the poor of Germany. One effect of the ukase has been to raise the price of wheat. Chancellor Von Caprivi is deaf to all appeals to remove grain duties. The full effects of the Russian measure will not be felt for several days. The rye imports by Germany from Russia cannot be replaced by the rye of any other country. A further and rapid increase in the prices of bread stuffs must be expected.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The English newspapers are much disturbed over the announcement that the Russian Government has decided to prohibit the export of rye. The general feeling is, although Great Britain will not be affected to such an extent as Germany and Austria, she will inevitably suffer to a great extent by the prohibition.

Referring to the agitation on the Berlin Bourse in consequence of the Russian ukase, The Allegemeine Zeitung points out that Russia's contribution to the corn markets of the world has varied in quantity to a remarkable extent in the last 20 years, but that owing to greater facilities for intercourse the reduction of the Russian supply has been covered by the products from other countries. "America," continues The Zeitung, "is now prepared fully to replace Russia, while India, Roumania, Austria, and Hungary could also be relied upon for supplies. The Russian measures have been taken at a favorable time for Germany, as crops have already been or are being gathered." The Zeitung doubts whether Russia will maintain the prohibition long in the face of the financial sacrifices entailed, the fall of rouble notes and damage which the measure will cause to farming interest.

MANSLAUGHTER!

AN OLD TORONTO HOTELKEEPER CHARGED WITH KILLING HIS WIFE.

Mrs. Whale Found Dead on the Floor of Her House With a Bullet in Her Brain—The Prisoner Makes a Damaging Admission.

MITCHELL, Ont., Aug. 13.—Not since the brutal murder of J. Houghton last June has this quiet little town been thrown into such a state of excitement as it was yesterday morning, when the news was spread abroad that Mrs. Daniel Whale had been killed. There were all sorts of reports as to the cause of death, some going so far as to state that they expected a tragedy like this some day, owing to the unhappy domestic relations of Whale and his wife. The affair occurred in the north ward. Whale is a retired hotel-keeper, having formerly kept in Richmond-street Toronto, he and his wife have had frequent misunderstandings, and it is said that early Monday morning they had another, which culminated in the death of Mrs. Whale. The house in which the tragedy occurred is only a short distance from the Royal Hotel. When William Taylor, a neighbor, was called in the night that met his gaze was a terrible one. The woman was lying in a pool of blood, which was oozing from a wound in the back of her head. There was blood all over the wainscotting and upon the carpet. A revolver was found in Whale's bed with one chamber discharged. Coroner P. R. Shaver of Stratford was telegraphed for, and he came over and held an inquest last night in the town hall.

After viewing the body Robert White was called. He testified that he had known deceased for several months, and that as near as he knew she was regular in her habits. He stated how she was lying in a pool of blood when he went into the house. There was blood upon the floor, upon the wainscotting and that there was a deep wound on the back of her head. Her hair was all matted with blood. The husband was under the influence of liquor. Whale stated: "That they had several rackets before, but this one he thought would be their last." He threatened to shoot his son-in-law Mr. J. Seldon, when witness was in the house in the morning. Witness further related how Whale's daughter, Mrs. Seldon, had found a loaded revolver in his (Whale's) bed. Witness said he took the revolver to his boarding house and locked it up.

KISSED THE MANGLED BODY.

Further on in his evidence he remarked that Whale had stooped down and kissed his wife as she was lying upon the sofa, making the remark, "She has made thousands of dollars for me." Whale stated to witness that he had still another revolver and he intended to get it loaded also.

William Taylor upon being examined said that Whale had called him into his house the morning of the tragedy. Witness stated that when he entered the room a ghastly sight met his view. He related how the poor woman was lying in a pool of blood, her face covered with blood, her hair clotted with it and blood spotted over the wainscotting and the floor, some of which Whale attempted to wash off the wainscotting. Witness did not notice that the eyes were discolored until he helped place deceased upon the bed. When Whale was spoken to regarding the death of his wife he made no reply. Whale said to him: "You sit there and don't say a word." He was under the influence of liquor. Whale made no explanation, but said to witness: "This will be a bad job for me." The coroner then adjourned the inquest till to-night at 7 o'clock. The inquest resumed to-night at 7 before Coroner Shaver. John Idington, Q.C., appeared for the crown. The prisoner, who had been arrested in the meantime, was present and was represented by his counsel, Mr. F. H. Thompson.

WHO WHALE IS.

For Many Years a Hotelkeeper in Toronto Domestic Infelicities.

Daniel Whale, the man accused of murdering his wife, is well known in Toronto. He was born in Cornwall, England, about 55 years ago, where he was married, subsequently going to Australia, where he followed his trade as a carpenter. He came to Toronto some 18 years ago, and after a few years went into the hotel business, conducting the American Hotel, John Queen streets (which he still owns) for some time. Six years ago he leased the Windsor Hotel, Church Richmond streets, where he has been living until about nine months ago, when he moved to Mitchell. His portly figure was familiar to a great many residents of the city. His wife was also of portly lived and was almost as well known as her husband, as she practically ran the business, frequently tending bar when her husband was "under the weather," which was not unfrequently. The company made money and when they retired from the Windsor were understood to be worth in the neighborhood of $30,000. Those that were acquainted with the family say that bickerings were constant, Mrs. Whale having acquired a taste for stimulants second in degree only to that enjoyed by her husband. The couple have two daughters, one of whom is married to John Seldon, formerly bartender at the Windsor, and who accompanied the Whales to Mitchell.

MORNING, Aug. 13. 3 a.m. The jury has just arrived at a conclusion, and have adjudged Whale guilty of manslaughter.

CHINESE RIOTERS CONFESS.

That They Murdered Two Foreigners—Awful Result of a Steamboat Race.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 12. Advices from Hong Kong up to July 15 state that the fire of discontent is still smouldering in North China, and occasional riots are reported. The mission stations near Canton are said to have been received. Two of the Wusueh rioters on trial voluntarily confessed that they murdered two foreigners during the riots. They were executed. Comparative quiet seems to have been restored in the Yang-Tee Valley, and several foreign gunboats have left for other stations. At Fuchi the rioters wrecked out-houses, entered the churches and priests' houses, and ransacked everything, but did not burn the buildings. Soldiers patrol the streets at night guarding Romanist property. A telegram from Tientsin states that the French and British Ministers in China have opened negotiations with the Tsungli Yamun in regard to their claim for indemnity on account of the recent riots. The sum claimed is six million five hundred taels.

Advices from Yokohama give further particulars of the sinking of the steamer Tamaye Maru and the drowning of 260 passengers. The Tamaye Maru and another steamer, the Myoshi Maru, were racing when the latter steered across the Tamaye's course and the vessels collided. The Tamhye Maru sank immediately; and only about sixty people who were on deck were rescued.

TURNBULL'S.

We want to call attention to a large lot of Lace Curtains we are opening out and marking; there is nothing attractive in a large lot unless they are being sold at prices that will save money to the purchaser. This is just what we purpose to do. We show a Cartain, taped and bound, at 60c. a pair, a still better one for 75c., and a beauty for $1, while the best in the lot are only $1.50. We have cleared out whole lines at greatly reduced prices is how we are able to offer such inducements. We have opened out to-day and placed on our second floor a nice range of new patterns in Hemp Carpets, some of these are very desirable.

To-day we open our first shipment of Ladies' Mantles for Fall. They are a very stylish lot. Parties wanting one for a special occasion early will be glad to know that they can now see the new fall styles with us. We have received the invoice of a lot of Dress Goods, they will be opened before this appears in print. We have also got nearly all the shades of very pretty Plaids for making over dresses. We need hardly remind the public that everything stylish, serviceable and cheap is kept on our counters.

In our Tailoring Department we are showing some fresh patterns of Heavy Weight Tweeds at from $15 to $17 a suit, especially suited for elderly men. Ask to see our heavy pantings at 50c. a yard, made out of the best of wool.

of some kind, and you have a preference as to the kind and place. You know what terms you require, and, if wise, you must know that, with present prospects of Peterborough's future greatness, the half-value prices at which I am now offering property cannot long continue. At present I want to sell, and I have a fixed location at 357 George street. You can have no difficulty in finding my office, and I want any and every person who wishes to buy to come in, talk matters over, tell me what you wish to buy, where you want to buy, when and how you can pay—give me full particulars, and then I can, and will, give you intelligent advice. I claim that thirty years practical business experience has qualified me to do so. In the past many have acted upon my suggestions and made their tens, hundreds and thousands by doing so; as many more who would not be advised are regretting their loss, instead of counting their gain.

Does it pay to dress well? Assuredly. No money is better spent than what is laid out for domestic satisfaction. A man is pleased that his wife is dressed as well as other people, and the wife is pleased that she is so dressed. At no 365 George street you will do well to pause in your down-town career. There you will be pleasantly surprised at the variety of beautiful Dress Goods and the Low Prices that prevail during this month. Saturday was such a rushing day with us and though we were among the first to sign the petition for early closing yet we found it impossible to close our doors until after 11 o'clock and no wonder for the people fairly got excited over selling bargains. 33 yards of Dress Goods for $1.00 is a prodigy, 20 yards of Dress Goods for $1.00 must be cheap, 15 yards of Dress Goods for $1.00 is a paralyzer. Rowse's, Rowse's, Rowse's is the spot for cheap Dress Goods and if you want also to see the nobbiest most attractive, elegant Dress Fabrics, Rowse's is still the spot. We show at 30c. Sir Hector Langevin's Position Reviewed.

Why He Resigns—Points that He Failed to Cover—A Mere Figurehead—Repudiates Responsibility for the Plundering.

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—It is well to understand exactly the position which Sir Hector Langevin assumes in placing his resignation in the hands of the Government. He admits the soundness of the contention that he should resign the moment charges are explicitly made against him; but he says that this moment did not arrive until the evidence was closed, because it was not till then that the charges were fully developed. He contends that the charges make by Mr. Tarte in the House of Commons did not put him on his defence. On reading the charges it is found that this contention can be sustained only by severing Sir Hector from the department for which he has been the responsible Minister for twelve years. For against the department Mr. Tarte's charges were explicit and grave. It is said that Thomas McGreevy obtained from the department and from the officials information relating to tenders under examination which he communicated to Larkin, Connolly & Co., that the conditions of contracts were changed to the detriment of the public and for the profit of Larkin, Connolly & Co., and that Thomas McGreevy used his influence with the Department of Public Works, and in particular with Henry F. Perley, to induce him to report in favor of the exorbitant price of 35 cents per cubic yard for the dredging of the wet basin, and that money was paid corruptly to officials of the department. Moreover Mr. Tarte, after directly charging corruption in the case of the cross wall and lock, referred to the subscription of Larkin, Connolly & Co. to the Langevin testimonial fund, a reference which was almost meaningless unless it was Mr. Tarte's intention to charge Sir Hector himself with corruption. The assumption that Sir Hector is not responsible for the acts of the department, in other words, that he is a responsible Minister only in name, underlies not only his reason for delaying his resignation, but his whole defence. He throws upon his subordinates and upon the Quebec Harbor Commission the whole responsibility for the official sins of omission and commission by which Larkin, Connolly & Co. were enabled to enrich themselves at the public expense. He says he is not an engineer, and that in all matters requiring engineering knowledge he was obliged to trust to the evidence of experts. He asserts of the corrupt transactions, and denies the receipt of any money from Murphy or from any one else on behalf of the contractors. His financial dealings with Thos. McGreevy he explains by saying that Mr. McGreevy raised money by means of notes for his election expenses in 1876 and 1877 when he was not a member of the Government, and that McGreevy has since carried the notes, paid the interest and practically assumed the debt. He says that he did not know of the connection of Robert or Thomas McGreevy with Larkin, Connolly & Co., and his explanation of Thomas' anxiety about the contractor is that he was a member of the Quebec Harbor Commission and that he was looking after the interests of the Union Bank. It is evident that in this statement Sir Hector has made out the best possible case for himself. He has had the advantage of reading all the testimony against him. His statement was in writing and drawn with so much care and skill as to give the impression that counsel had aided in preparing it. Its fatal weakness was that he did not attempt to gainsay that the country was robbed by a series of frauds committed in his department. If it is not his duty to prevent these crimes, what are his duties? Do they consist in simply signing without question any documents his subordinates choose to place before him, while he spends the major part of his time and energy in distributing patronage, settling the claims of office-seekers instead of the claims of contractors, making elaborate investigations into the party services of this or that dealer and no investigation . . . all into contracts involving national expenditure of millions of dollars? The country pays a high price for the maintenance of a figurehead at Rideau Hall; it can hardly afford to pay a figurehead to distribute the patronage of each department and thus to leave the whole machinery of government at the mercy of corrupt subordinates. Though there was an appearance of completeness and explicitness in Sir Hector's denials there were some

HIS INNOCENCE AND IGNORANCE

POINTS THAT HE FAILED TO COVER

In one place he says:—"Mr. Peters states that he subscribed to the elections in 1882 $400 of his own money and $600 he collected; I do not remember this, but in any event Mr. Peters was not a contractor with the Government, but with the harbour commissioners, and his contract was finished in 1881. None of the money was used in my own election; of that I am sure." Here Sir Hector not only did not deny the receipt of the money, but he failed to account for his own letter to Peters, which reads as follows:—"Office of the Minister of Public Works, Quebec, 17th June, 1882: My dear Mr. Peters,—You promised to send me something about the elections. Will you kindly do so to-day? Yours truly, HECTOR LANGEVIN." Peters says that in pursuance of this letter he paid Sir Hector $400 of his own and $600 of his colleagues, Moore & Wright. Sir Hector does not deny that he received the money. He admits that Thomas McGreevy, to his knowledge, subscribed money to Le Monde. He admits that for 15 years he has been in debt to Thomas McGreevy for election purposes. There is a vast field for speculation as to the meaning of the resignation and its probable issue. It comes at a peculiar time. It would have been a graceful and proper act for the Minister to have resigned at so early a period as to destroy all possibility of suspicion that incriminating documents would be suppressed or tampered with. Now the investigation is over and that particular reason for resigning is gone. All that can be said in favor of the step is that the committee and the House may feel themselves more free to judge of Sir Hector's conduct now that he is no longer a Minister. He occupied his usual seat on the Treasury benches to-day, but he was not in the House when Sir John Thompson told Mr Laurier that no action had been taken upon his resignation, but that another Minister would assume control of the Department of Public Works. Sir Hector is therefore now by his own act in the position of a man under suspension. There is a general opinion that the final result will be his retirement. There is also a feeling that he will insist upon a vindication of his character from the charge of personal corruption, so far as a majority can give it.

It is rumored that Sir Hector will return to the Cabinet and to the Public Works Department. Another report says that he is to be elevated to a Lieutenant Governorship. Surely both stories are incredible. If Mr. Abbott is sincere in his expressed determination to punish wrong doing to the bitter end, let him begin by making an example of the Minister who, on the most charitable hypothesis, has been guilty of criminal negligence and is morally responsible for all the hideous uselessness that has been revealed to the world.

The Crops.

Business in Canada is reviving in consequence of the gratifying crop prospects. A surplus of 22,000,000 bushels of wheat for export means a five-dollar bill in the hands of every man, woman and child in the country, and perhaps more, for the European demand is almost certain to send prices up with a bang before the snow flies. Bradstreets in an elaborate table shows that during the next twelve months Europe will require at least 289,000,000 bushels. It is estimated that in spite of the bad crops Russia, Austria, Bulgaria and Servia will be able to export 90,000,000 bushels; on the other hand 371,000,000 will have to be imported by the following countries:

United Kingdom	145,000,000
France	100,000,000
Germany	25,000,000
Italy	25,000,000
Spain and Portugal	16,000,000
Switzerland	9,000,000
Turkey	10,000,000
Rest of Europe	32,000,000
Total	371,000,000

The net demand of Europe will, therefore, be 281,000,000. This is said to be a moderate estimate, for according to all accounts Russia will have all she can do to feed herself, the rye crop having failed along with wheat. The exports available from India are set down at 33,000,000 bushels, and it is believed that the United States can export 144,000,000, leaving 104,000,000 to be obtained from Canada, Australia and other sources.

The heavy thunder and rainstorms of Sunday have done some damage to the crops throughout Ontario. The despatches printed elsewhere go to show that the western part of the Province suffered more than the eastern. A good deal of wheat was beaten down and "lodged," but a few days of fine weather will repair the mischief. In Manitoba and the Territories there have been a few local hailstorms, but thus far the crop has escaped well and may now be regarded as safe.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. F. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hore, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston On.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

Blood Poison

Is very liable to follow contact of the hands or face with what is known as poison ivy, especially in hot weather or if the body is perspiring freely. The trouble may subside for a time, only to appear in aggravated form when opportunity offers. It also cures scrofula, salt rheum and all other affections arising from impure or poisoned blood.

Might Have Been Worse.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 12—Yesterday an accident of a serious character took place at the sewer works. While the men were laying the bed for the pipes at a depth of 22 feet from the surface, the boarding or sheeting gave way and the sides caved in, burying two of the workmen, John Farthing and John Eagleson, in the sand. Saws and shovels were quickly at work, and efforts were made to shore up the sides, which gave signs of coming in upon the working party. After about 15 minutes the two men were released. Eagleson had a very severe contusion of the left leg, while his back and nose were injured. Farthing was bruised about the body and had his right ankle dislocated, while the front of the foot was also injured.

Worse Than Anticipated.

BERLIN, ONT., Aug. 12. The work of the storm at the Lexington picnic was more serious than reported yesterday. One girl named Siegman, aged 8 years, was instantly killed by the falling tree. A young boy named Zaen of Bridgeport had his skull fractured and the doctors say he cannot recover. A son of J. Wellem of Bridgeport, had his thigh badly broken. A young woman, daughter of Mr. Siegman, and whose sister had been instantly killed, had her arm broken, and a boy named Meyers had his spine badly injured, which may make him a cripple for life. A number of others were injured more or less seriously, none of them however, being fatal.

Rumors of Sunday's Storm.

STONEY CREEK, Aug. 12. During the gale a yacht was seen out on Lake Ontario opposite here capsized with three or four persons clinging to it. It suddenly disappeared. Afterwards a vessel capsized was picked up by Mr. Gray on the shore, and a boat chair and cushion were secured out of the lake by Mr. Douglas Chevalier. It is reported that a sail boat was seen to capsize about 200 or 300 yards from shore opposite Major E. M. Carpenter's farm and sink with several persons on board.

Kingston Elopers Traced to Detroit.

DETROIT, Aug. 12. To-day a young couple, strangers here, secured board on Congress street. They gave their names as Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and remarked that they had recently been married. Yesterday a young fellow hailing from Kingston, Ont., arrived and identified the woman as his wife, who had eloped with a man named George Thompson. The couple had fled, however.

The Daily Drowning.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 12. Yesterday afternoon a 7 year old boy, son of Mr. T. Lonergan of the city police, left his home on Wall street to visit his grandmother, who lives below Niagara street bridge. After crossing the bridge the little fellow ventured out on some floating timber along the canal bank and fell in. The body was recovered two hours later.

Killed by an Engine.

LONDON, Aug. 12. Wm. Steele, a well to do farmer of London Township, was run into and killed by a west bound passenger train at the Hyde Park crossing of the London, Huron & Bruce Railway last evening, shortly before 7 o'clock.

Tiny Tales by Telegraph.

The man McKean, who is supposed to have been drowned off the Niagara Mason at Hamilton on Saturday evening, was employed by E. E. Chilman, baker, King street west.

The earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for the twelfth week ending Aug. 7 are as follows: 1891, $301,000; 1890, $318,000; increase, $17,000. 1891, $13,000. The earnings of the New Brunswick Railway are included in the figures for both years.

Lieut.-Col. James E. Morris has been appointed by the Attorney-General of Ontario to the position of Registrar of Wellington which office was rendered vacant by the death of Dr. Everard. C. Mayn represented Wellland in the L. L. House from 1883 to 1890.

The High Court of Ontario of the Independent Order of Foresters is in session at Brockville. The reports showed increase of 3826 members in the province, that there had been 73 deaths in the province, and that 74 subordinate courts were instituted. This session will continue until this evening.

Not long since a Burlington girl was admitted into Hamilton Hospital, and there became a mother. The child lived, but the mother died in giving it birth. Her name was Sarah Gumbert. Now her father, William Gumbert, has brought an action against Harold Kurz of Burlington, claiming $700 damages for the alleged seduction of his daughter by the defendant, and consequent loss of her services.

They Make a Brave Show.

LONDON, Aug. 11. The recently formed union of London clerks made a brave show in Hyde Park. They went there to protest against long hours and other grievances. Many women marched in the procession, which was very respectable in appearance. The rain had a dampening effect, but the speeches were none the less emphatic as well as reasonable.

Death of the Great American Scholar.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 13. James Russell Lowell died at his home here yesterday. The Hon. James Russell Lowell was born at Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 22, 1819. He graduated at Harvard College in 1838 and studied law, but soon abandoned law for literature. His most remarkable work was "The Biglow Papers," a collection of humorous poems on political subjects, written by Hosea Biglow, in the Yankee dialect, in 1848. Other well known works of his are: "Fireside Travels," "Under the Willows and Other Poems," "The Cathedral," an epic poem; "Among my Books," "My Study Windows" and "Three Memorial Poems." In 1855 he succeeded Longfellow as Professor of Modern Languages and Belles Lettres in Harvard College. In 1877 he was appointed Minister to Spain, from which he was transferred in January, 1880, to that of Minister to Great Britain. On the change of administration in 1885 he resigned this position and returned to the United States.

To Arrange the Manipur Massacre.

SIMLA, Aug. 12. The Viceroy of India has rendered his decision on the appeal of the Manipuri Princes who were condemned to death for the part they took in the massacre in March last, the technical charge on which they were convicted being that they had waged war against the Queen and had abetted murder.

The sentences of the Senapati, brother of the Jubraj (Regent of Manipur, and commander-in-chief of the Manipur army, and the Tongal General, who gave the order for the massacre, have been confirmed by the Viceroy, and they will be executed.

In the case of the Regent and Prince Angao Sana, the younger Senapati, the Viceroy has commuted the sentences of death to transportation for life, and the forfeiture of their property.

Several of the Manipuri subjects of British Sepoy, who took a prominent part in the massacre, have already been executed.

A SECOND POMPEII.

A Mexican City Covered with Ashes from a Volcano.

COLIMA, Mex., Aug. 12.—At 6.30 o'clock yesterday the volcano of Colima began to show signs of eruption, and after a time the whole city became covered with ashes. This is the most extensive eruption ever known in Colima and there are fears that many lives will be lost.

CABLE CHAT.

The publishing firm of W. H. Allen, London, has failed.

It is reported Russia will build two more 10,000 ton ironclads for the Baltic.

President Carnot's chateau at Presles has been ransacked by burglars, who got away with everything valuable the house contained, including the plate. The President's mother occupied the house.

Remarkable scenes were witnessed last evening at the Buillieres and Luxemburg Gardens, Paris, where concerts were given al fresco. Enormous crowds were present and repeated demands were made for the Russian National Anthem, the crowds joining in the music with heads uncovered. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

Messrs. Walsh, Gray and others have signed a requisition for a meeting of Freeman's Journal directors, to change the policy of the paper. Mr. Harrington presiding at a meeting of the league yesterday, announced that he was obliged for the present to discontinue grants to evicted tenants. He said that an appeal would be made forthwith to assist a daily.

The Rambaud enthusiasm, which has lately been bursting out at every possible opportunity in France, has received a sudden damper from the non-arrival in Paris of the Grand Duke Alexis, who was to arrive there yesterday. All preparations had been made to give the Grand Duke an enthusiastic greeting and a great crowd had assembled at the station to witness his arrival. Those people were greatly disappointed. It is supposed the Grand Duke purposely changed his route to avoid demonstration.

The Eastern Situation is Critical.

LONDON, Aug. 11. The statement is made on what appears to be good authority that owing the critical condition of affairs in the east, England will add 10 warships to her Mediterranean fleet at a moment's notice.

Despatches from Crete represent the island as in a condition approaching anarchy. The Christian and Mohammedan factions are in constant warfare and are killing one another off by wholesale. The local authorities are powerless to stop the disorders and the regular troops stationed on the island have been taken away to aide the porte in putting down the rebellion in Arabia.

Here Lies!

Epitaphy is a demoralizing kind of taffy. It appears on the tombstone and eulogizes the dead almost to the very stars. The usual method of beginning is: "Here lies." Very suggestive, for the lies are frequently quite astonishing—almost enough so to both amuse and amaze the dead of whom they are written. A truthful epitaph, in many instances, would be: "Here lies one who omitted to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery." If sick and suffering and dreading premature death, test the potent remedy. It cures all chronic, liver, blood, and lung diseases, as biliousness, skin and scalp diseases, scrofulous sores and swellings, salt rheum, tetter, erysipelas and even scrofula of the lungs (or consumption), if taken in time. a

All cases of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them. dw

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores, dw

Freeman's Worm Powders destroy and remove worms without injury to adult or infant. dw

Consult Your Neighbors.

Any one may find out just what Burdock Blood Bitters is and does by asking a neighbor who has tried it. It rarely fails in making a complete cure of dyspepsia, constipation, sickheadache, biliousness and diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. dw

Baby was Sick.

"My baby was very sick with diarrhœa and after everything else had failed I tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; the first dose gave relief and a perfect cure soon resulted." — Mrs. John Clark, Bloomfield, Ont. dw

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria

Can Not Compete

Miss Maud Grant, of Mountain, Ont., writes, "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaints and diarrhœa. There is nothing to compete with it as it succeeds even in the severest cases." dw

A Suitable Gift.

A tube of Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses for making the skin soft and smooth will be acceptable to any lady. Druggists keep it, W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6334

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCY, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eodw

I AM A MAN

"I have been treated by doctors, who had long lists of so-called cured patients, but they could not reach my case, and hope had been murdered in me by their promises, but on first application of your magical appliance, hope and confidence came flocking in stronger than the combined powers of the four winds. I knew then that you would cure me, and now that I am a man and well again, I cannot thank you sufficiently for the cure. So again I say, use my name as reference whenever you wish. You nor any one else cannot use words too strong to express my sentiments in favor of so wonderful a treatment as that given by you."

THE CAR WORKS BYLAW.

On Tuesday, August 18th, a very important question will be submitted to the qualified ratepayears of the town, namely the question of assisting the establishment of the Paterson Corbin car works in Peterborough.

The Paterson-Corbin car works wish to come to Peterborough on account of the superior railway connections the town affords. This is important, because Paterson & Corbin intend going into the manufacture of railway coaches in addition to that of street cars, and it is imperative that they should have direct access to the two great trancontinental lines of railway, which with their connections, would be the chief customers of the car works.

There is no doubt that this is the chief reason why Paterson & Corbin are coming to Peterborough. When St. Catherines, where they were stationed at present, learned of the proposal contained in the bylaw to be voted on on the 18th, they at once became alarmed, and made the company a most liberal offer to remain—far more attractive financially than the cost of the buildings which the town proposes, under the bylaw, to lease to Paterson & Corbin, for the $6,000 to be used in erecting the buildings, is practically to be expended by the town in the erection of a building for the use of Paterson & Corbin, the building to be the property of the town, and the proprietors of the car works merely tenants at will—that is their lease and usufruct of the buildings expiring, and the buildings themselves, of course, reverting to the town, ready for the use of some other manufactory, in case the conditions of the bylaw (and they are pretty binding conditions) are not complied with.

The conditions are briefly :—

That the firm shall carry on the manufacture of street and other cars as specified in in the by-law.

That the firm shall pay out in wages at least $400 per week—equivalent to $15,000 per year.

That the firm shall keep the buildings in a proper state of repair.

That the firm shall keep the buildings insured to their full insurable value.

That in case of fire the money realized by the insurance shall not go to Paterson & Corbin, but to the town to be used in the reconstruction of the buildings.

That the firm shall give valid security in the sum of $6,000 that they will carry out the conditions of the bylaw.

It will thus be seen that the town, while having an almost absolute certainty of securing great benefit to the town does not take the slightest risk. The buildings belong to the town; Paterson & Corbin pay the full insurance on them in favor of the town.

The bylaw does not give Paterson & Corbin one cent in the way of cash bonus. It only gives the use of buildings costing $6 000. To get the use of the buildings the firm must pay out $15,000 a year in wages, and the expenditure of that sum in the town in the shape of paying taxes, buying merchandise, employing labour, not counting the employment to be given, the erection of new houses to accommodate an increased population, is certainly a good rent to get. A landlord who gets 10 per cent. on his investment, after paying for repairs, etc., realizes 6 per cent. Surely then the town should be well satisfied to get 10 per cent. on the buildings, for this rental will be all gain — Paterson & Corbin have to keep the buildings in repair and pay for their insurance. In effect therefore the town to clear itself will have to realize in the way of rental an amount equivalent to only $270 a year, for that is the cost of the loan proposed to be raised by the by-law at 4½ per cent. The sinking fund portion of the annual levy will be met by the increased taxation, resulting from the increased population, which will amount to at least $200 a year. Certainly $15,000 a year spent in the town in wages (which must be paid) is equivalent to the use of the buildings which is practically all the town gives the firm. The land is owned by the town, and even if covered with buildings worth $100,000 would pay no taxes. Taken all round, the town stands to gain a great deal and to run no risk whatever in giving Paterson & Corbin the lease of buildings costing $6,000 for the purpose of establishing an industry, which is one that is sure to grow, for electric street cars are a comparatively new thing and the demand for them is certain to increase.

A report of the Oddfellows' Grand Lodge meeting is published on another page. Several of the Peterborough delegates were honored with important positions. Bro. A. McFarlane was appointed on the Committee on the State of the Order; Bro. R. W. Ball, Past Grand Master, on Legislation Committee; Bro. Jno. Nugent on D. Bricks Committee; Past Grand Master Dr. Bell was also appointed on some special committees.

Mission School Excursion.

The annual excursion of St. Paul's church Mission Sunday School was held down the river this afternoon on one of Mr. Calcutt's steamers. There were about 75 or a 100 youngsters and their parents and friends on board. The steamer left the wharf shortly after one o'clock and will return at an early hour. Mr. W. W. Johnston, superintendent of the school was in charge of the excursion.

Another Fine Catch.

Mr. John Nugent captured a fine maskinonge in Stony Lake on Tuesday morning. It measured 42 inches in length, and weighed 14 pounds. (Its weight was actually one ounce less than the fourteen pounds, but of course an ounce doesn't count in a fish story.) The fish gave its captor no trouble. He probably recognized a master hand at the other end of the line and yielded up the ghost without a useless struggle.

A Race Talked Of.

For a long time past a race has been talked of between M. Bird, the Peterborough long distance runner, and C. Russel, the well known five-mile runner. It is now likely that those men will come together, and if they do the distance will be three miles, and the stake $100 a side. Bird is running faster now than he has since 1884, when he made his mile in 4.47. Bird is anxious to meet Russel and, if a match is arranged, it is likely to take place at an early date.

D. and D.

Cornelius Daly, a familiar figure at the police station, was again locked up this morning. A telephone message was received by Acting Chief Adams to the effect that a couple of drunken men were raising a disturbance near the corner of Aylmer and Hunter streets. The officer responded to the call, but one of the men had made his escape and the other could hardly be said to be a disorderly drunk. The officer found Daly in an old ice-house, lying on a heap of dirt and saw-dust, languidly muttering oaths and grinding his teeth, while both his feet had been bound with rope by some mischievous boys and the end of the rope tied to the wall. Cornelius it seems had been rather noisy a short time before, but the whisky had taken such a hold of him that he collapsed completely and had to be helped to the police station

Are you Ready? Go!

There's no really good reason why you should not go. Such a delightful trip and so cheap. You must do something on the Civic Holiday, and why not take advantage of the Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo excursion under the auspices of Court Little John Foresters. Here are the return fares: Toronto, $1.75; Niagara Falls, $2.00; Buffalo, $2.25; children half price (under 12 years.) Niagara never looked grander and more beautiful than to-day. Buffalo is a city where one can pick up hints that are valuable in a business way. The whole trip will give you something to talk about, and so tell the children of if you don't take them along. Look up the posters and get particulars, or call at any of the stores where tickets are on sale and get a folder giving details of the trip. Think of it! To Buffalo and back for $2.25! Why it costs $1.00 to run around to Chemong. You can't do better than go on this excursion. d36-37

Salvation Army Notes.

To day the G.T.R. noon express took from town Capt. Gale and Lieut. Barrows, of the Salvation Army, who said farewell last night at the barracks, after a stay in town of about seven months. There was a large attendance, and Capt. Gale gave an account of his seven months' stewardship. He read the financial statement, which showed that over $1 000 had passed through his hands; that all current liabilities had been discharged, and there was a balance on hand. Ten or twelve deserters from the devil's camp were enrolled in the Salvation Army, and took the oath of allegiance to the King of Kings. Capt. Gale and Lieut. Barrows worked faithfully during their stay in Peterborough, and made many friends who regretted the necessity of parting with them, but obedient to the call of duty, they willingly resigned them to their new field of labour, which is Morrisburg. They will be succeeded by Ensign Steele and wife, who are expected to arrive here this evening to take command of the local corps. The band will meet meet the new officers at the station this evening evening and escort them to the barracks.

More about the Rice Lake Disaster.

There were More Persons in the Boat than was Supposed—The Fatal Squall.

The fearful drowning accident which occurred on Rice Lake Tuesday afternoon caused widespread horror, and the sad fatality was a common subject of conversation on the streets yesterday. The accident was all the more appalling when it is remembered that within the past eight months two other similar calamities resulting in the loss of several lives, have occurred on Rice Lake, Last Christmas a party of about eighteen young people returning from a dance were plunged into the frigid waters and one young lady perished, while others had narrow escapes. On the 16th of June last a yachting party was upset in a squall and Mr. Foote and his two daughters were drowned in spite of the heroic efforts made to save them. And now this third disaster has intensified the pall of gloom which hangs over Rice Lake. As far as can be learned, these two latter accidents were the result of carelessness or inexperience on the part of those managing the boats.

It appears that our informants yesterday did not give us the details of the lamentable affair exactly correct. This was doubtless owing to the fact that they were more or less excited and got most of their information by hearsay. There were than were drowned. Otherwise the particulars published in the EXAMINER yesterday were as nearly accurate as it is possible to learn them. The Port Hope papers publish additional information on the subject. It seems that there was a large party camping at Lie's Point. Five of them, Mr. Harry Bean, Mr. John Hawkins and Mrs. Hawkins, Miss Nellie Peters, and Tutie Hawkins, left camp in Mr. Bean's sail boat to get the mail at Bewdley. On their return they were joined by Miss McKilroy and Miss Florence Maybee, a girl 16 years of age, only daughter of Mr. Benjamin Maybee, Rose Mount. Before they got to camp a squall struck the boat, which, owing to the heavy load was swamped by the chopping waves, and upset, throwing the whole party into the lake. It seems they all clung to the boat except Miss Maybee, Mr. Hawkins went to her assistance, and his wife seeing that also left the boat to try and save her husband, when the three were drowned together—within forty rods of the shore. Mr. W. A. Lee, teacher, and Mr. Wm. Martin, —Mr. Kinsman's miller—rowed out and rescued all that had clung to the boat.

THEY WERE GOING DOWN,

Mr. Hawkins was a well-to-do-farmer at Canton, son of the late Morgan Hawkins; his wife, daughter of Mr. Johnston Stephens, Bowmanville, cousin of Mr. J. B. Oke and Mrs. John Curtis, of Port Hope. The young couple leave a daughter about three years of age.

The bodies were recovered about 9 o'clock Tuesday night.

Absent for Nineteen Years.

Wm. Walden's Friends Making Enquiries Concerning the Man Found Last Friday.

The papers last Friday contained reports of the finding of the putrid remains of Wm. Walden in a deserted garden at the corner of Aylmer and Hunter streets. The news was published in the daily papers all over the country, and came to the ears of the family of the deceased at Salem, Mass. Town Clerk Macdonald the other day received an enquiry from the city clerk at Salem as to whether Walden was a tanner. The reply being in the affirmative has probably led to the conclusion that the dead man was the person he was supposed to be. William Walden's identity appears now to be fixed for a certainty.

The following letter was received this morning :—

Chief of Police, Peterborough, Ont.:

DEAR SIR,—Will you please find out all you can of the particulars of the death of Wm. Walden, found dead last week in your city, and enquire if his body can be sent to Salem for burial? Please write and let me know, for his family would like to know if he were dead or living, having not seen him for nineteen years.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. WALDEN,
6 Ocean Ave,
Salem, Mass.

Salem, Aug. 11, 1891.

By way of reply Town Clerk Macdonald forwarded a copy of the EXAMINER containing the desired information. The body is hardly in a condition to be shipped to Salem, and it is probable the remains will lie undisturbed in the cemetery here.

Among the attractions will be a canoe race for a prize of $20. A most enjoyable day in prospect. Further particulars hereafter.

A True Blue Burial.

The funeral of the late Gus Sloan took place Wednesday afternoon under True Blue auspices. Deceased died rather suddenly and unexpectedly. He was over 17 years of age and worked with Bates Bros. Last Wednesday night the fatal illness seized him, though his case was not considered serious, and his death Monday night was a sad surprise. The remains were given a proper burial by the members of the True Blues order, to which deceased belonged. The Fire Brigade band rendered music appropriate to the solemn occasion, and the members of King William and Rising Sons of William lodges of True Blues escorted the remains to their last resting place. The funeral was a large one.

A SAD PLEASURE JAUNT.

Fourteen Killed and 20 Wounded on a Crowded Excursion Boat.

COLD SPRINGS HARBOR, L.I., Aug. 13.—A terrible disaster occurred yesterday afternoon by which 14 persons, eight women, four children and two men, lost their lives, and about 30 men, women and children were injured. The steamer Crystal Stream with large Republican party and having aboard about 500 adults and as many children on the excursion of the employes of Theodore Kaiser, dry goods dealers of 197 Graham avenue, Brooklyn, has just left the dock, when the upper deck dropped down upon the hundreds of women and children, who had crowded over to that side of the barge in an effort to escape. In a moment the air was rent with screams and agonizing cries of the poor victims whose lives were being crushed out and limbs broken.

The lifeless bodies of 14 were seen to be lying near the gunwhale. All had had the lives crushed out of them by being caught between the edge of the fallen deck and the guard rails. The place where the disaster occurred is at the head of Cold Spring harbor, not far from Laurelton, and is a favorite picnic ground. The falling of the deck of the barge was, it is said, due to the rotten condition of the supports.

By Lightning's Bolt.

HALIFAX, Aug. 13.—A colored lad named Taylor, aged 11, was struck by lightning this morning at Farnham's mills, Truro. Several houses were struck.

Determined to Die.

HALIFAX, Aug. 13.—A 13-year-old boy named Michael Lynch, arrested for house breaking, tried very hard to commit suicide in the police station yesterday. He battered his head against a stone, tried to stuff a handkerchief down his throat and struck his head with a heavy glass bottle, then went into a violent fit.

Frazerville.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The farmers of this section are now very busily engaged with their harvest; the hot dry weather of last week ripened the grain much faster then was expected. Spring wheat and oats are said to be extra good this season. Root crops are all looking well.

Quite a few of the farmers who were anxious to see the crops in Manitoba started on Tuesday last to spend the remainder of the summer.

Mr. Robt. Stewart has repaired the old blacksmith shop in the village giving it the appearance of a new one.

Mr. A. Goodfellow's lease having expired for the carpenter shop here he is now busy erecting an entirely new one which will be an improvement to the village.

We notice that some of the citizens here have joined the Royal Templars at our sister town, Springville. We wish the Springville people much success with this grand society.

Rev. Wm. Hunter, of Toronto, is visiting friends here now. On Sunday last Mr. Hunter occupied the pulpit in the Springville Presbyterian church and delivered an eloquent sermon to a large congregation.

Miss Mary Bothwell, of Lindsay, is visiting friends here for a few weeks. We wish her a pleasant visit.

Have we any truly great men at the present day? Some doubt it, and ask to be shown the modern Washington, Franklin or Webster. However this may be, of one thing we are sure, there never was a greater blood-purifier than Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Personal.

The Misses Spier, of Lindsay, are visiting at Mr. Richard Hall's, Water street north.

Mr. Burley, a former Peterborough young man who has been for the past sixteen months on the Toronto police force, is in town spending his holiday.

Mr. H. Cavanagh has arrived in Peterborough from San Francisco, after an extended tour through different places in the States and Canada, and is now the guest of his uncle, T. Cavanagh, Balmoral Hotel.

BIRTH.

DEVLIN—At 324 King street, Peterborough, on Wednesday, August 12th, 1891, the wife of Mr. W. J. Devlin, of a daughter.

DIED.

COUGHLIN.—At 309 Rubidge street on Thursday, 13th of August, 1891, May, infant daughter of Mr. James Coughlin, aged three months and seven days.

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his suffering equal, as were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were eased, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company :—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355.92
Increase over previous year	3,421,372.24
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599.15
Increase over 1889	2,268,888.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078.87
Increase over 1889	325,938.35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514.19
Increase over 1889	687,691.47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,109,222.66
Increase over 1889	567,732.71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	225,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.95
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous five years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures :—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,824 07
" " " 1886, "	89,452 97
" " " 1890, (four years)	222,175 69

SIR HECTOR LANGEVIN

CROSS-EXAMINED BEFORE THE PRIVILEGES AND ELECTIONS.

What the Ex-Minister Said in Explanation of Various Transactions The Proceedings in the Public Accounts Committee The Printing Bureau Scandal.

OTTAWA, Aug. 14. There was no lack of interest in the proceedings of the Privileges and Elections Committee yesterday morning. Sir Hector Langevin's cross-examination was resumed at the morning session. Mr. Tarte began by telling the committee that when Mr. Murphy first came to him he had never tried to corrupt Sir Hector.

Mr. Davies: I did not intend. Sir Hector, to make many quotations to you yesterday, but I wished to question you about your letter to Mr. Peters, the contractor, asking him for money for the election. I wish to ask you now: Did you know at the time you asked for that money that Mr. Peters has an unsettled claim against the Harbor Commissioners?

Sir Hector: Yes.

Mr. Davies: You did not know the names of any donors to the Langevin testimonial fund?

Sir Hector: No, and I would rather not know now.

Mr. Davies: Why did you not want to know?

Sir Hector: Because some friends of mine might say, "If we knew he was going to" see on names we might give more, therefore I did not want to know.

Mr. Davies: Was it not because you thought it wrong, as a Minister to accept these moneys?

Sir Hector: No, it was because I did not want my friends to be embarrassed. Continuing, he said that Depuy, McGreevy was the treasurer of the Conservative campaign fund during the elections of 1882, 1887 and 1891. He did not know personally that Thomas McGreevy gave any money to his selections. He knew nothing of the amount held by Thomas McGreevy as treasurer, nor did he know all who contributed this money. He (Sir Hector) might have directed parties to go to McGreevy for money. He contributed to the fund himself, but he refused to tell Mr. Davies how much as it was his own money, and he said it was his own business. His contribution to Le Monde was, as he said yesterday, entirely to get political control of that paper.

Questioned again about the Baie de Chaleurs correspondence between Thomas and Robert McGreevy, he again denied that he promised Thomas to give him a subsidy for the St. Ann Railway in exchange for he (Thomas') claim in the Baie des Chaleurs.

After a long series of arguments with Mr. Davies Sir Hector said that before the letters were sent by Perley to the tenderers for the cross-wall directing them that errors had been made the tenders had been placed in the Hon. Mr. Haggart's hands and the error had been pointed out to him.

To Mr. Davies he said that he had always given the closest attention to his departmental duties.

Then, asked Mr. Davies, "did you place the whole responsibility on yourself of allowing $20,000 of rebate to Larkin & Co. on the Government plant at Esquimalt?

Sir Hector: Mr. Perley has taken that responsibility himself.

Mr. Davies: I differ from you there. I will show you that Mr. Perley protested against it. He then read Mr. Perley's letter to that effect.

Sir Hector said he adopted Mr. Perley's report, yet he said that Mr. Perley, after making that report, did allow the $20,000 without his knowledge.

Mr. Davies: Did you ever reprimand him?

Sir Hector: I don't remember that.

Mr. Davies: But that was one of the largest contracts in your department. Do you allow your subordinates to manage the whole work of your office?

Sir Hector: No. I do not, but I cannot possibly attend to all.

Examined by Sir John Thompson, he said that Peters, of Peters, Moore and Wright had a claim against the Government when he gave them that $1000 to Sir Hector's election fund, but the claim was never allowed by the Government.

To Mr. German, he said that even if 1878 he might have had notes endorsed for him by Thomas McGreevy. He gave moneys to Le Canadien, and McGreevy may have helped him to raise it.

To Mr. Guimet, he said that for years before Thomas McGreevy became treasurer of the campaign fund he had been giving money to the party for election purposes but he saw He (sic) thought it was from his own private funds. He never knew that Thomas McGreevy supported the Mercier Government. Parties came and told him that he never believed them.

To Mr. Amyot he said he knew Mr. McGreevy for 25 years. He knew he was a contractor by profession.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE

OTTAWA, Aug. 14. At the Public Accounts Committee meeting yesterday Mr. Thomas Fuller, Chief Engineer of the Public Works Department, and Mr. Ewart, Assistant Chief Engineer, were examined to-day in regard to the Langevin block in behalf of the Government. It was ordered that evidence taken upon this question should be printed and presented to the House.

The Chairman read a letter from Mr. William Ingersoll, C.E., asking leave to be examined in reference to the statement of Arnoldi that he (Ingersoll) had, with Chief Engineer of the Public Works Department, received presents from contractors. The Committee agreed to the request and Mr. Kingsford made a full and emphatic denial of Arnoldi's impudent and untruthful statement. He thanked the committee for allowing him to make his statement in reply to a "blackguard."

A long discussion took place on a remark appearing in a newspaper to the effect that Mr. Haviland and the committee were looking into matters which came before the Minister. Mr. Haviland said that the item was an expression of his opinion. The discussion at last closed and Mr. Lister said that another hour was wasted this morning.

The Printing Bureau investigation was then resumed. Mr. G. H. Kenwick, Deputy Clerk of the Superior Court of Review, was sworn and asked if he had the documents in the case in the New England Export Co. v. Berthiaume. Before he could reply Mr. Chaplean rose to protest, saying that at the last meeting he had challenged Mr. Lister if he had any charge to bring against him to make his charge in the House of Commons. The evidence to be sought in the case could only be for the purpose of blackmailing the character of a Minister.

Mr. Lister made a strong and eloquent appeal to the committee, showing that he had the testimony in his pocket to prove that there were parties in the printing bureau who were pilfering from the public treasury, and who had robbed the country of thousands of dollars if he were allowed to go on with the investigation. If ministers and their followers chose to think that mighty when they could do so and take the consequences. In this very transaction which he was going to prove, $100 was paid in the way of commission.

Mr. Corby (Conservative) could not see any objection to examining the witness after sending for him. He would vote for it. (Hear, hear.)

The committee had reached no decision when the hour of adjournment arrived.

DEFIED THE COMMITTEE.

The Quebec Investigation Arms-Going to be Summarily Dealt With.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 14. In the Baie Des Chaleurs enquiry yesterday morning in the Senate Mr. A. Gaboury, president of the Banque National, deposed to the discounting of the two letters of credit, amounting in all to $175,000, signed by Garneau as acting Premier, and as to the disposal of certain portions of the proceeds. He proved that of the mysterious hundred thousand, twenty thousand was used to guarantee Pacaud's discounts, in accordance with agreements with the Union Bank.

Armstrong was again recalled and defied the committee. He said no matter what opinion they expressed he declined to answer the questions he refused to answer yesterday. Quite a scene ensued, and when he deliberately repeated his refusal on a third chance a resolution was unanimously adopted to report him to the House and ask that he be dealt with summarily.

In the Commons.

OTTAWA, Aug. 14. In the House yesterday Sir John Thompson moved that Hon. Thomas McGreevy, member for Quebec West, and a witness named in the report of the Committee on Privileges and Elections as having refused to answer certain questions, be ordered to appear in his seat in the House on Tuesday next.

The motion was adopted without discussion.

On the motion of Mr. Foster to go into Committee of Supply, Sir Richard Cartwright moved an amendment condemning the practice of giving testimonials to ministers or members of their families by persons having pecuniary relations with the Government. In doing so he said he did not intend the motion as one of want of confidence. He condemned the practice in the strongest language, concluding that if the majority in the House carried down the amendment the name of Canada would become a synonym for corruption and a bye word for rascality.

Sir John Thompson said that while he could not approve of the remarks accompanying the motion he approved of the principle of it and advised the House to accept it. After some further discussion the amendment was adopted.

WILLIAM MACKEY'S DARING.

Slid Down a Vessel's Side and Escaped from Penitentiary.

KINGSTON, Aug. 14. Yesterday afternoon William Mackey escaped from the Kingston Penitentiary. He was a member of a gang of convicts engaged in loading the schooner Suffel with stones for Toronto. While the guard was a considerable part of the vessel Mackey removed his clothing, save his pants, slid down the side of the vessel and, unobserved, swam along the wharf and up on the Kingston side. He landed and made off. A short time after the guard came upon the clothing, the escape was discovered and an alarm sounded. The guards scoured the city and country, but secured no trace of the liberated man. In passing he entered the residence of Mr. Hunter, on Beverley street, and appropriated a suit of clothes. In this disguise he has evidently succeeded in eluding his pursuers.

Mackey was about 22 years of age. He was convicted at Cobourg of house breaking and sent to the penitentiary for three years. He entered the prison last April.

New Brunswickers Drowned.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 14. A sail boat was upset yesterday forenoon in the harbor at St. Andrews. Of the occupants one man swam ashore, another clung to the boat and was rescued by parties who put off from the beach; the third, George Baker, son of C. O. Baker, of St. Stephen, was drowned while attempting to swim ashore. His body has been recovered.

David McLellan, ex-Provincial secretary who was defeated at the last local election has been gazetted registrar of wills and deeds for St. John, vice Drury deceased. The office is worth about $4,000 a year.

Looking for Andrew Ryan.

BERRIE, Aug. 14. Mrs. Andrew Ryan of Petersburg, Ont., was in the city yesterday and called at the coroner's office to see if one of the unknown bodies found in the harbor on the evenings of July 6 or 7 was that of her husband. She was a nice appearing woman, aged about 48, neatly, but plainly dressed. She said that her husband left the lumber camps of Pennsylvania about June 25 and had considerable money. He was seen in Buffalo early in July while en route for his home and has not been heard of since. He was fairly well dressed and had an anchor on his right arm. The description did not correspond.

Scully, Parnell's Confrere, in Toronto.

TORONTO, Aug. 14. Mr. Vincent Scully, a confrere of Mr. Charles Stewart Parnell, is in town and registered at the Rossin.

He is a short thick set man of about 40 or 45 years. He wears a dark Rainbo khaki tweed suit, altogether free from the appearance of a West End tailor's cut. He wears a Fedora felt hat that looks as if it had stood the brunt of an election campaign. He has a heavy mustache and his throat is well protected by a thick bushy growth.

He refused to talk, because "Affairs are so muddled in Ireland at present"

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

MRS CARROTHERS, OF RAINY RIVER, FOR KILLING HER HUSBAND.

The Mystery Cleared Up by Government Detective Murray—History of the Mysterious Crime—The Wife Charged With Putting an End to Her Husband—Arrested in Toronto Last Night.

TORONTO, Aug. 14.—Government Detective Murray has just unravelled one of the most intricate cases of crime that has ever been before the department.

Five years ago a farmer in Bradford township, Perth county, went to the Northwest on a prospecting tour, and located in the Rainy River district near Port Fraser, where he constructed a saw mill. He returned to Perth and engaged a young man named Thomas Blake Carrothers to go to the Northwest and conduct the business for him. Carrothers had a short time previously been married to Nettie Stack. In the spring of 1890 Carrothers removed to the Rainy River district with his wife and built a log house and to all appearances the couple were living happily together. In the fall of 1890 rumors began to circulate that Fotheringham, who accompanied the Carrothers to the Northwest, was too intimate with Mrs. Carrothers. These rumors naturally reached the ears of Carrothers and he charged his wife with being unfaithful to her marriage bonds. She denied the accusation and the affair blew over until on Dec. 14, 1890, Carrothers came home unexpectedly and found Fotheringham in the house. A plausible excuse for his presence was accepted and things resumed the even tenor of their way until a fortnight after, when Carrothers again returning home unexpectedly found Fotheringham and Mrs. Carrothers scuffling. Then a large sized row occurred and Fotheringham was notified that if he did not leave the house forthwith he would be killed. Fotheringham took Carrother's advice and departed for Rat Portage and did not return for several weeks.

On Jan. 3 the dead body of Carrothers was found in the house. There were two bullets in his head and a 38-calibre revolver with two chambers discharged was found beside him. Mrs. Carrothers claimed that she went to the river, 120 feet away, to wash some articles, and on her return found her husband lying dead on the floor. An inquest was held and a verdict of suicide returned.

Those acquainted with the liason between Mrs. Carrothers and Fotheringham were not at all satisfied with the verdict, and the facts were laid before the Attorney General's department, with the result that Detective Murray was despatched to the Rainy River district to investigate the circumstances. That officer learned sufficient to justify him in concluding that Carrothers met his death at the hands of an assassin and that his wife was cognizant of all the circumstances connected therewith.

The detective ascertained that Mrs. Carrothers had on several occasions endeavored to induce neighbors to purchase poison for her. Not long ago a storekeeper, Jordan, who is a German, being unable to pronounce the English language,

THE ALLEGED MURDERESS.

After the shooting a neighbor named Fisher, whose solicitous interest in the case was one of the features of the investigation, notified Dr. Phair. The latter made a careful examination of the wounds and despite the verdict of suicide rendered by the jury was satisfied that deceased could not have shot himself. One of the bullets entered the head two inches above and below the right ear, while the other entered near the left eye and taking a downward direction lodged under spinal column.

MRS. CARROTHERS ARRESTED.

After instituting a thorough investigation into all the circumstances Detective Murray started to Ontario and secured a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Carrothers on a charge of murdering her husband. She has been living at St. Marys since returning from the Rainy River District, but the officer learned that she had come to Toronto on a visit. Last evening he took her into custody at the residence of a relative in Stafford street and will leave with her for Rat Portage to-morrow morning.

Mrs. Carrothers is a good looking but determined woman of about 26 years. Her husband was about the same age.

Two brothers of the prisoners, Ephrian Slack, a farmer of Blanchford, and George B. Slack, a cattle buyer of St. Marys, were in the city last evening.

Mrs. Carrothers has one child, a boy of about 3 years of age, and it was from remarks made by the youngster showing that he had been schooled that suspicion first fastened upon the woman. After the discovery of her husband's body the lady remarked that there was probably a note in his father's pocket. The pocket was found as well as the note intimating that he committed suicide, but it was found in a condition that to all appearances had been hanging in a closet for months, and all sorts of rubbish had to be removed before it could be found.

A Demand on China.

LONDON, Aug. 14. A despatch from Pekin says the representatives of the several powers there addressed a fresh joint note to the Chinese Government yesterday in relation to the outrages perpetrated by Chinese mobs upon the missions and missionaries and others in the Yang Tse-Kiang Valley, demanding that China take immediate steps to protect lives and property of foreigners.

To Adopt the British Prime Meridian.

BERNE, Aug. 14.—The Geographical Congress yesterday adopted a resolution in favor of the compilation of an international pronouncing dictionary and by a large majority declared that the English prime meridian ought to be universally adopted and England ought to adopt the metric system.

More Hopeful Prospects.

MADRAS, Aug. 14. Since the stories of famine and death in the Chingleput and North Arcot districts were told a few days ago the situation has greatly changed for the better. Good rains have fallen, and this will greatly relieve the suffering and make an enormous difference in the crops.

THE MURDEROUS MANIPURIS REBELS EXECUTED YESTERDAY.

The Carrying Out of the Sentence of the Viceroy Witnessed by Hundreds of Natives—Very Serious are the Forest Fires in France—Cable Chat.

SIMLA, Aug. 14.—Two of the leaders of the massacre of British officials in March last were hanged yesterday at the gates of Manipur. The two men were members of the reigning family of Manipur. Both had appealed from the sentence imposed upon them by the military court, but the Viceroy of India decided that they should die.

The principal victim to-day was the Senaputly or commander-in-chief of the Manipuri army. He was a younger brother of the Rajah of Manipur, and some years ago he drove the rajah into exile and placed another brother on the throne, who governed Manipur under the title of Jubrajee, or regent. The senaputly instigated the massacre of Chief Commander Quinton, political magnet, Gen. Wood and others, who lost their lives at the durbar held in Manipur.

The other victim was the Tongal general, who violated the flag of truce under which the Englishmen were decoyed from the residency at Manipur, which they had so gallantly defended against overwhelming odds when attacked by the Manipuri, and who gave the order to the native executioner to strike the heads and feet from British prisoners.

An immense crowd of natives witnessed the executions. There was no sign of any disturbance for a large detachment of troops were present.

The Jubraj (regent) of Manipur and the Prince Angoa Sena, whose sentences of death were commuted by the viceroy to transportation for life and forfeiture of their property, will shortly be taken from the country.

Fires in French Forests.

PARIS, Aug. 14.—Enormous fires are raging in the forests in the vicinity of Toulon and a great quantity of valuable timber has already been destroyed. A strong wind is blowing and the flames are rapidly spreading. Water is scarce in the vicinity of the forests, though it is not believed that if great quantities were obtainable it would be of any use, as it is, of course, impossible for any human being to get anywhere near the conflagration, owing to the intense heat.

The authorities have been called upon to aid the residents in fighting the fire and thousands of soldiers and sailors are employed in digging a trench around the burning section in order to stop the progress of the fire. It is thought, however, by those who have seen forest fires in America that the only means of stopping the conflagration will be to adopt the American plan of starting "back fires" that is, burning a tract of the forest sufficiently wide to prevent the flames from crossing it. It is believed that the fires are of incendiary origin.

Three thousand acres of forest have been destroyed. The fire is still raging, the flames being fanned by the mistral.

Austrian Mountain Accidents.

VIENNA, Aug. 14. A sad mountain accident is reported from Ischl, the fashionable watering place in Upper Austria. Two boys, students in a college of this city, were visiting Ischl and had made arrangements to make an ascent of the Dachstein, a mountain near that city. They started on their journey, but after they had ascended to a considerable height a dense fog set in and it was impossible for them to see hardly an arm's length before them. They lost the beaten track, and while wandering around seeking to regain it one of them walked over a precipice 70 feet high and was instantly killed. The other lad wandered about the mountain for 48 hours, with not a morsel of food to sustain him. The friends of the boys became alarmed at the long absence of the climbers and searching parties were organized. One of the parties, composed of peasants who were thoroughly acquainted with the mountain, found the living boy in a comparatively level spot on the mountain, helpless and almost starved to death.

The German Emperor's Illness.

BERLIN, Aug. 14. The Cologne Gazette gives the following as an authentic account of the Emperor's recent accident: The Emperor was leaning on the door of the cabin of the imperial yacht talking animatedly with members of his suite when he suddenly turned and at the same moment slipped on the linoleum covered deck. Dr. Leuthold found the Emperor's right knee cap dislocated. The Emperor bore the painful operation of replacing the knee cap without flinching. Dr. Leuthold bandaged the knee and advised the Emperor to stay in bed. The Emperor can now stand and even walk without difficulty. The knee is still kept bandaged as a precaution.

French, English, German, Dutch.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 14.—Count Hegendorf, in opening the session of the International Congress of Young Men's Christian Associations yesterday, performed the linguistic feat of delivering an address in French, English, German and Dutch, in turn. Delegates are present from the United States, Canada, India, Australia, Japan and all the European countries.

TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER.

Edward Handcock Committed to Jail Till the Fall Assize.

TORONTO, Aug. 14. Whether it was the Handcock murder case or the case against Fire Engineer Jennings that attracted the large audience to the Police Court yesterday morning is hard to say, but as a matter of fact the court house was crowded with people anxious to see and hear all that was going on.

The case against Mr. Jennings was postponed till to-day; Edward Handcock was committed for trial on the charge of murdering his daughter Sophie.

The confinement has worked no appreciable change in the aspect or demeanor of the prisoner. He came up the stairs leading to the dock with a broad smile and without the least appearance of anxiety.

Shortly before his case was called, his counsel, Mr. Murdoch, asked permission to have his cars examined by the doctors present, W. H. B. Aikins and Luke Teskey. To this the Crown Attorney objected; but the magistrate ruled it in order and straightway the prisoner retired for a few minutes to the detectives room for examination.

The case was then called. The first question asked by the Magistrate was, "Have you any further evidence to offer, Mr. Badgerow?"

"None," was the reply.

"Haven't there been further developments?"

"We know of none."

Mr. Murdoch asked permission to call the doctors who made the recent examination.

To this Mr. Badgerow objected but the Magistrate gave permission.

"I want the medical testimony to be heard and then I will ask the magistrate to discharge the prisoner," said Mr. Murdoch.

"You are asking too much," replied the magistrate. "The girl may have been murdered. The prisoner may have done the deed. Some person else may have done it. It is for a jury to decide."

Dr. Aikins was then called and testified to the facts revealed by the second autopsy.

Dr. Teskey gave corroborative evidence.

The prisoner was then committed for trial on the charge of murder.

A number of Mr. Handcock's friends thereupon came forward and shook the prisoner warmly by the hand. Apparently, he remained cool and collected, smiling and chatting to those around him. When he retired to the cell he was allowed a short conference with his wife in the presence of Detective John Cuddy. All that passed between them was conversation on business matters.

Mr. Murdoch will apply to the superior judges for bail.

TURNBULL'S.

We want to call attention to a large lot of Lace Curtains we are opening out and marking; there is nothing attractive in a large lot unless they are being sold at prices that will save money to the purchaser. This is just what we purpose to do. We show a Curtain, taped and bound, at 60c. a pair, a still better one for 75c., and a beauty for $1, while the best in the lot are only $1.50. We have cleared out whole lines at greatly reduced prices is how we are able to offer such inducements. We have opened out to-day and placed on our second floor a nice range of new patterns in Hemp Carpets, some of these are very desirable.

To-day we open our first shipment of Ladies' Mantles for Fall. They are a very stylish lot. Parties wanting one for a special occasion early will be glad to know that they can now see the new fall styles with us. We have received the invoice of a lot of Dress Goods, they will be opened before this appears in print. We have also got nearly all the shades of very pretty Plaids for making over dresses. We need hardly remind the public that everything stylish, serviceable and cheap is kept on our counters.

In our Tailoring Department we are showing some fresh patterns of Heavy Weight Tweeds at from $15 to $17 a suit, especially suited for elderly men. Ask to see our heavy pantings at 50c. a yard, made out of the best of wool.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN TRENT AND TAY.

The results of both the East and West Peterborough Dominion election last winter turned largely upon the munificent appropriation which was to be placed in the estimates at the next session of Parliament for the construction of further sections—especially the Peterborough-Lakefield section. The electors were led to believe that the promises made in connection with the matter, were in earnest, one of the candidates even going so far as to state at a public meeting that unless a substantial appropriation were placed in the estimates he would, if elected, resign his seat. And suspiciously before election day the late Premier followed his candidate's suit and played the winning card by telegraphing the promise on behalf of the Government that a sum would be placed in the estimates for the Trent Valley Canal. When the estimates came up in the House it was found that a beggarly five thousand—just about enough to grease the lock gates and keep a few heelers in line—was the extent of the munificent appropriation for the Trent Valley Canal. Yet we find that the Government were in a position to spend something like half a million to bring grist to Minister Haggart's mill—to construct Haggart's Ditch—otherwise describable as the Tay Canal. This scheme in the hands of the Government is as palpable a political job and vote-making machine as the Trent Valley Canal. A short history of the work will therefore have a local interest. In 1882 (the very year he bamboozled the electors of this district by going over the route and pledging the Government to build the Trent Valley Canal) Sir Charles Tupper asked Parliament for a grant of $50,000 towards the construction of the Tay Canal, the cost of which he estimated at $132,000. Parliament voted the $50 000. The next year Sir Charles got Parliament to continue the construction of the canal, the cost of which then had jumped up to $240 000. In 1887 an additional vote of $55,000 was proposed by Sir Charles Tupper, and up to and inclusive of 1887 the appropriations amounted to $311,000. In reply to Sir Richard Cartwright, in 1887, Sir Charles said that this additional sum of $55,000 would complete the work, including the basin at Perth, and thus secure the canal at a cost of a quarter of a million. In 1888 Parliament was again asked for more money, this time $78,000, and Sir Richard Cartwright again had his suspicions aroused, and in reply to him it was stated that the work had been finished, and this $78,000 was to pay up the balance due the contractor. Sir Charles Tupper then told the House that the total cost of the canal would be $358,000. In other words the expense up to 1888 had exceeded by $118,000 the estimated cost. In 1889 the present Minister of Finance asked Parliament for an additional grant of $25,000 required to complete the basin and carry out the other works. Mr. Foster then said the total cost would be $364,000, or $124,000 in excess of what Sir Charles Tupper assured Parliament would complete the work. This was not all. In 1890 Sir John Macdonald asked Parliament for $11,000 more. His eyes were apparently opened to the utter folly of this work from the beginning, and Sir John remarked in his usual jaunty manner: "This canal drains the county of Perth, and if it does not drain the county of Perth it drains the public treasury." Sir John added that this additional $11 000 was to settle with the contractors and finish the work. This was the Minister's pledge to Parliament for the third time. Was this all? By no means. The Tay Canal was as rapacious as the works undertaken by Larkin, Connolly & Co. There was another sum in 1890 of $20 000, part of which was spent and a portion not expended. Up to this time the original estimate had been exceeded by $155 947. Did that end the matter? Not by any means. Up to Aug. 3rd, 1891, Parliament was informed that the total cost of the Tay Canal had reached $440,613, or $200 613 more than Sir Charles Tupper solemnly assured Parliament would be the total cost. If the Tay Canal had as much capacity for water as it had for public money it should float the Great Eastern.

In the estimates now going through Parliament for the current year a further sum of $30 000 is found which brings the total cost of this canal up to $470,613, or $230,000 more than Sir Charles Tupper assured Parliament would be sufficient for the work. Nor is this all. There is now under construction an extension of the Tay Canal to Haggart's mill—(John has a great faculty of purging grist to his mill), an extension estimated to cost $18 000, but would more likely cost $50,000. Thus it is that the work which Parliament was assured would cost $240 000 will cost ultimately half a million. In return for this they had a revenue last year from tolls of $51.80—about $25,000 short of meeting the interest charges on the cost of—not construction—but of maintaining Hon. John Haggart in office. This demonstrates what a superb swindle and job this Tay ditch is. In dealing with the matter in the House on Wednesday Mr. M. C. Cameron gave the House a list of the craft navigating that canal. There was one tug, the 'Jack Haggart,' which made one trip a week from Perth to Kingston via the Rideau Canal; another tug making one trip a week to Montreal; one pleasure yacht belonging to Senator MacLaren, and two small boats about the size of ordinary row boats, and, in addition, one old scow. 'What a screaming farce, exclaimed Mr Cameron, and he asked any fair-minded man opposite to say if he could approve of such expenditure. It was a lasting monument of departmental imbecility if not worse. It could only be characterized as a gross fraud. This was bad enough, but the excavation of this canal from the centre of the town up to Haggart's mill was an act of the maddest folly ever perpetrated by any government. It was a wilful waste of public money." The worst feature of the affair, from a local point of view, is the fact that half a million can be lavished on the local ditch like the Tay Canal, while a great work of national importance like the Trent Valley Canal is snubbed and slighted. And our parliamentary representatives help vote the public money by the half million for something like a political swindle, and never open their mouths in remonstrance when the claims of the Trent Valley Canal are slurred over and ignored.

The Government has dangled the Trent Valley Canal bait before the electors of this district so often and caught so paying a crop of political suckers, that they seem to think that the people of the Midland district come under Carlyle's classification of his fellow men—"mostly fools."

Nicolet Notes.

"I suffered continual pain from canker of the stomach and my face and body were almost covered with pimples. I tried Burdock Blood Bitters, the first dose occasioned slight pain, but I soon found relief, and after taking 5 bottles I became completely cured. Do You Cough?

Don't delay. Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. It will cure coughs and colds. It will cure sore throat, or a tickling in the throat. It will cure pains in the chest. It will cure influenza and bronchitis and all diseases pertaining to the lungs, because it is a pure balsam. Hold it to the light and see how clear and thick it is. You see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Large bottles 50c and $1. dw

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

Blood Poison

Is very liable to follow contact of the hands or face with what is known as poison ivy, especially in hot weather or if the body is perspiring freely. The trouble may subside for a time, only to appear in aggravated form when opportunity offers. It also cures scrofula, salt rheum and all other affections arising from impure or poisoned blood.

FREAKS OF THE MEMORY

EVERYBODY HAS ONE OF SOME SORT IN HIS MAKEUP.

The Man on the Door of the Theatre—How Witnesses Recall Facts. The Garcon at the Cafe. The Man at the Postoffice General Delivery—Street-Car, Railroad Conductors, and Hotel Clerks—Stories of the Memories of Genius.

Shakespeare called memory the warder of the brain. Cicero said it is the most cogent proof of God's existence. The ancients called it the mother of the muses.

Memory plays some fantastic tricks in every grade of society. There are the men on the doors of the theatres. Between acts there is generally a rush by the men to go out. Sometimes the crush is so great that the man on the door is not able to give checks to every one. To the ordinary-looking individual he always gives a check, selecting such as are strongly marked, either by nature or dress, as the ones to be remembered without the check. The men with peculiar noses, with peculiar suits of whiskers, with peculiar neckties are always selected, and such men, in all walks of life, ought to be particular what they do. They are always noticeable.

Lawyers in important cases always try to confuse witnesses on the other side. If the witnesses are observing men they seldom get confused. They fix a date or an incident by associating the same with some trifling event or incident which clings like a fly in a plate of molasses. By recalling that they remember the important event.

Occasionally your garcon at the cafe will astonish you by bringing just what you ordered and no more. He follows you on the menu, and, being familiar with its arrangement, he fixes the order in his mind as it is printed. If he takes several orders at the same time he seldom gets them all right. His is the sort of memory which cannot stand too much of a strain.

The bank cashier runs over a package of bills, various denominations, and throws out a spurious one almost instantly. He has familiarized himself with some particular figure or engraving of bills of every denomination, and these he looks for as he runs over the bills.

MEMORY AT THE GENERAL DELIVERY.

The writer asked one of the men on the general delivery at the Postoffice if he always had to look for a letter when one was called for. "Not always," he replied. "Of course we become accustomed to faces. There are people who come here twice a day, and have been coming for months. We fix their faces in our mind, and the names go along, so that when we come across the names we read faces, and as soon as the old faces show up we can say yes or no, as the case may be. I have one man on my list who has come to the office every day, except Sundays, for a year. He has never received any mail on my watch, and the man who relieves me says the same thing. There is a long woman who comes to the women's window every day. Her name is Campbell. The clerk on that window has associated that woman in her mind with a dromedary, and in that way has her name fixed in her memory. If she sees the name Campbell among the Cs, she thinks of the dromedary, and when Miss Campbell calls for mail the clerk knows at once whether there is any. In the same way I have no trouble in telling a Mr. Zebrin about his mail, for I have associated him with a zebra, and he is so closely connected in my mind to that animal that I wouldn't be astonished if he came to the window on his four legs."

You have often wondered how the conductor of the cable car, especially the one in charge of the Sanitarium, remembers the man or woman who has paid fare so that he will not ask the second time. In the first place he doesn't always remember. But when he does his memory is aided by the peculiarity of a man's coat, the cut of his hair, and by the way a woman impresses him. It is curious that few people ever offer street-car fare until it is called for. A little thought on this might avoid confusion and aid in smoothing the rough points in a conductor's manners.

The railroad conductor has no trouble with his memory, because he tags every passenger, unless the train is a suburban, in which case the faces of the passengers soon become familiar, the conductor giving, in his memory, a similar appearance to all passengers who live in Keewood, Hyde Park, and so on.

Do men who have had credit for the most remarkable memories in the minds of travelers are those who take lunch on the doors of the dining rooms of the big hotels. Common sense often does the work, a little ingenuity does the rest. But there are now and then instances showing that the man who takes your hat on the door has some peculiar mental development. Such an instance is related of the head waiter of an Eastern hotel. "Two years ago," said the gentleman who told the story, "at this time I was stopping here. One afternoon I hurried into the dining room and in passing Carter I remarked: 'I must get a few paragraphs of luncheon before I catch my train.'

Carter thought the remark was immense. In many at the laughed himself almost out of his dress suit. Today as I was entering the room for lunch he greeted me and asked me if I was going to finish that chapter of incidents which I began two years ago with a paragraph or so. He had not seen me for two years, and even I had forgotten the circumstance. 'That is what I call a good memory.' The memory of hotel clerks is considered remarkable. It is a part of their business.

MEMORIES OF GENIUS.

Great men are always eccentric, and men who want the world to think they are great begin the juggling of eccentricity early in life and keep it up. The genuine genius has a good deal of trouble with his memory.

Henry Clay couldn't repeat a verse of any poem. He couldn't repeat the old long meter hymns. Praise God, from whom all blessings flow" but he never forgot an argument, a name, or a face.

Dr. Leyden, the intimate friend of Sir Walter Scott, could repeat an act of parliament after hearing its first reading. It is an old story that Milton could repeat Homer.

Macaulay James Fenimore paid a visit to the town of Corcyra. He was relating an incident that occurred there, but could not think of the name of the town. The next day he was giving a dinner, and while carving he startled his guests by calling "Corcyra, Corcyra!" The name of the town had just occurred to him.

Sydney Smith pretended to despise memory. He said he saw no more sense in remembering all he had read than all the dinners that had made him fat.

The story has been told for a hundred years that Cicero knew the names of all his soldiers. Eugene Aram could repeat Virgil from the order he heard them. Angelo had all Dante and Petrarch in his memory. It is said that Pascal knew the Bible by heart. Lamartine could repeat nearly the whole of Virgil.

A London reporter who took no notes, and yet, when an unexpected debate sprang up, and he was left alone, could write it out verbatim. When listening he closed his eyes and leaned upon his stick. He called it "being held up by the ears."

Prof. Lawson boasted that he could, if the Bible were lost, repeat the whole of it with the exception of a few verses. Lord Macaulay made the same boast about "Pilgrim's Progress" and "Paradise Lost." It will be remembered that none of the works named were lost, so that the gentlemen were never put to the test. It is a fact, however, that Macaulay had a remarkable memory. When a boy he went with his father to call on a gentleman upon whose table lay Scott's "Lay of the Last Minstrel." Young Macaulay read it, and when he reached home he repeated it.

The most remarkable feat of memory on record was that of an itinerant actor of England, William Lyon. He won a bet of a crown bowl of punch that he could repeat the whole of an issue of the London Daily Advertiser after hearing it read.

Jedediah Buxton was illiterate. He could tramp over a tract of ground and tell its contents in square feet or inches with exactness. The development of the memory for anything mathematical in some people is well known. The mathematical crank is a frequent production. Freaks of memory are plentiful. Incidents might be added that would extend this article into columns.

WHAT THEY SAY IN ENGLAND.

Newspaper Comments Respecting the Resignation of Sir Hector Langevin.

London, Aug. 13.—Sir Hector's resignation of his portfolio in the Dominion Cabinet as Minister of Public Works is the subject of much comment, not only by the press, but in political and colonial circles generally.

The Chronicle refers to Sir Hector Langevin's standing in Canadian politics, and his past record, and hopes that he will be able to clear himself from the charges preferred against him, but it says that it cannot longer doubt that the whole system of public works in Canada reeks with wastefulness and corruption. The article concludes: "Only by bringing the offenders to justice can the Dominion Government avert a political catastrophe besides which the death of the late Prime Minister, Sir John Macdonald is of small moment."

The Pall Mall Gazette says Sir Hector Langevin has done the straight thing in resigning his portfolio and hopes he will succeed in proving that his hands are clean.

The Canadian Gazette, in an editorial entitled "Canadian Humiliation," applauds Sir Hector Langevin's action in resigning his seat in the Cabinet, but regrets that he had not resigned before, as he would thus have avoided much suspicion. His resignation at the present time is more forced than voluntary.

She was Willing to Give Up All.

When Queen Elizabeth of England found death approaching she cried despairingly, "All my possessions for a moment of time!" There are wealthy ladies to-day, the world over, who would gladly exchange their riches for sound health. Many are made well and happy by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a never-failing cure for all diseases so common to women. As a corrective for all functional weaknesses it is of universal repute among the sex, and thousands of pale, worn-out, enfeebled victims have been changed into vigorous women and girls by its use. Guaranteed to give satisfaction, or price refunded. Druggists have it. b

All cases of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them. dw

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the nutrients found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores. dw

Freeman's Worm Powders destroy and remove worms without injury to adult or infant. dw

Consult Your neighbors.

Any one may find out just what Burdock Blood Bitters is and does by asking a neighbor who has tried it. It rarely fails in making a complete cure of dyspepsia, constipation, sickheadache, biliousness and diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. dw

Oh! What Beautiful Hands.

Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses will cure chapped hands and make them soft and smooth. Try it. Druggists keep it, W. A. Dyer & Co. Montreal. 6334

Always avoid harsh purgative pills. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill. dw

Baby was Sick.

"My baby was very sick with diarrhœa and after everything else had failed I tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; the first dose gave relief and a perfect cure soon resulted." — Mrs. John Clark, Bloomfield, Ont. dw

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Can Not Compete

Miss Maud Grant, of Mountain, Ont., writes, "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaints and diarrhœa. There is nothing to compete with it as it succeeds even in the severest cases." dw

A Suitable Gift.

A tube of Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses for making the skin soft and smooth will be acceptable to any lady. Druggists keep it, W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6334

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE 100 Yonge St. Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and meta with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. cod-w

I AM A MAN

"I have been treated by doctors, who had long lists of so-called cured patients, but they could not reach my case, and hope had been murdered in me by fair promises, but on first application of your magical appliance, hope and confidence came flocking in stronger than the combined powers of the four winds. I knew then that you would cure me, and now that I am a man and well again, I cannot thank you sufficiently for the cure. So again I say, use my name as reference whenever you wish. You nor any one else cannot use words too strong to express my sentiments in favor of so wonderful a treatment as that given by you."

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

Too Many Wives.

A Castletonian Charged With Bigamy.

Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

Levi Hiram Doolittle, a laboring man from near Castleton, in the township of Haldimand, is at loggerheads with the police, because he has been a disciple of Brigham Young and has married more women than is law of this country allows at one time. Although Levi Hiram possesses a Jewish name, he is by no means an Israelite, though his name, Doolittle, is quite suggestive of his calling. He is a laborer by occupation, that is, when he does anything. But the records show that Levi Hiram has been eking out an existence upon the hard-earned dollars of his two wives. Constable Oliver Mowat, of Castleton, a very decent fellow, on account of his name, arrested Doolittle at Castleton three weeks ago, on a charge of larceny of a pair of shoes, and he was committed for trial before Judge Benson.

On Tuesday the further charge of bigamy was preferred against Levi Hiram, and he was brought before Magistrate Dumble on Wednesday morning and sent before His Honor Judge Benson. He appeared before Judge Benson later that day, pleaded guilty to the charge, and sentence was deferred until Wednesday next.

MARRIED INFELICITY.

Doolittle's history of his married life is a strange one. His first marriage was a clear case of love at first sight. He was working in a livery stable in Colborne one day, when the proprietor suggested that he should get married to wife No. 1 who was standing near by. Doolittle acted on the suggestion at once and interviewed her. The second time he met her he broached the subject of marriage, which was accepted in a friendly spirit, and she named the day there and then. The first week of their married blessedness passed quietly enough, until one night a gang of toughs came to the house, brought their "growler" with them, and had a regular hoe down all night. Doolittle got kicked black and blue all over his body, and thought it was time to get out. This he did, and went to live with his step-father in Haldimand. While he was away, his wife and a woman who lived with her, figured in the police court, charged with keeping a disorderly house. They both went to jail for non-payment of the fine. After the sentence was spent, Mrs. Doolittle No. 1 went to Cleveland where she remained nearly a year.

THE SECOND MARRIAGE.

While his wife was away, Levi struck new acquaintance near Castleton, which laid the foundation for his infatuation with Deborah Smith, whom he married in June, 1889. After he had basked in the sunshine of Deborah's love for some time, his first love returned to Colborne, and at the request of the latter he went to live with her. And so time passed on; while the gay Lothario lived in Castleton, Jane was his enamorate; while in Colborne, Deborah was his better love. So they lived until constable Smith, of Colborne, laid the matter before Crown Attorney Kerr who caused proceedings to be taken.

"I know it's not Jane that is doin' this, 'cause she's got no money. It's that constable Smith that's shovin' it, and if he takes me to jail I'll go for him," said Levi when being brought before the magistrate.

Mr. Dumble. How old are you?

"Well, I can't just tell to a shavin', sir," said Levi, "I was 25 when I was first married.

"If you send me down for seven years, I'll have another wife when I get out, so I will," were Levi's parting words as he was taken out of the magistrate's court.

Was Mrs. Bartle Married.

A Queer Sequel to the Rouge Floater Identification.

(Toronto World.)

County Constable O'Connor of Pickering last evening received a letter from Mrs. Charles Cashley, formerly Miss Victoria Hartle of Peterborough, asking that a photo be forwarded to her of the man washed ashore at the mouth of the Rouge River near Port Union. Mrs. Cashley had observed in the World an account of the identification by Mrs. Hartle of London of the body of the floater, as that of her husband. Five years ago Mrs. Cashley's husband, John Hartle, disappeared, and no word of him has since been heard by either his sister or his stepmother who resides at Cornwall. Neither had they any knowledge of his marriage at London to the woman who claims to be his wife. The description of the missing man, coupled with the fact that he was a wagonmaker, leads the relatives to think that he may be the same man, and Constable O'Connor has been asked to forward a photograph in order that it may be compared with a picture in Mrs. Cashley's possession taken 10 years ago.

Sarcastic Mr. Smiff.

The Bobcaygeon Independent thus Vulcanizes our vanity respecting an important industry: "Peterborough is talking of bonusing a Car Works. For the past twenty years Peterborough has hankered after blacksmith shops and she will not be real happy till she gets them." When Big Bob gets the railway she has been hankering after for twenty years she will be glad to welcome some of the cars that will be turned out of the Paterson-Corbin "blacksmith shop."

A Narrow Escape.

This afternoon a team drawing a wagon laden with sand, upon which a little boy about seven years old sat helpless, came careering down the grade on George street at full speed. The maddened brutes did not see a wagon laden with ties in front of them, and ran plump into it, throwing down the horses, but doing no other damage than breaking parts of the wagon. The little lad, who had clung to his seat through it all, had a narrow escape

An Interrupted Excursion.

The Mission Sunday school excursion on Thursday was sadly interrupted by an accident to the screw of the steamer Daisy which had the excursion barge in tow. Just below the locks the screw struck a sunken rock and broke two of her flanges. Nevertheless the steamer in her crippled condition crept down the river two or three miles to a very pleasant picnic ground where the day was delightfully passed. About 7 o'clock the return voyage was begun but it was 11.30 before the wharf was reached, and twelve before the youngsters were tucked into their little beds.

Last Night's Organ Recital.

There was a largely increased attendance at the organ recital of Dr. Davies in St. John's church last night, even in the face of the great decrease in the musical population caused by the attractions of the summer resorts. The education of the popular ear up to the due appreciation of the artistic interpretation of the great masters is necessarily slow, and that Dr. Davies has succeeded in arousing a real interest in the higher range of music is a tribute to his ability that has much value. A special feature which has been noticed at every one of Dr. Davies' recitals, and which marked the production of his programme last night, is his peculiarly delicate and sympathetic touch, which gives such a feeling finish to every feature of his performance. This was particularly noticeable in the Andante Consolante from Weber's opus 70; in Mendelssohn's vigorous overture for military band, and Kretschmann's dainty little gavotte in F. While excelling in delicacy of treatment, it is not to be at all inferred that Dr. Davies is deficient in brilliancy, breadth or grandeur as was evidenced in, particularly his rendering of Salome's Grand Chœur. The difficult pedal passages with which this selection abounded, were brought out with a clearness and precision, which would be a credit to the manual performance of many a fair organist. It will be noticed that the programme, a copy of which is given below, covered most of the styles of composition, and afforded an opportunity for the display of versatility and all-round capacity for the various elements of artistic interpretation. Below is the programme, which critics will see must have afforded a fine musical treat to the audience, among whom was noticed Mr. Arthur E. Fisher, Mus. Bach., of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, himself an organist of no mean merit, whose smile of enjoyment during the recital was equalled by the warm commendation he passed at the conclusion of the recital, upon the programme and its presentation:

A Flourishing Industry.

What the Norwood "Register" Calls the Bridge Works.

While in Peterborough the other day a representative of this paper had the pleasure, through the courtesy of the genial and popular accountant of the establishment, Mr. Clarke, of inspecting that flourishing industry—the bridge works. Although the firm make a specialty of bridge building, our representative found that other iron work was performed with equal facility. An immense iron cupola for a Winnipeg church was in process of construction, and the ease with which the huge iron girders were placed in position and riveted with large portable rivetors, worked with compressed air, was astonishing. The steam hammer, the powerful iron cutting machines, which cut through several inches of iron with ease, the large blow furnaces, the neat engine room with its powerful engine and brightly polished electric light plant (which, by the way, is very efficiently presided over by an ex-Norwoodian in the person of Mr. Wm. Foster), and numberless other points of interest, all served to remind us of the progressive age in which we live. From the business offices to the engine room the whole establishment is one bee-hive of industry, the output of which is in constant demand all over the Dominion. In the bridge works, Peterborough has an industry of which she may well be proud.

Asphodel.

Obituary—The Late Thomas Brown.

It is with feelings of deep regret that we are called upon to chronicle the sudden death of Mr. Thomas Brown, of Asphodel, eldest son of Mr. J. P. Brown, lately of this village. Deceased passed over to the great majority yesterday afternoon after only a few days illness. His ailment was acute inflammation of the liver. He was in his 44th year, and leaves a wife and five children. Much sympathy is felt for the family. The funeral will take place to-morrow at 2 o'clock p.m.—Register.

Norwood "Registrations."

Miss Ada Rae, of Peterborough, spent a few days here this week, the guest of Mrs. J. A. Harper.

The improvements made on the Methodist church grounds here recently greatly beautify the appearance of the premises.

Confirmation services were held in the R. C. Church here this week. The rite was administered to a large number.

It is estimated that fully 150 of our citizens are enjoying the balmy and ozone-laden breezes of Stony Lake, while perhaps as many more are absent at other resorts.

The Rev. D. Mitchell, of Jersey City, N. J., is filling the pulpit of the Presbyterian church here during the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. Carmichael, M.A., who is recuperating his health at Stony Lake. The reverend gentleman is an eloquent and finished orator.

At a public meeting of the ratepayers, the following resolution, endorsing the action of the Board, was dealt with: Mr. Fitz Gibbon moved, seconded by Mr. H. Reynolds, that in view of the explanations given by the chairman and members of the School Board as to the necessity of increased accommodation for Public and High School purposes, in order to retain the Model School, which is a profitable source of revenue, and as the increased grants from the Government will pay all the amounts required to repay the debentures, that this meeting approve and confirm the action of the Board in their decision to enlarge the present school building in accordance with the plans submitted. The motion was carried, only one dissenting voice being heard.

The corner stone of the new chancel which is being built to the English church in this village was laid on Friday, July 31st, by the ven. Archdeacon, M.A., Rector of Cavan. In it were placed a short history of the church in this mission extending back nearly fifty years, and copies of the daily Empire, the Norwood Register, the Canadian Churchman and the Church Guardian. The congregation, owing to various causes, was not large, but it was fairly representative of the religious bodies of the vicinity. The service used was the one authorized by the church for such occasions. Miss Raddon presided at the organ. The hymns sung were, "The Church's one Foundation," and "Oh Lord of Earth Whose Glory Fills." The former part of the service was said by the Rev. John Gibson and the Rev. J. E. Cooper, of Hastings, said the concluding prayers. The address, which was given by Mr. Allen, was able and instructive. The catholic character of the church was his chief theme. A collection was taken up for the building fund which amounted to nearly fifty dollars.

Found a Subterranean City.

Important Archæological Discovery Reported from Bokhara.

It is reported from Bokhara that a subterranean city has been found on the bank of the River Amoo Karia, near the town of Karki.

Silver coins and inscriptions of the time of Gapora I, have been found in the place, says the Boston Traveller, which stretches over a distance of about half a mile, with streets, lanes and squares. In some places the ground on the top has caved in; but the largest part of the city can be passed through without the least difficulty.

By the light of the miners' lamp the place presents a quaint, fantastic appearance. There are houses in parties construction, one or two stories high, with a pretence of architectural elegance, and filled with furniture and various domestic utensils. The ceiling or upper covering of the streets is constructed of blocks of alabaster granite.

The natives of Bokhara knew of the place long ago, and carried away many silver and gold coins, ornaments and utensils of great intrinsic value, and of still greater archæological importance. The Russian authorities of Bokhara have made arrangements to take care of the antiquities of the place, and sent notice of its discovery to the Archæological Society at Moscow. The Society has sent a commission of experts to make explorations during the summer.

News Nuggets.

The Newmarket bicycle club will run to Peterborough Sunday after next.

—The declining powers of old age may be wonderfully recuperated and sustained by the daily use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Personal.

Mr. Geo. A. Cox, Toronto, is in town today.

Mr. Harry Rubidge has returned to his home in Chicago.

Mr. Richard Clegg, of Ingersoll, is spending a few days in town.

Mr. Ed. Webb has begun the brick work upon the Customs building.

Mrs. Abraham Ball, of Rochester, N. Y., is visiting her brother, Mrs. Jos. Griffin.

Mrs. John Doherty and Miss Minnie O'Brien have gone on a visit to friends in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mrs. J. F. Crowley, of Peterborough, says the Lindsay Post, is at present visiting friends in that town.

The Millbrook Reporter says that Miss Richardson, of Peterborough, has been visiting friends in that locality.

Mr. J. McCreary, headmaster of the West Ward Public School, is taking a few holidays in Smith's Falls and vicinity.

Miss Coty, of Oakville, on her return from the lakes is spending a few days in town, the guest of Miss Radkins, King street.

Mr. John Withers, who graduated in the art typographical in the EXAMINER office, and is now on the staff of the Budget, Toronto, is in town on a visit.

A copy of the Oklahoma Churchman published at Oklahoma, Oklahoma Territory, U.S.A., has been received. It is edited by the Rev. G. F. Patterson, son of Mr. W. G. Patterson, Dummer and is a bright and newsy sheet.

Mr. Arthur E. Fisher, Mus. Bach., of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, was in town yesterday. He is taking his holidays, and on his return from the east stopped in town last evening on his way to Lindsay, but on seeing that Dr. Davies organ recital took place last night, stayed over to attend it, going on to Lindsay this morning, from which place he will go to the lakes for recreation and enjoyment.

THE MITCHELL TRAGEDY.

Wording of the Verdict—the Prisoner Goes to Stratford Gaol.

MITCHELL, Aug. 14.—When the jury in the Whale murder case brought in their verdict at 2.35 yesterday morning there was still a large audience on hand to hear the last of this affair of keen local interest. The ladies, who had been present throughout the inquiry in large numbers, had gradually dropped out after midnight, and at 1.30 only five or six remained. Before the verdict was given out the prisoner Whale was brought upstairs, and he heard the decision with apparent coolness. It was worded as follows:

We, the jury empannelled to inquire into the death of Ann Whale, are unanimously of opinion that Daniel Whale, on the 11th of August, 1891, in the Town of Mitchell, County of Perth, did feloniously and unlawfully kill and slay the said Ann Whale against the peace of our lady the Queen, her crown and dignity.

Counsel for the prisoner was evidently satisfied with the finding and content that it should not be a direct finding of murder. The omission from the document signed by the jurors of the words "of malice aforethought" was to some extent a fortunate thing for Whale. He was taken back to the cell and was to-day conveyed to the Stratford Gaol to await the October Assizes, when his trial will take place.

Mrs. Whale's body was taken to Toronto to-day to be buried in the Necropolis Cemetery. Whale was allowed to attend the funeral in Mitchell this morning. He displayed no emotion whatever, but preserved the same indifferent attitude.

The Remains Identified.

TORONTO, Aug. 14.—It appears that Edward Allington, who fell down the elevator at York Chambers, was once lieutenant in the 100th regiment. He was dismissed on account of his intemperate habits. Afterwards he enlisted as a private. His sister was married to John Nelson, who was storekeeper of the Northern Railway before it was taken over by the Grand Trunk Railway. In making the post mortem Dr. W. H. B. Aikins found one of his arms tattooed on one side with a representation of the crucifix and on the other with the figure of a woman.

Dunlop, of Paris, Crazy.

PARIS, Ont., Aug. 14.—Alexander Dunlop of Paris had been very ill with yellow fever in Mexico not long ago and the fever affected his mind. Dunlop was always known as being exceptionally quiet, but of late has been acting rather queerly. He was in a dreadful state of insanity and so uncontrollable that it took three or four powerful men to hold him down and keep him quiet. Thursday night he slept pretty quietly, although at times he was not expected to last till morning. Friday he had several bad attacks during the day and on Saturday he was taken to the asylum.

Chauncey Ruby Drowned.

PORT ROWAN, Aug. 14. Chauncey Ruby, youngest son of Mr. Adam Ruby, of Berlin, waded out into the water not beyond his depth and commenced to swim to the shore. After making a few strokes he got cramped and sank. Several people saw him from the shore and at once went out with boats to search for him, but the body could not be found till about 4 in the afternoon, and then was brought to shore in a fisherman's net. Deceased was 21 years old, the youngest of a family of five sons.

Fatally Kicked.

AYLMER, Ont., Aug. 14.—Peter Koyle, aged 76, an old resident of Aylmer, father of Ranson Koyle, blacksmith, of this place, was brushing off the flies while his son was shearing Mr. Broges horse, when he received a heavy kick from one of the animals in the forehead making a wound four inches long and penetrating the skull about two inches and destroying the left eye. He only lived four hours after the accident.

Purify the importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditary and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing exclusively more conclusive than the proven power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

Local Gains in British Bye-Elections.

In a rattling speech delivered at the National Liberal Club on the 30th July Sir William Harcourt counted the gains which the Liberals have made since the general election. Eighty-eight bye-elections have been held, some of them in consequence of vacancies deliberately created by the Government. In 1886, when the general election was held, these 88 seats were distributed as follows:—Tories and Liberal Unionists 63, Liberals 25, the Tory majority being 38. But the Liberals have since won 20 of them and lost 1, "the very little ewe lamb of Doncaster"; making their net gain 19, or 38 on a division. Hence the 88 seats are now divided thus: Tories and Liberal Unionists 44, Liberals 44. The twenty constituencies which the Liberals have carried are: Spalding, Coventry, Northwich, West Edinburgh, Southampton, Govan, Barnsley, Kennington, Rochester, Peterborough, Mid Glamorgan, North Sa. Pancras, Carnarvon District, Barrow, Eccles, Hartlepool, Shrewsbury, Market Harborough, North Buckinghamshire and Wisbech. Of the 88 seats in which contests have taken place, only 53 were contested at the general election in 1885. The Tories held 35 and the Liberals 18, but now the Liberals hold 35 and the Tories 18. Again the Conservative votes cast in these 53 seats in 1886 numbered 167,000 and the Liberal votes 158,000, a total poll of 325,000, and a Conservative majority of 9,000. At the bye-elections in the same seats the Conservative votes were 170,000, and the Liberal votes 196,000: a total poll of 375,000, and a Liberal majority of 15,000. Sir William infers from these figures that the Liberals who left their party in 1886 or refused to vote for it are coming back to it again, and that unless the unexpected happens the Salisbury Administration will be routed at the general elections next year.

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 6 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his torturing agonies were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $5 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his darkest hours were gone, and he rested and slept as well as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

SUN LIFE
ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355.92
Increase over previous year	3,421,372 84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599.15
Increase over 1889	2,268,888.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078 87
Increase over 1889	325,938.35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514.19
Increase over 1889	687,691.47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,199,222.68
Increase over 1889	567,732.71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,824 07
" " " 1886, "	69,452 97
" " " 1890, (four years)	232,175 69

THE PROCEEDINGS BEFORE THE SENATE RAILWAY COMMITTEE.

The Absence of Witnesses Causes Slow Progress—Some Interesting Evidence Adduced C. N. Armstrong, Contractor of the Railway, on the Stand.

OTTAWA, Aug. 15. At the Senate Railway Committee yesterday the enquiry into the Baie des Chaleurs Railway was proceeded with. Vidal, chairman, announced that he had received a telegram from Lonergan, director for the new company, and also counsel for same stating that he could be here on Monday to give evidence. A telegram was also read from Mr. Garneau, Commissioner of Public Works, stating that since his last message he had been advised by his colleagues that they were alone responsible to the Legislature of Quebec, and did not intend obeying the summons of the Senate.

Laughlen, M.P., who was present for the Quebec Government, said that he had wired Mr. Garneau to send a doctor's certificate of his being unable to attend through sickness, as Mr. Barwick, counsel for the Ontario Bank, had said that he (Garneau) was in good health. This certificate was received and put on file.

He also put on file another telegram from Garneau saying that for the reasons mentioned by his colleagues he should not attend.

Dansilin, manager Banque du Peuple, gave evidence in regard to the financial transactions of Mr. Pacaud with the bank.

Wells, manager of the Union Bank, Quebec, was examined, and said that he would, if requested, get a letter of credit to discount from the Quebec Government, but did not accept same, after having conversation with Pacaud, who told him that out of that letter of credit over $50,000 of Messrs.'s debts were to be paid.

At the evening sitting of the Railway Committee of the Senate E. F. Webb, manager of the Union Bank, was recalled. From his evidence it appeared that the $80,000 which Mr. Pacaud got came out of the Dominion subsidy. The letter of credit for $100,000 was drawn payable on July 10. Mr. Machin, the assistant treasurer, had told him, because by that time the Dominion Government would have placed the Quebec Government in possession of the funds to meet the letter of credit.

It was decided Messrs. Barwick and Cockburn and Mr. King, manager of the Ontario Bank in Montreal should be sent to Quebec to examine the books of the Union Bank with reference to these entries.

C. N. Armstrong, contractor for the road was next called. He gave the history of the events leading up to contract being given him. After negotiating with MacDonald and Cameron to carry on the road fell through he met Mr. Pacaud and asked if the Government was prepared to deal with a new syndicate on the same terms as the old. Mr. Pacaud told him he thought the Government would. He asked what terms could be had. Pacaud said he could. Mr. Pacaud and he finally were $100,000. He did not know where Mr Pacaud was to make the arrangement with. His part of the business was to pay the $100,000. There was some discussion about passing the necessary order in council. On the day after passing the order in council giving them the contract Mr. Pacaud said he was too bad to keep them waiting, as he, Mr. Pacaud, said he was amazed, but because he had heavy accounts to meet, and showed him a paper with items amounting to $68,000. Mr. Pacaud did not mention Mr. Mercier's name in connection with the list or any name. Mr. Pacaud never mentioned any names or anything about paying anybody debts. The $100,000 was paid in five checks for $20,000 each. The checks were drawn by Mr. J. C. Langelier. He endorsed them on Mr. Pacaud's private office in Dalhousie street. Handed them over to Mr. Pacaud and never saw them again. The $24,000 check which was paid to Senator Robitaille disappeared out of the subsidy. He merely handed the check to Mr. Thom, who gave it to Senator Robitaille. The checks for $10,000 and $31,750 were also loans to Mr. Thom. Mr. Thom repaid him part of it. On the whole transaction Mr. Thom owed him about $30,000 still. In order to close the transaction with the Quebec Government they had to show that the necessary guarantee was held by the new syndicate. That was why he loaned the $75,000 to Mr. Thom, the secretary of the new syndicate. Every dollar of the $75,000 was either paid on his account to some certain obligations or back to himself, or would be paid to him. None of it was for either the old or the new syndicate.

Mr. Barwick: "Why did you pay the $100,000 to Mr. Pacaud?"

Mr. Armstrong: "On the principle that half a loaf is better than no bread." (Laughter.)

Mr. Barwick: "Who was to repay you?"

Mr. Armstrong: "I was clean out, and more too because I had a larger claim."

Continuing he said that in order to get anything for his claim he was obliged to treat with Mr. Pacaud. Mr. Pacaud seemed to be the best person to deal with and down there. He had nothing to do with the Government. His claim was against the old company. The other company could not make any arrangement with the Government for the settlement of their own claims and consequently could not pay the. He knew that Mr. Pacaud was acting intermediary between Macdonald and Cameron, the old syndicate. He on behalf of the new syndicate also went to Pacaud. Mr. Pacaud looked after the payment of other Baie des Chaleurs subsidies to him. The commission was small and ordinary, 2½ per cent. The commission would amount to $15,000. This was aside from the $100,000.

Mr. Barwick: "So that Mr. Pacaud has cost you about $115,000?"

Mr. Armstrong: "If you like to put it in that way."

At this point Mr. Vidal, chairman, said that he had received two telegrams from Saints impatiently requiring his presence there at once. Mr. Reid was chosen chairman during Mr. Vidal's absence.

The committee then adjourned until Tuesday.

Public Accounts Committee.

OTTAWA, Aug. 15. At the Public Accounts Committee yesterday there was a beer-garden scene, which continued throughout the meeting. It arose out of the production of the agreement which Mr. Lister wished to put in in connection with the investigation of the printing bureau. Messrs. Foster and Wood (Brockville) renewed the objection which was made before to the document being put in. Mr. Lister declared that the agreement would, he believed, compromise officials of the bureau. He said he had charged that the bureau was saturated with corruption, and this agreement was germane to the enquiry. Surely, he said, if the investigation would involve a Minister of the Crown it was no reason for stopping it.

The chairman ruled that the agreement could not be put in because it was not germane to the inquiry.

Sir Richard Cartwright said he would appeal to the committee from the ruling.

Mr. Foster: Mr. Lister says the Secretary of State is implicated with the agreement.

Mr. Lister: I did not.

Mr. Foster: I understand that.

Mr Lister: I did not say so. In fact, I say he is not in any way implicated.

Mr Foster: If Mr. Lister will proceed according to the rules of this House, and if he has a charge against the Minister make it in the House and get it referred to a committee, the Government will give their aid in investigating it.

Mr. Lister made a speech in support of his contention that the document would implicate officials of the department, and as there was connection between it and the Secretary of State should be admitted. He promised that he would proceed with the enquiry into the charge he made that the Printing Bureau was saturated with corruption. This document, which the committee was asked to examine, was a part of the evidence. If he was stopped in its production after the committee had ordered that it be produced he would retire from the investigation.

The vote was taken and resulted in 21 nays for the exclusion of the evidence and 16 for the acceptance of it. It was a party division, except that Mr. Colby voted with the Liberal minority.

Mr. Mulock: Another nail in your coffin, Bill.

Privileges and Elections Committee.

OTTAWA, Aug. 15. At the Privileges and Elections yesterday, Michael Starrs, contractor, swore that he was sent for by Sir Hector after the opening of the Esquimalt dock tenders. Sir Hector asked him to withdraw his tender, and he reluctantly did so. The evidence is all in with the exception of what may transpire on the report of Mr. Thomas McGreevy to the House.

Dominion Parliament.

OTTAWA, Aug. 15. In the House of Commons yesterday the bill regarding the North west Territories, about which considerable friction was anticipated, was got over, and passed on with only a protest from Col. Amyot, and some remarks from Mr. Wallace.

Sir Hector to go Abroad.

OTTAWA, Aug. 15. Sir Hector Langevin's friends say he will go abroad after the session, to remain in France and England for two years.

The Garbutt Extradition Case.

TORONTO, Aug. 15. Mr. Justice Street gave judgment at Osgoode Hall yesterday upon the motion recently argued before him to discharge Harry Garbutt from custody under the warrant of Judge Morgan, committing him for extradition to the State of Texas on a charge of forgery and uttering forged paper. The principal ground urged was that Judge Morgan had improperly refused evidence tendered by the prisoner to establish that he was in Wingham, Ont., on March 2, 1891, which was charged in the information as the day upon which he was in Van Alstyne, Texas, engaged in uttering the forged draft. Mr Justice Street delivered himself upon this point in the following words:

"On statute 42, H. of cap. 142, R. S. C., in accord with what appears to be the universal practice in extradition laws are concerned and in accordance with the evidence the committal of the prisoner upon such evidence being considered as could according to our law justly has committed for trial, if the crime had been committed in Canada. In the face of the positive identification of the prisoner it would have been contrary to law for the judge to receive evidence of an alibi and this practically to try the guilt or innocence of the prisoner. Re. Phipps, 8 A R. 77, pp. 109 et seq.; Clark on Extradition, 3rd ed., 218 et seq.; Reg. v. Reno & Anderson, 4 P. R. 281.

"If the evidence given by the prosecution is not sufficient to justify the committal of the prisoner he is entitled to his discharge. If it be sufficient he must be committed.

"An entirely different question is raised when the prisoner insists that he is not the person named in the warrant. For the purpose of establishing that he is not the person named he is entitled to go into evidence disproving his identity with the person who is being sought for. In the present case the prisoner does not deny being the Harry Garbutt named in the warrant.

Another objection was that the judge allowed the information upon the grounds of the motion. He was also against the prisoner, and he therefore discussed the motion and remanded Garbutt to custody under the original warrant.

Prospectors Plentiful.

LAKEWOOD, Aug. 15. The number of prospectors exploring in the gold district south of this place has received a number of additions. McVittie, an old resident and prospector in this district, has secured a valuable property in Creighton. George Wallace has been warmly congratulated on all hands on his big find in the township of Fairbank, west of the Vermilyea River. A strong company has, it is reported, been formed in Chicago to work a valuable location southeast of here. Both gold and platinum have, it is said, been discovered in the township of Dowling, immediately north of the township of Fairbank, but full particulars cannot be obtained. In fact, little is yet known of the marvelous mineral resources of this district.

A Deadly Tornado.

BERLIN, Aug. 15. A tornado last night leveled to the ground the buildings of Scherbein's farm, near Potsdam. So sudden was the calamity that few of the inmates had a chance to escape and 8 or 9 were buried in the wreckage. While efforts were making to extricate the latter lightning struck the ruins and set them on fire. This morning eight corpse were found in the ashes. Other farm hands are missing, and several are severely burned and bruised.

RAINY RIVER TRAGEDY.

THE LATEST DEVELOPMENTS IN THE CARROTHERS CASE.

How Mrs. Carrothers Takes Her Arrest—She Spends Her Time Singing Hymns and Playing on the Piano—Takes to Rat Portage To-Day.

TORONTO, Aug. 15.—Mrs. Nettie Carrothers, the woman arrested by Detective Murray for the murder of her husband in the Rainy River district on January 3rd last, remained at the Metropole Hotel yesterday in charge of the officer. She takes her arrest coolly and spent most of the day singing or playing the piano. She possesses a rich contralto voice, and when a reporter called upon her sang without a tremor the world-old song, "Redeemed by the Blood of the Lamb." Mrs. Carrothers is a very attractive woman. She is of average height, rather slim build, and possesses lustrous black eyes and black hair, and is apparently about 26 years of age. She looks like a very determined woman. Her arrest had not come to her altogether as a surprise as she had read a despatch from Rat Portage that Detective Murray was investigating the case, and intimating that he had made some startling discoveries.

Detective Murray left with his prisoner for Rat Portage at 11 o'clock to-day. At Owen Sound he will take steamer for Port Arthur and thence proceed to the Portage, where the investigation will take place. The scene of the alleged murder is in the woods 180 miles further up the Lake of the Woods and Rainy River, and is only reached by steamers which make occasional trips whenever they secure a load. Ephraim and George Slack, brothers of the prisoner, again visited her yesterday and promised to retain counsel to defend her.

James Blake Carrothers, the murdered man, was a member of the A. F. & A. M. and was insured for $1000. A few months ago Mrs. Carrothers made application for the amount of the policy, but the brotherhood declined to pay the beneficiary owing to the suspicious circumstances in connection with the death of the insured.

At the time of the shooting, which occurred at 10 o'clock on January 3rd, it will be recollected Mrs. Carrothers claimed that she had gone down to the river and drawn up a pail of water and that she heard the shots while there. Evidence has been secured by Detective Murray showing that the river was frozen over solidly that morning and that no air hole had been cut in the ice, consequently the woman was not telling the truth. As she was alone in the house with her husband, suspicion naturally fastened upon her when it was discovered that the wounds in deceased's head could not have been self-inflicted.

William Fotheringham, whose name has been connected with the case, is not suspected of knowing anything of the murder. He is still at Rat Portage and has lost the money he invested in the Rainy River property. The mill having been seized by the sheriff recently. He is a bachelor, and had known both Carrothers and his wife for years before he induced them to go to Rainy River. In fact, Fotheringham and Nettie Slack (Mrs. Carrothers) were schoolmates. Rumor has it that they have been intimate for years, but Fotheringham positively denies that there was anything between them at any time. The theory of Detective Murray is that after discovering Fotheringham and his wife scuffling and ordering his employer away Carrothers kept referring to the matter daily until, finally, his wife shot him down.

Mrs. Carrothers only remained in the district a few days after her husband's death, coming to St. Mary's. Her two children are now at Mr. Carrother's father in Blandford. Mrs. Carrothers has been visiting in Toronto on several occasions since her return.

The note alleged to have been written by Carrothers stating that he contemplated suicide has been compared with documents known to have been in Carrothers handwriting, and Coroner Dea of this city states that they are altogether dissimilar. Detective Murray thinks he knows who wrote the letter.

Mrs. Carrothers is known to have been an expert shot with the pistol, and it is believed the first shot her husband from behind, and as he reeled and turned he received the second bullet in the face.

When Found He Was Dead.

PETERBORO, Aug. 15. The papers last Friday contained reports of the finding of the putrid remains of William Wablen in a disused garden at the corner of Aylmer and Hunter streets. Yesterday this letter was received:

Chief of Police, Peterboro, Ont.:

Dear Sir,—Will you please find out all you can of the particulars of the death of William Wablen, found dead in your city, and enquire if his body can be sent to Salem for burial. Please write and let me know, for his family would like to know if he were dead or living, having not seen him for 16 years.

Respectively yours,
WILLIAM P. WABLEN,
6 Ocean avenue, Salem Mass.
Salem, Aug. 11, 1891.

Town Clerk Macdonald forwarded the deceased information. The body is hardly in a condition to be shipped to Salem, and it is probable the remains will be interred in the cemetery here.

The Rouge River Victim.

PICKERING, Aug. 15. The inquest on the body of Ernest Werner, alias John Hartle, the Rouge floater, will be resumed at Liverpool Market Monday. No word has yet been received from Mrs. Charles Pashley of Peterborough, to whom a photo was sent, as to whether the body is that of her brother, John Hartle, or not. The case has developed many peculiar features. First the floater was identified as Ernest Werner, next Mrs. John Hartle of London claimed that Werner was her husband, now Mrs. Pashley says John Hartle was her brother, and that she was not aware that he was married. A photo has been sent Mrs. Pashley, and the receipt of it will settle the question as to whether the real name of the floater is Hartle or not.

William is Well.

BERLIN, Aug. 15. Aside from the inconvenience of moving about with his leg held stiff by bandages, Emperor William is enjoying excellent health. The fact that the Emperor is able to devote a great part of his time to attending to the business of the empire is regarded as good evidence that the alarming reports circulated in regard to his physical and mental condition are unfounded, and is taken to confirm the statements that these rumors are the work of speculators interested in bringing about a depression in prices on the bourse. His Majesty has gone on a short trip to sea on the yacht Hohenzollern.

Fatally Injured in a Sawmill.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Moses Wilkinson of Lutterworth was badly cut in the arm and side at his saw mill and eighteen hours after receiving the wound breathed his last.

Arrested for "Tapping" Telegraph Wires.

MONTREAL, Aug. 15.—Detective Carpenter of the Canadian Secret Service last night arrested John McGinnis, a telegraph operator, 28 years old, on a charge of having "tapped" the telegraph wires with a view of communicating the results of the United States races to a company of sports.

A Kincardine Boy Drowned.

KINCARDINE, Aug. 15. While a number of boys were in the lake bathing one of their number, James Osborne, son of Mr. Joseph Osborne, got beyond his depth and was drowned. The boy was about 10 years of age. His father is at present living in British Columbia.

A Railway Amateur's Mishap.

BRACEBRIDGE, Aug. 15. Seymour Cook, a young man in the employ of Mr. Moses Dickie, while loading wood on a car at Huntsville undertook to couple some cars. The result was a very badly smashed hand and amputation just below the elbow.

Blaze at Collingwood.

COLLINGWOOD, Aug. 15.—Yesterday at 2 o'clock the sash and door factory of John Todd was discovered to be on fire. The firemen were soon on the spot and extinguished the flames. Damage very light; no insurance.

BRADSTREETS

Has Been Receiving Satisfactory Trade Reports from Canada.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Special telegrams to Bradstreets point to a continuance of late improvement in general trade at western and some northwestern cities. In the Canadian Dominion no great activity is not. in various lines of staple manufactured goods, but demand for groceries and dry goods is increasing. That for wheat and rye is noteworthy in Ontario for export prices being lower than in the United States. The Dominion reports 25 business failures this week. The total number, Jan. 1 to date is 1165, against 1024 last year.

Funeral of the Late James Russell Lowell.

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—Simple but impressive funeral services over the remains of the late James Russell Lowell were held in Appleton Chapel, Cambridge, at noon yesterday. The chapel was crowded to overflowing.

The Irish Local Government Bill.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—If Mr. Balfour had not obtained the assent of the leading members of the Cabinet to his Irish Local Government Bill before announcing it, a rupture in the Government and a split in the party would have been inevitable. The draft of the bill has never been before a regularly constituted Cabinet Council. A Committee of the Cabinet consisting of Mr. Balfour, Mr. Goschen, Lord Ashbourne and Sir Michael Hicks Beach has for 18 months been working on the bill. In its final shape in which it was approved by Lord Salisbury it remains unknown further than what has been said in recent public utterances to the rest of ministers apart from objections to the principles of the measure this ignoring of Conservative chiefs closely in touch with the rank and file of the party has added to the general discontent. No unionist selection thoroughly endorses Mr. Balfour's outlined measure. In the absence of political club life it is difficult to reflect with exactitude how far Conservative members will go in opposition to Mr. Balfour's policy but judging from the temper revealed by men in town the party in bulk will not accept the bill. General newspaper criticism asserting acceptance of the measure by the Liberal Unionists is a distortion of the truth.

The Spectator, the leading unionist organ, to-morrow will put the position of Liberal-Unionists straight in denouncing the bill as a home rule measure in disguise.

The National Observer, now attaining the front rank as a weekly exponent of Tory opinion, attacks the ministry as becoming a mere Liberal Unionist agency.

A Russian's Rights Respected.

PARIS, Aug. 15.—While the enthusiasm was at its height on the occasion of the departure of Grand Duke Alexis from the city the other day a sudden break was made in the long line of people extending along the sidewalks, and as the Grand Duke's carriage reached the point of the confusion an old man, bent and decrepit, with his gray hair hanging in confusion about his withered face, his every appearance denoting that he was a native of the land ruled over by the "White Czar," sprang to the side of the carriage, and raising his hat and bowing low, threw into the lap of the grand duke a petition, which was afterward learned was a request for the redress of some grievance from which the aged Russian was suffering. The right of presenting petitions in this manner is one of the few rights possessed by Russian subjects, and the document was taken possession of by the grand duke.

Redfellow Gets There.

SARATOGA, Aug. 15.—The meeting is now half over, and has been so far quite successful. The threatened lessening of the attendance by the counter attractions at Chicago has not eventuated, and the directors are thoroughly well satisfied with the financial results. Yesterday's racing was fairly good and the Canadians had fairly good luck. Mr. Hendrie's Bullinch ran unplaced in the second race, but Mr. Dawes' Belle of Orange got but third in the seven furlong dash. In the fourth race Mr. Dawes' Redfellow, against which the bookies laid 10 to 1, ran a good race with Castaway II, finally winning by a head.

China and Europeans.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The Standard's correspondent at Shanghai says: "The negotiations of the foreign legations with the Government with reference to the recent riots, had no satisfactory result. Relations continue strained. In spite of denials, the report that the son of an eminent Chinese diplomat in Europe was concerned in issuing incendiary placards against foreigners, is absolutely true."

The Chinese legation in Paris yesterday issued a note denying the truth of the statements made in foreign despatches.

Restored to Solvency.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—William O'Brien having paid the costs in the action for his libel brought by him against Lord Salisbury, the action of the Bankruptcy Court in declaring him insolvent has been annulled.

Frau Schneider, the woman who, together with her husband, was arrested at Vienna on the charge of murdering and robbing a servant girl, yesterday forced the bars of a window in her prison and threw herself to the pavement below, sustaining fatal injuries.

The Pall Mall Gazette gives as a further evidence of the declining trade of the country the great decrease in freight traffic in England and Scotland. Each week of the present half year has shown diminished receipts as compared with those of the corresponding period last year.

Owing to the depression in the iron trade operations at many of the principal iron works in the Cumberland district have been suspended for some time and the inability of workingmen to procure employment is causing the most acute distress. Six thousand men have been thrown out of employment.

Remand of an Alleged Bigamist.

COBOURG, Aug. 15.—In the County Judge's Criminal Court yesterday morning Levi H. Doolittle, a man about 25 years of age was charged with the crime of bigamy. It is alleged that on Feb. 22, 1888, he married Josephine Linton of Colborne, and while this wife was living he married Mrs. Deborah Smith of Haldimand township, a widowed woman. Much marrying seems to have weakened the prisoner's mind. He was remanded until the 19th.

President Van Horne's Return.

MONTREAL, Aug. 15.—President Van Horne of the C. P. R. is expected in town to-day. He will arrive at Quebec in the morning by the Dominion line steamship Vancouver and come direct to this city by special train. More significance is attached to his visit to the old country than the story cabled over to the effect that he was interesting himself a good deal in art treasures, etc.

"Don't Care to Eat"

It is with the greatest confidence that Hood's Sarsaparilla is recommended for loss of appetite, indigestion, sick headache, and similar troubles. This medicine gently tones the stomach, assists digestion, and makes one "real hungry." Persons in delicate health after taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a few days, find themselves longing for and eating the plainest food with unexpected relish.

TURNBULL'S.

We want to call attention to a large lot of Lace Curtains we are opening out and marking; there is nothing attractive in a large lot unless they are being sold at prices that will save money to the purchaser. This is just what we purpose to do. We show a Curtain, taped and bound, at 60c. a pair, a still better one for 75c., and a beauty for $1, while the best in the lot are only $1.50. We have cleared out whole lines at greatly reduced prices is how we are able to offer such inducements. We have opened out to-day and placed on our second floor a nice range of new patterns in Hemp Carpets, some of these are very desirable.

To-day we open our first shipment of Ladies' Mantles for Fall. They are a very stylish lot. Parties wanting one for a special occasion early will be glad to know that they can now see the new fall styles with us. We have received the invoice of a lot of Dress Goods, they will be opened before this appears in print. We have also got nearly all the shades of very pretty Plaids for making over dresses. We need hardly remind the public that everything stylish, serviceable and cheap is kept on our counters.

In our Tailoring Department we are showing some fresh patterns of Heavy Weight Tweeds at from $15 to $17 a suit, especially suited for elderly men. Ask to see our heavy pantings at 50c. a yard, made out of the best of wool.

of some kind, and you have a preference as to the kind and place. You know what terms you require, and, if wise, you must know that, with present prospects of Peterborough's future greatness, the half-value prices at which I am now offering property cannot long continue. At present I want to sell, and I have a fixed location at 357 George street. You can have no difficulty in finding my office, and I want any and every person who wishes to buy to come in, talk matters over, tell me what you wish to buy, where you want to buy, when and how you can pay—give me full particulars, and then I can, and will, give you intelligent advice. I claim that thirty years practical business experience has qualified me to do so. In the past many have acted upon my suggestions and made their sons, hundreds and thousands by doing so; as many more who would not be advised are regretting their loss, instead of counting their gain.

Does it pay to dress well? Assuredly. No money is better spent than what is laid out for domestic satisfaction. A man is pleased that his wife is dressed as well as other people, and the wife is pleased that she is so dressed. At no 365 George street you will do well to pause in your down-town career. There you will be pleasantly surprised at the variety of beautiful Dress Goods and the Low Prices that prevail during this month. Saturday was such a rushing day with us and though we were among the first to sign the petition for early closing yet we found it impossible to close our store until after 11 o'clock and no wonder for the people fairly got excited over selling bargains. 33 yards of Dress Goods for $1.00 is a prodigy, 20 yards of Dress Goods for $1.00 must be cheap, 15 yards of Dress Goods for $1.00 is a paralyzer. Rowse's, Rowse's, Rowse's is the spot for cheap Dress Goods and if you want also to see the noblest most attractive, elegant Dress Fabrics, Rowse's is still the spot. We show at 30c. New Fall Goods, at 40c. and 50c. some thing very excellent. Come and see the largest variety of Dress material in Peterborough.

The Daily Examiner is delivered to any part of the Town for 10c. a week, 35c. a month, $2.00 for six months.

Daily Examiner.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 15, 1891.

It has been aptly remarked that when the Liberal papers urged that Sir Hector Langevin should resign his position as minister of public works the Tory organs all cried out that if he did so he "would confess his guilt." Well, he has resigned, and thus, according to the logic of his own newspapers, pleaded guilty to all Mr. Tarte's accusations.

The New York Times says:—The scandals which are now coming to light are the direct offspring of "protection" and of subsidizing private interests with public money, and we have a corresponding state of affairs in the debauching of the suffrage with money contributed by recipients of public favor, and in such abuses of political power as have been revealed in Pennsylvania. When any Government uses the power of taxation to increase the profits of special interests at the general expense it sets a nefarious example of the misapplication of public resources, which has a most demoralizing and corrupting effect. When it uses the public treasury to build up private interests by direct subsidies it opens the way and offers inducements for jobbery and corruption, for which the people have to pay and from which they have to suffer. * * * It will be difficult for the people of Canada to extricate themselves from the corrupt power which they have permitted to be built up by a delusive and insidious system of taxation. The difficulty will be the greater on account of the concentration of this power and its great extent in proportion to the scattered interests that are opposed to it. But it is evident that the struggle is to be made.

Sir Hectors Career.

La Minerve, the Ottawa Citizen, the Empire and all the rest of the Government papers are chanting a requiem over Sir Hector, and telling us of his extraordinary merits as a party man and even as the executive head of a bureau. It would not be proper to break in with a pair of coarse boots upon these last rites, but in the interest of historical truth it may be well to recall some of his defects, for defects he had, as described by his friendly biographer in La Presse of 1886. The personalities to which this Chapleau writer indulged need not be reproduced, for sufficient remains when they are omitted to show us what manner of man Sir Hector really was.

He is described at the outset as a person of mediocre ability. That must be true for his own statement before the Privileges Committee was altogether designed to show that he knew literally nothing of the operations of the office which he presided over for twelve years beyond what his subordinates saw fit to tell him. The biographer adds that he was a man with a defective moral sense, which is also probable, for he declares to this day that he could not see that the Tarte charges affected his honor or reputation in the slightest degree otherwise he should have resigned when they were first preferred in Parliament. He was no speaker, "one searches in vain among his harangues for a single phrase that could stir a meeting or change a vote"; and he was singularly unpopular in Lower Canada, for though the chief Minister in that Province for many years he was "never able to sit for any considerable length of time for the same constituency." Hansard and the Parliamentary Companion bear out these two statements. The writer then enters upon ground where we cannot follow him with extraneous tests of his accuracy, but as

and is probably taking part to-day in the general laudation of him he may be regarded as a tolerably safe guide. He alleges, first, that Sir Hector obtained the Bleu leadership on Cartier's death by sharp practice. He had acted as a sort of secretary to Cartier and took charge of Cartier's funeral. When the mourners returned to St. Lawrence Hall he explained to them that it was desirable to elect a successor to the late lamented; a friend, primed in advance, got up and proposed Sir Hector himself, and in its grief and satisfaction the gathering then and there anointed him. In his earlier days as a politician he had voted against the Macdonald-Cartier Administration on the solution of the capital question, and contributed to its overthrow; but that had been forgiven and forgotten and he had come to be known as a useful fetch-and-carry for Sir George, particularly as he had a brother who was a bishop. He began his career as a receiver of contractors' bundle for political purposes in connection with certain Intercolonial contracts, and to clear himself sacrificed his friends with unsurpassing "Government contractors are a class for whom the general public has very little regard, but if there is anything more immoral than their operations it is the conduct of a Minister who enters into a compact with them and gets money out of them by false pretences." Sir Hector always needed a lot of campaign money because of his unpopularity, and for a while he maintained a gang of roughs in the city of Quebec who were let loose in his interest on election days. By these and other means, before the catastrophe of 1873, he had "reduced election frauds to an exact science" and practically

OBLITERATED HONEST PUBLIC OPINION.

When the storm broke in 1873 it was found that he was down in Sir Hugh's list for $32,000. He was accused of having absorbed the money. To meet this charge, says the writer, he rigged up vouchers to show that he had spent $31,619 44 in the election, whereas in fact he had handed over $5,000, and among those who knew there arose "a vehement suspicion that he had put the rest in his pocket." He went out of politics for a time because he could not find a seat, but when the Old Man returned to power in 1873 Sir Narcisse Belleau, Mr. Hamel and Uncle Thom • McGreevy interceded for him—we know now that he owed Thomas $10,000 at the time—and Sir John took him into the Cabinet as Postmaster-General, a constituency being obtained for him by the elevation of Mr. McDougall, of Three Rivers, to the bench. Early in 1879 he was appointed Minister of Public Works. Then came the big immortal of $22,000 from the contractors, which, says the pamphleteer, "cost the country $500,000"; and soon afterwards he conceived the idea of establishing a reptile fund. He favoured contractor ——— with a wink to tender at a certain low figure, the contract was awarded to him, and forthwith he subscribed to the fund; then engineers, inspectors and verifiers were selected to assist him, and they discovered, quite by accident, of course, that there had been an important omission in the specifications or list of prices; whereupon the Minister sanctioned such a modification of the work as would bring profits to the contractor, who after having benefited at a figure low enough to enable the bona fide competitors received by him are perhaps twice the price at first stipulated, and everybody was satisfied. We defy the Department of Public Works to show a single contract executed in recent years according to the original terms.

REPTILE FUNDS ARE REPLENISHED, and those who replenish them obtain an ample compensation for their apparent sacrifices; but the public works cost the country from 20 to 30 per cent. more than they are worth, and, as the contractors are not looked after, the works are badly built with materials of a poor quality. A badly-built work, however, is a work that must soon be rebuilt, and the rebuilding furnishes another opportunity for replenishing the reptile fund and filling the party followers." This was written in the Chapleau newspaper in 1886, yet Sir Hector swears that he knew nothing about the frauds in his department until Mr. Tarte began to describe them in his newspaper, which may or may not confirm the opinion of his biographer that he was an enormous liar. This meagre outline of La Presse's book of 60 pages would be even more crude and incomplete than it is if we omitted to add that Sir Hector was "selfish beyond measure," "greedy for office," "corrupt in all his doings," and so "insanely jealous of his associates" that he employed spies who from day to day conveyed to him the tattle of the streets.

It is an ugly picture, uglier in some respects than those of Bill Tweed, who is said to have had a heart as big as a bullock's. Yet in all likelihood it will be accepted by the chronicler of the future as a good deal more life like than the pictures now being drawn of the ex-Minister by the artists of the Government press. In any well regulated community, one ruled by a healthy public sentiment, Sir Hector would find it difficult to escape the penitentiary. As it is, he retires into private life amid the muttered maledictions of his own party and the contempt of all decent men. There will be no monument for him, though, to do the poor devil justice, he deserves one about as well as his master.—Globe.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto for Miss M. Hore, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig. June 27th, 1891.

SCIENCE AND PROGRESS.

INTERESTING PARAGRAPHS CULLED FROM VARIOUS FIELDS.

The Cramp Method of Building Large Boilers With Thick Plates of High Pressures Said by Engineers to be Simply Perfect—Science Notes.

Engineers pronounce as simply perfect the Cramp method of building large boilers with thick plate of high pressures. These plates are in the first place pickled in a wooden bath containing five per cent. solution of sulphuric or hydrochloric acid, after remaining in which for about six hours they are removed and thoroughly scrubbed with hickory brooms, while a strong stream of fresh water is played upon them, they are then immersed in a bath of fine water to neutralize any remaining acid, and again washed with clean water. All holes are drilled, and the edges of the plates planed and bevelled for calking, the shell plating is bent cold to the proper curvature in the rolls, and the flanging is done by a hydraulic flanger, the plate being heated to a bright cherry red, a length of about eight feet being flanged at each heat; furnace mouth plates are flanged in one iron but at a single heat. After the flanging of sides, plates, etc., is completed they are reheated and the plates straightened on a cast-iron surface plate, being finally annealed by cooling in the open air from a cherry-red heat. The riveting is performed by a Tweddle hydraulic riveter, using a pressure of 7,500 pounds per square inch on the flange, which gives a stress of about ninety tons upon the rivet.

Permanency of Alizarine Dyes.

Contrary to the commonly received opinion in regard to the permanency of alizarine dyes, now so much used, a writer in one of the technical papers shows, as the result of special experiments, that they are by no means stand the weather test satisfactorily. Of the various colors, blue he finds fades the most, while red and orange stand the best, and brown and yellow come close together as to staying qualities. Two shades of alizarine orange, one a little fuller than the other, were tested, and, mordanted with alum and tartar, the samples, after an exposure to the weather test for five days, showed no perceptible change, after ten days the color seemed a little fuller, though the change is so slight as to be hardly recognizable, but these same dyes on a chrome and tartar mordant showed, after ten days' exposure, a darker color, with less bloom. Alizarine blue in light shades, after ten days' exposure, looked like a dirty gray; in full shades, navy blue the body of color seemed to stay, the sample losing its bloom, however. In gallone the light shades changed considerably, though not so much as the blue, while in dark shades the change was less pronounced. In alizarine gray the light shades only a little. In all these colors the mordant was the ordinary stash and half refined tartar except in the case of the orange, when alum was employed.

A New Property of Cottonseed Oil.

If the newly discovered property of cottonseed oil, which has been so widely proclaimed, shall prove to be all that is claimed for it, good judges are of the opinion that the usefulness of that abundant product is likely to be very considerably extended. The simplicity of the process is a valuable feature which gives probability to such a result. One gallon of pure cottonseed oil being placed in a suitable iron vessel, twenty pounds of lead are melted and slowly poured into the oil, which at the same time is thoroughly stirred, under which operation the lead separates in globules, and when the oil is poured off, after cooling there is found to be about seventeen pounds only of the lead, the balance being absorbed by the oil. On the lead being again melted, and the operation repeated to the fifth pouring the amount of lead absorbed being less at each succeeding pouring—the total amount of lead absorbed is about ten pounds. The oil thus charged with the lead is then used as a paint, being applied in the ordinary way to metallic surfaces, which it is desired to protect from oxidation or corrosion, the liquid adhering closely and becoming very hard.

The Temperature of the Earth.

The common assumption, made in text books as well as elsewhere, that the temperature of the earth toward the centre increases in the ratio of one degree for about every 60 feet in depth, would appear to be far from a universal fact. Investigations show that the assumption does not hold good in California, nor in the Sierra Nevada mountains. Thus at Virginia, Nevada, in the Comstock mines, the temperature in some cases has been found to increase one degree for each 20 feet up to 1,000 feet in depth, or for 2,500 feet, one degree for each 30½ feet, or twice as fast as the rate first named. At Manchester, England, in a shaft 2,500 feet deep, the temperature is stated to be only 75 degrees; while in a copper mine at Cornwall, 2,100 feet deep, the temperature is 88 degrees. Subtracting, therefore, 42 degrees for the surface temperature, there is exhibited in the first case a change of one degree in 66 feet, and in the second, one degree in 45 feet, from which data it is to be inferred that no uniformity exists in the matter.

Mean Sea Level.

An apparatus for measuring the mean level of the sea is announced. It is based on the principle that when a liquid wave traverses a capillary tube or a porous partition its amplitude diminishes, and it is retarded in its phase, without the mean level of the wave changing. It consists of a glass tube, the lower end communicating by a flexible pipe with a plunger which is lowered beneath the lowest water level. There are two cells in the plunger, the lower being filled with sand and open to the sea, the result being that the column of water in the tube rises and falls very little with the tides, and the mean sea level can be read from a graduated scale.

Sprinkling a Railroad.

Probably the biggest thing in the way of sprinklers that has thus far been evolved is the railway sprinkler now in use on the Interurban Railway, which runs between the cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis. The apparatus consists of a huge tank of boiler-iron mounted upon a flat car. A piece of four-inch steam-pipe, perforated with numerous small holes, is placed across the rear end of the car. It is intended that the car shall be whisked over the line about once every two hours, trailing a small shower as it goes. It is calculated that this will keep the dust down.

One ounce of sulphide of potash to four gallons of water will destroy all [illegible] plants if they are thoroughly sprayed with the liquid.

A Regular Army of 1,500,000 Men.

The Rouskii Invalid gives us some startling figures showing the sensible increase year by year in the rank and file of the Russian army. In the year just ended April 1, 1891, the results of the new recruiting regulations were as follows: The number of young men taken by the ballot was 878,011, of whom 47,738 were Jews. The number exempted from domestic circumstances was 420,757 thus giving 457,254 as amenable to military service. Deducting various categories not counted as available, and allowing for five years' service with the colors, this annual contingent will furnish not less than 1,500,000 men permanently enrolled on the peace establishment, and this does not bear with any particular hardship upon the Russian population, which exclusive of Finland amounted in 1888 to 112,-342,758 inhabitants, in which year were born 5,116,997 children, while the deaths were only 3,335, 518, showing a gain of 1,781,479.—London Public Opinion.

A Curious "Circulating Library."

Perhaps one of the most unique and remarkable institutions in the world is the "Bone Circulating Library," an attachment to the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York city. In this room which is fitted up with shelves, cases, etc., just as any other library room, are hundreds of thousands of human bones of all sizes, shapes, and forms. The bones, which are numbered and labeled, are placed in order on the shelves and in the cases, an attendant being always on hand to act in the same capacity as a librarian. It is his duty to keep track of the bones lent, to enter them upon books, and to see that they are returned uninjured. During the day scores of students flock in and out of this uncanny place, carrying packages of strange appearance in their hands or sticking out of their coat pockets. These packages are made up of human bones, which they are returning or taking from this "Bone Circulating Library."

A Bird That Sucks Eggs.

T M Mullis, who lives just a mile from Eastman, on his farm, relates that he has for a long time been much puzzled to know what was sticking fine holes in his eggs and drawing out the contents, until he kept strict watch on the hen's nest, when the marauder was found to be a sap-sucker, which, with its keen, awl-like bill had contrived from time to time to suck dozens of eggs, picking holes in many, from which he used very little of the contents. The bird was promptly shot, since which time no depredations have been committed like those of which it had been found guilty.—Eastman Times-Journal.

The Difference.

In a patent case in New York recently one of the lawyers consumed two days in describing the difference between two scientific appliances. When he had finished the judge quietly said to him. "Now, Mr.——, will you please tell us what is the difference?" The lawyer, it is said, hasn't recovered yet.

'Tw oSouls with But a Single Thought.

As they sat side by side, they sighed. "Oh, my idol!" he said, and then idled. "Dear Luke," said she, as she looked, "I will wed thee if thou wilt," and he wilted. The honeymoon passed in an excess of joy. Excess in eating rich food brings indigestion, sick headache, and frequent attacks of dizziness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure all these. They are tiny, sugar-coated, and easy to swallow. No other preparation compares with them as a liver pill. They are guaranteed, and one is a dose. o

Regulate the liver and bowels by the judicious use of National Pills, they are purely vegetable. dw

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in whest. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores, dw

Freeman's Worm Powders destroy and remove worms without injury to adult or infant. dw

Consult Your neighbors.

Any one may find out just what Burdock Blood Bitters is and does by asking a neighbor who has tried it. It rarely fails in making a complete cure of dyspepsia, constipation, sickheadache, biliousness and diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. dw

Self Application of Electricity
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE DORENWEND
ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.
HEAD OFFICE—168 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.
Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.
Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you win in experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.
Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

THE FACTS OF THE CASE.

There is an impression that the manufacturing establishments which the town has aided by exemption from taxation, and otherwise, have not filled the conditions, as to the employment of labour and amount of wages paid, upon which such aid or exemption was extended. As a matter of information, it may be stated that this idea does not quite accord with the facts.

For instance, the Lock Works Company, which only received from the town the benefit of exemption from taxation, certainly lives up to the measure of its responsibility towards the town. The Lock Works employs 150 hands, and its fortnightly pay roll averages about $2 500, or between fifty and sixty thousand dollars per year. The Brooks Manufacturing Company is under stipulation to employ forty hands for twelve months in the year, or fifty hands for ten months. They now employ about sixty hands, and when the new porcelain works, upon which the company is spending over $10,000, are in running order, as they will be in about six weeks, this number of hands will be increased about seventy five per cent., so that the Carbon Works and the added industry instead of employing forty hands as required, will in all probability employ eighty hands. The pay roll of the Brooks Manufacturing Company is, at present, over $800 for every two weeks, a yearly aggregate of over $45,000, and, of course, when the Porcelain Works are in running order, this will be increased in proportion to the increase of hands, that is, before the year is out the wage account will be, at least, seventy five per cent. larger than at present.

Thus we have between the Lock Works Company and the Brooks Manufacturing Company, the only two manufacturing industries, outside the Edison Works, which the town has aided to any extent, a total employment of hands of 60 + 150 = 210, (which the Porcelain Works will bring up to at least 250), and an aggregate pay roll of over $90,000.

The Edison Works is not yet in full running order, still enough is seen to show what a grand institution it is, and how much it means for the town's advancement. The city of Hamilton, to use a common expression, is "kicking itself" because it let Peterborough get the Edison Works, and to-day a by-law, for any sum up to $100,000, that would take the Works to Hamilton would be carried by a sweeping majority. Yes, Hamilton and St. Catharines and other cities and towns are envying Peterborough, which is to be congratulated that its public spirited citizens by their votes brought such an institution to the town. Aside from other advantages the Edison Company will be an important feeder to the Porcelain Works, taking a large quantity of its goods. In like manner the Paterson-Corbin Car Works will be a feeder to other local institutions. The car works will require thousands of dollars of brass car fittings, which the Lock Works will have to increase their staff of employees to produce, for, the making of every thousand dollars worth of these car fittings, means the expenditure of $700 in wages of workmen.

Thus it is seen that one establishment reacts upon another and promotes its prosperity, and therefore the more manufactures we have in the town the more prosperous they will be; and the more the town becomes known as a manufacturing centre the more establishments will be attracted; and it would be short sighted policy to refuse the Paterson-Corbin Car Works the use of buildings for their works especially when the town can lose nothing and is sure to gain a great deal.

It might be mentioned that the matter of exemption is only a temporary affair. For instance, the Auburn Woollen Mills were encouraged to start in Peterborough by the offer of exemption. Since that time the company has paid out in wages over half a million of dollars — their weekly pay sheet amounting to $1,000 or $50 000 per year, no unimportant addition to the current capital of the town, and a sum that certainly offsets any sum that they may have saved by exemption from taxation. Four years ago the period of exemption expired and since that time the Auburn Woollen Mills have been paying taxes at the rate of nearly $500 a year—last year their tax bill was $490.50—and will continue to pay taxes for all time to come. In four years the property and plant of the Lock Works and the Peterborough Carton Company will become subject to taxation, and the combined taxation of the establishments, which the town has aided, will then more than pay for the interest charges on the buildings to be leased under the proposed by-law to the Paterson-Corbin Car Company.

Today Mr. Robert Wainwright shipped two car loads of horses and cattle, farming implements, poultry, pigs and seed grain to his farm at Calgary, N.W.T.

THE HAMILTON MIRACLE.

The Case Investigated By a Globe Reporter.

THE FACTS FULLY VERIFIED

One of the Most Remarkable Cases on Record.

A Man Pronounced by Prominent Physicians Permanently Disabled, Fully Recovers - Fac-simile of the Cheque for $1,000 Paid by Royal Templars of Temperance for Total Disability—Hundreds of Visitors.

TORONTO DAILY GLOBE, July 25.—This is an age of doubt; especially in regard to cures by patent medicines, and not without reason, for too often have the sick and their near and dear loved ones been deceived by highly recommended nostrums that were swallowed to be of less avail than as much water. The old, old fable of the boy and the wolf applies also too frequently to many of the specific concoctions for curing the ills that flesh is heir to; and when a real cure is effected by a genuine remedy those who might be benefitted fight shy of it, saying "it was 'cure, cure,' so often before that I won't try it." When such a state of affairs exist it is advisable that assurance should be made doubly sure.

A few days ago a marvellous and almost miraculous cure was made known to Canadians through the medium of the Hamilton newspapers. It was stated that Mr. John Marshall, a well-known resident of Hamilton, by the aid of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, had been snatched from the very jaws of death, placed upon his feet and enabled to mingle with his fellow citizens with more than renewed health and strength and even brighter spirits than he had experienced for years before. This remarkable statement naturally excites the wonder of almost a continent. Some believed, most people doubted, although the facts were placed so clearly as to ward off the slightest suspicion of fraud. To investigate the very extraordinary cure and place before the people of Canada and the United States for verification or otherwise of it was the special mission of a Globe reporter a few days ago.

A close inquiry into the circumstances first showed that Mr. John Marshall, whose residence is 25 Little William street, off Barton street, in the northeast portion of the city, whilst employed as foreman for the Canadian Oil Company, five years ago, fell upon the edge of an oil vat and hurt his back. Thinking little of the affair, Mr. Marshall continued to work on, but after a few months he became ill, gradually got worse, and in August, four years ago, became stricken with that dread disease, locomotor ataxy—a disease attacking the nerves and rendering that portion of the system attacked perfectly helpless, proclaimed by the physicians to be incurable—which left him from the waist downwards without feeling and utterly unable to move his lower limbs. All he was able to do was to raise himself by the aid of sticks and crutches and drag himself around the house and occasionally to the corner of the street on fine days. His legs were without feeling, pins and even knives were stuck into them without the sick man experiencing any inconvenience. He could take a walking stick and beat his legs until the blows resounded through the house and yet he felt nothing. During all these years of torture Mr. Marshall consulted every doctor of ability in the city; tried every form of treatment and took almost every kind of patent medicine, but without receiving one tittle of relief. The agony was frequently so intense that he was obliged to take morphine pills in order to receive a reasonable amount of sleep.

As the months and years passed by, although the doctors continued to treat him in various ways, they plainly told the suffering man that he could not get better, the disease was set down in the works of specialists as incurable. The doomed man was a member of the United Empire council No. 190, Royal Templars of Temperance, and under the discouraging circumstances he thought it advisable to apply for the payment of the total disability claim of $1,000, allowed by the order on its insurance policy. Application was accordingly made, but before the claim was granted the patient had to offer conclusive proof of his total disability to the chief examiner, and Mr. Marshall was sent to Toronto for a special electrical treatment. It proved no more successful than the others that had preceded it, and a number of city doctors and the chief medical examiner of the order signed the medical certificate of total disability and Mr. Marshall received from the Dominion Councillor of the Royal Templars a cheque for $1,000 last November. One day last February came Mr. Marshall's salvation, although he did not accept it at first. A small pamphlet telling of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the diseases they cured, was thrown into the house, but it was placed aside and no notice was taken of it for weeks. One day the sick man re-read the circular and concluded to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, although Mrs. Marshall tried hard to dissuade him, saying they would be as ineffectual as all the others had been on April 14th — memorable day to him—Mr. Marshall began to take the pills, one after each meal for a start. In a few days a change was noticed and as he continued to take the pills he gradually improved and in a little over a month he was able to take the train for Toronto and visit an astonished brother-in-law. Now he can walk four or five miles with any of his friends.

The Globe representative paid a visit to the house of the man thus rescued from a living death. Mr. Marshall's home, cosy and comfortable, with climbing flowers covering the front, was reached only to find him out, taking a few miles constitutional up town. Mrs. Marshall, with smile-wreathed face, and looking as happy and light hearted as upon her wedding day, welcomed her visitor and appeared delighted to have the opportunity of telling frankly and fully — while awaiting Mr. Marshall's return—what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done for her husband.

"It was a happy day for me," she said "when Mr. Marshall tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Many a the weary day I had before that. Look at all these things we bought, hoping they would cure him," and the good lady turned with an armful of straps and tacklings of all kinds. There was a combination of harness and attachments of leather used for the "suspensory treatment" by which the crippled man was hung in the barn by his body with his feet but a few inches from the floor. There were enough belts, bandages, supporters and soles to set up a good sized store. Then Mrs. Marshall showed a collection of crutches and sticks which her husband had used. The whole collection was a large and remarkable one.

Mrs. Marshall showed a letter received that day from New York State, in which was a query similar to many that had previously been received by Mrs. Marshall, "Write me if it is a fact or only an advertisement."

"Here's a bundle of letters," said Mrs. Marshall, showing about a hundred letters tied together, "that my husband has received during the past two weeks, and I can tell you he is only too glad to answer all the letters cheerfully and readily, for he is anxious to give all the information he can to others suffering as he did." A firm step here was heard at the gate and in a moment a sturdy healthy-looking man of middle age with glowing black side whiskers and ruddy, pleasant features stepped into the room. It was Mr. Marshall, who gave no indication of ever having been a sick man, suffering from ataxy. When the reporter's mission was explained, Mr. Marshall's face lighted up with a smile, which caused a responsive one to rise upon the features of his wife, and he expressed his perfect willingness to tell all that was asked of him.

"Why, I feel a better man now than I did ten years ago," said he, cheerfully. "It's four years next August since I did a day's work but I guess I can soon make a start again. About my illness? It was all caused through falling and hurting my back. I kept getting worse until I couldn't get off a chair without a stick or crutches. The lower part of my body and legs were useless. I tried every doctor and every patent medicine, spending hundreds of dollars. Everything that was likely to help me I got, but I might as well have thrown it in the bay. I suppose my wife has shown you the apparatus I used at one time or another. A dozen city doctors gave me up. I got enough electric shocks for half a dozen men, but they did me no good. I lost control of my bowels and water and couldn't sleep without morphine. During the day my legs were cold and I had to sit by the stove wrapped in a blanket, suffering intense agony from nervous pains in my legs, neck and head. Yes, I received from the Royal Templars a $1,000 cheque, being declared totally unable to follow my employment. One day in April I took a notion to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, carefully following the directions enclosed in each box. Why, in three days I got relief and kept on mending. I threw away the morphine pills and the crutches. I recovered my appetite and regained control of my bowels and water and I went on getting better and stronger and now you see me stronger and more healthy than I was for years before I was taken ill. I tell you that I am feeling first-class," and Mr. Marshall slapped his legs vigorously and gave the lower part of his back a good thumping, afterwards going up and down the room at a lively gait.

"I weigh 160 pounds to-day," he continued, "and I have gained 30 pounds since I first took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I haven't such a thing as a pain or ache about me, and another thing I can walk as easily in the dark as in the light."

Mr. Marshall offered to make an affidavit to the truth of the above story, but the reporter considered that wholly unnecessary. He carried conviction to the enquirer's mind by every word and action, and there was no gainsaying the fact that the cure was one of the most marvellous of the nineteenth century. All the neighbors bore testimony to the genuineness of the cure. None of them ever expected to see Mr. Marshall on his feet again and regarded his restoration to health as nothing short of marvellous.

The headquarters of the Royal Templars of Temperance for Canada are in Hamilton. At the publishing house of the order, Mr. W. W. Buchanan, general manager, and one of the most prominent temperance advocates of the Dominion, was found. In response to the reporter's question he said: "Oh, yes I am well acquainted with Mr. John Marshall. He has been a member of one of the councils of this city for about seven years. He is a well known citizen and a reliable temperance man. About four years ago he was first taken seriously ill and his case was brought before the order. The provisions under which the total disability claim is paid in our organization are very strict. The weekly sick benefit is payable to any person under the doctor's care who is unable to follow their usual avocation, but the total disability is a comparatively large sum, only paid a member who is disabled for life, and declared by medical men to be entirely past all hope of recovery. In Mr. Marshall's case there was some difficulty it is true. He was examined upon a number of occasions, covering a period of upwards of two years. The medical men who examined him all agreed that there was little hope of recovery, but they would not give the definite declaration that our law demands—that the claimant was permanently and totally disabled—until last November. When the declaration by two regular physicians was made and, our Dominion Medical referee, we paid Mr. Marshall the total disability benefit of one thousand dollars. He was paid by a cheque on the Bank of Montreal. There is no doubt whatever about the remarkable character of Mr. Marshall's cure. A large number of our members in this city were intimately acquainted with Mr. Marshall and called upon him frequently. All were unanimous in the belief that he was past all hope of recovery. His cure is looked upon as next to a miracle. I have conversed with him a number of times about it, and he gives the whole credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the application of cold water which is recommended as a subsidiary treatment by the proprietors of the medicine. He drops into my office every day or two and is apparently enjoying good health now."

The general offices of the order are in the old Bank of Upper Canada building just opposite the publishing house. Mr. J. H. Land, the Dominion Secretary, was easily found, and in response to the questions asked simply corroborated all that the general manager had said. Mr. Land is a neighbour of Mr. Marshall, living within a block of him in the northeastern part of the city. He was well acquainted with him for years before he was taken sick, and pronounced his recovery as one of the most remarkable things in all his experience.

"I have not much faith in patent nostrums," said Mr. Land, "but Mr. Marshall's case proves beyond a doubt that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a wonderful medicine. He seems to have exhausted all other means and methods of treatment during his long illness and all without any benefit, but his recovery was rapid and wonderful immediately after he commenced using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Inquiries among the city druggists disclosed the fact that an extraordinary demand had arisen for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and that the claims made for them by the proprietors are borne out by numerous cures. It may be here remarked that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are offered by the proprietors as a certain blood tonic and nerve builder for all diseases arising from an over-taxed or weakened condition of the nervous system, or from an impoverished or vitiated condition of the blood—such as the complaints peculiar to female weakness, loss of appetite, inability to sleep, dizziness, pale and sallow complexions, loss of memory, that tired feeling which affects so many, and disease resulting from over-work, mental worry, abuse or loss of vital forces, etc.

John A. Barr, a well known and popular dispenser of drugs here, told the reporter that he knew of no patent medicine that had such a demand upon it, or one that had done all that was promised for it. On that day he had sold no less than forty boxes of the pills, and since he received the first instalment he has sold nearly three hundred boxes. He told of several cases of great relief and cure that had come under his notice. Mr. Wm Webster, MacNab street, after suffering from ataxy for years, from the first had found certain relief from taking the pills, and he is now a new man. Mr. George Leis, corner of Park and Main streets, after years of illness of a similar nature, had taken three boxes of the pills, and was able to walk out greatly improved in health. Another case Mr. Barr vouched for was a city patient who had been cured by the pills of the effects of la grippe, after having been given up by the doctors. Many others had spoken highly of the Pink Pills as a fine remedy for nervous and blood disorders. Other druggists told the same story.

One thing worthy of note in connection with the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the light expense attending the treatment. These pills are sold in boxes (never in bulk or by the 100) at fifty cents a box and may be had of all dealers or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. or Morristown, N.Y.

"Casey's Troubles."

The above title seemed to arouse the curiosity of the New York public so much so that on the opening night the house was packed to the doors. The success of the play was instantaneous, and during the entire New York engagement the theatre was crowded. The play is an unqualified success: the scenery beyond anything seen yet; the company a powerful and evenly balanced one, and Miss Lillian Kennedy as the heroine "Bess" presents a characterization which for histrionic ability has never been surpassed on the American stage. d39

An Ingenious Puzzle.

They sat by the shores of Lovesick Lake,
"My name, sweet girl," said he "will you take,"
"You bet," she gushed and the slang she slung,
Fell like pearly pearls from her tireless tongue.
Now, tell me how many their children will be
If they're nourished on hawley bros' tea?

Large Shipment.

W. J. Morrow received one car of The Dominion Co's Celebrated Bottled Ale, White Label pints and quarts and Indian Pale pints and quarts. All Ale shipped to me is carefully stored by the firm and held until it is in A1 condition for use. I am the only dealer in town buying Ale in this way, so therefore carry the finest class of goods. Parties requiring Aged Wines of any kind Brandies or Gins, in Bottle or Woods will do well to call as my stock is the largest and most complete of any house in town. d25tf

The Daily Round.

Before A. W. R. Young, J. P., (and Mr. Chas. Cameron, J.P., associate magistrate) this morning Owen Baker, of Lakefield, who had been gathered in while drunk the day before, was discharged on promising to go home at once. It was his first offence.

Mr. Geo. Kingdon was charged with allowing his cow to run at large. The cow was captured in the Nicholl Hospital grounds yesterday morning. It was claimed the cow was pastured in Mr. Britton's field, and that the fences were not sufficient to keep the cow in. As the questions of who was responsible for the fence and whether it was in a good state of repair, were involved, the case was enlarged.

David Brown, a battered, sunburnt, grey-haired wanderer, was charged with being a vagrant. He said he had come to town looking for work, and though he was a bookkeeper by profession, he was willing to work at painting or labor of any kind, and promised to join the Salvation Army and reform. He was bound to give the acting magistrate a sample of his penmanship, and though his hand was trembling from his debauches, he handled the pen with considerable skill. But David was not a desirable citizen, with all his ability with tongue and pen, and he was ordered to leave the town by five o'clock.

The insane woman arrested last Saturday was to day further remanded till Tuesday next.

If the ladies would abandon cosmetics and more generally keep their blood pure and vigorous by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, naturally fair complexions would be the rule instead of the exception, as at present. Pure blood is the best beautifier.

Another Victim of Rice Lake.

A Dead Indian Found Floating in the Water.

Friday afternoon about three o'clock a couple of fishermen from Peterborough (two Frenchmen, one of whom was named Berdell), while trawling in Rice Lake observed the body of a man floating, face downward, in the water about three-quarters of a mile east of the river mouth and 300 yards out from the shore at a place known as HARRIS'S POINT. The Frenchmen would not go near the floater, and presently James Jarvis, a Rice Lake fisherman, came along. The latter went for help, and assisted by Messrs. James Kyle, and Thos. Thompson, towed the body ashore. Upon investigation it was found to be the body of an Alnwick Indian named William Beaver, aged about 30, who was married and had three children. The face was disfigured and the body swollen.

At first sight it appeared to have been in the water at least nine or ten days, but enquiries were made and it was learned that deceased had been seen in his canoe Tuesday of the storm, and it was also reported that he had been seen alive Wednesday morning. However that may be, it is pretty certain that Beaver's death was due to drink, as a pail of beer was observed in his canoe Tuesday afternoon. An empty canoe was picked up in the lake Wednesday, which is supposed to have been Beaver's.

Dr. Shaw, of Keene, Assistant Coroner, was notified of the discovery of the body, but there being no marks of violence or any suspicion of foul play an inquest was not deemed necessary, and the remains were sent to the Indian's friends at Alnwick for burial.

Board of Trade.

A meeting of the Board of Trade will be held in the town council chamber Monday evening at eight o'clock. Everyone favorable to the Car Works bylaw is urged to attend.

Dangerous Fireworks.

A little son of Mr. Dan. Donohue, Simcoe street, Friday afternoon was playing with a rocket. It exploded and the charge flew into the little fellow's face, badly burning it, but fortunately not injuring the sight of his eyes.

A West Ward Alarm.

About half past nine o'clock this morning an alarm of fire was sounded from the box at Lynch's grocery in the west end, but before the brigade started out information came over the telephone that the fire was out. It seems that a child playing with matches had set fire to the parlor curtains of Mr. Bullen's house, and the blaze was startling enough while it lasted. Those in the house had presence of mind to pull down the burning fabric and in a few moments the danger was over. The damage was slight.

A Narrow Escape.

Mr. 'Tuck" Mein, of Ashburnham, had a close call for his life yesterday afternoon. He works at the Edison Works, and mounted a ladder to oil some line shafting directly over the large engines which furnish the power for the works. He became overbalanced or the ladder shifted, and to save himself from falling into the engines, where he would have been crushed to death, he jumped between them, and in so doing had to catch the steam pipe. His hand and arm were badly burned, but his life was saved.

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his torments and agonies were pitiable to behold; he had no rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicine, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were ended, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355.92
Increase over previous year	3,421,372 84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599 15

Increase over 1889	75,649.95
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Polic

WELSH RAILWAY WRECK

FIFTEEN PERSONS INJURED, SOME FATALLY.

A Passenger Train Crashes into a Volunteer Special O'Brien Pays the Costs The Grain Situation in Germany Foreign Money Markets Stagnant.

LONDON, Aug. 17. A serious railway accident occurred in Wales last night. A passenger train crashed into a volunteer special which was stationary on the track at a point between Pont-y-Pridd and Cardiff. Fifteen persons were injured, some of whom will probably die. The rear of the special was completely wrecked.

O'Brien Will Settle.

LONDON, Aug. 17. In the Salisbury-O'Brien case an agreement has been signed by which Mr. O'Brien promises to pay his debts, with costs into the case on Lord Salisbury undertaking to facilitate an appeal to the House of Lords.

Happy Exporters.

VIENNA, Aug. 17. The rise in the price of grain promises splendid returns. Grain exporters, especially in the Balkan States, promise to be excellent and sufficient for the Austrian home consumption.

The Holy Coat of Treves.

ROME, Aug. 17. The Pope has written to the bishops of Treves eulogizing the exhibition of the Holy Coat as laudable and opportune and promising unlimited indulgences to pilgrims.

The Land Purchase Act.

LONDON, Aug. 17. The list of the large estates in Ireland to come under the operation of the Irish Land Purchase Act, passed by the Government at the last session of Parliament, are those of Lord Lansdowne, Lord Ormonde, Lord Clanricarde and Lord Bessborough. Arrangements have been entered into between the landlords and tenants by which the latter agree to purchase the property for £225,000.

Unemployed Miners.

LONDON, Aug. 17. Notwithstanding the improvement in the iron and tin plate trade and the closing of many of the works on account of holidays, there is a very appreciable falling off in the demand for coal, the miners in the Aberdare district of South Wales, where are situated extensive collieries and coke ovens, have gone on strike. The number will be about 4,000 who have quit work—10,000.

Manning on Bazars.

LONDON, Aug. 17. Cardinal Manning, in a letter just made public, denounces the employment of lotteries and raffles or bazars for works of charity or religion. The Lord's work, he says, ought to be done in the Lord's own way. Christians must not encourage lower motives.

Corn Duties Will Stand.

BERLIN, Aug. 17. The North German Gazette declares that the Government is not likely to adhere to its decision not to increase the corn duties.

Spurgeon

LONDON, Aug. 17. Mr. Spurgeon is able to sit up for a short period daily. The friends now earnestly hope he will be able to resume his pulpit. He was weighed on a still and great was the progress necessary to show. The increase in the record. He himself says the Lord's people would not let him die, their prayers kept him alive. His physicians state that his disease is now a fluid that threatens to withstand every remedy. The best prognostication at present is that it will be many months before he will be able to preach.

Transport of Corn Refused.

BERLIN, Aug. 17. It is rumored the Russian railway administration refused to give advantages for the transportation of corn to the German frontier. While it was believed to be possible to obtain large shipments of rye before the 27th the trade here was consoled, but the report that the Russian railway administration refused transportation to the German frontier sent prices up Saturday.

New Steamship Line.

GLASGOW, Aug. 17. There is a movement on foot here to form a new steamship company to run bi-weekly steamers to Canadian and United States ports. The new steamers are to be very fast, the idea of the promoters of the company being to win the cattle trade and general trade by giving that class of business special attention.

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, Aug. 17. During the past week business in the money market was simply in a state of stagnation. The discount rates were 1½ for three months, 2½ for short with nothing doing on the stock exchange, the dullness was accentuated at the beginning of the week by unfavorable reports from Berlin where the fall in mobile notes and Russian securities generally caused weakness. Later on the week another element of unrest was the suspension of an important firm at Trieste.

The Paris and Vienna Bourses were closed yesterday, which was a Catholic holiday. Friday's closing prices had showed decreases for the week as follows: Rentes 30 Centimes, Bank of France shares 15 francs, Credit Foncier shares 7½, Francs Panama 2½ francs.

At Berlin on the Bourse prices were flat under the influence of the continued rise of the prices of corn and partly owing to the belief that the Government means to make no reduction of the tariff.

Socialists' Congress.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 17. The International Labor Congress, or as it is now called the International Socialist Workmens Congress, opened here to-day. Many Austrian and numerous English trade union delegates are in attendance despite the fact that but few English delegates were expected. The Belgian delegates, Mm. Vervaeken and Volding delivered addresses, in which they heartily welcomed all the delegates to Brussels and urged the union of all the socialist sects. Their remarks elicited hearty applause.

Added Another to the List.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 17. Antonio Zarrinali, a noted bandit chief and desperado and the slayer of eight men, has added another victim to his list. Tombe Pestrango, a deputy sheriff.

AERONAUTS KILLED.

Two Parachutists Tumble to Death—Drunk in a Balloon.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 17.—At Coney Island Saturday Annie Harkness, of Terre Haute Ind., made a balloon ascension, and at an elevation of 500 feet started to drop with a parachute. The parachute began slowly to unfold but soon closed again. The woman fell to the ground with frightful velocity and was instantly killed and fearfully mangled.

TACOMA, Aug. 17.—An aeronaut named Johnson fell from a balloon to the ground a distance of about 2000 feet here Saturday and was frightfully crushed. He died in shortly. He was said to be intoxicated.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 16. James Buckingham, known as Prof. Deine, the aeronaut and parachutist, who made an ascension at Pleasant Beach, Onondaga Lake, this city to-day, met a horrible death in the water there about six o'clock. When several hundred feet up in the air the professor loosened his hold on the balloon and dropped heavily over the lake. The parachute inflated well enough and the descent was made slowly, but when the water was reached the parachute completely covered Buckingham and it is thought he was unable to extricate himself from its folds. About 7000 people were present.

The New Spanish Treaty.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 17. Secretary Blaine's new treaty of reciprocity with Spain causes great anxiety among Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island exporters of fish, potatoes, lumber and other products. One-eighth of the total exports of the provinces are to the Spanish West Indies. The exports of dry fish from Nova Scotia alone aggregate 250,000 quintals. Of late years Havana has been the most profitable market of the provinces for potatoes. Under the treaty negotiated between Great Britain and Spain in 1886, Canadian natural products were included in the "favored Nation" clause. That treaty does not expire until July 1, 1892. But the new treaty negotiated by Mr. Blaine provides for the admission into the Spanish West India market of the natural products of the United States free, while placing heavy duties upon imposts from all other countries. This would, of course, result in an immediate annihilation of Canadian trade with those islands. Canadian exporters therefore insist that Canadian products must be admitted into the Spanish West Indies upon precisely the same terms as American products during the existence of the treaty.

A special meeting of the Board of Trade discussed the matter yesterday and resolved to invite the immediate attention of the Dominion Government to it, praying that they will make prompt representations to the Imperial Government, to the end that Canadian products may be admitted on as favorable terms as similar products from the United States.

A Skipper in the Cheese Trade.

PARKHILL, Aug. 17. About a year and a half ago a young man named George Alexander, a cheese maker, came to Parkhill and opened negotiations for the erection of a cheese factory. He succeeded in associating with his own name that of Mr. Robert Leslie, cheese maker and dealer of Wood stock. They started operations in May, 1890. On Friday of last week Alexander stated that he had sold 100 boxes in stock, all this season's make, to a man in Sarnia, to whom it was shipped. On Sunday morning Alexander took the last express going west. It has since been learned that the party to whom the cheese was consigned was not the purchaser, but another Sarnia firm, who gave its check for $1,010.33, less $13 for freight charges. The check Alexander is reported to have cashed in Sarnia last Monday afternoon. He also sold some boxes in town to several parties, besides some in Alsa Craig. It is learned that on these sales he made collections on Saturday, so that the total proceeds from the sales made by him will exceed $1000.

England and Egypt.

LONDON, Aug. 17. It is now admitted that the Turkish Ambassador's sudden return to London was in obedience to orders from the Sultan to resume negotiations for the evacuation of Egypt. Rustem Pasha did see Lord Salisbury and did open the subject. He was met by the English Foreign Minister in the spirit which has so often governed the answers of Turkish diplomatists to inconvenient applications. The moment, said Lord Salisbury, was not opportune. His colleagues were away. A long time had elapsed since the matter had been discussed, and he could not resume it without consulting his Cabinet. It was therefore to stand over till October. French diplomacy is baffled for the present, and that ingenious scheme for putting a French puppet in the place of the Khedive, and so squeezing England out of Egypt, has to be deferred for a little while.

That Demography Congress.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The few remaining people in London have been able to amuse themselves during the week by reading, if they chose, six or eight columns daily about hygiene and demography. The last must be the very lowest of sciences, and undertakes to give a scientific account of the people of the earth and their social relations. It does not seem to differ much from social science. Some lustre was lent to this big congress by the address of the Prince of Wales, whose early passion for chemistry now gives place to the passion for good sanitary arrangements.

Seized Their Boats.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Information was received here today that the Argonaut Boat Club of Toronto, on its way to Washington to take part in the regatta next week, was stopped at Suspension Bridge by the Collector of Customs, who demanded payment of duty on their boats. A telegram was sent to them by the Columbia Boat Club here to pay duty under protest, or give a bond for payment of duty and that efforts would be made to have everything made all right at the Treasury Department to-morrow.

Respited After the Noose Had Been Adjusted.

COLUMBUS, S. C., Aug. 17.—David Baxter and Mrs. Mary Johnson, who were sentenced to be hanged at Greenville Saturday for the murder of William Johnson, the woman's husband, were respited by the governor after they had taken their places on the death trap and the noose had been adjusted.

SCANDAL IN HIGH LIFE.

A DIVORCE SUIT OF PROVINCIAL INTEREST.

A Son of the ex-Lieutenant Governor of Manitoba Applies for a Divorce From His Wife Who is a Daughter of a Former Finance Minister of the Dominion.

OTTAWA, Aug. 17.—The Canada Gazette contains the following notice of application to parliament for a bill of divorce:

"Notice is hereby given that James Albert Manning Aikins, of the City of Winnipeg, in the County of Selkirk, in the Province of Manitoba, barrister-at-law, will apply to the Parliament of Canada, at the next session thereof, for a bill of divorce from his wife Mary Bertha Aikins, now of the State of New York, one of the United States of America, on the grounds of adultery, desertion and bigamy."

W. H. Culver, of Winnipeg, is the solicitor for the applicant. The application is dated Winnipeg 17th June, but its publication has been apparently delayed. The parties to this sensational divorce case are well known in Ottawa and throughout the Dominion. The applicant, Mr. James A. M. Aikins, is a Winnipeg lawyer, and a son of Hon. J. B. Aikins, ex lieutenant-governor of Manitoba, who was for many years a member of the Dominion government. The respondent Mrs. Aikins, is a daughter of the Hon. A. W. McLelan, formerly finance minister of the Dominion, who was at the time of his death, which occurred about a year ago, lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia. Mr. Aikins and Miss McLelan were married in Ottawa about ten years ago. The wedding will be remembered as one of the great society events of the time. It appears that Mrs. Aikins has been living apart from her husband for some time. The Senate will not be able to hear evidence in the case before next winter. Curiously enough both Mr. Aikins, father of the applicant, and Mr. McLelan, father of the respondent, were for many years members of the Senate, and colleagues of the men who must hear and decide the divorce suit.

Dominion Council R. T. of T.

HAMILTON, Aug. 17.—The Dominion Council, R. T. of T., decided to establish a new weekly temperance newspaper, and to continue the publication of the official monthly journal.

Those officers were elected:

Councillor, A. M. Featherston, Montreal; vice-councillor, Rev. A. M. Phillips, Toronto; past councillor, W. W. Buchanan, Hamilton; chaplain, Rev. C. W. Watch, Oshawa; secretary, John H. Land, Hamilton; auditor, P. H. Stewart, Barrie; advocate, J. W. Jones, Hamilton; general manager, W. W. Buchanan, Hamilton; supt. of cadets, Miss M. J. Sanderson, Peterboro; supt. of white cross, J. A. Thompson, Fredericton, N. B.

An Octogenarian Missing.

ORANGEVILLE, Aug. 17.—Charlie Veitch is a gentleman of nearly 80 summers, who with his wife has been a resident of Orangeville for upwards of 20 years. On Wednesday morning of last week he took a C.P.R. train for Toronto and has not since been heard from. For several days before his sudden departure there were strained relations between him and his wife owing to a property dispute. It is reported that he has gone either to Australia or England. On Saturday last Mr. A. A. Hughson issued a writ against him for alimony on behalf of Mrs. Veitch.

Bail Refused in the Handcock Case.

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—Justice Street has intimated that he cannot overstep the practice and grant bail to Edward Handcock, who is awaiting trial for the murder of his daughter, Sophia Handcock. It has always been the practice to refuse bail to prisoners awaiting trial on the charge of murder, unless there has been some default on the part of the Crown in prosecuting the case. This being the set rule of the judges Justice Street refused to grant Handcock bail.

Sought Death in a Well.

WIARTON, Ont., Aug. 17. Mrs. McLean of Stoke's Bay committed suicide yesterday morning. On awaking early her husband was surprised to find that she was out, and on making search her lifeless body was found with her head and one shoulder under water in a small barrel well near the house. Mrs. McLean has been in a melancholy state for some time, owing to ill health. She leaves six children, of whom the youngest is not a year old.

Died in Jail.

LONDON, Aug. 17. An inquest was held at the jail Saturday afternoon on the body of the child of Elizabeth Taylor. The mother was Friday committed for trial on a charge of theft. The child was three months old. The jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes, hastened by the removal of the child from its home to the jail without being properly clothed.

A Guelphite Killed.

GUELPH, Aug. 17. A letter was received to day from St. Louis stating that John Fitzgerald, whose wife lives in Queen street, in this city, had been shot in St. Louis by a policeman.

Dunnville Jubilant.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 17. Natural gas was struck at Dunnville at 5 p.m. Saturday at a depth of 612 feet. After extracting the drill at that hour a strong odor of gas was perceptible, and a match being placed over the aperture a flame of 6 to 10 feet high was the result. There was quite a crowd present, and the people of the town are jubilant over the prospects.

The Farthing Inquest.

LEWISTON, Aug. 17. At the closing session of the coroner's inquest in the case of Cora Farthing, District Attorney King made a short address. He stated that he did not think the girl's betrayer could be prosecuted. The jury was out for an hour when the case was given into its hands and its verdict was to the effect that the girl deliberately walked into the river while laboring under a severe mental strain.

Attempted Suicide at Toronto.

TORONTO, Aug. 17. W. L. Wooster of 321 Pape avenue, out of work and despondent, attempted to commit suicide with a razor Saturday. His daughter snatched the weapon after he had inflicted a 3-inch gash in his throat. He is locked up.

Baptist Divine Dead.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 17. Prof. Edward Duff, Principal of Baptist College here and late of Peterboro, Ont., died Sunday of consumption.

Fire at Exeter.

EXETER, Aug. 17. Fire this morning destroyed W. E. Couchenour's drug store, Lutz's drug store and William Folland's tinshop.

Colima Earthquake.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 17.—A telegram from Colima says that the ashes from the volcano have ceased to fall, though the column of fire is the same. The fall of ashes in some cases has attained a depth of from three to six inches on house tops and in the streets. The eruption is on a scale of magnitude that has never before been observed. Streams of lava many feet in width are coursing down the sides of the volcano burning everything in their course.

Danced on the Scaffold.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 17. Henry Hewson, the wife murderer, paid the penalty for his cowardly crime this morning. He was a most blasphemous prisoner, and danced a jig on the gallows. No religious service would be tolerated by him, and he absolutely refused to see anyone but the prison officials. When going to the scaffold he laughed and joked with his executioners. He had smoked and joked all the night before. A big glass of whisky was his only breakfast.

Hewson weighed over 300 pounds, had a very large neck and small head. He was pronounced dead in four minutes after the fall. When the body was cut down it was found that his neck had stretched a foot. This horrible occurrence had been feared by the officials.

A "GREEN GOODS" KING.

A CLEVER SWINDLER CAPTURED IN NEW YORK.

He Had Obtained Thousands of Dollars From Gullible People in Canada and the United States Who Were Anxious to Purchase Counterfeit Money.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—For a month or more M. D. Wheeler, now Chief of the United States Postoffice Inspectors, has known that packages were being received by some person or persons in this city through the express companies, containing money from people in all parts of the United States and Canada, sent in answer to circulars offering "green goods" for sale. Packages of money have been addressed to Thomas G. Collins, to E. C. Davis and S. A. Johnson, all at the same address, No. 474 Canal-street, where there is a cigar store kept by Charles Steele.

A scheme was arranged, a decoy letter written and as result a man named George Jacobs was yesterday arrested. He is an intelligent looking man, about thirty years old, and was dressed well and in good taste. He is the chief man in the celebrated Parmlee "syndicate" of "green goods" men. About twenty packages addressed to him, coming from various States and from Canada and containing from $5 to $1000 each, have been seized at the office of the United States Express Company. Jacobs' plan was to get his victims to pay the express companies the sum they wished to invest, on receipt of a package supposed to contain counterfeit money. The package was really a zinc box, containing a bottle of sand, but Jacobs would write in explanation that detectives had watched him when he went to the express office, and he had therefore sent a decoy parcel. He would send the "green goods" in a short time. Jacobs thus had the money and, of course, at once closed his business relations with his victims.

Duty on Foreign Cars.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The Treasury Department was recently requested to make a ruling on the following question: "If a United States company builds cars in this country and leases them to a Canadian railroad to be operated on business in both countries, and in which each company realizes a portion of the earnings, should duty be charged on said cars?" Acting Secretary Middleton makes this statement:

"I have to state that without considering the question whether the interests of America and American stockholders are identical in this case, which is not pertinent to the inquiry, paragraph No. 493 of the Act of October 1, 1890, exempts from duty "articles the growth, produce and manufacture of the United States when returned after having been exported, without having been advanced in value or improved in condition by any process of manufacture or other means; but proof of the identity of such articles shall be made, under general regulations, etc., and in case your inquiry relates to the importation at some future time of said cars, such provision of law would seem to apply. If however, your inquiry relates to the daily or weekly passing of such cars across the Canadian frontier the cars would be governed by the principle enunciated in section No. 9549, a copy of which is herewith enclosed."

That decision was that cars engaged in regular traffic between Canada and the United States cannot be considered as importations subject to duty.

A Peculiar Identification.

BUFFALO, Aug. 17.—A day or two since two women arrived here from Petersburg, near Welland, Ont., searching for tidings of Andrew Ryan of Canada, the missing husband of one of them. Mrs. Ryan evidently came here with the idea in her head that her husband was dead, and only wanted something like proof. For when she found among the heaps of clothing at the morgue a shirt which resembled her husband's, she was moved to tears.

Mrs. Ryan borrowed the Morgue-keeper's jackknife and dissected a portion of the shirt, carefully folded it up and placed it in her pocket. It seemed to soothe her feelings and she went away from the dead-house satisfied that her husband was buried, and that was the end of him.

Of course the woman may be right about the shirt, but as that was the only garment she could recognize, and as this particular shirt was not much unlike most men's shirts it is quite within the bounds of probability that Andrew Ryan, who has only been missing about a month will turn up, as he may have shipped up the lakes a few days after being released from the workhouse.

A 400lb Corpse.

BRISTOL, Aug. 17.—A remarkable funeral occurred at Hartsville yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. McCloy, wife of Hugh McCloy, was buried. Mrs. McCloy weighed nearly 400 pounds, and it is supposed that she was the largest woman in Bucks county. The funeral was held at a late hour to avoid attracting a crowd. Eight men were required to remove the body from the house, and it had to be lowered from a window. The largest hearse in town was too small for the purpose, and the remains had to be conveyed to Beechwood cemetery in a big wagon. The grave looked like an excavation for a cellar. The coffin was a large home-made affair, being especially constructed to meet the exigencies of the case. It was lowered into the grave by 8 strong men. The body was wrapped in heavy blankets.

Impaled Himself on His Bayonet.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 17. At Camp Lincoln yesterday Private E. J. Cassern of Company A, who had been reprimanded by the captain, rushed behind the tent and placing his bayonet against the ground, point upward, threw himself upon it several times before he could be stopped. Eight wounds were found upon his chest. The last time he raised up his blouse and thrust the bayonet into his abdomen. He will die.

Lynch in Hayti.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. A Port au Prince despatch says a noisy and turbulent session of the Chamber of Deputies Saturday was closed with a vote of censure against the members of Hippolyte's Cabinet and was followed by the ministers handing in their resignations to the President. Members of Chamber openly charged the Cabinet Ministers with corruption.

A Boodler at Windsor.

BOSTON, Aug. 17.—Warren P. Coop, the tax collector of Sagus, Mass., who fled, leaving an alleged shortage of $20,000 is living in Windsor, Ont. He admits the shortage, but says the amount is not so much as stated, and if they had given him a reasonable time he could have arranged for a settlement in full.

Railway Station Burned.

PORT ROBINSON, Ont., Aug. 17.—The old frame station on the Welland Division of the G. T. R. was totally destroyed by fire early Friday morning. A number of coupon tickets, together with a small amount of freight, was burned.

The Baby Smoker.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17. The Illinois Humane Society has decided to prosecute the parents of 2-year-old Leonard Turner, the tobacco-smoking baby. Ever since the baby was two months old his father, who is said to be a dissipated character, has been teaching him to smoke. The child has now become so accustomed to the weed that he cries for his pipe and tobacco. The child is in a very feeble condition, suffering from acute nicotine poisoning.

TURNBULL'S.

We want to call attention to a large lot of Lace Curtains we are opening out and marking; there is nothing attractive in a large lot unless they are being sold at prices that will save money to the purchaser. This is just what we purpose to do. We show a Curtain, taped and bound, at 60c. a pair, a still better one for 75c., and a beauty for $1, while the best in the lot are only $1.50. We have cleared out whole lines at greatly reduced prices is how we are able to offer such inducements. We have opened out to-day and placed on our second floor a nice range of new patterns in Hemp Carpets, some of these are very desirable.

To-day we open our first shipment of Ladies' Mantles for Fall. They are a very stylish lot. Parties wanting one for a special occasion early will be glad to know that they can now see the new fall styles with us. We have received the invoice of a lot of Dress Goods, they will be opened before this appears in print. We have also got nearly all the shades of very pretty Plaids for making over dresses. We need hardly remind the public that everything stylish, serviceable and cheap is kept on our counters.

In our Tailoring Department we are showing some fresh patterns of Heavy Weight Tweeds at from $15 to $17 a suit, especially suited for elderly men. Ask to see our heavy pantings at 50c. a yard, made out of the best of wool.

Receprocral Trade.

Is any Extension and Development of Trade Between the United States and Canada Desirable? If so, What are the Best Means of Promoting it?

FIRST PRIZE PAPER, BY FRANK C. WELLS, TORONTO, CANADA,

The political and commercial relations that subsist between the United States and the Dominion of Canada are of a kind for which a historical parallel will be sought in vain. From the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic Ocean the North American Continent is the home of but two nations. The line of latitude that separates the Republic from the Dominion runs as nearly as possible through the centre of the vast territory it divides. South of this line, sixty-five million people, owing allegiance to one federal system, enjoy the utmost freedom of trade among themselves. North of it, five million, owing allegiance to another federal system, are in their domestic commerce equally unhampered. The boundary is not the result of either natural or racial divisions. The United States and Canada are geographical complements. Natural barriers and vast distances separate the different groups of States in the one country and the different groups of provinces in the other, and interfere to some extent with internal trade; but all along the internal border nature has ordained that mighty streams of commerce should flow north and south. On both sides of the boundary the English speaking race is dominant. Socially—if not politically or commercially—the two peoples are already, to all intents and purposes, one, and no prejudices of race operate to blind either to considerations of material advantage. Further an international system of railways and canals has been constructed to make travel easy and to facilitate the exchange of products. And yet, in spite of all this, the politicians of the United States and those of Canada have, in their inscrutable wisdom, erected across the continent, along the imaginary lines of demarcation, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, a double row of custom houses, to nullify, so far as human perversity can do so, the plain decrees of nature, by turning trade from natural into artificial channels, and to render of comparatively little benefit the great sums constantly expended to promote international barter. He must be a staunch protectionist, indeed, who will defend the erection and maintenance of the barriers on economic grounds. As well advocate a customs line between New York and Pennsylvania, or between Ontario and Quebec!

The main question under consideration is, then, answered emphatically in the affirmative. Not only an extension of trade, but the fullest and freest trade between the United States and Canada is desirable. To the free trader, who would rejoice to see the example of Great Britain followed by all the world, and the Chinese wall theory of prosperity relegated to the limbo of exploded fallacies in political economy, the double line of custom houses across North America seems the crowning absurdity of a fallacious system. To the moderate protectionist and advocate of tariff reform, who is not yet prepared to throw open American markets freely to European competitors, continental free trade seems a safe and sensible step in a right direction. Even the ultra-protectionist, who in the Republic champions the McKinley bill and in Canada denounces it and clamors at Ottawa for a similar measure, finds it impossible to adduce any arguments not of a short-sighted or trivial kind in support of the contention that the commercial union of the two countries would not promote the material interests of both. Canada, it is true, would gain a market of sixty-five million million in exchange for one of five million, but for every dollar's worth of products that crossed the line from north to south a dollar's worth of other products would cross the line from south to north; while the rapid development of the almost illimitable natural resources of the Dominion which, with a continental market, would certainly take place, would benefit the larger no less than the smaller partner in the union.

Nowhere, perhaps, would the benefits of reciprocity be felt more than in the east. Mr. Erastus Wiman, has pointed out, in a recent magazine article, that if the manufacturers of the New England States are to hold their own with the States to the south and the west where coal, iron and cheap food exist side by side, they must be placed in equally favorable conditions. This can only be accomplished by throwing down the customs wall between the Eastern States and the Maritime Provinces of Canada. In these provinces are abundant supplies of coal and iron, now, for a lack of a market, lying for the most part untouched. These provinces, too, are fitted by nature to send the adjacent states quantities of staple products—including potatoes, oats, hay, dairy produce, and an unlimited supply of the finest fish food. Without an outlet for their mineral and other produce, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island are to-day in a state of decline and atrophy. For lack of just such supplies, New England is in danger of losing her manufacturing prestige.

In Quebec, too, trade restriction has had disastrous results. The natural resources of the Province have remained undeveloped and the farmers have become impoverished through the short-sighted and mutually hurtful policy of two great nations.

Further west the advantages that would accrue from reciprocity are equally striking. There is no reason why the volume of business between New York and Ontario, or Pennsylvania and Ontario, should not be, in proportion to population, as large as that between the two States named. Indeed, it might well be larger, for the natural wealth of Ontario is vastly greater than that of either Pennsylvania or New York. Its unbounded capabilities for agriculture and stock-raising, its immense forests of merchantable timber, its great stores of iron, copper, nickel, and other minerals, should make it the most prosperous, as it is the most highly favoured portion of the continent. Free trade with the United States once fairly established, such prosperity might reasonably be looked for. Ontario would gain the natural and the best market for her produce and her raw material; American capital and energy would gain access to one of nature's richest storehouses, and the manufacturers of the Middle States would compete on equal terms with those of the Province for the patronage of two millions of the best customers on the continent.

The failure of the enormous grain and stock-raising areas of Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest Territories to attract an immigration worthy of comparison with that which has flowed into the tier of States on their southern border, is due largely to the same ruinous fiscal condition. With unrestricted reciprocity, settlers in the Canadian Northwest would no longer be forced to pay tribute to Toronto and Montreal manufacturers. Trade would find its natural centres at St. Paul and Chicago, and an influx of populations, with its accompanying benefits to both countries, might confidently be expected. British Columbia, too, stands to gain enormously by the exchange of her coal, timber and fishery wealth with California, Oregon and the new States in the far West, while to these States the free entrance of the commodities named would be a boon of no small proportions. In the case of coal, so great has the necessity of supply from the north become that railroads have already been constructed across the international boundary to connect the Canadian mines with the centres of population springing up to the south.

The more the subject is looked into the more apparent becomes the insanity of the restrictionist policy. The very fact that in spite of the customs barriers, nearly one-half of the total trade of the Dominion, and two-thirds of the total trade of Ontario, is with the United States, ought to silence the objections of any Canadian who has at heart the interests of his country and not those of a clique of manufacturers and monopolists. The further fact that, notwithstanding her protectionist tariff, Canada buys from the United States as much as do Mexico and all the republics of Central and South America put together, and sells to the United States—despite the fact that nearly ninety per cent. of American imports from the southern countries are untaxed—one-third as much as do they, ought to convince Mr. Blaine's followers in the Republic that that statesman is not seeking an extension of trade relations in the most promising direction. The absurdity of endeavoring to increase an ocean trade with the Latin nations in the other half of the hemisphere while a tariff war is maintained by two countries peopled by the same race, separated for hundreds of miles by only an imaginary line, and interlocked by a common railroad system, is, indeed, so apparent that a politician so astute as is President Harrison's secretary of state can scarcely fail to perceive it. To bring about the commercial union of the whole northern half of the hemisphere, to thus double the area of the trade of the United States, and gain access for American capitalists and manufacturers to a region as rich in natural resources as it is vast in extent, containing the most prolific fisheries in the world, an amount of timber sufficient to supply the needs of the continent for generations to come, and unlimited quantities of coal and iron; rich besides in nickel, copper, silver, gold and lead, in marble, in salt, in petroleum in coke, in limestone, phosphates, and almost every known mineral substance—this, on the other hand, would be an achievement worthy of a great statesman.

But free trade between the United States and Canada can be advocated on other than commercial grounds. When it comes it must almost of necessity bring with it a final settlement of the Atlantic and the Behring Sea fishery disputes. These fruitful sources of international discord have for too long been permitted to remain open, and their settlement on a broad basis of reciprocal privileges would be hailed with satisfaction by the two countries, whose commercial union their disappearance would signalize. Continental free trade would put an end once and for all to the vexatious controversies to which the present status of the international railway system has given rise. It would beside tend greatly to increase that social union between the United States and the Dominion, to which allusion has already been made. It has often been pointed out—and it is one of the most curious anomalies to which the latitudinal division of the continent has given rise—that, while there are strongly marked differences between the New Englander, the Western American and the Southerner, on the one hand, and between the people of Ontario and the people of the Maritime Provinces—to say nothing of the French Canadians—on the other, there is little to distinguish the dweller in Massachusetts from the Nova Scotian, or the New Yorker from the citizen of Ontario. This fact is sometimes made use of in Canada by advocates of political union with the States, who ask why two peoples subject to substantially the same laws, speaking the same language, reading the same literature, and differing rather on provincial than on national lines, should continue separate governments instead of uniting to form one great American commonwealth. The further fact that upwards of one million Canadians have made homes for themselves in the Republic lends emphasis to this enquiry. Certainly the close connection between the two peoples though it cannot be held to constitute an invincible argument in favor of annexation, with its necessary accompaniment of government centralization at Washington, does constitute a reason why Americans and Canadians should cease to regard each other as foreigners and to harass each other with hostile tariffs and threats of commercial war. Continental free trade would do much to wipe out the boundary line that already is ignored by societies and corporations of all kinds—religious, educational, social, mercantile and industrial. What its ultimate political consequences would be must be left for the prophets to determine. It would undoubtedly mean the triumph of the continental and the defeat of the Imperial idea in Canada. It would probably mean the speedy severance of the slender tie that binds the Dominion to England, and her entrance upon a career of political independence. For this result Canada, having long since outgrown her colonial clothes, is prepared. The change need not involve any rupture with the mother country, whose sentimental interest in the Dominion is far outweighed by her commercial interest in the United States; and it would by destroying all the sources of irritation between Great Britain and the republic, avert, forever, humanly speaking, the terrible possibility of a war or these great powers, and so perform a service for civilization and humanity of incalculable value.

How, then, can this broad measure of reciprocal trade between the United States and Canada be brought about? The essential preliminary is, of course, the arousing of the people of both nations to a sense of the benefits that would follow in its train. Already, on both sides of the line, the campaign of education is going vigorously on. In Canada, where the effects of the policy of restriction is, for obvious reasons, more disastrous than in the richer and more populous nation, the trade issue is almost the only one now claiming public attention. On it a hard-fought election contest has just taken place. This contest was precipitated by the Conservative Government a year before the proper time. That Government, moreover, had in its favor a partisan re-distribution act, voters' lists eighteen months old, the almost solid support of the manufacturing interests, the immense strength of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and its own unlimited use of official power and influence. Notwithstanding all, the Government narrowly escaped defeat, and the Liberal party, whose sole platform was unrestricted reciprocity, carried a majority of the seats in the two chief Provinces, Ontario and Quebec. So strong has the demand for freedom of trade become that Sir John Macdonald, father of protection in Canada though he was, thought it necessary to declare himself friendly to limited reciprocity and to base his appeal to the country on the professed intention of negotiating a treaty on the lines of that of 1854." The Liberal party, on the other hand, were handicapped by a divergence of views among themselves as to the precise form the proposed measure of unrestricted reciprocity should assume, and a consequent lack of boldness and definiteness in the platform laid down by their leaders. The election has left no reasonable doubt of the direction in which public opinion in the Dominion is setting. The policy of commercial isolation has been tried and found wanting, and when a government crisis arises, an event in all probability not far distant,—the people will demand its abolishment in no uncertain terms.

It is natural that in the United States the question of reciprocity with Canada should not to the same extent be regarded as one of paramount importance. Still public opinion especially in the communities that border on the Dominion, is rapidly growing in its favor; and if the congressional elections of last November proved anything, they proved that the people of the republic are in a mood to endorse heartily any pronounced legislation in the direction of freer trade. Let congress proclaim its willingness to see the barriers come down, and an answering echo will speedily come from Ottawa. In the meantime, tariff reformers in both countries must join hands and fight together the battle for continental free trade.

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. CLAUDIO VICUNA.

The New President of the Republic of Chili.

The electoral college of Chili has confirmed the election of Claudio Vicuna as president of the republic from Sept. 18, 1891, to the same date in 1896, a period of five years. President elect Vicuna is a friend of President Balmaceda and is elected with his approval. Vicuna was born in Santiago in 1833, a year memorable for giving birth to the present constitution of Chili. His father, Ignacio Vicuna, was a member of the historic family who gave to Chili the eminent Archbishop Manuel Vicuna; a president of the republic, Francisco Ramon Vicuna; a statesman, historian and liberal reformer, Pedro Felix Vicuna; and a patriot and illustrious citizen, Benjamin Vicuna Mackenna, the first president elected. President elect Vicuna is a man of great attainments, but is at the same time eminently practical and energetic. He devoted the early portion of his life to the study of agriculture on a large farm, where he introduced many important improvements, which have been generally adopted throughout the country. Among these were agricultural steam motors for various purposes for use in the field. He has travelled extensively in Europe and is considered by his countrymen to have every quality for governing Chili with sagacity, moderation and patriotism. It is to be hoped that the wise administration of Claudio Vicuna will see the end of the fratricidal war which has raged so long in the country, and there is every reason to believe that such will be the case. We are enabled to furnish our readers with these particulars through the courtesy of Ramon Velez, the editor of Revista Popular, New York.

GUNBOATS ON AFRICAN RIVERS.

They Can be Put Together at Sea All Ready for Fighting.

This is a picture of one of the gunboats that are built to ply on the rivers of inner Africa. When Great Britain and Portugal a while ago she thought it necessary to police the Zambesi River in order to protect the British traders and missionaries, who were threatened by the Portuguese forces. She therefore had two shallow draft gunboats built. They are more novel affairs than would be supposed from the picture. Each of them is ninety feet in length and made to be put together at sea. In other words, these two boats were made in floatable sections. Experiments were carried out to see how rapidly one of the boats could be put together. In a comparatively still sea the floating sections were dropped over the side of the vessel one by one and fastened together. It was found that the whole operation, from the time of commencing work to the moment when the little vessel was running under steam occupied a little less than twenty four hours. The long process of riveting the sections and launching the boats are obviated in these steamers.

The purpose of putting them together at sea, is so that they may be already for offensive operations, should they enter the mouth of a river in the neighborhood of hostile forces. Of course, it would be impossible on the Zambesi and on many other rivers for a European steamer to cross the bar, and, therefore, it is essential that the gunboat be put together before it enters the river.

These little boats carry nine machine guns, which is quite a formidable armament on the inland waters of Africa. It has been found that stern wheel steamers are best adapted for shallow navigation, and almost all the boats which ply on the inland waters of Africa are of this type. These war vessels draw only about 18 inches of water, which is quite essential on the Zambesi, for although it is one of the greatest rivers in Africa, it is for long distances exceedingly wide and very shallow. Fortunately it has not been necessary to use the boats in offensive operations since they were taken to the Zambesi. It is quite evident that they have done good service in preserving the peace as well as being a safeguard and a protection in the event of war.

An Army With More Officers Than Men.

Ignorance and vanity are the prevailing traits of the Haitian soldier, from general to private, and indeed are marked characteristics of a vast majority of the people. The average of Haitian is an African savage with a French veneer. The Minister of War, in a report on the army published in 1887, places its numerical strength at 20,000 men of which number 13,300 were general officers, staff and regimental officers, and 6500 were private soldiers. As each revolution brings forth a fresh batch of officers and kills off a number of private soldiers, the proportion of officers to privates has not been materially changed. The nominal pay of a private is $12 a year, but even this amount cannot always be collected from the paymaster. By an order of President Hippolyte no regiment is permitted to remain in the same post for a longer period than one month, for fear that the soldiery may conspire against the government with disaffected civilians.—Harper's Weekly.

Assyrian Curiosities.

Ameen Rasi, a handsome Christian Assyrian who is now lecturing in this country, says that men in his country live on six cents a day. Women are sold as slaves to work with oxen at the plow. In Damascus, he says, there are 150,000 Christians, 130,000 Mahommedans, and 5,000 Jews. There is in it a building haunted by John the Baptist's ghost. The door of the room in which he is said to have been beheaded is never opened. The Mahommedans say that once long ago some one opened it and the Baptist's blood flowed out over the city to a depth of five inches. It was the custom of worshipers to leave their shoes outside the temple. There are sometimes 300 or 400 pairs standing in a row, and the poor people hurried through their prayers first and then carefully selected the finest footwear in the row, thereby illustrating the great cleverness of the Assyrians.

A Society Insurance Question.

HAMILTON, Aug. 15.—The Dominion Council of the Royal Templars is in session. The Committee of Claims presented a report which brought up a lively discussion. Two members to whom total disability benefits had been paid during the year were reported as having recovered good health. One was a clergyman and had been laid up for a couple of years before he made his claim, but he had made quite a remarkable recovery since the payment of the total disability of $1000, and although not by any means, a thoroughly sound man, was now enjoying a fair measure of health. The second case was the celebrated Marshall case. John Marshall of this city, who for nearly three years was a helpless invalid, received from the society $1,000 for total disability. His miraculous recovery of a few months ago is known to all newspaper readers. The opinion of some members of the council was that a member who received total disability benefit and subsequently recovered ought to repay the money to the order, but no action was taken in this direction.

The Whale Manslaughter Case.

TORONTO, Aug. 15.—The body of Mrs. Ann Whale, who met a tragic death at Mitchell Tuesday, was brought here for interment yesterday. Her husband, Daniel, has been committed to Stratford jail to answer a charge of manslaughter. The belief that Whale killed his wife is not universal by any means. It is known that the woman was subject to fits, and some affect to believe that while the two were quarreling, perhaps fighting, the woman fell and struck her head against the sideboard, as claimed by the prisoner. The outer corner of the sideboard nearest the lounge has been cut off by direction of the coroner and forwarded to Prof. Ellis, here, for microscopical examination in order to ascertain if there is any blood or hair on it which would support the theory of striking her head against it.

2,000 Believe Him Innocent.

KINCARDINE, Aug. 15.—A few months ago reference was made to barns burned in the neighborhood of Kincardine, Bruce county. Finally a large reward was offered, and a young man named McLeod was sentenced as a firebug to 14 years in Kingston. Two thousand of those who watched the proceedings have already declared by petition to the Minister of Justice that they believe McLeod to be innocent, and his release has been asked for.

A Torontonian Drowned.

TORONTO, Aug. 15. Mr. S. R. Heakes of the East End left yesterday to bring home the body of J. C. Duffy, druggist, who was drowned while bathing at Long Branch, N. Y., on Thursday. Mr. Duffy was 26 years, a native of Toronto and learned the drug business here with A. B. Eadie. He left here about a year ago.

Not a Miracle, Now.

Until recently consumption was considered incurable, but now people are beginning to realize that the disease is not incurable. The cure of consumption is not a miracle now. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure it if taken in time and given a fair trial. This world renowned remedy will not made new lungs, but it will restore deceased ones to a healthy state when other means have failed. Thousands gratefully testify to this. It is the most potent tonic, or strength restorer, alterative, or blood cleanser, and nutritive, or flesh builder, known to medical science. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, "Liver Complaint," and Dyspepsia or Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. a

Regulate the liver and bowels by the judicious use of National Pills, they are purely vegetable. dw

More cases, of sick headache, biliousness, constipation can be cured in less time, and less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means. dw

Makes Flesh and Blood.

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Mothers and Nurses.

All who have the care of children should know that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry may be confidently depended on to cure all summer complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic, cholera infantum, cholera morbus, canker, etc., in children or adults. dw

Once Used, Always Used.

This is a fact as regards Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses from its wonderful efficiency in curing chapped hands and making the skin smooth and soft. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d39

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Liver Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both. dw

Herbs in Herbs.

Health giving herbs, barks, roots and berries are carefully combined in Burdock Blood Bitters, which regulate the secretions, purify the blood and renovate and strengthen the entire system. Price, $1.00 a bottle, 6 for $5. Less than one cent a dose. dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metals with which the country is being flooded. If you want to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

I FEEL BUOYANT

"Am happy to say that results so far are as satisfactory as I could expect, indeed much more so than I did expect. I am enjoying excellent health, appetite good, sleep sweet and refreshing, gaining flesh; am less nervous than I have been for years; feel bright and buoyant * * * It is almost miraculous, making a young man out of one of seventy, for that is just what your treatment is doing for me. I wish the community to know in as modest a way as we can get at it."

Cards are out for another moonlight excursion on the lake under the auspices of the Sons of Canada, on Tuesday, Aug. 25th. This promises to be fully as delightful as the former "moonlight."

Large Shipment.

W. J. Morrow received one car of The Dominion Co's Celebrated Bottled Ale, White Label pints and quarts and Indian Pale pints and quarts. All Ale shipped to me is carefully stored by the firm and held until it is in A1 condition for use. I am the only dealer in town buying Ale in this way, so therefore carry the finest class of goods. Parties requiring Aged Wines of any kind Brandies or Gins, in Bottle or Woods will do well to call as my stock is the largest and most complete of any house in town. d25tf

Salvation Army Notes.

Capt. Carpenter, Architect and Building Inspector for the Salvation Army, will be in town tonight and conduct a special meeting. His visit is an official one, for the purpose of inspecting the barracks and equipments of the Peterborough station.

Mrs. Beatty, wife of the visiting D. O., and the scribe farewelled Sunday and have gone to Chatham, their new station. Staff-Capt. Beatty farewells next Thursday at the excursion to Idyl Wild.

Orangemen at Tweed.

Mr. Robt. Weir, Grand Master of the Royal Black Knights of Ontario East, has received an invitation to visit Tweed on Wednesday, Aug. 26th, when the corner stone of the new Methodist church will be laid with Orange honors by Mr. Wm. Johnston, M.P., of Ireland, Grand Master, assisted by N. Clarke Wallace, Grand Master B.N.A.; E. F. Clarke, M.P.P., Toronto; Hon. Mr. Bowell, Senator Clemow and other prominent Orangemen in the country. A demonstration will be held, and Tweed is preparing to receive five thousand visitors on that day. It is probable a large number will go down from Peterborough.

Died Suddenly at Young's Point.

On Saturday evening John Hoy, a young man belonging to Minden, and engaged on Hazlett's drive, in charge of Mr. Fagin, foreman, died very suddenly at Young's Point. The deceased with a number of other men were bathing after the day's work. He had been diving two or three times, and when he came to the surface after the last dive his companions noticed his peculiar actions and appearance. He was at once taken from the water, and in a very short time breathed his last. Two medical men who were on hand were of the opinion that death resulted from some affection of the heart. The relatives of the deceased at Minden were apprized of his sad death, and will be down to look after the remains.

The Rouge River Mystery.

Mrs. Hattie Fredenes Her Marriage Certificate—Mrs. Cashley, of Peterborough, the Sister, Not Wife, of Hartle.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—A representative of the Globe had an interview to-day with Mrs. Hartle, who, as previously stated, believes that the unfortunate man found with a bullet in his head at Rouge River some two weeks ago was her late husband. She was shown a paragraph from a morning paper headed, "Was Mrs Hartle Married?" which contained the insinuation that, if the dead man was Hartle, she was not his lawful wife. In answer to this she produced the certificate of her marriage, which was regularly signed and attested, and showed that the ceremony took place in Stratford on April 30th, 1890, Rev. W. S. Griffin being the officiating minister. (Mrs. Charles Pashley, formerly Miss Victoria Hartle, of Peterborough, has written asking County Constable O'Connor, of Pickering, for a photo of the drowned man, who is spoken of in a Toronto paper as her husband. John Hartle had a sister, Adelaide Victa la, whom he had not seen for five years. Mrs. Pashley is doubtless that person and the word "husband" used should have been "brother." Mrs. Hartle, who is a bright, intelligent woman, is anxious to appear at the resumption of the coroner's inquest, but so far has received no notification to do so.

[Considerable interest, provincial as well as local, is being taken in the steps towards discovering the identity of the dead man. There is scarcely a doubt that he was a brother of Mrs. Pashley, of Peterborough. Mrs. Pashley sent for a photograph of the deceased, but received reply that the photographs will not be ready for a few days yet. She may go to Toronto to inspect the corpse.

The Travelling Dairy.

A Practical Demonstration of Butter Making at the Central Exhibition.

The directors of the Central Exhibition have completed arrangements for a great attraction at the Central Exhibition, the 22nd of September, Prof. Dean of the Agricultural College, and his travelling dairy. The following letter explains the affair:—

GUELPH, Aug. 15th, 1891.

W. Collins, secretary Central Exhibition:

DEAR SIR,—I am arranging to send Prof. Dean with his butter maker to give practical instruction at some of the fall exhibitions. I find that I can arrange so as to let him be in Peterborough at your exhibition on September 22nd—if you so desire."

If Prof. Dean should go, it will be necessary for you to provide some ice and four gallons of cream for each session, that is four gallons for the forenoon and eight more for the afternoon of the 22nd September.

Our rule is to give the butter, done up in prints, to the person who provides the cream and ice. Please let me know your wishes in the matter at once.

Yours truly,
JAS. MILLS,
President Ontario Agricultural College.

Guelph, Aug. 15, 1891.

Mr. Collins has communicated with Prof. Mill's and completed arrangements to have the Traveling Dairy visit the Exhibition on Sept. 22nd, the middle day of the Exhibition.

"Casey's Troubles."

Manager Opera House informs us he is negotiating with the manager of "Casey's Troubles" for one night. He says there is a very small chance of such a company having a date open. No matter let them know we are on earth. We may catch them on the return. You must remember 'twas wind that made Chicago. Keep blowing your horn. d40

'Prentice Boys Drill Corps.

There is a strong probability that a drill corps will be organized in connection with the Peterborough lodge of 'Prentice Boys this winter. When in Toronto on the 12th of August the parade of several city corps, with their dashing uniforms and superb drill, inspired the Peterborough boys with the idea of emulation, and it is altogether likely that next summer will see an efficient and creditable drill corps of 'Prentice Boys in Peterborough.

Hazlewood Lodge's Tenants.

Mr. R. W. Grubbe's pretty cottage, Hazelwood, prettily situated on his island in Stoney Lake, will be tenanted for the coming fortnight by a jolly party comprised of Mrs. Macdonald, Mrs. H. Stapleton, Miss Dumble, Miss Archer, Miss Halliday and Miss Amy Holliday, and Messrs. V. Halliday G. A. Schofield, W. D. Parker, C. N. Brown, W. F. Johnston and J. L. Gower. Some of the party went up Saturday morning, some on Saturday evening and some this morning.

Our Midnight Guardian.

Following is Nightwatchman Gordon's four months report for 1891, showing the number of doors found open and articles found outside of doors:—Number of front doors found open, 10; number of back doors found open, 14; number of articles found outside of doors, 13; names of articles: 1 thermometer, 4 brushes, 1 basket, 6 blacking brushes, 9 straw hats, 5 straw hats, 1 basket, 2 crocks, 11 skipping ropes, nonesubscriber; 1 thermometer, 1 basket, 1 thermometer, 2 brushes, 2 ladies mantles.

A "Sunnyside" Waif.

This morning Mrs. Wilkins brought to the police station a lad aged about ten years, who came to Mrs. Wilkin's place on Friday last and has since stayed there. His story is that he was turned out of the "Sunnyside" Home, Toronto—that he wandered to Port Hope where he was employed for a time by a baker but was discharged because he could not find the streets—the maze of streets in that large town—and he drifted to Peterborough. The lad was provided with a railway ticket and shipped back to Toronto.

Under a Truck.

A swarm of small boys were riding on the China Hall truck this morning, the driver good naturedly allowing them to climb on and off as they chose. At the corner of Water and Simcoe streets one of the youngsters, a boy about eight years old named Joe Jeffrason, fell in front of the hind wheel, which passed over the middle of his body. The truck was loaded with three full coal oil barrels, each weighing 400 pounds, and it is a wonder the child's life was not crushed out. The boy says the wheel went over him, but as he was not apparently much hurt some are inclined to believe the wheel struck him and shoved him to one side. A physician was called in an attended to the little fellow's injuries. No blame attaches to the driver.

Civic Holiday Lacrosse.

The match to be played with the Madoc on the grounds of the latter, is an important one, as it involves the possession of the district championship for the year. In view of this fact, it becomes the local twelve to put in all the practice possible between now and the 20th. A few hours practice or neglect of practice, may decide the game for or against Peterborough. The home boys may depend that the visitors are doing their level best to put themselves in a shape to win in the coming match. It will be a big feather in their cap, if a mere village club beats the chosen twelve of a town like Peterborough. Nothing should be allowed to stand in the way of a couple of evening's good practice.

Chemong Park Hotel.

The following guests are registered among the late arrivals at Chemong Park Hotel and Summer Resort:—C. Hedley, Halifax, N.S.; W. Lister, Miss Scarlett, Winnipeg; Mr. J. D. Black, Miss J. H. Black, Montreal, Mr. F. Arnoldi, Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson, J. L. Hubbell and wife, Toronto; Rev. J. L. Barker and wife, Ingersoll; J. G. Bottomley and wife, London, Ont.; A. E. Williams, Montreal; H. Johns, Denver, Col; J. G. Gaugham, A. T. White, Montreal; G. K. Scott, Toronto; Miss Moffatt, Toronto; Miss McLeod, Montreal; W. J. Sherwood and wife, Peterborough; Alfred Cock, Montreal; T. Spellman, Hastings; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Henry, Peterborough; J. L. Lackey, wife and two sons, Rochester, N.Y.; Mrs. Gallinger and daughter, Toronto; Miss Lewis and party of five, Buffalo, N. Y.; H. A. Rutidge, Chicago; G. H. Holland, wife, nurse and four children, Toronto. The hotel is filled to its utmost capacity, and the proprietor has correspondence by every mail from Toronto and other cities asking for accommodation.

Five Straight Wins.

The Peterborough Baseball Club Keeps up its Canter.

The Peterborough and Wm. Hamilton Company's nines met again on the diamond Saturday afternoon, and once more victory went with the Peterboroughs, who scored their fifth consecutive win. Only seven innings were played. Lovett pitched for the Hamilton's and did good work. For five innings he did not allow a single hit; then the Peterborough's, as they have a trick of doing, bunched their hits and in the sixth the whole five hits to their credit were made and seven runs scored off them. The Hamilton's batted more steadily and made one more hit than their opponents, but their fielding on the whole was not quite so good and they lost the game there. McCabe was not in form, and the Peterborough nine had a couple of outsiders on to fill up the vacancies ceased by their regular players not showing up, but with perhaps one exception their work was fair. Neither O'Brien nor Graham were very on hand, and Parks and Pomfret took turns behind the bat, the latter catching a good game. McKim for the Hamilton's was the receiving end of the battery, and he held up his end well. Mr. Davis, of the Edison Works club, umpired.

Following was the score:—

New Atlantic Allan Liner.

Detailed Description of the New Ocean Greyhound, State of California.

The Allans have put a new steamer on the Atlantic route. She is called the State of California, and her description quite bears the Golden State from which she takes her name. It is as follows:—

The State of California is built of mild steel, and is classed A1 in Lloyd's under special survey, with additional strengthening over Lloyd's requirements, and is built to comply with requirements of admiralty for transport service. She is 400 feet long over all, 46 feet beam and 32 feet 8 inches moulded depth, and will have a gross register tonnage of about 4,500 tons, while the dead weight she is designed to carry on Lloyd's freeboard is 5,300 tons. The vessel is divided into eight watertight compartments, the bulk heads of which are all carried to the upper deck, so as to ensure the greatest amount of safety in case of accident, and has also water ballast tanks in cellular double bottom fore and aft, which can be filled or emptied expeditiously. The State of California is the first high class passenger steamers added to the Glasgow and New York trade for a number of years, and she is designed to attain the highest speed possible, with capacity for sufficient cargo to ensure good earning from freight even with few or no passengers, and thus be able to convey passengers at very moderate rates. She has sufficient engine power to ensure the greatest regularity by the maintenance of a good rate of speed in any weather. The vessel in her general arrangement resembles to some extent the type of vessel generally adopted for Atlantic passenger ships of late years, with the addition of a number of novel arrangements to specially suit the Glasgow trade. The saloon accommodation is situated at the middle of the vessel, where there is least motion, and is capable of accommodating 260 passengers. From the main deck the saloon accommodation is entered by doors on each side of the deck house, arranged with vestibules and inner vestibule doors, which admit into a spacious and well-lighted entrance hall, from which on the after side the grand staircase leads down to the main saloon and staterooms, and on the forward side a double staircase leads up to promenade deck, smoking room, etc., while folding doors on each side lead into music and writing room, which is situated immediately over main saloon. The saloon skylight is placed over music room on promenade deck, and lights both main saloon and music room. Saloon passengers by this arrangement have the best part of the vessel reserved entirely for themselves, and have access to all saloon accommodation without going on deck. The decoration of saloon and other public apartments is in polished hardwood, and the different combinations are exceedingly chaste and effective. The music room is panelled in satin wood, birch and sycamore, and upholstered in Gobelin tapestry. The main saloon is in figured walnut and birch, with upholstery in Moquette. The ladies' cabin is in Tynecastle tapestry panelling, and silk tapestry upholstery, and the smoking room, stair-cases and entrance hall are in different combinations of mahogany, oak and walnut. The main saloon has tables running fore and aft, and small tables on each side placed athwartships, to suit parties travelling in company, families, etc. Revolving eccentric chairs are placed at all tables. The staterooms are all in white enamel, and upholstered in red velvet, the berths and sofas being fitted with spring mattresses, and the wash-basins are on the tipping principle in mahogany cases. Sleeperages are fitted for about 700 to 800 passengers forward and also aft of saloons on both the main and lower decks, and have very large entrances from deck to each, in which are placed the lavatories and other accommodation, so as to be easily reached without going on deck.

The entire cabin and steerage accommodation is heated by steam and also thoroughly ventilated, and the vessel throughout is fitted up with a double instalment of electric lights. The machinery consists of a set of triple-expansion engines of the latest design, having cylinders 34 inches, 55 inches and 88 inches, with a stroke of 54 inches, supplied with steam by three steel boilers at 160 pounds pressure.

The State of California has a very handsome appearance, and there is little doubt that when she is put on her station this vessel will fulfil the best expectations of all concerned and be a great favourite with the travelling public.

Mr. Charles Cameron, town, is the popular and reliable agent for the Company in Peterborough.

Royal Templar Laws.

Not of the Medo-Persian Characters—Changes Made by the Dominion Council—The Disability and Death Benefit Funds Separated.

Last Friday evening the codification of the laws of the Royal Templars of Temperance was completed and unanimously adopted. The only important change in system was the separation of the total disability from the death benefit fund. Under the new law a total disability fund will be established distinct and separate from the death benefit fund, and this fund will be created and maintained by the collection of a special sum from all members participating in it. Members who do not contribute to the fund will not be entitled to any total disability benefit, and members may surrender this right if they do not wish to participate in the protection of the fund. This removes entirely from the mortuary fund everything of an irregular or endowment character and leaves the benefits be paid from this fund, a simple death benefit protection. Under the provisions of the new total disability fund, members upon being permanently disabled will receive a benefit of $250, $500 and $1,000, in proportion to their contribution to the fund.

If the ladies would abandon cosmetics and more generally keep their blood pure and vigorous by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, naturally fair complexions would be the rule instead of the exception, as at present. Pure blood is the best beautifier.

Miss Violet Wade, of Peterborough, is visiting friends in Lakefield.

Personal.

Miss Ella Bennett has returned from a visit in Port Hope.

Miss Emma Trellope and Miss Emma Smith left this morning on a visit to friends in Rochester, N. Y.

Miss Minnie Jamieson and Mrs. John Keenan, of Peterborough, are visiting at Mr. M. A. Jamieson's, Lakefield.

Messrs. Fred. Might and Cal. Brown left today for a two weeks tour on their bicycles, to Kingston, Rochester, Niagara and Toronto.

Mr. Robt. Neil and bride returned home Saturday morning from their extended honeymoon trip. Mr. and Mrs. Neil were given a warm welcome.

Mr. N. Kosher, of Napanee, marble worker, is here erecting a handsome monument in Little Lake Cemetery in memory of the late Hon. Robt. Hamilton.

Rev. S. J. Shorey, of Napanee, passed through town to-day on a fishing excursion to the northern waters, accompanied by his fides Achates, Mr. T. Fitzgerald.

Mr. T. M. McFadden is superintendent of works on the completion of the George Street Methodist Church tower. Mr. McFadden's skill and integrity guarantee a first class job.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dixon, Mrs. Manning of Toronto, and Miss Tucker have engaged Mr. Pope's cottage in Stony Lake for a couple of weeks. The party took possession to day.

At the late session of the Dominion Council of the Royal Templars of Temperance, Miss M. J. Sanderson, of Peterborough, was re-elected superintendent of the order department of the organization.

Mr. Harry Cavanagh, of San Francisco, left this morning for New York, Mexico and other places, after spending a few days with his uncle, Mr. T. Cavanagh, accompanied by Harry Cavanagh, of the Balmoral Hotel.

Mr. F. C. Hill leaves to-day for Hamilton, where he will spend a fortnight visiting, the guest of his relatives in the Ambitious City. Mr. Hill's well known musical proclivities made the great Sangerfest, which takes place this week, an irresistible attraction.

Mr. H. A. Kemp, of Lakefield, for several years with Mr. W. H. Casement of that place, has purchased the stove, tinsmith and house furnishing business lately carried on by Mr. W. P. Cole in the village of Sutton, and will remove to that place in a few days.

Mr. Reuben Beavis, formerly of Hastings, and nephew of Mr. James Beavis, of Asaburnham, is in this neighborhood visiting relatives. This gentleman has but just returned from British Columbia, where he has been labouring as a missionary among the Indians for the past three years or more. In his work there he was ably assisted by his sister, who conducted an Indian school there. Mr. Beavis has returned to Ontario with the intention of putting in a course at college.

Car Works Bylaw.

Let every ratepayer remember that to-morrow the voting takes place on the bylaw to raise six thousand dollars, to erect buildings to be leased to the Peterson-Corbin Car Company. The voting takes place at the usual places, as below:—

NUMBER TWO WARD.—At new Market Building; Chas. Cameron to be Deputy Returning Officer.

NUMBER THREE WARD—At office of John Rathbun Company, Murray street; John Irwin to be Deputy Returning officer.

NUMBER FOUR WARD.—At Wm. Lee's shop, Smith street; Wm. Lee to be Deputy Returning Officer.

The ratepayers qualified to vote are freeholders and long term leaseholders.

Death of Mr. Edward Duff.

A despatch from Winnipeg announces the death of Mr. Edward Duff, Principal of the Baptist College in that city. The death took place on Saturday, and consumption was the cause of his demise. Mr. Duff was well known in Peterborough, where he lived for several years. His advent to Peterborough was to take the position of superintendent of the Home Mission Band of the Barnardo Home. Here he remained till the fall of 1885, when he opened a private school on Brock street, which he conducted with much success till his departure for Winnipeg last fall. Mr. Duff was a prominent and active member of the Baptist church, and for about three years previous to his leaving town he filled the duties of superintendent with much acceptability. Mr. Duff was a lay preacher of considerable pulpit ability, and as a Christian citizen he filled all the duties pertaining to that relation in a manner to secure universal respect.

Simply Magnificent.

There are many reasons why the C.M.B.A. Excursion is superior to any other on Civic Holiday.

Because the route they are taking in is pre-eminent to any other.

Because the scenery is the best on the northern waters

Because the sail is grand, and will be beneficial to all taking it in.

Because the C.M.B.A. has secured a first-class boat and palace barge. (The fastest boat on the upper lakes)

Because all those attending will have ample room and every comfort and convenience.

Because there will be a good orchestra on board for those wishing to dance.

Because the fair for this immense fresh air trip is only a trifle—just a dollar.

Therefore to be brief, and considering everything, the Excursion is simply magnificent. The train leaves the G.T.R. station at 7 o'clock sharp. Then secure your tickets and have a good days' solid amusement, which will prove to be a good tonic. Tickets may be had at the shops of Thomas Kelly, T. Dolan, Jas. Coughlin and J. J. Lynch. d40 42

Make the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

That Tired Feeling

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. PHEBE MOSHER, 20 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.

A Cabinet of Moral Freaks.

The Fredericton Herald says:—At the head of the cabinet stands the Hon. J. J. C. Abbott. Mr. Abbott is the man who helped to engineer the famous C.P.R. raids upon the treasury. He is also the man who handled the Allan bribery fund of $360,000 in 1872. Sir Hector received $32,000 of the Allan moneys and used it to bribe the electors of his native Province. Mr. Langevin has now in the bank a sum of about $25,000, including interest, awarded to him as a testimonial, mainly from contractors who had dealings with his department, and who conceived this to be a suitable form in which to express their gratitude. Next on the list is the Finance Minister, Hon. Geo. E. Foster. Mr. Foster is the gentleman whose general conduct as a representative rendered him so obnoxious to the people of Kings county, the strongest Conservative constituency in New Brunswick, that it required $15,000 last winter to secure his election. Socially, Mr. Foster enjoys the rare felicity of being able to participate in many festive occasions from which Mrs. Foster is debarred. Hon. Frank Smith and Hon. John Carling, the latter of whom is Minister of Agriculture, are the proprietors of several very prosperous distilleries and breweries engaged in creating what Mr. Foster (in a moment of weakness) was wont to term "liquid fire and distilled damnation." Hon. John Haggart, the Postmaster General, is now the subject of what the Toronto Telegram calls "an able-bodied scandal." Readers of one of Bryon's most famous works will have no difficulty in discovering Mr. Haggart's prototype. Early piety is generally believed to have been one of Mr. Chapleau's chief misfortunes. Mr. Tupper occupies a seat because he is fortunate to be the son of his father and to be recognized as such. Sir John Thompson, though personally the ablest and most honorable member of the Cabinet, fills the position of Minister of Justice because the other engagements of the Bishop of Antigonish prevent him from filling it himself.

On Fire with Eczeme

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense, the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his screaming agonies were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were ended, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Eczema.

GOSSIP FROM OTTAWA

THE WESTERN MEMBER AND THE CHORUS GIRL.

A Little Episode Which is Reported to Have Ended in a Fisticuff Bout in a Vacant Lot—The Printing Bureau Scandal.

OTTAWA, Aug. 17. The Printing Bureau scandal will start this week. It is admitted now that it will be elected that an official who had a great deal to do with the Bureau received large commissions from them on purchases made by him. Other accounts will be called for in regard to the plant and machines.

Another fatory about is in regard to envelope machine, involving a Toronto firm who are said to have come down handsomely. One of the members of the committee has come into possession of the itinary of the head of the bureau, especially in Toronto. How many days he was there, who entertain him and where, and a lot of other information.

THE MEMBER AND THE ACTRESS.

The arrival of an opera company in town was hailed with delight by members of Parliament last week, who being from home and not members of the Scandal Committee, were dying of ennui. One member from Western Ontario who takes the food question under his wing and continually urges a high tariff to encourage home protection met at his table in one of the hotels a charming but portly actress. On a night when she was not in the cast he bought a whole box at the theatre and said he would meet her there after the performance began. But the arrangement leaked out and when he presented himself at the appointed hour he was confronted by a burly actor, who said he could not enter. The member protested that he had hired the box, but was told that it made no difference, he could not enter. One word led to another until the two adourned to a vacant lot to determine supremacy with fists. After rolling on the sward a few times they were separated by friends. The member returned in disgust and now takes his meals at another table.

The Board of Civil Service Examiners has been conducting for some time an investigation into certain irregularities in connection with Civil Service examination for the Postoffice Department. Friday three mail clerks confessed that they had obtained beforehand copies of the examination papers. It is not known yet how these advance copies were obtained, as great care is exercised at the Printing Bureau. The clerk who is alleged to have furnished some of the papers is at present out of town.

It is reported that John A. Wills of Toronto, formerly of Ottawa, has been appointed chief mechanical engineer of the Public Works Department in place of John R. Armstrong.

It is said that Thomas McCreevy will not attend the sitting of the House to-morrow in answer to the motion of Sir John Thompson.

Sir Charles Tupper is expected to leave England in a few days for Ottawa. He will not enter the Ministry.

Killed Going Home at Recess.

TORONTO, Aug. 18. Mimico was the scene of a fatal accident at noon yesterday when express train No. 2 struck Hamilton Stack and instantly killed a school girl, Edith Redding. It was the first day of school after the holiday's and the children had just been dismissed for the noon hour. Some of them ran across the rails ahead of the approaching train, which, of course, did not pull up at the neighboring station. All got safely over except the unfortunate child, who was only eight years of age.

Fell to His Death.

MONTREAL, Aug. 18.—While a young French Canadian, 18 years old, named Arthur Girard was driving an express wagon down German street this evening he suddenly overbalanced himself, and falling to the ground broke his neck. He died almost instantly.

A Fatal Spree.

TORONTO, Aug. 18. Joseph P. Nipegon was taken charge of on July 14 and locked upon No. 4 Police Station. He was suffering from delirium tremens. On Saturday morning he appeared in the Police Court and was remanded till the 20th. Yesterday afternoon he died in the jail.

Fire in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug 18. The Montreal Blanket Company's works, situated on the canal bank at Cote St. Paul, caught fire this evening, resulting in the total destruction of the picking department, a two-storey brick building. The loss will reach $3000.

A Missing Yacht.

HAMILTON, Aug. 18. Although no further traces of the yacht believed to have been lost on Sunday of last week, some articles from which were found on the beach near Stoney Creek, have yet been discovered there is good reason to fear that a yacht was really lost and that some unfortunates perished in the seething storm that raged that evening. Mrs. E. Burrows, of this city, who spent the day at Bronte, saw from her uncle's house, enough to satisfy the most incredulous that the story of the lost yacht has, unfortunately, a basis in fact.

Murphy Was Killed.

KINGSTON, Aug. 18. Yesterday morning a gang of double trackers were walking on the G. T. R. track between here and Collins Bay, about a mile and a half from the junction, when they were overtaken by a construction train. They all got out of the way except one man, James Murphy, who was struck by the engine and received injuries from which he died in half an hour. Deceased was about 45 years of age and hailed from somewhere near Ottawa.

Another Toronto Drowning.

TORONTO, Aug 18. The second drowning accident in the vicinity of Queen's Wharf inside of a month, happened at the sandbar of Queen's Wharf yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. A man by the name of Goodchild, aged 20, and living on Shaw street went in bathing, and being unable to swim, when he reached deep water went beneath the surface. Before he could be rescued life was too far gone.

AVERAGED ONE A YEAR

HENRY ENGLEANDER HAS SWINDLED SEVEN WIVES.

His Plan Was to Secure Their Dowories and Desert Them—He Is Twenty-six and Very Attractive and Has Two Wives in America.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Henry Engleander was recently arrested in London charged with polygamy. He is only twenty six years old. In a little over seven years he married and deserted seven wives. His action was not due to a caprice of love. Englaender married to secure the money of the women. When he got it he left them.

His first wife, a little black-eyed woman, who lives on Clinton street, this city, has been searching for her husband since the second day of their marriage, when he stepped out of the door of a Warsaw house on a trifling errand and did not come back. Mrs. Englaender followed him to London, where he eluded her. The first news she heard of him was yesterday, when she saw this cable in a German newspaper:

LONDON, Aug. 15.—A Pole called Englaender has been arrested here on a charge of polygamy. In this city he went by the name of Dr. Henry August, claiming to be a dentist from America. In reality he is a shoemaker. During his wanderings from Galicia to America he married five women and engaged himself to a sixth, a wealthy woman, whom he robbed of her property. Then he married his sixth wife in the vicinity of Vienna. After securing her dowry he fled and returned to Galicia.

Mrs. Englaender says that so far as she knows she is the first wife of the matrimonial bunco man. He is an Austrian of very pleasing address and could tell charming stories of wealthy America. After the wedding they spent part of one day at a hotel. Then her husband left her, saying he would return in a couple of hours. She found that he had fled to London, taking with him $7000 of her money and all her personal belongings. She did not cause his arrest, because he promised to do better. She supported herself in London for five years by hard work. In the meantime Englaender left London for this city, married another woman here and abandoned her in Philadelphia.

This woman was wealthy. With the money he obtained from her he went back to London. Mrs. Englaender's health is not good, and she has been treated at the Hebrew Hospital, in this city. She says she wants a divorce and will take steps at once to obtain one.

A WIFE'S TREACHERY.

She Poisoned Her Husband so That Her Lover Could Kill Him in a Duel.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 18. A domestic scandal, abounding in tragedy and of a sensational character, has just been made public at Pigeon River, a small village in the mountains of Western North Carolina, by the confession of a guilty wife and mother as she lay upon her deathbed.

In September, 1878, Burton L. Pharr, her husband a very influential man, fell in a duel at the hands of his neighbor, G. M. Smathers. Smathers was tried by the court and acquitted, but the exact cause of the duel was never known until yesterday, when his widow, who a short time after his death married Smathers, told the story.

Her confession in substance is that she became infatuated with Smathers and desired Pharr put out of the way. The morning the duel was to take place she gave her husband whisky with strychnine in it, and by the time he reached the spot where the duel was to take place the drug had taken its desired effect, and his opponent killed him at the first fire. Pharr's pistol did not go off at the word. This confession has created intense excitement, and Smathers will have to leave the country; so outraged are the neighbors.

THE RUNAWAY SEALER.

Arrival of the Schooner C. H. White from Behring Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18. The sealing schooner C. H. White, Capt. Waldensen, arrived yesterday evening from Omadaska. She is the vessel that ran away from the Thetis in Behring Sea July 7, as reported by Capt. Reiter to the Navy Department recently. The Captain says he had not received any notification to leave the sea, and when the Thetis bore down on him he fled and succeeded in avoiding capture. He left the sea on learning that it was filled with warships.

T. H. Whitelaw, the owner of the whaling schooner Lamita, which was seized in Behring Sea recently, has sent a statement to Washington, claiming that the vessel had not been engaged in sealing and asking for a release on bond pending an investigation.

Under instructions from Washington a charter has been effected with the Alaska Commercial Company to make a special trip from Omadaska to St. Michael's to bring away the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey party and land them at San Francisco.

TWO MEN HANGED BY A MOB.

Their Victim is Nearly Well, but that Made No Difference.

COLUMBUS, Ala., Aug 18. Monroe Evans and his son John were arrested at Ballston a few days ago charged with shooting Pierce Mooney last May. On Saturday they were taken before a local Justice of the Peace who declined to try them, but bound them over without bail. They were put under guard at a neighbor's house over night.

About midnight they were taken from the house and hanged to a tree. The guard say a large crowd came up and, supposing them to be Evans's friends come to rescue the prisoners, they fled.

Mooney has about recovered from his wounds of last May.

ARRESTED AT PRAYER.

Counterfeiter Taken From His Fathers' House During the Religious Services.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 18. Secret Service Officer Cox arrived here this evening with James H. McLoud, who is charged with passing counterfeit money. McLoud is accused of having passed a number of counterfeit silver dollars at the North Salem Fair week before last. McLoud's father is a farmer and a highly respected resident of Putnam County. When Cox reached the house to-day religious services were being conducted there, and the father was greatly agitated at his son's arrest. The latter has little to say except to assert his innocence. He is about 30 years old, looks like a farmer, and is married.

He Has One Wife Too Many.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 18.—Louis Mogin, a French Canadian who deserted a wife and two children at Lansingburg, N.Y., a short time ago, was arrested to-day at Olneyville for bigamy. He married his second wife, who is his own niece and nineteen years old, on July 25 at Webster, Mass., after eloping with her from Putnam, Conn.

Rioting in China.

TIENTSIN, Aug. 18.—The Ministers of the Foreign Powers have increased the pressure which has been placed upon the Chinese Government, insisting upon the punishment of the rioters and of the officials who neglected to afford protection to foreigners and to the latter's property. The foreign ministers do not demand a pecuniary indemnity, having already settled that point and the amount with the local authorities.

Disaster in Hayti.

PORT AU PRINCE, Aug. 18. The river St. Marie has overflowed. To-day a bridge over the river was swept away and 20 lives lost.

St. Clair Tunnel.

POINT EDWARD, Ont., Aug. 18.—The St. Clair tunnel will be opened Sept. 19, that date to-day having been fixed.

Who Poisoned the Cakes?

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 18.—Mrs. Henry Malbonee, of Grafton, her neice and five children are dying very ill from eating poisoned cakes. Mrs. Malbonee made the cakes yesterday. In her absence from the house some enemy, it is believed, attempted to kill the entire family by putting arsenic in the dough. Two of the children, it is believed, will die.

AN EXPRESS DASHES INTO A TRAIN OF EXCURSIONISTS.

Twelve Persons Instantly Killed and a Large Number Injured—General Cable News From Many Lands Boiled Down in the Shortest Possible Space.

BERNE, Aug. 18.—A terrible accident, resulting in the instant death of 13 persons and the serious injury of many others, occurred Monday on the Jura-Simplon Railway near this city. A special excursion train which was conveying hundreds of villagers from the surrounding country to witness the fetes in connection with the 700th anniversary of the foundation of the city of Berne, was stopped at a siding a short distance from its destination in order to allow the regular Paris express to pass. The conductor of the excursion train seems to have neglected to send a signal man back to protect the rear of the train while a shunt was being arranged. The express running at high speed came upon the excursion train so suddenly that the engineer's efforts to check the speed and avoid disaster were unavailing. The heavy express dashed into the rear of the excursion train, demolishing the guard's van and forcing its way through the rear coach. The passengers in the coach were nearly all killed or injured.

The bodies of the dead were carried to the waiting room of the railway station at Zollikifen and were there lain in rows while awaiting identification. The interior of the station as a result presented a most sickening spectacle for many of the dead were so terribly mutilated as to be practically beyond recognition. The wounded were attended to by the relief corps sent to the scene from the city. Those of the wounded who were in a fit state to be removed have been taken to the hospitals in this city.

The total number of deaths thus far reported is thirteen. Eighteen persons are seriously injured, the majority of them requiring surgical treatment, and some of these are likely to die. Thirty others are less severely hurt.

The recent holiday traffic has thrown unusually heavy burdens upon all the railways centering in this city. The excursion train was partly composed of baggage vans temporarily converted into passenger carriages. The line was blocked by other excursion trains in advance and another excursion coupled to the Paris express. A curve in line prevented the engineer of the express from seeing the danger ahead, but the passengers of the excursion train heard the express approaching and many jumped out, all the occupants of the open goods wagons escaping in this way almost unhurt. According to the latest advices 11 women and three men were killed and 24 persons were seriously injured. The victims were all Swiss peasants. The historical procession was under way when the news of the disaster was received here, but was hastily stopped.

Prosecutions Against Nihilists.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 18.—In the coming fall wholesale legal proceedings against Nihilists and Anarchists will take place here. Many well educated men and women are charged with having taken part in Nihilistic plots, as students, teachers, merchants, army officers, etc. Few of them will get free, as an indictment is almost as good as conviction. One of the most interesting cases will be that against the niece of State Counsel Ilinski, indicted for having opened the house of her uncle to conspirators, who met there nights, the young lady presiding. State's Counsel Ilinski, who is known to be loyal to the government, was entirely unaware of the fact, and, it is said, will not move a finger to save her. The young lady is highly educated, bright, attractive and courageous. They offered her freedom if she would name all the conspirators, but she sternly refused.

Another Aeronaut Killed.

ROME, Aug. 18.—An aeronaut who made an ascent yesterday at Macerate, was observed to sail gracefully away to the east when suddenly he fell from the car and plunged downward from a dizzy height. At the time of the accident the balloon was over the Adriatic, though the point from which it had been sent up was some miles inland. The unfortunate aeronaut fell into the sea and perished, while the balloon, relieved of its load, soared and was shortly lost to view.

A Land of Wealth.

MOSCOW, Aug. 18.—A despatch from Samaricand, capital of the Province of Zerafshan, Asiatic Russia, states that Captain Barchewsky, the explorer, has arrived there from an expedition in Eastern Bokhara. The captain reports that he there discovered large deposits of gold, lead and iron and says that petroleum springs in abundance are to be met with in the same region.

Brief News Notes.

Twenty deaths have occurred from trichinosis at Luchen, Germany.

The death is announced of Jean Joseph Thonissen, the Belgian economist, aged 74.

King Alexander of Servia and his father, ex King Milan, are guests of President Carnot at Fontainebleau.

The infectious disease institute at Berlin was formally opened yesterday in the presence of Prof. Koch.

Serious labor troubles have again broken out at Fourmies. Troops have been sent there from Lille. Rioting is expected.

The wrought iron nail men of Worcester and Staffordshire have struck against the proposed reduction of 10 per cent. in wages. The strike affects 8000 men.

The International Labor Congress assembled at Brussels yesterday. Owing to protracted discussions little was done beyond reading fraternal telegrams from all parts of the world.

As Mr. Laur was leaving a meeting at the Cirque Hiver, Paris, yesterday a revolver was discharged at him by an anarchist. The charge missed Mr. Laur but grazed a coachman. The anarchist was arrested.

DEATH OF A FAMOUS WRESTLER.

Matsada Sorakichi, the Japanese Champion, Succumbs to Consumption.

NEW YORK, Aug 18.—Matsada R. Sorakichi, the famous Japanese wrestler, who for many years has been prominently before the public, died late on Saturday night at his rooms in the boarding-house No. 227 East Twenty-Seventh St. For many months he had been slowly sinking from consumption, but recently his doctor went out of the city and at the time of his death he was without medical assistance. Deputy Coroner Conway, who saw the body yesterday, decided that death was due to consumption. An autopsy will, however, be made to-day.

Sorakichi was only thirty-three years old. He was regarded as one of the foremost wrestlers of his time, and in certain styles of wrestling had no equal. In his youth while still in Japan he was thought to be a phenomenon, and on his arrival in this country many years ago he created a big stir in athletic circles. He appeared in the old Madison Square Theatre and there met Duncan Ross, Muldoon, Miller and other prominent wrestlers of the country. In the catch-as-catch-can and Japanese styles he was almost invincible, his great strength giving him an advantage which he knew how to turn to the best possible account.

His marriage was luckless. Sorakichi's free style of living did not suit the tastes or the disposition of the Quaker woman whom he wedded, and the constant quarrels between the pair brought them frequently into court.

Answered His Last Roll Call.

TURNBULL'S.

We want to call attention to a large lot of Lace Curtains we are opening out and marking; there is nothing attractive in a large lot unless they are being sold at prices that will save money to the purchaser. This is just what we purpose to do. We show a Curtain, taped and bound, at 60c. a pair, a still better one for 75c., and a beauty for $1, while the best in the lot are only $1.50. We have cleared out whole lines at greatly reduced prices is how we are able to offer such inducements. We have opened out to-day and placed on our second floor a nice range of new patterns in Hemp Carpets, some of these are very desirable.

To-day we open our first shipment of Ladies' Mantles for Fall. They are a very stylish lot. Parties wanting one for a special occasion early will be glad to know that they can now see the new fall styles with us. We have received the invoice of a lot of Dress Goods, they will be opened before this appears in print. We have also got nearly all the shades of very pretty Plaids for making over dresses. We need hardly remind the public that everything stylish, serviceable and cheap is kept on our counters.

In our Tailoring Department we are showing some fresh patterns of Heavy Weight Tweeds at from $15 to $17 a suit, especially suited for elderly men. Ask to see our heavy pantings at 50c. a yard, made out of the best of wool.

Daily Chat:

Does it pay to dress well? Assuredly. No money is better spent than what is laid out for domestic satisfaction. A man is pleased that his wife is dressed as well as other people, and the wife is pleased that one is so dressed. At no 365 George street you will do well to pause in your down-town career. There you will be pleasantly surprised at the variety of beautiful Dress Goods and the Low Prices that prevail during this month. Saturday was such a rushing day with us and though we were among the first to sign the petition for early closing yet we found it impossible to close our store until after 11 o'clock and no wonder for the people fairly got excited over telling bargains. 33 yards of Dress Goods for $1.00 is a prodigy, 20 yards of Dress Goods for $1.00 must be cheap, 15 yards of Dress Goods for $1.00 is a paralyser. Rowse's, Rowse's, Rowse's is the spot for cheap Dress Goods and if you want also to see the nobbiest most attractive, elegant Dress Fabrics, Rowse's is still the spot. We show at 30c. New Fall Goods, at 40c. and 50c. some thing very excellent. Come and see the largest variety of Dress material in Peterborough.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE

ARE NOT a Purgative Medicine. They are a BLOOD BUILDER, TONIC and BLOOD RESTORER, as they supply in a condensed form the substances actually needed to enrich the BLOOD, curing all diseases coming from POOR and WATERY BLOOD, or from VITIATED HUMORS in the BLOOD, and also invigorate and BUILD UP the BLOOD and SYSTEM, when broken down by overwork, mental worry, disease, excesses and indiscretions. They have a SPECIFIC ACTION on the SEXUAL SYSTEM of both men and women, restoring LOST VIGOR and correcting all IRREGULARITIES and SUPPRESSIONS.

EVERY MAN Who finds his mental faculties dull or failing, or his physical powers flagging, should take these PILLS. They will restore his lost energies, both physical and mental.

EVERY WOMAN should take them. They cure all suppressions and irregularities, which inevitably entail sickness when neglected.

YOUNG MEN should take these PILLS. They will cure the results of youthful bad habits, and strengthen the system.

YOUNG WOMEN should take them. These PILLS will make them regular.

THE OTTAWA-QUEBEC SCANDALS.

The Empire, evidently with the aim to be sarcastic, asks: "Does anyone observe the Grit organs demanding that Mercier shall resign pending the conclusion of the enquiry" (into the Baie des Chaleurs Railway Steal?) The Empire is justified in this course because it has clamoured so insistently for Sir Hector Langevin's retirement, and for Hon. Mr. Chapleau's, for Hon. Mr. Haggart's and for Hon. Mr. Dewdney's resignation four statesmen against whom monstrous official malversation has been proven. No Liberal paper has any desire to let the guilty escape punishment, no matter who they are who abuse their public trust. For months the Empire has done nothing but use its best endeavours to minimise the proof that has been piled upon proof of the guilty complicity of Ministers in the gigantic frauds that have honeycombed every department of the Dominion Government that has felt the prod of investigation. The iniquity of the conduct of Mercier's colleagues does not one whit lessen the guilt that rests upon Dominion officials, nor weaken one iota, the responsibility resting upon public men in Canada, of both parties, of uniting to demand and compass the condign punishment of both sets of rascals, or perhaps of the same set, for these villainous operations so overlap and intertwine that proving the guilt of one set includes the condemnation of the other. The Globe is the leading Liberal journal, and it speaks out with no uncertain sound in regard to the more recent iniquitous revelations. Let the Empire take the same manly stand with regard to the rascals on its side of the House, and advise their arrest and confinement in jail, and then we shall have some hope that the process of purification of Canadian politics has began.

There is the article of the Globe referred to, contained in Monday's issue: It is headed, "The Ottawa and Quebec Scandals."

The prima facie case against the Mercier Cabinet is complete. From the reports of the proceedings in the Quebec Legislature, last winter it appears that Mr. Achille Carrier, the local member for Gaspe, moved for any papers which the Government possessed relative to the Baie des Chaleurs road which had virtually collapsed in the hands of Uncle Thomas, Senator Robitaille and Sir Hector's relative, Armstrong. He and Mr. Desmaris, another member, were anxious that the enterprise should be turned over to men of means who would pay the outstanding liabilities and complete the road. This was in November last. Mr. Mercier said his Government had paid a considerable sum on account of the outstanding liabilities and that about $50,000 remained unpaid in the shape of privileged debts. In December he introduced his general railway resolutions, which committed the Province to an outlay of nearly $6 000 000, and said some hard things about the Baie des Chaleurs Company, finally asking for 800,000 acres of land, convertible at 35 cents per acre, to finish the line and pay the money due to navvies and settlers. This bonus of $280,000 cash was to be given to anyone who undertook to do these things and the old company was put out of existence. The testimony taken by the Senate committee shows that Mr. Pacaud, who seems to have been Mr. Mercier's man. Friday, opened negotiations with Mr. John J. Macdonald, a well known contractor, and Mr. Hector Cameron, the lawyer; but they fell through. Armstrong, who had been contractor for the old company, then appeared upon the scene. He professed to have a claim for $298,000 but was content to accept $75,000 if he could get it, though, as has been seen, Mr. Mercier estimated the outstanding liabilities at only $50,000. Pacaud and Armstrong could obtain the road and the bonds for himself and friends provided he made him a gift of $100,000. He was hard up, owed a lot of money to the banks and that sum would relieve him. Armstrong agreed to join in this fraud. He presented a claim not for $75,000, but for $175,000, and Pacaud, who had arranged matters with him in New York in April last after Mr. Mr Mercier had sailed from that port for Europe, got a letter of credit from the Provincial Government for one amount. Messrs. Langelier and Robidoux, two of Mr. Mercier's colleagues, were in New York with Pacaud when Armstrong went there to discuss the best way of perpetrating the swindle. Armstrong handed $100,000 of the $175,000 to Pacaud, who placed it to his credit in the bank to meet his notes. On the day he left Quebec ostensibly for Europe, Pacaud drew every dollar that remained out of the bank, so that the $100 000 is clean gone.

Mr. Mercier's colleagues refuse to appear at Ottawa because "the Federal Parliament has no right to hold an investigation into a Provincial affair." But this is not a Provincial affair. The Federal Parliament has voted bonuses to the amount of $620 000 to the Baie des Chaleurs road, of which $325,000 has actually been paid. Assuming that they can ot successfully contradict Armstrong's confession and the very damaging testimony of the bank managers—one of whom refused to cash the letter of credit on the ground that as $100 000 of the proceeds were to be given to Pacaud the transaction was an illegitimate one on its face—it follows that Pacaud, Armstrong, Langelier and Robidoux obtained money under false pretences from the Province for the benefit of Pacaud. Lieut.-Governor Angers who, on the advice of his Ministers, signed the Order in Council under which the letter of credit was issued, will no doubt take action. But apart from anything which he may see fit to do, the fact remains that these four persons have committed a criminal offence, and we see no reason why they should not be arrested and clapped in jail. The very simplicity of the crime, for it was as simple an operation as picking a pocket or blowing a safe, has shocked the public more profoundly than the McGreevy business, the latter being a complicated piece of rascality. But in reality there is little to choose between the two sets of rogues. Pacaud has stolen only $100,000, whereas Larkin, Murphy, Mick, Nick and the two McGreevys, got away with nearly a million, probably half of which was obtained fraudulently, and bribed Government officials to boot, right under the eyes of Sir Hector. The plea that Pacaud used the money for his own purposes, whilst Sir Hector applied the "donations" which he obtained from McGreevy to the ends of party, amounts to nothing. Pacaud will probably answer that he, too, made everything over to the party; but supposing he pocketed it, was not that better from the ethical point of view than spending it in debauching the electors? But instead of splitting hairs about the amount and quality of their guilt, let us lay it down as a principle that since the evil-doers did not allow party differences to interfere with their sinister work, Tory co-operation with Liberal and Liberal with Tory, so party distinctions shall not be permitted to interfere with their righteous punishment.

THE GREATEST YET.

The Cream of the Continent to be Exhibited at Toronto.

What May be Expected at the Toronto Exhibition in a Few Weeks.

From all quarters applications for space at the forthcoming great Industrial Fair to be held at Toronto from the 7th to the 19th of September are being sent in by every mail. It is now an assured fact that Canada's Great Fair will this fall outrival any of its predecessors. Never before were there so many entries from the United States, and on no former occasion has such widespread interest been manifested in its success. Notwithstanding the fact that new buildings have been erected and old ones enlarged during the past summer, sufficient entries have been received to almost fill them. Even Great Britain is beginning to realize that is pays to bring its manufactures before the people of Canada, as at no place can they be seen by so many, and several of the leading manufacturers of England have applied for space during the past couple or three weeks at this Exhibition. The railway and steamboat companies have this year notified the Association of their intention to give extremely low rates during its progress. A new line of railway into the grounds will enable exhibitors of live stock on both the great railways to unload within a few yards of the stock sheds. It is wonderful the success that has attended this really great enterprise since its inception fourteen years ago, but it may readily be accounted for by anyone who will take the trouble to examine the prize list.

No less than four-fifths of the many thousands of dollars distributed annually go to the farmer and stock raiser, and while no other industry is slighted, this greatest one receives the lion's share, and justly so. The farming community appreciate this and by their presence at Canada's great gathering every year endorse the action of the Association. While the farmer visiting the Exhibition cannot turn in any direction without seeing something to instruct him, he finds more than that. No pains have been spared to interest and amuse visitors every minute of the day. Manager Thayer, of Boston, a man whose reputation in his particular line is continental, has this year added his vast experience in assisting so make the amusement eclipse anything that has ever preceded them. Then again the scientist, the mechanic and the artist will find in the various departments something of special value to them. When it is remembered that over a quarter of a million people from all parts of Canada and the adjoining States visited the Toronto Fair last year, one can readily form an opinion of its gigantic proportions and its importance and value to the country at large. dw1

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig. June 27th, 1891.

STARTED FOR PRAYER MEETING

But Eloped to St. Catharines and Go Married Instead.

Lockport, N. Y., Aug. 17. Ida Shippy, the daughter of Samuel Shippy, a wealthy farmer, residing at Youngstown, Niagara county, has eloped with James Calvert, the son of Constable John Calvert, of the same village.

The young couple said they were going to prayer meeting. They secured a buggy and drove to Suspension Bridge, where they were married by a Methodist minister. They are now at St. Catharines, Ont., enjoying their honeymoon. They wrote a letter to their parents from the bridge, telling them of their escapade. The children will be forgiven when they come home.

Awful Death of Prospectors.

Victoria, Aug. 17. A correspondent at Tom's Creek, Omineca, writes: The two men who left this camp last fall to prospect Nation River failed to return. The camp was very uneasy about them, and enquiry was made at the Hudson Bay Company without throwing any light on their fate. Finally a letter was received from William Heyfiter, stating that an Indian and his boy while hunting had discovered the remains of two men about 25 miles from Germansons creek. Mr. Kenyon returned with the Indians and found what was left of the unfortunate prospectors, consisting of some small bones and hair. Mr. Kenyon was of the opinion that the men had sickened and were unable to travel, as their bones were in their blankets. In the clothing of the deceased were found seven ounces of amalgam gold, together with some notes, all of which was left at the creek. The names of the unfortunate men were John Robinson, a native of Newfoundland a resident of this country since 1858, and Gideon P. Hathaway, a native of Taunton, Mass., also a resident of the province 1858. Hathaway formerly was a partner of Hugh Morton's in the cattle business at Dead Man's Creek, B. C.

Whalemen's Terrible Plight.

San Francisco, Aug. 17.—The Examiner's Unalaska correspondent, writes that during a cruise in the vicinity of the seal islands the British steamers had seen and warned six sealers, the Mohican five, the Thetis two and the Alert two. Many of these had to be fired on to make them halt, and only one schooner succeeded in running away. As about 50 schooners have received warnings, the next cruise of the warships will result more seriously to poachers if caught in Behring Sea.

The cutter Rush picked up seven men in a whaleboat from the whaler Triton. They had been lost in the fog, and drifted around 10 days before being picked up. They were in a terrible condition when found, one having gone mad and four others are not expected to survive. Nearly all the sealers have been notified to leave Behring Sea, and have complied with the order.

Europeans in Fear of Massacre.

San Francisco, Aug. 17. A letter received here from Miss Robert Louis Steven son gives a gloomy outlook for Europeans in Samoa. Writing from Vailima, the pretty home which the novelist has made near Apia, under date of July 10, she says:

"We live in a constant tumult of threatened war and massacre of the whites. We made arrangements to send the child to Honolulu in case war breaks out, but the rest of us will stay and stick it out. The last scare we had we found manna had lost the ammunition. There are no guns of war here but one German ship, and that does count as it only makes more trouble. I wish our country would send us a ship."

Mrs. Stevenson says their home is very pleasant. They live in a cottage, but take their meals in a big house near by. Of her husband she says:

"Louis is ridiculously well. You should see him come galloping up from Apia, looking so well and cheery. It would do your heart good. He is busy on 'The Wrecker' and several short stories of island life legends that are very interesting. The rest of us spend our time gardening."

The Deadly Coal Oil.

Montreal, Aug. 15. Mrs. John Gray, 21 years of age, used a quantity of coal oil to light the kitchen fire yesterday afternoon. The can exploded and in a minute the unfortunate woman was enveloped in flames. Assistance was called and she was removed to the hospital, where she died in great agony last night. She had only been married about a year.

The Handcock Case.

Toronto, Aug. 15. Mr. Murdock yesterday applied to Mr. Justice Street for bail for Edward Handcock, who was committed for trial by the Police Magistrate for Toronto upon an information charging him with the murder of his daughter. Mr. Osmond appeared for the Attorney General. Judgment was reserved till Monday next.

The Peace of Europe

St. Petersburg, Aug. 15. The Novosti, in an article on European politics, takes occasion to review the course followed by the Salisbury Government, and says that, it it is the policy of Great Britain to continue her present attitude towards France and Russia, the peace of Europe will be guaranteed for a long time to come.

Sudden Death While Travelling.

Napanee, Aug. 15. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sail of Camden East were at Napanee depot to take in yesterday's excursion to Toronto. They were accompanied by their infant son eight months old. While waiting for the train the child was taken suddenly ill and died in a few minutes.

A Horse Killed Him.

Brussels, Aug. 15.—Donald Ross, 17th con. of Grey, was leading a young horse with a rope line and was thrown down and dragged against the gate post and so badly injured that he had only strength enough left to get to the house, where he soon passed away. The deceased was 33 years of age.

Brothers Struck by Lightning.

Savannah, Ga., Aug 17.—The dwelling house of Wallace Williams (colored), in Screven County, was struck by lightning Thursday. Three sons of Williams, all preachers, were in the house. One was killed, another is dying and the third was badly injured.

Norfolk, Va., had a destructive fire last night, which burned a number of warehouses, causing $250,000 damage.

On a freight train approaching Texas City, Ill., Otis Johnston, aged 17, made a remark to a woman named Mary Ballentine. Her escort, Mike Wentzel, struck Johnston who thereupon disemboweled Wentzel with a knife. The woman picked up a hatchet and struck Johnston, killing him. Wentzel also died from his injuries.

Mrs. Harkins of Philadelphia has received a cablegram purporting to be from the Governor of Portland Prison, England, stating that her husband who was sentenced to 15 years penal servitude, in London in 1887 for complicity in a dynamite conspiracy has been released and left on a steamer for New York on Wednesday last.

The Czarewitch Arrives.

Moscow, Aug. 17.—The Czarewitch has arrived here, having returned from his extended tour in the east. He returned thanks in the principal churches of the city to-day for his escape from the assassin who attempted to kill him in Japan. He is being accorded a hearty welcome.

A Colored Preacher in St. Paul's.

London, Aug. 17.—There was an unusually large attendance at St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday to hear the negro preacher Messiah of Springfield, Ill., who occupied the pulpit.

A Dublin Monument to St. Patrick.

Dublin, Aug. 15.—It has been decided to erect a suitable monument over the grave of St. Patrick at Downpatrick, where he died and where one of his early converts, Chief Dichu, gave him his first Christian Church.

France's Short Wheat Crop.

Paris, Aug. 15.—The Bulletin Des Halles has been making inquiries in regard to the wheat crop of France and to-day it publishes its deductions from the replies of a large number of correspondents. The result shows that the crop will not exceed 85,000,000 hectolitres. To meet the normal demand of the country it would be necessary to import 82,500,000 bushels of wheat.

Foreigners in England.

London, Aug. 15.—Much has been said recently concerning the great number of foreigners who are alleged to be arriving in England, it being held by many that the reported influx was due to the exodus of Jews from Russia. An official report issued to-day on the immigration during the month of July shows that the number of foreigners entering England during that month amounted to 9,000.

Great Y.M.C.A. Convention.

Amsterdam, Aug. 15.—At the world's convention of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday the missionary work of L. D. Wishard, secretary of the American Committee, who is now making a five years' tour of the missionary world in the interest of the association work, was presented by Lord Kinnaird. The account of this work made a marked impression upon the convention.

The Fool Voyagers.

London, Aug. 15. The American dory Monmouth was spoken August 10 in latitude 47, longitude 35. Capt. Andrews stated everything was going well.

Criminal to Make Dog Sausage.

Leipsic, Aug. 17. The Supreme Judge at Leipsic has decided that it is criminal to sell sausages when composed in any part of dogs meat.

Pensive and Expensive.

Many a woman shrinks from consulting a physician about functional derangements and weaknesses, and prefers to suffer in silence. She is sad and pensive, and her neglect of her ailments will prove expensive. It may cost her her life. One of the most skilful physicians of the day, who has had a vast experience in curing diseases peculiar to women, has prepared a remedy which is of inestimable aid to them. We refer to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the only remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold by druggists under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money refunded. b

Everybody Admires Soft, White Hands, and every lady ought to use Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses, as it makes the skin soft and smooth. Try it. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6039

Regulate the liver and bowels by the judicious use of National Pills, they are purely vegetable.

More cases, of sick headache, biliousness, coostipation can be cured in less time, and less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means. dw

Makes Flesh and Blood.

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Freeman's Worm Powders destroy and remove worms without injury to adult or infant. dw

Mothers and Nurses,

All who have the care of children should know that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry may be confidently depended on to cure all summer complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic, cholera infantum, cholera morbus, canker, etc., in children or adults. dw

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Liver Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both. dw

Herith in Herbs.

Health giving herbs, barks, roots and berries are carefully combined in Burdock Blood Bitters, which regulate the secretions, purify the blood and renovate and strengthen the entire system. Price, $1.00 a bottle, 6 for $5. Less than one cent a dose. dw

Stick to the Right.

Right actions spring from right principles. In cases of diarrhœa, cholera morbus, etc., the right remedy is Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—an unfailing cure—made on the principle that nature's remedies are best. Never travel without it. dw

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion and give tone and vigor to the system. dw

A certain cure for all rheumatic selections is found in the Royal Rheumatic Remedy, to be had from W. E. Greatrix, druggists. dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

All diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete Body Battery. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a Current of Quantity, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for Indigestion, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Liver and Kidney Troubles, Weak Back, Spinal Disease, Heart Disease, Nervous Debility, Paralysis, Vertigo, Female Complaints, Impotence, Sexual Decline and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the Dorenwend Belt is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and meta with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy them but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

REMEMBER
Royal Templars' Excursion, Civic Holiday, August 20.
Forty miles ride through the beautiful lakes from Chemong to Lakefield.
The best of the season.
Take it in.
Don't forget the date, August 20.

"Casey's Troubles"

One of the greatest successes on the road will play an engagement here shortly. It is one of the most colossal theatrical enterprises ever sent from New York. During the past summer over twenty men, some painters, machinists, upholsterers, carpenters, etc., have been constantly at work building the most stupendous scenery and effects. It can be best appreciated from the fact that not one piece of the local scenery is used in the production. The stage is stripped bare on the company's arrival in town, as every piece of scenery for the entire play is special, and from the accounts which precede the company, some of the scenic effects are simply wonderful. d41

Simply Magnificent.

There are many reasons why the C.M.B.A Excursion is superior to any other on Civic Holiday.

Because the route they are taking in is pre-eminent to any other.

Because the scenery is the best on the northern waters.

Because the sail is grand, and will be beneficial to all taking it in.

Because the C.M.B.A has secured a first-class boat and palace barge. (The fastest boat on the upper lakes.)

Because all those attending will have ample room and every comfort and convenience.

Because there will be a good orchestra on board for those wishing to dance.

Because the fair for this immense fresh air trip is only a trifle—just a dollar.

Therefore to be brief, and considering everything, the Excursion is simply magnificent. The train leaves the G.T.R. station at 7 o'clock sharp. Then secure your tickets and have a good days solid amusement, which will prove to be a good tonic. Tickets may be had at the shops of Thomas Kelly, T. Dolan, Jas. Coughlin and J. J. Lynch. d40-42

See Niagara and you've had a lesson in geography that you'll never forget. Court Little John Foresters' Excursion will take you there on Civic Holiday. Fare only $2.00 there and back. d41 42

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Mystery of the Rouge.

Doubts Cleared Away Regarding the John Hartle Theory.

The following from the Globe to-day will be read with interest by many in Peterborough:—

In the market at the village of Liverpool, the inquest into the cause of the death of the man whose body was found in the Rouge river was resumed yesterday afternoon. The only new development was evidence clearly disproving the identity of the dead man with John Hartle, whose anxious wife had written from London to the effect that the published description coincided with that of her missing husband. The first witness called by Coroner Ferrier was Dr. R. M. Bateman, of Pickering, who had made the post-mortem examination. His evidence went to show that the shot had probably been fired from a distance, there being no powder marks near the wound, and that the body was dead before entering the water. Dr. J. R. Dales, of Dunbarton, who had assisted at the examination, gave evidence to the same effect. James Hewitson, an employee of J. D. King & Co.'s shoe factory, Wellington street, was present as a witness. He had caused much speculation through his chance resemblance to the deceased and through having been seen in the locality during the week previous to the discovery of the body, seeking to hire a horse and buggy. He was recognized by Mr. Change Long as the man whom he had mistaken for the Rouge River victim.

The evidence of the second-hand dealer Symons and the lodging house keeper Edward Nuttall was to the effect that the man had lodged for several weeks at 115 York street in December, 1890, or January, 1891, giving his name as August Werner. From that date he had lodged off and on at the same place until April 27th, working during his absence on the Belt Line or other railways near the city. On the date named he left his lodging house, carrying a small valise, and nothing further could be learned of his movements until his dead body was found in the Rouge with the pistol wound in his head.

Wesley Hartle's story effectually disposes of the theory that the dead man was John Hartle, of London. His brother John was born in Cornwall and raised in Peterborough. The last time that Wesley and their stepmother heard from him he was in Valparaiso, Indiana. He had been absent from home for twelve years, and their last news of his whereabouts was received about five years ago. They had never heard of his marriage until the published despatch from Mrs. Elizabeth Hartle, of London, inquiring about her husband, who had disappeared from that city fourteen months ago. From her description and brief biography Wesley Hartle is certain that her missing husband is his brother John, but is not the Rouge River River victim. John Hartle was brought up in Peterborough, where Wesley now resides, and knew nothing of the German language. He is a carriage maker by trade. The inquest has served to clear up some unsound theories regarding the mysterious affair, but nothing new was developed regarding the cause of the man's death. It was adjourned till Tuesday, Aug. 25th.

Make Your Contracts for Meat.

House holders are requested to note that the butcher shops will be closed on Civic Holiday—Thursday. Those who do not wish to fast on Thursday should make arrangements accordingly.

More Suitable Quarters

Mr. J. C. Smith, plumber, has removed his place of business to 257 George street, the premises formerly occupied by J. E. Noble & Co, Mr. Smith by his industry and skill, is working up a good business. He deserves to succeed.

Business Men!

Possibly you need to run up to Toronto to attend to some things. Why not go on the Civic Holiday? Nothing doing at home. Go by Court Little John Foresters excursion per C. P. R. Less than half regular fare for the return trip — $1 75 all told. Trains leave at 4 45 and 7.10 a. m. d41 42

The Fire Fighters' "Run."

The Fire Brigade will make a rattling "run" to Chemong on civic holiday, their annual excursion. This will be the cheapest, quickest, most convenient and most enjoyable excursion of the day. The regatta, the first that has taken place for years, will be a great attraction and an exciting event.

A Strange Visitor.

When Mr. John Cameron's store was opened up this morning a large mink was seen running behind the counter, and it was killed with considerable difficulty. How the mink got into the store is a mystery as much as its presence in a crowded business centre like the vicinity of George street. The mink lost his life and his fur for his temerity.

Sports and Pastimes.

The lacrosse and baseball clubs go out of town civic holiday, and may the best of luck attend them. The lacrosse team plays at Medoc, and the baseball nine will play two games in the one day—they will meet the Independents at Cobourg and the Millbrook team at Millbrook, playing the latter in the forenoon and at Cobourg in the afternoon.

The Circus is Coming.

Mr. Roberts, advertising agent for Robinson's great circus, is in town to-day making arrangements for an exhibition here on Sept. 7th. The advertising car will be here on Saturday. Mr. Walter Scoker, city bill poster, has made terms with the showmen for billing the town. Next week all the dead walls and bill boards in town will be in a blaze of glory, and the small boy will be happy.

A quick trip to Toronto and return, Civic Holiday, Foresters' Excursion, C.P.R: fare only $1.75 Trains leave at 4 45 a.m and 7.10 a.m. d41 42

They Were "Left."

A special train consisting of an engine and two passenger cars arrived at the C. P. R. station from the east at ten o'clock this morning, and the passengers, to the number of 35, were brought up town and breakfasted at the Grand Central hotel at the expense of the railway company. It seems that a car belonging to the morning express was accidentally left behind at Smith's Falls, and the company supplied a special locomotive to carry the passengers through.

A Too Fractional Joke.

Sunday evening last some mischievous urchins played their senseless pranks in the driving shed of St. Paul's church, by exchanging the rugs and whips in the buggies. In a few cases the exchange was noticed and the articles put back in their proper places, but a large number of church attendants from the country drove home with rugs and whips belonging to others, and in some instances they did not benefit by the barter. The boys, if caught, will be punished.

Police Court.

At the police court this morning the police magistrate presided in propria persona, he having returned from his holiday haunts. A rural imbiber of intoxicating inebriation was fined $2 and costs, amounting to 5.85, for breach of the bylaw that prohibits the undue and excessive exhibition of alcoholic hilarity upon any of the streets, lanes, squares, or public places of the city. The penalty was paid.

A poor woman who appears to be insane was arraigned again before the police magistrate, who decided to give her another trial with the hope that her symptoms of insanity might abate and prevent her from being separated from her natural protectors and sent to an asylum.

Bell Telephone Company's New Buildings.

A Peterborough Firm Makes it Hot for Them—Something that those Interested in Telephones Will Read.

(From the Toronto Mail)

The new building erected in Hamilton by the Bell Telephone Company is now almost ready for occupation, and the work of fitting from the old offices at present occupied on Hughson street has begun. The new building is situated on Hughson street, directly opposite the Court House, and Mr. Balfour, the architect who designed the plans, is to be congratulated on very excellent work. The details are remarkably complete, and the vast and intricate work of the Telephone Company can be overtaken in the new offices with perfect ease and comfort. The work of building was commenced about a year ago, and the cost of the building will foot up to over $20,000. The offices are to be occupied jointly by the local exchange and the Ontario departmental officers. The general offices are being occupied now, and the local exchange staff will be moved over by the 1st October. The present volume of business done by the local exchange covers 1 000 telephones, and want of room has rendered it almost impossible to overstep this limit although applications come pouring in with increased regularity for instruments and connections. In the new offices, however, arrangements will be made for 1,500 instruments, whilst the capacity will be for 3,000, so that intending subscribers will not have to wait a day when ordering connections. All the wires enter the building underground, and the new switchboard is arranged for metallic lines instead of single current wires as used at present. This system will give each subscriber two lines instead of one, and will entirely prevent the cross talk now so annoying and so productive of smothered expletives. The centre building will be illuminated by electric light, and the various offices have been fitted up with a special view to the comfort of the large staff of employes retained. On the ground floor to the right are the departmental offices, and to the left is the local manager's office and a special room for the use of the public when conversations are required to points outside the city. This provision is a wise one, and will be much appreciated, for it generally requires perfect quiet to understand what is being said from a distance, and this under the new arrangement will always be afforded. Behind this suite of rooms, are the store and the repairing rooms. In the latter all repairs required for the successful carrying out of the work in Ontario will be attended to. In the basement, which extends the whole length of the building, stands the gas engine, manufactured by Crowley Bros., Manchester, England, for running the generators during the day and the turning lathes in the repair shop. At night the generators will be run by water motor. The heating apparatus is also a model contrivance, made by the Brooks Manufacturing Co., of Peterborough; it consists of four furnaces and has over 10,000 feet of pipe. By a simple arrangement each coil in the building can be shut off direct from the furnace. Up-stairs on the second flat is the switch room, ninety-seven feet long and sheltering a perfect maze of wires. Under the old system each operator in the switch room was assigned to a certain district or number of instruments, and delay in consequence was often unavoidable, but under the new arrangement each operator will be seated opposite to the entire 3,000 connections, and will be thus enabled to reach every circuit without having to call up another worker.

Behind the switch board run thousands of feet of cables, each cable containing forty-two wires. In rear of the operating room is the distributing room, into which the cables come up from underground, and pass over a specially made and ingenious roller rack. The cables end up in the air, in heavy lightning arresting boxes. From there they go to the distributing board, and from that they pass on to the operating room. The battery room is close by, and is large and roomy, and excellently adapted for the purpose. At the end of the flat are dressing and retiring rooms for the use of the staff. This is but a brief description of the vast building, which will be found well worthy of inspection. It is safe to say that when the fitting process is accomplished, and the new offices in full swing, the service given will be unrevelled in any portion of the world.

A Creamery That "Licks Creation."

Vermont Claims the Largest Creamery in the World.

St. Albans, Vermont, claims to have the largest creamery in the world. There are forty four "separating stations" tributary to it, which receive milk from some 700 dairies. The milk is weighed, run through the separator and the dairyman returns home with 88 lbs. of sweet milk for every 100 lbs. supplied. The cream is sent daily from the separating station to the creamery at St. Albans in cans fitted for this special service, except where the vicinity of the separator to St. Albans admits of the carriage of the cream by teams. The St. Albans Adventurer thus describes the treatment of the cream at the creamery:

"The cream is emptied into a receptacle on the first floor of the building, whence it is pumped to the second story, and by an arrangement of jointed pips, carried to any desired one of the ten vats in the cream room. These vats, arranged in two rows, five on a side, each hold 600 gallons, and in them the cream is allowed to remain about twenty-four hours to gain an even temperature and 'ripen.' At the foot of the middle vat in each row a large conductor runs to the churn room underneath. To these the cream is carried by pipes of various lengths from any one of the vats, and again transferred by adjustable conduits to any particular one of the ten churns below, which are also lined five on either side of the compartment. Under each churn is a drip which connects with the buttermilk vat in the basement, and which can be made to connect with the sewer. Each churn yields between 350 and and 380 pounds of butter after 30 to 40 minutes of churning. The buttermilk is then drawn off through the drip pans into the vat below, water is introduced into the churns, which are again set in motion, and the butter is washed into two waters, the refuse water being conducted to the sewer. After the butter has been thoroughly washed, the churns are revolved until the particles have gathered, when the butter is transferred to the tubs and taken to the butter-working room. Here it is weighed and fifty pounds at a time worked by each of the four large butter workers. It is then salted according to taste of the various customers, put into packages ranging from a half pound 'print' to a fifty pound tub, and placed in the cold storage room to await orders for shipment."

The building is described as 117 feet long, 45 feet wide, 25 feet in height. The motive power is a 40 horse-power engine, supplied with steam by a 75 horse-power steel boiler. The equipment is capable of an output of a carload of butter daily.

Frazerville.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

On Wednesday last, about a mile north of our village, at the residence of Mr. John Madill, a very pleasing society event took place, which social circles have been interested in for some time past. The event took place at five o'clock in the evening, when Mr. William Madill and Miss Carrie Madill, youngest daughter of Mr. John Madill, of Cavan, formed a connubial confederation of hearts, hands and fortunes at the altar of Hymen. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Wm. Bennett, this being the fifth ceremony performed by the rev. gentleman in Mr. Madill's family. The bride looked charming in a becoming robe of silver grey satin, trimmed with fawn coloured silk lace and wearing the usual bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms. The bridesmaid was Miss Emma Bidgood, of Springville, and she too looked equally attractive, whilst Mr. Joseph Goodfellow, cousin of the groom, did duty as best man. After the ceremony the guests were entertained to a sumptuous wedding breakfast, which they heartily partook of. Mr. Madill is one of our highly respected and enterprising farmers, while the bride is a young lady held in very high esteem by the hundreds who have known her from her earliest years, and which was shown by the very large number and beauty of the wedding presents sent her. Mr. and Mrs. Madill, who enter the estate of matrimony under the most promising auspices, will receive the hearty congratulations of their host of friends.

Grand Picnic and Regatta.

O'Connor, Champion Oarsman of America, Wants Patterson, Champion of the Pacific Coast, at Brighton on Wednesday.

A grand picnic in aid of the Roman Catholic church will be held at Brighton on Wednesday next, to-morrow. A great feature of the occasion will be a sculling race for a purse of $2,000 between William O'Connor, champion oarsman of America, and Patterson, of California, champion of the Pacific coast. The race will be rowed at Presqu' Isle Point, between three and five o'clock in the afternoon. This will be an acquatic event well worth seeing. All are invited. The return fare from Peterborough is only $1.00. No better chance has ever been presented in this vicinity for seeing two first class scullers engage in the splendid struggle which will take place between two well matched giants of the oar.

A Nuisance Noted.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I wish to call the attention of the authorities—both the civic and the railway authorities—to the need that exists at the G.T.R. Railway station—as I witnessed last night, of a policeman on duty there. Along with a large number of other gentlemen, and a large number of ladies, I was waiting to meet a friend at the station. And the conduct of a wild and uncouth gang of youthful hoodlums made the place a veritable pandemonium. There was shrieking, shouting, pushing, jostling, bustling, wrestling and obscene and profane language. It was a sore trial to decent persons, compelled by business or the obligations of hospitality to remain till the arrival of the train (the 8:50 train.) I was greatly surprised that the station agent did not telephone for a policeman and have the riotous conduct suppressed. Hoping that this may meet the eye of someone in authority, and lead to the suppression of these young rascals, I remain,

Yours truly,
VIATOR.

Personal.

Mr. O. C. Rowse is holidaying at Grimsby this week.

Miss Lena Clarkson, of Collingwood, is visiting friends in town, and is the guest of Miss Sophie Cameron.

Miss Maude Brecken, of Orillia, is spending a few weeks in town, the guest of her cousin, Miss Maude Brennan.

Rev. Father McColl of the Cathedral, who has been spending a couple weeks holidays at Brighton has returned to town.

The family of the late Mr. Joseph Craig have returned to Belleville, and will make that town their future residence.

Miss Stephenson, teacher of Demill College, Oshawa, is visiting her brother A. M. Stephenson, V.S., 217 Brock street.

Mr. W. S. Alexander of the Edison company has gone up to Hazelwood Lodge, Eel's Creek, to join the party who are camped there, as mentioned in the EXAMINER of Monday.

Mr. K. G. Loch has returned from Stony Lake, and reports the fishing as unusually good, and as an earnest of the correctness of his report, he brought down four fine lunge, the spoils of his hook, and the sanctum table was honoured with a beautiful seven-pounder.

A picnic party of eight, namely Miss Newton, Toronto; Miss Evans, Toronto; Miss Lake, Oshawa; Miss Lumsden, Peterborough, and Martyn Mowry, of San Jose, California; Rollie Woods, of Salt Lake City, Utah; G. W. Dorsee, Boston, Mass; and Ray W. Dorsee, Peterborough, are down the river to-day, where they expect to have a pleasant outing.

The right section of the Durham Field Battery had a practice drill at the drill shed last night, and between this and the 8th of September, when the Battery goes into camp at Kingston, drill will be held two evenings each week—Monday and Wednesday.

Opening of the Schools.

The Collegiate Institute opens on Monday, August 31st, at 9 o'clock a.m. The Public opens on the same day. In the Public Schools a bonus of a certain number of marks for regular attendance will be given. These will be added to the marks made at the promotion examinations.

Seriously Ill.

Mrs. Alex. Gough is lying seriously and dangerously ill at the family residence, Hunter street. Her sons Mr. E. D. Gough of Toronto, and Mr. Bernard J. Gough of Brantford, and her daughters, Mrs. Walsh of Stratford, Mrs. Day of Guelph and Mrs. Rogers of Toronto, are now at her bedside.

A Group of Aged Gentlemen.

The Belleville Ontario says that at the funeral of the Rev. Hiram Williams at Belleville, there were present five of his old associates whose united ages counted up 393 years. The five old gentlemen were all natives of Prince Edward. Their names are as follows:—Mr. Michael McMahon, Dr. J. J. Carlette, Mr. Rector Howell, Mr. N. Sprague and Mr. Alexander Bardette. Rev. Mr. Williams was 70 years old. The funeral was very large.

Not Warranted but Worth Trying.

Horsemen will find that a little coal oil—about a teacupful to a pint of water—well mixed and sprayed over a stable will have the effect of keeping out the flies which pest the horses so much. It may be used in both horse stables and hen houses, and neither flies nor lice will remain long while the smell of it remains. It is well to use a spraying pump and a fine nozzle, and a very little of the mixture will spray a large stable thoroughly.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

A Woman's Laugh.

Some one has beautifully and truthfully said that the silvery laugh of a woman is like the music of flutes on the wate. It is very certain that no other sound in this world so nearly approaches the angelic as the clear melodious laugh of a beautiful woman. But women cannot laugh when their delicate organizations are out of order; when they are suffering from any of the irregularities or weaknesses common to their sex. It is out of the question; and if they desire to again charm with their laughter, they must resort to the best female remedy known, Beecham's Pills. Price 25 cents a box. If your druggist does not keep them, send to B F. Allen Co., 365 and 367 Canal street, New York. w34t

On Fire with Eczeme

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby, Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 6 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was terrible, the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his tortured agonies were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $2 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, the sufferings were eased, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

SUN LIFE
ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,255 98
Increase over previous year	3,421,372 84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599 15
Increase over 1889	2,268,888 60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078 87
Increase over 1889	325,936 35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514 10
Increase over 1889	687,691 47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,109,232 65
Increase over 1889	567,732 71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175 69
Increase over 1889	75,649 95
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961 65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,824 07
" " " 1886, "	80,452 97
" " " 1890, (four years)	232,175 68

THE FRANCO-RUSSIAN TREATY.

Denial that any Such Convention has Been Made Between the Countries.

LONDON, Aug. 19, 1891. The St. Petersburg agent of Reuter's Telegram Company has been furnished with an "unparalleled denial of the report that a secret treaty has been concluded between Russia and France. In this denial it is declared that neither Admiral Gervais nor any other French or Russian representative has signed or concluded verbally any convention between France and Russia.

It is also asserted from the same source that no conference have been held on the subject and that the well known rapprochement between Russia and France does not date from the present time, but, it is added, it was occasioned long ago by international circumstances rather than by spontaneous desire of the Powers themselves and that it has since continued to grow closer.

Continuing, this inspired statement says that the visit of the French fleet to Cronstadt and the enthusiastic reception accorded to the French sailors only served to solemnly confirm the good entente previously existing and to convince by palpable proof to Frenchmen, Russians and foreigners who still doubted the existence of the entente.

The official denial also asserts that the visit of the French fleet to Cronstadt had the effect of opening the entente to such a point that it can be converted into an alliance should the conduct of the enemies of France and Russia render a formal treaty necessary. But it is stated in conclusion the alliance has not yet been concluded, nor is it in preparation in Paris or in St. Petersburg. Such proceedings, it is explained, would be superfluous and might endanger the peace of Europe.

In conclusion this inspired statement says that it depends entirely upon the governments and of the peoples forming the dreibund whether the friendly relations existing between Russia and France shall retain their present simple status or resolve into a stronger and more formal agreement.

Ontario Express Company

OTTAWA, Aug. 18. At a meeting of the Banking and Commerce Committee to-day an Act respecting the Ontario Express & Transportation Company was passed. Mr. Sutherland has charge of the bill. Mr. Ryckman said that the company had already established an office in Hamilton and had men, wagons, horses and everything else in readiness to commence operation. It was looked on as a purely Canadian enterprise and the whole business would be greatly benefited by the new company. The bill was considerably changed, a clause was put in at the instigation of the Grand Trunk solicitor to prevent the company from taking any action of damages against the railway company for having had refused to carry their goods in the past. In the future, of course, all railway companies will have to carry the company's goods.

Eighty Persons Drowned.

PORT AU PRINCE, Aug. 19. A terrible accident occurred here last Friday. Storms had swollen the mountain streams and the River St. Marc overflowed its banks. For some time the stone bridge over the St. Marc resisted the sweep of the torrent. At length, however, the foundations were undermined and the whole structure tumbled into the river. A number of natives were on the bridge when the accident happened. The bridge went down before the people were aware of their danger. A great many were thrown into the river. The more fortunate ones managed to reach the shore after a hard struggle. All the others, some 80 in number, were swept along and their dead bodies were carried out to sea.

FOUND THE SPIRIT UNDER A BED.

Mrs. Roberts' Spook Proved to be Miss Annie West, of Topeka, Kan.

OCEAN BAY, Mass., Aug. 19. Investigation has put another female spook dealer in an unenviable position. Yesterday the Ocean Bay Association requested Mrs. Etta Roberts, of Rochester, N. Y., to leave their grounds. Mrs. Roberts gave a seance in her cottage last Thursday to a party that included Mrs. Dr. Bland, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Lattle, of Glen Falls, N. Y., and Miss Lilian Wood and Mrs. F. G. Baker, of Topeka, Kan. Those assembled had their suspicions aroused and at the close of the seance Mrs. Lattle and Mrs. Baker began an investigation. They found secreted beneath a bed Miss Annie West, of Topeka, Kan., who had been perambulating about the room as a spirit. They also found other evidences of fraud and made a report of their discoveries to the officers of the association.

More Trouble at Fourmies.

PARIS, August 19.—A most serious labor agitation has broken out at Fourmies, near Vervins, in the Department du Nord. Troops consequently have been despatched from Lille to Fourmies in order to put an end to the disturbances which have resulted from the labor disputes. Serious rioting is looked forward to.

Fourmies, it will be remembered, was the scene of the recent bloody May Day riots, which resulted in much loss of life, considerable ill feeling against the troops and local authorities, the government being blamed for the troubles, and in a wordy warfare between Henri Rochefort and M. Isaacs, the sub-prefect who ordered the troops to fire upon the rioters, which necessitated making the arrangements for a duel between the two gentlemen named. The hostile meeting decided upon, however, was postponed, owing to vigilance of the Belgian police, and also by reason of the publicity given to the affair by the friends of the two principals.

Storm-Swept Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 19.—A path of smouldering ruins, two blocks wide and six long, extending from Bay street to Beaver street, and one block on each side, is the result of a fire which started at midnight. It caught in R. D. Knight & Co.'s grocery, adjoining the large Hubbard building, and in a very short time the block was a mass of flames. Thence they were carried diagonally across the street to the Tremont House, thence to Col. Burbridge's brick block, in which the Seminole Club is domiciled. The flames were stopped at Beaver street, on the north, at Laura-street on the west, and at Ocean-street on the east. At seven o'clock this morning over twenty five business houses were burned, and over forty dwellings. Loss about one million dollars, insurance one half.

THOUGHT SHE WAS GOD.

The Fatal Delusion of an Insane Woman at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Aug. 19.—A most unfortunate affair happened at the Hamilton Asylum for the Insane last night. Three female patients —Mrs. J. Wilson, wife of the tollgate keeper in Main street; Mrs. Strachan, who comes from the vicinity of Ottawa, and another woman occupied beds in the same dormitory. Mrs. Wilson has been a rather boisterous patient, but she has not been considered dangerous. Mrs. Strachan was a feeble old woman. Within the past day or two Mrs. Wilson has been nursing a new delusion; it is that she is the Deity, and that her will must necessarily be carried out. There is no particular harm in this delusion so long as her will was directed to harmless ends, but, unfortunately, last night the idea took possession of her poor crazed mind that a life must be sacrificed to her, and that she must be the instrument to carry out her own will.

The nearest victim was the feeble old Mrs. Strachan. Between 8 and 9 o'clock, after they had retired, Mrs. Wilson went to Mrs. Strachan's bed, seized her by the throat and choked her into unconsciousness; but before she could kill her victim the horrible situation was discovered by the attendants, and Mrs. Strachan was released. For two hours they worked at the unfortunate woman, endeavoring to restore respiration; but the shock to her feeble system had been too great, and she died about 11 o'clock.

The Empire Trade League.

TORONTO, Aug. 19. The audience of about 600 sat in a semi-circle in the rotunda of the Board of Trade last night to hear Col. Howard Vincent, M.P., of London, Eng., speak on "Preferential Inter British Trade Relations." The mercantile, financial and manufacturing interests of the city were well represented, and the speaker was accorded an attentive hearing. President John I. Davidson occupied the chair.

Col. Vincent, in rising to speak, said his mission to Canada had a two-fold object. First, he was anxious to obtain the opinion of her legislators on the subject, and second to ascertain to what extent the views of the Toronto Board of Trade were endorsed in the Province of Quebec and "in the natural paradise of nature, the Maritime Provinces." Col. Vincent explained the object of the league, and a resolution was passed endorsing the Colonel's scheme.

Grand Trunk Influence.

QUEBEC, Aug. 19. The refusal of President Van Horne, who arrived from England to-day, to speak of the new line of transatlantic steamships between Britain and Canada is taken as an evidence that Grand Trunk influence has killed the scheme at least for the present. Mr. Van Horne states, however, that Quebec is now to be used by the Canadian Pacific as a port of shipment for Canadian grain to England, since the enormous increase in the wheat crop of the Canadian Northwest will much more than exhaust Montreal's terminal facilities. Elevators will be built here at once by Contractor Charlebois, who arrived with Mr. Van Horne. He brings news that financial arrangements have been made in Brussels that means the early completion of the Great Northwestern Railway of Manitoba and the Montreal and Ottawa, the new short line between those two cities.

Think Alm Iay On the Sea.

QUEBEC, Aug. 19. American detectives are in town to make inquiries from the settlement who shipped on board the steamship Mongolian, on which it is supposed the murderer, Frank Almy, took passage when she sailed from Quebec last month. From the description of the man supposed to be Almy given by the settlement it is now fully established that he is not the man. The detectives are of the opinion that Almy boarded at a sailors' boarding house in Champlain street for several days and then shipped on a sailing vessel, the name of which is now being looked for in order that instructions for Almy's arrest may be cabled to the ships port of destination.

Floriculturists in Session.

TORONTO, Aug. 19. The Horticultural Gardens Pavilion represented a very pretty appearance yesterday morning. On every side beautiful flowers and plants, with variegated foliage, lent their charms to the scene and imparted the air with fragrance. The cause of these unusual decorations and this unwonted stir was the fact that the Society of American Florists was holding the first session of its seventh annual meeting. Addresses of welcome were delivered by the Mayor, several of the aldermen and Warden Massey.

Gave Up It's Dead.

HAMILTON, Aug. 19. The body of William McKean, the man who was drowned in the bay on Saturday, Aug. 8, by falling off the steamer Maggie Mason while she was returning from Hamilton Beach, was found at an early hour this morning. McKean was an employe at Chilman's bakery, he was about 35 years of age, married, and leaves a widow and two children, who reside on Catharine street south.

A Tilsonburg Fire

TILSONBURG, Aug. 19. The large saw and planing mill owned by John Smith was totally destroyed last night, together with the large stock in the lumber yard. The building was insured in the Gore Fire Insurance Company of Galt.

English Executions.

LEEDS, Eng., Aug. 19. William Turner, the murderer of little Barbara Waterhouse, was hanged here this morning. Turner protested his innocence to the last.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—At Chelmsford this morning Sadler, the man who stabbed and killed the husband of his paramour, suffered the death penalty for his crime.

His Friends Heard From.

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—An inquest was held yesterday afternoon in the jail on the body of Joseph Sepegon. The finding of the coroner's jury was "Died from pneumonia." The authorities learned that he came from Dayton, Ohio, and communicated with his friends, who have asked that his body be embalmed and held till their arrival at the city.

MCGREEVY RESIGNS

AND A WARRANT IS ISSUED FOR HIS ARREST.

He Fails to Appear Before the House and the Sergeant-At-Arms is Despatched to Quebec to Hunt Him Up—Serious Charges Preferred Against a Member.

OTTAWA, Aug. 19.—In the House yesterday the assistant clerk read the order of the House dated Aug. 13, that Thomas McGreevy, member for Quebec West, attend in his place in the House to-day. The speaker asked if the honorable member was in his place. Mr. McGreevy was not present. The speaker then said that a copy of the order of the House had been sent to Mr. McGreevy at Quebec, and a telegram sent informing him of the fact. The manager of the G.N.W. office reported that the message had been duly delivered to Mr. McGreevy Friday afternoon at the office of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company. Sir John Thompson moved that Hon. Thomas McGreevy, not having attended in his place pursuant to the order of August, be taken into the custody of the sergeant-at-arms and that the Speaker issue his warrant accordingly. The motion was adopted without remark.

The Free Press published a letter to-night from a correspondent in Washington, described as an old Canadian journalist, which says: "From information obtained at the British embassy and the State Department I have gathered that Premier Abbott sent a secret commissioner here a few weeks ago to make an effort to establish an entente cordiale. The name of the commissioner has not been divulged, but he is a leading Canadian Conservative politician and brought letters from Premier Abbott. While here the commissioner stated to the British Minister and others that he had been requested by Premier Abbott to proceed to New York from Ottawa and endeavor to secure the assistance of Mr. Erastus Wiman, who has taken a lively interest in the promotion of closer commercial relations between Canada and the United States, and to whose counsel the Republican leaders in Congress usually pay some attention. Premier Abbott's commissioner was instructed to apologize to Mr. Wiman for the abuse showered on him during the last election.

Mr. Abbott's agent when here submitted to Sir Julian Pauncefote a memorandum to the effect that the present Dominion Government was willing to have reciprocity of trade in all such articles as not imported into Canada in large quantities from England. Sir Julian has forwarded it and is now in a position to offer the United States reciprocity in coal, grain of all kinds, meats, cattle and other live stocks, boots and shoes, leather of all kinds, glass and glassware. Agricultural implements, flour and meal, paper and paper manufactures, kerosene oil, cars, carriages and parts of carriages, fish, brass and metal goods, vegetables, fruits of all kinds, hay and cops, rubber goods, fertilizers, earthen and chinaware and a number of other important articles. He is also authorized to propose that equal privileges shall be given to American and Canadian grain-laden vessels passing down St. Lawrence canals and to offer American fishermen free access to Canadian waters.

Mr. S. J. Hitchins of Akron is here. He has in his possession a letter from the late Sir John Macdonald authorizing him to propose reciprocity in coal."

Mr. Abbott said to night that there was not a word of truth in the letter—that it was entirely without foundation.

QUEBEC, Que., Aug. 19.—The Morning Chronicle says: "This is the day upon which the Hon. Thomas McGreevy was required by an order of the House of Commons to appear in his seat in Parliament and hear the judgment of the House upon his refusal to answer certain questions touching his private affairs, put to him in the Committee of Privileges and Elections. But Mr. McGreevy will not be there. He is here in town, and will be here all day. He would still decide to answer the same questions if he was in Ottawa, and naturally, therefore, he declines to go there. He would rather be deprived of his seat in the House, he says, than divulge private affairs, into which he believes the committee should not enquire. Mr. McGreevy does not believe that he should retain a seat that he does not intend to occupy, and last night, therefore, he addressed a letter to the Speaker of the House of Commons, explaining why he could not and would not obey the order of the House and tendering his resignation as a member thereof."

L'Electeur of Quebec says this morning that Mr. Barwick, Mr. Cockburn, M.P., and Mr. King, manager of the Ontario Bank, examined Mr. Pacaud's accounts in the Union Bank, also the Banque National and in the Bank du Peuple. Not satisfied with going over Mr. Pacaud's accounts they went over Messrs. Mercier, Garneau, Charles Langelier, Duhamel, etc. Their greed for information was still raised to such a pitch that they proceeded to examine several Liberal politicians accounts, but Hon. Firs. Langelier's appearance at the Banque Ontarienne soon cooled down their zeal and put a stop to this strange way of doing business.

L'Electeur concludes that the perfect ease and unconcern manifested by the gentlemen thus often fed proves their non participation in the crooked acts that are being investigated. The Liberal organ maintains that the whole business is illegal.

The New Spanish Treaty

OTTAWA, Aug. 18. In the House to-night Mr. Bourden asked to what degree the position of Canada was prejudiced as an exporter of goods to Cuba and Porto Rico by the recently concluded treaty between the United States and Canada.

Sir John Thompson replied that the treaty did not come into force until 1892. In the meantime the Imperial authorities were pressing the Spanish Government for a specific statement as to the position occupied by Great Britain and her colonies, which already enjoy a favored national treaty with Spain.

This is Serious

OTTAWA, Aug. 19. The House to day in Committee of Ways and Means made a change in the item of beer, ale and porter imported and also in the excise duty upon beer made from other materials, such as sugar, malt or corn.

Hon. Mr. Foster said it was thought wise to raise the excise duty upon this kind of beer from 4 to 10 cents, the object being to prevent the manufacture of that kind of beer, it being of poor quality, and to preserve the manufacture of beer from malt. The duty upon imported ales, porter and beer in bottles was increased from 3 to 6 cents.

Another scandal is brewing. In the House to-morrow Mr. M. C. Cameron (Huron) will make a charge that Mr. Cochrane, M. P. for East Northumberland is guilty of selling Government patronage to the highest bidder.

London Murder and Suicide.

LONDON, Aug. 19. Charles Lucy, a soldier, took passage on the London and North Woolwich Railway last night with his sweetheart, Louise Purchase, whom he proposed to marry to-day. While the train was moving at full speed he drew a pistol and with out warning pointing it at her breast, fired. He then, turning the pistol upon himself, blew out his brains. The unfortunate woman, having been severely injured, was unable to give the alarm, and was thus compelled to ride with the corpse, until the train arrived at the next station. On being taken to the hospital Miss Purchase made an ante mortem statement, in which she declares her utter inability to account for the attempted murder, as her lover appeared to be perfectly sober on entering the train.

Hamilton Saengerfest.

HAMILTON, Aug. 19. The greatest of all peninsular Saengerfests is now in full swing. To-day has been devoted principally to welcoming the delegates, the Erie, Pa., Cleveland, O., Berlin, Ont., Rochester, N.Y., and Detroit, Mich., arriving to-day. The Liederkranz of Toronto, Frederick Vogt, director, 22 strong, accompanied by the splendid military band of C Company, R. S. I. (Bandmaster Forder), arrived by steamboat at 1.20. They were received by a committee and escorted to the rink for refreshments.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

A BREEZY BUDGET FROM OVER THE SEA.

The Manipur Execution—10,000 People Flooded With Water—The Reception to the French Fleet at Britain—Claims to be Brought to Time.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—A despatch from Swansea, Wales, brings news of the soaking by a cloudburst of 10,000 people, who had assembled there at the National Eisteddfod. In an immense pavilion covered with canvas an audience numbering over 10,000 people had gathered to listen to the Eisteddfod competition. The weather during the earlier part of the day had been fine, but as time passed clouds began to gather over Swansea and its neighborhood, a huge black cloud particularly being noticed hovering over the neighborhood of the pavilion.

Suddenly the wind increased and the canvas covering over the pavilion was torn asunder by the force of the wind. Almost at the same time the huge cloud burst and deluged 10,000 people with water until they were literally soaked to the skin. A stampede followed the carrying away of the roof, men, women and children rushing helter-skelter for places of refuge. Many were knocked down and trampled upon, but nobody was seriously injured. The musical competitions were resumed under damper though still enthusiastic auspices.

The French Fleet.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The fleet of French war vessels, which has recently been visiting Cronstadt and whose officers have been received with much marked enthusiasm at that port and at St. Petersburg was off Dover this morning. The fleet was slowly steaming down the channel and will arrive in the Solant to-morrow. Admiral Gervais and the senior officers of the French squadron will have the honor of dining with the Queen at Osborne Palace Thursday night, and Her Majesty will review both the visiting French fleet and the British fleet off Portsmouth on Friday. The French upon arrival off the east end of the Isle of Wight will be met by a portion of the British fleet and escorted through Spithead Road to Cowes when they will anchor in full view of Osborne Palace. The French officers will be entertained at the town hall, Portsmouth, by the British naval authorities. The French minister in Waddington is expected to be present. Following the review the French officers will attend the ball to be given the mayor of Portsmouth at the town hall.

EUROPEAN TRADE.

Switzerland's Interference with a Promising Projected Zollverein.

VIENNA, Aug. 19.—The Swiss, Austrian and German delegates on Saturday last discussed the fresh Swiss proposals in connection with the projected commercial league; but, it is now definitely announced, they were unable to agree upon them and eventually decided upon an indefinite postponement of the negotiations. The news of the rupture has produced a deep impression in political circles in Rome. Switzerland has been Italy's best customer for the last two years, France and then the United States coming next.

It is openly stated here that if Switzerland continues to refuse to grant the concessions demanded by Austria and Germany that the value of any commercial arrangements made at Munich between Austria, Germany and Italy will be greatly impaired, as it was understood that the arrangements made at Berne or at Vienna were to form the basis of the entire scheme. Italy is a large consumer of the manufactures of Germany and Austria, who desire to secure her trade, while they themselves buy but little of Italy, whose willingness to join the commercial league, which would injure her best customers for the benefit of her poorest, mystifies all outsiders, though it may be perfectly clear to those who are pulling the wires at the present moment. The Austrian and German delegates have already started for Munich.

Destroyed by Cloudburst.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 19.—Much property was lost yesterday by a cloudburst in the vicinity of the Two and Platt rivers, at the Agency. The water rose twenty feet in six hours, and from twelve to fifteen farms were ruined.

Houses, barns and stock were swept away and crops in the fields ruined. Many narrow escapes are reported, but no lives are yet known to be lost. Another cloudburst in the same place followed this morning, causing more damage, but particulars have not yet been obtained.

Manipur Execution.

CALCUTTA, Aug. 18.—The execution of the Manipur princes has created a profound sensation throughout India. The newspapers printed in the native language strongly condemn the so-called hurried orders issued for the execution, which was hastened lest English opinion should undergo a change in favor of the condemned princes after the publication of their defence. The manner of the Tongal general's execution particularly greatly shocked native feeling. It is said he was bound up and that his executioners were obliged to hit him upon a stool before the drop fell.

Father and Son Hanged Together.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 19. The late reports of the lynching of Monroe Evans and his son John, near Ballytown, by Whitecaps, say that father and son were hanged with a single rope. One end of the rope was tied around the neck of the old man and the other around the neck of his son, and they were strung up to a tree together.

The old man stood well in his county, though his son was unruly, and the people of Ullman County are begging the authorities to ferret out and punish the lynchers.

Swept by a Cloudburst.

VIENNA, Aug. 19. The village of Kolman has been partly destroyed by a cloudburst. The cloud burst over the mountain near Bolzen, which is protected from inundation by a strong dyke two miles long. The fall of water flooded the lowlands and converted a mountain stream into a torrent, which swept through the village of Kolman, carrying away men and cattle and destroying half the houses of that place. Many persons were wounded.

War Rumors From Samoa.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 19.—According to a private letter received here from Samoa, and dated July 16, there was danger of renewed war among the natives.

Some resident had made arrangements to send the women and children to Honolulu at the first outbreak of trouble. A strenuous appeal had been made for a United States war ship. The only man-of-war there at the time was a German vessel.

A Delegate Arrested.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 19 Merleno, an Italian anarchist de egate to socialist congress in session here, was arrested by the Belgian police to-day on the ground that he had previously been expelled from Belgium.

To Employ the Unemployed.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 19.—The Russian Government is making exhaustive enquiry on the stock of wheat in the country, the prices demanded and the facilities for transportation. The measures for the relief of the distressed districts include building of canals, barracks, railroads, the paving of streets and planting of forests.

Mrs. Carrothers Arrives.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Carrothers, the woman charged with murdering her husband at Rainy River, arrived at Rat Portage to-day in charge of Detective Murray of Toronto. B. B. Osler of Toronto will conduct her defence.

Has a Family in Hamilton.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 19.—William Green, whose family reside in Hamilton Ont., was killed to-day at Neepawa by the fall of a scaffold.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1891.

UNLESS the Tories in the Dominion House of Commons are willing to declare by their votes that Sir Hector Langevin and Messrs. Haggart, Chapleau, Dawdney, et al, should be turned out of office, they cannot consistently find fault with those members or supporters of the Quebec Government who are accused of boodling. Let Mr. Abbott and his friends qualify themselves to sit in judgment upon the Mercier Government by turning the boodlers out of the Federal Ministry.

AFTER calling upon Liberals to help him investigate the Baie Chaleurs railway scandal, and accepting their assistance to that end, Premier Abbott, remarks the Ottawa Free Press, called upon his own followers to burk the inquiry into the Chapleau printing bureau scandal. The Tory boss made a speech in the Senate in which he called upon the members of that chamber "to assist in ascertaining the facts and placing them before the public, in order that they may be dealt with properly, and, if found guilty, that summary vengeance may be exercised upon those who are found guilty of appropriating public money—be they high or low." Now he is using his majority in the Public Accounts Committee to prevent investigations which may tend to show that his Secretary of State and his Postmaster General are fit subjects for "summary vengeance."

L'Ecenement says Sir Hector was warned time and again by prominent friends in the party to beware of Uncle Thomas and other shady persons whom he kept about him, but he was deaf to good advice. At length in 1889 the Conservatives in the Quebec Legislature signed an address to Sir John Macdonald protesting against Uncle Thomas' rule in the Quebec district and begging the Old Man to put an end to a state of things which was bringing scandal and disgrace upon the party. Sir John paid no attention to the matter, and McGreevy continued to boss the show until Tarte and others brought about an explosion which has destroyed both the Minister and his favorite. Sir Hector thus sinned against light and knowledge in allowing Uncle Thomas to rule the roast, though his conduct was natural enough if it be that he "stood in" with that person in his dealings with the contractors. It is strange says the Globe, that Sir John Macdonald should have ignored the petition of the Quebec Tories. If it had come from a single individual or even from two or three one can understand that he might have deemed it of little account; but a formal request from the whole party in the Legislature was a very different thing. Perhaps he suspected that verything was not right between Sir Hector and the contractors and wished to stave off the day of wrath as long as he could.

The Dominion Alliance.

The Annual Convention in Toronto on Sept. 15th.

The annul meeting for 1891 of the Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance will (D.V.) be held in Richmond Hall, 25 Richmond street west, Toronto, on Tuesday, September 15th, commencing at 9 a.m.

Never, says a circular which has been forwarded to the EXAMINER for publication, in the history of Canada were the situation and outlook of the temperance cause more full of interest than they are to day. The question of Prohibition has been forced upon Parliament, and its advocates will no longer allow it to be ignored. Churches are speaking out more strongly than ever before. The liquor traffic is being crowded into narrower limits. Right public sentiment is steadily pressing with increase energy for further restrictions, and ultimate prohibition.

Two matters will specially claim the attention of the convention:—(1) The National Situation. (2) Our Position as a Province. The temperance people did not ask for the Prohibition Commission—they did not think it necessary; but now that it has been resolved upon, it is their duty to do all they can to make its investigations as complete and effective as possible. Our Ontario Local Option Law is before the Court of Appeal. If it is sustained, as we confidently hope it will be, we must be prepared to strike boldly at once to bring our Province under the stringent provisions of total prohibition. If it fails we should at once demand a broader, fuller and unassailable measure of prohibition for this Province. We must also further press for all the immediate general prohibition that we can secure from our Provincial Legislature.

The Alliance, as an organization, is not in any sense in competition with any other organization. It is simply the Legislative Committee of the various temperance societies and workers. It is composed of members and delegates. Any temperance or church organization that contributes annually one dollar or upwards to the funds of the Alliance, is considered a branch, and has a right to send to the Convention one delegate for every dollar so contributed. In addition to the delegates so constituted, any temperance worker approving of the objects of the Alliance may become a member by paying one dollar or more. It is specially requested that all church and temperance societies will kindly connect themselves with the Alliance on the plan above named, and that as far as possible they will appoint representatives to the approaching Convention.

The time for the convention has been fixed to suit the convenience of those who desire to visit the Toronto Industrial Exhibition. In the second week the exhibition is at its best, and the railway rates are lowest. Our friends can take Tuesday for the convention, and have the remainder of the week for sightseeing. All railways will sell tickets to Toronto and return for a single fare. Tickets will be good to return up to Monday September 21st. No certificates are necessary. Delegates will simply purchase return tickets when leaving home. ☞On Monday, 14th, there will be an excursion at a still lower rate, full particulars of which will be advertised in connection with the exhibition. Tickets good to return up to the 21st.

A great array of earnest workers will be there. Every friend of the cause in Ontario is asked to make it a duty to be on hand. Every church should be represented. Every temperance society should send its delegates.

Seed Wheat.

Report of the Committee of the Dominion Millers' Association.

The Seed Wheat Committee of the Dominion Millers' Association has issued the following report, signed by Messrs. Thomas Goldie, president, and David Pierce, secretary:—

The Seed Wheat Committee of the Dominion Millers' Association, after investigating the matter of many different kinds of winter wheat, beg to make the following recommendations to the farmers of Ontario. The farmers' and millers' interests are identical in promoting the cultivation of those varieties of wheat producing the best grades of flour. Hence we believe it to be the duty of our association to make as public as possible all the information we have gathered on this point.

The information has been gathered from farmers and millers in Ontario, some from the United States, and considerable at the Model Farm, Guelph, which the committee was invited to visit and inspect the different varieties (some 62) of wheat grown on small plots as tests.

A large committe appointed by the association visited the Agricultural College, and was greatly pleased with the plans adopted to secure those tests. At the same time all were of the opinion that the past dry season has been very conductive to the extraordinary outturn on this farm the present year, believing that on this particular farm a wet season would cause winter wheat to suffer from rust. If our Province is to get the full benefit of those tests, which we believe will be a very great boon, we think it would be wise for the Government to secure ten acres of suitable land in Southern Ontario and ten acres in Northern Ontario to be used for those tests under the supervision of the professor of agriculture at Guelph, as oftimes a variety may be very suitable for one kind of soil and climate and not for another, as the soil and climate of our large province vary considerably.

Prof Shaw and his assistant, Mr. C. A. Zavitz; rendered great assistance to the committee in aiding us to acquire all the information possible in our investigation, and after being driven over the farm to see the different test plots, some in shock and some not yet harvested, we beg to state such a farm for agricultural instruction is a great benefit and credit to our fair Province.

The following are the results and recommendations growing out of our investigation, viz.:—

WHITE WHEATS.

Surprise Wheat—Highly recommended. A small plot at the model farm tested 63 bushels to the acre and 62¼ pounds to the standard bushel.

Canadian Velvet Chaff—Highly recommended. Yield at the model farm, 59; tests, 62½ standard bushel.

Bulgarian white—Recommended. Yield, 46 bushels; model farm tests, 64½.

Soules White—Our friend of yore. Considerable of this wheat grown around Plattsville.

Rumsey Wheat—Introduced into Brant County two years ago. Fair milling wheat.

Democrat—Seed obtained almost anywhere. When first this wheat was introduced some years ago it was considered to produce a flour too yellow for fall wheat flour purposes, but the millers now consider it has improved on this point and recommend farmers still to sow part of their fall wheat ground to this variety, especially in sections where it has proved itself a good yielder.

RED WHEATS.

Don't sow the Roger wheat; it has no good bread properties in it, and inclined to go to smut; and would recommend not to sow too extensively the Manchester. Information obtained so far indicates it as a soft wheat with very little gluten in it.

Jones' Winter Fife—Splendid strong wheat; 56 bushels at model farm; tests 64½.

Hybrid Mediterranean—Good bread properties; recommended; yield, model farm, 44 bushels; tests 64½.

Where Scott wheat and Michigan amber can be grown successfully, millers would specially recommend them. They both are capital bread makers.

Longberry Red—Fair yielder; good bread maker; accurate outturn not yet obtained.

Committee saw a German wheat in shock called Miracle: peculiar head; very dark chaff, but grain white and plump, and, we think, will be a splendid milling white wheat.

As a healing, soothing application for cuts, wounds, bruises and sores, there is nothing better than Victoria Carbolic Salve. dw

Do You Cough?

Don't delay. Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. It will cure coughs and colds. It will cure sore throat, or a tickling in the throat. It will cure pains in the chest. It will cure influenza and bronchitis and all diseases pertaining to the lungs, because it is a pure balsam. Hold it to the light and see how clear and thick it is. You see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Large bottles 50c and $1. dw

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

EIGHTY ONE BITS OF SKIN.

Remarkable Operation Performed by the Physicians at the Manhattan Hospital.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—A skin grafting operation performed in Manhattan Hospital Saturday morning has caused wide spread interest among the medical profession because of the large amount of skin which had been procured for this particular operation, and the doctors are giving it their strictest attention.

The patient is Mrs. Mary Jane Scott, sixty years old, the wife of Joseph A. Scott, a retired horse dealer living at 169th street and Walton avenue. She was badly scalded on July 24 and an immense place on her left hip left bare of skin.

For two weeks the physicians in the hospital have been vainly looking for someone to sacrifice a portion of their skin to cover the big raw spot, and they were preparing to resort to some other means, when their hopes were roused by three newspaper men in the city who offered their skin for the operation, and twenty seven small pieces of flesh were cut from the left arm of each of the reporters yesterday, and placed around the big open wound on Mrs. Scott's hip.

The instruments used in the work were a curved pair of dressing scissors and a tenaculum, a steel instrument six inches long with a sharp hook on the end. The skin is hooked up by the tenaculum, and then a piece of skin about three-eighths of an inch by one quarter of an inch is cut off with the scissors. Still fastened to the tenaculum, the skin is placed on the wound and the tenaculum withdrawn.

The grafts were placed about three-quarters of an inch apart all over the uncovered spot.

The physicians wanted the reporters to take either, but they refused. The number of grafts to be taken was indefinite at first, and the doctors only answered that they wanted as many as the three were willing to give.

After having ten pieces taken from his arm the first reporter increased the limit to fifteen, then twenty and finally to twenty seven. Dr. Bates had taken ten pieces of flesh from the second reporter's arm as Dr. Ward cut the twenty seventh piece from his subject's arm. The second reporter then took the seat vacated by the first, and the third bared his arm for Dr. Bates to cut.

The third reporter didn't seem to mind the operation at all for his entire attention was centred upon the pretty nurse girl leaning over his shoulder. As piece after piece until the twenty seventh was reached was clipped from his arm he did not seem to mind it as much as he would a mosquito bite, for he continued to talk pleasant things to the nurse girl, and was happy when he learned she was Miss Morganousky. Finally the cuts were all taken and eighty six grafts had been placed on Mrs. Scott's hip.

The grafted spot was covered with rubber tissue made aseseptic in a solution of boracic acid. A dressing of gauze soaked in the same acid was laid over this and then bound with a bandage of gauze.

The wounds on the reporters' arms were dressed with an iodoform gauze bandage, covered with plain gauze. Neither of the three complained of extreme pain for there really was none. It was the anticipation of what was coming and the first graft which was the worst.

The insertion of the tenaculum does not bother one, but when the scissors are applied the sensation is that of burning.

In three days the graft will have taken root, but the bandage will not be removed from the patient until it is absolutely necessary, which will be about a week. Each graft will grow out until it meets its neighbor and until the spot is covered with skin.

FIGHT WITH WILDCATS.

After Mutilating a Physician One Chloroforms Itself.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 18.—Dr. S. A. Collins, a physician practicing in this city, had a terrible encounter with a wildcat or lynx, a few days ago in a locality known as the "devil's hopyard." The doctor was driving through the canyon when two wild cats sprang from the boughs of a hemlock tree under which the carriage passed. One of the animals landed on the haunch of the horse, the other dropped into the bottom of the carriage and fastened its teeth in the flesh of the doctor's leg.

The terrified horse ran away and soon freed itself from the carriage. The animal that attacked the doctor strove to set its claws and teeth into his face and throat. Thus the doctor prevented, but his arms and chest were terribly lacerated, and he soon grew weak from pain. In an inside pocket of his coat he carried a small medicine case. In the struggle this fell out and attracted the attention of the wild cat, who began to claw it and tear it with his teeth. The doctor attempted to draw his revolver, but before he could do so he fainted.

He was discovered, still unconscious, by a farmer returning from Salem Corner. In the bottom of the carriage, among a lot of broken bottles, lay the wildcat in a deep stupor. In tearing the medicine case it had broken a bottle of chloroform, and the contents had stupefied him. It weighed fifty-two pounds, being the largest of its kind ever killed in these parts.

How Various Nations Sleep.

The East Indian unrolls his light, portable charpoy or mattress, which in the morning is again rolled together and carried away by him.

The Japanese lies upon a matting with a stiff, uncomfortable wooden neck rest.

The Chinese use low bedsteads, often elaborately carved, and supporting only mats or coverlids.

In England the old four-poster bedstead is still the pride of the nation, but the iron or brass bedstead is fast becoming universal. The English beds are the largest beds of the world.

The ancient Greeks and Romans had their beds supported on frames, but not flat like ours. The Egyptians had a couch of a peculiar shape, more like an old-fashioned easy chair with hollow seat and back.

A Trick With Pennies.

Here is a very simple little trick with pennies that will catch the sharpest of your friends, and is divulged by the New York Herald. Place six pennies on the table and arrange them in the form of a Roman cross—that is, four pennies in a perpendicular row for the upright, and one on each side of the second penny for the cross piece. You will then have two rows, the up and down row with four pennies and the horizontal row with three pennies in it. Ask your friends to place them in two rows with four in a row by only changing the position of one penny. They will try, but they won't succeed. Then crush them and win the drinks, if you happen to be of that nature, by placing the lower penny of the perpendicular row on the centre penny. Of course you did not stipulate that the coins were not to be placed on top of one another, and you have done the trick fairly. But it always leads to a dispute.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

A DRUNKEN GRASSHOPPER.

Experiment by a New Yorker Which His Wife Denounced as Cruel.

"I performed an experiment the other day," said a man, "which was undoubtedly cruel, but which was highly entertaining to me," says the New York Tribune. "I was sitting on my veranda sipping a mint julep, and had just placed the glass on a stand, when a grasshopper coolly jumped into the glass. I left him there to enjoy the julep, as long as he had jumped my claim. He seemed to like the drink as well as most julep drinkers do, and would dip one of his legs into the liquid and then place it into his mouth. Mr. Grasshopper repeated this operation until he began to get rather foolish. He was pretty groggy when I fished him out and set him down upon the smooth table. He tried to walk, but seemed to find this rather difficult. He was so drunk that I fancied I could see him leer at me. His attempts to hop were simply ludicrous. His feet were in all directions, and he finally rolled over as if to go to sleep. When he got up again he was unsteady on his legs, and gravely felt of his head. I took a drop of the julep on a piece of mint and placed it near his mouth. He turned from it in disgust and staggered across the table, falling to the veranda and making a wild attempt to keep in the air. My shouts of laughter brought out my wife, who declared that I was a brute, and took the drunk and disorderly grasshopper and carried him out into the grass, where, I suppose, he fell into a drunken slumber."

How to Address Royalties.

Much amused comment was caused during the cross-examination of the prince of Wales in the baccarat case by the number of times that Solicitor-General Sir Edward Clarke made use of the words "your royal highness," thereby demonstrating his ignorance of the usages of court life. The prefix of "your majesty" and of "your royal highness" are rarely if ever used by the people in the swim, except in official verbal and written communications. Both the prince of Wales and all the other male members of his family are addressed merely as "sir" and "you;" while not only the princesses, both young and old but also the queen herself are addressed as "ma'am." Nothing is more amusing to those unaccustomed to this peculiarity than to listen to some old and stately ambassadress or duchess deferentially addressing a little three-year-old princess as "ma'am," and I confess that I myself, on the first occasion after my arrival in England on which I was honored with a few words by her majesty, found it very difficult to habituate myself, when replying, to the somewhat commonplace word "ma'am."—New York Recorder.

There will be 70,000 troops engaged in the Austrian manœuvers which will begin shortly. Smokeless powder will be used exclusively, this being the most extensive test made of the efficiency of that invention.

Thereby Hangs a Tale.

"And as from hour to hour, we ripe and ripe,
And then from hour to hour, we rot and rot,
And thereby hang a tale."

And truly, "'tis a tale of woe," of one who had Catarrh in the head for many years, and who really had been "rotting" from hour to hour, until Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy came to his notice. He used it at first with slight signs of relief, but he persisted until a permanent cure was effected, and the world was again pleasant to live in. From his awful sufferings he was set free by the expenditure of a few dollars in that incomparable remedy. dw

Regulate the liver and bowels by the judicious use of National Pills, they are purely vegetable.

MORE cases, of sick headache, biliousness, constipation can be cured in less time, and less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means. dw

Makes Flesh and Blood.

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Freeman's Worm Powders destroy and remove worms without injury to adult or infant dw

Mothers and Nurses.

All who have the care of children should know that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry may be confidently depended on to cure all summer complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic, cholera infantum, cholera morbus, canker, etc., in children or adults. dw

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Liver Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both. dw

Health in Herbs.

Health giving herbs, barks, roots and berries are carefully combined in Burdock Blood Bitters, which regulate the secretions, purify the blood and renovate and strengthen the entire system. Price, $1.00 a bottle, 6 for $5. Less than one cent a dose. dw

Stick to the Right.

Right actions spring from right principles. In cases of diarrhœa, cholera morbus, etc., the right remedy is Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—an unfailing cure—made on the principle that nature's remedies are best. Never travel without it. dw

THEY make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion and give tone and vigor to the system. dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

An Ingenious Puzzle.

They sat by the shores of Lovesick Lake,
"My name, sweet girl," said he "will you take,'
"You bet," she gushed and the slang she slung,
Fell like pearly pearls from her tireless tongue.
Now, tell me how many their children will be
If they're nourished on hawley bros' tea?

Large Shipment.

W. J. Morrow received one car of The Dominion Co's Celebrated Bottled Ale, White Label pints and quarts and Indian Pale pints and quarts. All Ale shipped to me is carefully stored by the firm and held until it is in At condition for use. I am the only dealer in town buying Ale in this way, so therefore carry the finest class of goods. Parties requiring Aged Wines of any kind Brandies or Gins, in Bottle or Woods will do well to call as my stock is the largest and most complete of any house in town. d25tf

REMEMBER
Royal Templars' Excursion, Civic Holiday, August 20.
Forty miles ride through the beautiful lakes from Chemong to Lakefield.
The best of the season.
Take it in.
Don't forget the date, August 20.

And He's Right, Too.

Manager opera house in a recent conversation gave vent to his indignation, at what he terms "the neck" of the fly-by-night theatrical snap, which try to secure time at his house, and he shock his head as he said "no more for me, I'm tired; I'll know they're right or they don't get in; this town is good enough for the best only." He certainly has a fine list of attractions booked, some above the average; he feels highly elated at securing the great New York success, "Casey's Troubles," which will appear here for one night during the next few weeks. d42

Simply Magnificent.

There are many reasons why the C.M.B.A Excursion is superior to any other on Civic Holiday.

Because the route they are taking in is pre-eminent to any other.

Because the scenery is the best on the northern waters

Because the sail is grand, and will be beneficial to all taking it in.

Because the C.M.B.A. has secured a first-class boat and palace barge. (The fastest boat on the upper lakes.)

Because all those attending will have ample room and every comfort and convenience.

Because there will be a good orchestra on board for those wishing to dance.

Because the fair for this immense fresh air trip is only a trifle—just a dollar.

Therefore to be brief, and considering everything, the Excursion is simply magnificent. The train leaves the G.T.R. station at 7 o'clock sharp. Then secure your tickets and have a good days' solid amusement, which will prove to be a good tonic. Tickets may be had at the shops of Thomas Kelly, T. Dolan, Jas. Congdlin and J. J. Lynch. Meals can be procured at the Sturgeon Point Hotel at 25 cents. d40 42

See Niagara and you've had a lesson in geography that you'll never forget. Court Little John Foresters' Excursion will take you there on Civic Holiday. Fare only $2.00 there and back. d41 42

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

The Car Works Bylaw Carried.

Four Hundred and One Voters out of Four Hundred and Fifty Seven Favour it —The Majority 345.

The voting on the car works bylaw was quietly conducted, and considering the dull season and the large number out of town, the vote polled was pretty large, 457 out of the some 700 votes entitled to be polled. As was to be expected the largest ward majority in favor of the bylaw was given in No. 1 ward, with No. 3 ward a good second, while the vote in No. 4 ward was almost ten to one in favor of the bylaw. The following is the vote by wards:

	For.	Against.	Maj.
No. 1 Ward	149	19	130
No. 2 Ward	79	10	69
No. 3 Ward	113	21	92
No. 4 Ward	60	6	54
Total	401	56	345

On the result being made known Mr. R. S. Davidson telegraphed to Messrs. Paterson & Corbin, St. Catharines, and received at once the following reply:—

To Mr. R. S. Davidson:

ST CATHARINES, Aug. 18.

Very busy. Will be down in a few days.

PATERSON & CORBIN.

This means that Messrs. Paterson & Corbin will be in town the beginning of next week, and plans will be doubtless submitted and work began upon the new buildings at once. The buildings required are much larger than is popularly supposed, and show that the enterprise will be of a considerable extent. The buildings needed are as follows: One 50x150 feet; one 50x200 feet; and one 40x60 feet. These buildings will be of wood, on stone foundations, and with thirteen feet posts and a roof something like that of the drill shed. There is every probability that the works will speedily increase to far beyond the proportions with which they began operations here, and the prospects are that the town has secured an industry which will equal, if not exceed, before long, many of our leading manufacturing establishments.

The Crossin Car Works, Cobourg, which are an immense concern, and have turned out some of the finest work in the way of passenger coaches ever produced on the continent, had very small beginnings, and that not very long since. A few years ago Mr. James Crossin had a little blacksmith shop on Division street, Cobourg, near the railway station, where he repaired brake rods and other similar work. From this the fine Cobourg car works which are a credit to the manufacturers of Canada, sprung, and with a better beginning with the railway connections, the lack of which has proven a serious drawback to the Crossin car works, there can be little doubt that the Paterson-Corbin car works will, before the century is out, have developed into a very large and flourishing concern, sending street and railway cars all over the Dominion.

Hurrah For Idyl Wild!

One of the most pleasant out of the many excursions billed to leave town to-morrow will be that to Idyl Wild under the auspices of the Peterborough Salvation Army corps. A serviceable boat and palace scow will leave the Peterborough wharf at 7.30 a. m., calling at Ashburnham. Ensign Steele and wife, Lieut. Armstrong and Staff-Captain Beatty and wife will be in attendance, and a grand time is confidently expected.

Campbellford Waterworks.

A serious deficiency has been discovered in the Campbellford waterworks. In a recent test it was found that all the pressure that could be obtained was 30 lbs. to the square inch, which is not sufficient with a long line of hose. The village authorities claim that when their plant was first put in they had 125 lbs. pressure, but why they cannot get that now, no person can explain. Either the wheel power or the head of water will have to be increased in order to make the system efficient.

Weekly Entertainment.

As usual, the Royal Templars' programme of last night was a credit to all participating therein. The best talent of Peterborough is usually represented therein. Among the most notable pieces was a piano solo by Miss Clarke, under whose able hands the piano was almost a thing of life, of vocal melody and sweetness, and a vocal solo by Mrs. Cochrane, accompanied by Miss B. Cochrane. To say that the pure tones of each full, each true expressive note, blended and chorded with the indefinable feelings of the hearts is but feebly expressing the power of this rarely gifted singer.—COM.

Another Jarvis Street.

Every city has its fashionable "west end," and Peterborough is fast attaining this social desideratum. Already the bulk of handsome residences is situated on the side of the setting sun, and new streets have been, and are being, opened out, which will become in a few years beautiful thoroughfares, built up with stately residences, and equal in all respects to Toronto's far-famed Jarvis street. Mr. Geo. A. Cox is laying out his property in the west end to the best advantage for building purposes. Hunter street has been extended to the front of his former residence, and Homewood Avenue, which runs alongside that property, is being continued from its present terminus to boundary line. All the building lots on this avenue will be very choice, and as only a good class of houses will be put up, residences there will be most desirable. Mr. Cox is himself building on Homewood avenue, and Mr. Arthur Rutherford has also purchased a lot. Peterborough's go-ahead movement is advancing with rapid strides.

News Nuggets.

To morrow is Norwood's and Hasting's civic holiday.

The Great John Robinson Show to be in Peterborough on That Day.

It is seldom that the people of this city have an opportunity of witnessing such an interesting and instructive attraction as the John Robinson Show, which will exhibit here Sept. 8th, afternoon and night. This is the first visit of this great show to Canada. There are many alleged or so-called mammoth shows travelling over the country, preying upon the credulity of the people, but of them there is none that comes to any city with such as undeniable and profuse array of recommendations and flattering press notices as that of John Robinson. Its sixty-seven years of existence and fair dealing with the people has won for it a reputation that is unsurpassed both for reliability, quantity and quality. In presenting its claims before the critical public the Robinson show uses none but cold facts and conservative statements. It will therefore be impossible for the casual reader of this great attraction to imagine with any degree of thoroughness what a remarkable and entertaining show it is. It is the primary aim of all connected with this show to strictly adhere to the policy of honesty in all its dealings, and this instruction is particularly applied in the matter of advertising.

The advance agents are energetic and hard workers, and through their efforts every honorable method of making known to the people of Peterborough and the surrounding country the numerous features of the show have been adopted. It is as much better advertised than any other show as its superiority over them is acknowledged, as is attested by the leading newspapers of the country, which have columns of matter teeming with complimentary notices of the show. Only two performances will be given in this city on Tuesday, 8th September.

The following excerpt is from the Louisville Courier-Journal of June 9, 1891:—

"John Robinson's circus is here and it has fulfilled its promises. The street parade yesterday morning drew throngs of admiring spectators to the line of march, and determined thousands who had been previously undecided to wend their way to the vast canvases to witness the performance.

"The two exhibitions given yesterday were satisfying to the many thousands who viewed them, and the vast canvas amphitheatre was crowded at an early hour with an expectant multitude, who enjoyed the remarkable and bewildering performances to the utmost, showing their delighted approval by vociferous applause of every act of the talented company. The wonderful spectacle of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba was the greatest of many features, and elicited the wildest enthusiasm. On all sides to-day is heard nothing but praise of the excellent performances given yesterday. The show was strictly according to the bills. It began exactly on time and ran through smoothly and satisfactorily to the end, while the enjoyment was not marred by the impertinence of peanut venders or other noisy efforts to wring an additional dime from patrons, as has been the custom with other shows heretofore visiting Louisville.

Personal.

The following personal paragraphs are from the yet damp edition of the Hastings Star of Wednesday:—

Miss McClelland, of Peterborough, spent Sunday with friends here.

Miss Hetherington, of Peterborough, visited friends here last week.

Miss Annie Londerville, of Peterborough is home for a few holidays.

Mr. Thomas H. Ambrose has returned to Port Hope after an extended trip to the Old Country.

Miss Jennie Baker, of Ashburnham, is spending a month in Toronto, visiting friends in the Queen City.

Mrs. Murphy and Miss Taylor of Cleveland, are in town on a visit, the guests of Mr. J. Curran, 360 Downie street.

Miss Rickey and Miss Parcell, of New York, are visiting in Ashburnham and are the guests of Mr. Samuel Mulligan.

Mr. John Sim, the faithful messenger of the Canadian Express Co., is taking a well-earned six weeks holiday in the Northwest.

Messrs. Ed. Wilcox and Arnold Prest left on Wednesday for Peterborough, where they have accepted situations in the Edison electric works.

Miss Florence Maybee, of Belleville, Mrs. Dr. Goldsmith of Peterborough, and Mr. and Mrs. Forest, of New York, were the guests of Mrs. Learmonth, for a few days last week.

Mr. Walter Wood, who has been sexton of St. Paul's church for four or five years, has resigned in order to give his full time to his occupation of gardener. In parting with him the board of managers paid a tribute to the fidelity of his services, and expressed great regret that his further services could not be secured.

Mr. E. A. Hardy, B.A., Lindsay, secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Provincial Union of the Society of Christian Endeavour, is in town making arrangements for the annual Provincial convention of the Christian Endeavour Society, which meets here on October 21st, 22nd and 23rd prox. Special preparation is necessary, as it is expected that about 500 delegates from all parts of the Province will attend this convention.

Young's Point.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

DROWNING ACCIDENT.—On Saturday last a sad drowning accident occurred here in which John High, a river driver from Minden, lost his life. He and several companions went in bathing off the crib, and after swimming a few minutes he began to sink. He was immediately pulled out upon the crib but died in a few minutes. Dr. J. R. Fraser of Lakefield was telephoned for, and within half an hour after receiving the message he was on the crib, but unfortunately arrived too late to render any aid. Death was due to heart failure. The young man's friends were telegraphed and on Monday the remains were removed to Minden for burial.

LUMBERING.—One enterprising lumberman, Mr. C. Young, is busily engaged cutting timber for the Edison Works, of Peterborough. Several carloads have already been shipped. He has several other large orders for timber on hand, which will keep his mill busy the remainder of the season.

LOW WATER.—Where has the waters gone? The waters, which in the spring threatened to break away our dams and submerge our villages, has disappeared, and in consequence steamboat men and lumbermen are lamenting. Now would be the time for the Government engineer to place buoys upon the rocks in the boat channels, as we would have no difficulty in locating them, many of the rocks bearing traces of paint, etc., torn off from the hulls of passing vessels.

NEW STEAMER.—On Friday last, Mr Crandall of Lindsay was here and took the measurement of our locks and found it sufficiently large to allow his new steamer the "Crandalbilt" to pass through. He intends running an excursion on Thursday from Chemong to Lakefield, and his many friends here will be pleased to see him again.

IMPROVEMENT.—A sunken island covered with stumps situated in the bay above the the Point, has long been a source of trouble and annoyance to lumbermen while swinging their logs in here to pass over the dam, the timber getting caught upon the stumps and often requiring considerable time to get it loose again. This nuisance was removed a few days ago by the Dickson Company, who cut the stumps off below low water mark, so that in future the logs may pass over in safety.

GUESTS.—Judging by the number of visitors who spend their time here during the hot weather, our village must be a very attractive place. The number of pleasure-seekers this year was largely increased owing no doubt to the excellent fishing to be found in this vicinity. Mr. C. Young is entertaining quite a number of guests, among them being Rev. Father Coty, of Hamilton; Miss Coty, of Oakville; Rev. Father Collins, of Sarnia College; Rev. Father Rudkins and Miss Rudkins, of Peterborough.

The hotels are crowded to their utmost capacity. The following are registered at the Carleton House; Mr. Thos. D. Grace, Montreal; Mr. T. O. Bolger, Miss Cora Bolger, and Messrs. Wm. H. Graham and Jas. A. Madill, of Kingston; Mr. O. M. Roberts, Mrs. Roberts and Miss M. Harper, of Rochester, N.Y.; Messrs. F. Martyn, W. Curren, and Mr. Brock and family, and Brook Stevens, of Toronto; Messrs. Geo. Bennett, C. Calcutt, J. W. McCreary, R. M. Armstrong, M. Frosts, D. Yarnold, H. Regan and family, Miss Campbell, Miss M. Clancy, Miss M. Kennedy, Colonel Loucks, and J. Clancy and wife, of Peterborough.

Sunday Rowdyism.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I have noticed several letters in the town papers in regard to police protection and with your permission would like to say a few words on the subject. The other evening (Sunday) I was out for a walk in the north end and passing the corner of Water and Smith streets a crowd of loafers who were there commenced to make very unseemly remarks about a young lady that was passing at the time. They were spitting tobacco over the sidewalk till it had the appearance of a pig pen. Of course there was no policemen around. I came down George street and at the corner of Edinborough street another batch of hoodlums were together, the same performance going on there again. At the corner Macdonell and Edinborough streets it is especially to be noticed. At these places about church time Sunday evenings, when these knownothings for that is all you can call them, stand about blocking up the sidewalk and spitting on the dresses of ladies as they pass. A lady friend of mine had a new dress spoiled by having tobacco spit on it at this corner. Again at the C. P. R. station a crowd of loafers are on hand on the arrival of trains, and make the place a regular den with their foul talk and rowdyish actions. What we want is more policemen. What are four men to look after the peace of this town? We are bringing new industries to town, and as a result our population is larger, but no more protection than we had eight years ago. My suggestion is that on Sunday afternoon and evenings two or three specials at least be appointed till this rowdyism is stamped out.

Yours truly,
CITIZEN.

Horticultural Society Exhibition.

There should be a good display, of fruits and flowers, especially, at the annual exhibition of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society which will be held in the new market building on Thursday, Sept. 10th. The latter part of the season has been especially favourable to the growth of flowers and fruit, there is an attractive prize list and the directors are making every effort to have the coming exhibition eclipse any of its predecessors. The society deserves well of the public for it is due to the directors that the people have such a beautiful place of resort as Court House Park and the society's exhibition should be liberally patronized by both the flower producing and flower loving public.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 4 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense, the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his sufferings equaled were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were ended, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

SUN LIFE
ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,255.97
Increase over previous year	3,421,372.54
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,399.15
Increase over 1889	2,268,888.69
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,978.87
Increase over 1889	325,938.25
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514.19
Increase over 1889	687,691.47

Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,324 07

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE ALLEGED TRAFFICKING IN PUBLIC OFFICES.

Mr. Cochrane Makes an Explicit Denial of the Charges Preferred Against Him—They Will be Referred to a Special Committee—McGreevy Evades Arrest.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—In the House yesterday the Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms reported that he had gone to Quebec and made diligent search for Thomas McGreevy at his house, office and elsewhere, and could not find him. He was informed that Mr. McGreevy had left Quebec by the Grand Trunk Railway, but could not find his destination, and believed that Mr. McGreevy had departed several hours before he left Ottawa.

Mr. Cameron (Huron) announced that he intended to drop the charges of a general character preferred against Mr. Cochrane, and press only the specific charges. He therefore moved that he is credibly informed, and believes that the charges can be established by satisfactory evidence, and that the charges be referred to a select committee, consisting of Messrs. Caron, Dickie, Tisdale, Skinner, Germay, Mulock and Cameron (Huron.)

Mr. Cochrane said: "In answer to the charges made against me by the member for Huron from his place in the House yesterday, I have to say that I am innocent of the charges made against me, and that I never made any corrupt agreement with reference to these matters. As to the allegations made in paragraphs 5 and 6 of the second branch of the charges, I say, as before, that no such corrupt agreement as related in paragraph five was made between me and Goodrich either directly or indirectly. I desire to state, however, in relation to the charge that Goodrich paid $200 towards liquidation of deposit which had been advanced by persons other than myself several years before on the contestation of a local election in which I was not a candidate nor interested, except as one of the party, and none of the said money was received by me for any personal use, or for any political benefit, other than as above stated. It had been understood that I would recommend for appointment to the bridge an old man named Dinsdale Simpson. An arrangement was made between Goodrich and Simpson by which Simpson was to take a life lease of Goodrich's farm. This arrangement was in no way for any benefit, personal or political, and I derived no advantage therefrom."

Mr. Dickey asked to be relieved from serving on the committee because of being on the Privileges and Elections Committee. Mr. White, (Shelburne) was substituted.

Sir John Thompson thought that the clause of the charges referring to "other corrupt practices" should be struck out. The charge was too vague.

Mr. Cameron (Huron) said he was perfectly sensible to the force of the objection but would place in the hands of the chairman at the first meeting of the committee, a specific statement of other corrupt practices with the names of the parties implicated.

Sir John Thompson still insisted that the charge would be vague.

Mr. Cameron consented to withdraw the clause from the statement of charges on the understanding that he be allowed to make these charges in the committee. The motion was then adopted.

On the motion to go into supply, Mr. Angers moved an amendment with regard to the Lingan Graving Dock, whose contract was let to Andrew C. Bancroft for $286,000 in 1888. The estimate cost last year was $318,000. The actual cost to date is $450,000 and the dock is not yet completed. Bancroft turned out to be a fictitious name, the tender and all correspondence in Bancroft's name having been written by Michael Connolly. The Connolly Brothers were associated with the Bogus Bancroft in carrying out the work. Mr. Amyot therefore moved in amendment that the documents with reference to the Kingston Graving Dock and the evidence and report thereon show gross fraud and forgery in connection with the letting of the contract, and culpable negligence on the part of the department in letting the contract and in making payments on such contracts.

Sir John Thompson said that no blame could attach to the department because Bancroft's tender came in the ordinary way and a person was introduced to the department as Bancroft by Michael Connolly, who was well known there. There was nothing about the transaction to arouse suspicion.

The Majority 15.

After a long discussion Mr. Cameron's amendment was rejected by 82 yeas to 99 nays, giving the Government a majority of 17.

Mr. Laurier said that during the debate it had been stated that Sir Hector Langevin was no longer a member of the Government. He asked the leader of the House to state whether this was the case.

Sir John Thompson said he had already informed the House that the Minister of Public Works had tendered his resignation. That was sufficient. No action had been taken on it

PACAUD'S PERQUISITES.

Continuation of the Investigation Before the Railway Committee.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21. At the meeting of the Railway Committee of the Senate yesterday Mr. Barwick stated that the subsidy from which the $3000 was sent to Mr. Mercier was the capitation subsidy paid to the Province of Quebec by the Dominion on July 2, 1891.

Mr. Dumoulin, agent of La Banque du Peuple, said Mr. Pacaud drew $7000 on May 16.

L. Marcoux, secretary treasurer of La Caisse de Romans, said that $7000, along with another $1000, were deposited to the credit of L. N. Sirois of Quebec on May 16. On May 16 he deposited the check with the Banque Nationale.

Mr. Dumoulin said he received the check back on May 18. Mr. Marcoux produced a check drawn May 26 by L. P. Sirois to withdraw the $2000 deposited on May 16. The check is payable to Dame Mary Jane D. Fry. It was paid May 30. He was told that Dame Fry was the owner of the house Mr. Pacaud bought on Dufferin terrace.

Mr. Barwick said he could find no further traces of the money in the three banks which he searched. He had traced now $45,000 which he did not hesitate to say was part of the $57,000 which was mentioned on the memo in Mr. Pacaud's possession.

John J. Macdonald, contractor, was asked to go over the Baie des Chaleur road in October, 1890, with a view to building it. He did so and examined it carefully. Afterwards he and Mr. Heaton Armstrong, a London banker who was interested in the road, and Mr. Hector Cameron met Mr. Mercier in New York at the Albermarle Hotel. Mr. Mercier offered Mr. Armstrong $10,000 a mile for 40 miles remaining to be built and Mr. Armstrong was to take the bonds, there were also some subsidies from the Dominion Government.

Mr. Armstrong was to deposit $840,000 with the Quebec Government to guarantee the interest of the bonds of $20,000 on the whole $100,000. He met Pacaud in December, who wanted that the company should not get any of the $400,000 until the road was completed. He considered this too high and proposed that they should be paid half the money when half the road was built. Mr. Pacaud accepted this on behalf of the Government. Besides the $840,000 which they were to deposit they were also to pay all the debts due on the road. He got a statement of these debts in one of the departments. In February he offered to Mr. Roepel to deposit $175,000 in the Bank of Montreal to meet these debts, and to give Mr. Roepel's company the balance after these debts were paid. Mr. Roepel accepted and afterwards backed out. Mr. Roepel was willing to allow McFarlane $75,000 for his claim. The estimate of the cost of finishing the sixty miles was about $65,000. His estimate of the cost of building the next forty miles was $18,000 a mile or $720,000. His estimate covered something else which he thought better not be mentioned. He put in $50,000 which he thought he would have to pay Mr. Pacaud during the progress of the work. He thought he might want some favors from the Government in the way of getting advances. Mr. Pacaud was acting as his agent and he expected to pay him for it. He knew from past experience he would have to pay some thing. Negotiations with Mr. Pacaud were broken off in February, and in March he met Angus Thom, the agent of Cooper, Fairman & Co., who told him he had an option on the road and was promised a subsidy of $560,000 and asked him to join Cooper's syndicate. He replied that if they were going to get $160,000 more than he offered to do the work for he would join them. Mr. Thom said the syndicate expected to make $300,000 profit. Mr. Thom said he was to pay C. N. Armstrong $100,000 for his claim, but, added Mr. Thom, "it has all gone in boodle." In his judgment Mr. C. N. Armstrong had no claim at all because the subsidies he was paid would more than pay for the work he had between the Dominion and Quebec Governments. Mr. Armstrong was paid $15,000 a mile but the work he did amounted to $12,000 or $13,000 a mile.

Mr. Barwick produced a statement of claim from C. N. Armstrong showing that he had done work to the amount of $460,834 and the subsidies granted amounted to $906,000, leaving $355,635 or deducting certain bonds, $298,943 which Armstrong claimed was due. He claimed he bore a receipt of Armstrong for $175,000 received from F. C. Langelier in full of the claim.

Mr. Macdonald thought the statement of claim was far in excess of the real cost.

Mr. Lafrance, cashier of the Banque Nationale, was recalled to prove what became of the $31,750 check. He said that on April 29, the day of the discount of the $75,000 letter of credit, there was deposited in the bank to Mr. Thom's credit a check for $31,750 signed by J. C. Langelier and endorsed by C. N. Armstrong. He produced a bundle of 20 checks which were drawn against this amount.

Auguste Edge, formerly private secretary of Col. Rhodes, now secretary of Mr. Pacaud, was the next witness. He said that he drew the checks from the Banque Nationale by Mr. Pacaud's order and gave them to Mr. Pacaud.

THE LIE DIRECT.

Given to Sir Hector by Contractors Starrs and O'Hanley.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—Mr. Starrs of the firm of Starrs & O'Hanley, contractors, was recalled before the Privileges and Election Committee, which met yesterday, and again examined in regard to the evidence of Sir Hector Langevin yesterday. Sir Hector denied that he sent for Mr. Starrs and asked him to withdraw their tender for the construction of the Esquimalt graving dock, although he admitted showing Mr. Starrs the report of Mr. Perley, giving an estimate of the work. To-day Mr. Starrs corroborated the evidence he already gave and flatly contradicted the statement of Sir Hector. He (Starrs) said that their tender was withdrawn after two interviews with Sir Hector, who told him that his figures were too low to complete the work; that there would be no extras; that none would be allowed, and that the work was all plain and would not admit of extras. The minister gave Mr. Starrs some time to consider the matter. At the second interview Mr. Starrs told Sir Hector that he would withdraw, although he was satisfied his figures were high enough, because he thought that he (the minister) did not wish him to have the work. The letter to withdraw the tender was written in the department that day by Mr. Starrs, and the statement that the amount for the contract was too low was incorrect, it being placed there to satisfy Sir Hector Langevin.

Mr. O'Hanley was next examined and corroborated all that Mr. Starrs had said. It will be remembered that the day after the Starrs and O'Hanley tender was withdrawn the Minister prepared his memorandum to the council, granting the contract to Larkin, Connolly & Co. This closed the evidence. The committee adjourned till Tuesday, when the question as to whether the resignation of Mr. Thomas McGreevy is legal or not will be discussed. This opens an entirely new branch of the case and it is certain to provoke an animated discussion, judging from what took place in the House of Commons yesterday in the matter.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

HORRIBLE SCENE AT AN ENGLISH EXECUTION.

First the Hangman Tried to Prevent the Victim's Confession and Then When the Bolt Was Sprung the Man's Head Was Torn Almost Completely from His Body.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 21.—John Conway, the steamship fireman who was convicted and sentenced to death for the murder of the boy Nicholas Martin, whose body was found on May 9 floating in a sailor's bag in Hardon lock, was hanged yesterday. As Berry, the hangman, was drawing the black cap over Conway's head the latter shouted: "Hold on, I want to say something." Berry replied: "You can't speak now," and was about to proceed with the execution when the priest in attendance hastily interposed, pushed the hangman on one side and held Conway's hand, while the condemned man, in broken tones, asked forgiveness for his sins. Only when the unfortunate wretch had done speaking and when the priest had replied to his plea for forgiveness, did the latter permit the hangman to proceed. The incident caused intense excitement among those present, but it was nothing compared to the scene which followed. In due course of time the drop fell and Conway disappeared from view. Immediately afterward the priest began to read the confession of the hanging man, in which Conway said he was intoxicated when he murdered the boy and that his reason for taking the boy's life was that he had morbid curiosity to observe the process of dying. While the priest was reading Conway's confession a sound was heard from the scaffold as if a quantity of water were falling. Investigation was made by the hangman and the prison officials, and to their horror they found that the sound was caused by blood pouring upon the prison floor from Conway's neck. The fall had been so severe that the criminal's head had been practically torn from his body; in fact the head was only held to the body by the muscles of the neck. The hangman was blamed for the bungling.

Viewing the Holy Coat.

BERLIN, Aug. 21. The managers of the railways entering Treves are making extensive preparations for enormous passenger traffic. The trains announced for Sunday will be able to bring 50,000 pilgrims to Treves for contemplation of the Holy Coat. The burgomaster of Treves says he expects 50,000 pilgrims will come to the city and march in the procession. The Pope permits the exhibition to continue two months, but the bishops think six weeks will suffice.

The Holy Coat was exposed to view this morning in the Cathedral at Treves. Two Knights of Malta in full costume, with drawn swords in their hands, stood on either side of the shrine enclosing the Holy Coat case, which was surrounded by tall lighted candles in handsome candlesticks, and surmounted by a large gold cross. Over one hundred priests assisted in the Pontifical High Mass which followed the unveiling of the coat. The ceremonies were grand in the extreme.

The cathedral was richly decorated and was packed to the doors with people. The white surplices of the choir, the gorgeous vestments of the priests, the scarlet uniforms of the Knights of Malta, the countless lights flickering in every nook and corner, the prismatic rays filtering through the old windows, the strange congregation composed of people of many nations and all walks of life formed a picture not often seen. Bishop Korum, during his address to the multitude, earnestly urged the faithful to unite in venerating the garment from which power and virtue proceed.

The nave of the cathedral was then cleared so as to enable the municipal authorities and the parochial societies to march up to the shrine of the holy coat and venerate that relic.

Treves is overflowing with pilgrims and with visitors whose curiosity alone has been excited. The streets are filled with processions of all descriptions and sacred banners, crosses and lighted candles are to be seen on all sides. During the whole time the holy coat is on exhibition about 20 excursion trains a day will arrive at Treves. A large temporary railroad station has been built for the pilgrims, but in order that the town may not be overcrowded, the different bands of pilgrims, led by their priests, will only be permitted to remain one night in town. Nearly 500 citizens of Treves sent in petitions to the municipal authorities for licenses to keep inns and other public houses open during the exhibition of this holy coat. Nearly every private house-holder has made arrangements for receiving visitors during the six weeks of the exhibition. Extra horse car lines have been laid and there will be a market held nearly every day of the six weeks.

Pictures of the holy coat are to be seen in every shop window in Treves and in nearly every shop window in Berlin. Millions of these representations in all sizes and shapes on handkerchiefs, on paper, on earthenware, on wood and on metal are being sold everywhere. Much comment has been caused by the remarks of Bishop Korum in the address to-day when he referred pointedly to the spiritual significance of the holy coat as being a seamless vesture, and as being a symbol of the unity of the Catholic church. There were many Roman Catholic members of the Reichstag present and it is said that the bishop, particularly, and in a not to be mistaken manner addressed his remarks to these members. The holy coat is distinctly visible in the body of the cathedral and is much more plainly seen than upon former occasions of the exhibition. The old silken covering being almost worn away it appeared to-day to be of a brownish, yellow color.

The scene in the Cathedral was a motley one. The service with the monotonous Gregorian chants and the administration of the Eucharist to representative ecclesiastics seemed of the character of a medieval ceremony. The unveiling of the relic evidently made a deep devotional impression on the crowd of worshippers. Many were overpowered by their feelings. Several women fainted. The procession past the shrine of the pilgrims most of whom handled a rosary or crucifix to attendant priests for contact with the relic was accompanied by a low hum of paternosters and aves. Among the pilgrims are aged cripples and sufferers from every complaint. Outside the Cathedral there was a busy scene to which processions and banners and music, throngs of visitors, and venders of photographs, rosaries and images, who did a thriving trade, all contributed.

News Notes.

10 years and 60 Lashes.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 21.—Daniel Wise of Buffalo, was yesterday sentenced here to 10 years in the provincial penitentiary and 60 lashes for committing an abominable assault on the person of William Scarborough, a 17-year old, while stealing a ride to this city in a Mich. Central box car on the 12th.

Still After Herchmer.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—Col. Amyot gives notice of his intention to enquire of the Ministry whether a letter has been received from the editor of The MacLeod Gazette, offering to prove by five witnesses that Lieut.-Col. Herchmer of the Northwest Mounted Police made use of language in respect to which the Minister of Justice said no officer using such words could be permitted to remain in the service.

Rifled the Express Bag.

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—One of the Canadian Express Company's sealed bags containing money and saluables was brought from Portland to Richmond on Tuesday night and given to the station agent, who transferred it to the Montreal messenger. When it was examined it was found that the contents had been removed and brown paper substituted. The contents of the bag are understood to have been of considerable value.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

TO BE GOVERNED BY AN INSPECTOR.

Who Will be Independent of the Government—A Royal Commission to be Appointed to Reorganize the Service—Mr. Abbott's Explanation to the Senate.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—In the Senate to-day Mr. MacInnes (Burlington) asked whether, in view of the irregularities recently disclosed in the Civil Service, it is the intention of the Government to take steps to secure better administration.

Mr. Abbott said the attention of the Government had been forcibly called to the subject, and it was found necessary to come to some conclusion as to the mode of remedying these evils or preventing their recurrence. The organization of the service, which obviously is defective, must be considered as a whole. It is impossible for the Government, sitting as a council attending to the business of the country, to devote sufficient time to the question, and they have decided that as soon as the session is over to appoint a Royal Commission, to be composed of probably three persons, one from the service, one of a judicial character and a third having experience, outside the service, in the management of a large number of people. One of the greatest defects in the management of public business hitherto has been it was not regarded sufficiently as the business of any private individual would be. His efforts will be directed towards the adoption of a system by which the business of the country will be conducted on business principles. He hoped that by the appointment of such a commission as he had described they would be furnished with the description of a system which would enable them to carry on the business of the country on business principles, and hoped that they would be able to do so by such means that they would be spared the exhibition of unfortunate circumstances developed this session. He regretted to find such extravagant language applied to the developments made in the different committees. He regretted the irregularities, but saw no reason because of them to assail the decadence of the country or to proclaim the universal loss of morality among public men. There were about 1400 civil servants. About one per cent of them, after a great interval in which there does not appear to have been any special investigation into their conduct, have been found to be guilty of many irregularities, and some of them of gross dishonesty. There has been a group of contractors who have succeeded in imposing gravely to our loss on one of the departments. He hoped they had put a final stop to that. There are rogues in all communities, and the best we can do is to prevent them if possible from doing further injury and punish them severely when their offences are discovered.

Mr. Abbott concluded. If we shall succeed in obtaining from the commission we propose to appoint a sensible and practical scheme for conducting the business of the departments, we have in contemplation the appointment of a person who shall occupy a position similar to that of the Auditor-General, that is to say independent to a great degree of the Government or party.

Mr. MacInnes (Burlington): Does it include a permanent Civil Service Commission?

Mr. Abbott: We have not considered the propriety of having a Civil Service Commission. We propose the appointment of a commission who shall investigate and report upon the best mode of conducting the public business; but I doubt if circumstances would justify the expense of a permanent commission and I think more over that the measure which I have stated we contemplate would have in a large degree the same effect as a permanent commission. That is to say the appointment of an official standing independent of party and of the Government of the day to a large extent very much as the present Auditor-General does who might be called the comptroller or inspector or any other name that might properly describe his office, whose duty would be something analagous to that of the inspector of a bank. He would have a right to enter every department of the service when he chose and investigate the conduct of the employes and officials, scrutinize the management of the way in which its work was done. In fact, to look thoroughly from time to time into the finances of the department as well as the mode in which the business of every department is conducted and the mode in which the clerks and employes of that department are doing their duty and report upon those subjects accordingly. By these means what we hope to attain by these methods is this, we hope to arrive at a better system—at a more complete system by which the affairs of the country will be managed in a business like way; and if we carry out what we further contemplate we hope to obtain in the service of a person of standing who will have the confidence of the public and who will make it his business and duty from time to time to supervise the operations and workings of every department of the service; and by these means we shall hope to prevent in future a recurrence of the unfortunate circumstances that have developed themselves during the present session.

Drownings of a Day.

PORT DALHOUSIE, Aug. 21.—Yesterday Frederick Sutton, while out fishing near the waste weir at lock 1, new canal was taken with a fit and fell in the canal and was drowned.

KINCARDINE, Aug. 21. James, the 10-year old son of Mr. Joseph Osborne, was in bathing in the lake with some playmates. Getting beyond his depth and being unable to swim the lad was drowned.

GLENWILLIAMS, Aug. 21. Arch McEachern, son of Mr. Arch McEachern, sr., of Ospringe, was drowned near here under painful circumstances. He was subject to fits, and feeling one coming on he went to the milk tank to bathe his head, and losing control of himself fell in headlong and was drowned before anyone was aware of his whereabouts.

BROCKVILLE, Aug. 21.—William and Isabella Nicoll, aged 6 and 8 years respectively picked up their toys and in company with H. Nicoll, a relative six years old, left the house. The three proceeded to the river, undressed and went in to bathe. The water is shallow near shore but out some feet there is a dip and it is supposed the children walked out and slipped off the rock where the water is about 10 feet deep. Bella Nicoll says Isabella caught hold of her hand to take her out but she would not go. When the children screamed for help a young lad named Frank Row, fishing near there, handed them a pole but they did not seem to know enough to catch hold of it. The alarm was raised but before assistance arrived they had sunk and were under the water several minutes.

ROME, Aug. 22.—Government organs assert that if the next conclave is held abroad the Government will occupy the Vatican and exclude the new Pope from it.

The Posts Were Slippery.

LINDSAY, Aug. 21.—R. Kennedy was walking across the cars on a train to reach the van. The train was loaded with posts which were peeled, and consequently rather slippery, when he slipped and fell off the train. He escaped the wheels, but was picked up unconscious, in which state he remained at last reports. There are scarcely any hopes of his recovery.

Need Not Be Sent Back to China.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 21.—Under a decision of United States District Judge Hanford made to-day Chinamen who have come into this country in violation of exclusion acts shall hereafter be sent to the country from which they came.

This will send all the Chinamen who come in hereafter back to British Columbia. The case in which the judge made the decision was that of Lee Hem Bow, one of the Chinamen recently brought over the line at Sumas by Cooney "Terry" and over whom Deputy Collector Dair was killed.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 21, 1891.

THE Montreal Witness says:—Those newspapers which have been dumb dogs for weeks, whilst the Committees on Privileges and Elections and of Public Accounts have been exposing the rottenness and demoralization of department after department of the Ottawa government, and which have upheld the Public Accounts Committee in their disgraceful course of barking the enquiry when the dishonour of the Cabinet Ministers seemed about to be proved, have not hesitated to pursue a diametrically opposite course when the Senate Committee began to expose the corruption of the Quebec Government. If it is right that the Senate Committee on Railways should go to the bottom of the Baie des Chaleurs railway job and expose Mr. Mercier and Mr. Langelier, who are Quebec cabinet ministers, why is it wrong for the Public Accounts Committee to investigate thoroughly the case against Ottawa cabinet ministers, such as Mr. Haggart, Mr. Dewdney and Mr. Chapleau? Six cabinet ministers, Messrs. Bowell, Chapleau, Foster, Haggart and Tupper, have been in almost constant attendance at the Public Accounts committee for the purpose apparently of immediately barking the enquiry whenever any of them seemed about to be involved. These six ministers formed the majority of the committee which prevented an enquiry into the doings of cabinet ministers, and the public will hold that it was not in order to prevent their own innocence from being made manifest that they restricted the investigation.

Ontario's Fall Wheat Crop.

A Generally Bountiful Yield.

The following report has been issued from the Ontario Department of Agriculture:—

The spring reports from the western portion of the Province, where our largest fields of fall wheat are to be found, were exceedingly hopeful, and present advices show that these bright expectations have been fully realized. In the three points of yield, quality and housing, the crop this season has an enviable record. In Western Ontario the yield in most cases has been really magnificent. It has ranged all the way from 15 to 55 bushels per acre. In the eastern part of the Province, especially in those counties stretching from Durham to Stormont, a light yield is the rule, sometimes falling as low as eight bushels to the acre, although even here some correspondents are rejoicing in a yield of 30 bushels per acre. The average yield for the Province is estimated at 24.4 bushels to the acre, while for the nine years 1882 90 the average was but 19.4 bushels per acre. Nearly every correspondent has a favourable word to say regarding the plumpness and general quality of the berry, and instances are given of the grain weighing 63, 64 and 65 pounds per bushel. The straw was thin on the ground and was much shorter than usual owing to cold weather and drouth during May and June, but the quality is reported as good. There was hardly any rust, and smut is spoken of in but two or three instances. Scarcely any mention has been made of injury by insects, except scattering complaints about the Hessian fly from Essex, Welland, Lambton and Peterborough, and an odd reference to grasshoppers. Cutting began in Essex on July 6, but was hardly general throughout the Province until the second last week of the month. The crop was got into the barn with little or no injury.

ESTIMATED YIELD OF CROPS.

The following table gives the acreage of crops this year, compiled from returns made by farmers and estimated yield based on reports from trustworthy correspondents, together with comparative statistics of 1890, and annual averages of the previous nine years, 1882 90. The acreage of fall wheat, however, is taken from assessors' returns, not yet complete, and is subject to revision:

The total area in fall and spring wheat is 1,363 067 acres, as compared with 1,321,854 acres in 1890 The area in fall wheat was increased by 132,332 acres, while the area devoted to the spring varieties was diminished by 91,1 9 acres. The estimated yield of wheat is very large, being 30,437,852 bushels as compared with 21,951,286 bushels harvested in 1890, or 26,315,367 bushels for the nine years 1882 90. Fall wheat promises 24 4 bushels per acre, or 5 bushels above the average. Spring wheat is expected to produce 18.8 bushels per acre, or 6 bushels more than last year.

FARM LIVE STOCK.

On July 1, as estimated from schedules sent in by farmers, there were 678,459 horses of all classes, or an increase of 18,823 over the previous year; there were 1,978,815 head of cattle, an increase of 84,103 over 1890; the milch cows now number 773,234, or 4,604 less than last year; of sheep and lambs there are 1,695 751, being a large increase of 354,056 in the year, but is still 196,982 less than in 1884, since which year there have been regular decreases. There is a farther increase of 15,757 in the number of hogs, the present number being 1,156,316. The number of poultry is 7,006,090, an increase of 151,225. The total clip of wool is 5,486,141 pounds, as compared with 4,574,700 pounds in 1890.

FRAUD, BOODLING.

Yesterday Was a Sensational Day at Ottawa.

THE PRINTING BUREAU.

One Type Founder Sends Senecal $1,000, While Another Sends him $5,000—The Superintendent of the Stationery Branch Discharged for Accepting Bribes—Sensational Evidence Before the Senate Committee—$5,000 Sent Premier Mercier in Paris—Sir Hector Positively Denies the Testimony of Michael Starrs.

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—The Printing Bureau exposure is only beginning. As indicated in these columns some days ago, Senecal, the Superintendent of the Bureau, has been convicted of taking commissions from the firms who supplied material. J. T. Johnston of Toronto admitted paying him over a thousand dollars on a small order. How much he got from Mr. Patterson of Miller & Richard, who supplied directly or indirectly nearly a hundred thousand dollars, will come out when "Her Majesty's Typefounder" enters the box. Senecal was in Toronto all Monday trying to fix things up, but he was told pretty straight by Johnston and others that they'd have to tell what money they gave him if asked. What Johnston objected to was that he should be put in the box first and be the one to give the man away. His conduct to-day bears this out. For over an hour he declined to answer how much he gave Senecal. At last he admited over $1000. Johnston and Patterson's defence, and that of the others who are to be implicated, is that their business is to sell goods, and to use every means to sell them. But Senecal's sworn duty was not to boodle, and to protect the public purse. His head will go in the basket with Arnoldi's.

But the darkest chapter is yet to come out. A professional boodler from Toronto by the name of Smith was paid $2000 to go to Ottawa and pull wires to prevent a Montreal type foundry from getting the bulk of the contract for type. The first idea was to give it to a Canadian house. Who employed Smith is not yet known to the committee, so it is said.

When the committee met yesterday Mr. Brown Chamberlain, Her Majesty's Printer, and Mr. H. J. Bronskill were examined in regard to the purchase of printing paper and envelopes. Mr. Bronskill acknowledged that he had received from Macfarlane, Austin & Co., Montreal, $70 or $80 commission on a purchase of paper in 1890, amounting to $459. That was the only commission he said he had received. He admitted he had received money from Mr. P. T. Perrott of Barber & Ellis Company, which he looked upon as loans. In 1890 he had received $200 to take his people to the seaside. That money had come by letter and had been sent because of the intimacy between him and Mr. Perrott. In May of this year he received $100 from Mr. Perrott in Ottawa, to pay life insurance to in June he received $100 of an advance to send his people to the seaside. No notes or receipts had been given for either of these accounts and no acknowledgement of the indebtedness had been given at the time. The payments were made by Mr. Perrott in Mr. Bronskill's office. Two weeks ago he had sent Mr. Perrott a note for $100 to cover the June advance. He had come to the Printing Bureau June 1, 1889. The only money he had received was the $200 in 1890 and the $200 in May and June he had received from Barber & Ellis Co., and that was the only firm he had received money from. Witness protested that these matters were purely personal and had nothing to do with the bureau. Witness did not know Mr. Perrott before he took his office in the bureau.

Mr. J. T. Johntson, manager of the Toronto Type Foundry, was called. He had sold $10,000 worth of type, etc., to Mr. Senecal, superintendent of the printing bureau, at different times. He was asked if he had paid Mr. Senecal any money and answered, "Not as a commission." When he was asked if he had before or since the sale of the material to Mr. Senecal paid him any money by way of gift, loan, or in any other way, witness refused to answer. He said he had other business transactions with Mr. Senecal. The refused question was repeated and witness said he thought it was his own affair—a private matter entirely.

The chairman told the witness he would have to answer, but he remained obstinate.

Mr. Bowell made a motion that the witness be reported to the House.

This did not scare the big blonde witness. He asked time to consult his counsel, and he was given one hour in which to make up his mind.

There was a passage-at-arms between Mr. Chapleau and Derby Bergin, one of the Government's strongest supporters. Mr. Chapleau had been in a way objecting to the question, and Mr. Bergin said he thought it was a mistake for the Secretary of State or any other Minister to make objections.

SENECAL'S STORY.

Mr. Senecal, superintendent of the Printing Bureau, was examined. He said he had bought during the years since 1886 $66,542 worth of type from Mr. R. L. Patterson of Miller & Richards, type founders. He received no commission, but at several times he had received sums of money from Mr. Patterson, which he had not returned and for which he had given no acknowledgement in the shape of notes. The payments were not of the nature of commissions, and were purely a personal matter. He could give the committee no idea of the amount or number of the payments. He would not swear the total amount was $3000. He did not know Johntson, of the Toronto Type Foundry. He had bought from him about $800 worth of type, and had also got from him money in small sums at various times in the past two years. The amounts would be small, and witness asked for them. He had not thought of paying them back. He did not know the total amount. He would not swear it would not amount to $2000. He had received a present from Mr. Polson of the Polson Iron Works. He did not remember the amount. He would not swear it was not $3000. It was paid in Toronto when they were at lunch together.

Mr. Johntson returned and admitted that he had paid M. Senecal small sums of money, which would amount probably to more than $1000. There was no arrangement of any kind about it. The payments were voluntary. They were made in Toronto, except perhaps one in Ottawa. The goods were sold to the Government at low rates, and the payment of the money to Mr. Senecal had no effect on the prices paid by the Government.

Mr. Lister moved for summonses to be to R. L. Patterson, J. E. Ellis, P. T. Perrit and A. W. Croil of Toronto.

Mr. Somerville stated to the committee that he thought he could prove that officials of the Public Works Department had been in the habit of ordering goods from Boursot & Co., dry-goods merchants, having them charged to the department and sent to their homes. The committee will ask the House for permission to investigate the matter.

James Johnston, Commissioner of Customs, was summoned to appear to testify with regard to the expenditures in the Montreal Custom House.

Mr. Barron has not dropped the post-office investigation. To-day he moved that the attendance book of the Postoffice Department be produced before the committee.

H. J. Bronskill, Superintendent of stationery, was discharged yesterday in consequence of his admissions to the committee.

MERCIER'S $5,000.

Sensational Evidence Before the Railway Committee of the Senate.

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—The Railway Committee of the Senate met to-day at 10 o'clock and owing to the crowded state of the room they proceeded to the cloak room, where the Baie des Chaleurs Railway case commenced. The chairman, Mr. Vidal, complained that the evidence of Friday was not yet in the hands of committee. Mr. Barwick called attention to a series of notes of Pacaud, the issuing of the latter's note for the $100,000 by the Government, the discounting of the latter, the signing of the notes by Armstrong and the whole transaction in the bank to the lifting of the checks by Pacaud out of the bank after the case came on before the committee.

Mr. Webb, manager of the Union Bank, said that of the three $20,000 checks making $60,000 deposited in the bank by Mr. Pacaud he withdrew $25,000 from his deposit ledger accountand put it to his credit in the savings branch of the bank. This $25,000 Pacaud drew from the bank on Aug. 10, the day he left for Europe several notes were produced by Mr. Webb and Mr. Dunsmlin, manager of the Banque Du Peuple and La France of the Bank Nationale, changing from $3000 to $6000, made by Pacaud and endorsed by Hon. H. Mercier, Hon. C. L. Langlier, Hon. F. Langlier, Senator Pelletier and Tarte. It appeared from the evidence of these witnesses that of the proceeds of this letter of credit the notes were paid. The climax was reached when the evidence of La France showed that of the proceeds of one $20,000 check, $5000 or 2500 francs were sent by order of Mr. Pacaud to Mr. Mercier in Paris, France. This was on May 15, 1891.

Mr. Barwick, counsel for the prosecution said that he would be able to close the case in two more sittings if he could examine Christopher Langelier, by commission.

Mr. F. Langelier, who represents the Quebec Government, says his brother Christopher would attend any time he was asked to do so.

The Committee adjourned until to-morrow.

SIR HECTOR AGAIN.

He Never Asked Starrs to Withdraw His Esquimault Graving Dock Tender.

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—In the Privileges and Elections Committee yesterday Sir Hector Langevin made a statement on oath, flatly denying the evidence given by Starrs on Friday. He gave a complete explanation of the circumstances connected with the withdrawal of the tenders of Starrs & O'Hanly, which Starrs said had been done at the suggestion of Sir Hector. The first tender of the firm was withdrawn at the request of Starrs, as he stated errors had been made in the tender. Their second tender was examined, and, as Starrs & O'Hanly stated their ability to complete the work, Sir Hector recommended the Governor in Council to accept. But when called on to sign the contract and put up the additional security required to bring the deposit up to 5 per cent. of the contract price as demanded by specification, Starrs & O'Hanly withdrew, as they said they found prices too low to compete and their deposit had been returned.

Cross-examination did not in the least shake the testimony, but rather strengthened it.

R. H. McGreevy was recalled to make some corrections of his evidence, which he claimed had been reported wrong. The corrections were allowed, as they were only of verbal error and did not alter the testimony as printed.

Mr. P. Connolly having asked for the books, decided to return the private books and retain the firm's books till the report of the committee was made.

Mr. Stuart said that counsel had decided not to address the committee, but would confine themselves to portions which would be of argumentative character.

HUNDREDS RENDERED HOMELESS.

For Three Days a Storm Wrought Desolation in a Lower California Town.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—Captain von Helm, of the steamer Newbern, which arrived to-day from Mexico, reports having encountered severe storms in the Gulf of California and along the Mexican coast on August 7. The vessel was obliged to take up anchor at Mazatlan and go to sea. The Mexican cruiser Democrata and steamer Altata also put to sea and anchored at Venade Islands. The Pacific Mail steamship Colima was compelled to lay off and on until morning.

At San Jose del Cado, in Lower California, the storm lasted three days. Hundreds were rendered homeless, two persons killed and a number badly injured. The scene presented on the third day after the waters receded was one of desolation and ruin. Men, women and children were found huddled together, and every small house in town, with but few exceptions, was found destroyed. Many cattle were killed. At Magdalena a number of small craft were blown ashore and wrecked or damaged.

IT MAY BE THE SAME M'GINNIS.

An Albany Man Wants to Know About the Montreal Wire Tapper.

MONTREAL, August 20.—The telegraph operator, McGinnis, who is in jail here on a charge of wire tapping, may prove to be a man with an unsavory record on the other side of the line, as many enquiries are being received here from the United States regarding him.

Detective Grace received the following letter to-day from Albany, N. Y., which says:—"For some time I have been trying to locate a man named John McGinnis, who committed similar depredations in New York city. He claimed to have been in Albany. He masqueraded in New York under the name of F. F. Norton, F. E. Martin and J. J. Byrnes. He endeavored to secure jewelry and furniture under these aliases.

One of his crimes was making love to a young woman, taking all her earnings and then eloping with her. She has returned to her home, while he is carrying on his old schemes. I am anxious to secure proof of his many misdeeds in order to prove him the rascal he is to a lady who believes him to be an innocent man."

There is no doubt that McGinnis will be committed to the Queen's Bench for trial. He has retained H. C. St. Pierre, a well known criminal lawyer in this city, to defend him.

Methodist Minister Drowned.

WESTPORT, Ont., Aug. 20.—Rev. Robert Bailie, Methodist minister, was drowned while bathing to-night. The discovery was made by parties who were camping about three-quarters of a mile from here. They observed clothing lying on the shore and on searching found the body in 10 feet of water about 10 feet from shore. Mr. Bailie, who was unable to swim, had gone from shore a distance of about 10 feet on rock bottom where the rock dipped abruptly.

A Mistake That May Cost a Life.

GUELPH, Aug. 20.—Maggie, daughter of Charles Austin of Moseborough had been suffering from a slight illness for which she had been accustomed to take powdered all spice as a remedy. Last evening she went to the cupboard in which the allspice was kept and picking up a cup in the dark she took a large dose and went to bed. Two hours later her sister found her in terrible agony. An investigation showed that a cup containing Paris green was standin; in the cupboard beside that containing the all spice and it was from this she drank. She will probably die.

After Nine Months' Liberty.

BARRIE, Aug. 20.—Twelve years ago one John Kelly of Flos, set fire to a church on the 7th concession of Vespra. He was arrested and being of unsound mind was sent to Hamilton Asylum, from which institution he about nine months ago made his escape. On Wednesday last Kelly appeared in town. He called upon Mr. George Coles at the cemetery, and informed him that he had been recently appointed to take charge of the cemetery and ordered him to take his departure. Later he called on a farmer on the 9th concession and was hired to work as a farm hand. He was arrested by Constable Sweeney, but during his short stay he managed to fire a bush heap in a field. He is now in jail.

Died in Jail.

OWEN SOUND, Aug. 20.—A middle-aged man named Robert Couch, who said he had a wife and three children living near Barrie and had left that town for Sault Ste. Marie in search of employment, but failing to find work returned here and was arrested. It is thought the poor fellow w. - not altogether right in his mind. He was eating green apples before his arrest, having no money to buy food. The lay before his death he complained of being sick and was given some pills by the jailor. Next morning he was found dead in his cell.

A Baby Drowned.

MONTROSE, Ont., Aug. 20.—Russell Griffiths, the two-year-old son of Mr. A. Griffiths, dairyman, was out in the fields playing with his brothers last evening. The boys returned home but forgot to bring little Russell with them. Search was made for the little fellow, and he was found in a small pond near the M. C. R. round house.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as lights reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

Do You Cough?

Don't delay. Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. It will cure coughs and colds. It will cure sore throat, or a tickling in the throat. It will cure pains in the chest. It will cure influenza and bronchitis and all diseases pertaining to the lungs, because it is a pure balsam. Hold it to the light and see how clear and thick it is. You see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Large bottles 50c and $1. dw

Forewarned is Forearmed.

Many of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentry, colic, etc., come suddenly in the night and speedy and prompt means must be used against them. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy. Keep it at hand for emergencies. It never fails it so cure or relieve. dw

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Ayer's Hair Vigor

Is the "ideal" Hair-dressing. It restores the color to gray hair; promotes a fresh and vigorous growth; prevents the formation of dandruff; makes the hair soft and silken; and imparts a delicate but lasting perfume.

"Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best in the world."—T. Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a number of years, and it has always given me satisfaction. It is an excellent dressing, prevents the hair from turning gray, insures its vigorous growth, and keeps the scalp white and clean."—Mary A. Jackson, Salem, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for promoting the growth of the hair, and think it unequaled. For restoring the hair to its original color, and for a dressing, it cannot be surpassed."—Mrs. Geo. La Fever, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor "Enquirer," McArthur, Ohio.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past two years, and found it all it is represented to be. It restores the natural color to gray hair, causes the hair to grow freely, and keeps it soft and pliant."—Mrs. M. V. Day, Coboes, N. Y.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

MANY WORKMEN KILLED

SHOCKING DISASTER IN A GERMAN TOWN.

A Scaffold Collapses Carrying 100 Mechanics With It. Penny Postage Promised Canada by the Imperial Authorities.—Russian Export Duty on Wheat.

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—A despatch from Nordenham, Grand Duchy of Oldenburg, says a high placed scaffold belonging to the North Lloyd Steamship Company, upon which a large number of men were working, collapsed to-day, dragging a lower scaffold to the ground, killing 10 men and seriously injuring 40 others. In addition 50 workmen were precipitated into the water, but most of them were saved.

Penny Postage.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Dr. Henniker Heaton, M. P., says he expects every moment to hear that ocean penny postage has been instituted in accordance with an intimation conveyed to him by the British Government. Mr. Heaton sails for Australia to-morrow. He leaves in full confidence that Canada's irresistible claim to immediate penny postage to and from England will be strenuously pressed.

The Holy Coats.

TRÈVES, Aug. 20.—A fragment of the holy coat exhibited at Argenteuil, near Paris, Sunday last, was brought to the city by a deputation for comparison with the holy coat which is now exhibited here. A microscopic examination revealed the fact that the Argenteuil coat is made of camel's hair, while the Trèves garment is made of linen. The members of the deputation remain to join in the adoration of the Trèves garment. The Cologne Gazette protests against the Trèves exhibition as a fraud.

LASHED HIM IN COURT.

Mrs. Edward McMahon Wreaks Vengeance in a Sensational Way.

CHICAGO, Aug. 20. Mrs. Edward McMahon to-day horsewhipped Millionnaire Peter Smith and his lawyer, P. McHugh, in a crowded court room and then fainted in her husband's arms.

The cause of the double row was the reading of a deposition by a Canadian detective reflecting on the character of Mrs. McMahon, and the horse whipping is the climax of a series of sensations growing out of a long standing family quarrel.

Edward McMahon's marriage some months ago to his second wife, who wielded the rawhide in court to-day, was very displeasing to his mother and sister—the wife of Millionnaire Smith. McMahon, little son, Milton, had a fortune of $30,000, and it was asserted that the step mother's chief motive in marrying McMahon was to obtain possession of this sum.

McMahon and wife on one side and his mother, sister and Millionnaire Smith on the other have each charged the other with attempting little Milton's death by poison to prevent the opposing party from securing his custody.

The Canadian deposition read yesterday was in furtherance of the legal fight by the Smith faction. Mrs. McMahon, shortly after court adjourned Kohlsaat's court room to-day, walked quickly to where Smith and McHugh were sitting, and with a black snake whip, before the astonished bailiffs or spectators could prevent her, slashed Smith and McHugh repeatedly across the face and neck.

Judge Kohlsaat took no action in the matter, and intimated that the child would not be given to either faction in the controversy.

AT DR. CRONIN'S TRIAL.

Dr. Cronyon Tells How he Met the Chicagoan with the "Triangle."

BUFFALO, Aug. 19. Dr. John Cronyon, Sr., one of the most eminent practitioners of Buffalo, to-day disclosed the fact that he had been present at the trial of Dr. H. H. Cronin of Chicago, by the "Triangle," at the Hotel Conmee, this city. When Dr. Cronin of Chicago was making his mark in the Irish movement, Dr. Cronyon of Buffalo entered into a correspondence with him to learn if they were relatives. It was agreed that at the first opportunity they should meet and compare notes.

One day when Dr. Cronin was in town he called at the hotel and was shown to parlor A. Dr. Cronyon was ushered into a large room in which were a number of men sitting around a table covered with papers and documents. They were a determined looking lot of individuals, and it seemed to him that his intrusion was not relished.

He inquired for Dr. Cronin, and was shown to a sleeping apartment opening from the parlor, where he found a tall, fine looking man pacing up and down in an agitated way. Introducing himself he was warmly received, but it soon became plain to him that Dr. Cronin's attempts to be cheerful and to enter into the spirit of the visit were forced and constrained. He was evidently under great mental agitation, and, as later events showed, in fear of his surroundings.

The men outside were evidently impatient at the presence of the visitor, and Dr. Cronyon, observing that he was not a desirable guest under the circumstances, took his departure as soon as possible. That was the first and last he ever saw of his Chicago namesake.

"As I recall the occasion," said Dr. Cronyon, "I remember that the poor fellow seemed to me like a caged lion. He appeared to wear the air of a man who had walked into a trap and could not find the way out. He must then have actually been a prisoner in the hands of the men in whose company I found him. I shall never forget his looks to my dying day."

A Family Affair.

PORT JEFFERSON, L. I., Aug. 20.—Charles Freeman and Mrs. Sylvester Skidmore of Stonybrooke have eloped and Sylvester Nathan Freeman and Mrs. Ezra Williamson of Port Jefferson, Mrs. Williamson is the mother of Mrs. Skidmore. The quartette are believed to have gone west. They were supplied with money. Nathan and Charles Freeman are brothers and each has a wife and children. Mrs. Skidmore and Mrs. William Williamson took hands behind them. Mrs. Skidmore took her baby with her.

Serious Rumors of Future Trouble Come From Shanghai.

SHANGHAI, August 19.—There is no disguising the fact that a most serious state of affairs political exists in this country at the present moment, and the combined fleets of the Powers may be called upon at any moment to take effective action. The danger clouds have been seen on the horizon for months past, and the smouldering fires caused by the agitation existing against foreigners and others among the populace have repeatedly broken out into flame, but apparently without, until quite recently, revealing the strength of the volcano, which is threatening a most disastrous outbreak. Internal affairs undoubtedly are the inward and actual cause of the displays of ill feeling against foreigners, which are only the outward signs of the movement in progress.

In this city at present a state of great excitement prevails at the increased and still increasing tension between the Chinese government and the Ministers of the foreign Powers. From all appearances the former are obstinate in their refusal to redress the injury done to foreigners during the recent riots. Some people say the government dare not take this step demanded in common justice to the Powers for fear of incurring a storm of popular disapproval; in any case there is no doubt as to the obstancy of the refusal to right the wrongs inflicted upon the foreign residents of China.

A NAVAL ATTACK POSSIBLE.
